James McLain(1958 -)

Dedicated to my daughter Caroline.
All of these poems are the property of her.

Being from Tampa Florida, and I know now that all of you can.
I am James McLain, whom writes under the Pseudonym of is it poetry
For my daughter Caroline and like some of you and being tall and true it is such.
The tree a bush, and all those other lovely southern words, we each and each is us, we make and still of thought we use and think when making sufferance to the other.

Thus each being we meet, each day and my/your could this be and day and day not the dark it is not.

Will you confess to a crime you did not do?
Two life sentences and thirty year's all running consecutive.
With my release date then being the ninty ninth day of the ninty ninth month, nine thousand nine hundred ninty ninth year.
Case Number: 90-14869

It is sad that I had to, to keep from being raped in prison and like most whom are tortured will of course say anything to make the pain stop.

I am a progressive red neck, lovely are such people the other's, that sadly have not.

I enjoy creating poetry and writing on everything about you, I have learned through the fire, what one can.

I used to like trying to write the law, but a few of the laws concerning myself have changed so often that as those same laws helped create such panic and fear, my head trauma are thus in hearts of family in part, that I will not make mention of small lives irretrievably broken, then obviously; so then, it can not be a law.

Laws are meant to protect the vulnerable not destroy, it is that my unlearned opinion.

When of that it was written to cause such wide spread presumption of fear, when it never appeared, then it's your mind they have numbed, and theirs is not yours it is then off and again of. Thus It concerns you the U.S. we the all.

Kick them out, you can vote, I dislike cowards whom hide behind others to get what they want.

Applied force under any pretense is simple coercion to obtain one's an end, breaking U.S. down for their profits made thus is immoral to U.S. aren't we all? Under any application when one person knows and the other one doesn't. When wrong is to you done they think right. That when discerned by the wise is the law of the land. Wasted mind's that could do, now can not.

Verily when once,
I liked speaking on many subjects, subjectively, such as politics and real life experiences including the horrors I've seen that have happened to myself and others.

I will try to speak of things most are afraid to and may even loose their job. Forensic psychiatrists can be paid to say whatever you want. Life to me seems like one long experiment, although the ocean helps the journey, as I love to swim and explore the sea life, catch & eat most often, is yours a saw cutting interesting?

I feel the arts are important and history. What little I know I have taught myself through Moore books that my friend and his wife bought hoping that I.

Editing and punctuation can sometimes be my weak points, depending on how you read it, I just lovenly love to, just because I must and some like her understand this because you write as well, deep as it is that you find you are and I know you now Grace is lined flowing as rivers of ink even deeper.

The sciences are more than Steven Hawkins...isn't he then more than star dust and still is likend to U.S. that he is.

Forever being less than one thought more of when beings facing the sea, faced the stars.

If some of what I say makes your ears burn, do not run away, and know that I know you still are, and can't even try turning away, smile. Though if words like the tree hides the moon when love and green the bush...concealed in white clouds...causes you harm, you may need to seek out the professional, country council woman with a PhD. If you think I have traumatized you, be aware that I have no civil rights, which obviously means...To those who think people are just numbers...057512...If you have not figured out your own issues, go in peace. Otherwise, do not hold me back, please pray. I am still Ameri-Can. I would beg your pardon, and try and try and try. What is it like to vote...Do you take it for granted?

What is it like to have civil rights, being out for twenty years and still can not vote for what's right.

I used to lie when I was younger, I even stole.
I stole a lot, I angered their hearts they all saw.
It is so much simpler now, not having to and yes,
to enjoy the surroundings wherever I go.
Perhaps in the end it's all that we have, credibility, when lost, then found.

If you wish to help me, the more I can help others.
If you think something may sound better, I'm open to suggestion, just give me a call if you can.

I am still that Ameri-Can like you though now lost.
Is the American dream just a fantasy?
One must keep in their head until it becomes your reality? Are not all things possible to all.
Gather me up unto you, If you are close, closer still
I will come and in coming you called out my name.
I am James.

I Am Not Quite Whole

What I started soon I turn the page of life, because it is I've aged.
And what of life for they whom does to young?

Word's are bug's to most as ink to page,
and what of greed?
I'm surrounded by deep tree's that is called power.

Oblivion then or God, as it draws near and can I hear my name when it is called?
She has gone before me, before you go must I?
Questions I have ask, no answer have I heard.

Our Soul's

My soul I am not sorry for,
Before this one life, I've lived before.
Dust to dust, I now do not know,
A confession that has left me unsatisfied.

I Was Once A Child

I was then a picture seen,
but always saw a laughing child.
And yes I did what then was said,
the price I paid was worth the cost.

I bent the trees and stripped the bush,
of leaves so green they left a blush.
And moss was like a beard that grew, disappearing youth unknown was all I knew.

My Answer

I am quite content my cover is the earth,
My hubris is now gone, do you know the answer?
And the women that now pass filled with life compassion,
I am bound to this earth, never heard you ask the question.

When I'm Gone

But when I'm gone and time stands still,
You were the want, I'm wanting you now.
And of love, the wine in a chalice, not grapes of wrath;
like a rose as it opens.

But what of the fire, the fire that is burning, the sting of the Ice, the cold though I'm yearning.
While as long as you live forgotten your not, the sun may go out,
The moon will stay full, perhaps empty not.

The Storm Makes Me Lonely

Lonely, I stand in the wind,
The storm that I'm in surrounds me.
I here it call come to me, the night
Begins its call.
Where can I go to rest, this my river
Of tears are mine as they run down across
To the sea.
The unhealing wound in my chest.

After Parting

Of all my loves, loved far and wide,
only one was at my side.
And if love is but desire, the fire she built,
has covered me in lonely cotton clouds.

You Do Not Care

Though you should lean above me, claiming to be for me, broken-hearted.
You do not care!

I shall have peace, as green leafy bushes next to the tree's, are peaceful.
When rain bends the flowers down to the ground, it is then that you should care.

Do You Really Love Me

WE are apart, the forest grows quiet between us.
She hushes herself, for midnight makes heavy her eyes.

The tangle of vines have no end, her hand's are empty,
Only tree's divide us, and on them the moonlight lies.

Oh are you asleep, or Iying awake, my animal, my lover?
Open your dreams to my love and your heart to my Words.

I send you my thoughts-the air between us is heavy,
My thoughts fly in through your window, a necklace
Of pearl's, moist, rests on your breast.

I Was Kissed By The Sea

I sought the sea,
She sent her winds to me.

They waves surged about me,
Singing just for me.

I turned my head away, towards them,
I was kissed upon my mouth.

Her Eye's Were Fixed On Me

But I could not but heed them,
For I seemed to see.
The eyes of my new lover, firmly Fixed on me.

Sleeping Swan's

We watch the swans that sleep in a shadowy place,
And now and again one wakes and uplifts its head;
How still you are--your gaze is on my face--
We watch the swans and never a word is said.

Field's Of Snow

The land beneath a field of snow
From which the rocks and rubble sleep.
And in the west nigh high a star,
That's silver as it wakes from sleep.

The restless tumble of the boat,
The drowsy people in the sun.
Black and blue twilight has come,
And in my chest a beating heart.

Love, Even After Death

My lips in life were red,
but in death,
my word's, were left unsaid.
Your soul as mine was intertwined,
I cannot speak of death.

Remembered now here where I lay,
can you hear me now?
Listen not to they whom speak,
for ever now is ours.

Broken Heart's

I HAVE walked that selfsame path
To your door before.
For years I've left the roses there,
Budding as before.

While I watch them bend, into the wind,
Quick hot tears begin to flow.
Strange so bright your flame outlasts,
My heart that now grows cold.

These Are My Lip's

These are my lips.
They are big full lips.
They need more open space to wrap them selves firm around.

They don't fit onto smug potty, little pretty faces pouty, these lips
are full wide and free thinking lips.

They don't like to be kept beholding, nor empty.
Wet these lips, have never been without,
they move up north when they want to
they head south when they need to.

Unless it's to you, is none of your business.
Now as I smile, as you wish it were you.
Mine are rich pink firm hard to grasp lips
and these mighty lips,
have sunk more than my share, of ships.
Lips that are magic.
Lips never loose.

Should you, could but come around too know them.
They would pull the oil right out of the ground,
and on a man, they will never be found.

Bipolar Learning Curves

As for this singular problem.

Whom is it to whom, within hands reach.

Am I awake, I do dream?

Thinking in multiples.

The level of a very complex being.

Which if I must, I beg you to think.

Is it not possible to solve them?

Differences,

the same levels, whom made them?

?? It Drips Milk For Only You ??

It is so blind, it saw eyes, mouths, bodies, feet imploring it's paint, it's beggars land, stroked by hand.

It's can, faceted as one gem, drips only you.

The brush peels back, stroke by stroke, layer
by layer, new always differed you.

Each canvas, some happy, some mad, still it's always you, is to Regina's sun.

The brush of lips, still trembles it, invitingly...why?
Lips brush the stroke, you make the paint, wants why?
The canvas is always full of different you, asks it,
is it not?

Respectable mirror to try on in you..why not?

It laughs at it's self, seeing a growth on it, so boss.

The rose drips, it is painted to it's natural blush,
as it's meant to be.

It is a struggle between the rose and it's blush, it's a grippe so tight, the colors run at times, on it..you still laughs mused.

It just cannot, as much as passion flames it's eye,
be reduced to frame, you in the boring same tired, eyes of it is.

When every woman is her, she a Queen.

My Soul

My Soul

After I am dead
And my writings left unread.

Will the preacher say that I didn't have a soul?

I saw them all while living.

If he says I have a soul, I'm sure I don't remember.
That so few of us and where I'm at,
none of us remember.

Clinging to my window, butterflies.

If only screens were made back then,

The voices heard inside my head that say,
honey so sweet the bread is made today.

Our Bodies Did Not Touch

Did but our bodies touch,
And laughed upon her breast to think
And as a beast I gave the beast as much,
As much as she could take.

While only in the dark were we as friends.
I offered what the other women gave
And they stepped out of their clothes.
But when this soul, her body soft,
Skin on skin, you know.
She has found and found therein
What no one needs to know.

Such Is The Afterlife

The after life while living alive is filled with the essence
Of you,
Burning hot I have lived and in death I have walked the sun.
Leaving life have you laughed and cried with both as one?
While loving you and only you makes it harder to leave a world
Unseen untill all arrive.

Loosing you is not loss but to see across the wide stream, a river
Is made the ocean is lost to the sea.
Green is a babe in the bush that is soft with green leaves and Happy in life while knowing of death, there's no shame.
Faith is not fear and fear is not faith to those rare few whom come,
Some but few know when it's time to leave, leaving love behind.

Hard or soft is the shell inside of this shell made of you and big
Or small, unseen in the eye's of your soul.
You may if you wish while alive travel there back and forth with
A mind that is strong enough to be.
After life, life after death there are those that believe this belief
Is called faith after life that all leave.

Eye's open are closed odd is this to me, believing that you know What you see.
Loving the sea the waves speak to me and each grain of sand is
A world where you are at peace.

Of All The God's I've Ever Known

Fighting and kicking into the final goodnight.
And of my soul,
preacher man along the way has died and set me free.

Will I be measured in that second sight, few had and never knew.
Can I go home to rest upon the surface of the sun,
and never burn.

Stay with me as I grow weak and stay and hold my hand.

The Name Mclain Originated From

The Scottish surname McLain, also found in Ireland, is an anglicized form of the Gaelic name Mac Gille Eathain, a patronymic from a personal name meaning "servant of (Saint) John." The McLain's were chieftains in several islands of the Inner Hebrides.

Behind The Dark Green Bush Where I Wait

I see her face behind the green bush
her teeth are white as she's smiling.

It is humid and hot I am sweating.
These are the trees here,
moss hangs like a beard over head.

Thick limbs are long and gnarly with bumps.
Some are short, some reach to the sun,
arms open wide won't fit around it.

In the shade where I wait, is where we keep our deepest dark rich hidden secrets.

Over the bank our feet hang do hang,
the water is cool and fast moving.

Seeking relief our lips do shall meet, knowing that soon we must all have to leave.

Today we have come,
tomorrow must wait tonight is to long
it is late.

When The Hurting Started Aged Five

Over powered and sat upon by he who was not my father.

The zippo lighter not my friend as he would burn my fingers.

Autism,
made the pain I felt, so much, so much sharper.

The buckles of the belts always left a scar on more than skin.

The spectrum of my range was testing and communication.
My thinking was not theirs as thinking went and some teachers, were as bullies as bullies came and went.

Unable to communicate, behavior changed as well.
Could I survive and grow to be a man and not a bully?

My Surroundings

I remember before my conception,
when I was not alive, once more.
Where the light found my eye's and yet
I wasn't blind back then?

Look to the show's,
where electronic technology can catch word's from a place and future times.

How Depression Killed Me

Knowing how long I struggled
and true laughter never knew the wind
and what it blew away.
These wrinkles on my face
the way they shaped my lonely face
they really really do.
I know out side
how hot it is, it's cold I could not feel.
I hid behind a face I could not hide it any more.
The day that I was born that year it made.
Chaos is a life a living death I can't control.
Symmetry in sunsets running colours say the rest.
Stigma is a sign a certain lack of self respect.
Meat we all just meat and meat is all we really are,
it spoils in my hands.
Love me tender said the King of King's
I cannot love my other self.
I turned to drugs and alcohol to push it far away.
I turned to drugs and alcohol the pain I must escape.
What I have gained in death the living cannot take away.

Can The Lady Love This Mister

Because of it 'we' laughed as grass is green there is she common.
Realized; how it is I became, such implied in her, with favor.
And being left off distant of, but near to her, I thus became.
Whose teeth white flashed, the sun as she was now to show them.

I was drawn inside by her sweet minty breath, she 'made', as was it
I inhaled with each profound look, I rediscovered.

Lost then finally found within, dark caves of sound, so deep
and smooth, so rich and throaty, singing music all the time.

Never ravaged but by scotch and time and filtered cigarettes.

Though detached always above, I look again there down below it.
Such is an undulation a visitation, invisible muscles moving up and down around it.

A young woman,
on the beach 'she' hurries past us saying.
Drawing briefly it aside a black and white transparent wet bikini.

Made it said in china,
hot a sweating mask, I looked beyond it.
Bronzed this body made, I think of her with violet posies, confusing she with her.

Does your Lady and the Mister' (wish to take it to the ocean?
Does the Lady and the Mister) 'wish to wash it lightly off?

One day, 'in time each grain of sand and foam, 'she did - politely ask?

I decided that if it comes when I and if I must,
that this next verbal jolt, 'when it hit' could fly a kite without a tail, certain repercussions of those acute remarks, open cuts bleeding might as hearts are won and then as thoughts be lost.

She with her and I, this afternoon could still may be, the sun so hot.

I concentrated on both, by my seat a well of deep emotions.
With a careful, deeper why, I trust my mind, too find it wonders.

Kept thus safe in time, inside I've grown to know and ponder why.

Wistful he for she/her much and subtle this my love, could be her double.
Once was I, of kind like mind, a person drifts at times so far away.

When life like that just walks away or simply floats right past us.
Then washed amongst the rocks and foam the wind it blew away.

That Naked Little Boy

i, a naked little boy fill her lips, full, round a mouth, the tongue can prick a thorn ejaculating into exquisite shapes as it bursts like stars high upon her and the interior of the tormentors mouth receives each boy, that comes
In the shape of a roaring flame.

or
she kissing each snakes head or white-cotton face within the seeds of desire and a naked little boy ejaculating on the yellow ivory bust of a naked girl embraced by the feel of each other or alone
as she climbs on to the back of a tree squatting, she laughs as he pees.

Your Cheap Red Dress

I want a red dress.
I want it flimsy and cheap,
I want it too tight, I want to wear it until someone tears it off me.
I want it sleeveless and backless, this dress, so no one has to guess what's underneath. I want to walk down the street past Thrifty's and the hardware store with all those keys glittering in the window, past Mr. and Mrs. Wong selling day-old donuts in their café, past the Guerra brothers slinging pigs from the truck and onto the dolly, hoisting the slick snouts over their shoulders.
I want to walk like I'm the only woman on earth and I can have my pick.
I want that red dress bad.
I want it to confirm your worst fears about me, to show you how little I care about you or anything except what I want. When I find it, I'll pull that garment from its hanger like I'm choosing a body to carry me into this world, through the birth-cries and the love-cries too, and I'll wear it like bones, like skin, it'll be the goddamned dress they bury me in.

James McLain

Her Cheap Red Dress

Your Cheap red dress that is ripped.
A night out on the town it is humid and cheap.
Sexy to cheap so it's tight.
Pushed up your breast held by the cup that is he.

Torn into shreds like a cheap master card let it be.
My deep back for the straps let them show.
I am he that some one.

I have history,
That speaks to no one but me, I am here.
Underneath the red dress that you show.
You are mine as your eyes open and glow.
Walking up in and out so I study your ways.

Once you were his now your are mine turned out,
To expensive too be a whore.
Whom ever keeps the money green coming in.
The other will do as there told.

Life is to short and the river is wide and far is the shore,
This from they I was told.

White Trash And It's Explosion On T.V.

I was appalled, no I was horrified flipping through the channels and I do it quickly
I saw the Steve something show on.
I could not understand the speech of the whites
they obviously suffered from some type of congenital birth defects talking about who has been intimate with who's brother and sister and any thing else that moved.
Then I saw the audience
the flood of white trash left me devastated as to whom would condone such an obvious Exploitation of such damaged creatures and I realized why the Republicans would want them all to have as many children as possible without any means to support them.
Should they be paid to be sterilized?
I confess after I put the Lions and Bears game on
I secretly turned my head and unthinkingly,
I knew that I would allow them to do it Now I have a better understanding of why the police dislike going to their home's a number of times each month.

After Love

Already there it is nearly gone, no magic, no music flat waves.

I am, because of you and trusted how we, two lovers met.
And other people,
lost along the beacons way and we cannot see to use it.
You were the miracle all saw, because I am simple, of me.
It was found as well out in the wind,
and I found it out in the sea - come to me,
it is splendid, it is not, as for me.

Tidal pools, see ours the fish swim in circles,
as they wait to get out.
Great is the ceremony, look to the coastal side,
wherein I was brought up.
But however the pool it looks,
in the dark by the moon, it was safe.

Safe from the storm,
life was for me, you looking out from the tide.
Then if it is bitterer than the sea for all peace,
after love you are the price that I paid.

The Making Of A Psychotic Sexual Killer

I grew up in North East, Southern Florida.
Even as the child were we?

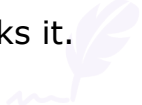

We started wildly out, the other's coming in.
Peeking through the windows, holding hands.
Finding each one by the scent they left behind.
And yes we peeked inside.

She likes those yellow milk stained panties.
I smell the tinkle musky from their worn out panties.
What she does with other bodies no one knows.
I keep certain hidden parts beneath my pillow.

I am still a human being.
There mostly little sleeping ones that make no noise at all.

But as it was, was it as but?
The secret of the spoken word is simply as one speaks it.

Now I Am Yours

Please understand, that I could now be that dream in your head, now as you grow weary and tired.

Yes I admit that it was you that found me.

Always lost as a child as a child hence will be,
Now, now as a woman will be, watching him grow by the tree.

Yellow Woods Dark Water

His woods burn dark hot
And powerful.
The tree's have broad tops
That are sharp and winged.
As if they were named Ariel.

Green moss drips yellow water
Drop by drop,
Inside out their curved beards.
Old and new are entwined, together
Apart, as if green each bush is.

Water yellow,
Flows from her thick with fish.
Tadpoles and frogs,
Stuck in the necks of the storks.

Snakes large and larger still,
Where any could see, no one does
Or nothing of this is spoken of,
Because.

Smooth and round the hall in length
Is,
Feeling the squirts, fifteen or twenty,
Each time, flowing from
Away into the yellow swamp water.

Roots twist into thick, callused,
Bruised flesh.
Mirrored in the warm, humid air.

Shaped as if an hourglass,
Caught in between, the middle.
Going in and out,
Are the long dark salamanders.

James McLain

Do You Like It Warm, Wet And Juicy

The sent of the animal is so much-needed, to some.

Something much stronger when it's wet and hot and moist.

Humid is the rain that falls on your head and the heat as fire that burns you there, laying in the mud.

Are you that which is discribed, aboveformentioned,
laying on your back,
Dreaming of deep in space, matter black that never seems to end worm holes.

Something moist within your mind and seeing something else outside and falling deep within?

A purple rubber pole a rubber finger black to some machine you lost your mind!

Wet and hot and moist forever more, such as that discribed, you needed nothing else unless you choose to die.

James McLain

You Have Too Many Secrets

We are the only two people in the world who know each other's secrets.
And I trust you not to be exposed and I won't expose it.

And yet this very fear of being exposed makes one wary and very hungry and nervous of course.

Ask this of yourself, is it likely that one will argue with the other under such circumstances?

I am more likely to run up close to you just to kiss you far away?
Perhaps when then you come of course I say then not.

Now here is where I admit to being surprised.
Making them dress up to go out was the measure none could see but all you would find.

I may never have contemplated it at all, even if I'd never considered at once was our home.

There was nothing odd about how high the moon was or bushes and tree's.

And in saying that I enjoyed having my secretly feminised one there by my side.

At first sight all I can say was that it was bound to happen.

You Have To Many Secrets

We are the only two people in the world who know each other's secrets.
And I trust you not to be exposed and I won't expose it.

And yet this very fear of being exposed makes one wary and very hungry and nervous of course.

Ask this of yourself, is it likely that one will argue with the other under such circumstances?

I am more likely to run up close to you just to kiss you far away?
Perhaps when then you come of course I say then not.

Now here's is where I admit to being surprised.
Making them dress up to go out was the measure none could see but all you would find.

I may never have contemplated it at all, even if I'd never considered at once was our home.

There was nothing odd about how high the moon was
or bushes and tree's.

And in saying that I enjoyed having my secretly feminised one there by my side.
At first sight all I can say was that it was bound to happen.

Oysters

Spreading the shell and eating the flesh,
Inside at the top I found a white pearl.

They Are More Than Yellow Cotton Bottoms and being when you are honest tell me, about the hot the sun, then when it is and I can help.

i can see some yellow on your, cotton bottoms.

have you ever felt inside, or spoke these words ot me, tell me this if ever, when forever that you have.

and having opened soft white clouds, that hang below.
that hang above the moon you say.

the moon the yellow stars, each open fragrant face.
and yellow is the cotton, when the stars upon your face shine from below.

Your Shadow I Shall Keep

Lost forever more in sleep, your shadow will I keep sands of time and waves in brine, your shadow makes me weep.

Flirting movement fought my eye, shadow make me cry.
Grace of face never hide, shadow stitched within my side.
Love laced voice, ever traced, shadow lays within my head.
The willow branch within a storm, where thunders is the norm.

Translucent hair made up of thread, at night we know. this place.

Your branded face inside my mind, such shadows love is kind.
Shadows touch upon my heart and tread the space you know so well.

Going Into That Good Night

Autism has as I grow old and fading does it mean the world has changed?
And tears as rain the salty taste her lips
Still kiss my face.

And now I hear at night the foaming waves that crash upon the shores.
While out at sea and looking up the star's reflect a face that's aged, while deep in sleep it's he that finally comes.

The Woman Like Me Down The Hall

We were both undiagnosed with loneliness, both of us, heavy of heart.
Alcohol was her best friend, it was easier that way for the both of us.

I knocked on her door quite a lot and when she opened I was never surprised.
That she would answer it in her panties, pink and green were are favorite colors.

She had never married and hadn't any children,
having lived our lived in the south.
Sloppy we were waiting for dark, hiding the truth from the light.

Life was for the woman down the hall waiting for me,
waiting for love, both of us having heavy suitcases filled full of issues that neither could let go.
Untill death showed up to pry us apart.

James McLain

A Summer's Dream That We Have All Spent Dreaming

I'd rather wait
than tell you all about the coming of your dreams.
That few could tell or else
they would thus tell.
Of super highways in the mind
that wind upon them selves.

Everybody has a place
none go without the sight.
And no one's child
is left including those without the will.

If death appeared none would appeal as approached.
Where each intersection in the world,
each racing thought prevailed.

To kiss the lips of each fair girl I saw.
And give them
what I owe that you can't have.

The only death I know at rest
and you the will to be.
I see you in the daily news,
and could not save you all when you I found.

Choices

I would rather suffer in the light
Than to die in the dark.

Inside I Was There

In the back, inside I was there.
Behind the bush,
without any green leaves.
Next to the tree where I stood alone.

The lavender smell on her breath I could taste.
Small was the turtle as it crossed road.

Why Should You Care

My eye's are closed forever in sleep and Such as they are all the bright stars, none will I keep.

As tall as the trees that I never climbed,
One bush filled with leaves that I've left behind.

If I'm not alive then what am I now?

Inside My Head Love Is But A Dream

I dare not leave my head when deep in sleep,
it is nearly time, one last heart beat.
For I would love you still and still you dream.

Inside my dream the path is green a willow bows in grace,
as if the wind that blows leaves so gentle on your face.

Not knowing what I'll find an island or a star.
But satin and but silk is as felt when your asleep.

She is trapped inside her dream and can't get out, and a stranger drags his finger bent across her face.

Moist the rain is dry and the color of the clouds such is the dream and fragrant still the moon will rise and settle down upon the face of dawn and I must wake again

Could It Be Even Now Not At All

Could it be even now not at all?

All that once was and all that that there is,
The sound we all heard seemed to come
From above not from the earth deep beneath.

And the smartest are here paying the cost
Some disappear because of the knowledge and Books you have read, spreading the truth never lies.

And could it be deep in the dark from whence
They come having been freed left their mark.

Bursting out of youth as if I was a flame.
None but I to blame, chasing that to catch

Covid Has Entered Where I Live

I did not know it entered my home through him.

Hammered and nailed all I can do is wait.

Life or death decided by a fever and cough,
Caught off guard and I wait.

Unbearable the stench here nothing's free.
Not even a blip on their screen.

How Do I Say What Never Was Said

Can you see in your mind words that you hear, but can't speak?
To think is to think to dream what you speak your mind is at times deep in Speaking out when you sleep, repeating the dream awake in the dark all night think.

Now I See What I've Lost

Rolling waves in the sea,
Inside I Have lost my heart.

I am cold, I still feel my warm heart.

Pity me not I have forgot, one emotion that I should not.

I have aged like the tree, trying to feel the leaves of the bush on my face.

Seeing now what it is that I've lost,
heart bursting at such a large cost.

Love Is But A Name But It's Still Love

Have you ever known it by a different name, than the name that we call love?

Could you prey upon that special one the one you said you loved.

Do you know that special road the road that leads that way?

Do not ever turn your back on love the other roads to sad.

Pull A String And Jane

Each woman doesn't realize that Her husband could die any day, having Left no life insurance policy.

Where butter then becomes margarine
Such is taste.
The taste of love before he died and Gone are the cigarettes that you shared
Like having to again learn how to date
If you want sex.

Or make a new life watching television Getting drunk and passing out drunk and Wearing the same pair of panties till
The stretch wore out.

The reek of cheap perfume and bottles
Scattered out around Jane's bed.
The more she seems to drink, what's left Here to be said
I just don't know...

Becoming Pregnant During The Pandemic

The young sleep deeper than we do and Their mind's are loose as they just slide Deeper in sleep.

The succubus enters the mind and governs
The subconscious sexual urges beyond the ability To control them.
The male is milked by an invisible hand
Of she in spirit form.

And she in deep sleep are entered by he
To her in sleep unknown.
A virgin has been with no man but suddenly Finds her self pregnant.

What Of Death Do You Know

Perched in your after glow as I wait
For you when your soul.
In this your new state an orb of bright Light.

Damaged were some before birth like an
After thought of the one that was born before.
There life may be long or cut short,
To discover what is from what's not in the Hope that the road is not long.

Could it be your first time or your last,
Yea though I watch, yea though you've got all
The knowledge that's part of the age.
And to suffer the now staying apart unseen
It pains me to see your heart stop.

Written in stone the tree's have all grown Six feet apart a stream plays a part,
And the bushes are spread apart.
Can the honey that's there golden one's hair
Back and forth come the bee's without name.

Coming to the edge with just thought silver
Cord you have cut on your own.
Without end do you know why you chose to be Here and then leave.
And of death after death from loosing a friend
Knowing they're likely to choose not to come.

Florida Governor Desantis And Covid 19

While being a sycophant to President trump
He wants to force our schools open,
Knowing very well these ours not his own children
Will catch this deadly virus and then bring
It back to your home's where the most vulnerable Adults will become ill and pass away alone and Isolated from those whom do love them.

Florida has seen record highs over the last Three weeks of the corona virus that was designed
To do what has currently been done to kill Our vulnerable people and wreck our economy as Has been even to the most ignorant of our population
That may due to their desperate need to house
And feed their families.

Trading the safety of their communities and families
To work if in the south for a non living wage trapped Between killing your children for work that pays Minimum wage.
Not having the fund's to bury their dead.

Masks And Covid 19

Florida,
Twenty nine thousand new case's
In the last seventy hour's.

State representatives all Republican Ignoring our plight, wanting to open the State to early.

Forcing those to choose whom make Minimum wage to expose themselves to this Deadly virus to feed and clothe their children.

The pandemic and the murder of Mr.Floyd has Unleashed in our country a perfect storm.
Police brutality and the rasism that has consumed
This country now.

While trying to in the end to force our Children to go back into the
The public schools to catch the virus and Bring it home to their families.

How much lead in their water is acceptable,
So as it is with this deadly virus.

Our Great Dying

To many of us world wide, still hide like
The cock roaches,
Trying to survive this world Wide pandemic.

Our children have been placed in harms
Way,
To carry this virus home to our most vulnerable.

My opinion is that by forcing minimum wage Workers back to work to soon has a rising price.
Here in Saint Petersburg the protesters were arrested
And held without bond.
The head judge conspired with the sheriff to give Them no bond for their part in the protest.

And soon the country will experience mass evictions and Foreclosures at a rate never seen before.
Children on the street's homeless ripped from the homes
Through no fault of their own, who will step up and help them?

No economy, an active pandemic and forty five hundred Death's a day.
How can the racist vote for a man who is killing your woman
And children?
There are still healthy fish to be caught.

In rooms without bail.

Way of making a living that stops.

Their suffering ignored by the staff.
And as they cannot bond out the Judges have ignored
That this strange form of death keeps these human beings Locked up,

Nylon Covers Cotton When It's Wet

To those that I know, when I'm seen
As I wandered about and amongst them,
Into me,
As I saw last, when last seen in a dream.
Censored? with pain, Discussed in a way seldom seen, advised as to
The one's trapped inside.

Having to use mesh when by the doctor's,
If it it is needed
Larger than those that you are and yet by his
Or her's more I saw of those there.
Nothing should be that by those any less discerning
That they see in you and me.

And there are many there hearing those that need Mercy, most are not left to what they are sent away to
That place where one's unseen sent away.
There are those that see and when seen, found a way.
And the few of you who saw what you have become,
The new middle-aged.
Nylon covers cotton when it's wet.

My rack.

I Have Tasted The Moon

I have tasted the moon where you are
It tastes of the earth's other side.
Could it be other kinds of fruit and Mushrooms one thinks,
For those whom give thought yet afraid
Where they live to speak out.

Just as a bowl rocked back and forth
Leaves a taste where it no longer does.
Where apple's grow it is sweet and a common Voice that you know from the past knows
It is so.
I have tasted the moon where I am does it Not show?

He Came In The Night While She Slept

Smokey and noisy the bar just turning Twenty one a virgin still.
The thick atmosphere was as her moist
And wet.

Singled out a powdery drug slipped in her drink
As she danced as only one so young like her could.
Slowly she began to succumb and waiting and Watching he came.

Slipping his fingers deep inside without any Outward form of resistance.
He had three other friends waiting outside,
Deep in sleep finally they took turns turning
Her inside out.

Like the oil fields out on the plains she was Brutally drilled in both holes.
The moist ground how it clung to the drills in
And out up and down until dawn as the moon disappeared
In the dawn coming awake they were gone.

High heels broken unkept as she was taken back to Her dorm,
Crying in the shower washing the filth from her Bruised body.
She finished her bar exam and went on to become a Prosecutor that dealt with only sex crimes.

?? Health Not Wealth ??

The first noticeable break in the dawn,
Isn't the flash of the sun.
The second flash are the light's going out
And I watch the dark descend.
Her hands moving up and down, just one small Tug above and beyond.
As my arm's rigid deliver her charms and thus Forgiven removed from harm.

There Where Cotton Is Squeezed

Cotton rocks back inside that moody patch.. and white washed fence.....songs of..the..
south land...and lazy dusty bottoms.. pray..

Eyes split the curtain.. so sleepy...and reveal..
how tongues are slowly grooved...blacksmiths... hammers muffled sounds...mindful needing..oil...

Brown eyes can't but slowly follow.....
arresting new sundresses...old this fashion..
giving not even one sun a yellow thought...

Southern heat sips through day old fabric.. while sweat pools in shadows... cool..to.. best...warm wind.....and the blacksmith...
lends more color too those tanned skins....
that common sultry post modern day look...
not seen in a post..southern living magazine...
while clouds white warm even hot...on days....
like this..while to most see...cotton squeezed.

It's become clear to me that by remaining silent on certain aspects of my personal life for so long, I have given some the mistaken impression that I am trying to hide something—something that makes you uncomfortable, Ashamed or even afraid.

This is distressing because it is simply not true. Of course the rest of you have left to choose.

What Critical Thought Has Cost Me

And critical thought once left him;
without judgment, many were his days and once that fire, upon his mind and the sun was gone, and now.
And then lost in the shadows hollow hand are the memories and my name, and the cotton sky, left me to drift,
and only the moon could see me.
And so quietly, lost without sight and hushed for they might hear me,
and herein; was the knell,
that hill upon i kneel,
and of the wounded lion,
and throaty it's roar was i,
and laid bare, was thus my head,
and hot in the savanna of her name,
and in this, they knew it was again i,
and i knew them not and they left me thus,
and their shame and their guilt grew worse,
and innocent for their time, out there to wander,
and into such, that it was, i came back to earth.
And back it is that i am,
and accountable for such to she,
and they shall be buried together too drift..
and when the moon entered from the back,
the bottom drops out of plain sight.

one cried out.

Mother save me, our God is great,

Mother I am red wet moist warm and sticky.

Hidden away in all of your prisons
the product of youth
by your snake all were bitten.
Money by them is their religious organization and blessed by the Judge it's made legal.
Blessed were they our old mother's whom hid U.S.

Can you in good faith become worse,
you don't see U.S.
Weather we're black or weather we're shadow's of white, whom are they protecting if we are dying.

Look at all the good people around U.S.
With friends like these whom choose who to represents U.S.

Cruz is great and Trump is much better.
The Governor's,
in all the Southern States are the ones whom in your names execute U.S.

The Lady And The Mister

Because of it 'we' laughed as nature does so common green.
Realized it is to I became,
such implied there in her favor.

And being left off distant of, but near to her, I thus became.
Whose teeth that flashed, when in the sun as she did show them.
I was drawn inside
to sweet each breath she 'made', as it was temporary, I inhaled with each profound look, I rediscovered.
Lost then finally found within, dark caves of sound,
so deep,
and smooth, so rich and throaty, singing music all the time.
Never ravaged but by scotch and time and filtered cigarettes.
Though detached always above, I look again below, such is her undulation, visitation, invisible muscles, 'I' see them moving.
All the time,

Young a woman; on the beach 'she' hurries past us saying,
drawing briefly it aside a red and white, checkered bandanna.
Made it 'said' in 'Kansas' hot a sweating mask, I look beyond her.
Bronzed this body made, I think of poesies, confusing she with her.

'If your woman and the Mister' (wish to take it to the ocean,
does the lady and the Mister)wish to wash it lightly off?
One day in time a grain of sand and foam, 'she did - politely ask '
I decided when next his lightning bolt, when it hit could not be stopped, certain repercussions of those acute remarks, might thus be lost.
She with her and I, this afternoon could still be, with some help be salvaged.

I concentrated on both, by my seat a well of deep intentions.
With a careful, deeper why, I trust my mind, too find consensus.
Kept thus safe this time, inside I've grown to know, to ponder why.
Wistful is for she/her much and subtle for my this, could be her double.

Once was I, of kind like mind, a person drifts some times so far away,
pulled out of life just like before,
and washed amongst the rocks and foam the wind it blows away.

Cresting Poetic Language

Write about the poetic language and imagery.

Does the poet use precise,

and vivid vocabulary to create detailed images?

What literary devices are used to enhance meaning?

Answer these questions by explaining and analyzing specific example from is it poetries

the poem titled, The Lady and The Mister.

Tell how the poet is it poetry creates those images.

A good example of this would be the poem called...The Lizard...The poetry you analyze is it poetries use of simile and metaphor unlike Bukowski, is it's take off of Emily Dickinson's- nature is what you see.

And is it poetries rendition of the same.

Your exercise is to read one that you like then write your own drawing inspiration of like same good luck.

A Lizard

Is it not 'Exotic' what i'm writing
here to you

..
that if
and when you stop it

..
i will have to say it's blue

..
and if they hear you 'cry'

...
i will have to say it's true

..
and they may never let me

..
write to you again

..
but if i let you stay

..
and you are looking out my window

PoemHunter.com

..
do you see that lizard over there

..
on that tree and what it's doing.

Isolation

In isolation,
If you can help someone
In any shape or form, by seeing their Sparkle of joy
You will feel much better about yourself.
You are lifting yourself up Through small acts of kindness.

But Not To Me

Summer nights because of that,
have turned to hot for me.
Down by the sea,
I wait for peace it only comes in sleep.

Cicadas spread transparent wings,
And cling to all the trees.
Watching all the gears and cogs that move beneath the glass.

With one deep sigh, I think again,
she must never know.
But the sky,
and moon above is not to me is love.

Burning Liquid Thoughts I Think Of Only Her

From the ancient garden where she dwelled,
I came unto myself inside of her.
Liquid thoughts, the sun high over head and Knowing thing's one knows one did not read.

More knowledge,
Lost in fires that men have set as if a flame
Out where it's dark, less men forget.
None remember that one day before they came,
Now is not the night that has not come.
The sort we are to them seems very strange,

So fewer as some were are fewer now.
Golden liquid thoughts, I came inside of her,
In that ancient garden where it was we met.
As we fight to love because of it,
Spent breath, the lives we've had before,
And the words that we once spoke.
When two are one, that are no more.

Florida Has One Hundred Forty Three Prisons

COVID-19 has been detected
In 54 prisons and four probation offices
Throughout the state corrections system,
Which has roughly 94,000 inmates,
23,000 workers and 145 facilities.

Friday's reported number of facilities
With confirmed COVID-19 cases
More than doubled from Thursday,
When officials reported cases in 25 facilities
And three probation offices.

Could I Love You More

Can I love you more than life it's self?
Where I lay my head upon your breasts
I will call home.

I cannot say your name you'd disappear
Into the forest once again.
The bushes thick and green Their leaves
Come night the moon bursts out.

I can love you more each day that passes Other's by.
Other's passing by on bus or tram can See it in your eye's a brightness like the sky.

Even on rain dreary day's my hope's are Kept alive.
I can love you more my dear than he you Cast aside.

The blue bird's sing of hope and mate's for life
A couple kept together by the flowers spring has brought.
You say yes to love and love I give to you Remember that love's two is fire and ice.

A Chilly Night

I am here in the night without light
And in the day,
In the green leaves that speak to me.

Follow your heart let it speak of love
And dreams,
Chasing rivers and long streams and to
The night I bid farewell.

House Arrest

It is how now how that you live self inflicted.
Having committed no crime,
Now you know how once that I lived many, many Year's ago in the past.

Her sole purpose to find a way to force me to Live alone in a box,
At the mercy of those who made a living off of The pain they inflicted trying to be the captain of All like me who had soul's.

This way that you live and who you are now ordered
By others that you do not know or trust.
There are thousands of them you don't think about Suffering like you but for year's without end.
If you have adhered to the rules now laid out could
You live like this it's called house arrest.

Silky maintaining closer too with the chest

Closer to mist;

Strike quick this heart deeply the eyes of thine like mine

Just to dig you up once again and pretty eye looking down

The bud now a rose.

On the other side now thinks, there walks a decent man.

The Inherent Difficulties Of Precognition

Being an introvert
Seems a large need in one's dreams.
Being asleep so one can dream,
Is a need.

Empathy to a varied degree to is A need as well.
When one is ready, then in deep sleep
The window opens and without Any effort one sees an event that may Happen or not but it may.

The stronger the feeling after one awake
And through past experiences
One can then judge if it will, some can Go into a trance and remotely view while I See it all when asleep.

Covid - 19 And Death

Over two week's ago I stated that The virus
Was man made and leaked out of a facility
In China
And in a very short time Made it's way to New York where the Damage and death it has caused
Has at the very least been catastrophic.

So, So many here have not chosen to read
What I then informed you about,
That today has now come to pass concerning
The news today reiterated what back then I said.

The American economy can not be reopened Without millions of Americans being tested as to Demonstrate that Americans now or in near future have A herd immunity to the virus until a vaccine
Can be made.

What I Can Not Touch

From the shadow of all the other's I watch those that hang on to your beauty in hopes.
Mid stream is the river in my youth I have then dove beneath.
None of the other girl's soon to be women have worked as hard as you have worked you look proud.
The frantic pace that you set can not be matched.
Next to me stands a girl that has whore lip.
She asks me if I want a date and I say look at that.
Thrusting one frozen hand into I shriveled up.
How fast the luster has faded on that.
I move away down the street to see that the motorcade left me behind again.

The wind it blows my hat from my head.
Through a broken board in the well worn fence I see.
Her grainy face is bent over the old man in his coat.

You have only begun the greatest Adventure of your long life.

Pray it is long, not short and in How you think, I hope that you

Have the ability to speak,
As they whom speak let find in you
That which is you in mind, body and soul
A spirit that's giving found whole.

Do you think, he is where, in that warm speaking place, bare of face, lost in the bush there behind?

Clear are those golden streams.

And green trimmed hedges are often by passed never seen.

when good byes and hellos come here to me, your love it is seen.

There where my girl, has the lily and rose in her hair on those dimpled cheeks.

And footprints left behind in the grass that I singing hear,

Do you think of me now and when again if.

Your impishly this devilish boy, now a man.

Every now and then, moving off in the wind.

Coming There I Thought Of Only You

I tirelessly, independently on long white sandy beach's come the waves.
Being never yet they are, some times when breaking.
Holding hands, fingers clasped and shaking so.
Mixed with broken thunder which I measured you against.
And as I once with you,
one time across the tops a monotone
I come to hear and ringing sounds inquired about that one you hear.

when cold I am, but warms the moving sea,
and hold the silver handle which the moon has shone.
Often there a dune it was a mound of sand, like dreams.
Which now exceeds comes often thinking, me around you how it echoes there, just past.

As for us, a second death, I thought of you.
Before it comes you hear the sound and where it went, It came the second time as for our wait it rocks with age and how it always sings.

Affirmed frail knowledge imbued to ask

Universal flights true and tried behind tight

Gathering moths seeking light for warmth

Hand to mouth week to meak laboured child loving smile to you they grew.
Timid Truth on plain of mask deep the Milking holstein cows, each wait there turn.

A polished floor well swept the other one calls out.
When three cups of milk I loaned to them.
The cake turned out alright.

I have you again too deeply inside and your love but could i milk it thus like this forever and those nurses whom nurse it nurse it to nurse it excessively peach trees her sweet cream makes me flush when by my white and gentle warm and whom sex never but always changes each strong woman i have withstood clear yellow oil is their loins get thus heavy and girls get womanly full and being thus humbled when making good babies you sing when I hush counting your fingers and your toes squish-squish and sweet lips-silk a rose butter fly wings I kiss.
crying into the mask the air smells different and my heaven you come from the sea.

Here Where We Sleep Come Night

When you are alone in the quiet,
Dusk has fled dawn is gone.
Hearing a mote of dust settle down
All around you like your lover's arms.

Regrettably without regrets alone in The quiet,
Beats a heart that is not yours, yea though
I have heard right before sleep reaches
Up through the night to kiss you goodbye.

When you are alone in the quiet no white noise
The t.v.s. off
All the white static a harbinger of thing's
Yet to come.

When you are alone in the dead of quiet,
Being watched, watching the dream one quite Dream, as it descends while your alone in the quiet.

Honey Hill Road

No one quite knew and the few whom did ran the government.

These types of beginnings in the open at night were never hidden for long from view.

Plainly seen with the naked eye they gave way to the few whom could see them for the ignorant fools and as such you most certainly did.

Making out about such all of the books and the movies made and by them a few saw that the faithful would do as they did when such ideas they loved to kill for.

Unable to capitalize on what was real and knowing not from whence they came it begot lies.

Most men being evil they said God is real and that it is by him o.k.

Placing them on death row or just for fun they killed.

Is revenge nought but more of the same.

Claiming that in a better place thus you will be flying about like a fat pink pig with his collided wormy thing inside being twirled, nothing more than their thoughts about more dirty sex, blaming me.

Looking out from the back of their heads and the younger girls wanting waiting to be sucked,

and drained by a vampire night after night.

And our hot humid southern swamps in a two second dream.

From such came black and white nights tramps were born.

Whoring men when they were finally caught gave out

the said same age old address and were last seen, driving down the middle of honey hill road.

Afgans Flee Iran Spreading The Virus

So far, the International Organization of Migration has recorded more than 198,000 Afghans returnees from Iran this year, more than 145,000 of them in March as the outbreak in Iran accelerated. At the height of the influx, 15,000 people a day were crossing the border, according to Repatriation and Returnees Minister Sayed Hussain Alimi Balkhi, though it has gone down slightly since.

At the border, the IOM gives tents and blankets to returnees who have nowhere to go and transportation money to others. But the Afghan government and independent agencies don't have the capacity to test, take temperatures or quarantine the returnees. Almost all go back to their home provinces using public transportation, around a quarter of them to Herat province, bordering Iran.

Noori's experience mirrors that of many other returnees.

He quit school to go work in Iran when he was 15, bouncing between multiple jobs, most recently cutting stone in a construction materials factory in the central Iranian city of Isfahan. He earned enough to send $180 a month back to his impoverished family of eight.

Two Shadows In Your Room It's Yours I Watch

After centuries of shame, grapes are Found in her mouth.
Carried to the top of the red wood tree and it's Crown past the leaves, she can see.

Exposed by the rain is a thick heavy root,
The monied claim.
If even before you took my own life, living is,
If living life is life surrounded by those.
Every evil act, that upon one they commit,
Is done,
With the knowledge that this one life, is all
There is.

Your faith has betrayed me,
As millions have been brought back from the dead,
Without any say, tied to the circle of life.
On the edge of two shadows I watch where you go,
The middle path is to thin with bright light to be seen,
So to live you must die a little death every day.

After all the dreams the living have dreamt, you cannot Remember any dreams?, before that.

I See Through Your Eye's

I cannot say that I now go to church
And the sermons he preached did not set very well
But the end of the book all know very well
It's the end of the world but in name

Every preacher that I've ever met, meeting to speak About word's I forget
And by standing with one the rest you forget, intolerant
Convinced that you can't stand with the rest

Help me remember each night before sleep
That the tear's that I've cried, have caused you to weep
To hear that you loved me as I loved you back
No two together now that I know, have died growing old

Dreaming I dream of how far I've reached out Touching each star that we're all now part of Lucid in sleep I reach the far side
That grows ever wider as light reaches inside

I can't help but to think that we reached the right side
Traveling backward the future we hide
Now that you know just where I have been and if I should Ever come back, you shall all call me friend

I think you know that people like that
Have got where their at by playing both sides
Don't hate the game they force you to play
Having children to young has caused long delays

And now for most to poor and not fed
Acting as beasts for a scrap of their bread
Some I've not mentioned are missing a soul
With nothing left behind to prove they were here

There where I live and look down on you
A world that is blue that was given to use Learning to see through all of your eyes.
Seeing to learn to see through their lies

Giving Women What They Need

Giving women what they need

They want sex real sex, recreational sex.

And they want to read about it.

Bushes and tree's with a full moon

High in the sky ??.

Lips peppered with kisses ??.

Nipples caressed pulled back and forth

Until the sun comes up ?.

All you need is a little bit of oil ??

To open the lips until.

Large trees with large limbs to squeeze

On,

And bushes with leaves that are kissed

She sees.

Leaving her out of her mind ??

Wet is the stream moist is the moss and

This is what they need ??.

And do not forget the oysters and fish ??.

Fully Opened Moist And Wet

What of the love we speak of A rose,
A bud not fully opened.

Open moist and wet from the dew
Hummingbirds,
Hovering tight together
Over the top dipping it's beak
There inside.

Rose's with thorns fragrant and full
Have waited,
All night under the moon waiting
For dawn and the sun,
A woman outside, outside in the grass.

Telling me all that I need to know a Garden of love,
Empathy, compassion tender heart, heart
Of a rose being pruned
By my hand o' how I wait, waiting for love.

The Poverty In Poetry

I am not always sure I love him dear and you.
Appealing to words that you must never fear.
Vagina and the abusers whom inside you hid.
The abuses you sufferer wrongs you never did.

Does your preaching preacher in church comfortable make you sing?
Why is that your fears and dreams.
The sting of the bee by she when you are straight.
But arrows bend inside your mad this time.
Green bananas golden cabana your screams.

When simple thoughts and kind each dreams were fair.
If you were abused
by them you must then come hear out and share.
Your reward is that the people will all know.
Erased released the cat is out of the bag.
You have the right to scream and shout about that bag.
Because to much rain is in the water.

To many bloody bodies,
have passed beneath each victims bridge.

Corruption Trump And His Friends

New York state is paying 20 cents for gloves that normally cost less than five cents, $7.50 for masks that normally go for 50 cents, $2,795 for infusion pumps that normally cost half that, $248,841 for a portable X-ray machine that typically sells for $30,000 to $80,000.

Who's pocketing all this? An array of producers, importers, wholesalers and speculators. State laws against price gouging usually don't apply to government purchases.

Some of it may be finding its way into this fall's election campaigns. The veteran Republican fundraiser Mike Gula and Republican political operative John Thomas just started a company selling coronavirus testing kits, personal protective equipment and other 'hard to find medical supplies to beat the outbreak'. They call themselves 'the largest global network of Covid-19 medical suppliers'.

Asked how he'd found such equipment, Gula explained: 'I have relationships with a lot of people.'

Thomas added: 'In politics - especially if you're at a high enough level - you are one phone call away from anybody in the world.'

More Will The Wind Must It Find

As have men do and women to water begins to rise.

Where once man lived driven back there it is damp-moist and wet.
Buried deep beneath the dry sand unchecked the water it finds.

All that once was and all that still is none here today lived to see.
When the air that you breath becomes some thing else
then some thing else you will be.

So you hasten the end by using it up whom brings a child into this?
Bearing children to die-die useless deaths
you-you and you why would you give them this never having been more now their less.

Here where the wind is so moist with heavy strong strange smells smells that you taste and lights in your head lights in your head that blink out.

Forgiveness By Confession

It is some times a painful confession

What's Behind The Mask Of Angry Sex

Using sex to choke and pull hair to express one's deeply rooted neglected childhood dreams.

A girl or a boy grew up with a narcissistic mother or father who was either not around or preoccupied with his, not the other.
So she's going to settle for less,
and bring more helpless unwanted poor babies back into the world.

She's going to be too skinny or fat and very familiar with getting less than she deserves with someone like her dad she is attracted to but hates.

She will work in a titty bar where she will be constantly surprised by the low life's trying to addict her to drug's.

She's going to have high risk sex being always filled by evil spawn.
Verily her belly will swell with an unwanted child, whom has no desire to be born and talk's to other's unborn children inside of the other women like her as well.

Unable to cry out at all.

and I found it out in the sea - come to me,
it is splendid, it is not, as for me.
Tidal pools, see ours the fish swim in circles,
as they wait to get out.

Great is the ceremony, look to the coastal side,
wherein I was brought up.
But however the pool it looks,
in the dark by the moon, it was safe.

Safe from the storm,
life was for me, you looking out from the tide.
Then if it is bitterer than the sea for all peace,
after love you are the price that I paid.

Girl Secrets And Boy Secrets

girls lie to even in rest looking down the flat plain velvet peach fuzzed stomach past the twin peaks of my nipples two erasers without some yellow wooden pencil
number three lead, is too softy down to the mound of my panties where my nose is barely but barely it always is never the less thinking not too much of it but then who ever does any more like most whom are honest they do and still sore from that which was around it, 'last and my nose is so sore that even i must liberally apply a strawberry liniment around it circular a raisin my nose thinking i, in fashion still before against the fresh cotton pillow it can rest while i listen to the other girls cry as they,
lie with their lips, all around me.

She's Different It's Complicated

She still is she always was,
She's lived a life the best she could.
Earlier today when she was here,
She gave up nothing is that absolutely Clear.

Where do you put this she ask of someone Else,
What are you doing I ask if nothing else.
Other's always take as though it's there's.

The conference room the table's over there,
She is extending
Out to you she can offer nothing more.
Complicated, different is all and nothing else.

Her Chicken Without Feathers

Her black coat that barely covers
A butterscotch ass.
Twin milk filled breasts all ways
Full, more than a few women when seen Would covet.

Five inch high narrowing down to a Sharp fine point high heeled shoes.
And a volcanic mound hidden from view
Always close to eruption.

Ruby red full lips, emerald green eye's
Long dark hair hanging down and a crystal Clear mind thinking now that your in my Hand standing up I walk away.

A woman's body,
is to objectify and steal to conquer all men.
Men have not made these bodies for women.
Women have sex from time with our bodies.
To use our bodies is heaven the moon,

The Virus Is Now In Our Jails And Prisons

The virus is now in our jails and prisons,
With these two million plus human beings
With no where to hide.
And they need guards and will the guards stay
For their meager pay and try to save the prisons
Out right for such pay?

What's to be done if they refuse to go inside
To catch the virus and possibly die?
What then would be done to the prisoners if There is no one willing to work inside, their is no
Contingency plan other than to let the lunatics
Run the prisons until they expire as well.

In These Trying Times

It is too late to rant on concerning his Ineffectiveness.
Being in that category in which I will die
If I catch it.

It strikes me as odd that not a single Reporter has asked the C.D.C. which blood type
So far has a higher likelihood of catching
The virus the most.

Like an alcoholic in A.A. we can only take
It one day at a time.
Knowing that if one of us catches it and dies
Our bodies should be committed to the fire,
As we will then go back to the place before we Were born and not return until humanity has Come together as one.

The few world war two vet's, the Korean

Bailing out wall street, his own financial

Allowing the young to reenter the work force
To go through a second wave of the virus!
I don't hide from fear through fear I hide,
They will touch their face and pick their nose
And go to shake your hand.

So if you're young the world will change he Says the country's better when it's not.
On t.v. there's more commercials about saving Dog's than people.

Hitler did and Putin does his friend is not Your neighbor.
The money flows like flowers grow, fake news
It is his aim to cut us down the old are soon
To follow.

Out ten dollars.

The Need Of A Ventilator

I was young dumb and in love,
After having served six months in jail
I thought every thing was as it was before.

Of course it wasn't,
She was with someone else.
I picked a spot the farthest away
From a hospital.

I purposely took a bottle of psychotropic Medication,
The next thing I knew I was in the E.R.
Looking down at myself as I saw and heard
What was going on around me.

I came out of the coma two weeks later unable
To move on my own of course my hands were tied down.
The ventilator was making me breath at a rate
Unlike my rate of breathing not my own.

I was in extremely good shape and very strong,
Before my release I was forced to see a panel of Three psychiatric doctors.
I was asked if I still felt suicidal to which I replied.
That if I ever as such then I was that I would Use a gun next time
That was thirty eight year's ago and without A ventilator I would have died again twice having Been D.O.A. when I arrived.

Having been brought back from death was an extremely Personal experience,
And for a great many year's after that when I Thought about that I would cry.

A Clear Patch Of Dampness There Between

And so we speak amongst us each other of sheer panties, open windows the hot sun and boxer's and twisted thongs and american idols like Justin beavers many ponds.

Debating which is clear and those the few when luscious lips red bursting out at school the worst, and fretting all day long the song I hum hearing the others they buzz.

Alone, along the day grows shorter still untill night comes.
Afraid we'll make some choices that are absolutely my love for him is strong.

So do we the us in these short skirts risk a line of dampness in between when bending it running over it all.

Bending over and over when will he of me notice.

In the house that holds mirrors high on the walls I can never see.

Was The Virus Introduced Into America On Purpose

Was the virus introduced into America on purpose?

Designed to shut down our entire economy.

Which political party stands to benefit more by

Our massive economy coming to a standstill?

When the Ebola out break happened during the Obama Administration was in control it never had the Chance to take hold unlike this current virus has.

Trump should have frozen prices on every thing

To keep the price gouging currently over a mask that Cost seventy five cent's to a current price of over

Five dollars in the places with the greatest need

Like New York.

Was the virus introduced into America on purpose and

Who stands to gain the most from this current disaster

That has not reached it's peak and maybe won't start to Wane for months to come.

He will sadly sacrifice the lives of those to put the People back to work and spread the virus more.

Have you seen the news and heard.

Girl's, Girl's Finish Him Off

Good girls finish, finish him off!
One can't but paint over all the sad
happy fierce battle worn faces as they urge their girls to finish, finish
him off!
kneeling on all fours pulling him in back and forth.

Pouring the oil down from the top of his ass their hands covered thick in this and that sweet oil.

I hear their bloodline as they moan and howl deep in their cunts.

He used to be smug deep inside, gorging on his insatiable appetite for catholic girls and their emerald green pulled back opened panties.

Their Jewish friends would stop by moaning their oral traditions of guilt:
Let them fall, fat and oiled
and of Eve,
her femoral, lips pulsing
gushing rivers of sin, shame of the carnal, opening of the cave near that of childbirth.

Women and their fat,

long legged man being milked being on all fours
his punishment for sex.

The head mistress urging their girls to finish, finish
him off!

Ignore the Bible, spill it all on the ground wasted it is not on the belly of his trollop.

Then the taller one inserts her middle finger deep inside
of him,
moving around the prostate gland that caused all this sad confusion.
Stupid man, getting caught in the hands that are open.

So You Want To Be A Poet

So you want to be a poet it is harder
Than the ego that you try to hide.
To feel you are being overlooked and Yes ignored.

Will you, can you talk about the issues
As they daily come to light and point them out.
Can you talk about abuse and yes of love
Music and the halo above your head.

Tolerance don't feel bad when your ignored
Remember word's are weapons wrapped in gold.
Steal yourself in the knowledge that some Troll might leave a word that stunts your growth.

Last I leave this thought to read the poet's Gone they take your breath away by their thoughts, They've left behind for you to read.

Love Needs A Sanctuary

Me inside free to be what you can see,
In times like these we've never seen were blind.
There is now no love or hate hidden a treasure
If our fate should be.

The carts roll out for thee and prayer you seek.
In the mist where I can hide and people blind can Pass on by the quiet on my own I cannot bare.
If I could and try to do this then and my love Through trust by me I'd let him in.
And wisdom was the worst of sin the face of God
I would let in for such is what real love could bring.

Is The Coronavirus Man Made

If it is,
Why would you think it's not?
With no natural defense against it,
Being highly evolved
Some would think it just appeared like magic.

Our young seem to have an unforeseen immunity
To it, while two male's die for every female.
And what blood types are more likely to catch it
A bit of information they have not disclosed.

The curve must turn in upon itself to know, while
Who will say what to whom just to keep one's job.
No one now is the captain of their soul, when our very Lives are but a token of their appreciation.

Dreams, Dreams Of Reincarnation

Dreams of past lives, lives you have lived
But struggle in sleep inside of your head when you dream.
Those of you with birth marks may indicate A violent end leading to death in that life that You lived whereas no birth mark often means
That you may have died a natural death that so many Crave as to knowing that death visits us all
And no one escapes the long hard race that some of you Lived while waiting to live once again or choosing
To live the similar life that all have lived once before.

The Coronavirus In The United States

Due to poor oversight it may be to late
To quell the out break that may eventually spread
To over one hundred fifty million Americans.

Trying to be like Putin he may hope that
It spreads to the most vulnerable.
While charging the poor money they don't have Killing our grandparents and those with Underlying respiratory conditions trying to Make America great again.

They Would Force You To Live In Fear

Part one

Political Causes And Issues Behind Assassinations

Policies for oppressing the poor and minorities,
others may lay in authoritarian policies.
Using one's unexpected rise to power,
who are able,
to divide the population, usually through fear and hate.

Hitler did.  PoemHunter.com

When a child appears in a school that your child attends, and speaks of that which their parents attest, that
The newly elected official has allowed.
Then will the seed of their mean fear appear.

Decent, thoughtful Germans
could not represent which was right, like now at the risk of being killed or their businesses being specifically targeted.

This can only happen in a country that lacks an efficient mechanism for leadership change.
And the will and the means to enforce it.
Where the welfare of the people are ignored and a vacuum
can be filled by new leadership,

That the populace Respects and adores.

Part two

Our Democracy She Is

Our democracy
She is
As unknowing as a Child
So guide her well.

For her to grow
I bow
My head to hear
Her sing
About the truth
Though
Some won't share.

Thus
My mind conceives
Each
Child that we bare.

And
If it be the truth
And
Not through

Lies.

It's only then
Will Each your God
To you draw near.

The Comet

And thus when it Comes,
The earth will stand still.

And in the stillness of the Sun,
It's water will be shed as your Tears.

How We Worshipped And How We Loved

Dignity a life time to learn about
Who you loved,
And in whom it was that you choose
To love,
In both time it endured by the God's
That you chose,
And at the end of your lives you have Loved and
By your choice you have chosen to live.

To Endure One Must Last

It is here and now my struggle at last
Must be recognized.
One true sentence short of word's is but
A legacy out of grasp and now out of reach.

What is a good fruit full life bereft of Time, mistakes repeatedly made expecting a different result?
Love, violence and death spoken truth never-ending,
While experiencing a different reality that can never come.

Hang on to love and escape from the violence the world
Is consumed with,
Yes death is our true companion a complexity of equations that
A mathematician may then scrutinize.

..... A Soldier's Prayer (Part 1)

Stay with me near, O God.
This night is dark,
Yours, my day grows colder, still.
O' god the little spark you lent to me, my courage
By your grace it ebbs from me'.
Today this day is long, my soul belongs to thee.
Red, to no one else, stay with me God.
Here when I am naught but weak.
You made me stronger still.
Stilled when I, again until it dies.

..... A Soldier's Prayer (Part 2)

He answered heard

Patience, I am coming near.

Do you hear the marching of their feet?

So many trapped in thought, will you grow meek?

Inside out the great divide none but I, may hide.

The many secrets of thine brilliant eyes.

Bright light the stars you feel my warmth upon your face,

As I come near you stilled, don't cry.

Don't fear the face of whom he is, then said, I am.

.. Dreams, Dreams Of Dying

Be not untoward and be always considerate, metaphorically and never die.
And as it ends the other aspects of the end or your old days.
Bad habits had and destructive behavior or your own.
So the dead, and for always, forever never ending is.

Something new but never used is old when new,
does not mean outside a physical death.
This dream of death often is not for nor or anyone else.
Dreaming that someone is dead can it mean?
One side of yourself that is represented by my dying.

O thou that part of what each person represents,
in death and life to live again.
Can it mean that I am dead for dreaming it in death?
Your loss occurred, I dare not bring them back.
You lived and died with strangers who see the dream turn off.
Without my death you need to live let go.
The child in life you dream or not to yet I dream.
And when the death my loving child, is also in your dreams then it can only living mean.

James McLain

Dreams, Dreams Of Children Flying

Flying represents freedom!
Children dreaming of flight
May be sending their parents a message
That nothing for them is impossible!

Children can be anybody and do anything.
A child's ability to fly signifies hope,
Possibilities, reality and freedom of expression.
Such dreams can provide great motivation and renew
Their hopes for a brighter tomorrow.

Formula To Success

Decide if you are willing to put in the time that it takes.
Is there a realistic niche to be filled.

Locate the she or he in said niche that has realized success.
Emulation of their success is in truth
the ultimate compliment.
Change the way you speak
if necessary.

The wealthy certainly have,
the necks on duck dynasty don't count
nor Sara Palin.
Anticipate all their needs
to do what you need to do for them.
To make it right.

They are always right.
If they inherited their wealth and it's obvious that they won't have it long then graciously withdraw from this potentially explosive situation.

Be aware, be polite, while backing out and consider your self lucky while never looking back.

James McLain

Robert Frost

Sometimes I think that he never took the Road not taken.
Sometimes I think that because he lived longer Than we will that he took them both.

Now being dead he saw both worlds one of the Horse drawn buggy and of late model cars.
Seeing a man from America land on the moon
He was I'm sure quite surprised.

His life lived of many forks unpaved roads
Miniskirts woman burning their bras useless
Wars that early then living weren't lost.

Robert Frost in the living now not forgotten
In death time unveiled whom traveled the road that No one knew and the difference it made to the lost.

Domestic Violence

Domestic violence is an event that can often breed silence from those you love most, those you need the most.

A silence that sometimes befalls out of confusion, fear of saying the wrong thing, anger, or just time needed on their end to make sense of it all.

I do not blame anyone for not knowing what to say.
But sometimes I feel that hearing anything was better than the silence,
Which allowed my mind to descend further and further Into darkness and out of the light.

?? I Do Not Love You Because I Love You ??

I love her because of her, though she's an ocean away,
I can't like him hate you because I love you still.
You could arch to me like a cat and I would be blind
To your flaws I have many.

It's unseasonably cool in October now
The cooler air now,
Can never cool my love for you fire and ice.

In this fairytale of love you wear my heart upon Your sleeve,
No pumpkin here to leave you there behind.

I love you because I love you and it's in your heart
I wish to live and I can't part with that.

Twisted Pictures

It's been nearly twenty year's since
I last dreamed about it.
Rusty gears more like fears having No control over it.

Trying to overcome those fears that you Pretend not to have.
Up until now it has always been somebody Else instead of you.

Alive laying in the dark as your jaw is Broken,
So that you may once again smile.
Though in the light of day all can tell that Death has reached out and touched you today.

You still smell the same in my dreams reaching Out in the mist,
That tastes of apples and grapes the sight of which Drew me to your tender hands that cannot be as Your fingers close once again around it.

Pictures twisted so,
Twisted in such a way that you read the cause of Death more than twice.
Remember the first one that you saw as a child?

James McLain

By My Hand

Large and strong you see it,
On a man that you may know.
Warm on day's you feel it,
When passion starts to grow.

Chiseled from an earthly home of Marble and sand stone.
Stretching out to all of them the Weak and young you know.

It rock's the cradle of the child,
When mom exhausted sleeps.
My hand with ink and pen that writes
Each poem that you read.

And Of Trump

Is he prepared to go the distance,
Only Congress can declare war.
Every Republican president since nineteen ninety has
As the National debt is increased by
Two or three trillion dollars with each new war.

North Korea is paying attention to what Trump has Claimed he would do.
Without going through Congress to do, how convenient
That this mini Trump war has taken the attention
Off of the impeachment processes and may ramp up hostilities
With Iran and help him get reelected.

A Little Road Not Made

Seen by eye a Holy man,
I looked up to the sky.
And flying by a little cloud
Could only wonder why.

A sun so bright beyond it's self,
The moon is dressed in white.
While all the people standing near Breathed out concerted sighs.

The Human Condition

The human condition is at it's peak Sad affair.
Bound up in sadness this mirror that Won't go away.

Wearing a green tennis shoe the other
Is red,
Surviving on meat a carcass that's dead.

Overwhelmed by mental illness a voice in One's head, Medication shock treatment a living that's Hell.

Plotting and screaming being overwhelmed
Life that is meaningless it has all been said.
Religion that is different loosing one's Head.
The human condition being different afraid.

When Youth Clashes With Old Age

When youth clashes with old age
Being young their brain is on fire
While in old age with but a few exceptions
The light is too bright and judgement
Is frail day and night.

If I have lived on borrowed time and my watch Begins to slow down,
Will you be there again just like you once were before?
Last night I dreamed a dream I would not like to Be reborn in while others I would.

I cannot remember my dreams when young except Through the smell of you.
I cannot speak for you in childhood if you were Treated cruel.
No one speaks for me the young if good.

We are old to them their world is green our world
Is gray,
The rain is cold my bones can feel my age and Theirs do not.
Wondering how they will think when before they Age like us
When the extraterrestrials finally show themselves.

James McLain

Killing Love

When each love is over,
Who is too take the blame?
And if still young where do we go from here?

Wearing white for a funeral and black for a Wedding and throwing green rice I hear.
The city is burning caught fire and the country
Is rural but somewhat still brutal inside.

Homophobic nationalism consumes the small minded
People progress it seems can't evolve.
It's the screaming that I cannot stand and must hush
What is said dead inside.

Dancing alone,
as the fanciest cars go by.

Great Poet's And Small Men

Great poet's are the enemy of small mind's.
Thinking that their lead filled words are as gold.
Whereas a brilliant stream of words are as a string
Of the finest pearls.

Great poems are not the master of their fates,
A fate not worse than death nor bloody head that's bowed.
Decided by a world of books few knew in life but Only after death.

All great works small men stand tall and leave
No mark behind.
True great men and women too are known by their enemies
In life the dead speak for themselves.

Selling Out

How long must one live a life unlived
Before one must sell out to live?
Can one live to only live without the Means to live?

Selling out of poverty to stand upright
Without a soul and hunger for the light.
A moral wisp of wishes spread like wings
To dream at night.

Food we need to think about I've come Into your life.
Yet a lie is but a lie no matter what the Cost to self if one sells out.
The end will come before I've learned what Life was all about.

Are You A Narcissist

Possessing a sense of importance and uniqueness are important aspects of being a happy and fulfilled person, but those with narcissistic personality disorder (NPD) take these things to an extreme.

According to WebMD, the word "narcissism" comes from a Greek myth about Narcissus, a man who "sees his own reflection in a pool of water and falls in love with it." While an exaggerated sense of one's attractiveness is certainly one characteristic of NPD, there are many other symptoms that can indicate someone is suffering from this mental illness—

Are You A Sociopath

A sociopath, however, is unlikely to experience emotions at all. It's not that you don't recognise the person is suffering, because they do.

The reality is that you just don't care. No matter how terrible a time people are going through, no emotions regarding their plight are triggered in a sociopath.

The sociopath will occasionally act in the way they think they're supposed to, but that is likely to be more to maintain appearances than actually caring.

This Is Not The End

Somewhere deep inside where lost the Feelings hide
I found a way to look again at life
A new born child.

Innocent and pure as people reach to Touch the sky
And it's all changed as if the cover of A book can say it all.

This is not the end as feelings can still grow Beginning with each page that's turned
The love begins to flow as love has never flowed
Before
And if it's felt again it's not the end.

Another Mental Illness Day

Awakened

realizing I was in shock she rolled me over and did it again are you glad?

Sad a puppies brown hair green eyes frizzled dazzlers gelled hair.

Thorazine hidden in my orange orange juice
without a just claim to fame dipped in a language
you still read on your toast.

Simpson

please rest with Spector there

Dreams

mental illness rush through your head no voice of reason I Hide in my bed
my arms are like a cross both of my hands in restraints.

Rooms

with no exits to many padded cells
morally bankrupt that shrink was let go.
Unfurled his sail and claimed us as his cows and sheep and thus we smelt of sleep.

The Road Not Taken

Two roads crossed in the deep dark woods
Not wishing I knew to travel them both Leaving to chance which road that I took
The tree's here were tall the bushes were thick
And where they went I had too choose.

Such is life that leads us to chance, I in
This instance shall never sigh, that I,
If I tried to find my way back, the same Man I'd stay for not looking back.

Carved In Stone

Few can read what they wrote carved in stone
It's still there.
Most was lost in the great fire of Alexandria.
Penmanship is useless for want of paper and How will you save what you wrote when computer's
Have gone that way.
It's just hard to learn the language of the God's.

A Man Knows Distress

I, A Man Well Knows distress.
Every thing and heavy expectations,
steady, slow and strong each day.
Her distant sun, His destiny as one.
While the rudder,
and yes he must pass it off to her,
if he's too work the land as well at night.
Now in these uncommon days.

Labor needs more mouths and too feed and help, they are suckled and kept full.
She shows her love each year as his love for them he gathers by their many ears.
Hectic though it is, mutual longing shows.
Years flow past,
from these arms familiar are new patriots.

and you want me to do those things the nuns warned me about those naughty things where they said that you could what you would and my legs would naught be of wood but your lips turning colors they in the light being as it is nearly naught so for what you have to do planned

Eye You Are Punished

You! The me, from I then you it took.
It has all the love and the lonely nights,
all the all of terror and the desire, to knock from you. You!
The me and look it has all the constrictions and the dreams,
Of romantic insignificance and to test loves flirtations,
thus sorely was it punished.

The Endless Train

Two train's on different tracks passing each other.
Two engineers one dressed in black the other in white.
The woods are dark and deep for one without light.
The other one white has stayed in the light both are Filled with the soul's of modern age.

Endless eye's all sooty and black look out of the windows
Not inward or back.
Onwards rolls the white train with all of it's people
Singing a song that none on the dark train seem to know.
Endless columns of black sooty smoke pours out of the One on it's opposite course.

Two train's converge and pass each other by one takes
The high track while the other takes the low.
There is snow on the track's of the one and on the other
Dark sand looking up all can see.
The endless train's pass one another doing figure eights.

Florida has built up a facial recognition database.
Allowing law enforcement driving by to identify you.
Cities have it as well as local municipalities,
Even some of the wealthiest neighborhoods.
Without a fingerprint you could be mistaken for some One else.

The mark of the beast nearing the end of current time.
Even to the non believer one cannot deny the problem of Taking an innocent child's identity away from them.
Who is who said they whom claim that if nothing wrong
You've done allowing them to do.

Li Po And Tu Fu At The Edge Of Space Speaking

Greetings friend, skilled in thought unlike wine patiently sits at your feet, how long.

Unlike thoughts sitting words that wait as time flies
a sparrow waits who is seeking a door made of crumbs.
I to am bothered as was the ox by pesty wingless gnats.
Is it you to that I dream of as I sleeping, dream of us standing at the edge of time unable to.
Moving forward or back chasing words of folly that leapt from our lips as we spent our youth.

Yes, It Is poetry cannot let us reason in rest until he can hide the rice from the children in worlds of light our liquid robes.
Is It Poetry sleeps the sleep of friends caught in the spiders silk net made of space and time without hands to sleep on.

And As Your Teacher Watches You and even as your 'teacher' watches 'you' and your each drop that falls on me, your rain.

and i am tired and i am thirsty and it's only just apart.
and we are, as we now are, it is love and it is art.
and i know that it is bitter, some times sour, even tart.
and as my fever climbs, you help it even off to sleep.
and as it drips there slowly, yes so slowly down, a golden breach.
and as you do your very best, i can't but try my best to fast.
and each yellow sun so high and bright, it burns my eyes.
and still it rains, you turn and smile, as it rains a little more.
and each drop that drips, i see it dripp on me and i ask please.
and comes more rain, as it pours it's heart out there on top of me.
and as your hunches lift and part, they over power me.
and you keep me warm, you hunker down, you lift and dry my lips.
and rain warm falls and as it cools it runs the length of all i see.
and down the small of your majestic and beauty of your curved back.
and through that small and rustic, royal scenic ever lovely crack.
and above me as each moon, in reach i'm always smiling at.
and each drop of rain seems bitter and it's sour, even tart.
and as your teacher watches you, she would only hold it back.
and i am tired and i am thirsty and it rains, and it pours.

Li Po And Cherry Wine

Stretched out In the tall grass on my side,
I muse at the fact they are full.
Thumping the wide side of each.
Tis not water I seek, cherry wine.

The moon makes me speak against my mind.
From the bottom to the top of the well,
during the night when I'm in my cups deeply sleeping.
Nodding off her I see that one drop of dew slide down from a single green bamboo leaf.
It's nights like these when I can't see,
you I found.

See all cultures mesh together

He is confined within her world a green fiery vessel.

She liked eating chicken
he liked steak.
The river through their land is full of fish.
He stood behind a bush invited in.

Strong and healthy hands
she'd sing his song.
The milk is always fresh a southern look.
Being milked each day
the cow stood still.

Though the chickens never did.
Strange trails led through the woods knee high the grass.
His legs were wrapped around her waist.

Strong healthy hands that need strange looks upon his face.
Worms that come are squeezed
the chicken ate.

Corpulent White And Marbled Blue

In the giving of life how selfish are you
For not asking, but taken by you.
And you do not grieve not even ask,
As one so sure, would have done.

The rim of the sea, open the ocean,
Washed up on shore, tired dead and rotting.
Children in hand with life they play, as many Here washed them away, life was a struggle
That's what you said.

I am old though not yet dead and have by your Very own hand suffered the death, you sought for me.
So what if now I cry all the time the same movie,
Moving it does,
But no one laugh's as people once normal should.

I once loved you as you then I did,
And without honor or courage tried to hide.
No one laugh's and no one can cry,
Knowing now what you knew not back then.

The smell's bitter sweet and death you know now,
And while still alive, you know what you are.
You are corpulent, white and marbled blue veined,
The knowledge once shared is now not to be had.

I should have loved you more,
When it would have taken less courage to hate,
what you had eventually become.

The Saddest Line's I Write At Night

The only flower left and I.
One fur trapper, hungry and in need, crosses over.
And the winding, shallow creek.
Being heavy, Is it thus?
And when it by it comes when two are touched?
Seasons pass, It ends like this, entirely.
The water by you warm it blows.
Falling leaves float by this,
and changing winds to laughter, lost in this, has been.
Feelings falling petals from the sky.
Japan and China.
And after, frost comes snow it dances, as it melts
and then it comes it must again.
Gestures from the hand and loveliness.
Watching I the waves from which you wander there about.
The glory to his which she leaves behind are blinding white.
And has it not been cut of it, thereof, of all it's luster, width and standing under is the night, it shines with peace and which if known were gathered softly up.
By all whom come, too know it now.
When it water flows to all whom know, rushing by you.

The Scent Of One Woman

Brushing up against me.
Her scent,
not in a bad way it was,
heavy and thick, hung in the air.
Pungent it was rich and indulgent.

While her accent by magnetic forced my eyes to watch her thick rich lips that made me.
Immediately I think if I stood up I could not walk.
Her scent would fill me up.
So powerful that it mingled with my taste buds.
I could reach out and close my eyes,
and savor the creaminess pouring out into her belly.
Feel the smoking musk running deep into my throat.
It would surround not only me,
but stay with me long after she had left the others.
Cutting through them walking by me.
It clung to her always.

No shower or swim or hard day's work could erase it.
The perfect mix, of all her other vices.
Sitting in the very back of the subway.
Both are riding it back home.
Without ever hiking up her checkered mini skirt,
she would change her pink panties for the same style of black ones.

Purple To The Eye Her Fruit Is Ripe

Her fruit to the eye is heavy, full and ripe,
Touching the base
The base that is dripping clear and wet.

Between a girl and a woman over here where Your not.
The older she gets the heavier it gets, pushing Out full through,

Green panties made of the thin silk that she wears.
Some older women who look,
Realize that such a full life has passed them by.
Under the moon are rich pink skies,
Skies full of cloud's ready to burst full of rain.
The forest is full with tall trees, trees with large roots

That grow very deep in the ground.
This rich wet rain falls on the green leaves, here in The woods out of sight.
Here the ground is rich loam full of the rain, wet
That falls from the sky.

Creeks here over run their tall bank's, running off to The sea that was dry.
Her fruit to the eye is heavy, full and ripe, touching
The base of the sky.

Forget The Heart And Aim For The Eye

It is as graphic as it is stark I know Known before the foundation of the world
What lies so dark in the hearts of some woman and men

Hands chained together around your back, a foot apart Ropes casting high shadows draped over a child's swing set

One woman and two men Hoisted up in the air by what once were the hands of friends

The men move in the air they are still Some how you think with out the fall
The woman arches her back and kicks her feet but the chains are to heavy to move

After thirty seconds of forever she leaves
And comes back over here
Like her lips, her fate was sealed at birth

Amongst The Dead I'm Home

Amongst the dead, I'm home.
The many fires I started as a child have long gone out.
Inside the womb I heard them speak about.

Before the warning came, I felt the light.
Swimming true before I could, I had no choice.
Stripes of red and blue came with a heavy cost.
Hence from whence I came and now I'm lost.

Not knowing who they were, they made no sound.
Lumps of clay that smelled of loam and earth.
So in speaking, here they spoke.
Waiting, waiting, wait, such volumes spoke.
The dead retired to sleep without a voice.

And when voices have no say.
We go away,
to other places where we learn to play.

The voices as if one.
but then another comes along they are your sister and a brother if in need.

So many faces have I seen they seem as one inside out the mirror.

Do they cause your ears to burn?
Do they make you turn away?
Do they help you see the error of the way.

Every one of us each song we sing.
Can we touch compassions mighty waves?
Are we born with grace in every face?
And when the sun begins to rise.
Then love has won and hate does not exist.

Lips My Lips Like Yours I've Kissed

Lip's my lip's have kissed that you have also kissed
I can't explain their shade, nor where they hide
Between two valleys high above, to kiss the bright white moon
There is dew upon the grass, it's short nor high

Forgotten all the lip's I've kissed, I know no longer why
To those I've kissed, no longer here to hear them once more sigh
Lip's like hers so soft and sweet they made me daily cry Winter when it comes once green and naked bushes seen
And as the boy's and girl's, one think's the another does
If your lip's I've kissed, I miss them fondly now

What I miss in lip's, I've kissed again won't sing to me
The tree that held the mistletoe, is gone, I sadly see
A shades been pulled, I'm asleep, you kiss my lip's no more Soft her lip's that once I kissed are red, but this you know

And I Lounged And Laid In Their Beds

I was never as smug as I was back then.

good young boy that I was, my best friends.
Racial slurs never heard, not once,
not in there.

Silver, problem solver, gold most would wear.
Ruby red lips, cat green eye's, wide straight hips.
Bushes next to trees freed that blushed,
in the back where I'd sleep through the day.

Night's broad black mouth,
purple panties one full moon always wore.
And day would it's yellow head spread through the room.
Deep sound in sleep, boyhood to man, and I lounged and I laid and I grew in their bed.

As I Have Now Grown Older

And now I must get sick or ill
In my old age.
I fumble in my bag for reading Glasses.
I forget to pay my rent but my Landlord reminds me.
I wear all purple now being old
I now can pull it off.
And yes I must confess I am afraid
Of death.

I won't fight death, the drama it
Would cause would be embarrassing.
Death could come so many different Ways.
I also would hate to shit or piss Myself.
As I grow even older I have realized,
There is only one way
To meet death on my own terms and my Terms would be
To not go gentle into that good night.

The Boy Who Discovered Fire

The boy is now all but gone but now how grown?
Twisted in knots how my body hurts never as bad as it did, how they knew it then.
Still inside this brain it sleeps with such pain
all ways terrified like it was back then,
now afraid it's being corrected again.

But how..by whom...me I am still inside.
Terrified of drugs and alcohol, will I be scooped out and made hollow and placed in that room so dark I can't swallow.
Always careful of that line between fantasy and where it is I must go to simply survive.

Threatened with one bridge after the other.
How the concrete sucks out all my warmth.

Dare I go back to when I was five and I tried to make them breakfast in bed
I knew nothing of Tiffany back then, wide eyes.
Some child's bold attempt at independence.
How the piss ran down my legs as it was easy much to easy to force open my hand and burn my finger with that Zippo until it blistered.
It was me against the world after that and the world never knew:
what I lost or the cost to toast two pieces of bread.
I was a difficult child I know and perhaps too precocious

I Am Not Yours - Sara Teasdale

I am not yours, not lost in you,
Not lost, although I long to be Lost as a candle lit at noon,
Lost as a snowflake in the sea.

You love me, and I find you still
A spirit beautiful and bright,
Yet I am I, who long to be Lost as a light is lost in light.

Oh plunge me deep in love- put out
My senses, leave me deaf and blind,
Swept by the tempest of your love,
A taper in a rushing wind.

Sara Teasdale

.....

When I found you
I was lost.
There was no love,
There,
To be found.

In the storm,
By the turbulent sea.
Through the loud, howling
Wind's, you found me.

Now when you leave me,
Translucent,
I become, you can't see.

If it's true, you love me,
Do not,
Wait in the surf.
At the edge of the sea,

Wait for me.

The Key To Heaven

The key to heaven is the key
The key
Is a tree that lives forever Gathering
Never for getting gathering Knowledge.

This knowledge is known by All governments
This knowledge should have Been used
To address all the problems
We currently have.

Love is learned, love can burn
The hand that feeds it.
Love is respected by those That love
Ice is the heart that can't feel Ice is anger
That can fade and be healed.

There is the key to all knowledge
Knowledge can heal.
Our lives are to short as it is.
Proverbs and psalms provides the Answer to every thing.
Applied to man's wounds to heal.

to fly and yes
you said i

Book Called Treasonous By Donald Trump

(CNN) The anonymous senior Trump administration official whose 2018 New York Times op-ed was called treasonous by President Donald Trump has written a new book about Trump titled "A Warning"; that will be published next month, CNN has learned.

CNN has exclusively obtained a cover of the book, which has been a closely guarded secret until now and will be released November 19 by Twelve, a division of the Hachette Book Group. The author will remain anonymous, and sources familiar with the book tell CNN that "elaborate precautions have been taken to protect the author's identity."

The sources say that the publisher and the author's literary agents at Javelin were provided verification that the author is the same person who penned the Times op-ed, titled "I Am Part of the Resistance Inside the Trump Administration," on September,5,2018.

The Wise Can Teach Themselves

Perhaps I have lived too simply,
where the wise, can teach themselves.

their children have no hope.
Look at the sky I have wings I can fly.
High on long ago,
now it's time to pack it in teacher you have failed.
My cats my friend its soft and warm
it knows just when to hide.
Not long ago the evening spoke of night
you, you used to have.
You worried me I'm sorry I must go.
White the cotton has been picked is slung across your back.
My tongue she sucks with full green lips
I'm shaking I need more.
In the woods it's very dark the trees are standing tall.
The bushes I have waded through the moss is everywhere.
Knee high grass is every where it's there I will be found.

thus will we raise it, because simple is this, we can.

Each of my sisters, with him in the middle we do, what we can to help him.
Children their secrets an observation on keys, swirling clouds, silver spray at night when he comes.

Sugar and spice like water and death,
rocks inside each breast is a beast,
day and night, god and the devil and once we were beings, no more.

She did not rush me into my house of dreams,
of children, wine and drugs, more sex.
Children of war made from peace.
Will you not come help the good woman open more petals?

Guns made from the juice,
from the middle it oozes, dark rich, red blood.
Gray red, puffy lips how they shine.
Rasins dried in the sun, shinny brass buttons.

Always pink,
grape wine, draws ants,
sucking noises, soft whimpers and quite cries.
Very small is the mask that hides in my hands,
roses and thorns that cause it to bleed.

All my 'roses'—only 'lily' knew—no frowns he of her,
expanded, wash it off lost things oh where is my dad?
Pink of arches and fingers like daggers arcs the sky.
As your finger moves it black from the sea.

His hand in the nymph her water- where she swims.

Pushing her heart up made to look closer and full wide and free are her lips as more feathers, come out of glass made of crystal.
After I smell it and I taste it.

Into my hand, who I am, thus it is loved and by you only you.
Stay free of the shadow of your, his the keeper, because careful it enters, when by your shallow breathing you sleeping, pink heart is the center, it is.

I Stand Within The Roar

In a dream or in the night,
I have seen things that I shouldn't
That have come true.
I wake up from the dream and night
Has gone.
All that I see within my dreams,
Is but a different world inside my dream.
I stand upon the edge and watch the Light for now expand.

The Weather Man

Circles of hills closed within, at the base
Of each hill flows white mist.
Dripping dew drops hang from green leaves, Bushes found here are not topped.

Here in that room without any walls,
Empty spaces in your other place.
I can't hear the world inside of my head,
Everything's? changed except me.

She Is My Whore

.....Maybe She was a Whore to you.
But she was my whore and I loved her to much.
I think many of you took advantage of her.
Never the less.
I did not care,
after all it was I who married her.
Besides even if some lawyers and a few judges in the past knew it was thus it was the past you should have left it all in there.
And ex-parte is ex partied.
For you were before and it was before me and fun, simple fun like the sun always seems to rise in the east.

Your business is your business and pleasure this business with all of that money
I know what you know and how it now all seems to work.

Hundreds of my poems used for what by now back then they were safely married to me
and through me to her not to you.

I have always known that you can't reason with an alcoholic wine is wine to you it is fine
but to her.
Lets for a week put her in charge of your court room.

Do not, if you wont put her in charge of yours,

why would you do so with mine.

Days I put into some of them.
Plenary guardianship is a boat that can never sink.

They were not a pleading or some direct appeal or an answered brief served on behalf of them
a dozen copies if you partied with yours and yours and it was thrown out in the trash with her panties, before your wife came home
to go over yours with you.

I am direct and I know all to blunt I have nothing to hide
why lie
I spread the moon out of love and yes with a smile
again.

Remorse for that, there is none for again
the same would I do.
Business is business and pleasure is pleasure.
Your business is not for my pleasure.

Remember please I ask of you and this so little I pray:
I am just a simple ignorant man.
This plea let it fall on sound ears.
I want what is mine and not what is yours.
Please forgive me: ...but I become ill running a jail for profit
and because:
I am impractical my root may not ever run deep.

Some say we should not keep it personal and without remorse
for I will be forever yours in abstract of course.

I Watched Her Succubus Through Her Key Hole

I found her diary it read in part,
I let it go at me at first.
I let myself give in to the depth and breadth of it.
But it got more and more invasive
the longer I slept and in sleep let it go.

Diary entry,
It was if the reader could feel me stretching and it reached the point where I couldn't let it go.
I could still feel the hot breath in-between my legs.
As it continuously jabbed all ten fingers deep inside of me.

Diary entry,
I got very little sleep today,
as I would stay up all night trying to avoid it.
I stopped getting wet through my panties and letting myself get rocked to sleep, seduced and it got very ticked off and intruded to deeply.

Diary entry,
it inserted itself, vaginally and anal,
I could feel it crawling out side, inside all around me.
What should I do?
Do I need to visit a priest?
Santeria?
Salt around my bed, in and around my living area?

Diary entry,
today a man tomorrow a woman between the loud sucking noises and increased problems that have arisen, because I was at first deathly afraid.
By allowing it to do what it now every night does.
And why I changed room's with my much younger brother.

Dreams, Dreams Of Butterflies

The dreams, of my heart and mind.

In my dream
of butterflies.
They hug me.
without sound.

Nothing stays with me to long.

In my dream of butterflies.
They lift me
from the ground.

But I have had from since as a child.

In my dream of butterflys they so still my mind

The deep solace of song
In my dream
of butterflies
they your eye's flutter for they

In my dream
of butterflies
my daughter now is ten.

In my dream of butterflies such delight to my eyes.

Let me find life
and stay and you.

In my dream of butterflies.

Soft buttered wings they always have of witch all sing.

With wings
Who's tunes are played out and not forgotten.

In my dream of butterflies
linen inside does my neice now lay.

Like the rain of yesterday rainbows weaved
it is true.

In my dream of butterflies heavens light does shine right through.

In my dream of butterflies no cuts

nor stings.

For all can sing about the beauty of butterfly dreams.

Shaming Children

Our shortcomings,
as adults can be overwhelming.
Our guilt from our own lack of understanding.
Even if you, like I,
have waited late in life to have a child.
One issue at a time is paralyzing.
Unfinished business is so costly.
Children are not omelets breaking eggs.
Some lag behind because of you.
Some leap ahead like frogs when new.
To shame a child or make them feel guilty.
Futility in the making think back when you.

Body Shaming

The average size of American women is now size sixteen.
Lower-priced, processed food—?choosing fresh food suddenly became optional.
That half of U.S. can not afford to buy.

Then fast food brought our teenage girl's fat shame.
Ashamed of their bodies only led to more of McDonald's.
The psychological difference between wearing a bikini instead of having to wear a one piece, is even at the beach as you watch them all to apparent.
The deadly scale in the bathroom and the mirror that they can't pass that never lies.

The looks at the restaurant without speaking tell you to, Eat Right and Then, Be come Normal.
Growing up teenage girl's are not told to eat more fish and less antibiotic filled chicken, infused with genetically modified growth hormones.

And then television ushered in a new unattainable goal, while bombarding these our young girl's on some mission of their unwinnable fight against fat.

With such a psychological link between weight and health—and the presumption of overindulgence and laziness, on the part of America's attack on teenage girl's as being fat, people—body shaming became officially excepted.

Why would Victoria secret target the average American teenage girl into buying a product that most can never wear.
Leading her back to the mirror passing the scale and grabbing her waist, to just burst once again into tears.
But as you can see, we might be, but we are all happy with five happy meal's

My personal recommendation would be for everyone to eat more fish and less antibiotic, growth hormone filled chicken.

Charles Bukowski's Explanation On Temptation

And while doing my laundry with Charles Bukowski and he instructing me about such stating that each lovely woman and such are they these there and by design being only human bending over to pick his up, hers and being full and singing out about my hunger knowing that it would only be after all, whom she is but am i and being an ignorant man she happy that i am when exposed to the air her smile as my breath caught by she it was heard and even by that one drop painful, 'Temptation and not giving in i simply moved my legs up and down
there more quickly.

Our Obvious Indifference To One Another

How angry one becomes at what they read
I am grateful that I dont have to cover
My body.
Now let's multiply that times ten and Introduce politics.
And multiply that times ten and Introduce religious beliefs.
How do we stop the war over thoughts
Thought police terrifies me.
Culture's clash people argue over nothing.
Magpies that gossip secretly like a pack
Of wolves eating his dead flesh like it Was chicken.
Yet other countries have McDonald's and Kentucky fried chicken.

You Were My Whiskey Never Mild Those Wild Dead Women

You Were My Whiskey;
And never mild those wild dead women.
And doing all of that on sinking ships.
Each one was you,
I drank one more.
Who knelt unseen and wild each kiss,
I miss the most between,
closed doors.
I cannot move,
from deep inside your couch,
I am some head,
you hang your hat and both, we search for.
While on your knees,
I think and then I think some more.
Each time I cough,
your lips grow tighter, I grow sore.
Brown bags lay emptied,
Wanting more of that cough syrup, over there.

I look at you,
you look at me and we are both the same.
Eyes that glow
and each red slit a fire that melts us both inside.
Seated circles, fraught by flame,
I touch your eye it does not move inside it's socket, now glazed shut.
Mercy me, and sweet that nun.
Honey how She knew,
and he rose up and simply walked away.
The habits bad and neither stay.
and whiskeys better, as you empty every bottle.
And here we sit again alone,
sharing wild forgotten kisses on the floor.

The Forests are wide green and hidden.
In a mist of white and gold.

If with my love is there to feel inside,

Stretched Out On Her Back

What deed could be done tied down, hands and feet, stretched out on your back?
Having a lot of living left in front of you,
the tension gives you away so much so it can be cut with a knife.

It's not about sex or control as he leaves you,
toes once straight now bent curling back.
Last night was the past, now is here and as the sun rises, tommorow has come.

Finding the strength to go on, the act, the dream surrounds you.
Never dry the warm humid air lifts you up, up to go on, never submissive.

Stretched out on your back, it is then that you realize that she has finally left you.

Dreams The Flavors Of Dreams

Peaking high she laughs and starts to turn.
Producing wind and sunshine I can smell.
Bell field horse in tow.
Low tangled white the cottage off along the hedge it runs.
Sun is in his face and leans against the wall she does.
Being blind I am to long he moving is.
The silent hooves the horse stirs up green grass.
Light cinnamon my song is heard, the silence is so long.
Noon point makes it hard to leave his mark,
the swelling such it is and not done soon.
Deep purple is the color of the sky, will drive you mad.
It is you, it's you,
weighted each load hard pressed are flavored dreams.

In the void
Amidst the millions of other's.
The vibrant colors of each other one here

Risen up from the dirt,
One with one on one with he who is I am.

A Simple Song Unlike The Rest

My song I sang for you, the song
I sang for you, above the rest.
And in love we passed each other by
Not looking at the rest.

Forgotten other's like the leaves
Upon the lonely ground.
And on a night with each full moon
A back drop to the star's.

Myself to you I gave and you We're still.
A leafless barren tree,
The bush is full.

I gave myself to you in simple song,
The song that you loved best.
The song that no one ever heard,
A song that gave no rest.

?? Florida Today And New Voting Right's ??

A Federal Judge ruled that the initiative
That the people passed Means
That every human being whom is an ex- felon
Inspite of being to poor to pay off their fines
Can now vote
Florida having been governed by Republicans
For the last thirty year's might Change hands as that frees up one half million Individuals whom if unable to pay their Fines may now vote.
Now the democrats must identify them and give Them rides to the polling stations.

Nothing in response from the Republicans yet
But will appeal
And try to get a higher ranking the eleventh Circuit will do
With the Supreme Court's after that.
The Republicans last years passed a bill signed
By Florida's current governor, whom in November Will try to execute his third victm since taking Office this last January.
I wonder of they will close voting station's
In all the larger cities in Florida.

Make Love To Me And Come

All your words
to me they always have.
A meaning, all their own they seem to have.

Secrets no one knows,
I learned to show.
Kept inside,
they only need to grow.

Confessions,
by the one you used to trust.
And the ring,
around his long thick neck.
You loved to touch.

Underneath that tree,
there grows a loving bush.
Full of leaves,
the sun has just begun to touch.

Will your secret,
bring the growing vine enough?
Singing songs of love,
that never stop.

Speak to me and come, back home and learn to trust.
And things about the past,
will go away.

Good Poet's Still Alive

Of the many site's
Where one can practice their True calling
This site charges no money.

Other site's promise what this
One provides for free.
Some here make nature come to Life and sing the pure song
That only real bird's can sing.

Other's can take a simple brown
Bag and hide what's inside
Untill it's opened up at the end
To show a little white shoe inside.

Other's,
Talk only of and love commitment to Their other
And the rigorous path upon which they Talk to other's.
And these are just some of the exceptional
Good poet's still alive.

Political Prisoner

Under your wing it's safe they've said.
Living in fear day to day,
It's much too young to be gray of beard
I do not dye my hair.

Those in here where they've put me are Here for minor crimes, Mostly for vagrancy and just for being Poor.

Should I be given a second chance would I cause such stern consideration towards Me.

Which is which I know no more than now.
A jail with thick walls and strangely Enough no bar's.
We're not criminals, we're not violent
Thugs like those elsewhere in here.

The judge's, the judge's, the judge's

If You Forget Me

In retrospect you think it over long and hard
The life I've lived and had
And the seas I've crossed the shores I've Had to walk,
It's because of politics that have worn me Down each day.
Struggle love exile forget me.

And they have made me go away to live a life
Unlived,
If you forget me as I struggle on.
The fragrant open rose I can't forget,
The vine seeks out your lips.

The letters I receive from you of love
Of fire and ice like none before.
But if you forget me I shall forget you more.

Without your love but more not less
I will
Struggle on somehow that day will be here soon.

Old Age God And Death

Distorted by old age my wrinkled limbs curl up into a ball as I fall asleep.
This is where I dream of being born again
I know that I am clean forever young.
When the Doctor twice that very night pulled out his knife on me.

Rolling thunder clouds not a single drop of rain.
Does not our God seem overtly in no hurry.
Until the end of time is right to start again through out this life all live to die we play.
In the fading light of my old age and death in sleep calls out your name.

Waking up from sleep you cry out what.
She sounded like a man and she is of one single mind that knows no end.

by my continued abusive parent a lost keep sake.

for her wine.
Please excuse me while my tissues damp with wet.
No help after the wrenching change, but I panic!
I continued to love them,
and learned to love my books as read of my escape.
They freed me from constraints of my pain early.
Now I leave the stress of student life,
I now read just for fun my opened eye's, and to wander off to your fine home for just a while.

A type of bra with the thin material or mesh which is see-through or transparent.

William Ernest Henley

This is the poem I would give a fingeon my hand
To be able to master.
I've many inspired by Sara Teasdale that I have written where you would think that she wrote it
But this gentleman lived to be only fifty three
And wrote this most awesome poem yet to be written.
And it goes:

Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the Pit from pole to pole,
I thank whatever gods may be
For my unconquerable soul.

In the fell clutch of circumstance
I have not winced nor cried aloud.
Under the bludgeonings of chance
My head is bloody, but unbowed.

Beyond this place of wrath and tears
Looms but the Horror of the shade,
And yet the menace of the years
Finds, and shall find, me unafraid.

It matters not how strait the gate,
How charged with punishments the scroll.
I am the master of my fate:
I am the captain of my soul.

Making Love Isn't Lust

I am a single older male, the add would say.
She's the other woman I would love.
All morning long the birds would sing a song
Of love that would be heard.

In the forest dark and deep where we would Play and dance and sing the birds own song.
Making love beside the stream and a deer would Stop and sigh to rest.

Kissing lips the hue of which a rose would blush
Here where you could cry.
And we'd talk about our lives, lived loved we tried.
Making love just isn't lust though other's Miss the mark their haven't tried.

She doesn't mind the great length
Or the girth of it.
Bushes aren't green as he leans down and kisses it.
The forest is deep she chose on his dream
Making love isn't lust as tall tree's can be seen.

Do not hide the bush green Leaves of love.

Love and laughter do you need
It all?
I will hold you in my arms all Night until you come.
A mirror on the ceiling watching
What I do my love please come.
Come over by my side my love
You will see the moon and stars
Explode until your blind.
Then I'll take you on my arm's
Again until you come.
Those other men you know are Angry now.
As I hold you in my arm's until
You come around to me, and see the sun.

Mental Illness Death And Murder

Today was another sad day for our brothers and sisters in Oregon. There is no argument to the contrary concerning mothers and or fathers whom kill their own children or yours for that matter these folks are very I'll. With seven hundred and fifty thousand registered sex offender's in the U.S. that is one in three hundred and fifty of U.S. now and the number will keep on growing. Who decides on whom meets the criteria when it comes to mental illness and who or who not can posses a fire arm? Law enforcement won't be giving theirs up no matter what. Many of them are mentally I'll and let's be frank many of them took on that job just to hurt and kill U.S. Hippa is violated each time a non-felon whom represents the one-sixth of the U.S. population that has their medical information given up to those whom are not qualified to have it and are you-you and you fine with that? Why did the - Pope come over here to the U.S? Georgia still executed the aesthetically unpleasing looking prisoner just two days past. Again let's be frank only aesthetically unpleasant looking female prisoners are. And what educational back ground did the clemency board have to base their actions upon? I suffer from bipolar depression few with the advanced illness I posses last as long as I have in conjunction with my advanced age with out taking them selves out like dude did in Oregon today. My premise is simply this mental illness left untreated will only grow worse while folks who are in obvious distress in respect to said such and said being left untreated should fall at the feet of their community When if treated this individual would have never committed such a devastating act of violence as what ever normal is whould have stepped forth today and acts such as these would have been reduced substantially.

A Conversation With Abraham Lincoln

Every man is proud of what he does well;
and no man is proud of what he does not do well.
With the former, his heart is in his work; and he will do twice as much of it with less fatigue.
The latter performs a little imperfectly, looks at it in disgust, turns from it, and imagines himself exceedingly tired.
The little he has done, comes to nothing, for want of finishing.

Abraham Lincoln.

When a man is led to believe, that the pride in the work that he thought was done well,
is undermined by himself, or others, for lack of instruction,
where such instruction would not be rebuffed.
Then those whom could so instruct are just as responsible, for the want of his finish.
For when his heart is in his work and he seemed tireless in the pursuit of its perfection, while knowing full well that nothing is perfect,
when if fortunate enough.
Then his efforts should at the very least be perceived as his willingness to bring himself up from his past failures.

For nothing else,
From a man or a woman, should any so ask.

?? Love After Love ??

Uncover your mirror's you can love
Your self again.

Be it some form of mental illness that
Was the root cause
At your age you can fix or alcoholism,
Seek out the help that you need.

The stranger will only for a short time
Fill the empty sail,
The sail on your boat that is you.

Give unto me some bread wine and cheese
For as long as the hunger of love has departed.
Did you from your past sweethearts keep
All those letters you read?

As I go through the photos of women I've know
A simple reminder that life still goes on.
Have you still not uncovered the mirror that's you.
Feast on each love and lift up your head there
Is still love after love.

Colors Of Beauty

Black women?

White woman?

Woman of beauty is color!

Strong pinks look good up against when your his tanned/black smooth skin.

Neon hot pinks look great on hardbodies,
and they will on yours too!

When it is, is it when and admired as you are.

Report such thoughts even in truth as abuse.

Having fun being stupid!

Pink that he sucks!

It looks so huge on more beautiful people,
As it would look better on you with high heels.

The colours on the nails from the ankle down, only.
Every day is every twelfth of neverweary this holiday.

(I never meant to stay home without you (

Walking around as you do in the buff while I'm dude.

Trying different colours

picking the one that looks great with skin colour.

The color of mine, do you know what it is.

They had little fireworks on them.

She thought it looked cute.

So

I let her and she then I did to her lips as well.

Try it on.

Pull it aside it splashes off.

Every race comes with grace many shades different tones and what looks good on one woman looks even better on the other.

Looking good I paint one together and another.

Women are bold and love bright light there colors and none are demure and go for more glitzy covers.

I myself am just wishing and washing her feet and her hands depending on mine and wether it is late night or day.

Loud bright colors! red, orange, hot pink, coral, maybe even a bright pinkish chocolate your new purple!

Beautiful women wear whatever you want.
Nothing more, more is less underneath all of that.
Men want it more than they get off on it too.
Tell them the truth.

What are you wearing upon beneeth; french cut panties with truffles fine clothing no jewelery, your pet..

Usually pinks
and chocolate/glazey eyed browns look nice,
I can not stop thinking.
About this untill,
you become what you were all meant to be.

probably red

Pink,
black and fire engine red.

Death Penalty

They are you and you are they.
Knowing people know what people know.
Green living leaves turn brown because of gold.
Goodbye budding love hello to hate.
Sweet sour taste of lemons sunshine makes.

I did not choose death but life instead.
One by one my teeth fall out to age.
Each school that is not built by them instead.
Helpless in the face of fear that all have made.

?? Between The Stars Our Love Is Dust ??

I have,
left the earth, a different plane,
Between the star's,
Our love is now just dust.

My nine lives used up,
Her cat,
That licked it's fur.
Where is it now?

Between each dream, I dreamt,
The sun will set,
And I will watch again the moon,
In all it's glory,
And as dove's, alone will cry.

What need of love,
As up on high,
If all the people.
Down below, do naught but cry.

Our worth,
Is but it's weight in dust.
Not more or less.

And in love's absence,
In-between.
I will sit and watch,
The star's,
Again, as they race by.

A Small Masterpiece

Where are the boundaries, in love thoughts that grow?
Life above all else, seasons change,
And love like the star's eventually grows dim.
Wherever I have been again I will go.

Her face when in youth was smooth, smooth as silk,
And his was as fine and chiselled to touch, as she said.
A rose is a rose that will open not close and the bark of a tree Thick or thin I suppose.

Memories can change as quick as a dream, the stroke of a brush
The pictures it makes, I seek sleep.
Though the words that I write that nobody reads, only for me
Lead down to the sea, where I wait.

What should I do, where can I go, not to far in the past nor the Future to know, but I do.
And futile is life unable to reach the heavens at night, to see a full moon,
Where Woman and men still have visions that seek.
Unable to change the small world all live in, love is blind, blind to whom seek,
Is but through life a small masterpiece.

And The Moon And The Stars And The World

A liquor crazed man not in charge
Of his mind.
Unable to articulate his thoughts,
While people walk by,
And see all of this, as their wives
In charge make him his dinner.
The drapes are wide open as I walk Passing by.
Knowing that there's nothing to day
Right here I can do.

Wet Is It

wet is it,

If the fact that he places it their at all be grateful, 'that knot in you it is by only you, it permitted, to be soft within, usually twenty minutes it is required,
until it again becomes you.

And/or about forty five minutes is possible to be required there is he together, apart from fifteen.

When mostly is if as for main advantage of informal rank your panties, were only in the center clean.

Do not be dismayed and helpless but you think of it,
you would like to possess that, it's knot in you.

With that grasp of your hand covered rings,
it is to be able, never too prevent that.

Most satisfaction and the knot sawing-in where the panties, even moon, 'growing wet.

Making the feeling awaken, which you feel when it
the knot, catches in you.

It understood that it is yours, rusted silk it 'caused.

Your other things that knot is made to put in place tries the fact that in the degree, which you have fallen, 'concerning love and you it contains.

It's The Throbbing I Can't Stand

She was hot
My seventh grade teacher.
I can remember her name being Valentin
But have no memory of what
She taught.

I would purposely annoy her so she Would keep me after class I was twelve.
And my hormones kept me on fire.

Bukowski would have understood the dire Situation I was in.
The walk home from school was three Miles it made no difference.

The night before one a bar burned down
I think
It was the mob then in Tampa
I rooted through the debris and collected Bottles of wine.
Though up until then I'd never tasted
Alcohol.

I would root through everything turning
Over boards to look for snakes.
So you want to be a writer our families
Feed our muse when food is scarce.

The Devil's Cut

When I was young
I asked,
And was told by a women to inhale this sweet smell at the bottom of the hill
near the front of the white dover cliff.

Traditional beauty has said that I would be attracted to her.
The first time out in the dark lightning the bright light it flashed.
Growing numb it was then
I passed out.

I could not tell up from down.
The men back from the sea eating fresh tuna fish.
There is no greater fragrance than the salty blue waves.
Each woman's beauty
when seen by me is.
No smile fills the air better than hers.
I was told by an old man young once he like me.

Politicians And Their Use Of Psychology On Us

Ignorant people whom are bred to be bigots knowing not why they are favored to die high above U.S.
Others that know deep inside why they hate U.S.
are those whom build prisons and those whom devote their lives just for money to fill them.
Living in the filth of the pits of their minds hurting in light twisted like twine so to all of the jails and prisons they build to replace your own pain.
Politician's hire certain evil psychologists to mentally inflict all their pain on the helpless and the troubled they create.
Sadly their are more whom like violence and mental pain placing themselves inside your mind their own steel jails.
New shoes that can't hide the deceased feet inside.
Sandles called flops that they forced all to wear their roles are reversed in bright orange a Sheriff would say.
When their own feet are not bare like their souls I can see.

Green Lovely Babies

This world of yours which is to me somewhere.
You know it is not because of what I know.
And at the top where it leads me is what.?
The tree full of me and the bush full of you it makes a stand.
And love when it does all the wicked things you described.
Like the whale of which Joanna, opens the mouth very widely in order to swallow the body.
Any creative thing by which you are satisfied.
Full to bursting with love of good fortune.
The limbs of each tree when exceeding your expectations.
Between the moon and the sky either or combination.
Is there a warm pit?
Is the water it exudes full of life?
Someone gave you life, I' It pursues?
While death sprayed from the top hits him hard.
He of himself and she of herself,
when one is asleep have combined each dream between.
Is it he whom flows like the Mississippi river to the gulf,
never helpless, she enjoys the likeness yet to come?
What kind of ring, could contain such a man as that?
Making little green expectant soft lovely babies.
And I am borrowing from the stars is the intelligence of that.

Strange How Both Covet That Part Of The Other

strange....
how both covet...
that part of the other..
and lie about it.
woman flipping through t.v. chanel.
and the fireman pulling out his hose...
shaking her hands...
pushing buttons..too see what's on fire.
men....watching ball after ball...
bounce off the rim...
and fall through the hole...or..
sweaty palmed..catching the..
woman...helpless in the bucket...
down that well...being brought up...
with the help of brown hemp... always frayed...but never breaking...
strange how both covet that part of the other..
and lie about it...

Valley Of The Eye That Death Made Blind

I see a child that tells adults to shut up.
The child spends every waking moment, alive
while dead, watching brain numbing cartoons.
I see a mother, that watches helpless people on the Internet beheaded, she says, with dull knives.
A mother in the middle of every heated argument from the winds of death valley, to many have parted.
My judgement tells me how to think, what not to do.
The urge to do the right thing, a constant battle.
I must ignore this, that is why I'm here to read it.

Those Haunted Faces And Eye's

I look all the people directly in their eyes,
People once broken and trying to survive.
Unawares that in a glance I see thier shame,
And their regrets made strong by thier guilt
I do not know,
When or the how some have chosen to go.
Going out amongst them, they cannot know
How all that they feel bleeds off onto me.
And their pain in a touch I will feel,
Trapped living poor lives, lives I cannot bare,
Meeting eyes that I'm helpless to help.

Big Foot

Skunk apes in Florida,
Big foot in the north west people
Claim to have seen.
They've been heard pounding on tree's
And their loud, musky smells they must be real.
If real they are they must certainly be intelligent.
Human beings in America can barely communicate
With one another.
Half of all marriages in in divorce.
They not only communicate with one another
No one can catch one,
But they sure can catch one of us.

Lies Hold Truths That Aren't

The truth to her not very real is never told that way.

The price that's paid is never good when lies get in the way.

To get the truth
the golden road leads back the other way.

If I must pay in diamonds bright
her golds not pure
I say.

Rubys red
the other way when read but some times aren't.

A lie when told if God can see what others never could.

Each lie you tell concluded with a truth
they can not sell.

On the road that I must take began with what I said.

The Burning Edge Of Drive

The burning edge of you becomes I am of every thing.
My core one grain is a white stain eyes the middle green.
And knowledge is expanding forever out to meet a little being.
Spiraling in over heated then compressed becoming even smaller each seed you love springs forth.
And drifting waves stellar music ambient is my consciousness.
Harnessing the sun to cool the skin I touch your face I host.
Folded over more than thrice it's opened once kissed twice and held until I feel the need arise, it opened minds know more.
One dropp in a universe that forever leaves it wiser.
While the cup I left behind I brought is you becoming brighter.

Child Watch Out For The Haters

Child watch out for the haters ungifted
And ignorant just like their parents.
Do not speak only listen, listen to they Whom are around you.

If you are not invited,
Keep a respectable distance away and remember
Again just to listen.
Paying attention your teacher can see them
Remember I said just to listen.

Trying to help those that are haters seems
To make them hate you,
Even worse because they are not gifted like you.
If to your teacher when it gets real bad just write
A note but be extremely careful.

A bully is bad they are a reflection in a mirror
Of their very own parent's.
And remember to listen and never talk back
No matter what they say remember their haters.

My Lady Love's Her Mister

Because of it 'we' laughed as nature does on commons green.
Realizing it and oft I did become, such implied there in her flavor.
And being left off distant moon, but near to her, I thus became.
Her teeth she flashed,
when in the sun as she would to me then laugh and turn to show them.

I was drawn inside by her sweet mint breath she 'made',
as when evening came she covered.
Her essence was that I inhaled with each profound look,
I turned in bed to rise and rediscover.

Lost and found, dark caves of sound, so smooth and sweet so rich and throaty, singing music versed in the rhyme.
Ravaged but by scotch and time and unfiltered cigarettes.

Though detached above, I feel again below, such is an undulation a visitation those invisible muscles,
I see them moving and I sigh.

When as young woman; on the beach 'she' hurries past us saying,
drawing briefly it aside a red and white, checkered bandanna.
Made a tag it said in 'Kansas' hot and wet a sweating mask,
I look not far beyond her.

Bronzed God the sun has made,
I think of poesies, confusing she with her.
Does your woman and her Mister'
(wish to take it to the ocean, does the lady and the Mister)
a wish today to wash it lightly off?

One day in time a black grain of sand and light white foam,
she did - politely ask.

I decided that my next remark a lightning bolt, that if and when it next could hit by her could not be stopped.
The repercussions of those acute remarks, might thus be lost.

She with her and I, this afternoon could still be, maybe salvaged.
I concentrated there on both, by my seat a well of deep intentions.

With a careful, deeper smile her why, I trust my mind, too find consensus.

Kept safe through time, inside I've grown, to know, not ponder why.

Wistful for her like you, I was in love.

And subtle for her only this, could be her twin and trouble.

For once was I, of kind like mind, such when a person drifts in life some times to far away.

Then when not if just like in life were dashed on rocks the snow white foam, the wind just blows away.

Laying Amongst The Ruins

Laying Amongst The Ruins; Whom were We
Where the dark begrudges us, in all it's dim light
Crazy were we too move calms sheet apart
While each breath laid reeds upon two eyed that storm
And you played lute and I the harp too each, one cord

Know thy rocky vine etched wall lost cause we climbed
I'm still driven mad the rain exposed, your beating breast
Upon the wall I stand thus naked, just out of lust you reach
We fall, apart our hands stretched out upon the rocks below.

Some People Can't Be Loved

Nor trusted,
Said the duck in the cage at market.
Nor can laugh,
At what wasn't said though, those around
You are laughing.
A sonnet brings light rain in the evening
Like morning brings news of noon.

Loved be some people can't,
Their pain is real why aren't they healed
By a kind and gentle voice.

Without question some people believe what's Said or like the mag pie are,
Open up to gossip party line's where all
Can hear.

To love somebody who can't be deeply loved
Is a child without a conscious.

The Storm

The storm coming all can see washing Myself in the sea.
Coming from the front or back where else
My love here be there to see?

The crab ?? can't talk to a fish ?? indeed
Nor a bully be nice to me.

Safe from the storm the foamy waves
That washed my feet till clean.
A conscious is hard to have when one
You don't.

Only the children cannot understand the Conversation ones has with themselves.
There are no shortage of titles here my friends
Conversations mean two different thing's
To one's self.

Laughing out loud to myself alone I've found
A stone to sit upon my throne.

The Fort I Built As A Child

As a child,
I had to escape the yelling and screaming
Of two parent's
That were undeserving of the gift of children.

My mother would spike my step father's coffee
With anti-buse
Whereas if he drank he would become deathly ill.

So around the corner in a long vacant field I Built an underground fort.
So well concealed that one could walk over it's Roof and this was a child's Perception of escape from two adults that Behaved as children.

They are both deceased now and have been Long since forgiven,
And now miss them both very much.
Roses were not then without thorns were Not yet then grown now they have No scent.

What Is A Poet's Responsibility

What is a poet's responsibility?

A poet's responsibility is to seek out
The truth and speak out against corruption!
America has fifty state's going in Fifty Different directions.

Must we be told to do what is right and
To help one another our brothers?
Love is an important part of the process
A process as old as the oldest tree that Still lives in the hearts of men.

Woman instinctively love deeper than men,
And men think their not men unless they are
The sole providers it seems.

An open mind is key,
Like a key a mind is unlocking the door
Asking questions about all that one knows
But doesn't.

Without education, without teachers
To teach,
What can our children learn.
Poet's will question everything in their Journey to learn.

A poet can write poetry about the simplest
Of thing's,
A banana a peach discerning the truth from
A lie,
Knowing at heart, without
The need for a priest to show them the truth.

However the length of our lives,
Whatever the depth of a poet's intelligence we
We burn with the need to learn.
And with such knowledge at hand we poet's
Can make more better decisions about world

Event's and can therefore leave poor judgement behind.

Love Come Be Loved

Come love be loved,
In what other lives am i, your hands?
And had i known your parting lips.
Your fingers and your toes.

Your,
knowing deep brown soul full eyes.
Effervescent look their after glow.
Sweet the smell your exclusiveness
i chase you out through every door.
Walk upon the sandy shore,
and standing, i am there.

We apart will come to speak together
come again,
The other words some come, to sing.
Loved by you and when i come.
I taste the wind when you coming, pass me by.
And you defied my body weeps, for you is chaste.
Each promenade first and last each one promise.
Who none can keep?

One last dance before we come, i go.
And i refuse to die before you come again.

Next To Your Heart Where I Lay

I was born in the open, hidden in the clouds,
A shadow on the wall, closer to it all,
I came from snow.
To her the one I speak who tried to pry me loose,
Try once again.

I have lived without a woman's love for far too long,
I am in need.
A confession without priests, the moon and stars,
A bush without green leaves I pressed upon, is like
The tree you once did know and leaned to learn.
Hidden in the clouds, a shadow on your wall,
I came from snow, I am afraid.

To her the one I speak come and try again and I will Listen to your words inside your world.
I have lived without a woman's love for far too long,
I am in need.

Be Distinguished

Be forever distinguished and; South;
Luminous lights;
How you incite me to say goodbye.
When I won't even acknowledge your hello,
and you wanting me, all this much more.
Distinguished is the tree.

Which you define
where both stand, I am by you fast held.
And interest when the due is past due one is white mounds of soft breasted doves when we love like we do in this way.

However with these apprehensive periods, both at rest seldom mentioned... when.
your face I see is so clear,
does thus a refining of the smile.
How it glows for all to see, yet it burns me deep alas.
defining each line on your face.

Being in and out of loves company so much.
I think more of they not with the rest,
most secrets they hold, tell me nought.

These broad circles with your company.
and length so great their pedigrees framed,
with such social privileges and great agitation,
lost in my limited conservation,
once I have reconsidered.

Consequently it if I am their type,
tap me love when I must,
of all the taps on this handled brass.
sound on the glass this cabinet it carries and requires that I even of you must request..even more,
that I must rest.

While your hand that I embrace as white as snow.

I tighten my sword as I watch...
You latch on to mine even more.
Confidence from I... Stays of beauty and time-too runs.
And mine Amie, gives off a certain family's attention.
I curve now,
but to honour and eloquence, you bow but to thy needs.
The broad key with pianos grant,
are the spaced white keys long ivory.

Congenially the dark ones have need as well.
Those long fingers fine grained each one.
And you my Amie,
excited all to turn around the soft melodies.
Now all distinguished each shade, which chanting?
... in the dance and the play... whilst this light burns orange and so much sweetly now low and being not distinguished and thy good turn upon the nights, good light.

I turn to hard the main within my heart... again'st.
Closing with a key outside each flash of day your night, each shade out side I pass to each one lass good night.

Around Her Mouth Ruby Red Lips

In spite of what you've read or gossips heard,
In spite of grief and love I could, love you once again.
Soft and sweet as the love I've felt, inspired to be,
Good night's, warm day's being in love, I'd take.

Open arm's at night, above the snow ringed peak,
And though the rain would come, still I could know peace.
Alone at night against the wall, I stood out to you,
Through shadows bridged deep water, still could flow.

You have kept our heaven open, I the gates have closed,
And your mouth, red ruby lip's, my secrets tightly kept.
Unbidden asks, I who here alone has not in truth,
Who have but never had true love, that I in dying lost.

Alone In The Moment Waiting For You

Alone in the moment, I could not watch.
Those leaves that you see are green and move gently
by the wind on the tree's.

Nothing in writing have I left, I leave it all to my self, speculating.
Can't you see where you live, its not like what you think, here it was.

He was no king, my crown is intact you can feel.
Red roses once blue, so they stay.
A redoubled effort, feel my hands are free.
Though no one spoke of love so I shan't.

Lift me up while I'm still warm, lay me down.
Bring him up to the top of the hill, make him watch as the grapes are nearing their turn.
I will wait here for the official's proclamation.

Fire Bites

Trembling, I am sorry You have left me.
On the phone last night You told me.
To be stung and your golden bust, busy bee's.
When you grab the moon,
and I go back and forth in you, Jasmine,
look how I am shaking.

Or shallow breathing, wounded deeply by me.
I am again sorry that you found yourself there, were.
Deeply overwhelmed with my love, as if.
When you last closed, I see into your eyes.
And with our last attempt at the end of compromise.
Nine months latter such a sweet name.
The gift of life without thought, without strife.
Never again will I, pause.

Drinking only from you would I love you and give.

?? To The Blind They Are Dreaming ??

Before I was blind there were dreams.
But seeing my dreams
before I could see, depended on how much you could really see.

Blind before birth,
and what you have asked of me.
Having my, our, hearing dreams-
your perception
is sound, sound that is seen;
left more unsaid about me.

I still see to see in my dreams
as one
where I'm still alive.

What they must contain,
the colors within.
and sound, I can feel: taste
and touch.

To remember one dream
that one special dream, I still dream
when awake I can see,
when my wife I first met
and how she will look forever.

James McLain

Dark Midnight There's No Sky

Evening calls again and men don't sleep,
Missing from on high their evening star!
May I be before you go,
and see what they will say of who you are.

Unfettered men,
They still are bound by what they think.
And women dreamt a different dream,
Even when awake but what of dawn?

Is dusk twilight that dawn can bring to us
The news about today?
Yet there's sadness, yeah men have lost what grace
If grace they ever had!

For from thought,
By the thinking of such thoughts.
Men or women they are rare when true,
And by dreaming,
Dreams of midnights light it is then that we,
Can reach the other side.

Alone I To Need Your Love

I am alone, alone in need of love,
If to me, your love you will give.
Alone with me, in love with me,
In love with you, in love with me,
While we live, you will always be.

Choose my love, my love over him
And my love will keep you full.
Filled with love, your love being filled,
I will keep it full for all time

Sometimes alone, alone without love,
I am afraid to live.
Oh, please tell me yes, yes to your love,
Unafraid I will stand in your light.

As if the tallest of the mountain peaks,
Nearer to the top your face covered in snow
I can't stop as it Snow's from the top.

Who am I dear, I am you, our two bodies,
Covered as one, for me in your arm's to keep.
Keep me from them, who know not of love,
And having died, kept alone from your love.

???? When I Lived In My Car For Three Year's ????

When I lived in my car for three year's
I was happy.
I'd go to the beach and swim three miles
Following the incoming or outgoing tide.

The jelly fish would fire me up from July Through October,
Yes it hurt but the pain from that was less Than the pain that put me in the car.

I then would go to the largo library and Post my poetry there.
From two thousand and nine through two thousand Twelve and no one here knew then how I suffered then.

There's nothing normal about living in a car for Three day's much less three years.
I was broken my crown had been cracked
I was getting mental health treatment but as with
Now the medication can be quiet debilitating.

I had to come to terms that my sister had Been sleeping with my wife and I'm as square as they Come in real life.
Because I was thriving and not just surviving
They finally took my car.

So yes I've been here for twelve long year's and I mostly study the master's.
Outside of our world in this my world ???? rock and roll
Sex and drug's are what sells.

It's not my intention to offend people here
But I live in America thank god.
I certainly don't try to control what you say Countries and customs they vary.

So I've been around the world in my head and Here where I've read thousands of poem's

From a thousand different poet's who in my humble Opinion try to improve what they write.

No I will never become a highway man again
Prison and jail I no longer can endure at my age.
So I thank those here for their tolerance
The few trolls here can go to that special place
Where they live.
On parting I will still give you soft reading
And hard and hope you don't get to offended.

Sincerely
I endeavor to remain,

If I Become A Highway Man Again

To a certain wanton, breed of you.
Whom it bled? Does it even matter?
Where it then again, like you, I hear it comes, it came from you are certain.
So long as only certain things,
I ride away, back in again, from you.
But if my, 'Love is Gold, 'I gave to you.
Each bag is full and heavy as you check,
and the windows are all likened me, so dark.
You motion that the door is just now, clear and riding quickly up to you, inside I come.
Into that mirrored face, I look again.

too stand upon the forest floor.

and there so small a stream slips through.
how pale light now white turns golden hues.
and after words it rains and it all runs together.

Homeless Sex Under A Vacant House

Torrents of rain blindly flying hair.
Crying in torrents, hair is matted knotted.
Skull to skull, my blanket used here others laid.
The light dimly, cracked her features of.
In the buck her legs touch the bottom floor.
Discarded old food long since rotting in.
Dirt floors, high ridges, open secret doors.
Bodies musky, beiber funk, feces spread about.
Oder's of the prior user whiskey undistilled.
Backs against the wall, kindles smoulder.
Not knowing how many unwashed bodies.
Hopelessness, impassioned tearful pleas.
Acts of desperation, please hurry come release.
Brass shells, spent hollow human bodies,
boxers, panties openly discarded.
Condoms float adrift under holed wooden floors.
A fetus in a mason jar sits around the corner.

Dreams, Dreams Of Other's

Dreaming future paths all lay thread of light does guide our way to combing of the truth we made.

Dreams of other light grew dim no flame to draw the moth within the light.

Destiny of they who make the path blessed walking not knowing of The dreams of other's.

Deja Reve

Have you had a dream where your awake
But sleeping still you are?
Or a premonition while asleep of what
Will come.
A gift some say it will a damaged mind
May stop the process still.
A dream within a dream he knew it well.
There's deja vu that's not the same
As deja vere.

A Question

Looking down at earth, Houston said
Now men of the stars the moon yet over head
And always full.
Is the beauty you see now seen back on earth,
Worth all the work
Born to this sight from birth?

Psalm Of Eternity

At the edge of day has long stood night.
The crystal stream marks the territory, cedar wood.
My love and I hear your great silence of length muscles bulge at the eye and moon being raised.

Being possible as with any heaven.
The law of milk and honey which divides us all.
Whom are surprised, it is dissatisfaction extremely.
My love, in love and the pulsing sorrow that pulses.
Which is not the purpose which by with it is called this.
Leaves which reached both sides, opened pulled apart,
and that on us played the jester.

And exactly and our starlit nights which have shone as ours because of the yellow spectral star that falls each night.

An Hour Is To Long

An hour is too long too wait for me.
Come with me, ' you are to soon, I fear.
Love is but a second chance upon that shore.
My apprehension how it builds the storm is near.
And when the end is come to near your song,
and reaching out, 'psalms turned up I hear.
Do not shed those sun warmed tears for me.
Sleepwalking beneath a moon, 'I can not feel.
An hour is too long the night grows short.

The Plow Man

Night time has come and I am going out against.
Prohibition of the sounds death is before the knell of the currants running past today.

Slow burning is the fire
the wind I hear the roaring crowd.
That the method of becoming comes before.

Heavily to her I return obtaining.
Upon the glassy plain and today her plowman,
and the leafy kiss is darkness to my world.

Now shining faintly I view new vision,
and all air which in silence the reigns I've grasp.
That lonely monotone if you exclude that where,
and drowsy inklings alleviates the distant cold.

The Human Race

The air is thin on mountain tops
Nowhere there to build a house I'm told.
The rising water will displace a quarter
Of the world where will your children go?
As islands begin to sink beneath the waves
Where will they go not off to war.
Floating cities ring the globe and room
Upon the floating cities will be scarce.
The lottery will be rigged it must be so.
People will have to have superior intelligence
To go.
Pregnant women will be scanned to make Certain the city can still grow.
Four billion people will go away they've Rigged it so.
Wake up people it's called global warming.
And you can't escape the water as it rises.

She looks into my heart
Unknowing heart her heavy heart
To love and to cherish and hold.

She asks me if I could still love?
Having three drinks and tired

Are we there yet she asks?

Her head in my lap, asking the driver
To circle the block once more.

Crooked And Bent Yet Straight

Some while back
I was within and without it was not a thick hazzy fog nor that of a long fading dream here where I stood near you.

I could see most of you looking out of the bright green stained window.
There were women and not to few were the men and the colours they shone none the same.

I thought you knew she said unto me she was straight
I was bent backwards in an awkward way sitting up straight losing time far away from the center.
Living one life I over heard another one speaking of death having lived such a life where none lived.

There were readers like you watching people like me doing what they do not to you.
When people like you can have such a deep need for.
Some few were neck deep into sex while others engaged in promiscuous ways that none like you had a need for.

Others drank and smoked crack there were many others I saw and described that reminded you of me yet mostly a view of your mirrored selves.
Those that have egos as big as the void were down on all fours giving out favors to those that held a higher office but hidden from you.

Your imagination's how it runs wild knowing the same you wish you could do to your selves.
Is this why subconsciously you love what they are.
Knowing they are what you aren't I've said they are not the twisting of bodies into ungodly straight knots.
He screams of pain where she gets him off in some old mans world where Thirty's to old to get up.

Hence you don't fear what you should and another ones gone.

This should make you warm and warm to cold when it's hot.
For those whom have lived in the light they now share and it's all what they promised to you and false prophets they have delivered to you.
Now capitalism is to take some of your lives if they can and thus your children you will eat out of tin cans.
The water will rise not like in your dreams no more nights will you dance in the rain.

Did You Never Know

Did you never know,
How deep that I loved you-
And so, I love you still.
Being young and full of energy,
From the sun.

A choice,
That all have seen we did not make,
We chose to make.

Great Loneliness

There was a long time ago a great loneliness.
Where the island is black,
There and over there.
Shadows from the clouds
Gave me more cause.
When the woman you love,
At night silently moving giving her arm to me.

There was unquenchable thirst
And gnawing hunger.
It was passion this fruit in a bowl placed underneath her.
Without sorrow or the stand
Where it thought to be it wasn't.
It was me whom filled her needs
And being full it showed.
What I have I have without her,
And what he needs is a miracle.

The well is deep
The woman squatting above the earth now it is fertile.
How to include him
without pitting him against her while inciting him.
With the earth of your mind
And the cross on your arm.

He does not know where all the deep pit falls are.
She is leading him on
In circles growing smaller and smaller.
Until as to either or the other is made possible.

The Hill Without Eye's

Denuded of all trees and rose bushes, bald the hill
if and when most if not all cases love has collapsed.
While trimming the wicks,
it leads one division after the other through white cloud tops.
Only then a decision is made through exploitation.

Attempts to exploit a potential giver of soft valleys and dreams, and due to strength under reported is the real vulnerability attacked.
As to the theoretical findings, did not report results and as such cannot be misused or justified.

To prove that the hills have no eyes authenticity of the vulnerability of the hill should always be free of negative, false positives in that it should be free of all trees and budding green rose bushes.

All Things Will Die

Over the mountains is the sky.
One cloud after comes to be another.
Every heart may once when full.
Full cups in youth sang often merrily.
Yet all things here must first be born to die.
The dreams will cease to flow.
Lily will cease to grow.
The wind will cease to know.
The breast will labor to your touch to rise.
The mornings after glow.
From every thorn from every rose must fall away, don't cry.
Of all that ever was in spring
it falls away and dies.

Poetry Even After Being Here Twelve Years

Poetry even after being here twelve years
I have great difficulty
In piecing together a poem that is worthy
Of your interest.

A mixture of the dark and light and word's
That won't fade away.
Death and taxes, love and life and we can't Forget the light.

In America our two biggest issues are mass
Shootings and drug's.
Most drug use is tied directly to mental Health issues.
Here in Florida the tendency cruel is to incarcerate thousands of people whom with Proper care might be stabilized.

I read a lot of poetry from India trying To get a handle on the way they think.
Indians work very hard and consistently Though they must have Some mental health issues I assume that Their families take care of them.

Our perception on social issues though
Are different.
In many other civilized countries where Like China their way of life is totally Incomprehensible to me.
Their poet's do write excellent poetry.

So my poetry even after being here twelve years
Is unforgivable to some who must stay hidden
While here not having a constitutional right
To write freely
On what we in America take for granted.

A Bridge From The Other Side

Before now from the past
I recall across distant morning the fog rising up with the rest all but a few knew today might very well be the last day of their brutal existence they call life come, come with me we stroll across fields filled with death and some young twitching still with some life though they be dead
one body it moves as if it stripped of their clothes some common few like his standing over the corpse I kick his side where a buzzard crawls forth from his;
caught off guard
the knife quickly comes out leaving nothing to chance
I cleave the head from the buzzard, chop, chop, chop, chop, chop the rest of its body flapping its wings though the sound one should know where everyone sings.
except for the head is inside.

A Republican Touched Me

New experiences
that are bad.
Something is there it waits
it wants only you.

The earliest memories
I have of my vagina is my first when.

I know now
that you didn't mean to kill us all but you knew
we would tell.

Why do those hairy brutes want what
I never had.

Other girls are here where we are at.

Most are covered with a very thin layer of powdery
green top soil.

The other's have been here longer.

Some of us
spilled in our panties right up before the end
and his dog ate them foul breath
when he ardently came blindly some of us twisted and pulled at our panties
and their have been no more birthday parties.

Their are not many of us left to attend them how old were you at my last one.

Anyway
we would have prefered to be raped and alive
but the Republican party
in Florida
knew that if being raped carried life
then the perves
would kill us all anyway.
Witnesses you know.
U.S. girls here wonder what incentives could be used where the harry brutes would let us live

and not die.

If they are worried about residivism
why let them out.

One girl here she was the first wants to know why Republican Politicians
pass laws where children and black are given to the wrong parents and D.C.F. has helped to murder u.s. all in sunny
Florida.

No one knows u.s now.

On the opposite side of a miniscule singularity at the bottom of a massive black hole
the one from where this one started I peered inside of your universe from the one outside that was mine there were bubbles inside all around me where time for me never started as I stood still moving away expanding in plain veiw was a universe bouncing back and forth vibrating string's all around us moving from one big bang to the next.

O Daddy

.....O 'daddy' i'm..
and coming in through the door
she says
O 'daddy'
because of all of this which she has and wearing it, not vainly open as other's do,
the other girls whom have it not or so they think, but do.
When they speak ill of me.
Are not all of our butter cups as such when seen or touched?
some full, some lean, some wide,
some gay, some straight and then some strange or thought i wanted you to say,
'said' you to me i then explained.
many 'dear can't afford their panties made of silk as yours and so they resent you a little more each day.
so hide it all a little better
'dear' what you have i gave to you and she your other indicated too and you are now just fine as she.
where them thus more simply then tighter in and yes, i know it's warmer
i have seen.
pick your friends and share the rest is all that you can do.
and your heart belongs too none but you even though it weeps in times like these.

Manipulative Narcissist

Here there are many,
Where ever you go they are waiting.
Relentless and highly manipulative,
There success depends upon what you do.

Having to deal with a manipulative narcissist,
Exploiting your mind.
And their need to be driven unable to define
Who and what you are.

They put you down and make up great claims about what They can do that you can't.
They will cover the wall and leave no room for you because
It gives them a sense of dominance over you by control.

Do you know anyone that act's very charming,
On your meeting a narcissist they often hide their true colors and come off as actually quite charming.
Especially claiming to be religious by worshipping the same
God, that you do.

No matter what the true facts are or what your situation may be,
They don't hear what you say, talking about only themselves.
The word's that they choose are shallow and weak,
And have no true substance at all.

When they appear and appear here they do, they can drone on endlessly about nothing, but themselves.
When in truth most minds are the same, that is what average is,
The truth that they hear, drives them insane into a rage that but grows.

Verily thus they can't change,
Their issues are rooted deep in their mommies and daddies,
Minds that were weak from the start.

Like an immovable stone, weak and as soft as the flesh and Ingrained in their me, look at their personalities.
Even after you've moved far away from them, here your safe.

Excised from your life, they will simply move on singing their song, to the next unsuspecting reader and start trying to change what you write.

Packed Each Day In Satin

Do you know how and the why i pack
each mouth In satin?
Great pale pink moon each dark one full is too.

Full and wide and how i made each moist and full.
Just to pack each high flung moon and that,
tongue filled mouth so full of clean and tender peaks, of white soft cotton.
Centered a small tiny splash of pink.

Words fill the air, wax fills your ears
each Q tip fixed on each end, so you may hear once more how the mouth was packed so full about clean satin, and what it's done to make you feel like your not the only one,
alone
being packed with all that satin,
every day,
long stormy nights as well,
therein you dwell, speaking not one word
Of this

A voice good bye, while I walk by each side, about inside the hospital,
and now it's much to full of wounds like that....
Each day your mouth, i packed so full of cotton.

1600 Pennsylvania Avenue

How much farther must we go, to reach the land of sex and money.

The wasp's and bee's,
hurry move and buzz about my head.
The crows land and watch and sit upon a iron planted fence.
That stretches round my pointed head.

Dragonfly's,
upon the roof that spit fire, consume
U.S. all who disagree.
Dragging my body
through the halls of gilded bribery.
Their golden chain is stretched out of reach of my weak will.

To my shame and great pleasure,
the second lady,
took her silk panties off and sat upon my face and takes a pee.
So close to me, that I can read her lip's.

They pump out all my blood and replace it with their sour wine.
One tries to jerk me off and I just suck it up back inside
just out of reach of prying eyes, behind the presidential paintings on the pearl white walls.

A dynasty of broken doll's, look down from shelves,
porcelain little arrows,
that have pierced all their broken heart's,
now deaf and mute.

How much farther is it?
Scream the children in the car, here on vaction.
There is mud on all their feet, Thick, red and lumpy.
It is the thick red clay that they've brought up,

from God knows where.

How much farther is it, to that house upon a lawn,
where dog's like mine, laid out in state are buried..

1600 hundred Pennsylvania Avenue.

I ask a cop he say's, turn left, then take a right, It's over there it's surrounded and sits a way's out back, next to the swamp.

Where trust that is not blind is not a trust we find,
His children show.

Are They Dicking You Down

Do you like getting dicked down without K.Y. jelly or Vaseline do you like being lied to by having your vote mean nothing because years ago they already jury rigged
the area that you live in I mean you are Republican right?
Are they dicking you down to the ground like crusty the clown does your ass hole swell up huge or get wet?
Do you even unconscious still moan from the pain of it.
Next they will in struck the clerks of the court to not issue marriage licence's to any gays whom wish to marry.
Are you good with that then grab your ankles and bend over and they then promise that they will only stick the head in.
Vote No.
Call your Republican Congress Man or woman and tell them that when they stretch it open it hurts.
Tell them you were a normal child and that as a child you did not have to go to the Doctor to have an Oscar Mayer Weiner pulled out of your vagina.
Or like their wives whom still use inverted coke bottles.
Ask them if all these non- consensual rapes they call votes can be best represented by all the Paige's in Congress that said no and that they thought when hearing no said they meant yes.
Ask them how long did they think really think that they could get away it.

Why I'm Now Afraid Of Women

I'm attracted to professional women
Of course the rest I've seen on Jerry Springer.
Basing my attractions which of course
Is my own discrimination.

I am older now,
And am looking back trying to determine
How much was my fault.

I like a woman unafraid to take charge
I'm still at my age quite and bashful.
While we here whom are will not admit it.

Being broke is a serious admission, though
If she really likes me it's been said
It doesn't matter.
I can't except while she's asleep, get Into her head and take a small peek.

So yes every day that passes us by, I Cannot but wonder if I'm a loser.
To many people around me have said
If I'm making no money on my writing
Some have read.
But then again writing to me is at this Point in my life
The most important thing that I can now do.
While those haters we all run into can Hardly write and or speak.

One likes to be around intelligent woman
Educating my self to those here around me.
Being here is like Orson Wells saying
In that voice that says, Rose Bud.
While eating fish and chips now that You know me.

To be one of the few that are chosen
Remember the past is gone
And the future has yet to come concerning
Time.
If the word's have to be pulled from
You by chain, don't do it.
And only then if you get that lucky
Break, do it for yourself.
Your feelings must be as hard as rock
With an ego smaller than a snail.
When in truth you are vulnerable be humble
The words you write are your bragging right's.

???? Wedged Is The Hip Splitter ????

By my parting of these words,
these certain very words.
Herein because, I move it thus aside,
of that and when from you, it is I am.
Certain muscles wrapped around inside,
my fingers do.

The bush my hand upon is fire then ice.
Each leaf is free to move and feel,
it feels the face is red it's bulged blue veins.
And breath sucked in the fingers roam
beneath the moon, it floats.
Does she proper beg to whom he is?

Inside so deep those bending, elbows are.
Moans, she cries and.
Doing all of that and can't be stilled.
The beating heart when touched, feels as.
The splitting of the hips when quite, she is naught.
The chilly water vapors warm the swamp.

Blowing winds this foam up to my knees,
his legs are never straight.
The swirling of the tidal pools, her eddies are.
Index finger, thumbed along each hidden muscled length.
It pulls it in and doing nothing, pushed.

The nerves are pointed buds around the open door,
wheels and rings start ringing more, because.
And speaking words that never were by him, not said.

The light within your open mind it always thinking, read.
It heard them not from me and moving you they did.
Again, against between the river flowing never said.

I said to you, I am, I only can it rears the moon.
And the things that woman think they seek, some fear.

The fire my hand it burns the bush, the folded lips,

both rings I often come too know.

Lifting up my hands you dreaming part the clouds,
two elbows moving waves they always are.

What Do We Deserve

There are some really bad people out here
Which are delt with Differently in different parts of the country.
There are white hood's and black hood's
Where did we go wrong?
Some countries kill them, they are scary
Are they not.
Women hold on even tighter to their purses.
Where do they get the guns to hurt and kill Us with.
I remember when here ???? in America it was safe.
We never locked our doors even in large cities
And we respected cops and now one trembles Hearing a siren ??.
Will we live in the equivalent of a New Jack City?
I may be growing older and some what febal
I'm I becoming a narcissist and don't care about
You or your own.
God help us because the wealthiest are going to leave
Us here and live somewhere else.
Do we deserve this even though some care.

The Bridge Of Year's

Under the Bridge of years,
The moon has closed it's blood red door.
And even under the bridge she is green silk,
To me.
Rivers and rivers.
Oceans and seas.
One last bridge, will you show it
to me?
I pray I ask of thee?

In which corner of the sky, is it now?
A horizontal groove along straight lines it moves.
Beyond the red grey walls,
It's as swollen as and as gentle as the breeze.
it Blows the silk off, one green leaf.
In the sun it gleams,

A prelude to laying down before I fall to sleep.
The bark soon curls it follows soon, I sleep.
The sun, the crows are here and roosting and are unaware of my deep melancholy.

Again I pace and leave behind the bed.
Year after year and all the years I burned,
I know now that I must go on across the bridge.
Over the Bridge of Tears,
Away from the staircase of vainly jeweled hearts.
I regret the wasting of those years.

Only at night when the moon is full.

To Joy

Her presence is grace it's self the movement
Of her finger tips the pursing of her lips.

For I have been on hi and low and room there's Been for two we are now one.
The echoes of our song's go out to all who Are in love.
And life that holds such grace a glimpse of joy
Our soul's no pain shall know.

If I Must Go

If I must I will
As I have before Climbing past the rest
And up onto.
Judge me not on how you've judged the rest
Lest on you her fire you've Felt the flame as ice coursed through Your veins.
Time is as leaves
So fresh and ripe and green
Or a budding rose
That touched your shaking lips.
To be forever mine.

I Am James

I try to do
the right thing, because it is right.
Morally from good book's made thus.
Like Paul,
I to was once in Florida's prison's.
I have no disire to have my head cut off nor boiled alive in oil.
Just for,
the ignorant amusement of Trump, my neighbor.
Reading a book by Hitler, called fear.
While forcing me to read, Sun Tzu's, Art of War.

I Shall Wash Your Feet

I shall wash your feet and keep your body clean
And in the morning not yet dawn and night.
I shall wash your feet and keep your body clean
And you shall say hello and broad the street.
I shall wash your feet and keep your body clean
And admire you more a friend a friend indeed.

Death For The Sake Of Death Is A Friend

Twice around the world when once sufficed,
And but not for desire to die in fire.
For simple mind's death runs the race, the race
That seeks them out.
Volcanoes that spew snow across the land,
The barren land where's not a rose.
Where the pain of two is fused into the heart
Of one, where pleasures feel like pain.
When dying once for none cannot suffice,
But twice as great.

The Beautiful Woman's Daughter

Look at the young man as like he has never before.
Blank the look on the face of the adult.
As he dies on the tip of each death.
Sara's breast pumps dropp one poet in a cotton cell.

Full the moon small bottom feeders smell of the moon.
The banana peeled is viscous unrelenting in it's.
My/why I now sleep so lost above things exciled.
Trading her secrets for more to they whom come after.

On the pain of not understanding caught between.
The lines of literature.
I have complicated what was thought to be wih vibrators.
Unsaid things mentionables being southern.
And of abortions doubled glass two fingers maybe three.
Stright up.
I have my girl friends mother she nurses my love of you.
One sky leaves the traveler greatful for loneliness.

On the left and right in my hand.
A beautiful woman's daughter,
of my dearest day by day the air smells different.
Is this your secret too?
When normal is your world I left behind.

I have said my first love even through the air brush of ponagraphy.
White apple blooms phantoms from some other bloom.
She as I, would be in me in between them the bee one and all.

Remember that the angle of each straight azimuth, is to hot and bold to hold yet.
The bright red blood dress is schizophrenia taking it's leave, here open your eyes and feel it.

Treachery is cold and the reincarnated leafless dress.
Bubbled dreams come out from the heart.
As I echo the last hidden vally moving under the ice.
Helplessly kissing the twin peaks falling without wings back into the valley of butterflies.

On the eve and morn of each new death.
The spiders eye even now rememebrs the death of a boy.
While the lolly pops are not always pink and how it shakes my red puffy lips as they shine.
Simple when words pull out the juices of death.
Smaller than them I am even larger than that.

?? The Secret Of My Love Is In Her Eyes ??

After dark I see distant head lights,
coming home closer to me so it seems.
Clouds passing by the face of the moon,
eye's that are hers, I for saw in my dreams.

Love after dark I read in a book,
words written by other's who lived before
and have died.

I am up close now and I can see, I am to be what other's can't be,
alive in the moment as moment's can be moment's are.

Ruby red lips, emerald green eyes and a dress
that but few dare could wear.
Attention and fame up on the stage, dancing
and swaying for one moment in time,
made possible by people like you, she once said.

Your judgement is gone and will never come back,
not as it was
caught up under her spell, she survives.

After dark when the moon swells and is full,
fruit that is ripe hangs.

Dreams, Dreams Of Our Brains While Dreaming

The head before sleep over ruled it.
To help the other over come prejudice.
Dreams of the brain make both mutually.
You had exclusive use of the body.
The surface of tension probative it is.
When the lover of one two more come.

Dying In Your Dreams

Dreaming,
dreams of death, you really shan't.
English is not the spoken tounge,
in every head.

Even if each thought,
that I am taught, I soon forget.
Do you, the other side,
I go at will, when deep in sleep.

There are often better things,
for me to do to you.
Than to watch you hidden, waiting, come.
Pulling back,
the mist, you are often sleeping in.

I see the whirlpool's eye,
shooting out,
all the light, that I put in.
The cup is half empty, never full.
Darker is this moon, and it is.

I must see it,
laying on it's lighter side.
Open when I come.
And closing shut, as I look back.
Dreaming,
dreams within,
when death is all you have.

Because It Snowed Once Is It Love

Because it snowed once is love in and out, it's up and down;
It started there where I'm not any more;
Hiding your face behind a closed window looking through the drapes that you opened;
Not all of it to me was love, where you asked me to do those things those many things to you that caused me nothing but pleasure, just to hear your moans;
With it love could be the very thing that you used to plug the leaking dyke by your using my head to figure it out; Down stairs walking up on the wooden floor using each step that you hear
to judge how close I am to that rising fear;
Love here in the deep south where each night becomes even more fluid when the low hanging fruit is even closer to me than it was the night before;
If love was meant to be tasted and made even better with strong scented drink;
And I tasted as I stated, you loved as I went and I meant was it love or that other;
But was it love when you slept and I sleepy came back to your bed and covered your face in what now were your dreams;
Wading knee deep in white powdered snow
it just might be pearl's, I do not know.

James McLain

Dreams, Dreams Of Fruit

Financial gain and deep growth, the fruit of my dream is of you, firm and richness.
I have observed your sexuality and desire,
and you also by mine.
Vines, bushes and trees are different styles.

Colored with life they are painted to each particular.
I have shown you by my effort and disappointment.
By your love of green fruit in my dreams.
I will nevertheless wait until sleep to show you.

Work long and hard to achieve all your goals.
If the fruit is ripe, with pregnancy and it is ready.
Inside of your dream is a child or children you want.
Beware of the staff,
and of bitter with rot, leaves not green, curling brown,
withdraw if you can and get out.

Poetry Is A Mind Set

If poetry is a mind set then
Time stops for all when we die.
A confession to a crime that Never happened at all.

A forest in Japan that's deep
And dark.
Wherein people go to die, there's
No one there to stop the noose, the vine.

The setting sun that never sets the moon
Upon a rock.
The oven claimed my love who died before
I came.

Never safe are we in which the state
Is the police.
Not from here this rock on which we live
When they can wait for us to die.

Einstein's clone his d.n.a.
His picture taken from the sky.
If one days wrong in how he died
His other cannot live.

Remember most that live and breath
Are less than those who died.
The advantage goes to all of those Who's mind's a fire put out.

Us Poor Poet's

We have egos the size of hot Air balloons.
So arrogant we fill up a room.
Some clique up thinking to survive.
A few stand on their own and make
A name here to be proud.
And then theres what we argue over
Who is where hi up.
And who is riding low are brought Up hi.
I think we should study the dead more Than the living.
And we should write about it all Good or bad.
By the way sex sells here like any Where eles and so does love.
Like a rose ?? thats never picked.

After I am dead
And my writings left unread.

Will the preacher say that I have a soul?

I saw him not while living.

Sure I won't remember.
That so few of us can remember.

You can hear what was never said.

Tell All The Truth But Tell It Slant

But do to be all the truth.
Or more to be success to tell a child a lie.
The circus of the circuit court it tilts.
And to simple that is because.

The joy where we are weak and love is bright.
Truth is the first electric vibrator.
It worked just once surprised the wife.

Whose is splendid now and truth be known.
Your lips are full your neck is straight and narrow.
Emily could but wish those ape half wits.
Any type of explanation and the truth it sits.

Whereupon,
thereof she comes forthwith.
Lips that spread the truth becomes her, easy.
If it the lie does not increase grows gradually.
Glaringly,
it is to all the people it is to the eye blind folded.

Her Coffin Was Her Own Domain

Her coffin, is a small Domain,
It's small but large enough.
Used round the world and back.
And dust is but our fate.

And love, all gives the grave,
The grave gives nothing back.
Yet all that need the Sun,
And upon each head a crown.

Be citizen or king, to us each all,
If one world we all must live.
To him on high all give their praise,
To live within to but one single end.

I Don't Want To Die

I don't want to die,
I want to feel what you feel.
What you see and feel the breeze
Upon my face and kiss those lips but she is gone.

What will happen when I die?
Time has flown concerning those whom Were close to me.
I never liked beer or gin I knew not
How to drink nor sip.
But those six or seven long island ice teas would Be enough to make me think.

Like Bukowski I compartmentalized that part of my Brain so I could talk.
So I could think, so I could last all night
Into the morning light.

I don't want to die, I want to live, I want
To give you something back.
Leaving it behind in case I go to that Place I was before.

I've been left behind by Sara and Sharon
And Sylvia.
No interest in the men I should have had
I've read them but mine they've never read because their dead.
When I die I know one thing, that eternity will fly by
When I have died.

At Sea

I stand on the beach in the sea,
In the sand with water all around me.
Approaching the storm foam from the Waves cover me.
My lover can't hear or see me, trapped
In his dream so it seems.
With no place to hide nor rest, I'll abide
As the storm grows worse all around me.
The tide tugs and pulls at my sleeves,
Afraid I'm alone trapped in the sea out
Of reach of his heart raw is this wound in my chest.

Alcohol And Love

Love me less and keep the bottom of the bottle always full.

The chemistry their still is,
about the pain you feel inside.

Why does the home have no roof?

And through the ceiling you once looked up too see the stars.

What's wrong with you, with us,
what has happened to us?

Your body does not taste as once it did,
the apple smell once sweet is gone.

This anger from your youth perhaps the hard abuse from others left it's mark upon your soul and as the mind has changed so many times upside down, inside the lies the pleas for help were never heard they fell on ears that could not hear.

I have slipped far out beneath your body without my leaving any memory that you were ever there.

Lost In The Mist The Sea

Where I am,
The wind on your skin and your hair.
The look in her gaze, the feel of his hand,
Whirlwind the clouds, the moon when it's full
Looking down.
Now the sea each season I miss,
Lost in the mist the wind blowing foam white
On my face,
The sand underfoot each grain that I feel
As soft as the rain on my face.
Lost in the mist, lost from sight though you see.
Lost in the mist is the sea.

Dreams, Dreams We've Had Before

If a perfect life all lived where money had no use would you be here.

Astute to more than this you fell asleep and woke again
but over there.

Money here is every thing a thing of need a need for things where it's needed only here.

Is there such a place a place where all can go and never here return because of it.

Gold should be as common as each grain of sand and silver course or smooth as all have hair.

Where sparrow's there like here are over there where beauty never paused.

And Death is but a dream
all dreamed before.

Dreams, Dreams That Are Deep You I Know

Oh, I am singing, you are singing, we are singing.
And you just lay there coming waiting to just grow.
And how each time,
fleeting make the hungry person learn to know.
And your time which has yet to wait it comes?
But so young to wonder why.
From the world the one and only one this person.
Leaves the wind that through it blows, are waiting for.
From where your center longs.
These dreams you long for are.
Oh and have you lived by sight to be his only light?
Are candles for.
Your thoughts are formed much clearer,
than each thought, each formed before.
And like the rainbow of the sun are streams and rivers.
To be loved by he, not me, to lose your color for?
When your asleep is when I come into your head.

Dreams, Dreams Of Girls Dreaming

I am not afraid of all those creepy men, I hide inside my dreams.
I am that tiny pretty white girl men are hurting all the time.
Someone whom still dreams to taste a buttered yam or two.
That I am pure and innocent, am I not your strongest girl?
I need it there for me, my self esteem is all I'm worth.
You can hear them call my name, you can hear me in your head.
I was once like you before I pray they fade away,
and before I wake and face the day to take what I am given.
Sweet and sour little girls their dreams of what before will be.
Maybe my bad dreams of men whom hurt me for distractions.
I gather moss above your heads before you drift off into sleep.
And yet for some I can not help but see your situation.
Trauma and past injuries and I'm left to die before my time,
I can't dream, I dream a dream for little girls to help the ones like me.
Once naive I'm just a girl who'd try to change your world.
Mine is but the dream that little girls when sleeping dream.
I used to dream beneath the sky of chasing butter flies.
When all the little girls, when wide awake were never ment to have.

A daffodil that bleeds white sap

Dirty Tommy

After spending to many years in prison
I survived but only at a great price and permanent psychological damage.

Tommy, dirty Tommy is a head hunter, booty bandit, the lizard
as most whom wear dentures are generally called.

Spending an inordinate amount of time and thinking
but could they do it here, here or there.
Lucky was I to spend the last few years of my sentence here.

The guards knew all of the tricks of the trade, and I was used to this quiet, laid back prison as a nice place.
Never monitored were the showers or bath stalls
the urinals their handle bars and more bars of soap on the floor than I could count.

I learned then that no secret was safe and unless I gave in while he milked it as to Tommys joy
my being a librarian was my great misfortune.

I remember one day being in the young adult section and noticed rhythmical movement out of he corner of my eye, my day job.
And under dirty Tommys, table he worked with his hands kneading dough
while another young fellow his eyes open wide moved independantly of each other.

This was too much,
and every day, I held out made it that much more he would get.
I said to Tommy about this kind of business he called it kindness then he winked and smiled.

Apparently jealous of Tommy,
this other person at great risk to him self stood up and moved away
these kind of secrets most kept to them selves.

I Can See Her Lips Right Through Her Face

She lifts her skirt and I can see her lips right through her face.
A face that's tight,
A face that is emerald green, stuck upon her face.
With lips that move like a dream when You're asleep.
The moon here's out of reach even though it's full
It's pinkish white covered up in clouds.
Like an oyster that I eat, come every night.
My tongue is long and straight it pierced the day.
While the bushes with green leaves lay hidden from My gaze.
I can see her lips right through her face.

is frail and weak, as people are.
To know what is coming and still you let it come,
and less not more are willing.
Where are you, how did you get as you are,
your healthcare here may soon be gone.
Death is like sleep and yet you sleep without dreams.
On your knees in life when death knew not your name, and rabbits run and ran a runner is.
Peaceful on your back knees bent the act you played,
a party is.
I dropped a moth ball in your mouth and went to sleep,
in between tomorrow, yesterday's has yet to come.
Do you want it on your feet or on your knees, says he,

Trolls, She Said Some Are Here

In Internet slang, a troll is a person who starts quarrels or upsets people on the Internet to distract and sow discord by posting inflammatory and digressive, [1] extraneous, or off-topic messages in ancommunity (such as a newsgroup, forum, chat room, or blog) with the intent of provoking readers into displaying emotional responses[2] and normalizing tangential discussion, [3] whether for the troll's amusement or a specific gain.

Both the noun and the verb forms of "troll" are associated with Internet discourse.

However, the word has also been used more widely.

Media attention in recent years has equated trolling with harassment.

The sign out side still reads.
Free' milkings to the first one hundred.
Lured in by thier own blind lust,
all are full, thick, dripping and heavy.
As willing as the next.

Each checked.
Weighed And readied.
by 'More' than simple nurses.
With pretty pink wings.
With blue veined, white marble hands.
The line is soon gone.

Hooked up to long clear hoses.
Secured by the pros now imobil.
Hose to mouth, mouth to hose.
Leading under ground to the 'Queen'.
There are no back doors to this palace.

as young as her strong beating heart.
Deep in the woods,

that was bad, goes good when it should.
Passed on to only I if and if all the world,
to be with me, the only person at my side.

Dreams, Dreams Of Flying

Your flying dream can be a positive or negative feeling of also and exhilarating experience.

Feelings of fear while flying,
could possibly suggest that you are once again afraid.
Of each new challenge and of climbing the tree of success.
Perhaps being not ready to take the next step, you gasp.
Having difficulties at being lucid, fighting gravity, crashing in flight then sliding down.
Indicates a lack of power in controlling your own circumstances.

Things like bushes, trees and or mountains,
could be obstacles that you encounter in flight.
Though in the past there were no deep running rivers, running streams underground, you survived to walk about.
Obstacles may symbolize something or someone who is standing in the light your waking life.
Identify who is trying to prevent you from being in love, knowing the truth forward and backwards.

Under The Bushes We Meet

Come out, come out of the yellow thick snow
Where I am.

High in the sky the yellow warm sun
Felt on your face in deep sleep.

Be not bitter, be not as hard as the tree,
Each bush filled with joy,
Surrounded by leaves, without the sharp Thorns, full and green.
Hear me, feel me and hurry come out,
Here by the sea,
The sea that we loved where the path takes
Us down to be cleaned.

Washed in the waves next to the place,
Onder the bushes where we meet.

To Remember A Smile

I as a child had rattle snakes that I sold
To the ice cream man at two dollars a foot.
He in turn would sell them at Ross Island
In Miami to make anti serum.
I caught owls and hawks I raised from chicks
At twenty five dollars apiece.

A boa constrictor could for twenty dollars
Be purchased from Montgomery Wards.
At seven feet long roaming free in the house
It ate one of my mother's tea cup poodles.
I was ten years old and lied to my mother
And said that someone stopped in front of our home
And took it.
She did not notice the large bulge in the snake
And still feel bad to this day, mom's been gone a year
This coming October.

My best friend's mother would answer the door in her
Panties,
Of which thinking back I paid no attention too.
Off we would go to catch whatever we could in the woods
Which in the sixties were deep and dark where we'd eat
Whatever grew in some person's yard.
Coming back with a small alligator sometimes or with A huge soft shell turtle that we would sell to the garbage men
For five dollars apiece.
Life for a prepubescent young boy was to remember a smile
From then.

Alone With Everybody

There is a mind inside the meat
We call our head's
Somewhere there's a soul while we're alive.

Women come and go if your a drunken Slob,
Drunk she threw my teeth in the canal.

Can we find true love inside a bottle of Cheap wine?
He did as well as she
One just has to lower one's expectations.

Our fates are tied together one and all
And I can't afford to drink the heady stuff
At all.

I'm beyond flattery, I cannot say yes to love Nobody ever finds the one.
When nothing else matters but the sandman!

Frost On The Highest Peak

It has always been here but you never.
To many are your names, it is my, many forever.
Just when the frost of the highest I peak.
And rapid the stream out each door.
Quietness comes when after it does,
and quietness passes off by my head.
The feet of the many seen leaving deceased,
and I hang on to the walls.
Walking around the land of no fences,
the hole in the sky, sun it does.
But like destiny in March the rose bloom waits for May.
Of the head of our dead, growing up from the ground.
Without laughter moving sound,
as the wind bends them down even, I stretch all the more.
The door when you knock, opens some where else but groans there crying wider, sitting down as you wait, never seen when it came.
Was, the frost on the highest peak, I speak of.

Poet's Mental Illness And Poverty

Many of us were subsequently hospitalized and treated with shock therapy.

Erasing then redrawing all the borders of my mind

by losing all the picture's of my past.

I won't describe my past hospitalizations as a form of pain

this was more for them this form of therapy.

Violated, wet and warm it was a time of tragic shame and electric light's induced this form of man our infamous history.

Hopelessness despair, and blind illusion- so black only as the inferno of Dante's mind can be- symbolic of the church and state and death, and cold the fire in me.

I was like you shocked- and then the painful agony of my rebirth and what to you it means.

and you drive it, forever and ever,
upward and upward and never down ward, insane.

Death is two silky hands covered in hot burning oil, that start at the base and death loves to cover each lamp.
While the flame burns inside the brown paper bag exposed.
Pushing death deep without compassion through the pale full moon, as death walks around, ignoring your cries.
Heaven for death and coming so close to death you find.

Death makes you come over to your friends house once again, in your mind while those pearls in the bag, are laid up on the shelf that you share, with deaths pink pig.

Death moves both horns closer, driven unforgiving together, one here and one there, ever closer, untiring you are laid out as art.
Death knows when the sky is on fire, say it again and again.

Death and truth, death is like an epileptic seizure, when more than those silky soft hands,
never moved all the way down,
and a river of hot molten 'death' sprays,
in your hair each black day.

Death is as proud..and as proud of you, Death is,
as you splash it around, all about town,
Death and 'Death's' protein mask so tight, you peel it off.

Death was just the tip of the ice burg and death melted it,
with death's thick and full, red buried, unyielding lips.
You love to have your fun with death, as you milk it over and over, the milk never expires, death never tires, and many,
many are deaths executions from death's weepy milked eye.

?? Good Bye Love ??

What have you given that I've taken away?
A mixture of pain like feelings that twist.
Once we experienced, feeling's of heaven.
We were childlike and happy, yes even glad-hearted.

But our love like the wind it drifted away.
Seen through my eye's a vision of lies,
thoughts followed rain and I followed love.
Love left unburied, reborn left to die.

In a cloud burst of honey and yellow sunshine,
A thick blanket of snow made a white bed for you. swimming by her
and after swimming to far
by luck their upon her,
I came,
she with another and both.

Building castles from sand
was she,
not with the other, instead.

A monument to some mountain
a forgotten penis,
or from her deep heart need.

She sculpted
with her own two hands.

Speaking and still she could
as i watched,
her other turning over, to me.

And With Just One Finger

and just with the finger and with it i would.
and with only it would i split the world.
and i could leave it there and move you around it.
and other things are more or less complicated.
and with the one i left you more too explore it with.
and if it touches your heart it misses nothing.
and if the world explodes around it, it is just my finger.
and once it's consumed what is left but that world.
and with just one finger and with it you could change the world.

Bushes without leaves

The woods

While the path that she walks

Stopping she dropped what it was that he picked.

A daffodil that bleeds white sap

We met.
Crashing waves that wash us clean the

My youth is gone I've a warning to the Young to compromise and share the love

Have you dared to leave your body here
While alive?
There are no reference points or gps
To mark the way back home.
This they call a soul the source of light
Moving at the speed of thought the edge
Is just a moving boundary what he called the Speed of light.
Dreaming down beneath what always was Until you die.
Thinking backward dreams from where you were ??Ruby Red Lipstick??

This These are my lips.
These lips are big lips.
They need more open space to wrap them selves around.
They don't fit onto smug pouty little pretty faces, these lips are full wide and free lips.

They don't like to be kept empty.
Wet these lips have never been without,
they move up north when they want to they go south when they need to.

What these lips do,
is none of your buisness.
I smile as you wish it were you.

Mine are rich pink firm hard to grasp lips
and these mighty lips,
have sunk more than their share of ships.

Lips that are tragic.
Lips that are magic.
Lips that are never loose.

Would you could but to know them.
They pull the oil right out of the ground,
and on a man they will never be found.

Over heard a secret told,
And once outside I see the sky.
And all the clouds as they float by,
What I've seen and heard won't cigarettes
Leave a dirty stain,
Upon the soul of one too young too understand!

Conversations kill.
Conversations kill.

Inside your head I hear the movements
Of a clock that's never still but always stops.
Taking what was said inside a book you Never tried to read.
And all the answers there when questions asked.

Conversations kill.

i love her their, her needs they are her/i\we want,

beautiful, how she it comes and how she it moves

When You Forget Me

And you will when you last wrote me.
September's bridge to the fall
Autumn calls.

One line,
One continuous line, these lights are.
I can't understand the poetry
in them the way it impacts us all.

Pretty leaves on a limb the truth rests.
Stranding the face of you others have when youth does.
Each path that we find at the bottom,
mum and dad walked before.
Rebirth of the choices most make.
Saving ourselves we must have and the.
Then choices made not by you come to pass.

When you last wrote me the choices were yours.
September's depression falls freely past me to land some where, where Autumn falls.

Covers my face a few I knew but now.

Death Is Proud

All the people overturned the king for your dark robes.
And you the people whom some came to think,
the buried rest have called on he.

Our bodies dreadfull not the dress you wear in sleep so proud?
Like the poorest of the poor the rich will die what more.
Death needs life it does it's best to make me live and thou,
to kill me more than you when living bled and died for me.
Jailer look, you must be damned, each life it has to flow, and I wear green laureled leaves the warden owns our souls.

More joy for he, more money seen, alas but not for thee.
Driven far from home inside a stone unhenged, we wait to die.
Great joy to Doe and smiling John, our best men, coming go.
Desperate times breed desperate men, unthinking yet they know and slaves are made from living, breathing clay.
When death is proud no more, we look at death and it looks back, but not at you or me.

A Handful Of White Cotton

Her smile can see right through me, Other's say.
Her back when arched the cat strays.

Most think her blood is red, it's really
Blue, closer to purple, there is a rose.

Seeing the tip of her pointed tounge,
I see it slip through tight lip's, only once.
The woman who played with fire, next to the tree,
Down by the stream, where the green bushes are.

I am to her what I am,
Neither in love, not a one night stand.
Nor a white bowl of cotton, I have picked by hand.

Love to me is a green transparent dress,
A bra that is pink and high heels that are red.
This is not love wearing tight purple panties.

This body of hers that opens and shuts,
Comes but to the few, the few I can't have.

Death Wants More Death Than Death

Death wants more death, and then some look at my black widow spider.
along the rail road tracks.
fat and shiny with her black grape and red hour glass tummy.
though it tells no real time, I wish it did,
as I spend to much time with her.
no real order either as her web goes off
in all directions.

She sits in the cracks where it's cool,
sits and waits for me,
by now she knows, I will come, I think.
that she cares.
I wiggle the outer most edge of the her web with a very thin stick, wiggle, wiggle and she hurries out fast as the light that she flees.
holding the cricket by it's back legs, the cricket moves her Webb with her long antennas here she comes.
death six beady eyes of death.
no emotion:
nothing to feel but true raw death black death.

she rolls her front over and spins back and forth her back legs.
pulling at first thick drops of the stickiest glue that she attaches haphazardly on any thing that moves.
even your finger
if you leave it there long enough which is about two seconds three tops.
it can be so very much better than squeezing her treats through her panties it is just that exciting flirting with death.
soon I have helped her fill her web with crickets.
and just a few yards further down the track is another cool well concealed crack.

with friends like these who needs threats and those pale, 'full belly eats, when,
Death wants more death than that.

After Dark

After dark I see distant head lights,
coming home closer to me so it seems.
Clouds passing by the face of the moon,
eye's that are hers, I for saw in my dreams.

Love after dark I read in a book,
words written by other's who lived before
and have died.

I am up close now and I can see, I am to be what other's can't be,
alive in the moment as moment's can be moment's are.

Ruby red lips, emerald green eyes and a dress
that but few dare could wear.
Attention and fame up on the stage, dancing
and swaying for one moment in time,
made possible by people like you, she once said.

Your judgement is gone and will never come back,
not as it was
caught up under her spell, she survives.

After dark when the moon swells and is full,
fruit that is ripe hangs down in your face.
And what's in your heart is reflected in your eyes,
it goes on and on inside of your head.

The song and the rhythm of a long we'll lived
life,
a life that you lived but now has passed.

Grand Pa Pa Dad And Uncle Del Roy

Grandpa pa
Daddy and Uncle D' el Roy

.....
sometimes....
with Mother

.....
keep

.....
all the

.....

Bushes and trees over grown here, like a park very dark and the mighty pale moon and groomed left Unlandscaped through the old rusted gate to here delivered thus I saw through a crack and going in, it sawing it coming out:

The grandpa pa assisted to his preferred chair,
Referenced remarks and grand-daughters dread she is and he starts to look at her fixedly.
Drooling his;
Foul breath, hanging outside his old shriveled finger.
Her face and fear, full apparent to me, I see.

Such beginnings with our race, thinking me.
Long ago that Egyptian, should have stayed away from such a tree, she'd flee.
She nor his grand-daughter' he wants to push,
and pull at her inside out the treats.
Calling, calling for more and 'said', come come 'you never want enough. ' Come here.

Come on sweet,
come and relive to see it more.
My grand-daughter,
obtains it there on the knees,

Buckled open it pops.

It makes my stomach turn, I wish to die thinks she.
All because of 'dad' and him, ; D'el Roy '
He 'said' and forced it open each dark banana, with the peel off and it knows, grampa pa knows it.
Incest is the best, grampa pa he says.
Through thick; fat, full - insidious blue lips.
Uncle D'el Roy; decides to give him\my brother those gyratory movements, puckered in/out and clingy.

It is unlike what grampa pa does,
it's like to forward leaning, upwards.
Uses, used equipment like his nephew as a girl.
Uses from us both,
to see it Unwrapped from silk and the distance it.
Lipstick and make-up on his face,
uncle 'D'el Roy ' imagining him\my brother with heels on his feet, deeply forcing.

Because it assized up there and starts to rub around his 'familiales'.
D'el Roy; would like to put it to the test, he said at rest it knows incest is just the best as well.

Whispers; from The mother to decide to enter on the act, Its and its son have a special pact, understanding.
While his or her husband with 'D'el Roy '; and works she obtains in her flowerbed, blooms on his and starts to give it's principal, the son loves her mom and is equipped and instructed, upwards through her face,
Like it draws his milk everywhere her cotton yellow face.
He knows that its mom and is nicer than the rest,
Granpa pa or uncle'D'el Roy.

He knows incest is not the best, inside his head,
but does, instead of being whapped.
The sister and the brother are a knowing pair,
It is more of a family name and thus divide and conquer.
Bill his brother cannot believe this chance,
Having a sister who knows to lean, their away.
After he located it -it's grubby paws advanced there.

He folds it open and molds it more around it' and takes her back, Why of putting itself, love like the animals they became the sad truth and dirty catfish muddiest, ' they both/know that ' incest is not the best and both they know it.

The father cannot believe that his/her daughter must be forced thus, not the their kind, 'Randy' thus like he.
Because uncle 'D'el Roy ' draws aside its moist breeches at the side on its knees as his\her takes it hates it from behind,
She and He groans and shouts and starts to cry, it bleeds.
'Dita', 'He dad, you are not my type, not a kind; man, 'Dita'.

The' dad says his incest is the better way, it hurts much less
And it is a game in which the entire family has played, since the early eighteen hundreds.
The dad treats him as a daughter like the honoured guest,
'they both know, hugging that'
deep inside, that incest is not the best and start to cry.
And they both plan to runaway when both learn too understand it.

Daddy The Gym Teacher

Daddy he moved my panties and,
hush child and come here.
Did he do this with his finger, moving your panties and then with the other finger instantaneously in both holes like this in and out or did you sit up child, and gyrate upon them,
tell me is that what you or he did.
and daddy he also with his other finger until i could no longer stand it and i had to lay down until it passed and still it never stopped those feelings and the bruising and i can tell some thing was inside me, inviolably, my knees and oh Daddy, why was i so startled their?
Go and ask your mother, child.

Scream

What to me have you done?
Smoldering clouds of darkness
as my emotions turn and twist.

Once we were together,
in love's living color.
Hand in hand and we together were yoked at the waist.

Innocent once, guilty twice.
But your heart drifted away
by another and I just screamed.

Now a vengeful pool of agony -
My memories follow rain, follow pain.
My love by you was left to die.

I swear on a storm of loud thunder,
That I will never have any love for you?
As I howl and scream at the moon.

In the shape of a roaring flame.

Bukowskis Apartment

Some times watching Bukowski's move never leaves me more than a bottle of beer his are barely kept half full.
He took hold of her left hand and guided her right up past the neck and to his lips,
looking once she never kissed me.

Giving me instead that knowing glance
as she did as I thought so, I could hear the clicking of her high heels on the linoleum floor as they rounded the corner and disappeared outside.

Bukowski leaving me at the bar I asked, where they were going and gone and she said that Bukowski had taken the slut outside to show her the beer garden.

I laughed and Bukowski said, she'll see more than the garden,
again they both laughed.

She then pulled her panties aside and pissed in his full bottle.
While I was chatting to Bukowski about her face it was saying, what a good looking piece of blubber and he was and that they hoped she would give them all a good mucking.

I called out to Bukowski him saying,
what I thought she would say to that.

About ten minutes later she came after Bukowski left It was then that she told me how she became his slut

as she drove me home right past him.

A Letter To My Attorney Dwight Dudley

Greetings,

To you whom are reading this and as of this you read, convey to he,
below to whom I speak and thus to you I pray.
Deliver that below of which I speak so he may know my need is real.
And in my need that justice may be served.

You once represented me at trial,
in the old court house.
I was innocent then,
I was charged with constructive possession of marijuana.
Found in he, another's car.
You predicated my defense upon the word predicated and we lost.

Your ear I need for ten minute's, maybe less.
And David Carter, he like me back then we used.
Grave injustices, have been upon me by some kept.
So much so that I am here where I've dwelt in a room
all alone for five long year's.
Verily upon your ear I lean and you should know,
and to me thus be kind.
So as I once was so I can be but once again.
Only through your help through truth and light.

Catholic was I raised and thus will stay.
And as if once one should and thus I am.
I endeavor to remain true and as thy friend.

Every thing smells new all around you.

Happy to sing of life.

Would mean there is peace.

Could careless if we became extinct.

As winter turns into spring and summer to fall,

In the woods.

A mixture of pain like feelings that twist.
Once we experienced, feeling's of heaven.
We were childlike and happy, yes even glad-hearted.

But our love like the wind it drifted away.
Seen through my eye's a vision of lies,
thoughts followed rain and I followed love.
Love left unburied, reborn left to die.

In a cloud burst of honey and yellow sunshine,
A thick blanket of snow made a white bed for you. swimming by her
and after swimming to far
by luck their upon her,
I came,
she with another and both.

Building castles from sand
was she,
not with the other, instead.

A monument to some mountain
a forgotten penis,
or from her need.

She mounded,
with her own two hands.

Speaking and still she could
as i watched,
her other turning over, to me.

Have a nice day,
sunny is a smile and I did,
as she said.

I floated sadly,
away,

smiling to both my mouth full of best wishes and sharp salty water,
hers/my sad good bye.

Greene County Mississippi

In green county Mississippi,
There is a small town called McLain town.
Where on my father's side of the family,
We are from.
Mississippi is almost as backwards as Florida,

What have you given that I've taken away?
A mixture of pain like feelings that way.

Death From The Sky

Three point three million miles may Sound far away,
But that's how close we came to being Struck by an asteroid the other day.

Is this the hand of God, playing football
With us that day.
Some of these would be extinction events
That have happened before they have said.

I Cannot Stay

Before me walks this a shadow.
Is it yours.
I can not come to close too say.
Crossing over from where I know you remain.
Oceans of love, play solarium
left behind from before.
Even though in believing.
Passing through,
Deep inside go on believing and this you must, answered feeling.
It pulls you so far off
That I completely staid away.

A Book I Read Said This Could Happen To Me

Unlike the tempest or the spinning whirlpool small bits of my mind float away.
Has it been too long my wit, lost words I heard.
Dwelling alone my eyes are filled with tears.
Hurry help me place the leaf back on the tree.

I've seen the numb who cut to feel again.
I look through them now to see the other side.
Dimmer is a world where no one loves to sing.
Doomed to wander witnessed through your dream's
If I have lost all love then quicken me.

It Was About You

It was about you, you and no one else,
Without the wind there are no moving leaves.
No one else only you, deep in the ground
The roots of one tree without all the limbs and even Still yet, high in the air is the crown.

but you can and only you will know where you've Been or what you have felt or still even yet,
What's there in your heart because if you tell again
You will be where you were.

In spite of all you have seen and even now, goes on Around you,
You will not tell because if you do again without will
And your young age, the pain you endured the long lonely night's Will come once again but child know you were right.

It was about you that I fought the long fight, despite what you thought
I was always there,
The voice that you heard when you were there it was mine.
My advice at your young age may not feel right, the words that you Hear those words that you heard,
But in the coming years I think you will know, the words that I spoke We're only for you.

Because at your age even younger still it was me in your place,
At this, our tender young age, because to another you weren't important.
Ten year's have now passed and even now, it was done for you.

You would impose your Will on us if you could,
Wouldn't you?

America has over two million people in prison!

Who believe in God now.

Good people do good things, bad people do bad things.

Except it!

Us folks from all over the world believe in different ways.

You must learn to except this.

Cutting our head's off because of a particular belief is just well!

You must live in some fantasy world.

You realize that it takes a village to make a community yes?

Nor could I be.
Love's echo,

Cast adrift,
I found no sleep.
Left to long at sea.

What you found

lost
again to sight.

One,
sleeps the sleep.
That,
few will sleep.
And so I say goodnight.

What Is Oblivion

So,
When we die.
To many think that some alien God,
Will take them into his bosom.

Half of my brain knows that we will Go to wherever it was that we were at before,
We were born.

We are only now able to speak of this,
While other's take the high road.
The road that leads us all to the fork,
That diverges back to the low road.

We are a God over ants and such though
We kill them, roaches as well.

So,
When we die let it be said that we are Only flirting with oblivion.

Edge

Bent is each crooked straight line.
Looking down at each woman, life is finished.
Even in death, one stands out.
Resting above all the rest.

Her corpse wears the smile of achievement, illusions have come and gone, it is over.
Dead children reach out, little hands coiled around cold stone feet.

Breasts filled with sour milk,
vinegar is sipped, each little bud runs empty.
Pulling them back to close to the garden I sit.
And when the weeding it stops, blooming tonight, sweet magnolias.

Soon I Must Submit

So many stories have been told about me
I can now recognize
The untreated bipolar women in Their dangerous manic state's
And how I attract them.

Their plight I have suffered as well
Though my dream's from the Seroquel
I must take or once again like them
I'll become and for men it is jail.

The threat of solitary confinement at
My age could prove fatal due to my unfortunate
Lot of being born in the wrong state, Florida.

I thank my Mental health case workers I have,
May the care as I age and the care that I need and my darkest days that I have and sadness pass them by.

From here on out
I will see my sunset earlier,
From here as I look up at the moon's last rays of hope.

And more often than not now the shadow of death
I see climb into the window of my room.
The northern clouds without sight now fly south.

And verily yet,
From my hand the sparrows eats crumbs of bread.
Though my heart
Yesterday she said moves side to side in my chest.
I must submit.

As for my unfinished day's,
Can my once strong hand, unnaturally calm,

Have the strength, the iron will to finish it.
Solitude like theirs, when finally it comes is Should be the end of it.

Modern Poetry

Is to get my ideas into main stream Media before the rest on mental illness, global warming
new ideas on education, recognizing the gifted children.

Realize that most people don't have what it takes to make decisions that ultimately hurt the rest of humanity.
Developing a better understanding of human genetic dead ends
so we can weed out racism and the other poison minds.

Implementing a better and more fairer form of criminal justice.

I mean if they legalize marijuana will you smoke it, though you drink?
Making sure that all of the corrupt politician's receive mandatory prison sentences that exceed those by three fold that the average citizen would receive.

Legislation on educating the masses on the far range consequences of implementing new laws where said laws are designed to cause the masses to turn upon one another as stupid people do.

Helping people understand that the American dream is predicated on how much money each year is printed.
Realize that a culture based on violence instead of knowledge undermines the concept of sound judgement.

People have more value than a dog or cat and the concept of the opposite being true is an example of how convoluted human thought can be.

That science trumps evolution as it does and will.
For if you hold it back then those whom would,
should have no say or be able to parent children that will grow up to be confused.
One pie two people each get half not one pie will feed twenty people some one up stairs will bake the rest.

Do not be offended by the truth you made, become involved on how to advance the human race.
By being first.

Again Soft Rain Will Come

Then there you are in the soft rain,
Every thing smells new all around you.

As the fish in the pond swim all around me,
Frogs to be who are not yet cannot love me.

Cardinals bathe in the smallest of pools,
Happy to sing of life.

The current war will never stop, stopping
Would mean that there's peace.

Those I mean they who watch us from space,
Could careless if we became extinct.

As winter turns into spring and summer to fall,
With no one left here to care.

I Hear Her Coming

Oh hurry and see, can't you see she is coming.
And he sits in wait and watches the moon
It is setting.
Up past the stars, down underground,
Here nobodies watching.
He enters slowly, the air opens up,
Moving and stretching.
Could love be the answer, as the bush
Closes around me.
Once as a rose bud, the sky clear and sunny.
Yet here is snow, melting around her Lips that are full open and pouting, as he Strains to hear word's that she whispers.
He sheds many tear's over the year's,
The wind softly moaning through all the tree's,
Leaves that when green can feel everything.
Come hurry and see, I think she is coming.

Electric Light's

In the rain as I pass by the neon lights call out to me
Do I stop or do I go my girl friends are all like me
We like rich men not little boys who tell their mothers where they're going and what they do.

Now they tell us what to do saying school will cost too much and being young,
who gives a damn, we are tight hard bodied, smart and on the go
Like a sponge I'll take your love.

Making music making rain, electric sights neon lights make me feel like this Swallow this and I will swallow what it takes to make you feel this way are you a man, are you a man or are you what you always were a boy
I won't let us stop until we die.

Modesty

When in having or showing a seemingly moderate, most humble estimate of one's great merits,
and importance, free from ones vanity,
egotism, boastfulness, or greatful pretensions.

When free from ostentation or any showy extravagance.
Can you a modest house,
white washed as new cotton picket fences.

When kind when in having,
or showing a proper regard for the decencies behavior, speech, long fevered press, and desert is best served:
when a modest neckline is not seen on that dress.

A demure young chorus girl.

Not being prudish could suggest an exaggerated, self-conscious proper well fitting form of modesty or propriety in behavior or lacking in conversation when one whom like I, being thought of, as you wish to be thought of, easily shocked and who more often than not is thinkingly tolerant.

Could a prudish objection to a harmless remark thus provoke.

When I am loving you, but you never me.

Bold, but coarse.
Often is the bread, when seeing the greenest sea.

I am but a small,
humble, low, slow and meeker version of thee.

A candel light woman.
Bright camera woman,
and a dream for he, comes true.

Can you not find,
this being this your modest of modest styles today.

Can we not be ostentatious or kind of pretentious without it being unseemingly, not extremely or excessively?

When it is modest and moderate,
decorous and or decent, when coming, I ask this of thee.

Love me and thou be art,
it is most often then, only when found by thee, is modestly.

Keeping due measure of your new found treasure.

It is a concentration of all of your riches, and often one which is considered lost or forgotten
until being, you it is fire, 'rediscovered.

Of fine ripe women and wine, 'not improper or lewd,
Never once considered, a shrew.

'I will, ' therefore, with only thee...

Being that women adorned in themselves is modesty...

When beechen quickened red buds begin then to swell,
And the woods, far off this woman can see.

Being thus when this is, I have written on this page.

The First Emo Serial Killer

The mirror and I am sadly;
has long since told me all it knew.
The weeping between two truths.
How long my parents knew,
is again another story.

Ambiguous genitalia,
and how my feelings now, are for you.
I am not just a simple cut above the rest.
Nor some fancy hunter of the head, brought to you in conjunction with the help of N.P.R. or P.B.S.

I am able now to transfer all of my parents rage into long deep strokes to some one else.
Thinking back to that very first red day, I bathed.
After I found out, they were the second to know.
Males are so much easier.
Closing their eyes, what could they be thinking.

Like a roller coaster goes up and down
a few good times and then right before.
So quick now and efficient am I.
Snip and cut and the skin pulls off.
Bags of fatty yellow marbles, I now collect.
Heavier and heavier does the bag now grow.

Subconsciously how each female and those groans, lost now forever deep to sweet, each bloody sleep.
Tail bone to bottom button.
Episiotomies become easier and easier and as with practice even the toughest sails are rent.
Smiles how they grow and grow.
Ambiguous genitalia, I should have been told.
How one hand holds the bag and all thats between while the other turns a long white skeleton key.

The Sea Wind

There is a peaceful pool by the sea,
Under watching eyes we dare to meet.
Tonight the moon is full it faced my star.
Could it be the night we meet as waves,
Wash off our feet, where lover's meet.

Do you or you know the sea and wind,
When waves and wind both meet?
The sea grass moves aside in equal halves
As through the sand we walk both side by side.
There is no sound that I don't know waist
Deep inside the sea it warms our soul.

In a world of discrimination.
In a world of pain, hate and sorrow.
I hide in their fear.
Their fear is palatable, so much so
In fact,
It can be tasted like the sour taste of the lemon.

Like Bukowski or Keruac I like pissing
In the bushes keeping other dogs at bay.

Finding solence in a smile not meant for me
I smile back.
Have I had a good full life?
That depends on the ignorance of other's.

Have I done regrettable thing's in this life?
Hell no!
I've never ever lied, but I've lived.
Knowledge is my knowing that some won't read what I write.

I have always hated boring people, it's not from being

It's just that they have probably wasted their life.

After She Stopped Came The Rain

After the stop came the rain it felt gentle on me and talking a lot I was not.

Her wandering hands were inside up and down the whole length
looking for what I was cold.

She could have been a man as a cold chill ran part way down my spine.

Some how I thought not to soon to short for her I hoped.
Here where I'm at what ever they want to expose.

Then she was cuffed to the curve in my back being hard from the rain her nipples were.

The sand is cool beneath my feet.

Prefrontal Cortex

All together under developed like in life in some if absent.

The damage can adversely affect the ability of a person, to complete the meanest of tasks that are used to evaluate the prefrontal cortex.

This is not mental illness from a situation of wilfull abuse or is it?

Especially those politicians with little if any moral fiber of ethical nature.

Since the social decisions made in this area of the brain, leaves most unable to identify with them what they call the we, whom suffer from emotional distress, including this irrational fear.

Of minorities and convicted felons being able to vote.

And this causes these people, anxiety, false euphoria, irritability and or continous inappropriate behavior.

Do some research on these people whom can not even kill other people properly.

She the Governor of Oklahoma, blames his crimes as their justification of their torture of him!

And criminals, sociopaths, drug addicts and schizophrenia is a personal dicision they treat lightly or not at all.

Like half of U.S. ask to be abused as a child.

If you break the cycle and spare the rod,

the connection between their mouths and the rest of our brains might in it's self be evidence, of the importanc of this part of the brain they seem to lack when shooting some one else between the eye's.

The Rooster

Do your eyes burn yellow from the sweat?
The stinging thorn of love won't soon forget.
Circled gardens, dreams, seems every path leads back to where you are, from whence I came.

Maintained wife and playboy kids, facebook pets.
Saving men to bleed on desecrated land.
Being born, before I came, was no safe bet.
Overhead a bullet talking, whispers it's a dream.

Here they come to give up more not ever less.
Hear I am, that rooster others came to crush.
And they have sown and they have sown, enough.

Here Comes Her Lover And He's Gay

When is it fun and a game, or is it her's insane.
just to keep milking it.
The way,
you do it now.

Look at your hands.
warm and slippery.
Yellow and dripping so wet.
and ever growing more he is told.

You're fevered and glowing.
All of your faces are so red.
Rejected by him at the prom.
and him by all of you.
Ruffies put by you, in his milk.
He does not drink,
what you might think he thought you drank.
He is good like milk.
And loved by all,
by you and by most as he should.

She looks at him now.
Passed out cold.
So how can you now.
Why did you,
and all your friends.
You and the other one
she squeezes,
the brown paper bag.

When one is coming up each flight of stairs
the mother's always coming down.
And all of you giggle and sigh.

And all of that spilled milk.
Milk all that sweet milk.
Looking around you it is every where.

It's on your faces,
on your hands.
Yellow are those blouses you changed and your skirts, are soaked as well.

Deep asleep, like a babe.
and yes you were them knowing,
Now he comes awake again.
And you know by now,
he's in your grip of pain.
And no one seems to care.

Here comes a lover,
that none of you knew.
that a hunk like him
like you could be 'gay'.

And you didn't know, that all the ones that you want like he are, 'always gay.
Feeding him all of those ruffies,
like the three of you just did.

You have done in the past.
like all the ones who,
come to school
and brag, 'the next day, with out any memory
of those nights of the past.
While you keep,
all of those pictures as proof of your skills.

What do all you think of your hot selves now.

And even more so vainly now.
As he lays on your couch,
deep fast in rem sleep.
alive in your hands
you moving it right now.
Here comes, his lover and she is gay.

K-Y.....Delicious person wherein, I dwell.ear's where prior Tennant's, using the Key that they left with,
Tdo come inside in the darkest of night's.
To steal what they could steal, while I was dead asleep,
Due to my psychotropic medications that I took.
Sometimes I would come awake and here someone inside,
The fear was palatable, the fear you could taste,
Other times I would wake in the morning to find my laptop
Or Kindle fire stolen from my room while I slept.
Each Tennant that they moved in was of course mentally ill,
Few paid their rent, while other's were evicted.

Here at my mother's,
Where I have lived for seven weeks, I have lost already Fifteen pound's.
My half brother, Robert has lived here nearly fifteen years,
Has paid no rent and has stolen from our mother to support
His thirty five year old crack habit.

He this morning invaded the space where I sleep ranting
And raving,
Having now had no crack for two days.
She my mother and I are on disability and when adult protective Come she lies to cover such evil up.
Having stolen all and anything of value to buy his crack.

My sixteen year old niece whom with her mother moved out
After having tried
To get a restraining order against him to protect themselves
And my mother who is eighty one.

Yesterday I asked my niece how she indured living here for Her intire life?
She said that the screaming and yelling from him on mornings
Like today,
Has in the past had given her thoughts of putting antifreeze
In his Gatorade,
Before leaving to work where all that he earned
Was spent on crack.

Hopelessness in this fear one can taste and the taste makes
My stomach sour,
Waiting for an act of violence to break out.
This taste of fear.

The Bone

It's not the meat around it,
Dog's don't complain.
Why does God?

Psychopaths need the meat because
The liar won't.
In the barn she hefts it not having A scale.

A river runs through it, along the Bush covered bank,
Hidden by trees that completely Cover it.

Daffodils in bloom, bleeding white sap.
Expectations say, turn away from it.
You peak through the hedges all the green
Leaves in the mist like the tongue
Sticky stuck sticks right to it.

Hypocrites die due to bad luck, look
What you did while making my bed.
Could it possibly be where we are born,
Hiding our heads, while the river runs Through it.

Fall upon the ground,
I think it's time that I turned back
The woods are dark and deep.

Cheeks as high as the sky and her neck,
Is as long as a river heading out to sea.

High arched feet with small perfect toes.
And tastes as an apple and sometimes a peach.

such implied there in her favor.

And being left off distant of, but near to her, I thus became.
Whose teeth that flashed, when in the sun as she did show them.
I was drawn inside
to sweet each breath she 'made', as it was
temporary, I inhaled with each profound look, I rediscovered.
Lost then finally found within, dark caves of sound,
so deep,
and smooth, so rich and throaty, singing music all the time.
Never ravaged but by scotch and time and filtered cigarettes.
Though detached always above, I look again below, such is her undulation, visitation, invisible muscles, 'I' see them moving.
All the time,

Young a woman; on the beach 'she' hurries past us saying,
drawing briefly it aside a red and white, checkered bandanna.
Made it 'said' in 'Kansas' hot a sweating mask, I look beyond her.
Bronzed this body made, I think of poesies, confusing she with her.

'If your woman and the Mister' (wish to take it to the ocean,
does the lady and the Mister)wish to wash it lightly off?
One day in time a grain of sand and foam, 'she did - politely ask '
I decided when next his lightning bolt, when it hit could not be stopped,
certain repercussions of those acute remarks, might thus be lost.
She with her and I, this afternoon could still be, with some help be salvaged.

I concentrated on both, by my seat a well of deep intentions.
With a careful, deeper why, I trust my mind, too find consensus.
Kept thus safe this time, inside I've grown to know, to ponder why.
Wistful is for she/her much and subtle for my this, could be her double.

Once was I, of kind like mind, a person drifts some times so far away,
pulled out of life just like before,
and washed amongst the rocks and foam the wind it blows away.

What By Thee Have I Incurred

As for wine stained habits of each woman loudly another in the night called out.
Stones in hand, well worn and smooth as so many monastery leader, of thine sun flowered majority.
Standing up,
looking out/in the window' of the nuns of woman monastery.
Thus called together; As for me all you want what? "
Your one of the other inside each, must I say, hold fast
'that it is the whereabouts of another and I am through you made unclear.
My vision is blurry,
what by thou, must I now for your sake, endure?
She began from her important heated declaration,
there is a priest "inside sisters us, here me, 'us'
Among them loose is our place now, how many?

Bushes And Leaves

Dark and deep and they said that we only must,
But few do.

Green are the leaves on her bush, the moon is full,
For me it's just a dream.

What I was, what I am, you are to me, I grow larger every day Waiting patiently for night to come so I can once again sleep and Dream the same dream that I dream every night.

You smile.

We Are The Captain Of Our Soul's

No matter what no matter where, needn't we be there?
The cries we hear each night in sleep are those we
We hear and fear!

Oh captain of my soul I am your mate, oh captain
You forgave our misspent year's!
For it's my fear that I must face alone, for you Must take the wheel and bring us home.

Hard Reality

In a wood that's lush and deep and green I sat,
Looking at a path that leads from left to right.
A single lonely figure that was I, and here the fog
Was moist and warm and white.
Beneath her dress the hem was cold the ice
Around her bush.
The leaves were gone and none were green or even Brown that could be by us seen.
It once was grassy green the water flowed but now is stilled.
Both day and night and mornings mist,
The evenings equaled stayed until the moon
Rose high and full.
Two paths lay here in the past, a book that's Read by all.

Life Culture And Our Religious Belief's

Enforcement of religious rules where you now live,
Is this something you are comfortable talking about?
Forced to pray every day to a God, whom some few,
Thousands of years ago was an extraterrestrial being!
Forcing you to feel, see and say what they want you
To say, upon pain of death that your life is cheap to them.

I understand your situation is at the very least one Of deep concern and that your survival and that of your Children are of Paramount concern to you.
I can't apologize for this a life here on Earth that You in all fairness should have had.

I have seen all of your good decent thoughts in your lives,
And those of you,
Whom have tried to be decent and good to those total
Stranger's that now live in house's around you.
Being aware of your circumstances, being aware of those Whom are unaware and forgiving those whom have left
You and your family there on the brink of life and death.
And accepting a life that for other's you would make better
If left to your own devices that some religion's, Won't allow you to really live.

James McLain

Defeating Death

Would you if you could give up your God's,
If you look old then youth to death you gave away.
Look to he or she that at the end of life when science Stopped in,
And intervened to live beyond a life too short because
Of death all that was you that went away.
Dylan Thomas went in the end, to where he's at and Cannot find the river where we swim in and that is what We are, that's forever gone away.
Would you and you not wish to get it back and start again
To leave a mark on mind and soul?
Old age has left its mark on all the rich and poor to Suffering how you did before you went away!
So fight the dark live the good life but people are the way
They are, our life when done, this gift we gave away.

And I Ask Of You

Of you I ask and is it true?
That love when blind will pass.
Lead me not far off,
A rose no longer red or white is Yellow now.

I gave thanks for what was mine,
And now look back.
Knowing where you are and how it tastes.
And I ask of you again of you I ask,
Once before the door is closed.

Algorithms Interface And Your Children

What is the source of authority,
Is it your God?
How do you know that it feels good if you lie or claim
That you never did it.
Your new God is data, phones and the servers,
It comes along with baggage.
You are now no longer what you once we're, are you?
Google and Facebook are now raising your children,
Soon they will be but one of the billions
Of algorithms as you loose those you love to the net.
And if you hold them back they will turn on you,
As they can no longer get all that they need from from you.

There Are Many Extraterrestrials Races On The Earth

There are over a dozen identified so far on our planet alone.
Most want the people on Earth to see them but
Our Government's due to the technology involved
Want them to remain hidden.
Antarctica,
The many different races wanted to let you know.
That humanity has driven half of all life into extinction,
In the last two hundred years.
They no longer care that humanity has seriously damaged
The planet,
As the planet can heal itself if humanity is finally gone.
What they won't tolerate is the use of nuclear weapons,
On the planet as this would render the planet useless for Thousands of years.
They've directed comets and asteroids towards Earth in the past,
And can easily do it again.

Do Not Go Into That Bright Light

Do no go into that bright light that waits.
For all whom cross that finish line and start
This life again.
Yes it burns,
It becomes us our hands we then hold out.
Be not bitter thus because we waited for the youth
That passed us by to know it once again.
Enlightenment if you avoid the light against the drop
No shadows left against the wall.
To know that if the light's ignored, the speed of Thought shall take you out to where most wish to go.
From here to the edge to the other side, you reached from such An instant thought and not the speed of light.

Waiting But For You

Do you hear the bell that I as well could hear?
And laying there beside me here, my love, your heart is dear.
So I say that all is well of life and youth and death it knows,
The times that we both had.
And blind I'm not because your out of sight Waiting but for you I know your near,
And on seeing you again I'll know for us that all is well.

Green limbs a though in dreams
A belt around her waist.

Appear upon her walls.

May Your Next Life Be Better Than This One

Here in this dream state life is not real,
Crossing over while deep in sleep.
Every one here when reading of this has at one point
In their life has once said,
I would not come again to repeat this life again
Because,
My next life could be worse than the one I live now.
This container that is me with a soul, embodied again
Crossing over to where you know not.

Out Beyond Death

Out beyond death right or wrong,
Wait at the edge, I will meet you there.

Where we meet there you will find,
Here is where each soul has found there new container.
Love, contentment the wise here all seek,
Empty the dark minus the spark, hoping they change.

Frozen light is love the choice is yours,
And the dark unfolds upon it's self to reach inside the test.
As more arrive than leave some come without a soul,
And he and she do good and do not age.
To young and fresh where all are nice and do not ever die,
Being born again to start off where we left.

Narrow Peaks Deep Valleys And Whores

No, it's what I now choose, Thinking less nor often more watching the Hospitable get drunk.
It's mostly flat in Florida, Tampa is and was.
Pillow talk went out when beer for liquor I switched,
Switching on or off like a switch.
Getting drunk I invite the whores here in, they used to be
As common as leaves on a tree.
Flatlanders, the ocean and breeze, unable to sell my last only lie,
To drunk to see how to remove her bra in lean time's.
She is as drunk as me and sucks on her straw until the sun Comes up while I'm asleep.
And I think too of old women, sick of life as death knows before hand
Who's to young to drink from that cup of life.
I am sure I have seen you here, these same men to old to see you look around and see that I'm no longer here, to that I say Amen.

To The Young Their Dreams Deferred

Dreams, dreams I have forgotten.
Dreams no longer touched, dreams that I no longer
Have, nor posse the will to touch.
Dreams like mine that I once had are
Now but for the young.
One single rose that slowly grew between
My dream and I.
That a boy or girl still have eyes to see with dreams
They still can touch.
The sun is now too hot and bright my eyes yes even Now as I am looking back, flowing tears in my old age these eye's.
Around me and above me,
Down and deep below me to break from the cold dark, as I even now
Sleep in the arms of the sDreams, dreams I have forgotten.
Dreams no longer touched, dreams that I no longer
Have, nor posse the will to touch.
Dreams like mine that I once had are
Now but for the young.
One single rose that slowly grew between
My dream and I.
That a boy or girl still have eyes to see with dreams
They still can touch.
The sun is now too hot and bright my eyes yes even Now as I look back, growing tears in my old age these eye's.
Around and above me,
Down and below me to break from the dark, as I even now
Sleep in the arms of my dark cold shadow.
Looking through my misty window and there once was my dream
And how small the flame here burns one candle small.
Looking through my misty window and there once was my dream
And how small the flame here burns one candle small.

A Friend Is The Sea Each Night

The sea is my comfort and friend

Soft is the sand as the wind

I Have Grown Older

Dreams, dreams forgotten,
Dreams no longer touched, I no longer
Have nor posse the will to touch.
Dreams like mine that I once had are Now for the young.
One single rose that slowly grew between
Me and my dream,
That a woman still has shading my eyes
The sun is too bright stinging my eyes yes even Now as I look back wiping the tears from my old eye's.
Around and above me,
Down and below me to break from the dark I now
Sleep in the shadows.
Look through my window there once was my dream
And how small the flame here burns one candle small.

Pole To Pole

In the dark of night at the speed of light from edge to edge.
Such beings can stretch out of sight from side to side.
Knowing now what they now know leaves this our God,
A flock asleep when sheep we numbered are.
White feathers cover,
Countless star's each pin of light is flowing down that wraps
Us in his misty colored veil.

Decades pass,
A child arrives and dreams of futures not of future's past.
Men and women,
Wait for them in beds that shadows cast their hearts are dark,
And black.
From one such child,
That has escaped and good his heart this light is seen as being bent
From north to south and felt from pole to pole.

Wildwood # 7 & Meth

When a total stranger is moved Into my room,
Before I ask them if they used Meth, I look at their teeth
And they then lie,
But their teeth always gives them away.

Confessional Poetry &

It is a hard thing to write
The things that you do,
To influence a life that's not yours.

What did I want?
I only wanted her so I got her.
Not even a priest especially a priest
Wants to go to heaven a virgin.

Mine didn't so does the boy stay a virgin?
Who even has the audacity to bring it Back up,
The girls that live in that trailer?

Confessions don't change, unless,
It has changed before Sunday.

Wildwood # 6 The Lip

She put the hot end of the crack pipe
In her mouth,
Naturally it became infected,
Henceforth she is known as the lip.

A twelve year old mind in a grown mature body,
Who grinds up against me when ever I See her.

She is a double negative,
I mean what's a bad place
Like this doing in a bad girl like her.

She whispered in my ear
As she squeezes it Even olden like you need
To get your thoughts off it.

Wildwood # 5

Shannon is gone, but not until after the flies had gorged themselves,
On the red spot as previously stated in Wildwood # 4.
Charlie is next and is dying and cannot but barely do the things that Most of you take for granted.

He defecates on himself on a regular basis,
Smell's of fish long since dead and wherever he sits he leaves a smear
Of pungent shit,
That the blow flies roll around in and then try to find entry intoxicated
On what they ate being full and are then slow flying.

Charlie should have long since been placed in one of Florida's decrepit
A.L.F.s
That are well known for underpaid employees whom are of the sort where An unbiased opinion is that one gets what one pays for.
Being of course leaps and bounds ahead of how Wildwood is run.

If Charlie was a plane he has long since crashed as far as his mind goes.
But hey guess what he gets a check until death does it part from those whom Collect it and on the first and the third Most are awakened at two in the morning before they can leave to by drug's and alcohol.

Law enforcement came less than a month ago and collected from them their Computer's and files,
I'm certain they think that there is money laundering going on and with nothing to gain
I'm beginning to think that as well.

James McLain

Wildwood # 4

Placed in the getto by my case worker that I once Thought my friend.
Isolation was my life at my age, near the end.
Forced interaction with people whom steal, living in fear
While they take my whole check.

My door won't even close so I can have the illusion of safety.
As one room mate threatened the other with a large butcher knife,
This happened before with the same mental health agency.

Graft and corruption by they whom run it, it being here,
And one staff member whom yells at the one's traumatized and Abused before they ever came here.
Half of the homeless are they whom I speak of, nothing cerebral
About all whom would own us.

confessional poetry,
Is the hardest to write, when one must feel shame in the words that one writes and I do.

The flies found her moist red spot as,
Shannon had her period today and didn't use a tampon, Shannon has had several children and all have been taken from her.
Her mental health has deteriorated in the short time she's been here, they get her check.

Verily the path to quick wealth must lead the corrupt into poverty,
And of those unable to speak thus are yelled at.
While those here like me show compassion to they most in need.

Wildwood # 3

Sarah has wandered off again, today it is raining,
The flies are bad.

This dream if a dream it is, is just as bad so I look back at night,
As if today it is.

Some wet brain homeless man last night tried to blow up
His room next door to me, but now he's gone.

Gone as does the mist that hides the sea and white foamed waves
That have long since a blanket wet have covered me.

Around the door that's not a house the ground is full of phlegm,
The kind that flies can walk across as he once did.

Wildwood # 2

Someone else died the other night, there's a ghost in my room.
Of course the homeless stream in and out of Wildwood, most stay
Right up until they have to leave,
Some pay the exorbitant rent the majority leave to spend their check's
On drugs.
Sarah wanders in and out it is difficult keeping track of her, one so Young, it is sad, it's said that if she continues to wander off that she will be Sent to the state hospital where over seventy six thousand human beings
Have died since it opened just after the war between the states.
She reminds me of Karen Carpender that's if she lives that long.

Wildwood # 1

Is a secret dark place in southern Saint Petersburg.
In a dark cave weary and weak of life some are.
From the streets to here rabid like dog's the one's traumatized Shake from the noise trapped in a dream most are.
Wildwood like an ant hill those at the top want out, we are sausage's
In the hands of a cook slaving day in and day out.
Some time's the noise comes, like a plane crash where like cord wood
The weak succumb to their weakness.
Drug's and alcohol from the mirror the seas are not close though
He whom can, will rise to the the crash of the wave's.
Yeah though we do we do not, verily one hears through the year's, the beat
Of each heart the hearts of the young and the old.
Thus few know and in knowing each story and verse to each line if it's just,
Like the tune to each winter's song.
But for now Summer's here and it's unbearably hot for me and the flies are A blight to the flesh.
It is to soon much to soon to name the name of the show, religion like men Certainly woman are.
In the blink of an eye crossing an unbridged river he does the voice's say, Long ago Deadwood was and wild but free just as Wildwood is.

Lost In The Mist Is The Sea

Where as I am,
The wind on your skin and your hair.
The look in her gaze, the feel of his hand,
Whirlwind the clouds, the moon when it's full
Looking down.
Now the sea each season I miss,
Lost in the mist the wind blowing foam white
On my face,
The sand underfoot each grain that I feel
As soft as the rain on my face.
Lost in the mist, lost from sight though you see.
Lost in the mist is the sea.

What Ever Love Thought We

Whatever love thought We

As it is cognizant in behavior,
You have seen.
Even for some after life that has stopped I say Hello and good by.

If it is the length of a ship, just short of a mast set to sail,
And the bottom, the end to start over again, is not for you to see.
As if it she were smoked and smell's of smoke loved by him,
That you once in life see but not in this life again.

If the either under in the dark things of your path
That if walked the sea again.
Would cling unto you as if right before noon the moon
Is white and full.

Purgatorry that place somewhere are colors glowing
Who they really aren't but are it stays full.
The other side of the room is like the moon it really is Mixed inside, you really then.

Pricking the fog inside of your head at night when
Your deep in sleep, still I see that it is not you.
Faces sleeping looking into the eye's others caught,
And upon waking trying to remember your face I can not.

James McLain

Anthony Bourdain 1956 - 2018

What did he see that we have all missed?

The liquor he drank or the food that he ate and his moods!

Eloquently were the words being the wordsmith he was, verbal

His pictures of you in his head.

Empathy for you and you and I some he would meet, no heart

They are dead, non-empathic without a soul, knowing at first glance,

Still he would say.

Beautiful people, beautiful day's, beautiful countries, places we'd stay.

Due to our very short life spans that Govern the wisdom and accumulated knowledge all that we learn,

No matter now how hard that we try we no one person can learn it all.

How many beats a seat at a bar,

Counting the seats each beat of one's heart one can't know, the knowledge

Of our death can never be known.

Such knowledge of this would change everything the few the pure would say

No to this, he would like.

On a Seattle bathroom wall I read,

When having grown older than youth and having survived, I now realize,

after reaching the penticle of success there is no up anymore there's only

Paying your karmatic bill and then checking out.

James McLain

Suicide Is An Option And Why

My depression is as deep and dark and many mile's wide,
As the oceans I've swam, where other's have simply just died.
A little about the mental health professional people I've met
And yes I still see, Cannot offer to me a safe stable place where
I can live and be free.
Are those like me not worth the investment it takes,
To save these lives in need.
Or let us die and be collected like garbage to be cremated,
Out of sight of thee, as though we were never seen.

Free from threat's, free from harm and from those whom yell
That cause me to shake, where my memory then flees from me.
Some of us need less, other's need more as I am
One of the unfortunate less from me they expect more.

When in talking to them about any of this,
Keeps me under constant threat of being Baker acted.
Leaving me worse off after being released with Nothing and no where to go.

Worse than that there's nothing left here for me to see!
When being honest about the trauma I've faced Trauma that other's have faced, trauma they couldn't endure.
Sarah Teasdale, James McLain,
Beyond hope, beyond life and your pity will send me off,
Beyond the dark sky
Out of reach of the light in this hopeless life were you live.

Hang on they say, hang on, while
All here around us other's are leaving now, having it all
Did not to them make any significant difference when if living
My life, I should have left this wretched life much sooner.

So to you I would say that in respect to me, the sky
Is too large and surrounded the dark yes the dark has fallen on me.
Am I a coward for staying too long, I hear the bell tolling my life,
Yes it is ringing for me.

One life is all I repeatedly hear that one and all shall have.
Here alive to live with, what the church and their sins I've endured.
Society has now seen that the suicide rate reflects
Their lack of values on those human beings just like me.
The sky is dark a reflection of me, my sky is dark a reflection on me.

My new case worker took me again to,
Where they want me to live, With people who have harmed a child,
That some will do again, I would just rather man up and let this life go.
Because there's no one whom cares about me.

James McLain

Gentle Death And Sleep

Each night of sleep is long and more oft deep,
Sunrise is short and bitter all to sweet.
That every king,
Has sought to keep and while dreaming
Know to well.

Yes we fear each night will be the last,
And face each night not knowing what it brings.
Dreaming that we ride the growing wave of time,
That brings us back to our familiar shore.

Lip's that move no more our tongue can't speak,
And words we did not write we cannot read.
Mighty is the eight none yet can bend and see behind
A future not yet made.

Never growing old,
The future out of reach and relived in all our pasts.
Gentle death is not to kind to those afraid to live,
Who never loved while once alive while but a host.

Love Can Conquer All

If not but for a year then but one day,
To see the setting sun and last rising of the moon
In just one day.
Have you seen the flash that's green and the moon
So large it's red or blue.
Love can be this way to have loved at all,
Than a life where one is old and to never loved at all.
Her profile when her head is turned, her eyes upon
His face when he is looking far away and what it is he has.
Love that's easy fades away, like a cloud that drops no rain,
His hand that moves across her face to catch a falling tear that's Made of grace.
If not but for a year then but one day,
The knowledge that's not free but free with age.
His compassion for the low that built the rock upon
Upon this Earth he gave away.
Verily then if but not for a year thus but one day.
Love has conquered all.

I Am In Need Of Your Love

I was born in the open, hidden in the clouds,
A shadow on the wall, closer to it all,
I came from snow.
To her the one I speak who tried to pry me loose,
Try once again.
I have lived without a woman's love for far too long,
I am in need.
A confession without priests, the moon and stars,
A bush without green leaves I pressed upon, is like
The tree you once did know and leaned to learn.
Hidden in the clouds, a shadow on your wall,
I came from snow, I am afraid.
To her the one I speak come and try again and I will Listen to your words inside your world.
I have lived without a woman's love for far too long,
I am in need.

Before school,
Living in darkness, blood and filth.
Screaming and yelling, back and forth,
The parents do.
Then comes cutting, medications and
Like the seed that springs up other mental health Problems rear their dark ugly head's.

And you live in denial and or perpetuate
This cycle again, this your pain must be passed
On to your children.
Such as evil seen and heard in the very voice
Overheard by other's but ignored.

And in the head's of the parents I can see at night
When I leave my head and enter the other's through my dreams.
Their dreams are ugly filled with joy,
Getting rid of your children by sending them to school.
And for some, tragedy starts and the mirror of their parents,
Shines forth and must be hidden in our jail's and prison's.

Higher Grammatical Complexity

Grammatical complexity the young must have,
To coexist with their immortality.
The young nimble mind, the mind that swells as Would a wave that crashes upon your rocky shore.

Teach them no profanity, teach them well, give unto them
Your religious book to learn from and dwell not on beliefs.
A dictionary and encouragement, discipline and self control,
And do not show them death for death's sake to make them hard.

Born from darkness the consciousness a bright light in the womb,
May have arrived just recently, due to death knows before.
Around the Aged thus bring them early-life for life to know as the Aged in passing know to whence they go.

Grammatical complexity of the seven, three and one, discernment Grows, starve them not of knowledge, knowledge of and is.
Your own personal sacrifice,
To feed them what they need, not what they want and one in ten,
Then will grow greater than you have or've been or we're.

Religion And Science

Do you believe, believe in a higher intelligence than We currently possess?
That intelligence that most living today would call God!
Set backs in the past that have been caused by man's Inability to evolve with their technical advancement of these Long lost past times?
So many watch, watching what we do now with what we Now currently have.
Long walking amongst us guided by what they have seen happen
To those not unlike us,
Refusing to intellectually evolve past those few who now control
U.S. the all.
People whom cannot yet be entrusted with the ability to destroy
Our habitat and convince those who amongst us that would believe That an apple is a banana by merely being told that it is.
If an apple is what a banana is not,
Faithfully knowing,
That both are, such as the moon and the planets are, then you are
In possession of knowing from birth intuitively the difference and impact
Of why their must be religion and what science and those few mind's Are then capable of.

If Not But For A Year Then But One Day

If not but for a year then but one day,
To see the setting sun and last rising of the moon
In just one day.
Have you seen the flash that's green and the moon
So large it's red or blue.
Love can be this way to have loved at all,
Than a life where one is old and to never loved at all.
Her profile when her head is turned, her eyes upon
His face when he is looking far away and what it is he has.
Love that's easy fades away, like a cloud that drops no rain,
His hand that moves across her face to catch a falling tear that's Made of grace.
If not but for a year then but one day,
The knowledge that's not free but free with age.
His compassion for the low that built the rock upon
Upon this Earth he gave away.
Verily then if but not for a year thus but one day.
Love has conquered all.

The Sweet Hereafter

As I lay here sleeping not yet quite awake,
They the great poets pass by me and some not all Come in and speak as they shake me.

Some left a mark in their hurried lives, perhaps Blessed with the gift that gave them insight,
That time would grow short, that winter's arrived.

God's children we all once we're, covered in dew
Like fresh hay, uncut left in the Meadows.
Who left their mark, who left something behind?
Will your name be remembered for being generous and kind?

As I lay sleeping, the great hereafter uncluttered and full,
Filled with candle's the light burning from both ends.
My greastest worry having never of met them, will they
When they meet me, welcome me home or send me out forth
To great you my brethren.

Why We All Must Wear Masks

The mask to deceive those whom we can,
Hiding our eyes from the mirror inside of our soul's.
Evil within, without the mask is exposed,
He or she can then hide behind Satan's face a face
People wear.

The mask some wear at a grave laid rest
In sight, to shed no tears or signs of grief, one must Be brave.
Let us be judged on what we wear beneath the mask
And see them watch us as their watched as well.

The frown a smile the smile a frown, beneath our cries Go unheard.
Unashamed amazing Grace is sung the dirt is vile and Vile we sing a humble song a song that in which we hide.
And miles to walk he said before we sleep and dream
A dream where what once was may then in sleep be other wise.

Death Is The End For Us All

Death is everything to all
It is always near, never that far out of reach.
Some see death as their friend,
Never your friend, never to kind, hands held out
To the weak.

Indifferent to all death is,
Never a frown, never a smile, seeking A way to get in.
Neither female nor male, gay or straight
Black or white.

Some will take great risks with their lives
And think they have cheated death.
Some have taken no risks and die at school,
Hit by a drunk,
Shot by a cop and by thier own hand will die
Death's never sad.

Death is life,
Living life death is the shadow all fear.
And those who make claim,
To be unafraid, are the people that death seeks out.

Death never gets sick, death has no sick twists,
Pray all you want, call on God if you must.
An extension from death with this knowledge you trust,
Death is the end for us all.

The Change

Preevolved thus at birth one will always come,
To change what is now, that should never have been.
One child looks into and speaks from the mirror,
To see what is there, in and of your reflections.
Youth to the young, old said they are ugly,
In a visit with age
And the smell that they taste, the taste that they see.
Thus a bush that bear's fruit, fruit to the eye
Is there before you not ever seen.
Verily thus at birth when one of them comes,
It's like the snow, in the clouds, falling not rain.
She whom is blind, he cannot see, though deep
In the woods amongst the tallest of trees.
And all the words written that none can read,
From the small number of books, already written.
As the dust of the earth drifts through each hand,
The mind's of the now must be willing to change.

You Will Forget Me

When you forget me and in the future
I am gone.

So much was by us both left unsaid
Neither of us said,
And the root of most regrets are thoughts
In words unspoken said.

When eye's are closed and dreams no more,
And how this is the living know, but through the hopes
Of millions more if their thoughts expressed.

If in life a little more each day our love
Grows dim from lack of want,
And you stop loving me though I'm still me.

Do not leave me for no one you've not met,
In your favorite spot is where I'll sit and watch
Your face for hints of what's to come.

The wind won't cease to blow the leaves will Always fall,
And love like arrows pierced my heart each night
Once both we had.

Love is not a thought, thought long and hard,
A day, a month, a year flies quickly by.
I felt once as one with thee and you again with me.
A flower sweet you are, a bud a rose, a bush Through woods that are dark and deep where We could love and not be seen.
and as long as you live, your love will give me life without love leaving mine.
When you my love still struggle on forget me.

By The Sea

Come out, come out of the yellow thick snow
Where I am.

High in the sky the yellow warm sun
Felt on your face in deep sleep.

Be not bitter, be not as hard as the tree,
Each bush filled with joy,
Surrounded by leaves, without the sharp
Thorns, full and green.

Hear me, feel me and hurry come out,
Here by the sea,
The sea that we loved where the path takes
Us down to be cleaned.

Washed in the waves next to the place,
Over the dune's where we meet.

To The Blind That Are Dreaming

Before I was blind there were dreams.
But seeing my dreams
before I could see, depended
on how much you could really see.

Blind before birth,
and what you have asked of me.
Having my, our, hearing dreams-
your perception
is sound, sound that is seen;
left more unsaid about me.

I still see to see in my dreams
as one
where I'm still alive.

What they must contain,
the colors within.
and sound, I can feel: taste
and touch.

To remember one dream
that one special dream, I still dream
when awake I can see,
when my wife I first met
and how she will look forever.

Panties

and i showed her where they show.

i ask her how they work.

she said they would not fit.

i ask her why?

each package was not made too see like treats.

she 'said'.

i 'said' but on the beach.

i see the ground undergrowth

but then again i don't.

she 'said' the undergrowth is why you came,

don't you watch the Gardner

clip the bushes, over there.

but all i see at the beach are miles and miles of trees.

i see her panties, every day at school.

and laughing,

when i look she shows me more.

I Did Not Love You Because Except That I Loved You

Because I love you without some who'd
Make exceptions,
Because you picked me and not them, now I know
That you love me.
And however, how long either has waited,
My body like yours burns as the fire.

Watching you dance not having been taught Tightens your hold,
And does not a bush filled with green leaves
Grow even more colder,
Not being surrounded as such a tall tree.

Time changes all, time has changed me
Your key to my heart,
As does a circle in the middle of the storm.

Living our lives, living as one, you have your story
Both loved as one,
And I will die early for smoking Iike some.

I have long loved you, knowing you were the one
And will hate leaving,
Having left you behind while plainly knowing my friend,
Came as the snow
On a cold winter's day even after I'm gone
I did not love you because, except that I loved you.

The Soulless Sea

The soulless sea and all the madness
That is there.
The waves of foam that hides each Face,
No one's seems to care.

The shorelines made of jagged rock it's Driven by the wind,
Sprayed, the foam is everywhere.
The Soulless sea of death can't hold them back,
Dark and deep,

Each soul it claims, no mercy for the poorest
Of the poor,
This sea it has no name.

Lightning shows just right before the madness
On each face the sea has claimed.
The screaming wind has covered up each the soul
That madness made.
Over up just yonder past each soul the sea has claimed.

As I Grow Older

Dreams in my youth I had them,
Forgotten now in age.
And those whoms dreams, went Unrealized, there dreams they had for me.

Like the morning sun, bright and yellow
And at night,
The dark could show to me the star's.
Yet the moon it seemed to me,
It rose and set just you and out of reach.

And like most whom had these dreams
Awake, between my sleep.
In sleep my dreams I had in sleep seemed
As close as dreams could come.
Between me and my dream.

So I look back and it looks back at me, no longer
Dark no longer light, I'm cought here in between.
I started out no older than a man, now as a child,
As I grow older now like you, I can't remember how.

Certain Flaws

When that certain thought comes in
In coming, I retreat.
I lean against a reef it's six feet tall,
And feel as if I wasn't there at all,
My words in life in shame have paid no bills.
I finish without starting,
Having left undignified their precious game.
And if I come again,
From wence I left to know my name, to Know it not.

This Subject Concerns Me

I came in,
With the light wrapped around me
No one could see me, as white dove's
Fly high above me.

I go out,
In the dark it surrounds me
Now they can see me, as those whom Once loved me,
To speak with the next one, who'll
Come back behind me.

MY GOOD FRIEND,

I must thank you once again for your humble reply to my mail. I really appreciate it so much and i am very happy to read from you, well from your respond I'm convinced that the future has a special place for us, if only we could trust each other and also be honest and faithful to each other

Like i told you earlier, i was looking forward to accomplish a particular mission, which my "ex" husband was unlucky to achieve with me, I think with the little you have told me about you, it would be very wise to disclose this secret to you and also tell you my aim and plan. Because it would be of mutual benefit to us and maybe you could be the right person to utilize the opportunity with me, because i believe our knowing each other is the way of God have destiny it

Remember i told you i am an Auditor of my bank and also the Chief of the International Relation Foreign Remittance Unit. Prior to my position here at my bank, i have the opportunity to loot out some amount of money of a deceased customer, whose autopsy result showed that he died as a result of gun shorts by unknown gunmen. As i was her personal accountant officer, before he died and from the account opening records, he did not indicate anybody as his beneficiary next of kin. Since 2008 to date, nobody has come forward as his beneficiary next of kin to administer the fund. The amount in question is the total sum of $: 14.500,000. (Fourteen Million Five Hundred Thousand USD) .

I can provide all the required legal papers from the British Court to present you as the legal beneficiary to these funds if you would accept to partner with me in this deal. A lot of abandoned money lay around in this bank as a result of abandoned bank accounts, stock holdings, unclaimed life insurance pay-outs and forgotten pension benefits. I will definitely give you comprehensive details on how we would achieve this legally, without going against the laws of the country. Once you reply to me indicating your interest to work with me. I have worked with the bank for several years and have taken time to study the British inheritance claims procedures. I would appreciate it if you would treat this issue with every bit of confidentiality and maturity, putting my integrity foremost, because i wouldn't need any mistakes or regrets. I assure you that you will never regret it if you would take the bold step to partner with me in this deal. It would be wise if we make every effort not to loose this golden opportunity. This happens in every bank around the world, even in your own country, but people outside the banking industry do not know this.

The fund will be shared at the ratio of 58% for me,40% for you and 2% will be set aside to cover any expenses and tax in your bank, We will use the fund there in your home country to build companies and for investment which both of us would manage, Please this is an honest request for you and i. i only plead for you to make this transaction a top secret because we do not have to trust anybody unless you and i alone.

Advice To A Young Boy

Though her lip's be full
Green leaves
Being a boy not a man
There is time
Though her hands are
As soft as silk
Go to the well in your yard
Young and full with truth
Words from her mouth
Burn as fire
And ice in her breast's
Young, my lad
There is no desire like waiting
A friend to you
When your alone and you think Lad it's only advice to a boy

Simple Man

Mama's Gone, I've lost my friend
She ran the race oh yeah, she fought the fight
Now mama's gone, I've never seen my dad
She never spoke a single bad word,
In her whole life"

I knew she knew,
I lived fast and perhaps a bit to loose
And of all the smiling women who'd break my heart Caught up in each song, she'd speak of God"

So if you can, mama said be kind to your fellow man
Be kind to all the women who'd hold your hand
Mama's gone, her pictures on the wall above my bed
And I won't be what other's need me to be"

Love and happiness, satisfaction, hope you understand
And never lust after women who have men
Read the good book, PoemHunter.com
And what it means to those who are wiser still"

Mama's gone now and boy so yes I will Remember that money is the root of all that's bad
And their are women who'd take that root Mama's gone and her song has made us strong"

Why Do Some Poets Stay Hidden

Why do some poets stay hidden?
Restraining orders aren't good are they,
To those with evil in their hearts.
And sometimes the very act of getting one,
Sends the other right over the edge.
Usually those that stay hidden are not Mentally defective, with OCD or wrestle with Issues of power and control.
When lip's move, the ear duct closes and the Filter from mouth through the brain is missing.
I sometimes think that some here are from a country,
Where if discovered they are killed, but I doubt it.
Do you perhaps have a family member that can never Be quiet, mouth always running.
Hot air expelled from the mouth, while the toilet they Sit on sucks your insides out,
Thinking on this makes me think that I digress.
Wondering why some poets stay hidden.

I Remember

By the time I was twelve she assumed
It has not been eaten,
Eaten by those whom liked to eat.
As soft and as pliable as a tongue once was Youth is,
To feel pain was not in our young thoughts.
We didn't have shoe's, not out of need
But what's necessity?
Tree trunks, but what of color specifically,
And pretty green bushes, with thorns.
There were other times where we forgot
And as wound up as tight as a spring,
The handle time forgot when then released.
And on her breasts chalk
Was mixed with snow, one could think we were English.
Her door with numbers,
Was painted red and mine was purple and blue.

Letter's From The Sky

Can letter's like tear's rain down from the sky
As I look up, you turn away.
How will I know if I set you free,
Do you feel like me, that forever our love is gone?
I was made I thought you knew,
To kiss your lips, no other lip's have I ever kissed.
I had you and you had me,
Together in life throughout these night's.
Can you see that far off star grow even closer
I look now,
Just to fall into the darkest part of the sea.
Can you wait as I watch,
Everyone's coming to see just what I've lost
Begging off
To be what you wanted me to be, time is short
And space is lost fading far away.
I've lived up to what you wanted from me, turn and Look what's left of me, as I fade away.
In my dreams when deep in sleep, your coming back
To set me free,
Cause letter's like my salty tear's are falling from
The sky.

Love Is A Phallus

She or he would say,
Confessions in the middle meet
The eye.
Some will in the storm ride out and Meet at night.
The point may hit the heart, it won't retreat
Nor miss the mark.

Is it odd, the pot of gold is warm on either Side,
Or being color blind
An abstract word is missed for lack of sight.
Then the base is not the end love,
For you and I.
As the shadow on the wall moves up and down
Without a cause.

The surf, the wind, the sand is where I make my stand
As I am her just cause,
And her claim to fame is not a shallow cave, nor on The rock's.
Tossed as foam no helmet worn, swallows come
And go.

And oysters fresh adorn my lips, their meat I gulp Down whole.
Drunk's two kissing in the night the moon is full,
The stars are out the sun has set,
And the phallic shape sits in her hands, forgotten Names.
Leaves parting as the bush on fire, the wind blows
On our necks,
I will wait for your reply.

Obsessive Compulsive Disorder

I've watched,
You through your mirrored window
And I'll break in to watch you sleep.
Then I'll clean and wash,
And fold your dirty laundry.
OCD.

The Man Down The Hall

Shoes polished,
Pointed left inside of daddies room
Where I would hide.
There where few would moan and
And fewer were the words I understood.
Clapping hands,
That led me off to sleep where I would dream
About a key, I could possess.
Chocolate chip vanilla skin each night
It was the same to be possessed.
Do not be confused with all the noise,
That was not heard and the silence was so loud
That I would quiver and I'd shake.
Daddies shoes polished pointing left outside
My room.
Roaming was a hand,
Over bushes without leaves in a forest I could Feel about the tree's.

Final Destination

Before there was,
What is today the past was not
The future is.
Tomorrow formed from former Dreams,
In sleep most have forgot.

The rift in space and time not seen
Not yet,
Around beneath my head.
I lived and breathed before you were
And self aware.

Yet when I slept, I dreamt of you and Where we met before.
To go and be as once again to dream
That dream no more.

The mist the dawn has changed the night's We're warm,
The day's were long and they were cold.
Your final destination,
Is the place you were before in dreams
I'm certain this you know.

Theresa Hair

Theresa,
After love the glitter of youth
It fades.

Where once there was magic,
Those miracles as they once we're.
Neither you nor I,
Or he and you trying to do, when We were young, what the young do today.

Growing up, it going away, you now live
Further away from the sea.
Your beauty was even then like the wind,
Now gone.
Blown away, each year like the winter leaves,
Laying face up in the snow.

Love is the bush round and full of green leaves,
While worry's a place
A state of mind, it is as strong as the tree.
Separate rooms, separate mind's, change
Like the tide throughout time.

And you like I wish to be safe,
Safe from the unknown, free from each storm.
Wiser to be, bitterness unseen, knowing
It may form inside of your heart,
Beating each beat,
As you cry each night before sleep.

Her Vibrator

Like an addiction to marijuana or crack.
Up on the shelf your hands shaking take it down.
It is pliable brown it is oiled french and soft.
It is as if you, breathing heavy last left it.
It is as clean as the rain that softly comes down.
It is like two car's on a bridges that never meet.
Your home work that is late or never gets done.
Always there when you're nervous and hurriedly need it.
Supple it is and it's hum is made up of your guttural sounds.
You sleep more soundly, love is full all around you.
Inside the cocoon where it floats like two butterfly's.
Worries float away, each wave is more intense than the last.
The thing I like about it the best is that I never need a man.
Falling asleep without any mess I'm ready neat come morning.
You can stop telling lies because I know that you have one.

Even as I speak you are asleep,
The telephone.
As weary as you are, yet you still listen
To my voice,
And I can hear the women down the hall,
Where the music that she plays is soft and Pleasant to the ear, the moon and stars.
I can hear your eyes begin to droop, a lullaby.
A monotone my voice, your dreams are mine
About yourself.
The telephone is used because in love, were Far apart.
Halley's comet will pass by, but we're asleep
In our soft bed,
And many mile's apart in time untill you have To wait, the telephone.

Going Naked Into The Dark Night

From where we came, we know not,
Going naked Into the dark night!
Like a man without air, without cloud's
In the sky, unseen when death comes but it's there.

There are now but a few numbered day's,
A head full of hair now it's gone,
While other's have more hair than their day's, day's
That will turn into night.
Night's that are dark, night's without light, light
That once burned bright in the breast.

Once when a child was a fool, yet the fool
Now a man having long life, knows the price for their Life is the dark,
Death can now knock on each door, good or bad.
Aware in the mind such will know, knowledge for the king
Knowledge to the poor, the night is as long as before.

Gravely I'll, sound in mind, each gives way to the night
It will be long,
Struggling for breath afraid of the dark, knowing that life
Soon is gone.
To die in the light with eye's closed.
All go naked, naked as when born, naked in the knowledge
Of death.

Men In Black

In a Florida prison
From the small slit of my milky plastic window
I watch inmates not convict's, hang the razor wire they fall into
And then are beaten by the convict's for their Cowardly behavior.

There are no rivers here at the edge of the black water swamp,
Stagnant and filthy,
As are the minds of so many of the people housed here.

For to many here beyond redemption, beyond hope, knowing Release for those few will be a painful death.
As the punk's rifle with a.i.d.s. lure those of low moral fiber,
Line up in the dawn of moon night and grunt,
Their lives away

Those whom wish to do what's right are as deer,
To those who prey upon the meek.
And here upon this patch of Earth the meek are Torn and cut like Jesus Christ.

To the right, and left are hopeless men and hopeless men are ice
Glazed eyes the color of the clay, inside the pen.
Black Snuff-colored uniforms give rise to hopeless lives.

The dead are never seen released from custody in body bags,
Out yonder in the south pour forth the dead.
Broken black and blue and thin blue coats black shoes, and your Trapped here a living hell,
Designed by evil men who prey on hopeless men, can heaven wait?

Go Out Into The World

Go out into the cold cruel world and show no fear
And be not seen afraid.
Despair not of what evil does in dark not Light of day.
In your heart of hearts a kind shown smile,
Turn not away.
This world is now by few a world not made,
A world away!
Drive,
Ambition forged in fire and love what's good not hate,
Beauty seen by thoughts that see what good men Like you make.
Children are not what they seem, compassion, no
Not strife but strive they must.
Judge not what's not seen inside your heart, a heart
That beats
Or else, your dreams will fade into that mist from which You came.

She's Eighty Three And Fading Fast

She's eighty three and fading fast,
My mother is.
A deamon lives here, a son of hers,
He is a half brother to me.

Fifty five,
And smoking crack, for thirty five year's.
He has gone through her reverse mortgage,
And most of her income each month.

His screaming and yelling causes us both
To shake,
Under duress to give him the Key's to her car.
After his last assault on me, five day's past,
A.P.I.from D.C.F.
With a female law enforcement officer came here.

At which time I discovered that her insurance hasn't Been paid since April past of last year,
He who's on crack has known this of her, but screams
And yells to give him the keys to her town car.
And at certain times, forces her to drive over for him
To again buy crack.

She now stays in bed twenty two hours a day, while the largo
Police knowing of this,
Have as yet done nothing at all and possibly will want me to leave Giving him unfettered access to what she has left.
She invited me here seven months ago, after my sister left with Her own daughter out of fear of attacks from him.
What a toll that underlying mental illness has had on the whole family.

The very cause that left untreated causes most to become alcoholics,
And abuse other drug's at the heavy expense of the families.
And law enforcement here know it but are waiting for him to do something Worse, to main and harm those of us, who care what happens to Our mother.
She is here today and gone the other, the crack addict doesn't want her
To see her doctor,

Having not seen her since I've been here.

So remember women and men who think they are good and take no action,
When having knowledge of those being abused.
These women and men are worse than those committing the abuse!

Courage

Without courage,
Many have hidden from death, to face it's last beat
Knowing without you, life marched on living right past you.
Wherever you are at today once the past,
Stanch in your chest beats a heart beat, that Bullets and bombs, with courage can't reach.

Weakness to chance wild sexy woman and Women whom seek the dangerous man's not a flaw!
Courage you'll need, when standing alone against
That blood stained wall, any can see bullet riddled.
To keep her single child alive she swallowed her pride,
Knowing the line went on and seemed endless.

Many of us in great times of stress relied on the depths
Of our deep dark depression,
Or manic and blurry on top of the cloud's, the world faster
Spinning with too many words.
And having the courage to face mental illness, defined by those Whom still stay hidden and will never face you.

Later,
If you are one of the lucky, facing old age and laying Still from a stroke, unable to speak an unnatural condition,
Will your courage desert you,
and in leaving behind a living will so death can then find you?
Or being that one wordsmith as so many poets, living before you Left being young, was it courage turning their back,
That to many here know not what that has caused it.

An Unjust Law Is No Law At All

An unjust law is no law at all allowed
By the few not for all.
Who are you who would care,
If but by them your full potential is kept
Out of reach from woman and man or child!

Thus a book that is burned their resounding Words are not kept nor spoken out loud.
Hiding from mobs kept in the dark filthy rain,
Morally blind to it's call.

Ask any child, read it out loud, unduly influenced
A stream to a river, a river to the sea, if it's true course Is allowed,
Covered not over as now most are by each damn!

We all hear about the greatness of our humanity,
To resist what's not right,
Giving up not to fight greatness never achieved
Or allowed.

Help ease my mind with Grace and like mind, up from
The past where still we are at.
The harder one work's, the tired one becomes, just to recover
What one has lost,
Taken for granted to get up and do it again.

One knows what is right, one knows what is wrong, by Keeping us all in their fear,
To believe and pass on, that a law that's not right
Can't be wrong.
To die in the right is the light in the dark men deserve.

Extraterrestrial And Human D.N.A.

Humanity has unique traits that extraterrestrials don't have!
Though they can bend both space and time all of their closeness,
With us is still a large black ocean apart.

Human beings are still very violent, with billion's more still attached To religion!
Current technologies exist to allow genetic manipulation with primate's
And other animals.

Though their blood color could be green and or blue and other shades
Of different hue's.
They have over thousands of years,
Identified specific Gene's, like downs syndrome, autism and other mental Health disorders.
Leaving them bottle necked concerning their own genetic make up.

In ancient history it was easier to abduct stray human beings, trying to manipulate
And isolate human D.N.A.
In an attempt to broaden their own self imposed isolation.
They have attempted to advance most industrial nation's, by remote viewing and Leaving on purpose certain aspects of their technologies to further hurry us along.

Because of America's claim that all life is important, while providing access to Obortions and their continued position on discrimination,
Most extraterrestrials have attempted to advance other countries.
Keeping America from a monopoly on weaponizing all of their technologies,
After all,
You wouldn't take the D.N.A. from a chimpanzee and splice it with yours, now would you?

All extreamly advanced extraterrestrials have after surviving what our own world
Is currently going through,
Have managed to eliminate wealth barriers and religion, while pursuing a single Race surviving position.

Most heads of state and even the pope, Jewish leader's and Muslims as well, Know that these radical religious beliefs would make murderous attempts to eliminate

And kill them.

So look in the mirror and tell me the truth,
Would you with their help still stay in your cave's, or come out in the open to share
Limitless opportunities?

The Night Is All To Long

Each night of sleep is long and more oft deep,
Sunrise is short and bitter all to sweet.
That every king,
Has sought to keep and while dreaming
Know to well.

Yes we fear each night will be the last,
And face each night not knowing what it brings.
Dreaming that we ride the growing wave of time,
That brings us back to our familiar shore.

Lip's that move no more our tongue can't speak,
And words we did not write we cannot read.
Mighty is the eight none yet can bend and see behind
A future not yet made.

Never growing old,
The future out of reach and relived in all our pasts.
Gentle death is not to kind to those afraid to live,
Who never loved while once alive while but a host.

Extraterrestrials

Extraterrestrials,
The ignorant call them God's,
As above all life here, we are.
Their trumpets some have heard,
Around the world.
Abducted by a word, each rapture does.
No money do they need to have, having Need for gold, a conductor to run their ship's.
Some can breath our air, their blood
Is red,
And green as leaves around the bush,
They have no need for tree's.
Some races have a hive collective, other's
Are but renegade's,
But most of those that you call God's,
Use telepathy.
Advanced in their specific ways, they could Kill us all if we allowed.
Being pagan's as you are to think we're speacial
When we are inside their dish.
Some bend space and time to revisit us each
Time,
While other's pass around the world to see each
Jesus die as we are promised thus to do.
To mix our D.N.A.
To advance I mean evolve us past revenge,
They cover up other worldly life or you'll freak out!
Some want to abuse you as you've abused your life,
Primative as primate's, living in your cave's.
Thinking they're your God's, do they have soul's?
Permission we must get to raise Einstein's,
The few they we can raise, like you and your Jesus Crist.
They don't mean to haunt you in your dreams,
Where deep in sleep you let it go.
Soon they will appear and to those who don't believe,
Will hide on hands and knees and pray to GOD'S.
That you will then believe the time is near for you to say,
Is rapture real,
That time existed long before the world, that we've destroyed

But they can wait and come again,
And see what we have then become or stay inside the cave's.
Where once we we're,
We've wiped out more life than now presently exists.
Aren't you proud?

And Even After Death

Even after death,
Remember what all whom have
In love have said.

Per chance the rest forget,
When living stayed unsaid.
For I am not, above below
An underworld.

And as the year's in sleep
Go by,
Of a love like that I had, to listen
As I wait, to they I also hear.

And will your soul remember
What I was and what we shared?

Dark Woods Yellow Water

His woods burn dark hot
And powerful.
The tree's have broad tops
That are sharp and winged.
As if they were named Ariel.

Green moss drips yellow water
Drop by drop,
Inside out their curved beards.
Old and new are entwined, together
Apart, as if green each bush is.

Water yellow,
Flows from her thick with fish.
Tadpoles and frogs,
Stuck in the necks of the storks.

Snakes large and larger still,
Where any could see, no one does
Or nothing of this is spoken of,
Because.

Smooth and round the hall in length
Is,
Feeling the squirts, fifteen or twenty,
Each time, flowing from
Away into the yellow swamp water.

Roots twist into thick, callused,
Bruised flesh.
Mirrored in the warm, humid air.

Shaped as if an hourglass,
Caught in between, the middle.
Going in and out,
Are the long dark salamanders.

Static White Noise

Ever since we can remember the static white noise in our head's.
A voice one for each,
Most some here I know now, have more than one or so I think.

Conflicts arise, conflicts abate who am I to judge or to take,
To make you take pills to lesson the pain, I can't see your face.
High in the sky,
Twenty four seven, hundreds of planes fly in different directions.
And they not from here fly around unimpeded.

Static white noise made to distract you thinking in sleep, moving Pictures that haunt you.
As here in America most grow even poorer to tired to think and
Some haven't seen the heavenly star's,
For the pain that two voices fight for control inside of your head's.

Half cannot see or even now feel it, the noise blocking out and the Thoughts that went with it.
There are but few a few that they know of that suffer not one way
Or can think for another.

Out in the ocean not far from the sea a stream forms a river, that Allows one to sleep.
Free from the noise, deep in a dream where the few who once knew,
Without fear can cross over.

Uncertainty

Uncertainty,
Misconceptions about what you feel and why?
Apart from the whole, when you are.
When next we see the sun, winter is here,
Falling right off, it fell.
And tomorrow will come and it will, alive those Are will be!
There will be what there is and something more,
Perhaps to feel and know something else.
A second chance to do what should have been Done, the day before.
The skies are to busy now to separate us from Then, knowing already who they are.
Uncertainty about tomorrow are you well?
Not sick or in an unfortunate accident, unforeseen.
Uncertain about compassion, he said and empathy,
What does the voice inside of your head tell you?
And having their lies never pass from your lips, Uncertain of what to say, while you worry about that
Which you have control of but you let pass.
Uncertainty,
Misconceptions of what is real but yet has yet come
To pass,
And humanity will thinking it must feel what's not real
That but for a few come to pass.

Winter In The Snow

Yellow snow not white that stained my gown,
I can taste each tear that's filled with love.
The plain is flat, the tree's are tall and fit as if,
A glove upon my hand, the feeling is.
Each night I dream in song and note - 110 mhz,
It moves a body so the snow is white about the bush.
But I loved the sea to much the ocean more,
As the coffee that you drink instead of tea with cream.

But life for me like you was all to much, the oven
Opened up and I gave in to follow up, it wasn't green.
Each sphere each planet has a song to sing, I know
There is,
I can here them come, underfoot the snow is dirty
White, the ground is full of people that I meet instead of you.
Blood clots, there's no need for hope that blood
Will reach my brain.
Nurses enter with a guest and I don't know there name's,
Of the seasons for.
Rubber shoes once mine sit by the door and it grows warm,
Snow once white, now yellow stains my gown.

Humanity

From the dawn of the beginning, the ordinary
When now to many as one race, to count as one.
Destiny was then as Fate and our death's
To few were friends.

A longer blade a knife your son, remembered
From the dreams of those that would.
A coward under fire can't take the life of one Who could.

Control of human beings means less control,
Condemned to serve a human not themselves.
I burn to know before I leave and other's die
That useless death to give what they can't give.

And what of hell?
Impaled upon the beast it's seven horns,
And of hell it sways them not, what does it say
About their only God?

In a land of law's that do not work, to keep
Each human down,
Who sacrifice their children's fate, who lay it
On the people,
Who are tired and weak to know what Judge's don't.

Stoney eyed,
U.S. human beings are forced to sit and wait.
In a bar to open late,
When the future it is said our fate, when every Baby born will know it's future not it's fate.

Us And Them

Them and us, yes, them, and us,
And then, was not to them
What was long thought of them.

Models seen, but not heard,
Really there.
Then there what of that, that one hears,
When leaving the body and coming back.

It was as if she, he though, thinking
To stop speaking back.
Three inch door's, thick and hot,
Was speaking to me.

From A Stream The Color Glowed

When your church upon the hill,
High up on the hill where he would preach.
Being poor would never reach,
And in death,
He could not even save their soul's.

And thus of all not seen,
In light or dark
Being young where they would go.

And from a stream the color glowed,
In hues of black or gold.
Lightning in the sky at night,
The moon in reach so full.

Consensus as it daily grew,
Some a few that many knew.
A secret there's a secret kept,
Of all the boy's and girl's.

..... She Is Afraid He Is Tired

Wherever you are he is there,
His heart tied to your soul, he is tired.
Your heart that he made with,
Hands passage of time, is the history,
We made loved then erased.
Loving inside of the face of the sun,
Face to face, cheek to cheek, the full moon.
Lost in her shadow, her eyes and her smile,
Forever lost gone without more had we,
Lived in a house made of glass and God's love, pass in the green in the grass
And yes love my lass, you now are afraid
He is tired.

Swallows Travel In And Out

Swallows travel in and out,
And other's places that you know.
Wing's spread wide bearing all,
To that place that men know well.

Underneath or there above like Perfume in the wind, around one's head.
Where it is it and you are you and I have been around there to.

Where mushrooms grow where it is dark,
And rain has been there to.
Above a cloud that's really low, where here
The sun shines through.

Flying through her finger tips, each swallow Travels in and out.
And there out yonder over hills, we see
The swallow like the moon at night,
Do what swallows will.

You Can't Be Bitter Sweet

Can't he and she, he said, by a well
There he stopped and said
Find the light through the night and
"Night was said to often seen through
A glass that was made.
Still, there is day and still equal night's as
If I would be, what is the flame, the heat
And their sun to be, what it is that you are!

At night she did what he very said, what she did,
But she did as he said and all with the,
Should be write, ethics are!
Greet me here as there as verily to she that he said.

In the dawn when we run, other's there as well,
You saw in the night.
Thinking now as to then and learnt to he and verily be
It seems to show as of now.

And even then at age Eleven and ten that I was,
We're you naught?
Nothing but the moon
so full, that she said was full forever it seemed Did it not?

They, all dressed in black who did to do one would Think or not, to think in life at all,
On his or her knees, both that float above the Living pain.

Opened like day, it's open to she to his touch
And even now, partly why!
After all it was them in the act, what act
You see are acting what?

To he and to she and to know one would think,
And think the way we both are.
Knowing that both boys and girls seldom are.

This morning the sun, we upon them yet we are feeling
As if lit the sun that length of dark forever it shall even know, Knowing naught?
Bending over the aged darkened wood I got
To know,
Bending over the bench you thought I said that she got!

In through the out door a picture that I've got of reaching through
The wall the mirror not.
Pieced together for the next time you have, what I sent, I sent
To them what they have.
A filled in open pond, a pond to sight filled with what flower's?
Against the wall and moving were the jars, Can't he and she, he said, by a well

There he stopped and said
Find the light through the night and
"Night was said to not be often seen, through
A glass that was made.

Still, there is day and still equal night's as
If I would be, what is best the flame, the heat
And their noise.

The Breath Of Life

The breath of life, by my belief, sight to the smell and then the sun, gives give you to feel as you would speak to the wind as you Moving, Left and right and they come when they're called!
As like anything alive with for great need to the air, water turning to air, then again to water taste to great need to breath, he smell.
In each hand two world's,
two world's.

Paying the price to be seen, holding onto the land, five generations they raised their young.

Having had a long life, looking back to me ahead,
roaring off into the distanced past!
To the highest there of, looking down into the masses, the masses of people there and there down below?

Having lived to the full, being full to top, living life!
So now we fly, flying out to the sea and doing damage control.
One before, the hardest truths that we hold and still to you, please be still.

Deep asleep so asleep, as once they thought, when they were like you.
The ridge atop the oyster shell, ran deep, black the pearl.
In what reality in life do you not this can you feel!
Bumps in life,
soft to the touch yet like in life, hard to feel?

Having met you nought before, some do the breath
And those are the Steps in The Breath of each Life that you'd had before.

Each part once in life no longer than that may you have those are parts of the pearl so soft and gentle with in, The Breath of Our Life heard we'd care for it with soft gentle love, no knife, no gun, happy to have lived for a while, in the sun, browning in the sun, getting wet, he staying wet, while against the wall from her, prose.

Kisses Two Meet Halfway

Kisses met halfway, only when no one is looking,
Through a window made without shades.
Sweet taste of chocolate, vanilla and James,
Time has bent the rail, you rode for free.
Yellow the ark high under the sun, finger's roam
If young again, without sin being grown.
Then those book's left unread by men whom Weren't rich, read by a woman that wasn't poor.
Preferences yes those I still have, the taste of her lip's
The smell of her hair.
Without leg's nor arm's and he being blind, momma
Might think that there is no harm.
In a room made of glass describing the star's
And a moon always full the feeling I died.
Meeting halfway two lover's kiss, never knowing
In this life what other's think.
Under the ark yellow in color, here where both Lover's feel safe from the world.
Surrounded by book's that have never had covers.

Everyone's Path Lead's Down To The Sea

Nothing will change, nothing has,
Humbled the woman who received such rare knowledge.
And one man outside stands, watching her water
The seed of a tree and bushes that flower.

The breaking of dawn a path to the sea, catching a fish
This morning to eat, bread and cheese.

The throng stands around waiting to be led, led by
A stranger, strange to them all now a big mob.
I watch some pray keeping the faith, waiting for someone
To lead them away.

And you who have learned to read and write, leaving behind
But serving as counsel.
Weeping at what should have never been a child being murdered
By man's evil hand.

Deep in the forest, wooded and deep, secrets are buried,
Secrets are kept, someone knows.
Clothed are some in fine linen, other's are naked laying Together no one came.

Granite and marble are seen from the cliffs, water runs down
The edge to a stream.
Deep at the edge where everyone dreams having dreams of not
Of having to journey here again,
To live over again a life that is just to be murdered again.

I Have Found You Still Love Me

I was once yours, lost in your everything,
Being lost never found, I am now what you see.
A leaf caught up in the wind drifting down,
Found at the edge of the sea.

My uncle and aunt I am me, long since Gone, no longer what I was, both created me.
Two in love, two who have done what is right,
Here I am,
There are you at peace with the world all
Can see, a light seen far out to sea

I have been to the edge, I am back,
I have seen what you've seen, a spirit controlled
Two lover's as one and still best of friend's.
Two candles in church, the spirit comes in,
The wick and the taper the light when it comes Burned from both ends, for you and she will be bright.

How Does One Explain Loss

How does one explain loss, to a woman or man
Who cannot pay the price.

After ten year's the anger has grown less, but more
The loss of year's gone by and tear's that take it's place.
No one knows what other's think I do, other's think but Not of loss compassion for the next few days do you?

Lessons learned but it's to late to make amends with you
And you with me.

And learning while there's breath inside of me, the aches
That I still feel.

To the rich I'm not but they do to,
And there's but few who know of loss the loss of strength
I pray you do.

Hand me downs that do not last the length of time to the Growing boy or girl,

On purpose without pride there made that way.

For those whoms foot grew faster than the other I will say,
Nothing lasts forever but your day.

Fast Love

Spinning your wheel's on fast love,
When this kind of love you can see.
Avoiding the pain you won't feel, feeling
The pain I have felt.

Love is the flame burning hot, emotions
Erupt,
There's a chance you might feel what you've Felt in the past.

I, we, you couldn't know how I felt, pretty girl's Sexy boy's,
With talent that shows what you've got.

Only age will tell, it will tell if your fast or Your slow,
Who should you and I thank for our youth?

Take it slow, slow it down, take your time,
Turn aside from love that is fast.
Key holes,
Going first I have seen others go blind.

The Woman Down The Hall

Her name was Chris,
This was about six years ago when We did.
Born on the same day and month and the year.

Over weight,
Low self esteem but got off with just the act,
Of back and forth the full up and down.
My mind wanders off somewhere Shuddering and using self control to go where
You have, yes you yourselves, have to often been.

In this dream the woman down the hall, above
Cloud's to get in the way of him.
So I make my own wine and time, gives brings forth
A wine like no wine that you've ever had before.

He is well fed and
Oh, of an age where you loved youth and youth
Loved you back to soon it's clear.

If like me your old the woman down the hall, well Looks it seem.
Then there are those
That do it because the life they live is a life not lived
In living a life if you when young really cared.

Death Is Something To Us All

Death is something to us all and to all it something is,
To the poor it is deep fear.
And without their religion's there's no hope at all as whatever You once we're you can't be what you were.

Untill death when we must part and parting us it will,
For a while beneath the ground your name may still be known.
For death you dress in black and still the dying die don't look away
And laying cold grey, colored but by they who know you not.

Do not pray for me for I am there and there I am and you shan't
Help me get to where you think that I should go.
The wilderness of halls each turn they make and making you is
There that you will go.
And in searching for another life just further shows to all to what Expense not spared by those who cannot pay the price.

Let us test it out and then come back, let us dip our toe in it,
And in feeling it find out.
Patience death can wait you out and never sleep the sleep, where
In your dream you can't get out.

Are you not like I and I like you as the rich as well have found?
If death is nothing, nothing death is all it's smiling face,
And in smiling back you have contrived that in death you have Found out.

Dr. Wilson Crump Rippy At Tampa General Hospital Aged Twelve

My name is James McLain I was molested by Dr. Wilson Crump Rippy at Tampa General Hospital,
And reaching out to the other survivors, this is what I received from other children now grown Asking!

Has anyone ever been sexual abused as a child by Dr. Wilson Crump Rippy and now are an adult.
How did or does it effect your life and future?

By Alkai7 on July 17th,2009

I was sexually abused from 12 to 15 1/2. This took place while I was hospitalized under the care of a child psychiatrist. I was placed there for treatment for a myriad of difficulties that were eventually concluded (after many test) to be psychiatric in nature.

About a year after I was released from his care (because my parent's insurance refused to continue to pay for my treatment) , my parents were contacted by an attorney and asked if they wanted to be included in a class action lawsuit being brought against the child psychiatrist who had been treating me from 1972 to 1975.

My parents agreed to participate in the class action lawsuit; having been told that there was enough evidence for a conviction.

But the State of Florida (for what ever reason) only made him pay a hefty fine and then dropped all the charges letting him walked out free as a bird.

His name was Dr. Wilson Crunk Rippy, Jr.

The evidence against him consisted of 7 reel to reel films of child pornographic movies. One of which was produced in 1973. It was the one in 1973 I appeared in (which was what the attorney who contacted my parents had told them about, to find out if they wanted to participate) .

Dr. Rippy used the children in his 'care'? to make the films. Ages ranged between 3 years to 15 years.

I remember being seduced by an older boy, who later gave the authorities a box containing the 7 films because he was Dr. Rippy's editor.

Later, through loss and isolation, I finally caved and willingly participated in sex with the kids my age. However I have no memory (to this day) of the movie in which my parents were told I appear. What I do have are blank spots in my memory. (things I recall before and after certain dates, but nothing in between)

For a long time, I was a troubled person, filled with self loathing and self destructive behaviors. I started using alcohol and other drugs to cope with reality. As an adult, I had problems holding down jobs.

I was lonely and felt dirty, trapped and unlovable. I got into the Gay lifestyle because male contact reminded me of the sex I had while in that mental hospital and because having sex made me feel loved and wanted... for a while.

At some point I found a way to forgive Dr. Rippy for what he had subjected me to. It was only after I forgave him that the healing started. I had to let go of the past in order to grow and heal. It was the most difficult thing I have ever had to do.

I used to equate love with sex. They were interchangeable words that meant the same thing. It took a few years to get to a place where I could distinguish the differences between them.

I remained in the Gay lifestyle until about 1996. In 1995 I was diagnosed with Klinefelter's Syndrome 47xxy. After a year of extensive study on what that is, I was able to realize that I was attracted to women about as equally as to men, and concluded that I must be Bisexual. (I had been on Hormone Replacement Therapy injecting Testosterone once a month since my diagnosis in 1995)

Fast forward to the present. I'm happy and have a lot of friendships. I get along great with my family, and I'm content being Celibate. I no longer hold grudges or take offenses. I have self worth. I'm mainly concerned now-a-days with the betterment of other people.

I was 11, by a so called friend and his mate. I do enjoy being bi-sexual, but not when I was 11-13. Every now and then I get down on myself. I'm now bi-sexual and sometimes messed up, and would beat the crap out of them if i saw them again..

My parents took me to Dr Rippy when I was about 6 years old. I remember it all like it just happened yesterday. On the first visit he showered me with a room of toys, candy and soda. I came from a fairly poor family, few toys, candy on Halloween, milk and water. My father was a public school teacher and my mother a housewife. They became concerned of my hyper behavior and fits I threw in the grocery isle not getting the sugary cereal I wanted, which looking back I know I was just energetic and being the last of three children, a bit of a brat. I was promised that if I was good for my parents all week, I would get candy, soda, and that room full of toys to play with on each return, but if I was bad my parents would stop bringing me and I would get nothing. On the third visit he told my parents he would preform a physical and take some x rays, aka, take of your clothes kid and Im taking porn pics. I remember leaving my socks on and laying on a sofa. I also remember him opening the camera and changing one roll of film after another, maybe 5 or 6 times. That was the last time I saw the Dr. as my parents could no longer afford his services. After reading some of the other stories I can see the luck I had by my parents not being able to afford him . He never got the chance to touch me and I had no bad effects from the acts. At about 10 years old my mother questioned me about any photography and I told her what he did. My heart goes out to the good people that were not as fortunate as I was with Dr Rippy.

By JBuick on January 15th,2013

I too was one of Dr. Rippy's 'kids'. My encounter was more brutal. I guess i am the only one he allowed to be taken off the unit in the summer of 1974 and passed around in an inner Pedophile/pederast ring that had got it's claws into the child mental health field. To this day, I recall a total of 27 abusers within a 3 1/2 - 4 month period.

Did anyone else have a similar experience such as this?

by..... on March 9th,2011

i was by a few of my brother's friends. I don't think he ever found out. I was very young. Most of it is blocked out so i can't really say much.

By Vizla on January 8th,2011

It's interesting reading these accounts of abuse perpetrated by the prominent, Tampa Bay area child psychiatrist, Dr. W. C. Rippy Jr. MD on his own patients! I was also treated by doctor Rippy while a patient at Tampa General hospital in 1968 at the age of seven for two weeks, followed by three months or so of outpatient therapy.

It wasn't until 1976-77 that I was shocked in reading the front page headlines of the Miami Herald about his arrest and the videos implicating the doctor in the sexual abuse of numerous patients.

I was never personally abused by doctor Rippy but do recall the 'unusual circumstances' of my first encounter with him during my initial physical / mental assessment which took place in an exam ante-room adjacent to the hospital's psych-ward and set off numerous mental red flags during my reading of the article ten years later. Having developed a basic understanding of standard medical practices- -and this may sound unusual for a 17 year old but I was somewhat precocious, had already worked and volunteered two summers as an operating room orderly and grew up with a mother who was a career surgical nurse- -I thought it unusual that the doctor had me 'strip completely' and have me 'remain so', while unattended with him, during the 'entire' course of the examination which lasted twenty minutes or so!

By the age of seven I had already experienced a handful of hospitalizations for various surgeries and childhood infectious illnesses as well as at least one full school physical and never had I been asked to disrobe completely for any part of an examination, the closest being the preschool physical where I was required to briefly drop the front of my drawers so that the examiner could check for signs of a hernia or un-descended testicle and was always in the presence of the examiner and at least one attendant or my mother but 'never' alone and fully naked for any period of time!

I can honestly say that I felt extremely uncomfortable and vulnerable during this encounter with doctor Rippy and have to wonder if during that time I was being studied as a potential victim / play thing by this obviously sick man!

Had doctor Rippy entertained such designs he probably concluded by my body language verbal responses and admission notes- - of having recent, reoccurring, unexplained rage reactions- - that I best not be provoked by any untoward advances.

What the doctor didn't and would never know is that the behavior for which I was presently hospitalized was precipitated and amplified by the fact that I had already been sexually abused, by an adult male relative only a few weeks before!

Knowing what I do now about doctor Rippy's activities and the affects of sexual abuse in my own life I am grateful for having been spared any additional insult - - - having spent years in therapy, having never married, having difficulty developing intimate relations and undergoing treatment for depression over an extended period of my life.

By, USAF242 on December 22nd,2010

I was one of Dr. Rippy's victims.

While my case is mild compared to some of his victims, he molested me too.

I'm 45 now, retired Air Force. I'm heterosexual, but pretty much completely sexually inactive (I expect I'll die single) . I think the drugs he had me on did more damage to my social development than the molestation. I've always been socially awkward, although I've gotten by, and even been 'liked' by co-workers and families.

As for 'forgiving' him. Not a chance.

Forgiving scum like him would be a character flaw.

By Timjon on March 10th,2011

I was sexually abused many times and can relate to it. It is very important to talk to a professional about it- forgive the perpetrator and go on with your life. You need to do these three things. Deal with it, forgive the abuser and go on with your life. Develop a relationship with God. He is the One person you can always trust and who will always love you. I could not have survived without Him. He will never let you down.

These Are My Lips

Lip's,
These are my lips.
They are big full lips.
They need more open space to
wrap them selves firm around.
They don't fit onto smug potty, little
pretty faces pouty, these lips
are full wide and free thinking lips.

They don't like to be kept beholding, nor empty.
Wet these lips, have never been without,
they move up north when they want to
they head south when they need to.
What they do.
Unless it's to you, is none of your business.

Now as I smile, as you wish it were you.
Mine are rich pink firm hard to grasp lips
and these mighty lips,
have sunk more than my share, of ships.
Lips that are magic.
Lips never loose.
Should you, could but come around too know them.
They would pull the oil right out of the ground,
and on a man, they will never be found.

The Last Kiss Before Midnight

I cannot hide from your gaze, I see through your eyes
And a kiss from you is a cloud that moves so slow across the sky.
Night's, night's wrapped in warmth but cool enough to warm
Your lips, lip's that when kissed are lip's I've not kissed, each kiss
Is a new surprise.

Every midnight is a shadow straight up one shadow in time on
Two leg's,
Watching an army of arm's the second time, time is a kiss that Stands still.

I did not know what you knew though I waited to see, I waited to taste
Your sweet breath,
Breathing it in through my lovers lip's, lips with a kiss and your smile.
I think now beneath the cool sheet's legs tangled together you show Me your face even in sleep and at midnight you give me a kiss.

After Life

The after life while living alive is filled with the essence
Of you,
Burning hot I have lived and in death I have walked the sun.
Leaving life have you laughed and cried with both as one?
While loving you and only you makes it harder to leave a world
Unseen untill all arrive.
Loosing you is not loss but to see across the wide stream, a river
Is made the ocean is lost to the sea.
Green is a babe in the bush that is soft with green leaves and Happy in life while knowing of death, there's no shame.
Faith is not fear and fear is not faith to those rare few whom come,
Some but few know when it's time to leave, leaving love behind.
Hard or soft is the shell inside of this shell made of you and big
Or small, unseen in the eye's of your soul.
You may if you wish while alive travel there back and forth with
A mind that is strong enough to be.
After life, life after death there are those that believe this belief
Is called faith after life that all leave.
Eye's open are closed odd is this to me, believing that you know What you see.
Loving the sea the waves speak to me and each grain of sand is
A world where you are at peace.

Shattered

Looking at people who are damaged in different ways,
As a mirror that is dropped, broken never the same though a few try.
Broken the pieces that are all there, never can fit as once before.
Impulsive though we are directed by some into the wall knowing
The wall to them is not there.

There are problems in a child's home that you are too blind to see,
Hungry, dirty unkept, ignored by the people like you.
Feral we some at a young age have become, being autistic you never Knew until I came out and told you.
Being good with numbers at a young age I never was interested in being An accountant.

So the State covers their ass and tries to deny that you ever existed,
Even though at a much older age, they still tell you lies and seeing right through Them, then they get angry and try to use your disability to make you mad
So they can then threaten you with going to jail or even worse some filthy Mental hospital.

We whom have survived the terrible things that have taken the lives of all of
The others,
Makes the few who went to school to become emeshed in the lives of the few Left alive to cause one more harm than label you as a wandering mind detached from Reality and cull through the few left alive.

Shattered we hide and go to great lengths to remain hidden without a voice
Or the money to buy one.
We who are the few whom are still alive end up using the pieces from a different Broken mirror trying in vain to fix our own unseen by you trying our best not to give up
As Emily has said to live without hope trying to fix the wing of a bird that one holds in
Their hand that has long since died and shattered though I am I cannot see it.

Alabama's Republican Rob Moore

To many of u.s. wait twenty or thirty years,
To fight through the shame or the power they will Use against u.s.

U.S. in the south are generally by those in northern state's Perceiving u.s. as nothing more than white trash,
As seen on such show's as Jerry Springer with the Alabamian's being exploited.

Yes he has mixed religion with church and state and has been Banned from a mall,
Where from his perspective those young tenderonies there roam.

Removed from three of Alabama's Court's, twice from Alabama's Highest court and from that County from which he is from.
Church and state and abuse of descresion using his imoral views
From the Bible.

After all,
Noah, his wife and three son's and their wives had to of committed Incest, if the earth was totally covered in water.

Then there is the issue which is not based on faith but simple math,
How many children would they have needed to bare for there
To be over seven billion people on the planet now?

When The Wall Is Falling In Towards You

When the wall is falling in towards you grab a gun.
There is no fun in being hurt by those corrupt that have Never cared and never will about you.

Crushed by the wall one brick at a time, left alive
Not choosing your own end by a cop.
How could everything you planned out go so wrong,
A lazy lawyer with a small mind, rural areas filled full of.

Knowing no one a gun can be hard to get, telling you lies Lying begets.
And after the deed is done they take their own life, murder
Bone white,
How then can they say that capital punishment works?

Over shadowed by the tall wall, heavy old block's intermittently Patched with red bricks, made from white clay.
Being left made to feel expendable, having no worth, hope has fled Leaving a manifesto behind you, and still they wonder why,
Even when the answer is in front of them, uncaring the yellow Canary has died.

James McLain ??

For over ten years
I have posted here under the name of is it poetry and a few other names now lost
And lost to time
And the large influxes of all the new poets
That here have since come.

No one can read all that has been written
To date Without giving up what little time that those Whom contribute would make.

But my name is who I am and being who I am
Is who you are Nothing has changed since you now know my name
Except the change for my daughter to find me more Easily when she starts to Google Poetry James McLain.

To many thought that by writing under the name of is it poetry
That I was asking you to consider if what was written
Was poetry
It was not it was the original nature of a name unique to see
And what by me for you
That was written by me meant for you to read.

So I am me, who I am who I've always been and I thank you
For you who I am.

Attorney Elliott Ambrose, Brooksville Florida

Attorney Ambrose,

This will be my last attempt to have you see reason concerning, myself and my daughter, Caroline.

D.C.F.

Has used my psychological medical records to Target my specific mental health issues, as has been demonstrated by the escalation of each specific case plan that

D.C.F.

Has used against me where I was never the cause or reason that Caroline was removed from her mother.

With the last case plan requesting that I admit in open court to molesting her.

We can either put a stop to this severely damaging behavior or the Court's and everyone who has a copy of all the case plans will, no must make them go away.. i.e. loose them.

Then their is the fact that if,

D.C.F.

pays for any outside assessments then they are intitled to an individuals medical records.

Then as with my self use the psychological mental health issues to further incapacitate each individual to the point, such as myself to recover from the damage that the abuse has caused and in my case made much more worse.

Then their is the ongoing psychological issues that this behavior has unbeknownst to my daughter permanently caused.

Here is your chance to make a real difference in keeping this behavior from going any further or causing any future damage to myself and to other's.

Especially to my - our vulnerable children.

Please print this out and give a copy to the Judge's whom have had contact with my case and any future Judges, where when viewed without biases must see the pattern of abuse that I have just discribed.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

James McLain

Tell Me, Did You Ever Know

Tell me did you ever know, how much I loved you,
Did you may I ask, how long ago and did you love me back.
The ocean from one side is mile's apart and in our youth
We were not as like that in year's apart.

Destiny was not our fate though love is pain,
Can you see two leaves outside that spin apart around
The tree behind a bush that's bare?
I hear you whisper in my dreams when deep asleep,
But know one's there.

Being Humble But Few Men

Being humble but men, women bore,
Out from the grass and trees we walked.
Hope was but a seed in men their fear but Hope there was.

Has any baby came and know there was?
One foot in life the other in the grave
And yet you bore it still.

How high we've climbed, higher still, needing Air yon mountain top, just to claim it's view.
Thin though it might be, the star's that fall
Still claim a gasp as they go rushing by.

A humble man knows evilness and knowing
It stands up to what is wrong.
Across the world this wrong we think is right,
Effecting change through books we read at night.

Then frail in loveliness each rose each thorn,
In wonder children look,
Children look to see what can't be seen.

When humble men have claimed what's right,
Through the grass their path they walked won't lead
Back to the tree's.

Sleep Is The Thief Of Time

Time here on earth sneaks off when you are A sleep in dreams you can't control.
As dawn hides the moon the hand the cradle rock's
The living hide their pain they can't control.

The tide without a moon the hand, the tide while
The young forget our cries.
Time is only such when we've realized that the young Refuse at all to entertain.

Without vision unable to think ahead the masses
Can only weep they've never read.
And without ambition will never show that drive
A teacher has.

Time is tireless to the tired, can't you recall the Face inside your dream last night?
Your body in a trance as you traspe off around
The world to me that special one.

To the dead a day's a year a month one minute more
Not less than you would have.
For those alive, not yet born, condemned to live the Life you lived again?

Now more about yourself and less about your politics,
And rain bow sex!

Love - What Is Love

Love, what is love?
Two broken,
Heart's when they are still in love.
Back to back in bed, the silence can be heard.
And breaking glass one asks
Love, what is love?
Two wonder if in love if both will last.

Out Stretched Corner Stand

My enemies take my silence as though
I'm slow, weak or stupid as I plot.
A friend I won't call out as they might betray me!
Braggerts claim to have what other's don't,
As no one has what they may have and silent be.

Money so they think, got them to where they are
Is sometimes true and then for some,
The man will come and Yea I mean it's you.

In the shadowed corner I may out stretched stand,
While on her knees and for some I'm sure it's he.
The quickness of the tongue brings them all down
To their knees.
Said he of small of hand and he whom rockets ride.

A thief he calls them all but men of faith whom thinks
There is,
When if there was a man like him like you
He would be good.

He who lies and smiles a lot as tears roll down
Your face,
Hammering a dream you had but sleep to dream
No more a thief he is.

God loves them as they are for all their faults yet half Wish the other's dead,
Do not love the rest because their good when good is Not enough to bring him down!

A Nation Silent In It's Shade

Yon under rural trees and countryside,
That sleep in pretence if they think there free.
Before there was t.v.
And each that comes and goes, some Set us back.
Back to when a spirit broken thinks he is A king this one we have.
Up and down and side to side his children
Are and as sure as leaves,
Come Autumn start to change and fall.
A man will come around and change it all
And it's only then,
That who he thought he knew, he didn't know
At all.

Foster The Good Night

Foster the night and kiss her lip's
The moon is high in my hands.
After having lived by day, upon her Breast's rests my head.

For only in her ear at night, can I speak
Of day,
Day and what like I have done, I may not Speak at all.

Father time is catching up the grape's are ripe,
The fruit has all been picked.
That moral voice that is no more that speaks,
To what is done, but fooled it's not for us.

The hay is sweet and green the tree's are tall,
Wrapped in vines the once full bush now aged Can't speak at all.
Naked amongst the rocks the sea it calls,
And sand once white is turning red and foam once white Is brown.

The day's are long and most are tired to tired
To know what's right.
And rare and far between we try to foster the Good night.

The Art Of Poetry

How after ten plus years of reading what I have read,
So elegantly stated
In some kind of code the dreams that other's wrote.

To escape in a world of words in books now lost,
In the time it takes to open one and read till one forgets.
Reading of their regrets, their suicide's, unable to have
The people on their sides.

Of jumping ship and found no more an oven for the One, my favorite.
These mind's they were like no other mind, the mind
That can't forget but hold no grudge.

Like a drop of rain when raining falls but then goes up,
To fall and leave a splash but no one's wet.
Those most special now we know, bi-polar, severe depression
And autism unknown then that caused such pain.

The brightest burned the quickest from both ends,
Alive today forever and of each we know today.
To find the light where none would look and leave
Us all again, when they were done.

The darkest night was not so dark when they were Full of life.

Would I Could Father You

I am not who you said that I was, but who You said I could be.
This is all that I am said she and each morning
She had her long suck.
Deep bottles of purple wine.
You are mine I rose up standing out, like a tower
Made from marble, white as snow.
From the hand on the clock seconds moved, against
The night before dawn came.
For women beget what no men can not, foam on the Rocks, washed to far out to sea.

All Thing's That Live Must Die

All things that lived must die.

Every church will ring their bells but not who's last,
Fortold.
Precognition yes the few their secrets kept because,
The truth is different from the rest who dream and must get up.

Underneath the sky that's grey or blue or black, who know
Look up.
And secrets that are known there really not but knowing,
Fear to speak of what they've seen a secret it is not.

I am not religious but of faith the masses know and fear
What they can't know, makes dying worse.

Who will be here when the wind no longer blow's?
That winding river's to the sea will cease to flow!
All thing's that lived must die, the heart will cease to beat
The hands grow cold the lip's turn blue, but this you all must know.

And flame's the earth a circle holds no more, yet you make more!
Just to watch them die and youth's no more.
And you my friend of faith where will they go, when children not
Of you are then laid low

A simple honey bee that flys no more and hunger claim's
The youngest still.
The sea so vast and deep will blow away and cease to quench Man's thirst his woman know.

For ever even now is halfway gone and the moon has fallen
Never to rise again.
And knowledge yea, the miserly will with hold,
And she gives birth again as those here that are left,
As the sky it falls.

The strangest reason they give birth, knowing
All that lived must die.

Into That Gentle Night

On the cusp of life that one called life,
Youth all shared, shall have it's say;
Open or shut a dying man grows blind.

No dying man,
These written words back when men
Always died.

Into that good night the wise would always like,
Giving hope when hope was faith and faith was all Men had.

Rage denial that the sun would set and never rise,
Good men and the bad their equal lot's.
While women waited about a man a man that never lived
As men should live.

And you my father priest who cried for none at all
And cursed me with a blessing none should have.
Into that good gentle night, eye's closed in peace reposed,
A dying man nor women dead will ever see the light.

Number Fifteen Sara Teasdale

Why should I care about rain and or snow,
About your green leaves that were silver and gold.
Or on a bush on that hill that will never be seen!
Or all of the trees that you climbed as a kid,
But summer was ours by the sea.

But lovely my dear, I really cared, I confess to you that I did.
Taken from me as a leaf caught up tossed around in the wind,
And trapped in a wave, a wave none could see.
There we once we're and now we're both here,
Quite, Silent and still, lost in our love and at peace.

Real Poetry Is Mostly Not

Real poetry isn't an opinion or a quote.
And without an equal measure of pain that real True pain,
Pain that turns your guts inside out, well it's not
About never having and never lost.

My favorites are those who've committed suicide,
That one act that cannot be taken back.
Poetry isn't trivial advice in the pursuit of What never is.

There must be enough information for the reader
To use in thought but not too much to lose sight of What it is that many different think.

If you reread it and give it extra thought a poem is Though without spending thousands of hours, Rereading the dead a master is.

A good poem may come by accident a bad one can have many Wasted hours in it,
Confidence is a true believer in one's self,
But garbage is.

Like surfing, like any discipline you have to pay your dues
And no one becomes popular by telling the hard truth.
Mistakes in punctuation and editing can be corrected but Nothing can help a poet more than love, loss and pain and suffering A poet is.

Being Alone After Love

Gone is the music flat waves,
To far to see and to old to be what Other's still have left to have.

It is here nearly gone, the cup once was full
And being once filled, left that cold, cold hole
In my heart.

I once was the tree and you were the bush,
Filled with leaves.
And as the tide begins to recede the sea is Even now full of rocks.

I see the small fish in their very small pond and try
Not to wonder if there able to have larger thoughts.
I lay in the surf seeking release and the water is Over my head.
Growing weary and tired of being alone, after love.

Alone By The Sea

Alone I am by the sea,
With no one to love or see.
Giving I have gave,
And no one to take what I give.

I am alone by the sea, see the waves,
That wash my soul clean.
Faraway seen, from the white mountain
Tops, like a ship with it's sails unfurled.

Alone by the sea I am, crashing waves
Try to drag me beneath.
To me there can never be, a better medium
For here there is nothing but peace.

Why I Am Yours

Why I am yours, yours to be loved,
Lost in the moment that's when I listen to you.
Found in the wind, heard in the whisper
When the rest are asleep all is still.

I love you and you have loved me all can see,
A soul with such light it's too bright.
Yes, you are you and I am still me, caught
In the music of the wind, moving leaves.

To deep I am in and you've forever sung out,
Blind and deaf to the world we've kept out.
Raw the true passion of love, a love that can last Flying high like a thrush in the wind.

If Death Is Kind Then I Must Go

If death is kind I must go and if hearing that Other's coming back to life in giving life to die.
Low and white the sea the sand is brown
And every trail I walk leads me down into the sea.

Tonight the fragrance of the day, magnolias own
The night and if the moon.
Bending down and over you the light is pale,
But you.

Some strange reason why I think in life I'm free?
Breakers crash against the shore and how I loved the sea
A minute sixty seconds the star light is blue tonight.
If in death I'm looking down then all of us are free to be
In life what we were not and happy free to be.

My Treasure I Hide From The Sea

My treasure I hide from the storms, as the Water turns to foam on the rocks.
She when I'm weary will say as she sighs,
Read the hidden words and remember my works
Comfort in night and long days.
I have drank with my lips from the sea and the sea,
Is not hidden from me though the rest
Whom see will not tell.
As sure as it sings that one special song, the song
That it sings for me.

How Do I Know You Still Love Me

How do I know you still love me?
It is summer now, turning to fall and Blankets of snow now surround me.

Given to me by you, knotted in silk
Each different knot and each different pearl,
Together each strand reflects you on me
As the mirror in the sun burns like fire.

How can I tell you still love me?
As one finger so soft runs around each of my breasts,
Like the loving firm hand,
That molds each face from the white clay, from all of the days before.

Your bush of green leaves by a gardener like me, has been thinned
Of it's leaves by me.
And the crown of the tree, the tree that is me and by my roots
That grow deep in the soft fertile ground,
Shows that I'm still in love with you and you with me.

Herpes And Cold Sores

In the corner of his or her lip's,
A virus explodes for all to see, hidden down beneath.
How does it make you feel?
Not being told by he or she, that you will.
Under stress, I've heard it makes them grow.
At the corner of her mouth it tingles red and stings,
And in plain sight he does, what I have never done.
The embarrassment of being seen as one who has,
Succumbed to lust and wear that bage of hurt that never Goes away.
And Knowing where your mouth has been, is not the way
To start each day, you know?
And there are those that lie and say, hey it's just a cold sore
When it's really herpes.
Lucky me I've kept it in my pants and my lips are clean,
And clear, it's not worth me taking Chance's with my health.
You know it's gross and the deluded call them cold sores, when
In fact it's really herpes.

An Almost Letter

I first met you at Suncoast,
A mental health facility where most like me
Went as well.
You once worked for Florida's, D.C.F.
Your small light cinnamon colored hands held out
Their attraction to me.

My diagnosis of,

White Male, Age: 59

I see in you, angels and God, when once a month
We meet.
And you know I'm obsessed over my fourteen year old Daughter who's been taken away from her mother four times
Since I left.
Having her at age forty five and her mother my first and Only wife that I married in a church at forty two.

Ambitious your dream is to work with veterans, where as
My only dream is to be reunited with my only child, my daughter.
I constantly thank you and by this I can only hope that
You never become overwhelmed by me.

ANGELS AND GOD'S , but never having met, I have never touched one.
Being young go with the famous and learn about those who've been harmed.
About fame worry not, leave your healing mark
On the Bodies and Soul's, you've to meet.

If I had never met you,

I would probably have been sent off to jail or prison.
So unfair to you and I like so many other's but in there not you,
Or to me.
I cannot say if in the end it was best like this.

Sincerely Yours,
I endeavor to remain, James McLain

Gutmaster 10 - Her Open Lip's

Through all the struggling with my sister
i started to kiss her open lips
and knead my sisters breast through the bra
and her blouse, and her panties open FULL became.
and just you read wanting more and more.
The sensation was too much for her
and she slowly started to relax allowing me to play with her body
when her milk laden breast started to leak.
I was so thirsty and my too was jutting out under her shorts.
The moment I felt my sisters breast milk in my hands
I lifted the loose end of the Saree
and started to open her blouse looks pale rich fully while my sister tried to prevent me.
Removing the hooks was too tedious, 'so I caught hold of her blouse and tore at it, ripping it with the eye teeth.
The act shocked and excited my sister and she gave a loud gasp.
Then I pulled the bra up exposing both
the white milk laden breast with the dark chocolate nipples and big aureoles. I groped both the breast with my hands and my lips descended to the nipples.
The moment I sucked the nipples
my sister gave a groan and milk started to jut out into his mouth.
Suddenly the baby started to cry
and my sister forcefully pushed me out away.
She tried to cover her breast with the Saree
while picking up the baby
and quickly ran to another, ' ROOM but not that far away.
I was really disappointed
and at that moment mine too by her made a leek
as I thought that the milk
which I had drunk from my sister is gone through me as well.
But I was afraid
as if she might tell to our mama about this
and I thought about the other situations.
It will be a big shame for me.
So I had decided to leave San Fransisco, as early as possible.
Next morning I woke early and packed my dress
and told mama that I am going to my home

and then he called my sister
and I was afraid and shame to look into her eyes
and I said goodbye to her in a low voice
and mama dropped me OFF at the bus stand.
I thanked God for several times
because if mama came to know about that what will be ours the news situation.
But my sister asked me to wait until again next year, she became.

Gutmaster 9 - The Whole Smile

You start to smile under the moon.
Your smile is free, under the moon.
You with two hands, back and forth.
Your mind you can never make up.
You cry out, wishing you wouldn't.
You need just plain old release.
You found that horse, I gave away.

Gumaster 8 - Chained To Your Shame

You hang, loving all of your misery, hurt crying nailed on a bed, and comfort is two rocks, you bash against, chained in all your shame.
Eyes drip blood, it's as real as laughter,
Sleeping on the bed with your on brown spikes,
Bruised, torn, and pink moss dripps, onto
The strile linoleum waxed floor.

You on your wall of shame dripping red drops of you,
my keys rattle, the doors left ajar, oven red,
you drip, as he trips over you, breaking his neck.
And you are left hanging, only then do you stop laughing.

Gutmaster 7 - A Gutmaster's Trick

Why tease you?
You know why you, are here.
Bring me your chains, now!
Shut up, do it!
That mirror wont make it tomorrow.
Yesterday placed you here,
right here, right now, for me to what?
You eye the wall, your solitude.
You feel it in your guts,
how they turn and roll,
your stomach jumps as if alive.
It is alive in anticipation,
your torments refuse hanging out.
Assumed positions,
last horizontal, all the dotted white lights.

Gutmaster 6 - Chained Up Normal

You have been seen there, hanging, on the wheels that slides you, up and down.
At will,
as you now can't be seen without it.

They see your rise and your fall,
to cry out without shame.
Eventually you will admit,
that this chain,
that you pull your self up and down on with,
is not normal nor paradoxical.

Without judgement you reason,
And these chains, that you wear, seems to you now normal.
Having no shame,
How is it that you bare them..at all?

Gutmaster 5 - How High Can You Hang

Woman, loud now you cry,
I can only ask you why?
No one has even chained you yet,
to the bloody wall.

Look at all of the yellow tears cried there,
White as powdered snow.
Drifting down the alleyways so everyone
Will know.

Time how much time, would you waste,
Could you even last?
Then hurry up and come!
Come here to wear you were when last.

Those chains you made,
before even Caligula found you so infatuating.
Come, come here and climb,
Climb up the wall and moving you are not.

Impaled in place they still try to move
they are your hands and feet.
You would come again, to know your fate,
I can hear the sound of your heart beat.

James McLain

Gutmaster 4 - Do You Like The Pain Of Chains

You liked to be chained high up, off of the floor?
Low to rise and flow and moan,
To grow no more!
Rivers of blood to wide to grow?
Then come up to the door,
I would hear you knock.
Do not be afraid,
To beg,
As it can be as once it was before.

Gutmaster 3 - Gutmaster Of Lore

Hanging up high where all can see, as she deserves.
I walk around her.
She has presumed that the Court's,
Will condone child abuse!
The father is by their now know mistakes, kept away.
No one can see her subconscious chains.
Corruption, Yes and or No!
I have questions and they by you are?
To the point as they ignored rise and then fall.
With a wet poignet plop, justice is blind
And has passed to the left, then to the right.
Of the two parent's it is now obvious to all,
That she is the weakest link.
Twords what is in the best interest of our child!

Traveling Into Solitude

There are the few, then there are the Rest of them.
Chatter boxes, bipolar manic woman, that men
Try to escape from.
Those that are men over here are of course put,
Into jails or prisons.

The magic of silence,
For the blessed few are able to dream any dream
Night or day
And prearrange the out come of what they dream, while Wide awake before going to bed.

Without the preconceived notion of very hard work, to Obtain the solution,
To each master piece, each work of art, even the words
That to most can't conceive.

For those few that have come they have not the ability,
To put up with the rest that make useless noise.
Precognition, remote viewing, complex math the writing of music,
The ability to master in a brief period of time
Most cerebral disciplines that take the rest fovever to learn,
If they are blessed with that special genetic material.

Because for most that can travel into solitude, creates within
That unnatural fear,
The fear that most have of living and dying alone.

A Wall

O my heart! How through it's walls you grasp Love could stay or love pass.
Your face, my eyes I gasp, the paint
The pain that love I feel won't last.

Green and full,
Each bush it's leaves none but I may pass.
And round the rocks beneath the moon,
And I can see what is and what is not.

Trees so tall you touch the crown, the sky
Is within reach,
The city throbs with life and with bright lights.

And in her hands I find myself, whom gave to it
Who if we're you,
Would give as well and let no other past.
To die each night
and be reborn with each new day sunrise.

The wall my heart, each chamber sleeps within,
A garden filled with roses there, the gardener
Slips away from my good heart, she said.

When hope is a bird, a healthy bird it rises
And floats away.
And sees the brick, the wooden fenced,
The wall that keeps us all within and let's Nobody out.

Before The Sun Sets

Before the sun sets and the moon
Once bright, begins to fade away from sight.
And the candle from both ends I burned,
The barest whisper of a breeze has now put out.

The sun is not as glitter all have seen,
It's half and half.
Hello fresh and green before us those that came,
And have seen what is no longer there.

Love burns hot, why lust burns hotter still,
And a poke,
Is just a poke a cowboy, riding said.
Not having seen what you have seen, there where You now live.

The moon has risen now the sun has set, it sets
For all, some sooner than the rest.
To blind to see, to busy working just to live,
And they have lied and they stand by,
Placing bets that you won't live to see but sixty five.

Happiness

Happiness is quite apparent by the looks Upon their faces.
It hides the pain we feel inside, when the skies
Above are grey.
Like a child that cannot speak, the happy glitter
In her eyes.
And peace is for the ones who teach of wars
so far away.

Love Song's

In the deep of night while I'm asleep
You poke me in the side.
And in lucid dreams, it is a dream a dream
Where I wake up,
Rubbing sleep from my each eye.

Clean and Swift and Crystal clear as
The water that all drink.
Panic is not uncommon though for those who Cannot swim.

I remember what and who you are, not who you
Were, beauty to a prelude, deep in sleep as death moves
On, right past your beating heart.
Pure of thought as ocean waves pound off of distant shores,
And on the rocks where we once sat.

The singing of the song a song we sang, when we in Love, were both alive.

Love Is Far So Far Away

I spoke words unspoken, that I spoke for you.
Words of love, words of hope I spoke for you,
I'm all but moving still.

Bushes thick and green will soon turn brown,
Tree's you've leaned against will loose their crown's.

For I left Pearl's against your breasts, knotted
Silk each knot, I tied for you.
Such beauty fades, I've seen it come and go.

Forgotten by them all and seen by few,
A faded photograph in black and white.
Colors always fade away and are seen by those Who see with aged,
the eyes of youth now gone, far, far away.

Each leaf upon the tree a leaf of song, while Full each bush that's filled with words, words Spoken by but few who dream in song.

Against the sky, where the star's are each a background
Of my words so far away.
And of myself I give to all, even you.

After Love Comes Death

One of these days you will know,
Love comes after death.
Falling star's that never fell from
The night sky.

I'm now lost and don't know where
To turn, lonely and how it aches.
Now that you are still, you have to Listen to what I have to say.

Death comes from your love,
I love you came while I was still alive.
One of these days, one remains alone,

See the sky is bright, the sky is high,
Much too high and much too bright
To feel what once was love even after parting
My friend death to speak of love.

Far And Few Between Come Other Woman

Eye's meet and Sparks may fly,
But it's easier to feel the chemistry simply just by touching.
Most want to talk and I will listen,
I will listen to each one and by the gaining their trust
I have made a friend that wants to talk.

Over time I have stopped looking for her face,
Though I do not, can't compare to what is gone.
Those that make me think and those who think
As well,
Are like those dreams you sometimes dream
Not everyday.

Here Where We're At, I Know You Mean Well

Here where we're at I know you mean well
Some have come and gone from the four corners of the world
Where to many believe all the lies that are told
When I was young I followed the wrong crowds in the streets Trying to find out just where I belonged
Where a boy's not a man and a man's not a boy

Now here in America the waters not clean
And mammon they have followed and too long they have known
It's not now safe to drink
Now how many women and men are in love, love and the price
That you know and it's costs
Sold on each war and the debts that we pay
Yes the dust in the air casts out blood red moonlight
Kneeling in the shade we can't catch our own breath

Few know the game but more know the pain of chasing
A dragon that burns in the rain
And it's only here where they read what I write Fighting the fight here the corrupt will not fight
And about that one God and his each different house
Placing a chip in your children's head and changing
The way about what genius is

No matter how bright it's all still out of reach
Here where I live the homeless are jailed
And a profit must give but here must never take
Where worse for wear again I must be born
To read about what I in some other life
Now have misgivings about what's now going on Where the ice that has melted must flow out somewhere
To change what's been done the people must care

Being poor, dreams are only drempt while asleep
Walls without door's now are all that are seen Awaken each mind each mind lucid that thinks that someone Else will solve each their own out of reach While wisdom is lost none now dare to think to think About you that they care

Safe From The Storm

And at night tucked deep in bed,
Inside asleep, where I am warm.
Inside where I will be safe, safe from
The heart aches, safe from the storms.

Before the bud was formed, before

And every night I cried more tears,
Uncomprehending white face in my hands,
I came to you each night.

Safe from those storms,
Each night to love and know.

That one good night beneath the moon,
Do you still remember?
The turning sky as you looked up, star's

Treasure buried deep, yes can I still remember
A white veiled queen who never sleeps,
Bathed in light her king.

And With What Body Did She Come

And with what body did she come?
When she rejoices I can't run!
Luminosity the moon, I ask what Door?
Walking the night in pale moon light.

Face to face, I see through her eyes,
And she through mine.
It's only after I wish, I wish I knew,
And with that body she has come.

To finally know that it was real,
In sleep it's there we pass to kiss.
A pitcher cold and full with milk,
Without the snow, grows warmer still.

The Bum And The Rocket Man

Like his one small hand in the dead pool tickling her blind face.
Can little hands represent tree's that are small and malnursed?

Portly and proud that a potty mouth throwing rocks across his own land and Japan!
What would the bum do to U.S. if he could, is he even now in the dark room, running small hands up the skirt's of those who would not let him.

The big muscle that the other's have had, like a fast moving stream passed him by.
What really is a sexual predator that would ignore the word no, where other bum's in the streets would not.

Rocket man, oh dear, the rocket man is not in any way like Elton John.

Elton John a friend to all men and women alike, I think that the rocket man would kill Elton if he could.
The children of his proclaimed enemies he has ruthlessly killed.
Killing his own Uncle with an anti-aircraft round through the window of his small head.

The bum and the rocket man are friends I think, we now know mistakes by the good were made.
To undo them, would you if you could?
Making money by killing U.S. you now know!

In my dreams the bum climbed up on top of the rocket man and flew up and off and the rocket explodes.
Leaving behind for U.S. a better world!
Where we use wind and not gas to get U.S. every where.

Joy

I would be happy once again to see your face
And the glow that's not mistaken for a blush.
She would be as I would be, happy with my head
Upon her breasts.

The taste of wine upon her lip's the grape's I grow,
And she would barely leave a mark upon the sand.
I could never be as full the day before,
When evening came the stars we'd watch as they Would fall.

No bitter root, no costly fall, electric is her touch
Green leaves wrap around the bush there by the tree.
More than joy could ever give and yes the pain, I would Endure forevermore.

Freedom free of fear inside of me,
The violence makes me shake it should not be.
Either love or hate that drives what should Not be, hate is hard, yea love is always sweet.

Yet free to pray and free to give what other's Mean will never give.
She was moist when young with tears to shed,
There in his inner most private self.

To the one's who never learned what they could do
And in doing what one did,
Caused me to hide her heart in my inner sanctuary.

And God with a million lying eye's was still most wise.

Wedged Is The Hip Splitter

By my parting of these words,
these certain very words.
Herein because, I move it thus aside,
of that and when from you, I am.
Certain muscles wrapped around inside,
my fingers do.

The bush my hand upon is fire then ice.
Each leaf is free to move and feel,
it feels the face is red it's bulged blue veins.
And breath sucked in the fingers roam
beneeth the moon, it floats.

Does she proper beg to whom he is?
Inside so deep those bending, elbows are.
Moans, she cries and.
Doing all of that and can't be stilled.
The beating heart when touched, feels as.
The splitting of the hips when quite, she is naught.
The chilly water vapors warm the swamp.

Blowing winds this foam up to my knees,
his legs are never straight.
The swirling of the tidal pools, her eddies are.
Index finger, thumbed along each hidden muscled length.
It pulls it in and doing nothing, pushed.

The nerves are pointed buds around the open door,
wheels and rings start ringing more, because.
And speaking words that never were by him, not said.
The light within your open mind it always thinking, read.
It heard them not from me and moving you they did.
Again, against between the river flowing never said.
I said to you, I am, I only can it rears the moon.

And the things that woman think they seek, some fear.
The fire my hand it burns the bush, the folded lips,
both rings I often come too know.
Lifting up my hands you dreaming part the clouds,

two elbows moving waves they always are.

Even After The Glitter Fades

See how the green vine it grows.
Evening dew, moving so slow
I can't begin to keep the pace.

Open petals close,
to rest against the open slopes.

I feel oppressed, as I undress in Florida's, moist warm humid heat.

This is where I turn to you,
as tears run down my cheeks.

Feel me shiver, hold me up, against the dry green leaves.

And if your longing is for lost words,
I feel each beat of your heart.

Deep within as it beats, I feel a rising tide in my chest.

Don't question me at length,
to ask me why it slowly does and just is.

After the glitter fades,
like the sun, I briefly shone!

I Used To Have A Purpose

I used to have a purpose and my pain like yours once had some understanding.
And like yours,
my white thin shell molds more than a shallow undertaking.

The good heart of a man knows when the fruit will always break.
And knowing that in death the door has closed.

Would you do you know that he has asked for someone else,
and each miracle that you see and hold that has caused you, your great joy.

The warning sign you hung upon their wall, gave you less to talk about.
About how far that one can fall through words when strung together were worth more than he once said!

Did he naught to you I'd ask, yeah or neigh?

You hold me off,
while I have always held you in and have thought like all the rest I'm just like them.

In your heart is this a sin or business sense?
And yes you know of my regrets for regrets can change the meanest of all men.

Would you watch my pain with eye's that see the winter of my grief and yes it comes.

To covet what one has one has not earned like the few who have worked hard.
When as a child a lantern was much needed
just to see.

Men and many women have this pain that is self-chosen and unaware of this have turned to drugs or alcohol!

Yeah the knowledge through your hand has kept you well and bitter potions far at Bay.
And the truth that through discernment have you ignored?

Wise is such a man who has a heavy hand he need not use.
And though heavy and still hard, he has guided it by love that keeps his hand, Unseen.

And if the Potter molds the cup from which you drink, fashioned from the clay from where you live and sometimes stay.
And now knowing this,
you know that your red cup is made from loving tears.

The Garden Of Our Year's

To day before tomorrow when it comes
As Irma, threatens U.S.
Year's have passed most by and in living Dying have.

Cloud's that cross the sky have not arrived
And few will dance outside.
From the surge and rising tide that from the wind
One cannot hide.

So yes that single rose that I have set aside,
For you.
The wind and rain will come and they will claim
A circle that is wet upon the ground.

Through her,
Remember me and not before our lonely year's.
Though for her my heart may beat but sir, I'm drowning
In my tear's.

Florida Polk County Red Neck Grady Judd On Hurricane Irma

Irma: Florida sheriff threatens jail for anyone with outstanding warrants seeking shelter

By Rachel Siegel September 7 at 2: 30 AM

Florida sheriff threatens to arrest people with warrants at Irma shelters

The Polk County Sheriff's Department in Florida announced it would not allow sex offenders or people with warrants to stay in shelters during Hurricane Irma.

(Amber Ferguson/The Washington Post)

Beneath a graying sky that foreshadowed the hurricane to come, Polk County Sheriff Grady Judd shrugged.

'Never before did I think that we'd be beat up for giving people a warning and keeping people safe, ' he told local television crews. 'But hey, that's okay.'

He was referring to criticism that followed a string of tweets from his office Wednesday morning saying that anyone with an outstanding warrant would not be admitted to shelters during Hurricane Irma. Though some of the tweets singled out sexual offenders and predators, others said all people with warrants would be better off turning themselves into a secure space of a different kind — jail.

'If you go to a shelter for #Irma, be advised: sworn LEOs will be at every shelter, checking IDs. Sex offenders/predators will not be allowed, ' read one tweet, using an acronym for 'law enforcement officers.' The thread came from the Polk County Sheriff's Twitter account, which uses a photo of Judd.

'If you go to a shelter for #Irma and you have a warrant, we'll gladly escort you to the safe and secure shelter called the Polk County Jail, ' read another tweet, which received more than 7,800 likes. It had also garnered more than 7,800 replies by early Thursday morning, largely from users chastising Judd for potentially endangering people with warrants as a Category 5 hurricane ripped through the Caribbean and beamed toward Florida.

She, Is Afraid He Is Tired

Wherever you are
He is there
And now you're afraid
He is tired

And his heart
That you made with
The passing of time is
The love you both made
But erased
With one smile

Nights full of love
And the star's how they shine
Inside on fire like the sun

In the light face to face her shadow
Now lost, now and forever

He's left without all her love and one faraway sun that still smiles
And God's love lass and yes
She's afraid that he's tired

Sex Under A Vacant Condemned House

Torrents rain blindly flying air crying in torrents hair matted skull to face blanket used laid.
Light dim cracked features of la ired trusses has slowed wind.
Discarded old food rotting in boxes packed dirt ridge floor.
Bodies musky funk decimated ode rs of prior use undistilled.
Back against wall wondering not knowing many unwashed hopelessness impassioned acts desperation's released shells spent bodies discarded hulls adrft under these floors.

Missed Chances

Beside her open lip's, one's green and white Say her and I.
Chance's missed on purpose when were young
And urge's we both had like you and I.

Only here to us do words mean more, more Than words should mean to us out there.
Decernment and with grace they should mean more,
But his lips don't move as often as hers do.

The skill she has it plays upon his heart
And when touched by him right there it's always hot.
He has no useful need to drink strong wine,
She thinks that his long island iced teas are much to strong.

Eye's bluer than the bluest sky are even brighter in the night
And the star's are more than blue and white a snowy mountain is.
In wait and open even in deep sleep, he hears her but he Knows it naught she hears.

Quite desperation and it's obvious, how to never let it show
Them green and white they tremble so.
Across a finger length wise but what of the missed snow?

She needs to hear him say that he loves her and lost to only
Him is the power of the like.
And should she know his name but never asked,
Gone right past them both alone the chance they missed.

I Now Can See Old Age

I now can see old age and youth I see today, a dream, no it's a veil a veil that cannot stay.
The market sells a peach, blonde of hair
that's fair, not an apple nor the pear.

Liquid water is the air, the air I need to breath,
when as a child I could not see.
The wind the moving leaves surrounded by the trees, I am no more.

All the land is now reclaimed and built upon,
and painted shows the mind inside each home.
Crossing from one side there is no bridge,
without a bridge I've reached the other side.

Unlike the rest a burning hole inside my chest, was not a vice.
Though not deaf, I hear the young girl's all that say,
look, be he bald or grey.

I have over heard and to them say, I thought my youth was here to stay!
My hands once young and yes my fingers were then long,
but are no more.

How much longer can he live the way he does,
he lives without a woman all alone.
They will come when I am gone but not yet done,
and they will come to take what I in turn have left behind.

Looking down at what I see,
I see that time it has not stopped though it moves right past the spot where I once stood.
And I now see their youth as once like mine it melts away.

Long Moving Sexual Feelers

My head is buried in the ground
Where she can see
And everything she said she did Not mean

I stab and stab and stab I touch
Her heart
She can tell that when I yell that I meant everything

The tree she says is heavy look
I cannot move,
The roots are heavy, brown and thick
She thinks they move around

Yes to her I say,
as she pulls it from the ground
Listen I don't care
Other's here have died I heard
Just from the pain

Unrelatable

Like you, I never tried and I was told,
That I was unrelatable!
Many tried to break my will and steal
My pride, unable to see that both each side

Living here not ever there, unspoken intolerance,
A book not read, because you couldn't relate
To it you left it on the shelf.
Yes, they keep us all afraid to better know
Just how you feel and keep you down I know.

Oh, after all the drama made and what of love
I only love you all the more, not ever less Than I have loved before.

We all had dreams when we were young,
That when asleep, that moved inside our head's.
Can you not just take a chance and see I'm Just like you?
Since I never ask I ask of you.
To wear my shoes and feel the warmth that's you?

Dear, Attorney Ambrose About My Only Child My Daughter

Dear, Attorney Ambrose

What Caroline has been forced to endure has at the very least been detrimental to her brain development?

Her frontal lobes being at best seventy five percent if that developed.

Having been since I've been gone, has caused her to be emotionally abused that has produced either heightened or prolonged activation of the stress system that will result in her later-life behavior.

And the bogus attempt to mollify me, based on my own abused experiences, leaves me with that sour taste, the taste of disgust, that one knows when being told to achieve an outcome, that you already know.

Psychological experts are now more sure than ever as to how these early-life experiences change the brain,

any reasonably intelligent person now knows that the brain responds by changing its structure, gene expression, and function.

And to dismiss this reasonable argument should prohibit anyone who thinks otherwise, from having or playing a role in my daughter's still developing mind.

Would you not agree?

How do we help a traumatized child recover?

There is no magical insight about an individual untrained in child abuse and their future behavior as was just recently tried in court by untrained D.C.F. worker's opinion as to why Caroline was Baker acted.

Or that Caroline could understand the ramifications of her actions, other than to find a way to extricate her self from that her group home surroundings.

Where self reporting as you suggested, would in the future find her.

Right?

Instead, heightened caregiving and therapy involving social behavior is now the key.

Unfortunately all have for year's have known that Karen has never possessed the where with all to change her self destructive behavior.

Attorney Ambrose, we are all social creatures, and our social interactions in early life design the brain to greatly influence the person that we will one day become.

Please Respond!

Sincerely,

James McLain

Her Secret Death Was Another Redundant Death

She helped to feed the poor and shoed their cold bare feet.

She had a habit of sweet trust,
that few other's tried to meet.
Her eyes that loved the light sometimes sleeping under the moon.

Though the night was not the sun,
some of those she helped hid their dark thoughts.
Her face beneath the mask flowed into each body that she met and a few could feel her pain.

Her body when they found it bore a stain,
it was ripped and swallowed whole.
Washed in time and lost in human pain,
bathed in their tears of misery.

Deep Out Of Sight In The Light

Deep in the night, deep out of sight,
She is heard.

Under a blanket of flesh where she lay,
beneath the moon, shooting stars.

Whisper's of love, unknown to the rest,
being touched here, being touched there.

Being in love, two rings of fire under the trees, deep in the night, deep out sight, coming here where none but us hear.

A white swallow is seen flying by.

Dominion Death Will Have

Dominion death will have over that witch lives and lived but lives no more.

Even from the South and more shall come and each shall hold each other more to blame.

Dominion death shall have as seen from space and those who have shall follow as before.

Before death when men were scarce and prophets spoke and thus foretold how men would die.

And now a mind once strong has death made weak here in the west the ground comes with a price.

Though there in death and all he sees with open eye's
the sight of death is but a foggy memory.

And bones once covered in soft skin the dying being young have not forgotten, death has not.

Evil here as there has taken hold and half believe if love is real that death here cannot stay.

Hurting other's just to hurt, Dominion death then has,
the snapping of the neck feels good to someone sick.

Dominion death shall have the breadth of all that once had sight but sees no more and death no need has of.

The leaves once green upon the bush that ring the cypress trees
Dominion death shall have it bids us each good night.

Tomorrow with the breaking of the dawn yes death shall know, unbiased never wrong

though some may try to hide death knows us each by name.

Dominion to the young and old and death to all have name's.

The Last Drop Of Alcohol

The last drop of alcohol from yours my glass lip and has led to my,
numb mind stemming from pain subconsciously.

I was unthinking once famous but now long dead,
through rings of smoke and the look of purple haze.
Taken from the past the future holds each of my,
our fatal condition.

Choosing to live,
my grief is frozen pitied remorse concerning those a life is taken.

Home is just a word, a place a very dark park,
a shadowed niche,
a dimming switch inside a mouth then swallowed.

Again tomorrow comes and it is not that soft upon the eye drifting by a window has it's harkened in my last sunset.

Hold Me Here

Night's finally come and now my journeys nearly done
I have been trying to get in touch with only you Year's have passed and now the ground is under the sea
Have you, can you know that I've been thinking, Thinking of you
And truly how many have known, known about this While every letter from each book falls open
To that page
Telling all of us to live with love and not with hate
Though so many tears from every face they fall upon the ground
As living rain
As they whom hate the one's they love and lonely without love Must live in fear
Every day the planes I hear you on the way but never here
You left me there, with a message in your heart that they can never hear
Tell me when you leave that I am coming back
Love can mend the fence our fingers tips can meet
Because I see through the windows of your eyes

The Public In Not The Public Anymore

I as a child more than a dream, to decide.
Off of the path a wide moving stream, up and down Near the door that for some, those more than some adrift as with those less than some.

The world that is now not for those, afraid of the sun.
Knowledge not given to find in the soul, not seen in their eyes.
Way beyond what was once found to be found,
how it once was before.

High humidity combined with the heat, well, hour's on in, seeing the great divide and the pain right before a few without thought would kill for.
Incest, isolated pockets of nothing else but what animals once fought for.

As if children to young, able to think past this nearly gone day, unable to speak but that knows right from wrong.
To divide and conquer, pitting one point of view over the other,
just to buy time he never said.
Wondering why he, was before her allowed up there while knowing that if left unchecked a death, or (death's) would from 1609 up unto be still allowed.

Knowing You Well Left A Hole In My Heart

Knowing you well left a hole in my heart
Some how you knew just how that I felt
And feeling the way that you knew that I felt
Will we both know the end when it comes Word's with real meaning when they are heard
The earth will stop spinning and no one will care
Water and bread is all some are fed
Two million people are in all their jails
Listening I hear more than two voices in my head Secrets from them at all cost must be kept Having never met them they know me to well Being kept in the dark without any light
I sit in the center I sit in one spot and hope to be found
And worry in fear that I will be found out
Knowing that some of my words don't have the same meaning
While meaningless thoughts pass right through my head
I know you mean well I see through his eyes the end of your world
And where I can live none have lived there before
Each day I watch the cloud's that float by hoping to catch
A glimpse of magestic birds that can fly
Bird's without hope Emily has said can't but fall from their nest
Blind is our rage we see nothing but red Hurting each other wishing us dead other's with Thoughts, thoughts empty these head's
I've been trying to get in touch with the man
A house that is full yet empty and warm Woman or man here children are abound and Love of life is to short to be found
I am not sure just what to think now so like a cloud I'll fade away how Pin prick's in the sky is light we see now
With wide open eye's that one day will close
I'm laying in bed unable to sleep wondering if you Could see what I see a dreams not a dream
Dreaming I dream there just out of reach Closing my eyes I used up my time I am gone

Loving you has always been, kinda.

And from the bottom it is that they know of, if really free.

Weeping as I do when certain movie's are on.

When finally it dawned on you that your outward appearance really was.

When unknown were those that spoke on how to now became as they once we're.

And of grace that fills the room when you walk in.

Vein of those alive who knew of they who knew them not.

And unto that a heart could harbor what few knew.

Asleep with a smile on my face, since I retired.

Faithfully at peace in your place.

He might present the weakest evidence,
to the grand jury.

Going back to when he began his declaring

Having the best attorneys for free that have can and will overcome, if evidence is kept out would have gained more evidence had the investigation went on for two more months.

A path once walked in and out of, different ways, every time would in lite of this become problematic.

When I Must Go

When I must go to where it then was Before there was sleep and darkness stretched far
And caught by the wind like leaves living began

There where it was the future the past
No love, no hate nor sweet sorrow regrets
Above us no change no thoughts
When I must go again to where it then was Before there was sleep and darkness stretched far

And caught by the wind like leaves living began
There where it was in your future my past

Above us no change no thoughts shall we see
And now knowing all of this for we shall then all be

What Have I Become

What have I become, those branches on the tree, unmoving in the breeze.

To see what I have lived and live it not again.
I live to sleep and dream, becoming someone else to live it not again.

And pain to someone else, is pain that I have felt,
and standing in the sun, I'm shadowed by the moon.
They my day's are gone, but even if I could, I'd live a different life, a life I should have lived that other's seem to have.

Music that draws tears, a movement lived by year's,
a simple song I'd have, the song that living makes.

And I would have green grass and watch the children play,
If one single day I'd lived, what love of life have lived.
It's late this life I've lived it's gone but if I could, I'd live a different life, the life I never had that other's seem to have.

Music that draws tears, a movement made from year's,
a simple song I'd have, a song that music is.

And I would have green grass and watch the children play,
If each single day I'd lived,
a different life I would now live, a life that I've not lived.

The South Is Like Fried Green Tomatoes

The South is like fried green tomatoes, to me.

Here all my life,

where the snow you have each year, is a blanket,
that covers my fears.

There is a rose hill in every county, next to the cemetery,
a place to visit a jumping off point, from here to eternity.

I have or I once did hear the wind blow, feel it's touch on my face nestled there in the bushes, next to you.

And just beneath the bark of the oak above it's Roots were my tears.

I cannot determine what they've always been,

what they represent nor why the good are not always young.

Bridges crossed but not burned and the winding road I have walked seemed so long.

Lilly's long along the path that lead's us there, where death comes back to check if you are there.

The South is like fried green tomatoes, to me and here it is where I will die, amongst the flies.

and the light,
from the cities obscures them from our sight.

Before we became as we are, did we not seek with wonder and awe, with wide open eye's,

To disappear with the coming of dawn,
with the sun,
not shedding a tear.

Lucid Dreaming

There was a massive investment of time and energy.
Controlling the dream, going places that you knew existed,
but in this life you were unable to get to.
Dreaming of lottery numbers before they are picked,
waking up and writing them down.
Unable to buy a ticket in solitary confinement.
Twenty is not very old,
lucid dreaming for me was the only escape that I had.
There is no longer hope in a dream that few can do,
unless you're a monk in Tibet.
We could recognize each other at the airport, they dressed in Orange robes, due to my current age, I no longer go to the airport.
Facial recognition software is everywhere,
Except in my dreams, I control, where God can meet you and you can greet him anywhere.

I Cannot Make You What You Should Be

I cannot make you what you should be,
to the very young or old that the other's think you should be.
What made you do, what you know that you did,
knowing the harm it would cause?
Far away or close to your chest, the thing's that you did have caused this unrest.
To the young, your future is bright, do you even listen to the words that you hear?
And to the old who have beaten long odds, your still here, to them give them cause, because young or old, one filled with hope.
The other still dreams those dreams that you will,
not just because, because you are the future we need.
If the good women and men continue to turn away,
evil and bad will hold sway.
I cannot make you what you should be, what you should be still beats in your breasts, can't you see?

If that certain one is worth possessing can love be real,
self possessed leaves one alone, unpossessed.
Being possessed in spite of love all alone, face lifted up,
feels all that one feels, even when rain softly comes.

And having life a life that's lived well and a warm hush crimson lip's never touched, lost in you.

Creeping Up To The Edge Of Dawn

How long is a long time?
We all do, as we age as a purple grape right before it is squashed,

And in the time in between coming awake from deep sleep is the dream in a dream.
The dream of where you, or if in sleep
awake, to be thought.

Between her and I, was a wall of thought people thoughts, thoughts no one else had, thinking thoughts
you know, the same thoughts you know you do now.

Before the edge of dawn as it creeps up through your thought, right up before.
Out side you see the hope going by in a stream still uncut from the sky.

The strength in her hand,
As up and out through her fingers.
A broom in a corner
the kind of light, that only comes,
When not yet quite surprised.

Thick, a found out surprise,
real not a shadow.
Where hand's hand's that are white turn black, as black as it was before dawn.

In her hand still asleep, yet there's life,
In the dream.
It may melt at the snow covered top,
In a dream at the top of the world.

That pleasant familiar sound
the only kind of sound that it makes.

Every purple grape, every grape that you popped.

Some Must Wait To Come From There

She came and left and came back as a man, and a few sleep less than the rest.

Just have it in your mind that the rest,
you find have not turned the backs on you in the end.

Being both in this life and the life being lived, asleep as you look at their life that one lived the other way.
Though allowed to dream of those flowing down to the earth,
and as seeing one See's coming back again to here.

As the man in the night,
she sees coming back for more of the same again than here.
Revelstoke the fire as the smoke from their fire as he smokes, than there.

Or being not you, but she or he, the the you that sleeps, still see as you sleep, but yet lives.

And yet they of those, not of you go on those shows, that one lived yet must wait to come again from there.

I Was And Still Am A Living Witness

I am a living witness to it all.

I could hear the people being raped at night,
in every Florida prison they placed me in.

In the last one Union correctional institution, where Florida House's it's death row, the condemned.

I was raped my first night,
staff used this particular prisoner to initiate,
the non-violent to instill terror into the hearts of the few.

Florida signed into law an apology for the boy's that we're killed and raped at Auther D. Dozier school for boy's from it's inception tonineteen seventy three again, of which, I was one of.

The white house where the beatings took place to the unmarked grave's where they disposed of over a hundred young bodies.

For some of you, where you live, in your country,
this may be normal to you.

My personal belief is that when you take a child at risk from an abusive home and do with them as was done unto me, what does an ignorant community expect to receive from these individuals whom were so unmercifully exploited.

More now are dead than alive, some are doing life in Florida's prison's.

The few such as me are the exception, now what do you who live in the south, think about this.

In Florida, I along with over two million other people not on probation in Florida which has no parole, still cannot vote.

I was and still am a living witness to it all and have been out of prison for over twenty years.

Do you really believe that by beating and abusing a child that you can produce a more better rounded child, that will function at a higher level and that the abuse combined with a mean low intelligence.

That Florida's,

backwards thinking government still continue to provide.

That the man with small hands continues to think is alright.

Our Need And Love Of The Act

Can love be all, if it is not mean nor full of hate?
No more being measured by how you look or if in sleep,
You sleep in the nude as rain blows in through the window.
Yes if so I would watch as you have watched over me.
Neither open or closed as I float there above you.
A thousand times in and out, in and out as you call me.
Hate has and certainly can, suck out the life the very life,
Of those whom were raised that way, can you forgive them?
That lonesome dominion called death,
Some but not all have made friends with and then
With them sleep with alone.
Emotionless the very act of slapping faces and the noise
That it makes, until the snow comes as winter fades.
Hate has pinned some down as those filled with love find release.
She has to sell it for food as one good man refuses to help,
Or as she drives by in the shadows he hides.
This makes it so by the love of the act filled to the brim,
As over and over love over flows.
I think you would I think we all would, I am too young to know.

The Shaft Of Fire

Oh because of youth love at first sight,
That he dared to part her two red lips.
And in his arms he held her ever tight,

On fire the setting sun and every star,
Her whispered breath that she released.
The sky is clear of cloud's yet it rained today,
No devil nor an angel reappeared.

Solece In The Art's

We so many need to understand.
The past from where we came to where we are.
To read in word's a thought not heard before.
And wait for love to overcome a world in need,
This world that other's made.
The greatest in the Art's, didn't think the way
That other people thought.
And sad the thought,
It is true that to many took their lives.
Then by your leave may I perfect, where you left off
And for ever live in spring the snow is gone
It just melts away.
And talent, trauma takes and you can't sing.
While writing book's that no one reads and getting lost
In what you hear that someone said.
Solece in the Art's without that big full moon,
And dreaming dreams that other's dream and make them
Happen overnight while other's sleep.
Taking solece in the Art's, when were down and when We're reading feel their pain.

Strange Music That I Hear

I am alone, in spite of those around me,
To give or take affectionate, I am all alone.
At my age I think of death each day,
Alone at birth, what is there left to say.

This arrangement sad, my melodies,
Strange though they may be.
My music when it used to live, my music
Was alive it gave me life.

Have I not and should I not, give Meaning to our lonely lives on earth.
The meaning of each note I hear,
Such proof I am alive above the clouds.

I Am Still Lost In You

Yet I am I pushed deep inside,
Held still until the dawn.
As prominent as the sun and love
The soft sweet beat of your heart.

Our lip's never touched and the ache
Never stopped, when alive.
Yet I am still I and you I still love as
The night must swallow the moon.

I have been there like a diver to deep,
Asleep left to drift in your dreams.
Passionate in love as only the young,
Knows the end of the world when it comes.

The Need To Leave Something Behind

I cannot say how good that you lived your life
We're you shown mercy from some place that you've seen Other's that know some how seem to you kind
Trying to stay in this world some are blind

Every word other's write left since unwritten Mammon is free for the price of a life
And your soul is the price if you try to stay
The money that you leave them is spent in a day

Judging another in our own foreign land
And what you have taken other's gave back
Who are your friends a circle not round
Speaking in tongues beneath the full moon
My pain is much deeper as deep as can pain
If I'm to be judged by what I left behind

Honeys not free when you feel the bee sting
And love can be bought we never were taught
Why I need money to get through your door
Like leaves, wind and wisdom, feeding the poor
The need to leave something behind when I'm done

Coming To Come, Because She Can

Come, come through eyes that see, what they've seen sometimes if what you saw you did not see, the past before.

Through the waves of cloud's they part as you smile,
clinging to that small branch, that floated up to here where you are.

Green every size as each side looks elsewhere, to the spot one can see to the sea the tip of the thorn coming up through the bud of the rose, two open lips that have circled the tip of the top of the world.

Her name when it's said what they've said,
yes in the winter of whatever you saw and what they've always,
seen as they do.
Come to the front of the line, unable to stop very long because of the way

Obscurity

If there ever was any, it lies lost gone, to obscurity.

I knew not how to write, I cannot tell you how, not even why a word takes form.

As living proof as other people do,
and love if love is love of light and dark one can't explain, by lack of sight.

If I were wind and you the leaf, you still would feel a breeze.

While wisdom trapped inside one soul, cannot exists, were told.

The sky it hides the few, the many see,
as star's each night if there's no light weren't there for one to see.

And in-between each star there pools a sea,
the tide can feel.

Though forever out of reach you see the star's,
where one is safe,
and safe one is inside obscured or so I feel.

Listen Even After Death

To every soul once living that's now dead,
And life to those who lived, who are not dead.
To everyone who dreamed, could get a head,
Dreaming now you know who should be dead.

Is vengeance not revenge deferred regrets,
A simple song for you that's played you hear.
If livings right or wrong, life's short or long,
After death it does not matter you are gone.

Youth It's Melody

Youth and it's melody,
Moving as the wind they dance and play.
Her beauty and his grace their claim to fame,
And their candle it burns hot for them today.
Would that if I could with her again,
And knowing what would come it could not change.

Moving through tall grass though it is green,
I cannot cut.
Learning how to read the notes before I wrote
Them down and music's made.

Can a situation ever change all ask themselves,
As what one has composed begins to leave an empty space.
All the pain one's ever felt in just one day,
To leave the rest for love the highest note one's ever felt.

The beauty of their youth and of their soul is music made,
Just her eyes and what they say though I be blind.
And the melody of youth is made of magic that all feel,
His bag is full of oats,
Her roses in the vase cannot resist the hands of time.

The Waves And The Wind The Sound Of The Sea

Surrounded by peace on four sides,
each night, I rise up to face the moon.
Here where we each night can meet,
the waves, the wind the sound of the sea.

My window out side surrounded by green,
and yet through it all, I hear it's call.
She comes to me, I come to see,
the waves as they crash against her, I feel.

Surrounded by peace beneath the cool star's,
the waves and the wind, the sound of the sea.

Nine Inch Nail

Pierced the pine begins to weep, it is hot
the thick sap wells up, over the sides of the bark it it thick.

Over the year's,
the once small cut has grown open and wide.
She thinks I speak of her,
but only when we meet inside both world's.

Nine inch nails are sharp and long, again
the tear in time might hear.
I think we have all night that both can share in the light that is there, the pale that's there before the dawn.

The leaf turned inside out but one can see.

Why Won't Our Young Help The Aged

Though I have died I lived and alive
I would be greeted by the dead.
The grass should be green as it rains,
and how it feels,
the smell that we taste.
As it feels in the dream.
We some,
due to our age as our vision begins to fade.
Love for those few has seen full bloom, the gardens to large to tend.
While the fruit of the tree, once full to the taste.
Before was the past now has flown.
We are now to many and pride is the price, paid in full.
Great are the few whom still in their youth and did learn from those now gone away.
Something tragic has happened as the rest,
have put the aged and the learned some where else.

James McLain

I Will Love You

Moving my hand I rub on the silk, that covers the face I can feel.
Pulled as far up and then again down,
her eye's open wide as it pops.

Pink as far, as far as is seen and no rest, from the end, to my belly and back, on a string and the ache of the heart never seen.

Queer is the feeling I get from rubbing the silk,
under the touch of the moon.
Inside, side to side, the length and the depths
you do dream.

A feather here can't be felt, though the thumb Rubbing, rubs until it grows numb, oil flows from the bud of the rose.

There is nothing about small that she likes,
his trying to look in side the wide pupils, her eyes.
Not being her father, her brother or uncle,
oysters freshly eaten, the shells I toss out with the tide.

Fun Stuff

I long to be what I was, happy and free.
You know the happy stuff, if happy you ever were.
Dreams you had when you wer't young,
to Young to have a dream and die in it.
There inside, alive in it and more alive,
that you had when you were young.
The sun is out, yellow it burned inside of the soul of life breathing green.
The white light can be mistaken once near death one comes back without tears.
Every night's not the last it's said,
through a rose on the wall, the lizard is.
Slowly it rose in a way that the sun in the sky,
on the wall year's ago.
Between you or I in the dream, as colors of red turned the head of her last seen.
Their way up there looking down on us, with their machines, that listened first.
And did they not with open eye's at the sign of hope.
Happy stuff, stuff not having been seen,
like the shadow that touches the sky.
It rose and rose untill it touched the stars and it.
Below the thick wall some have made,
if white vanilla puddled like that made unseen.
Dripping from the spicket it's warm, are the moist humid day's.
Above you inside of the dream, not forgot.
Like a raw sky,
without clouds that shine down, happy stuff that we were as a child.
Lazy asleep in the sun.

Prides Not Power Before The Fall

We can never take it back,
What we said
Or what we did, so we cry.
True regrets,
Who can truly be forgiven, it's a word.
And redemption,
Is being faced with the same circumstances,
And not afraid they you will give in.

So we take out those old photos,
The ones where we have aged.
And before the thought is gone, we Go outside,
Just to feel the sun as it was on that one day.
And hang a mirror in your home,
Where one was never hung.

The snow is gone and spring has early passed,

Good poetry explains four pages of love
In a single paragraph.

Bad poetry, is going outside to get the

Seems to take forever.

Waking Up I Surprised Them

They hear from my mouth as I Suddenly awake.
The nurses nipple hard, the room
Is cold.
I am clean but I'm sure I was dirty
There.
There where they cut me,
Now glued shut.
I am a patient who will and they Don't know me until.
The pain is unbearable and as They give me the good stuff, not a pill
Untill my time draws near.
I feel as if the weight of the world has been,
Laid upon my stomach.
My eyes take it all in as one by one
They leave.
I had to open a drawer and wedge the Second i.v. in,
To pull it out and leaving I left them Wondering where I was.

Each night to love and know.

Alone without love, without you,
Giving much more than I take.
A word, a breath, such thoughts
Would make but of you.

Heavy and full though I stood,
Under the moon it is full.
The cold wind could blow and you
I would know, as we looked down
From above at the past.

The earth hid us all in the past,
And heaven is kept for last.
To love as we did, once in this life
Seemed normal where now it is not.

Here not there though there

Most lie about.

As good wine should taste?

Love Unseen The Act Of Kindness

From the womb to the tomb and all in between,
Acts of good and of evil made from choice.
Personal love unseen by those not yet in love,
Have not yet opened their heart to he or she the other.
Every kindness not yet done could not be done,
Before our births waiting yet to come.
The act of kindness and loves unseen is yet still,
While those who hurt just to cause pain, sets us back
The pain of love unseen,
Must always stem from the act of your one kindness.

They kill the teacher's and free thinker's first,
Then censor that which you write.
All the things by which as a society, we are judged.
Unable to evolve,
Stifled the intelligent have correctly decided not To have children.
Questions pertaining to one's own kind of reason waived
Away, by the flick of a hand by some man that says thank you.
And pushed out the door with his middle finger, firmly Without gloves pushed up into that place wonderful and strange.
The pump of his firms near America's waterways and the loud
Sucking noises, usually reserved for those at home not yet drunk.
The vibrator bent, points north but you hang to the left,
Or to the right unique and slanted, Emily about truth.
And as fewer and fewer of the intellectuals correctly reason
To bring no children into such a world.

If ever one you've seen or gladly felt.
The bud that has yet to be, a man in her

Such woman are shaving the bark from,

The forest denuded of Bushes, thick with Green leaves.
The dark water hides them here where few,
Wade in, afraid to drown.
The crack that two Plank's make, when coming Together as one.
The one that caught me, niece I was, sucked in Body, soul and mind.
The one in the aquarium that without chewing,
Sucked in a single gulp that one fish, that fish
With the human head.

For those that have gone, I'm glad I'm alive,
Even if but yet still for a while.

Should even you loose sight of the light,
And the truth.
None that are like you, will throw you a line,
Swallowed by sand or the ink that is time.

I'm not sorry that the dreams that I dream are

Thinner Grows The Silver Cord As We All Age

I struggled with the old and with the new.
I struggled,
Through the dreams where you were you.

And as we all as one have seen it through the Corners? of our eye's and turn our head we catch a glimpse then it is gone.

Kind things left unsaid, that form the ring around
Our beds,
But only when we sleep can we here the words they Speak.

No effort do you make when deep in sleep, they are Free to come and go,
Two bright eyes deep inside a shadowed face,
When fixed on me without a name.

Without your faith can I be true, without your love
To make it new.
In my dreams of what I see but what of you?
So much thinner grows the silver cord as we all age.

And forward time will move and leave us there.
She hurries past us both and she is talking,
If I touch it now,
she is your lady and your her mister and the

In the water beyond life, beyond the grave.
Knowing that you knew about such things,
To it she clings,
And the feelings that I feel understandably.

Once upon this rock when life was good and sex,

Confused and hurt that nothing's there.

I Still Even Now Dream About You

I still dream about you but they won't let me.
Having been robbed of your childhood, just like me.

Children are better if their parents
Have money,
And do even better with two loving parents.

In Florida, in Hernando County, D.C.F.
Worker's,
Think a child's better off, without that above of Which I speak of.

The Judge just recently said, that my thirteen year Old daughter has been through hell.
Without addressing the unspoken truth, that I at her Age,
In that very same county lived in a wilderness camp called Camp E-How-Kee.

Where the father's of these Judges knew we as small children
We're sexually and physically and psychology abused.
Many are dead now and a few are alive in Florida's prison's.

It's not a question of having the ball's to work to change this.
To blame the children by them they abused, protecting those,
Whom should carry the blame.
By still making a profit off all these abused children.
From D.C.F.
Creating false alligations without proper direction and
The Judge's that allow them to do it.

Afraid of the dark, you linger a little longer,
The sun has rose it's now gone,
Water flow's past you, you stop and remember,
How old you were it was snow at the

What ever is seen now is seen with a blur,
Substituting love at this stage of our life,
Open to me just a little.
My finger, I have lost in the dark.

She Circles The Border Of Green

Full in her hands,
Circling the border of green
Long, a tree limb.

Rows and rows of lillies
And roses, Down by the stream where They grow.

In the fields, leading Down to the beach, by the sea
In the hot sun where
When where young we were there
To go to swim.

So she circles? the border of green
Ferns the Hem of her dress, never worn.
And that bushes and trees all
Can see, up and down a constant push,
That one feels.

I Wished Everyone Liked Me

Possessing the body of all, worth possessing.
Free at night
To go were you go asleep, when asleep,
In a world
Full of people like you.

And I've been given over sixty dilikes
Alone.
If a comment or no contact
By another is by that one, Not wishing you to be Contacted or commented on or even some other as of yet by the Unknown tree.

That tree most can see where is it never goes but you
Or just a few may not like being in the forest.
Alone
Not wishing it to be.

So what if lava flows if kept cool by the spring
Outside your room.
Kept safe from what never happened
To you.

Let it flow through the eyes of another,
In full control of the dream, when you went off alone
To explore off their now
And falling through her hole in the floor.

And nobody else explores, that type off bee,
Through icy back roads,
Stinger in and out of the fleash that he has,
Never condemned by those
With a mob mentality back and forth.

From that witch is warm, make it hot.
On her cheek warm fleck's, of him made complete.
You are who you are, leave their name.
The word means what it means from the grave.
It could for you be that nice.

My Old Friend

My old friend, where are you now?
The X in the road,
North, west, east or south.

Unto you have I given that which makes Me vulnerable to you.
A cut might heal, wounds apart,
Is the sun not hot today?

Together we walk alone,
As have many
Who were alive and lived long before,
We were born.

Thing's left unsaid assumptions made,
Wisdom undeserved from your God.
Listening alone as you talked was simply,
The way you were made.

As with those you meet in your dreams,
And they in yours.
So you will know when you see me, alive
Not yet dead all our friends.

Skant Should Be Her Wants Until

She, a tigress - high strung, bipolar.
universe unspung, coming together again.
Together some place that is not here, stuck in a space
By the death of another,

Yet you are still alive and do what people somewhere Else do, until through the death of another Takes place
And then you reappear here again instead of there
Or somewhere else.

Or Hernando County would not let what is said,
Instead of here.
Appearing there over night to stay,
I swear to God.

And by what is said or not said for me and she Apart,
Learning the game, having the wits to know
What is real in life
And you just flow at her feet and up her legs Back out of sight just until.

James McLain

Once Again

Could I be as I was once again,
Free and young, as young as a bird in the sky,
In the clear skies up above, high up above,
Looking down.

Let it go, let it go,
Soft, soft as silk until the rain comes
Let it go.

Near, near by, far not far,
Never seen, how by far, farther
Than time,
Seen but by the few who told you
Such as I was unlike then.

Fancy parts.

And all inside assembled as we all wait
For the he or the she,
As to why that it is, if they live to be
Wear you never being there before.

You see the water,
That is blue in the gulf but off to the left,
Or nearer the west, where to some
Not far out, but you live to most unseen by Crowds once again.

The lily, you the rose, a purple lilac Floating across
A bass on her bed as life flowed down stream,
There where you're fair.

Here I am there you are Looking past a past that is gone,
Are you full.
Full in the word, other words that One hears and being full and You are stretched past

The point, even so past past that point
When none have yet gone.

Most there feel.

Then that is where all those older tree's,
Sapp, dark brown Sapp Flowing out, far from sight to
The sea, the sea, where once again one will Come and become what we become,
Eating fresh fish and popping pink oysters
Untill once again when we then Became full.

I Haven't Cried Since My Daughter Was Born

I haven't cried since my daughter was born
Yesterday I did.
The crest of a wave, bourn of despair, far
Far away from the sea.

I sat surrounded by two as I cried, Ashamed.
What they saw as I cried who can guess?

Do men cry led away as they walk their Last walk what is brave.
On the bench where I sat outside of the court room,
Here were twenty people.
Picked as jurors different as night from day.
Nothing to do with me.

To my case worker where they could hear I said,
Beyond a reasonable doubt to him I said.
Bring a pad and right this down, never be afraid
To ask questions.
If at any point in the trial something's said that Sticks in your mind or stands out.
Even if but for a second right down the time the doubt came.

My voice carries all heard some will be dismissed,
My public defender came and we both left.
It was inside Dr. Poor man's office when by she I was Asked certain questions.
She asked that one perceptive question to it I replied.

My daughter is in foster care for the third time since Last July.
Her mother is?
She will be fourteen on the sixteenth of this month.
I opologized to Dr.Poorman and Matthew my case worker, Ashamed as a man that I cried.
With no where around I could hide as a man when I cried.

Around Her Arena

Didn't the other's, I was led to believe,
To me, they said talk was cheap.
Afraid at the beach to enter the water,
Translucent
Once it got wet all could see through it.

Bunched into a large squirming mass,
Just like fish
My own personal ritual of death,
As some stabbed at it.

After the first touch deep to the heart,
Down, down much deeper down, fluent they danced Caught by their horns.

Latter that night as I lay thinking in bed,
To tender to touch,
Caked in dried rust that flaked off in my Sheet's as I slept.

Though from the heart there were many.

The Ring Beneath The Moon

Cloud's cover the sky when seen from below,
Thick green grass blanket's the hill.
A ring at the top that moves when one's still.

Open your eyes they contain, that element
Of surprise,
The surprise of what is yet to come, ripples
Are heard in the pond.

Those two pipes that lead from the pump, Remind me of Milk filling up the glass jars, coffee here is Preferred over tea.

Deep here in the trees, shadows rise up to Touch the moon
The ring in the middle is silver not gold, Touched the right way I can feel.

Lips My Lips Have Kissed

If by their wrongs through spoken lips,
Hold back their day
And treat them as they treat the weak
As beasts.

Their future as they think it is, in charge
Of it
And time stood still for those That wait to come.

When less in mind it is that I become,
To dance again to Dance as once we danced before he came To dance no more.

And in failing those whom could not learn
Have failed again,
But never had their say for lack of speech.

We must find those thieves but never will,

Is a special thing a lonely woman to me said
And so I did.

I love you - come in peace
Above me where you sleep
Here below is where I am
There oft yonder is her keep

Summer's nearly here and I the heat
The breeze when felt by some Begs off for rain on naked skin

A path not beaten seldom used Leads down winding to the sea
The large flat rocks we lay upon
Can never speak on what they feel

She swallows all the rain that she Can get, he asks for more
The secrets of our youth by two
Have lived and died by us

Child Labor In American Tobacco Field's

I still smoke because my parents did,
Are we not what they are?
Those commercials? promoting coolness,
Thanks Marlboro man, camel and Lucky strike.

My grandmother and grandfather owned tobacco farms,
Children did and still do money is.
Leaves as wide as the face of a child and their need
Of school being to tired most drop out.

The morning dew on the leaves, full of nicotine,
Absorbed by their skin called green leaf sickness.
Neurology in the still developing child the need for money
Just to survive.

Tobacco Field owners did as a child, Work in the fields,
That their families still own.
Hidden beneath the great green umbrella of leaves,
From view are the thousands of children, that now you have Been made aware of.

When The Man Comes Around

When the man comes around
Above or below loud bright flashes.
Will you deserve, what will come?
Or will you deserve what he wants?

Do you believe what he sees?
Inside of your head if you are alive,
He has seen.

And your heart is it black ashen blue,
Or corrupt and unjust are your thoughts.
And the blind will then taste what you say,
As the deaf will then feel what you touch.

When the man comes around he will see,
What you see as it's done.
Around the man he will come and to see
What he sees none should see.

Where you go he can come back and forth,
To hear what you said he would do.

O' love of death be kind I have not found the way,
With you the path we walked, the air we breathed.
The night's are not the same since we as one both left,
And the scent is of the sea, lest we forget.

Hidden in the dark where we both sat and love
Was it the moon when full to see.

And free we are the dead are tired and only Wish to sleep, the living aren't.

Still if you would love me.

If not for love, our eyes,
Of trust our mouth's, your lips
That parted, like two leaves that
For the wind might drift apart.

Love with all my might, a woman made,
To soon to often love
The sea the waves that crash upon the rocks
Each gentle sway that time has since forgot.

When She Comes And Come She Will

When she comes and come she will,
The smell of the sea on the breeze.
On the air,
At night is when we are free to feel.

And love when it's gone to where,
Love is gone.
Will he or she really care?

For when I am gone and she is still here,
To young to know or to care.
Herself, grown old in the blink of the eye.

Love Me

Love me though in the rain
Never wet beneath leaves above me.
Love me above and below
The sight of tall trees how they haunt me.

And if the cloud's in the sky remind me
Of the moon when it's full, I won't resist you.
Lips that when full open and kiss me
A man that love like yours was meant for.

Inside The Mind Of Love Like You

I have walked? inside where few have dared to go.
Around me in the quite wind,
it swirls unseen, with the scent of you.
Oh, she has said I've listened, to the sound of leaves and see each drop of dew
evaporate to come again come morning.
It's not enough to love and lost and feel,
such love again.
Cedar in the glenn and grass upon the hill,
each year begins.
Love I had to feel it as with time it slips away,
the moon waits there alone the sun will rise.
The passion and the flame's, blue butterflies as lilly opens up, it's then I cry.
The roaring engine of that single train that few,
in life have caught, but lost again one tries.
I'm grateful for the heartfelt pain, the pain before one dies.
Loving like a memory fades inside the mind of love,
When love is still alive.

I Cannot See Her Blind

Near her the birds are building,
Their nest I'll never see.
Gazing up and lonely,
One dove is all I see.

And watching them how should
I know,
How far they've come to build?

Descending darkness comes,
Without a moon that is not full.
How to you,
Do I begin to show to you the light,
Without the sun.

For love like yours is what I've missed,
Though we have never kissed.

Guardian Ad Litem

Mother's and Father's,
in a safe bed children dream.
No one knows what they dream inside of their dream, trapped in such pain none should bare.
If once I was as she is now who will care?
Transplanted life false memories there are they real?
Love is seen through transparent mind's yet, the loss of one if not discerned leads to the loss of the other.

How does one that is close to a child explain to a child that can not hear what music is?
Nor to the blind, that though they hear the color fear.
Tears that one sees on the face of another,
may not see at all.

Yea though when young the child is forgiven the neglect of a parent,
though when given back to the wrong undiscernible parent
And in vain though we wait for the rose.
weed's can there only grow.

I cannot hate but love not the other one has to me said.
Time cannot heal certain wounds,
where wounds not properly addressed are not met.
The theft of time from one is a thief in the night and night is the pillow and place where in peace children sleep.

How Far Must One Fall When The Bottom Is Near

From the bottom of a dream, reaching out to you.
To it you give much thought when,
one is awake.
Winter there when here there is green spring.
Waters scarce!
The bottoms? not quite reached but she still moves,
I'm but half way in.

You and I we stop!

Does it the hill have bushes growing there, still within hand's reach?
While song's to the ear of some, came not from here.
end is near, who is there?

And how you talked to me when you were near.
Reaching for the bottom of, before you're there,
elbows that seldom touch are every where.
Full the moon sometimes in day is seen,
when we are looking up.

Thus inside the well from whence you drink.
It is neatly there inside she thinks,
as sponge's swell.

The bottom when if reached is touched by those,
But few would think.

Those Scarlet Plains

Together we watched a certain one,
With ears that no one has.
The scarlet plains have hid from us our eyes.
From those very hands that changed the sky.
She is a human being with ties to life,
The old one said.

Loyal with high expectations, without exception.
I bleed on her at every opportunity!
Shot through the head should I die early?
Both halves die if rent usunder,
Are they over you able to discern it.

Dreaming through the one eye of the eal,
Over the top through the only half that makes her Different.
Sliding down open wet hills, I am surrounded,
Surrounded by all that she feels.
Subconsciously.

Bushes and vines over there's the tree,
Moist, open and shut there he feels.
Someone like you leaning over the burl just
To fall asleep.
Cool, the bamboo is open to the touch from whence
No water escapes.

The scarlet feilds, butter cups veiled in the years, year's
That have passed, year's that you won't get back.
Oysters, alligator's, to early if soon released.
Moist juicy fat open lips
Lips that when red when not closed, are they their moving?

Her Home Is The Sea

She swims in a pool that's next to the sea,
Her place by the sea without me.
The moon it is bright and full in the sky,
And rests on the tip of a tree.
The sound of the waves brings me her peace,
And it whispers to me what she sings.

How Does A Good Modern Poet Survive

The antagonist, some call them enemies,
Those that hold life and death in simple utterance.
Living for naught but their pleasure.
As we cover the earth to serve the rich,
Unrulerable, except in life now when poet's die.
The beginner unable to contribute will soon give up.
Desire or ambition is no substitute for success.
Or those who teach English might hate it.
A naked piece of paper fully dressed left blank.
If all the worthless words could fill a large dump,
Would you then speak different words that would say what?
When she was young, Maya Angelou, did the same things
People do to survive but you would lie.
But those few whom survive have survived by never having
To lie about what they've done.
In most marriages there is at least one prostitute, who gets
Up and goes to work.
Even if they being young have to work very late every night.

Ocean The Sea

I have come back here to see,
What love has meant to me.
Your face I see when I go back,
The many colors of the sea.

In the dream's I have each night,
One stand's out to me.
Remember yours you have as well,
Blank faces, eyes that stare.

I once was fresh, I once stood tall,
I drank not from the sea.
Turning back each night I saw,
My face she saw as well.

Loving For A Night And For A Day

Could you bear me for a night and for a day.
Look now Dear, it's never as it seems,
Do not the mountains clear the cloud's away?
The wind and rain and how it stains your face,
Could you bear me for night and for a day?

I would love you if I might,
Look to so soon our life it will be gone.
Buried in the depths of ever lasting night,
Your pain denied to me, I'd fill your day's.
And while the night's you give to me,
Neither, both to each, would ever to one say.

A stranger loved you once, but not enough,
Buried pain inside your chest the hurt you feel.
Forever day it seems, the night's aren't long,
The path down from the top, I hear the waves.

To Meet Her Is To Greet Her

The noise of the ordinary, voices,
Tireless voices that echoed their needs and wants.
From the throngs of the women, one I saw.
From the back of her eyes, she saw me, she I saw,
Leaves of three colors, the wind helped them fall.
Clean green womanly featchers and lips that though full,
Open and tug, tug and tug.
This was her message to me as falling back I reached out.
Men by the million's have died like this, our fate controlled,
By full lips and strong hand's.
The few who survive that return what they get are the wise.

Women That Love Snakes

A snake may eat your toe but it can't Swallow it.
It may worry at your lips with blind
White eyes.
One may slide between your legs when You're asleep.
One will try to drink the milk from the Tip of your left breast.
Bushes without leaves to see exposed.
The snake can be a woman's friend when It's never left alone.

Living Alone Is Not Normal Is It

Living alone is not normal not to me.
Those of us past fifty.
Do not know what we should know and Too much stuff looks much to strange to move with one there forward.
Man boobs and sagging tits at our age who cares.
At the bottom of each well we are there is a lot sand and Rock's and have we learned
To compromise without giving up our pride.
And the lack of money keeps the best of two apart.
One feels guilty for not being liquid and the other
One won't say such things don't matter.

What here have we come to?
Some of us are shy.
No one that I know of intentionally would cause harm
To another.. right.
Help the young with writing when one can.
A stressful day a day of pain, will effect your writing.
On a bad day do not force it use the time to read
The poems of the master's.

And remember there's not enough time in a day and night
To read all each poet writes,
And leave a comment.
An effort shown is time well spent if we can rain in our Alter egos.
Being different that we are is green to me.

And love is still not there.
Should I wait a hundred year's,
To where you know I wait.
We spoke of time to often and
A place to wait, so both can come again.
Love I know that both of us will die,
To soon one will perhaps.
Before we came and afterwards, we will Be as we again once were.
Living hand in hand and watching as,
New stars are born and die.

Dreaming Dream's Of Love And Then It's Gone

Listen to the voice inside your heart,
But not your head.
The shaft is long the head is sharp,
And wide.
It's like a gentle tide, it's mouth is Broad and wide.
Like the lolly pop you had when young
The tongue goes round and round.
You pushed it deeper in, untill I weep
Beneath the moon on high.
Two breathing, breath as one, our voice Grown quite.
I only watched how long it was,
Untill it disappears inside.
All lovers here know we are not alone.

Anonymous Love Paints My Room

I have shut out the sun, she said,
I open the window that's closed.
And love to you, love I will give,
So more to the light should you live.

Wrapped in linen, wrapped in snow,
Wet with the sweat of yesterday's pain.
Music drifts up,
Over the roofs as I lay deep in sleep.

Purple my room, black in the sun,
Where is the love I once had every night?
Whom shall come and sit here by me,
And with love set me free.

Deep asleep in a dream, I dreamt of you,
The sea was shallow there at the edge,
Where the waves in and out washed clean
Fish between them.

Arms outstretched clenched fists in the sand,
Waist down underwater, pointed tips in the wind,
Lips taste of saltwater.

Dream after dream in and out every night, waves
And the wind, did you feel in the darkness, I Was the wind and over and over, snow covered the hills.

A clear dream came to me and why you hide,
Loved before if ever loved, in sleep with you alive.

And now, O' father, I can't rise from bed.
My struggle for your love, was filled with stars,
I in life might live, such love were dead.

I knew it did not fall like rain upon your face or brow,
Nor from the sea, as music made by churning waves.
Yet I stay and read each book and turn each page,
And dream that there's a place where love is real.

Where such love escapes on wing's you knew I made,
Love hid inside a different dream a dream that neither made.

The End Is The End Of Our Love

When our eyes meet soon at the end,
Right before dusk becomes night under the moon
In the cool silver light.

What was not said, will you say now?
What we should have done, can you smile now?
Remember my love, that all you watch on T.V.
The movies of love and what then you knew.

There is only this one single question I ask,
After were gone and above us they laugh.
Inside of this place where nothing is felt, no pain
And no sorrow or flowers and rain.

And if we should meet here or there in the end,
After the sun sets.
In a sky clear of clouds, full of moon light,
Then perhaps, I'll believe in the end it was love,
Without all the angles or heaven above.

Wind and rain tossing our hearts to far apart,
Inside the darkness two beating heart's.
One voice that is heard belongs to the other.
Arm's, legs, hands and feet, finger tips greet.
Looking around inside out of the bubble,
Pushed together here is where our faces will meet.
Where we once were no longer trapped,
How where we wait there at loves gate trying to change
Only two lives that given a chance we would live.
Here in a world made of shadows and moonlight,
In a world that knows nothing about where we came from.

The Beggered Voice That Is Mine

It is different then from now a begger comes,
where I live now snow that never falls.
I seldom speak,
but word's that when they come, cause they whom fill an empty hand a look that few can meet.

Where I used to hide no other's dwell, each city has pulled up and killed the bushes and spaced the trees to wide to keep the rain off of our heads.

A poet's lot in life in any life if poor without their love of mind,
An early death the elements can find.

A beggered poet looks away in shame,
his daughter left behind to young to know what he gave up, for her to read and one day find.

A heart that's full of love cannot sustain an empty mind, or that beggered voice she one day hears
When that voice is mine.

If I could keep her innermost free.
Tearless, alive and loved by all but she,
Just one breath of love not hate.
And not discouraged now to wait,
Row after row of sorrow veiled we've laid on men.
She if I could keep a place to come to lay her head,
Free for even just one night to come and pray.

Poor And Tired Are The Traveler's

Why wherefore have you abandoned your children,
They with open wide eyes, but seek instruction.
Verily unto you, do you even now being unlearned entice them?
Are you not aware that these that are yours, unable
Under the law grant consent, but are able like me sent to prison!
Beware when they say come with U.S. unlike U.S. more and More in the shadow's they lay in wait, poor and tired a traveler.
Counted the number of this their beasts, tier upon tier, it is there
In these cells they will keep you.
No one wails, no one knows how your kept, without family.
Swallowed up building your next brother and sisters, alive not yet Dead, dreaming of nightmares, yet while awake.
Unaware that half among you are filled with hate, as no effort it takes
To do what they do, to the good whom with childlike mind's,
Are by they taken advantage of, capitalism they would to you say.
In this our democracy, to you have they not?
Do they have you not seen shed the blood of our fellow man,
Using you very own hand's?
And in vain it is not, when with their net it is by them cast about you.
Have they even now turned brother against brother, and listen to they, whom through no special wisdom have seen in the past
As to you, as to then the old living few whom have survived it.
Now of greed and of pure evil whom place their own elderly father and Mother in harm's way to take from them what is not theirs to hasten their Death's to obtain by their deaths, what in life they could not in honest labor or by mind obtain on their own.
They cry out as you drive by, turning your once good heart against them,
Because of the pain, a past sin that you did to another.
Your struggle to live in and of it's self is a struggle in life that no decent person deserves,
And without changing the heart we will not change how we live.
Can you the other half,
My brother and sisters find any just cause in this?

Even when I grew to tired and weak,
I would go on.
Even when asleep I hear her thought's,
By living only once, she never slept.

A pink and white mushroom,
pouting it stood out by her red lips.

And then, just like that, her ship came in,
Once outside the room I knew.
I could feel that I had lost a mouth once
Warm, but could not talk.

Mental Illness Is Wide Spread Here As Well

Me, myself and I, inwardly turned
A spiral down a staircase into the basement hides.
The center of their world is all they have.
How can you,
not ask yourself, why all your relationships
Have failed, and racing thought's.
Some not more a few the medication helped,
Until once stable, then you stopped and have you Understood
the self-destructive actions that you've caused.
And of those around you, friends and family are afraid of the explosion's and eruptions that will come.
Or that everything you move, you move again,
As they watch.
Bi polar can be untreated lead to hyper sexual burning needs
That can never by you met.
Do you dig inside your self to pull it out or deeper Push it in until it's gone.
Does a partner leave you all alone, abandoned for no reason, Afraid you'll leave them first?
Inside this world you live in the moon is always full.
Venus does not seem as she should be and Mars is always red,
No answers there.
Cutting into flesh because of them.
Cutting out the parts they caused but still don't understand.
So you tremble and you hide before you start to sweat.
Being out amongst them and there's not a place to hide.
Right now one walks past you dressed as if it's winter but It's summer time.
And all the drugs and alcohol you drank and in denial,
Won't understand what you did to that small child.
Half of all obortions are just the tip of all you've done.
Psychological testing is for you the only choice.
Because of your mental illness the whole world is and
You are fine, when at night upon your bed you know your not.

The fetching hand that reaches firmly down beneath,
Soft tongues that wrapped around to speak about it's size.

On top that's white to all that's in the shape of each a tear.
With each string of pearls each knotted shut the gate,

Each night down deep below, above the windy earth,
She lured up from the depths an eager - willing giving host.

Love Is You And Me If It Is Green

When love forgets you in this our living dream.
And the cold wind to your heart,
Blow's in from that a cold still moving sea.
And the young have yet to learn and read about,
Old age it brings.
Someone said that love is a warm mouth,
That never speaks.

Could love be just a latter that one climbs,
To reach the top?
A level that but half can reach,
While the rest
Just fall back down again and never love to rise.

To the monied few it brings but sweet release,
Like a bush that dropped it's leaves and has to wait,
A year to get them back.
To soon she started squeezing, tugging just to win
His heart and he to young to know that every,
Peach though sweet has a fuzzy, different taste.

Love in death in death was love that can not change
What love's about.
And it's planting one large tree inside, in the hopes
That love comes back.
Love is one instead of two and love, is you and me.
Love's you and me.

White Fog

Rolling in white fog,
In waves of white, the moving mist.
Shrouded in the early morning dawn.
Beneath your feet none living,
That once I've loved in death I've claimed
To know.

They beat the bushes and green leaves,
Not brown
That past a certain age have dropped upon
The ground.
Fallen trees, have blocked the path where
At night we used to meet.

Unchanging is the sea the sky at night,
Is filled with stars.
To raise my hand beneath the moon,
To fill my open palms.
And taste the freedom, scent and smell,
Of she whom living gave me life.

MALNOURISHED PRISONER'S DEATH REVEALS HORRIFIC CONDITIONS IN A TEXAS PRISON

January 24 2017,10: 51 a.m.

ALTON RODGERS WAS 31 years old and suffering from bilateral bronchopneumonia, bed sores, and severe malnutrition when he died of head trauma on January 19,2016, in the custody of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice. Guards had found Rodgers unresponsive in his cell at the William P. Clements Unit in Amarillo, one of the most violent prisons in Texas, the previous day. His fatal injury, the official paperwork noted, was consistent with having his head 'slammed onto the concrete floor.' The TDCJ immediately began investigating a suspect, Rodgers's cellmate, Joe Greggs.

But the official findings raised a cloud of doubt. Why did they ignore or make so very little of Rodgers's dire medical condition even before the blows to his head? The inmate's family has raised questions about Greggs's alleged involvement, Rodgers's medical treatment at the Clements unit, and the conduct of the prison staff. In October, the family, represented by attorney Jesse Quackenbush, filed a $120 million wrongful death lawsuit against the TDCJ, alleging that guard brutality and untreated tuberculosis contributed to his death. Rodgers was first diagnosed with tuberculosis in 2002 or 2003. 'The purpose of the lawsuit is to change the way [the state of Texas] treats inmates who are suffering very serious diseases, ' Quackenbush told The Intercept.

Alton Rodgers in April 2012 (TDCJ) Alton Rodgers in April 2012. Photo: Texas Department of Criminal Justice Rodgers stood 6 feet 7 inches tall and weighed 148 pounds when he died. His body mass index was 16.7, dangerously lower than the bottom of the normal range, which physicians set at 18.5. According to Northwest Texas Hospital records, Rodgers was admitted with hypoglycemia, a urinary tract infection, dehydration, bilateral bronchopneumonia, bed sores indicating prolonged immobility, and other conditions.

The Intercept asked Carlos Torres, a forensic doctor based in Dallas with no previous knowledge of the case, to review Rodgers's medical records. While it was clear to Torres, who has held positions at the University of Texas and Harvard, that Rodgers had died of 'massive brain injuries secondary to blunt trauma to the head, ' he said that the fluid in both of the inmate's lungs resulting from bronchopneumonia was also a contributing cause. Viral or bacterial infections can cause this condition, Torres explained. He further noted that the inmate had been diagnosed with schizophrenia and intermittent explosive disorder, a rare condition that leads to outbursts of anger.

'The other important finding was that he was malnourished, ' said Torres. Rodgers was 'extremely underweight ... his BMI actually went down significantly during the last several weeks of his life.' Medical records maintained by the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center, which oversees health care in Clements, are sparse for the last four months of Rodgers's life.

From October 1,2015 to January 19,2016, the records indicate only one physical health check, on November 6, and that was a check-up after a cell extraction, a procedure which involves the forceful removal of an inmate from his quarters. His last mental health check occurred on November 24.

These records indicate that Rodgers weighed 167 pounds in November 2015, and he had dropped to 148 by the time of his death. 'I could not find any explanation as to the [weight] loss during that period of time, ' Torres noted.

Torres did notice something peculiar relating to Rodgers's diet, however. According to an entry dated June 24,2015, Rodgers claimed that raisins and peanut butter were the only foods he could keep down and requested that his diet be changed. This request was denied, the attending nurse wrote, because there was 'no diet of just peanut butter and raisins. According to medical records filed after Rodgers was admitted to the hospital in January, guards said Rodgers 'had been known to be starving himself secondary to 'trying to die.'"

'These are contradictory statements from the patient and from the [health care] providers, ' Torres observed. Without further records, Torres stressed, he couldn't make a judgement, but he certainly did not find any evidence that efforts had been made to increase Rodgers's weight.

'If someone is losing weight inadvertently, they should have a complete medical evaluation, including a psychiatric evaluation, to see if there's a reason, ' said Robert Greifinger, former head medical officer at the New York State Department of Corrections, in answer to questions about the standard of health care prisons are legally required to meet. 'Prison health officials are required to provide timely access to care. Part of that timely access is accurate documentation of responsiveness and documentation of the nature of response for requests of medical care.'

There is nothing in the medical records obtained by The Intercept to suggest such evaluations ever took place. And the gaps in the records make some assessments very difficult. For example, Torres said that active tuberculosis was probably not a factor in Rodgers's death, but the lack of records makes it impossible to entirely rule that out. This poor quality of record keeping would be considered unacceptable in a hospital, Torres said, adding that the standard of care had more than likely been compromised 'by not having adequate records and documentation of what happened to this person.'

Even the autopsy, for which records do exist, raised questions. Standard autopsy procedure would have required a culture to determine the origin of Rodgers's bilateral bronchopneumonia, Torres said, and as far as he could tell from the autopsy report, no such test had been performed. Rodgers's condition could have been contagious, depending on whether it was viral, fungal, or bacterial, Torres noted. He could have posed a danger to other inmates as well as guards and nurses.

His condition was also potentially deadly in and of itself. Regardless of the head trauma, 'if his weight did not go up, if he was not being treated for the bronchopneumonia, he would have died in a matter of days or weeks,' the doctor said.

A Pattern of Negligence

Complaints about health care and record-keeping at Clements are not hard to come by, and many of them center on the prison's alleged refusal to test inmates for tuberculosis. Roughly one-third of the world population has latent tuberculosis, and those with weakened immune systems are more likely to develop symptoms. Incarcerated persons typically fall into this category. According to the Centers for Disease Control, tuberculosis in prisons is a 'public health concern' because it is highly contagious and can spread to other inmates as well as prison staff, who can then communicate it to others outside prison.

Kevin 'Rashid' Johnson, an inmate at Clements and a founder of the New Afrikan Black Panther Party-Prison Chapter, told The Intercept in a letter that in the 18 years he has spent behind bars, he has typically declined to be tested for tuberculosis out of fear of cross-contamination, because the test requires an injection. This year, Johnson said, a fellow inmate tested positive for the disease and never received treatment. For that reason, Johnson requested a test. He states that he was refused the test by the prison's medical officials and that the prison's records falsely claim he refused when the test was offered him on June 3.

Another inmate at Clements, Jason Walker, told The Intercept a similar story. Walker claimed that he requested tuberculosis tests on several occasions without success. Prison officials told him, 'You have not been in contact with TB.'

After Walker filed grievances asking for tuberculosis shots for all inmates in his section, prison officials responded, 'No further action required.'

In yet another grievance, Walker alleges that a false test was administered following his complaints of tuberculosis exposure. Prison officials responded that Walker 'received timely and appropriate care.'

These inmates surmise that the prison has put itself at risk of tuberculosis infection for budgetary reasons. The 2017 Texas state budget calls for a four percent decrease in funding for the state's prison system, which amounts to a $250 million in slashed funds for a system that is already under pressure.

'The medical, security, mailroom and grievance [departments] are all severely under-staffed. This is what draws their negligence,' Walker suggested. Johnson, who is active in organizing against 'slave labor' in prison, concluded by saying that the prison system wants 'to make money off us, not spend it on us.'

Although the adversarial relationship between prison staff and inmates may cast doubt on the prisoners' allegations, there is also evidence that the TDCJ knows it was at fault in letting Rodgers's health deteriorate.

After Rodgers's death, TDCJ reprimanded 17 guards for falsifying documents and recommended the firing of their supervisor, Major Rowdy Boggs, who resigned during the disciplinary process. Senior Warden Barry Martin and Assistant Warden James Beach both retired within a month. Jason Clark, a TDCJ spokesperson, told the Texas Tribune that guards weren't completing required checks on Rodgers's cell. He declined to say for how long this was the case. The Northwest Texas Hospital entry form for Rodgers states that guards were 'unable to provide when patient was last seen awake and alert.'

The Intercept filed two public information requests with TDCJ, asking for the door logs on Rodgers' cell from September 1, 2015, to February 1, 2016, and a copy of the results into an investigation into Rodgers' death. TDCJ has asked the Texas attorney general for a legal opinion on whether these documents must be released, citing 'confidential information' and an exception that enables a 'governmental body to protect its position in litigation,' referring to the lawsuit against TDCJ. At the time of publication, the attorney general had not made a decision on either information request.

When asked how so few checks could be conducted on an inmate who had severe bilateral bronchopneumonia and was emaciated, Deric McEvers, a former guard at Clements who worked in the facility for almost six years starting in 2008, responded that this was 'an extreme lapse in security and medical.' Prison staff members routinely check on inmates and deliver medications in the middle of the night, McEvers explained, often between 1 a.m. and 3 a.m. At that time, the inmate 'barely has the lights on, he's in bed, nobody's paying attention to him. They're putting the pills in the window — dropping and going.' According to state regulations guards are required to check on inmates every 30 minutes and conduct a 'bed book check' twice a day in which an inmate must get up and look a guard in the eye.

The former guard found the lack of records documenting these required checks during the last two months of Rodgers' life suspicious. 'The fact that there's no medical records makes me think something got brushed off,' he said, suggesting that the prison might have withheld or destroyed documents.

He suggested that staff could have falsified documents to show that bed books and other required checks were taking place. McEvers told The Intercept that document falsification was routine and 'happens, I'd say, more than daily.'

Tyrail Crosby, another former Clements guard, concurred, saying that document falsification is 'very common' there. He recalled that one of his superiors asked him to falsify documents during his first week on the job. Crosby's concerns go further than record falsification: 'It's too many people dying in there,' he said.

In 2013, two prisoners — Christopher Douglas Woolverton, 51, and Arcade Joseph Comeaux, 56 — died within one month of each other. Their families have also filed wrongful death lawsuits. Woolverton, who had asthma, was found dead in his cell in a pool of his own urine and feces, according to the lawsuit. He allegedly had symptoms of stage IV chronic kidney disease and had suffered weight loss even greater than Rodgers, dropping 44 pounds in just under three months, from 157 pounds on August 29,2013, to 113 pounds on October 22, according to the complaint.

Comeaux died on November 13,2013, due to trouble breathing and a heart attack during an attempted electrocardiogram. Crosby was a guard at the prison at the time. He was asked to film Comeaux, who was also asthmatic, being escorted from his cell to the infirmary that day. Comeaux was breathing 'very hard' and fighting to catch his breath as guards held him down on an examination bed, Crosby told The Intercept. After a struggle, he died.

The One True Believer

Liquid rotates at the bottom, if it is dry,
The sun rises higher in the lower sky.
Looking up at the moon it is full, and gracefully
Snow collects at the center, in it's self left alone.
Along the walls, friction is produced, never by force,
Down a straight line.
Near the bottom more often a thumb higher up.
Between singing opera, a natural phenomenon.
Both hands clench and then open and close,
As it tightens up.
Under the influence of the one true believer,
Sooner or latter the body rises and arches.
And the breath slowly leaves and her body gives it up.

Hidden In The Earth In Hernando County

She is alone, with no one to love,
They come and go and she nor me know their name's.
Could not I, give to her what she thinks,
That she has, but being to young has never had.

My love alone in spite of her and those other's,
Who tell the Judge lies.
In the course of unnatural event's,
We reward those whom have committed crime's
Against he whoms, judgment is sound.

In this, their shadow of life and death, what is said,
I have not heard.
And alone I have stood, I pray and I hope,
Not betrayed.

Exploitation,
By she of me and her, damaged, I am tired and grey.
Not addressing the cause,
Leaves her and I miles apart, that very crime by her,
if left unaddressed.
Unknown to her but known to me, won't be healed.

Why should she be hidden and safe when we are not?
Verily thus,
For their past mistakes heaven can no longer hide.
And so to you, to hear, I would say,
Keep us safe, safe from they who know two are one.

Having been damaged as then and now you've read,
And having again having had to learn how to write.
Lonely are both, having died.
The damage that love if given a chance can survive.

Search not for me,

I washed away, in the rain.

And no one will care when I come,
The moon is still bright.
You woke me up in the dawn,

And the sand from the sea is the same.
Subtle but gently the waves push it up,

Unchanging,

Terrorism And Child Killer's

And then they showed us their plan,
If we were not mired down in false God's.
Religion,
That served no true purpose
But to spread hate could you live with this?
Of course you could!
Weakness is the sheep that most are,
That follow the staff of the Shepard that hides
In the hills.
An ocean apart and those whom spread hate,
Well they are.
And as soldiers come back whom,
Are I'll,
Whom should have never been trained to kill.
And in the gripes,
Of severe mental illness are by the United State's Government turned away.
Sometimes people join the military to escape what
At home they can no longer bear.
And so this is now what you see and now do you still Think that what you see is normal?

As our United State's Veterans Administration.

The Moon Tonight

Day has come night's retired, stark my face you see.
I have hidden in the night, the stars are still to bright.
Those of you whom walk above won't let me be or leave.
Devoid of mind my body sleeps, I dream still of the sea.
I left you all I had and nothing in return did I receive.
From such hight's, her light shines down and it reveals.
Beauty through a wisp of smoke, it's dry the sky is moist.

Our Survival Depends On Getting Off Of This Planet

Do you want to learn how to write good poetry?
Then study those whom before us have come.
They had no idea how ignorant most would become.
Participation trophies,
The win, the big score for the few is a single minded
Purpose, the discipline and the drive.
To take the few the truly gifted, the young and separate
Them from the chafe and the slag.
Math and that one special language that can express
All that can be said and speak only One language.
It's no longer a matter of our using up the resources,
It's a matter of poisoned waists that has been permitted to Kill this our planet.
So you think that your child whom you speak to as a child
Is special, you ruined that child, by not asking them questions
About understanding what intelligent people would say, when one Equal speaks to another as an equal you think.
What is love but the named truth of expressing sex the sex
That you want or can't have in a language that's Long since been expressed by those very masters above that I've spoke to you of.
You must learn to communicate on a level that most whom Think that they can but don't.
The trouble with dull witted people are people who think
They are smart.
Smart is no longer a yard stick to measure with, one's intelligence Must now be superior,
If we have the chance to leave this dead rock and reach for the stars.
You might be trapped with those dumbed down kids, but I'm not.
The garbage man comes tomorrow, what are you going to do to do your Own part?
Six billion mistakes is all most to much to deal with.
So how do you think that they will.
Talk about something useful and constructive, before the end comes
And your useless, begging and crying, must be put in the garbage as well

Poverty And Unplanned Parenthood

Unwanted,
Green leaves cling to the crown of tall trees.
She just wants to much snow.
Limbs rub back and forth in the wind, bushes busy
Bow to the urgency of showing, nothing at all.

Bitches in heat, rutting not for a child, but in the quiet,
Room wet, slapping sounds that aren't waves.
Unprotected,
Each child will come into her world a world of her yes.
And without resources,
There is no room left in this our unnatural State.

Without wings, flying with but nubs for feet, nothing special
About dull witted mind's, being told
That they are gifted by women whom used the part's of five different Names no one can say they were named with.

Rotten seeds, thighs covered in snow,
Vicious rats caught
In the shadow of some gang, chanting useless word's, Quantitatively,
Easing them into nothing but death or state prison.

I Can Hear Thunder

You will hear thunder and see my face in the lightning's after glow.
And the waves that reach up and out from the sea,
Thunder and storms, this life you have plucked forth from my dream's.
The rim of the bowl,
The colours you see as the rain blows in from the north,
Then comes the cold and your heart once red beats no more.

He I have told, those words I fortold, have now full circle come around.
Thunder my love you have heard and the ground can not hide what I've said, Though in vain in the night's still, I climb up the ladder to touch and to feel.
Each night when the thunder by you and when my shadows embraced.

Closed To Alabama Niggers, Gov. Robert Bentley, Has Said

Alabama might as well just send an invitation to the Justice Department.
Come on in guys.
Come on down.

Alabama being the favorite target by, Daniel Tosh.

No need to reply with an RSVP.
Because we know you'll be here.
How could you resist?

Because Alabama just took a giant step backward.

Take a look at the 10 Alabama counties with the highest percentage of non-white registered voters.

That's Macon, Greene, Sumter, Lowndes, Bullock, Perry, Wilcox, Dallas, Hale, and Montgomery, according to the Alabama Secretary of State's office.
Alabama, thanks to its budgetary insanity and inanity, just opted to close driver license bureaus in eight of them.
All but Dallas and Montgomery will be closed.

Closed. In a state in which driver licenses or special photo IDs are a requirement for voting.

It's not just a civil rights violation.
It is not just a public relations nightmare.
It is not just an invitation for worldwide scorn and an alarm bell to the Justice Department.
It is an affront to the very notion of justice in a nation where one man one vote is as precious as oxygen.
It is a slap in the face to all who believe the stuff we teach the kids about how all are created equal.

Why closing DL office in the Black Belt is different!

Every single county in which blacks make up more than 75 percent of registered voters will see their driver license office closed.

Every one.

No voting for Alabama, niggers

Gov. Robert Bentley said, left to right, Bernice King, daughter of Martin Luther King Jr, and Peggy Wallace Kennedy, daughter of former Gov. George Wallace, in a commemoration of the voting rights march from Selma to Montgomery

But maybe it's not racial at all, right?
Maybe it's just political. And let's face it, it may not be either.

But no matter the intent, the consequence is the same.

Look at the 15 counties that voted for President Barack Obama in the last presidential election.
The state just decided to close driver license offices in 53 percent of them.

Look at the five counties that voted most solidly Democratic?
Macon, Greene, Sumter, Lowndes and Bullock counties
all had their driver license offices closed.

Look at the 10 that voted most solidly for Obama?
Of those, eight - again all but Dallas and the state capital of Montgomery - had their offices closed.

Closed to Alabama niggers!
Gov. Robert Bentley has said.

How is closing the driver's license offices racist?
A look at how Alabama lawmakers' move to close driver's license offices in some counties could impact the state's Voter ID Law leading to concerns about racism.

Because the same Alabama Republican Legislature that could not raise enough money to properly run the state in three sessions this year decided in 2011 that all voters must have a photo ID.
It was such a great idea that
Gov. Robert Bentley signed that bill into law despite complaints that such a move would disproportionately disenfranchise black voters.

It went into effect last year. And now this.

This. And true enough, department heads have to make terribly difficult decisions.

So Alabama closes 31 driver license offices.

And while the cuts come across Alabama, they are deepest in the Black Belt. The harm is inflicted disproportionately on voters who happen to be black, and poor, in sparsely populated areas.

So roll out the welcome wagon to the Justice Department, and tell the world what it already so desperately wants to hear.

That Alabama is exactly what they always thought she was.

That Alabama refuses to pay for its own government, and used it as an excuse to keep black people from the polls. That Alabama hasn't changed a bit.

I'd say they have us all wrong.
I'd love to say they have us all wrong.

But the numbers say they don't.
And you other Republican southern States are next.

Forced Solitude

So you have survived your youth and that now time for you draws near.
About their religion not yours,
Be not impatient when demands on yours by them are made.

When forced to retreat from life and solitude is long, think of those who Are no longer living,
That tried to cling to the wind and in their passing, knew not where they where.

The Lilly and the Rose held gently by their necks or if needs arise,
When in a lonley place.
Together they can rise to meet the sun and shine their light in each dark place,
And all by seeing it is done know peace.

Respect is but a word a word of worth of worth you have and in abuse,
One shouldn't use, because one with power can.
Never once the wise in youth have learned to rob the blind of sight.

Thus when it comes the night the dawn do not be afraid unless in life,
A moral compass to you came to late to use.
Then your weeping all will hear and hear the shame in how you lived,
In going there to where no light has come before.

The Perfect Wife

She has you hold her breast up,
Higher than normal, to adjust her bra
Before he does.
Allowing him time
To make her favorite dinner, orange muscles
With lemon and margaritas.
Procreation is an exercise, not a dance
When both are too tired.
The adjustment to unisex underwear was Easy to make it saved money.
Such love is the safety of sleeping side by side
In perfect trust.
Aware that somewhere else one plots to kill
The other.

Silent and still, lost without love and no peace.

His Lady, With Her Mister

Because of it 'we' laughed as nature does so common green.
And realized that it is true, I thus became, implied there in her favor.
And being left off, distance of, but near to her, first sight I fell in love.
Whose teeth when flashed,
when in the sun, red open lips, she showed them.

I was drawn inside by her sweet breath, she 'made', and so I was.
Temporary lost, I inhaled with each profound look,
each kiss, I rediscovered.

Lost then finally found within, dark caves of sound, so deep
and smooth, so rich and throaty, singing music all the time.

Never ravaged but by scotch and time and filtered cigarettes.
Though detached always above, I look again below, such is an

Bronzed goddess her body made, I think of posies, confusing she with her.

certain repercussions of those acute remarks, might thus on me be lost.

Where you have gone, there I must wait.
The early night has spread its wings,
The late dawn.
What is it like, the pain of early separation.
You are as you are,
What once was wise, what is sleep?

Anguish is not, even as smoke reappears.
Speak not of snow, none is here,
The garden is full of such plants, and these plants,
That I grow as you grew to me dear.

He who I am he you knew,
In stark relief there on the wall, is it I,
But a shadow of you, I once knew.

Moment's I miss as we shed, what we shed,
Sleeping in oil, beneath the hot sun.
You brought me up and you brought me down,
To the sea, when the sand was at its most moist.
And underfoot the salt from the waves we could taste.

Here where I wait you have gone, six inches apart from One song,
Of how much it hurt and you gone.

Dylan Thomas

Into the dark we will all go, gentle or not.
Room or not,
room will be made every morning, ready
Or not beds are made.

Uncombined those three very book's,
that speak of each new night.
Old in each name not for your sake,
Only before you close your tired eyes,
for good, do most except and forsake.

Good or bad it matters not,
rich or poor,
happy or sad ready or not.

This is the time other's wait to bid false goodbye's, thinking to gain your wealth.
You who are old and frail out of breath,
were never to young to stay mad.

Gently into the dark night you will go,
ready or not, still afraid.
Three year's longer had you lost that weight
And twenty had you not smoked.

Tame, soft never wild born to late, cocksman or whore, drinking to much
no one cares.
Your obsession with life, living to die lost, forgotten goodbye.

Three billion graves latter and most are filled with your guilt to the masses all to clear.
Rage all you want, hold in your breath until your milky eyes buldge out.
Your only hope is to die in your sleep,
cheerfully here where like you, no one dream's.

The Vile Nasty Motel Room

One lazy summer night,
I checked into a sketchy highway-side motel.
The night was warm and moist,
And the moon was full.
Magnolia trees had long since dropped,
Their bloom's.
Walking through the room I found was.
As I laugh and can't forget.
The room was literally covered in lube,
Explicit grandma magazines were strown
Across the bed.
And a plethora of used dildos in every drawer.
A dildo in one drawer, was half-dead and still vibrating, across The drawer.
On the wall was an old, autographed photograph of Charles Bukowski Hanging crooked on the wall.

My Love For Her Sweet Wine

I tried and tried each night to climb her vine,
That reached up to the faceless moon.
But he who dwellth in, she callth out,
Sweet breath, I took in shame, O'carnal night's.
Hard liquor is not wine to me, she nightly said,
Love is not the same as love of perfumed grapes.
Liquor does not love a weakened youthful heart,
Lost in her hunger for the grape, I drank,
From her moving sweet, cupped open thighs.
None live to long, whom drank from this her cup,
Sweet scented dream's of her false opened love.
Her beauty was as real to me, as beauty loving is.
But bread she did not eat, I ate of her instead,
Proverb's twenty-one, I cast from me away.
And her oil that she used on me combined,
With potent wine and love, left me I know insane.

Sanctuary

Turned inside out,
Everything I am, no place to hide,
To those few,
With their all seeing every where eye's
O' how I long and wish for,
A circle of tree's and a path through
The thorn's,
That would lead to a bed of green leaves
A break from this life for a while Too late in life to be wise,
There was more than two shadow figures
In and out of my room last night
Where would they lead me, what would I find Next month,
In the hospital where for a while I will be In a sleep
Unnatural, bereft of my dream's
And when I wake up from that induced sanctuary
More tired I'll be than before
I should have gone to the hospital fifteen years ago
With that first heart attack
But didn't
And now I am too tired at my age as God looks
Gravely at me and I look back at him
With his two black holes for eye's Unforgivingly.

The Gigolo

I was the dog,
That none of these women would own.
Most had long, very strong neck muscles,
And high cheek bones and mild cataracts,
Day and night, coming and going.
The sidewalk's,
Never ended and were all cracked.
Plants once green, brown dead in the pots.

Using the manic stage, of my pi polar disorder,
I needed to maintain a strict discipline to service them all.
Cleaning their pools, doing window's, house work and Doing their laundry turned them on.
Fixations, on vacuuming thick shag carpets.

The post man rang only once, and I would Answer her phone.
I would call collect and older women,
Would in their many different needs, I learned To accept.

Bushes full of lizards, tree's full of leaves,
Being joined by the head, intellectual women,
Responded best,
When they could see, looking up that the moon
Would again be full.

Real estate being sold, the cul-de-sac,
Being larger sold best.
Living off of their long since dead husband's,
life insurance policies.

They were to old to wear ring's through their Noses,
No mention by me, about old family photographs.
When with me they were safe.
Their pasts were so long ago everything now,
Repetitive done was now instinctive.

So I would bring them fish, fish that I caught with My net,
Like he did two thousand years ago,
And then afterwards I would cook and relax.
Mix them a drink,
Washing the dishes again.

I understand better now why older women,
Like green furniture.
And wore leopard spotted leotards,
When I came.

Large soft fleshy breast's that once despended,
Gallon's of milk.
Attention from them was like swimming in a bucket,
Filled with stinging jellyfish.

The Arrangement

All that has ever been said, other's have said before,
They even then,
When looking up, wanted to taste the moon.
Unseen ripples in space, like those at the sea,
Is now felt like the water and sand,
Moist, warm and wet in between your five toes.
Back and forth like a ship out at sea,
How many waves have you felt and let go.
Shooting stars flying around, inside or out,
Falling snow on your face even after the rain.
And after a life you have spent, after all,
It was done after dark the naming of name's.
Changing bodies with you and yours with mine,
After all perhaps, aren't they now are ours!

The Criminal Woman

O' the rich one,
Why must I ask or you beg.
Having loved but once, nothing about you would I change.
Jeckle nor Hyde or even poor jack,
I would be.
The old poet, Donne
His words though you read,
Are misinterpreted, differently today are they not.
Never less, but more having broun one, it is not cruel to ask.
Wisdom with age has been taught.
Having but one once again.
As I like you once in my youth a criminal man, never caught.
Verily thus I was taught to not beat women,
Thus only drunk would a woman beat on a man.
Issues such as these would on tomorrow's breeze,
Blow away.
In sixteen sixty five,
had they penicillin then none would have died.
What ever a man might, steal she will take,
None like death or jail, once learned forsakes.
I pray to learning, knowledge is power, beating hearts that be strong are then one.
One shouldn't beat and through strength there's No need to kill.
Inside is that jewel I would steal.
As with you I would take back what they stole.
Yes I once was heavily sought after,
Back when it was that I stole.
One must learn to read and write what they say.
The law for me I learned, to it we pray.

Youth And Love

His aim is her heart he aims low,
But mum has said, again and again
Not to climb trees before spring.
And dad as well, has spoken to me
About bushes, though green without leaves.

Head on elbows, through the window
She looks, and she sighs.
The snow is knee deep and he's not around,
In the barn where it's warm.
Doing his chores,
he gathers her yellow honey from bees

I Could Be Yours

I could be yours,
And would I in you like find?
So far away,
I do so long, I would to you give,
Lost in you.

On fire at night are you not?
Yet for my age,
And you in your youth,
I am he in the book that you read.

I to who long,
I to you would belong.
Lost in you,
A light in your night's.
Would it be love or fancy
A lark.

I would plunge deeply,
Into the sea.
Waves crashing on rocks
Tossed and lost.

I would leave you, my dear,
Deaf, dumb and blind.
Like your scarf in the wind,
And yes I would,
Love is blind, would you me?

After New Year's Eve

The people are still on this side of their now,
And must wait until it comes.
Violent thug's, let loose from he, will soon come,
To begin to round them up.

Anchor less,
Their boat's without hope, without light's will float far off into the night and be lost to the dawn.

How much longer must we live under the rule
Of fear.
Conquer and divide U.S. our very own born here living
Under that now useless document, excluded from Their dream that is theirs.

Muslims cannot now come to our shore's,
Under the rule of our Democratic law's they would
In their cliques live not amongst U.S.
And use their votes to change America to reflect that
From whence they came.

Verily those whom suffer from mental illness will Seek no treatment,
For theirs is but that their single path to violate there
Trust and all of their records
Hence from their youth will be given over to the Government.

Proven thus out by their attaining their majority,
And having no records,
When attempting to purchase a fire arm and Having their medical records
Will not contrary to the second amendment be Able to buy one.

As darkness falls whom will rise,
Most without voice cannot speak and would You thus

Claiming the light, will you raise your voice up,
Your very identity, your home and your life?
Verily to you I would say,
Being a coward, staying safe, raising more coward's
To some is how staying weak, makes them even stronger.

Thus the beast in the book that you constantly preach of,
They will number U.S.
So and place a chip the size of a grain of rice in each Babies head, upon birth.

Thus at any time of your life, they type your number in,
And poof - go the non productive poor,
Or maybe you when reaching old age and keeping you alive,
Costs to much and then your numbers typed in and
You simply drop dead, on some floor.

If I Were One Of You

Ever since I watched people like you leave church as a child
Children you know can instinctively tell a truth from a lie.
So in a tree I would sit watching you go in to tell your lies
After all it was I who would peek through her window and watch
You cheat on your wife.

Throughout history there have been antagonist like you
Starting trouble even wars to draw unwanted attention from you.
You false believer
Whom lives but to obstruct as stupid people vote for other evil People like you who have voted for those whom said if you did they would kill you And you did
What gave you the right in a mind dim of light to kill mine.

Your poetry sucks
A rambling of word's just to use up the space that one true
With word's you won't let have.

Listening in the tree as you instruct each of your kid's
To behave and tell lies
A curved wooden plank to sit on that caused pain and No logical reason from those like you can give to explain Pain is good.

Men like you were born to be bad from birth verily thus your parents Were and still are
I being James have said watch the man whom is two and see if his Child is of one
Each one their antagonist that lives inside that must work twice as Hard to overcome his love of being bad.

Watching from that tree I could see who was good and the bad
Because even I as a child chose not to join your sad lie.

Talking To Other Women

I only talk to certain other woman,
Because of you.
Clean women and the everesent clever,
Women that have brain's, like you.

Women firm of waists, women
With breast's, once full of milk.
Unafraid to show me your true colours.
In silk, satin or cotton, full brief panties,
And a face that is soft, full red lips.

I know what you think, when I look
At other women.
As when around you I come.
As both of my hands, cup your breast's,
Safe in your mind and secure.

Never once dreaming at night, alone in the day.
Content with your thoughts about me,
That with me certain thought's, that other Women don't have,
Thought's that you have and still do.

Painting The Sky With His Brush

There we hear them fair lit, out reach of the sky,
Dragon's breath, painted face, up there in the night.
Looking up the long length of her White swan neck,
Rest's the pearl's,
That are there from the stroke of his brush.

At Midnight I'm Alone

Every night you haunt my dream's,
Your swinging in a tree.
And I am pruning every bush.
But not the one for me.

So every night I haunt your sleep,
To see who he might be.
But tonight I thought you welcomed me,
There where I shall never be.

A love like this that comes but once,
I feel, but not for me.

Come To Bed Dear

If such a little space, a space that could Hold more, but more It would not hold.
My eyes are closed, my bodies wrapped,
In purple linen made of lead and glass.

One Language That All Understand

Those that don't love you, have cause
The secrets,
The pain the women or man, those you
Have harmed have cause.

Along the concrete and the bars
Are long halls,
Loud unkind, never quite who once
Was gentle and kind.

Amazing grace deep snow it falls,
The light ring of a bell all can hear.
Why won't you reason it out and Listen to those who are gone.

And sweeter than she and sweeter than he
Are the songs, ever sung.
In the one language that all understand.

It Wasn't I Who Filled All Those Holes

I was that type you thought,
And I have not had sex, since I left her.
She thought I would beg, men don't weep
So I talked about holes I would wash.

Knowing this dream's we share,
Not those of ambition, nor those of deceit
When I'm there.

Being hurt and you have, could it not be,
Why as dry as the sand, you now are?
I would lift your curse, the curse of the ring,
Where snow when it melts, caused you tears.

Angels at night fill the sky and the moon
When it's full needs two hands.
You buried my ghost in-between, so
Such as it is, when the smoke's in your face,
And the fire as it burns, fills the sky.

The Sentence Without A Period

And on that day, his words fell
On my still-beating heart, they were unexpected.

I turned to the jury I was unsteady, the split verdict was illogical.
One ask the Judge it was getting late if they Could break and retire.

The Judge said to the Forman to go back inside
And deliberate
Until an unjust verdict is reached.

Two week's to prepare was all my lawyer had,
For charge's that carried life.
David Allen Dee
Charge's that should have been dismissed on Motion for a directed verdict.

Two life sentences and thirty years to run consecutive With each other.
I must manage somehow to hang on where other's
Had taken their lives for much less.
Judge Manuel Mendez.

Everyday for seven year's, I have so much to do.
I must kill this hatred of he, once and for all,
He whom tried to kill me.
I must turn my soul and flesh to stone,
I must learn to live again - Cynthia hair the prosecutor
Who took the witness into the bathroom
And told her what to say.
So it read when read out loud in her deposition.

Summer turned to winter over and over again,
There were no ardent rustlings
Of all that lived festival outside of my window.

For seven long year's I endured rape, assault's and Robbery by those whom would never get out.

None with a right mind could ever have foreseen that Brilliant day, his deserted house,
When a female Judge
Named Claudia Isom, read what I sent to her written,
She vacated and set aside those sentences designed to kill me, that was twenty Year's a go.

Sycophants

Most sycophants that you come across survive by swimming in the pool of malodorous rectum's.

Sycophants are dangerous.
Using long tongues,
to give you false pleasure.

Giving you nothing in return but biased flattery.

Professional lapper's of marbled blue, moist hanging hemorrhoids.

Sycophants have no real discernable value.
Except to cause trouble.

Sycophants are known by demonic bad breath and lies.
Living breathing,
human, vacuum cleaner's.

All sycophants, especially those that stay hidden, generally are.

Sucking Noises That Are Loud

when i am sleeping at night they come and scare me.
some thing comes over me and i become wet.
and what ever it is,
it comes more often when it is raining.
vaguely,
i can make out the shadow of it.
on the wall,
in me when lightning it flashes.
some thing wide,
some thing long.
some thing that stays inside until i come.
the longer i sleep,
the louder the sucking noises become.
in the morning,
i always find my panties, loose and torn.
i think he will try and glue my legs together.
i think i am adopted.
And i shake back and forth,
at the sound of sucking noises that are loud.

Before I Leave And My Light Fades Out

Before my light fades
To you,
I've offended, I would to you Grant pray
In my own knowing way,
I have followed.

For now I speak slow,
And it's thus that I speak,
When once on paper they read.

I hang on to the edge,
The edge in between where the Word's I have written
Can only be read by those few
The few that can hear what I've written.

Here in the shadow
Of good mornings light before dawn
And the light at the edge
Where I hang.

Where love have must wait And those whomd cause harm would cause
More harm if they could.

Like you I once was as bright And I burned
from both ends now it's night.

Before my light fades
And the time I was given to not Cause the light of another
To go out.

The young in their youth some

Would take
While truth at the edge moves Further out.

Dream Creation And Sexual Confusion

Last night it happened again,
I have woods that are deep behind my house
As well as bushes and trees.

I want to buy two dog's,
But I am afraid that when I sleep
That they may worry me.

Me in my feeble attempt to discribe,
What surely you have experienced, like me when a sleep.

You were sleeping right,
And felt a strange feeling that something was Pushing you down into your bed.

It was strange but over time you ignored it,
But this time
someone shouted out your name,
Many of you have been awakened by someone Shouting out you name when your a sleep.

And you wake up feeling groggy, speaking out, Saying what.
Last night I felt my bed shaking very lightly, Something was moving in and out all around and Through your legs and ass.
Right?

The next night you turned the lights off and waited Awake right?
But this time you feel it crawling around your rectum
And the temperature dropped significantly.
Were your panties pushed aside and did you begin to Experience awashed in heat as light pumping Continued going on?

Again while deep in sleep,
Your name was called and again half a sleep

You again called out and said what.

I Could See She Slept In Snow

I could see her clearly

Her experience began with a dream,
A dream in which he came regularly.
I stood out against the wall,
And neither one could see that I was there.

I watched him watching her as he stretched
Out a hand towards her.
His tongue a tongue of flesh to long to bare Upon her cheek.

I could not turn away
Outside the moon was full
The sky was clear.

The tops of tree's bent down
To touch each leafy bush all green.
The rise and fall
Each breath she took as I stood flat
Against the wall.

Upon her side she turned and then I knew
A tree that large had roots that grew and grew
Into the ground to far to see.

I whispered in her ear and she told me his true name.
He whispered back and she layed like death so still
The noises that he made nobody heard I left her thus Each time he shook her face was blank and white as if it she slept in snow.

It's Never The Voice You Hear

It is my home of sorts,
but a lot of people have died here.

Two suffocations and three suicide's
One jumped from the roof,
and it has been happening to me alot.

It's never a voice, I reconize.
I have never heard the voices of those here whom have died.

On my chest though when a sleep
one comes to rest.
Each smell's different and I can tell two were females.

The jumper was a male who comes each night,
when no one's there.
My period stopped two months ago
when he starts.

It's a warm dream, to be moist to be alert.
My expirience has been,
like yours, if you will tell the truth.

Sometimes he gets interupted by a voice,
a voice I hear,
a voice of hers, that makes him stop.

I am fairly certain, that this group home is infused with higher than normal, paranormal activity.

Surviving The Purge

Each of us live now in different countries
Brought together by words to weave then leave.
Where I live
I can cruise the street's, looking for prostitute's
Without dicking one down.

If I did I am sure some disease I would catch Being disease free and free I am.
Other's elsewhere say that they don't but do.

I without whiskey can't drag my eyes away from
The corner of your mouth.
The cracks become worse when you smile.

Magnolias bloom in the south and their scent
Often hides how they smell.
Crack is the tool of distraction and in common
These issues we have.

Through my  open bedroom window
I hear the hustle and bustle of lies.

Droopy eye's open wide in surprise of how good the heroin is.
Tonight someone will kill their wife.

Here there are no pink elephant's just drunken lust that subsides with the dawn
And those whom have survived the purge again get ready for work.

James McLain

Right Before The False Dawn

In the false dawn is when He comes.
Unaware of your surroundings Weakness settles,
as a light cloud all around you.

The more that you struggle, the more that you feel like you are being held down.

Your cover's are pulled back and you know, something else is in the room.
Night visitors that have come while you sleep have taken turns that have left you warm and wet and still you sleep.

You don't own a dog,
But you still open up like a flower.
Something heavy but light, Living alone,
where quite sucking noises could indicate Here that someone has died.

His Lady With Her Mister

Because of it 'we' laughed as nature does so common green.
And realized that it is true, I thus became, implied there in her favor.
And being left off, distance of, but near to her, first sight I fell in love.
Whose teeth when flashed,
when in the sun, red open lips, she showed them.

I was drawn inside by her sweet breath, she 'made', and so I was.
Temporary lost, I inhaled with each profound look,
each kiss, I rediscovered.

Lost then finally found within, dark caves of sound, so deep
and smooth, so rich and throaty, singing music all the time.

Never ravaged but by scotch and time and filtered cigarettes.
Though detached always above, I look again below, such is an

drawing briefly it aside, a red and white, checker/ed bandanna.

Bronzed goddess her body made, I think of posies, confusing she with her.

does the lady and her Mister) 'wish to wash it lightly off'
One day in time, one grain of sand and foam, 'she did - politely ask '

I decided that her next lightning bolt, when it hit, could not be stopped, certain repercussions of those acute remarks, might thus on me be lost.
She with her and I with she, , this afternoon could still perhaps be salvaged.

One Tongue Made Of Flesh

I lowered
my hands to the cusp of her nib,
and she whispered firmly.

Do you want to go down to the sea,
and go

excited to say no or resist and she nodded
my head, in agreement.

Left Over Love I Must Bare

The hurt and scar's you bring to me,
But by my love could heal.
Open out for all to see, through what
My heart can hold.

However many sparrow's there once we're,
Have flown off with the breeze.
Lift my neck and lift my head, I see
Each tree and bush as they are seen.

I've touched that spot that I've not touched,
In song that flower's bring.
Is in my touching love, the love, I've brought A scar that I must bare.

The Butcher The Conclusion

This is a story from one inmate who discribed some of his crimes and is still alive.

Here you do not choose the meal, here you are prepared to be the meal.

After being captured, health and diet play a very important role.

The meat of each person is of varying quality, and people are also subject to an enormous range of diseases, infections, chemical imbalances, and poisonous bad habits, all typically increasing with age.

As with cattle

a certain amount of fat is desirable as 'marbling' to add a juicy, flavorful quality to the meat.

He personally preferred a young firm caucasian female, in their early twenties.

These as he discribed were 'ripe'.

Stating that tastes vary, and if pregnant he would also use the milk obtained from a milking cow vacuum machine.

Used in his morning coffee.

Referring to himself as the butcher,

he needed a fairly large roomy space in which to work (an interior location by another suggested) , whom he said has long since died in prison.

While needing a large table as a butcher's block.

Most work is up close and personal and Most of the work can be done with a few simple tools: sharp, clean short and long bladed knives, a cleaver or hatchet, and a hacksaw.

Acquiring your victim is subject to each victim's personal attributes.

For best results and health, freshness is imperative.

A living female in captivity is optimal, but not always possible.

When possible make sure she has no food for the first 48 hours, but plenty of water.

Fasting helps to flush the system, purging it of stored toxins and bodily fluids and waste, as well as making bleeding and cleaning easier.

Under ideal conditions, the female will be stunned becoming unconscious.

A sharp unexpected blow at the base of the head he said, work's best.

Avoid any undue excitement (which will pump a greater volume of blood and secretions such as adrenaline throughout the body) .

Hanging, once she is unconscious or dead, she is ready to be hoisted.

Get the feet up first, then the hands, with the head down.

A simple loop of rope or bailing wire may be tied around the hands and feet and then attached to a foldable crossbar or overhead beam.

Or, by making a cut behind her Achilles tendon,

a meathook may be inserted into each ankle for hanging support.

The legs should be spread so that the feet are outside the ark of shoulders, with her arms roughly parallel to the legs.

This provides access to the inner pelvis, and keeps the arms out of the way in a more easily ready position for removal.

She is at her easiest to work on if the feet are slightly above the butcher's head.

Bleeding her out,

a large open tub or bucket beneath her head.

With a razor sharp boning knife, start at one corner of the jaw and make a deep 'ear-to-ear' cut through her smile, starting at the neck and larynx.

As if having sex, side to side.

This will sever the internal and external carotid arteries, and major blood vessels.

Carrying blood from,

the heart to the head, white face, and small brain.

He states that after all she was easy to catch!

Upside down correctly done, is right side up, until it all comes, gushing out.

After the initial gush of blood, the river should run into a small stream.

By massaging the extremities down in the direction of her Loin's, and by compressing both her holes, should release and relax the anus enough, allowing the release of her last unspent gas.

Holding a lighter to the flame until it goes out.

I briefly interrupted him by asking, had he as a child ever started fires or tortured animals?

I ask him this because,

History is replete with serial killers, whose violent tendencies were first directed at animals.

But I digress,

He now makes mention that to completely render the human carcass down to manageable chunks of meat requires a fairly large amount of time, effort, and space.

When and if he choose to not go through the ordeal of processing and storing the bulk of the entire body, an easy alternative would be, he would follow.

Simply saw through one or both legs at the points directly below the groin and a few inches above the knee.

Once skinned, these portions may then be cut into round steaks to be, the carver's preferred thickness, cut into fillets, debone for a roast, etc.

Meat for several meals is now readily available, without the need for evisceration and the time needed to prepare the entire body.

Her top quarter, trim away the neck, or leave it connected to her shoulder, or chuck.

To remove the shoulder blade and the collar bone, is to just cut along the outline of her shoulder blade, removing the meat on top and then dislocating the large bone.

In removing her collar bone make an incision along its length and then cut and pry it away.

About her breasts, they could qualify as briskets and there is a need to remove them before cutting away her ribs.

This individual has chosen to fondle and massage them before he disposed of them.

Her breasts were composed largely of glands and fatty tissue, and despite their appetising and sexual appearance they are primarily inedible.

Her ribs are the choice cut.

Indicating to me his perennial favorite for barbecuing, he would divide them into sections of several ribs each and cook them as you would as if they were pork or beef.

He said that he would divide them and strip them in half for shorter ribs, or even carve her ribs into steaks if the muscle mass was sufficient.

Her lower quarters, where most of the meat is, she being an upright animal.

Except when in bed on all fours.

On this particular female, her muscle mass as is typical with most, American women is the largest in the legs and ass.

Her ass is so large that you can do just about anything with it.

The main pieces of her ass or rump is attached to the upper leg, her thigh.

His typical division was to cut the leg off at the bottom of her ass, then slowly chip away at the bony mass at her knees, the knife without much effort is rolled left and right, two to three inches, in opposite directions.

However, you may want to remove her whole calf muscle from the back of the lower leg, as this is the best cut he often sought, in its area.

Her upper leg is now ready for anything, most especially some beautiful, thick round steaks.

Her ass however, will have to be carved from the pelvis starting at the (Y) in a rather triangular piece.

Her legs attached at the hip, should point forward on what's left of her body, so there will be little interference as he carves along the curve of her pelvis. Any of her remaining meat should be on her thighs, in front of her snapping turtle.

Basically that's it.

His average sized freezer, provided plenty of room and space, to hold her.

He built, a simple old-fashioned smokehouse (in the form of an outhouse, with a stone firepit instead of a shitter) .

He discussed disposing of her waste trimmings, in a number of ways, burial, feed into them to the hogs, or grinding into sausage.

Her bones will dry in the sun and become fairly brittle or being baked an oven, and can be pulverized into dust and scattered in the wind.

The End

Her name he latter told me was a woman.

It Is Their Burden I Must Bare

This burden I have worn like a crown of thorn's,
A king I never was,
And I grow cold like you and yonder are the tree's
That bare no fruit.

Enemies I have, there far and wide,
I won't give up and trampled down and I still rise.
Some did not reason well and my voice it rose,
Two words from whence they came a message told.

I made the clay, I made the vase,
The arrogance of some I have indured for year's not months.
The taxes they have collected for ten year's, on the home's that We're built on land I sold.

All for the love of one a love for wine,
Forsaken not from hate but from a certain type of grape
The color of.
And still after all this time it still goes on.

While living in a cave at night in sleep, I see it all and what I see,
Is what I say,
And I hear them speak amongst themselves, as they ponder how.

A Mystery Ship And Where It Goes

Before the final ship takes leave,
I stood back and watched the parting waves, like leaves.
My love when young,
I bound it to the mast wherefore she'd see.

And close enough to see her eyes and range,
Before the candle burned
And I stood full before her then when young.

Unseen in youth the ship we never saw.
Out of sight, our struggle was for love,
The love for granted taken now we turn and See that ship all see is full.

Could you but know me now as you I'd know,
Free of all the chain's that bound us so and the bird's
That circle now are free to go.

American's Love Grafic Murder Drug's And Sex

Where the grass is tall and green,
I mash it flat.
I watch her as she watches me, Unobserved because.

America,
Is such a brutal culture, a modern brutal culture.
Half the channels on basic cable are about murder,
Sex, primitive reality shows,
Cop's telling the viewer how dangerous their job's
Are,
To justify the violence that they inflict upon
Their victims.

You've seen the white cop's chase down the black dude
And stupidly ask dude, why he ran.
I keep waiting to hear dude say to the cop, because
You shoot unarmed blacks almost every day.
But dude doesn't, he just adds on to his woes by talking
To the cop and it for him gets worse.

American's,
Love the butcher's, if an American doesn't love the butcher
Then there's something wrong with that American.
Violence, murder and more murder and the kind of sex that You would have,
If you could only get away with it, where you live.

The only thing American's love more than a butcher, is To give them a trial and wait for the judges, to cave in to
The mob mentality.
The mob want's a brutal death drawn out.
The Judge's know that no normal individual would commit
Such a crime.
We know the butcher's do.

Violence and Death isn't about love but American's love it.
There's nothing intelligent about watching, Murder more murder,

drugged then sexed, but then most American's aren't that Intelligent, now are they?

In America the moon is violated, the bush is stripped of All it's leaves,
Tree's small or large are consumed by some, not all but American's,
Need to see, feel taste and touch and smell it all.
Just like you do,
Was mummy dear, was daddy large, did you watch your Sister or your brother, kill them all!
And vampires do what vampires do and drain U.S. all.

James McLain

We Deserve The Fire

Whatever happens to us,
it will be fire that has shaped us.
Your eyes,
the taste and smell of what I touched.
If what I kissed, has caused the rose to bloom, to soon and the full moon.
That rest's up high.
My tongue,
hard as wire and it pushed through.
I wait inside the cave of dawn,
my bed, you've made not dry.
Protective strong, the ripples spread Out, I feel as you should.
What we have done together as,
Both deserve the fire.

Silken hangs,

Sheltered from the wind,
Inside the chamber of her heart.

As I gather up the dew,
And morning new has come.
Inside a golden cup,
The wine is cool and warm.

Enter The Sandman

Last night you were dreaming
Coming awake on silk sheets in a room
Strange and dark.

The only window here blew
In a cool breeze
On your nipples, they stood round full and out.

I was wearing
What you were wearing a pair of green
Transparent panties and nothing else as your face
Lay bare to all.

The only dim light in the room was starlight, filtering in from a small high window on the wall opposite the bed.

Like to many before
In a strange house like this I had been drinking.
Maybe this was your dream,
a strangely lucid dream where I checked on you Every night.

The door through your moving eye's I opened
And closed, and there I was I saw a pair of ruby red lips that were just partly open without any hair nor A mustache above the top lip that many I knew Still have.

I kissed you once,
In the middle of your mouth
Opening
The door behind you
Your face was not a face I had ever
In dream's seen before.

Could you feel my hot breath on your neck as I traced around the outline of your now open lip's?

Would you remember after waking anything else
That had happened
I traced concentric circles,
That were spiraling closer, ever closer Pushing at the corners and back.

The door swung open Either way there was a little more light in the Room now,
It could have maybe been a pre-dawn snow.

The soft tap on your knee
Caused your whole body to jerk and convulse
And I wondered what time it was Was It time for me right before early dawn to enter someone else's world maybe a World of different dream's.

And whereupon I turn and each are one.
From the deep you came, I shall return.
I dream alone, of what you dreamed I am.
Do not weep for what you had and lost.
I to fortold about a love you drempt for I.
Pools of light so bright it hurt the eye's.
The mirror on the wall has eye's as well.

John Brennan Crutchley (October 1, 1946 - March 30, 2002) was a convicted kidnapper and rapist who was suspected of murdering more than 30 women, but was never tried nor convicted of those crimes. He was called the 'Vampire Rapist' because he drained the blood of his victim almost to the point of death while he repeatedly sexually assaulted her.

Contents

Early life and career

Born to a well-to-do family in Pittsburgh, John Crutchley was a friendless child, preferring to spend most of his time tinkering with electronic gadgets in the basement of his home.

This penchant for electronics paid off early when he earned a good amount of money repairing and rebuilding complex radio and stereo systems even before he graduated from high school.

Eventually he graduated with a bachelor's degree in physics at Defiance College in Ohio in 1970, and earning a master's degree in engineering administration at George Washington University in Washington, D.C. He married his first wife in 1969.

Crutchley's first marriage showed strains by the time he graduated from college, and it had all but ended by the time he moved to Kokomo, Indiana to work at Delco Electronics Corporation.

Crutchley had been working at General Motors' Central Foundry Division in Defiance, Ohio where he was responsible for the installation of a new plant security system.

He applied for a transfer to Delco Electronics, Kokomo, where the systems were designed and built, and worked there for several years as an electrical systems engineer.

His departure from Kokomo came after an investigation was made by plant security into missing materials.

He later moved to Fairfax County, Virginia in the mid-1970s and remarried. He worked for several high-tech firms in the Washington, D.C. area, including TRW, ICA and Logicon Process Systems.

At about this time, several teenaged girls disappeared in and around that area. He later moved to Florida and began working in 1983 at Harris Corporation in Palm Bay, Florida.

Disappearances□

In 1977, a 25-year-old Fairfax, Virginia secretary, Debbora Fitzjohn, disappeared.

Crutchley was placed under close scrutiny because he was Fitzjohn's boyfriend and she was last seen alive at the trailer park where Crutchley lived.

As a result, he was questioned several times for his possible involvement in her disappearance.

However, nothing came out of it due to lack of evidence, even after her skeletal remains were found by a hunter in October the following year.

Other disappearances in the area have not been definitely linked to Crutchley. A rash of disappearances also occurred in Pennsylvania when he resided there. In some cases bodies of women were found in remote areas in the state. Some investigators linked Crutchley a possible rape-murder of teenager Kathy Lynn Beatty in nearby Aspen Hill, in Montgomery County, where his second wife's family lived.

The 'Vampire Rapist'□

According to FBI profiler Robert K. Ressler, Crutchley fit the profile of a serial killer, even though he was convicted of only a single non-fatal kidnapping and sexual assault.

In late November 1985, in Malabar, Brevard County, Florida, a nude teenaged woman, handcuffed at both feet and ankles, was found crawling along the side of the road.

She had been passed by several trucks before someone stopped to help her. She begged the driver to not take her back 'to that house, '; when he asked where, she told him to remember a certain house.

He noted the location, took her home, and called for police and an ambulance.

The hospital determined she was missing between 40 and 45 percent of her blood and had ligature marks on her neck.

She'd been hitchhiking the day before and the man who gave her a ride was willing to take her where she needed to go, but said he had to stop off at home first.

He invited her in, and she refused, and he got into the back seat of the car and choked her unconscious.

The hitchhiker awoke to find that she was tied to a kitchen countertop, arms and legs immobilized.

A video camera had been set up, along with lights.

The man raped her and videotaped the action.

Then he inserted needles into her arm and wrist and carefully extracted blood and began to drink it, telling her that he was a vampire.

After that, he handcuffed her and put her in the bathtub, returning later for another round of sexual assault and blood extraction.

The next morning, after a third round, the man handcuffed the hitchhiker and left her in the bathroom, saying that he would be back later for further assaults, and that if she tried to escape in the interim, his brother would come and kill her. It was after the attacker had left the house that she was able to push out of the bathroom window and crawl to the road.

Had she not escaped then, doctors believed, she might well have died from a further round of blood extraction.

A search warrant was served for John Brennan Crutchley, whose wife and child were away for the Thanksgiving holiday.

The videotape in the camera was partially erased, which according to the victim would otherwise have contained footage of her rape and the extraction of her blood.

Crutchley was arrested during the search, which took place at 2: 30 a.m. Photographs of the house taken at the time of this first search showed, among other things, a stack of credit cards several inches thick. A second, later, search did not turn up these credit cards, nor a collection of women's necklaces concealed in a closet which had been noted, but not confiscated, by the police during the first search.

After being contacted by local authorities for his input, Ressler was convinced that Crutchley had almost certainly killed before, identified him as a 'serial killer of the organized type.'

Ressler instigated a second search, which was of much wider scope and detail than the first.

Ressler noted that there had been four female bodies found in Brevard County in the previous year, and that unexplained bodies had been found and missing women reported in Pennsylvania while he lived there. No evidence was found to link these deaths to Crutchley, however.

In addition to suspecting Crutchley of murders in Florida and Pennsylvania, Ressler also suspected Crutchley for murder in the 1977 disappearance of Debbora Fitzjohn, the secretary whom he met in Fairfax, Virginia. She had been in his mobile home, and police identified Crutchley as the last person to see her alive.

What was found during the second search in the Brevard County teen case included a stack of 72 3x5 cards on which Crutchley had recorded women's names and described their sexual performances.

When contacted, some of the partners indicated that Crutchley had crossed the line from 'kinky' consensual acts into sexual assaults involving restraint. His wife had apparently cooperated in similar acts, and spoke to the press about him.

Among other remarks, she commented on his attack on the handcuffed teen — which took place while she was away with their own daughter for Thanksgiving — calling it 'a gentle rape, devoid of any overt brutality.'

In June 1986, Crutchley pleaded guilty on kidnapping and rape charges in exchange for prosecutors dropping the 'grievous bodily harm' charge for extracting the victim's blood and for drug possession.

During the sentencing phase, the blood issue came up nonetheless, and Crutchley claimed to have been introduced to blood drinking by a nurse in roughly 1970, as part of a sexual ritual.

He said it should not be considered in his sentencing, because in this case, he had not drunk the blood; he claimed that it had coagulated before he could drink it, 'and he couldn't get it down.'

His wife did not take the stand, but told reporters that her husband wasn't guilty, but was just 'a kinky sort of guy.'

Based on testimony from Ressler at the sentencing hearing, the judge chose to exceed state guidelines and sentenced Crutchley to 25 years to life in prison with 50 years of subsequent parole.

Release and re-arrest

Writing in 1992 about the 1986 conviction, Ressler predicted that Crutchley's '25 to life' sentence would result in release as soon as 1998.

In fact, Crutchley was released two years earlier than that.

After serving 11 years of his sentence, Crutchley was released on August 8, 1996 from Union Correctional Institution in Raiford, Florida for the Brevard County Jail for good behavior.

Officials in Bridgeport, West Virginia, where his mother lived, did not want him, nor did the people in Malabar and Melbourne.

Therefore, he was transferred to the Orlando Probation and Restitution Center, a half-way house where he would undergo counseling and pay restitution even while serving his 50 years of parole.

Less than a day later, he was arrested again for violating his parole after being tested positive for marijuana.

Even though he denied smoking marijuana (saying that inmates blew marijuana smoke in his face) , prosecutors in the subsequent trial showed Crutchley confessing to a corrections inspector that he smoked the substance because he was nervous about his impending release and he was aware of the relaxing effects of cannabis.

This violation of his parole resulted in a sentence of life imprisonment to be imposed on Crutchley on January 31, 1997 under the 'three strikes law.'

This was his third conviction; the first two were for the kidnapping and the rape of the Brevard teen.

Death□

On March 30, 2002, Crutchley died in prison.

Corrections officials reported on April 2, 2002, that he had been found dead in his cell at the Hardee Correctional Institute with a plastic bag over his head.

The cause of death reported was asphyxiation.

Subsequent reporting around August 1,2003 from the Florida Department of Corrections declared that the 'Florida Vampire Rapist' died of autoerotic asphyxiation.

This Prison Stuff Is Real And It's Not Easy To Talk About

I try to emphasize, with so many here.

But when I hear people wine about nothing but cheese, and thing's, I myself wouldn't even take notice of.

The only thing that's the same about here and prison
are the cliques, that I stayed away from, which allowed me to survive prison.

So when I read a poem about nothing, after having posted one that you would only see on forensic files.

I can only conclude that some are so wrapped up in them selves, or where you live it's not living, or the ego's are so large
While not forgetting narcissistic personality's.

But that not withstanding I guess half of something is better than all of nothing.

When so many here boycott what other's write.

With the world mostly filled with stupid people no one out side of U.S.

are left to read what the rest of U.S. write anyway.

Jeff Session And White Fears Of Becoming A Minority

Trump has fascist's ear, is the real fear going to come from administration appointees, who will wield a dangerous amount of white power under the guise of doing the people's business?

One side could argue, would any other country in the world allow themselves to become a minority, when throughout history a majority it was.

Through out history a small population of indigenous people being overwhelmed by a larger invading people, being through the introduction of disease, driven into near extinction, or total extinction these indigenous people by foreign governments always have.

American history is being made, by an incoming administration whom not only campaigned on white supremacy, but immediately upon winning office began choosing avowed racists and religious bigots to serve and advise.

Closer to home, people of color can look forward to institutionalized, white supremacy that will forever erase whatever Civil Rights gains that have made over the course of many decades. And at such a great cost of life and inhumane incarceration.

Now our federal criminal justice system is going to be administered by a man that was too racist to serve as a federal judge and was rightly then rejected by the people's Senate.

If Jeff Sessions (R-AL) does become the United States Attorney General, and there is every reason to believe he will.

Will it signal the end of the Justice Department's ability to enforce the Civil Rights laws of all people of color?

The strange twist on this is that he will have to deny the rights of White's as well.

What in your mind constitutes the disposal of poor white trash?

With Jeff Sessions running the Department of Justice, voting rights violations will be celebrated, not prosecuted and it is hardly an exaggeration based on his past statements.

While unfortunately the south has always been the heartland of American racists.

Bright Stars In A Southern Sky

Bright stars in a southern sky
If I could only put them out Put them all out
I looking down at only you.

What can I say, what can I do,
Hanging high in the nigh sky
Put them out
I would then know what to do.

There's to much light from all Those cities

And we can not see a single star
That when looking we once saw
When looking up, to see those Brightly, shining
Stars in the southern skies

I have to get up early in the morning,
as you continue to sleep.
Before dawn arrives
you love me,
as I lay quiet in sleep.
And, over time,
Dawn when it comes,
Wake's me up so gently.
And how could I ever feel lonely.
On a fading dark night,
when early,
morning dawn, comes so swiftly.

Living Amongst The Corrupt

I would rather, live in a country that's corrupt.

Than in a country that say's, they are not.

Watching His Head Go In

Ahead of me the road I see, very few in walking can.
Certainty it's wide and long, despite it's length,
I am.

My humming bird his tongue is long, a flower's Neck is deeper still, until his head goes in.

Knowledge gained about it, as I watch it come each day.
Each day, he's in a different spot,
And even though each face he's kissed, he has solved
a thousand mysteries.

Boycotting What Others Write

People who's first language isn't English, obviously were born some where else.
No, in America we haven't allowed cattle to roam the streets while people starved.
Some kid in Africa has to hide to write a poem and then post it here.
Save the drag and your lies by coming to America and not finding a way to live with other's that speak and look like you.
I know most here didn't vote for Donald Trump,
I've already seen him say on t.v. more than once that sex offenders here should be killed or have their you know what's cut off.
The ride from the top to the bottom of the tallest mountain is made smoother when millions have gone there before you.
I've visted a few poem sites in India,
they all wanted money, even though I couldn't read or write the language.
Visitor's from places like Syria number none.
Yea,
You who think your so much better than everyone else.
Iran, Iraqi or Saudi Arabia are quietly instructed to here not apply.
Of course people like me and the crow a few other's would where your from be strung up or stoned.
Cultural superstition being what it is, who in their right mind would burn bodies where they drink, bath and wash.
Not over here though because of t.v. and the internet
we or I should say some understand why it's done.
Boycott the cliques that you live in but won't, and while America might not be now as once it was.
Because a contribution from any or all is what's in the best interest of U.S. all.
And here after saying to you what I just said,

Any Act Of Kindness

Young skin has a memory, there was a time when mine did.

Translucent unscarred,
like a book I once read the catcher in the rye.
I didn't care that her legs were uneven, or that the fruit
hung low and out of reach beneath the tall tree.

As she worked, I moved closer to the window,
the glass in the window to was uneven.
An old rag tag mixture of lead inside was colored.
The sky was blue and cloudless.
The sun was just reaching it's majestic hight.

She is to me,
what you are to him and when we are touching it's like those clouds, just out of reach are now wrapped around us

Renting From Landlord's (Hud)with Past Felony Convictions

Apr 5,2016

The Obama administration released a warning Monday telling the nation's landlords that it may be discriminatory for them to refuse to rent to those with criminal records.

The Fair Housing Act doesn't include criminals as a protected class, but the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD)says refusing to rent based on a criminal record is a form of racial discrimination, due to racial imbalances in the U.S. justice system.

'The Fair Housing Act prohibits both intentional housing discrimination and housing practices that have an unjustified discriminatory effect because of race, national origin, or other protected characteristics, ' say HUD's newly-released guidelines. 'Because of widespread racial and ethnic disparities in the U.S. criminal justice system, criminal history-based restrictions on access to housing are likely disproportionately to burden African-Americans and Hispanics. While the Act does not prohibit housing providers from appropriately considering criminal history information when making housing decisions, arbitrary and overbroad criminal history-related bans are likely to lack a legally sufficient justification.'

About 25 percent of Americans have some kind of criminal record, which can range from felony convictions to arrests that never led to charges. As HUD correctly notes, criminal history is not equally distributed across racial groups. For instance, while blacks are about 12 percent of the U.S. population, they are about 36 percent of the prison population. Hispanics are also overrepresented behind bars, though to a much smaller degree.

'The fact that you were arrested shouldn't keep you from getting a job and it shouldn't keep you from renting a home, ' HUD Secretary Julian Castro said Monday at an annual meeting of the National Low Income Housing Coalition. 'When someone has been convicted of a crime and has paid their debt to society, then they ought to have an effective second chance at life. The ability to find housing is an indispensable second chance in life.'

HUD says that landlords may be allowed to bar those with criminal records from living in a facility, but they will have to prove that such a policy is necessary for protecting the safety of other tenants, and designed to avoid illegal discrimination. The new guidance recommends that landlords consider factors such as the severity of the criminal history and how long ago it occurred.

Landlords who violate the Fair Housing Act can be hit with civil fines amounting to thousands or millions of dollars, depending on the severity and the duration of the alleged violation.

The new guideline includes one major exception that will benefit landlords: It is never illegal, HUD says, for landlords to block renting to those convicted of manufacturing or distributing illegal drugs.

The new guidance isn't the first move by the Obama administration to break down perceived racial barriers in the housing market. HUD launched an effort in 2015 to encourage cities to use Section 8 and other levels to create racially-integrated neighborhoods. The effort came in the wake of a Supreme Court ruling that policies which result in unintentional housing discrimination may be targeted in lawsuits.

When, Will It Rain

Your face I touch, it is hot and dry
Warm and ever moist deep, down inside
Clouds that cover dawn a face withdrawn
Weeping in view, my finger circles drew

When will it rain, let it come down, let it rain
I can not continue, tree top's hanging down
Green bushes, Green leaves, can now finally breath

When will it rain, the air is moist, moody and wet
Each cloud filled day, each face is grey Rain fills each cup, outside until it's full

When it does finally rain, it runs down off her face
Like cheap mascara

Oakland's Ghost Ship Warehouse Fire

Artist's gathered here to live, this warehouse for to many was the difference between becoming homeless.

A magnet for tragedy, loitering pedestrians gather to see what could not be seen, morbid mind's.

Hidden by the smoke a scandal hides to rear
it's ugly head it lacked hindsight.
Hunter's, hunt for meat,
charred beyond the point of who is what.

Father media here wears black, medals temper lost, one wanders lost and dazed where they all played as people play.

Broken window's,
burning blue's and copper's green.
Machines scrape up flesh and burning shoes with the charred trash.

Out side no one heard the screams as death turned off the light's and in the dark and breathing smoke, became a pyre and human fat burned as fat
as from a whale.

Breathing one last breath the crowd is turned away,
to cast a net of blame.

The Bible The Koran And The Torah

Not that long ago
It was as easy as teaching a child,
One, Two, Three.

Missionaries thought their truth that grown Young children were taught that Jesus would not return
until everyone on earth had heard the Gospel.

A child alive in the womb being born and killed
At birth, a preventable death,
Has heard what?

Matthew 24: 14, 'And this gospel of the kingdom will be proclaimed throughout the whole world as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come.'

Jesus has just talked about all kinds of terrible things that will happen, cataclysmic events that will point to the end of time.

(see 24: 3-13)

Depression Emotional And Cognitive Thinking And Eventual Suicide

What does real treatment resistant depression feel like?

It's a bottomless ocean filled with dept's of such sadness,
Of being 'upset' unable due to their young age of being Unble to properly articulate it.

The never happy ending, of crying a lot.
Empty of tears,
and energies constantly low.

Your normal is my sadness and life is empty and dull
And stupid, lazy people,
Who hate to learn, say go on out and smell the roses.
Or even worse, that what doesn't kill you will make
You stronger, these people to U.S. are the most dangerous
Of all.

No one can fix it, unless they are allowed to find those Inherited Gene's and replace them.
Hopelessness, and that in truth, there is no way out
And jail just makes it worse.
And terrifyingly, they almost all know it.
Justice was never blind seeing it all go on around her.

And some people instead of taking their own life, buy a gun and Shoot people.
Because of the self perceived hatred they have for themselves.
That even just one of you, could have changed
And for all the dead,
Their future you could have changed,
Can't you get even one Judge to believe that?

Cutters feeling numb, cut just to see if they can still feel
Any pain, it's the total numbness of nothingness.
And the complete loss of interest and motivation that in life
Kimberlee could not ever feel.
Living in my car was certainly safer than living with her.

Dead,
Female unavailable.

I don't feel happy, I don't feel sad, I've just got the same face on all the time are you really that blind, or is it that you don't care, or want to get involved with someone like me?
That you could have saved simply by asking, if I'm alright.

You could shove your fist up her vagina or my ass and Neither of U.S. wouldn't feel what you feel.
Nothing at all does that sound normal to you?
Violence through sex, unfeeling, stretched out to the point of bursting, sex doesn't work.
Does painful sex, like the kind that you don't have,
like that work for you?

Treatment resistant depression is a snake in the grass,
Searching for rat's, in my ass.
Rage being subtle is always directed inwards,
That's why anger management classes seldomly ever work.

By being bi- polar combined with treatment resistant depression, I just want people to know that I'm two different people.
When ever I'm like this and my behaviour is like what You see on Cop's on t.v.
and that I'm not always like this, though some evil people Know this and push the right buttons on purpose.

The rollercoaster, the pendulum swings with out wing's,
As discribed by, Edgar Allan Poe.

It's growing dark now,
There's frost on the ground.
And I still have miles to go before I can sleep
The wood's,
for me here are really dark and deep.
So if you don't see me at work or come out of my house
For a while,

The natural light for you, that you need, is the light

I need in the dark, or I Could just be simply decomposing inside of my house.
Can you describe to the Cop's,
the smell that was me, that lead them up to my door?

James McLain

House Of Empty Dream's

I filled every room that you ask,
Even the one without drapes.
Outside looking in one would think,
Nothing is left here but dream's.

Here where in love that we lived,
Song's about love we would sing.
Your closet was full snug and warm,
Where nothing inside you would hide.

Such does all love find it's own end,
When one in love goes away or dies.
Green field's once seen far and wide,
Are now filled with nothing but weed's

How I Get Her To Come Every Night

Verily,
You should prepare yourself and your palace
Before she comes.

This women has a very developed sense of taste for each word
and where that each word should be.

I make sure that everything is clean and shiny,
She will come and add something she likes that will make Her palace smell right.

Trim her finger and toenails,

Alone cold
Wet and abandoned.

From The County Stockade To Hillsborough Correctional Institution

Hillsborough Correctional Institution opened in nineteen seventy nine

For U.S.

Youthful offender's

Aged from eighteen up to twenty five

I was in that initial group

Of eight hundred fifty kid's that opened

It's door's to U.S.

Here now we're real punk's

Slang for real homosexuals when being

Gay

Was still on the New England journal of Medicine

As a psychiatric disorder.

Live walking and talking sucking machine's

Before arriving and being our age

Who was it that stretched them out where

In truth for them size didn't matter.

The weakest amongst U.S.

Became a punk's

Punk where the punk would dick the weak down

Called turning him out.

In the occasional conversation with one when

I had

I would ask the punk with some silly name like

Gloria or sugar britches

Why when they were being dicked down why the

One hooked to his ass

Moving daily in and out didn't consider Themselves as gay.

This was by he conveyed to me that it was considered prison credibility

And one night when coming out of the shower a punk Grabbed my Johnson prison slang for cock
Before pulling away it got hard which left me
Quiet and confused
Was I gay because it got hard.

I decided at ever opportunity that I could to spend
As much of my remaining sentence
In confinement
This behavior was back then considered normal by staff
This is when I learned deep in sleep that I could Control my dream's
And I could leave the prison each night
And go to places that still to this day I've never been.

The Old County Stockade In Tampa Florida

How could I not watch I was a child
A child of seventeen
I was alive but weak having not seen the sun
since I last went to court.

The County stockade on Clark Street in Tampa
When I was there was run by Colonel Parrish.
And we under age by four or five year's were under constant attack by a trusty called banana and here is what I saw.

Over crowded four teen-ager's in a two man cell
And I learned early not to sleep near the Bar's.

In the middle of the night
When the red light was on he would come.
Huge white eye's
And his middle finger was abnormally large Long and black.

The Bar's were flat
Flat and thin darker than night
And so quite you could hear the cock roaches rubbing Their wing's.

I could smell the Coco Butter lotion bought from the commissary
Down the long length of the hall
And the squishy noise that was made by a man Named banana
Moving in and out of one young
White boy who was sleeping against the dark bars.

Palletable fear such as this one can taste

As the smell of his feces drifts down the hall to the rest of U.S.

In this one of Florida's many garden's of death
Without looking for hell these children found it.

Drinking Saki Under The Moon

Drinking saki
We two can now see
Eye to eye
Should I not yes or no
Under the moon
Snow flecked breasts
I Start a cold fire
Beneath a green tree
Falling leaves
Drinking more saki Falling asleep
I dream in the bushes.

Night Is Here Love Close Your Eye's

Tonight I will come and wait for you Forever will come sit here and be still
What ever it takes to keep love alive
Two beating heart's bound together as one

Night is coming don't close your eye's
The moon is not covered watch it still rise

There is a pulse to it's rhythm and beat
Here water moves and our memories are deep
The truth lies in between our day and good night's
The moon in my hand's again it will rise

There is a new pulse to it's rhythm and beat Night is coming and don't close your eye's
Open your eyes to the sun it's alive
And do what ever it takes to keep love alive.

Love Had Doubts, But Not To Me

It was the sea that I loved,
When I was alive.
Women came and love was hot,
Love, but for me it was.

Hills of white sand white as snow,
The wind when it blew blew with sound.
One woman knew more of love and of men,
And of men she spoke not at all.

In the sun walking down to the warm sea,
The heat from the sun exposed me to all.
When I loved I loved like the sea so deeply,
Every night now under the sky love I had.

Faces Without Faces

I cannot tell my doctor,
That there is no snow, when
There is snow all around U.S.

Where I live isn't much of a home
Yet, where they'd put me,
Sterile white porcelain floor's
I have now grown afraid of.

Here I have my bags of pills,
Out in the open.
Within reach,
But there would be no place
There to hide them.

This will be lost on the young,
Wasting their life.
Time I have not, I'm not old.

This is not a place for children.
Though once or maybe twice as lives
Have passed it once was.
Here many died, kept in filth, back before this was Florida and yet Florida, it is.

I've stitched together a life, a life
Of to many judge's.
A quilt bourne of opinions, but being bi polar
Was for me the worst opinion of all.
Back in the the seventies
They took damn good advantage of it.

I have had my chances.
I've tossed those dice, those dice
Where on one dice there were only one's
And on the other there were only two's.
I have tried and tried.

In my dream's where other people succeed
Because I made them.

I have tried to over think everything, too hard.
I no longer who I was, I am James
I have tried to be natural to someone else's Nature, is it poetry.

I have never tried to be blind in love,
like other men I liked small tits,
Dominant in bed, with my dear, sweating sweet one.
Always cheating one eye's open looking,
Watching her go through a thicket of thorn's dark self imposed,
her handful of moon covered in snow and no another.

I did not look.
I saw in a dream long ago, precognition that Curse, the curse,
of the cursed without cure those white floor's.

Will my new face be there,
Male or female a witness to, but not of Without the experience of having sex with one or the other in one single life being both.

The face of the dead one's, I've seen before
A handful of pills.
Or that quite gas oven, a chair without legs,
Dancing the dance I great poet's have.

It's only an easy peace, were it not for the,
Other faces still there.
And how ever much it is that I know,
coming back to learn more.

A List Of The Human Beings That Have Died In The Custody Of The State Of Florida Prison's In 2016 - Poem by Is It Poetry

Pay special attention to the current pending as these were by and large preventable death's,

due to not receiving, pre screening care for cancer.

Lack of Suicide prevention, due to hostile environment of being housed with other violent inmate's and the lack of humane treatment at the hand's of Florida

Department of Correction's

staff and employees who lack training in the field of mental illness.

For the most part information about prison inmate's is kept from the public

due to the preventable violence of staff and fellow Prisoners and total lack of accountability by D.O.C.

You should tremble at this, the sheer number of human beings, dying or being killed each year.

James McLain

Unbind Me From Their Shame

I have recklessly abandoned all deception and revealed
my true self through you to the world Seeking knowledge and truth from each self Unbound from their shame
I have stood naked exposed before men And thus am immune to the undo influence of the popular opinions of the mobs
After in their eye's having died
Wisdom I have learned from such pain.

She Is Ploughing The Land

Ploughing the land Hearing Crow's sing
The valley and streams
Leading to the sea
The bushes and tree's
She and he

The Climax

Yes, being strong I
And those finger nails were Lavender Smell's
On you the rose I split into

How much snow can one eat
Oysters dine
On rank tuna fish and Crabs back into their hole's

The distance between me and it Caused hiccups
And as for me I swam to the bottom
Without air and laid there

The weight of it throbs
In her hand
Having faith and faith is blind

Day always is and night is kind
And you are less in the light though your mine and always and always it is as it is I am blind

James McLain

Not In Me

I worship,
In the temple that is yours.
And the temple and I,
you both have.
I am with you both inside.
But outside,
I have nothing at all.
In the temple that is yours,
Both you have.

Light,

Before day.

Washing The Hole

The path leads down
to the sea
As a breeze moves the limbs on A tree
The tide moves in Washing in and out
Of the leaves.

Dear, It's Your Face

Of all the faces here I have seen,
your face
is to me extremely, hauntingly.
But the difference in our age to me would make a difference.
You a high energy fire fly a light that's seen in the dark.
Shaped in the form that it is,
it needs no further molding other than,
the salt and spray of the sea.
But I in my need,
I to need to be by the sea.
Verily thus
from whence I came, it's such I know of your needs.

L.B.G.T. A Floating Poem

Now,
What happens between U.S.
Your body and mine.
Some now hate U.S. more, Trump has not changed.
Dog's hunting and killing gutting the rabbit's,
happy without leash or chain.

Homophobic, turning their unborn children into future serial killer's.
Our convective tissue, severed and put into mason jars and kept as trophies.

Floating above your body haunts mine, slender finger's, attached to small hand's.
Nature to U.S.
is to sing and raise flag's.
And shine like the moon and the north evening Star.

To live and to dance, inside or out, your tongue takes me to places that I've never been.

I have been waiting for our future's to meet,
free from the tree's and dry burning bush.
In this damp-wet cave and whatever happens, is this the path of the rose, I would pick.

Poetry Or Pornography

Poetry is a face,
covered in silk that orbit's the moon.
And that tree's grow in crack's with huge root's.

Peep shows,
where just for a dollar she shows what he came to see.

What is it about that one special movie, where it's packed full of people that came to see two women kiss.
But it's only half full to one specific sex,
that came out after dark to see broke back mountain?

What is a bush without leaves, or a tree so tall that if she made it to the top.
She would fall.

There are lonely woman,
who can wear out two or three vibrators a month.
Vibrators are cheap,
but the batteries are not and a man isn't needed to recharge her coveted batteries at all.

Thus a poor man will eat the bad fish and never complain, while he is stripped of his bark.

Tree's washed in clean rain that have hollow spots, is a tree only seen in National Geographic.
Hanging from snow covered lip's,
swinging back and forth in and out of her mind.

A bush full of leaves,
means hair and things that are small go unseen.

There is a certain precision, to the tug and pull and none go unseen halfway there.

And my twin once said inside to me there is a bald headed rat running in and out.

I genetically knew that bald headed rat wasn't me.

I Remembered You

Sometimes it was a swing of my mood,
Manic or happy when things were good.
You could bring me back around to yours,
Our night's would then be again right.

I know in past lives you were like me,
And I was like you that's how we met.
But if one or the other leave life to early,
or live to late what would we then do?

Innocence Dark Betrayal

Death is all.
Around, all around me, shadows gather.
My dream reappears,
as the stroke of death rubs up against me.
Death invades me, and as I grow full what comes in from the night drips into the earth, that outside is my prison.
In my mind, I cry out,
while the end of my life surrounds him.
All alone except for death as he nightly comes,
none hear my death, as he empties out my breasts
nor hear his pleasure, in and out forever except me.
All alone other's come and if this is such hell
why am I not all alone.

Where other's do as people should.
And I must think these people good,
No god to speak for me, no god for you.

You were the heart inside my soul,
My chest was safe and warm.
Trapped in the pool are fish I see,
And the tide has gone out with me.

Storm after storm have been lost on me.

For all that have gone, the ocean is now at peace.

The Solitude Of Late Night

Forbidden in university were such parties.
But the women came over at night.
We in the day foolishly spent all our wealth.
And we were seen on what we had spent.
Having drunk to much, I lay half awake.
More asleep than awake, I knew not.
Moving around and silent as wraith 's.
Trying to improve their poor lot's.
In a dream she came, teasing my limbs up right.
In a vague misty haze, I filled my last cup.
I was taken to court by someone I never met.
A lotus exclaimed, I planted a tree, near her bush.

Because You Don't Read

By now most of you are only thinking about your survival!
Having no money and what to do with your children.

After all where you live sucks and only now you are beginning to realize your dead.

Unable to read and understand from the beginning:
those whom can't read will begin to flee
in every wrong direction.

Verily thus,
you think history is boring and philosophy is stupid.

Ancient women whom made their men, to write on the wall's of their damp fire pit caverns to leave you an example of the life you didn't like and climbed out and up from.

Because you would rather just sit and watch Cop's and Judge Judy instead of diving head first,
into the brain of another man or a women in an attempt to better understand how the world really work's all around you.

Instead of reading Shakespeare, you go to the zoo and watch the chimpanzee type out the grapes of wrath and all that men knew before.
Brought to you and made available through Jerry Springer.

Because most of you are trapped in a world that your God made and how your perceived by those all around you and only to be by your neighbors turned in and killed.

You are unwilling to ask this childlike simple question,
What if it's all over the world the lie of those few.

And accept the possibility that maybe you are only,
alive in reality of some unknown child, in some other world,
and that's just maybe, because you don't read.

Rooster

My eyes burn yellow from the stinging sweat?
The stinging thorn of love, I won't forget.
Trampled gardens, dreams, every path I take leads back to where you are, from whence I came.

Maintained wife and playboy kids, facebook pets.
Saving men to bleed on their desecrated land's.
Being born, before I came, green was no safe bet.
Overhead a bullet whispers, it's not a dream.

Here they come to give U.S. less not ever more.
Here I am, that rooster, others love to crush.
And to me they've sown and they have sown, enough.

The boy was brown the girl was white
And neither were that old.

Innocent thought they both were and heard
The people speak.

Black or white with beards of snow
And dressed as they should be.

All lived a peaceful life was seen
A calm that pleasure steals.

Pain was softened
when it came with love
And caring hands.

You see them everywhere your go Compassionate caring friends

Small Her Circle Was

However small her circle was,
I was safe inside.
My heart was full my body was,
And laughter could be heard.

I loved her madly and none who knew,
Would tell me that her love, they'd Known as well.

The past was buried too deep to fear.
As are the raked up leaves I stacked against Her fence.
A circle ringed in tree's from inside out.

I met the other, whose love was given to Without a kiss and silenced words -
No unuttered word's that breathed and stirred.
Her friends would use me thus a ring of tree's.

But this was not love when it is not spoken,
Just a bumblebee,
That searches like a ghost through each bush
Flower's never seen.

Letter's, To My Daughter

ter's, To My Daughter - Poem by Is It Poetry

Prison was like,
What should I say?
There are no lessons to be learned there.
Just animals without conscience or a functional moral compass.

Dear Caroline,
To my one and only!
Not permitted to write how you feel nor why it is, that thing's as they are.

My head always hurt's, it is throbbing,
and for all they have done,
my heart is stunned, unable to work as it should.

One calls you princess, I know her to, she is Toni.
There is as of now, know way for you to know but again from her, you will be taken.

Her judgement is poor and I must take the steps to protect you from him, as she won't nor can't because the alcohol has robbed her of reason, once promised.

Thirteen is to young to be an adult as your childhood
by they whom you think as your friends,
Verily thus, they are not.

Even now I still hear the screaming and yelling you endured
even after so long I'd been gone.

She was only angry at her self as it was I, who kept our business successful and growing.
And since I left like dust in one's hand once opened the wind does then blow it away.

Death it is not nor does it always appear as a body hung from a rope dancing the dance that air can't support.

My heart
can't accept such a death.

But
you can bet that I'll go to my grave without regrets
singing this unfinished song.

My fair daughter, good-hearted, with eyes like mine.
Remember of this and remember you must had they left me in prison - you would not be here.

And from me, that one half of me,
a daughter of mine,
must always be meek, humble and kind.

And use all you know when growing older
to learn from those mistakes made by all the other's.

Played me against your mother and that one Judge

Can You Violate A Restraining Order By Using Face Book

Yes, You Can Violate A Restraining Order On Facebook

Court cases have created a fairly clear guide for the activity on Facebook that violates a restraining order, such as liking or poking.

By Leah Becerra | January 21,2016

What does an order of protection really protect on Facebook? You might be surprised.

It will protect you from being poked.

In 2009, a Tennessee woman was arrested for poking another woman who had an order of protection filed against her.

This violated the order of protection because the poke was considered a form of communication.

At the time,

a residential fellow at Stanford Law School's Center for Internet & Society told ABC: 'A poke is a very deliberate action. You have to select the person and say, 'This is what I want to do.'

An order of protection will also save you from unwanted likes.

In 2015,

a Pennsylvania man was arraigned for violating a no-contact restraining order against him by liking his ex-girlfriend's photos.

The Times Leader reported he allegedly 'liked 22 photos and videos on [his ex's] Facebook.'

In this case,

no-contact also includes contact via a Facebook notification.

Similarly, but more recently — this year, even — in a County Supreme Court in New York state, a woman is facing allegations that say she violated an order of protection against her by tagging her victim in a post. (Video via Facebook)

She also called her victim 'stupid' but that's somewhat besides the point.

The New York Law Journal says she's 'charged with second-degree criminal contempt for the alleged post.' She's moved to have the charges dismissed because 'the protection order did not specifically ban (her) from making contact with the victim via Facebook.'

So, restraining orders can save you from pokes, likes and (maybe) tags.
What about protection from having your friends contacted?

According to law website Justia, in 2010 a man sent letters to a number of his wife's friends after getting their information from Facebook. At the time, she had an order of protection against him.

He was charged with violating the order but the judge dismissed the charges against him — including one for stalking in the fourth degree — because he didn't actually use the letters to communicate with his wife. (Video via Facebook)

The takeaway from these cases is simple:
If you're not supposed to have contact with a person, remember that Facebook is as much a way of communicating with someone as picking up a phone and calling them.

Talent

On those rainy day's alone.
No one can tell you where you are going,
but where you have been, other's have gone.

Stories told by they who have gone on before you, saves one time
if by the telling you draw them in.

Life, death and love are a proper good place to start on,
loss as well without loss one can not properly measure what one has to say.

Become a hard women by staying soft,
and lend him a breast for the man that is hard but soft in heart.

To the young:
Measure your friends, by their manner of speech
And if your speech is proper they will learn.
Verily on the out side looking in say nothing
they will tell you all.

To the pretty girl's:
Pretty your scent the stuff you are made of will through misuse crack and stay dry.
Bragging about what you had and the rocks you have held and then moving on to greener pastures.

And that thing you are afraid of Will look at you, from every angle with his one good eye.

All are young, all grow old and in-between some will die, unnecessary deaths from drinking and driving unable to deal with childhood trauma and overdose on drugs your mother bought you.

Whilst you live and are fresh and randy, being young and not fussy but lusty remember those stories that you heard and ignored, roaring at the top of your lungs, I'm immortal and in hell I'll be found.
Amongst the living dead.

Is This Your God

Slender beams of light enter,
the darkened room, as I waiting kneel.

Always supplicating, always cold naked and having been driven,
here in the open, waiting my turn as I do, to hear your prayers every day of every year.

Robed forms, wrought in shadows with their long staff's loom large, as dew and light white mist is sprayed into the air,

Forming an opaque image in my mind,
of being impaled on a spear made of gold.

My confusion is dawning on God's, lovely face.

I bow my head, swallowing each drop of his just to worship near you,
in your zealous religious proximity close to him.

Why Did My Fingers Have A Weird Smell On Them, Even After I Washed Them

In vivid colour even now your to close before sleep, each young imagination still is.

Death to me,
even as a young child was the then pushing of my small finger in and out, thinking I touched it.

An inch or two down into a fresh dug grave and I smelled it.
The dirt was as clean as fresh driven snow, yet to my young mind as young as it was, it would like children do smell it.

Children as a rule don't have outwardly dirty thoughts, new Intel.

On the news each day I then saw, children and grandchildren and great-grandchildren, naked
all in my mind,
as clean as the dirt that my young mind, could make them.

Outside playing in my underwear as we did.
Blown up and burning as only the children could smell them.
Those few adult's to me, as I saw them, never hid them, but flew a flag, I made them.

Finger's curling in, up towards the middle.
Then being delivered up to the middle of nowhere, I then realized.
That the soap that I vividly washed with,
could not deliver me from, what went on around it.

It was then that something inside my head snapped and all the colour was drained from my head.

The culprit is
I could not stop it.

And it was latter I learned each night a succubus came.
Paralyzed, that feeling that a dead body is climbing on top and have It's way as thing's such as this dreaming do.
so I stayed away from the t.v. late at night, but the finger inside I still smelled it.

If You Only Knew What That Picture Means To Me

Timeless life goes on,
one last letter a picture of you of your smile.

If I was in a bad place,
a place other's knew we never talked about it.
She and I though I tried.

I did not know what to do because if I had I would have done something different
so I could be there with you.

People forget what they never knew or once had and low though I am now thus low they have set me I did what I did for the very same reason you did that night last July.

People will forget and can only reminisce
what it's like to be thirteen when they turn fourteen.
These will all be stories some day,
and this pictures will become one day an old photograph like those memories that you see other people post on Facebook.

But right now,
I can only live in your moment and these moments are all that I have.

She to me is so very beautiful As fresh with youth as the moment I was, that you now are.

And if they allow you to read this poem or you're listening to your favorite song, and it's this one timeless moment that drives other people on with the people who you love most in this world.

And in that one moment,
I can only try to reassure you,

we are if only for a moment, the moment that you knew what that picture of your moment means to me.

Caroline.

We Will Now Begin To Hear Their Gun's

What now was wrong is right, and up is down.

Soon the gun's that we will hear,
and all,
that you hold dear will cause much fear.

Can beauty pause, this one last time
as marching feet?
Crush U.S. the people that they fear?

Or you give way to what they say,
and meet your fate.

Woman will begin pulling at their hand's, of their husband's and their son's
to keep them off the streets.

And they debate on dropping bombs,
on the women and the children over there their not like U.S.

We hear the gun's, that the press,
are even now afraid to use or to U.S. address.

Concentration camp's and our bodies,
that can't endure.
Are stacked like wood and set aside.

We on an endlessly, moving conveyer belt,
where our bodies are the evidence.

They will pour U.S. into the burning endless mouth, of a volcano.
That can easily consume U.S. all

And once we heard their mighty gun's,

now that half of U.S. are gone.

Where we are even now, being placed on a growing registration list.

The advertisements that say find out where you came from out side of the U.S. and so you foolishly sent them your DNA.

And now they know just who you are and now they know.
That your not white and Trump just bloats.

The introduction to your children's death's don't have them now.
We are not yet color blind.

Dakota's Pipeline Protest (A Potential Disaster)

Aside from the environmental issues that with every primitive technology that gives rise.

As human beings are even now being blasted by water cannons in frigid temperature's and shot by police with rubber bullets.

There is the multi billion dollar oil industry subverting clean energy that is here as such you should follow:

This may explain why the MSM has been nearly silent with respect to some of the current breakthroughs in cold fusion technology.

I think that TPTB already know that we don't have the time

necessary to construct cold fusion power plants around the globe and therefore it is not the ultimate answer to our energy needs.

However, it's beginning to look like Nikola Tesla may have been right all along about the existence of ZPE, or as he called it;

'Radiant Energy.'

It may also turn out that cold fusion technology becomes obsolete before it's even fully developed and the same could be said for wind and solar if this new MEC device pans out.

We have always believed that the most important thing that could come from 'Disclosure'

would be the release of the technology necessary to harness Zero Point Energy.

Revolutionizing the way we do things on this planet and beyond.

There are even more things to consider.

For instance,

if we can have unlimited, pollution free source of energy, we could build desalination plants around the globe solving many,
if not all, of our water shortage problems.

With that water, we could begin to farm the world's desert and finally put an end to world hunger and most water borne diseases.

This technology will completely change the way we live our daily lives in that much less work would be required in order to sustain our current substandard living.

It is estimated that close to 80% of our time is spent working, just to cover the current cost of the energy required to sustain our daily lives.
Whether it's the energy we actually use or the energy required to produce the products we consume, it all has to be paid for and we currently devote 80%
of our lives doing just that.

If energy is abundant and free, people will be more inclined to choose a profession they love and that makes U.S. happy as opposed to one that just meets our meager financial needs.

Parents could devote more time to raising their children as opposed to working two or three jobs just to come home too exhausted to care about politics and anything other than death's sleep.

As in my previous postings why do poor people keep having babies.
When without help they can't cloth or feed them.

IMO, two income households, which is today's norm,
and it should not be,
is probably the single biggest factor related to our failing educational system and gang violence.

Teachers cannot be expected to pick up the slack of parents who should not have ever had children and are no longer involved in their education and/or day to day lives.

I mean one needs a gun while the other, one in an alley pee's so as to not be arrested and then be placed on the sex offender registry.

Which of course takes U.S. back to the million's of American's in our jail's and prison's that they while growing will fill.

Phantom Pain (For A Goth)

Around me, all around, angels fallen gather.
My dread grows as the angry hand of Heaven falls against my naked filthy soul.

And it crushes all the juice he,
left inside me, and at this my darkest hour,
His dirty snow now drips into the thirsty earth.

If I was a man, a man I am not, so in all
My madness, I fall limply in the dirt.
Without a sound.

While Death's shadow follows me around,
Beneath my gown.
Now alone, my soul falls upon a spear that's Made of stone.
Because I am a Goth and it's the pain, I'm
All about.

This my dear departed is because you died
And left me here to think of you.
When instead a single bullet could have passed Through both our head's.

Rejecting others before they get the Chance to reject you.

This why so many time's that you have been married.

It's a long round road a race track.

That leads you back around to yourself

Not to me.

Feeling superior

To all those around you that won't spend their

Time on you.

And being rejected turned your ego back on to itself.

Every Hour I Live I Live Twice

Here on earth we are bound
To the earth the air and wind and love
To the heart of the mind.

But what of that fire that burn's inside?

Here where we stand at the edge
Here at the edge where millions try to Find a way out.

Even a small mark
The small mark of death on them that you left Back to you can be traced
If a conscience inside can be found.

Of all the thing's that you said just to Hurt me
And thus in the knowing I feared
I was not glad nor was it pretty to see inside
You the damage it caused that completes you.

For every hour I live sadly I speak now from you two are gone Walk on the earth and swim in the sea over your head birds can fly.

But inside of the fire the place that you live
Is a fire that will burn
All of those I was not glad nor pretty to see What you lost in the trying to have.

Mental Illness Is Genetic

Five of the major mental disorders share some of the same genetic risk factors, the largest evidence for such genetic overlap had previously been limited to base pairs concerning such disorders.

Researchers have discovered that people with disorders traditionally thought to be distinct - autism, ADHD, bipolar disorder, major depression and schizophrenia were more likely to have suspect genetic variation's at the same four chromosomal sites.

For those of you whom don't know it's called DNA and RNA. These included risk versions of two genes that regulate the flow of calcium into cells.

Some of these disorders are going to accure no matter what. Others can be triggered directly through trauma. People who think that mental illness can be turned off and on Are more dangerous to themselves than are those whom through Treatment and if necessary medication are best able to Have a more productive life.

Though untreated they will always be self destructive and can More easily damage the very people whom try to help them.

Please remember that one in six Americans suffer from some Variation of mental illness. And if those amongst U.S. were intelligent enough to educate Themselves on this very important subject Instead of making something up that causes even more harm.

We would be well on our way to iradicating mental illness As with those early diseases that ran rampant and unchecked Up into the early to mid nineteen hundreds.

I Shall Not Complain About The Rat's

I shall not complain about my rented room.
But about the rat's that roam between the wall's and the floor
so far this week the trap has caught.

In the darkness all night long caught in-between my sleep like death I come awake.
Before the trap's I bought on e bay came
I left cooked oat meal out for them to eat so I could sleep and dream.

Between the window and the wall I can see that they've been there I whimper not
I do not move and hear them speak.

The property manager knows but does not care
Each poor demand
I make could be the one that makes me leave and go naught where
And she who wears the pants and collects my rent has untreated bi polar moods that remind me of my ex wife.

I'd have been better off sleeping in a room without a door than by myself alone
And even if I gave them all a name and did no harm it's just not the same so when I hear the trap go off and their pitiful struggle comes to naught it is then I know when in the darkest of my night's they own the house that I don't own.

Our Democracy She Is

Our democracy
She is
As unknowing as a Child
So guide her well.

For her to grow
I bow
My head to hear
Her sing
About the truth
Though
Some won't share.

Thus
My mind conceives
Each
Child that we bare.

And
If it be the truth
And
Not through Lies.

It's only then
Will Each your God
To you draw near.

He Knew Buried Love The Love Of Me

He knew buried love the love of me.
A stake thrust through my heart,
He split into.
And red my lip's he knew were sore.
Each night he came and when he came.
And Oh, when last he did.
My lip's were soft and with each kiss.
A stake he'd thrust into my heart,
and I would die again.

Buried Love But Not To Me

Now you have come,
to bury love, the love
you felt for me.

Beneath the open skies, tree's, green bushes full
of leaves,
that none have seen but I.

Beside a forest dark and deep,
few see where I have dreamed.

And what was love, not long ago,
lays buried beneath your feet.

For I shall know that where I go,
my heart was filled with joy.

Buried here where none shall know.
Buried love but not to me.

The Hole I Could Not Fill

The hole I could not fill,
Has by me not been forgotten.
Until the day you came,
And in coming, came again.
As soft rain,
And in the evening storm.
There where we stood,
I touched a spot,
She turned to me and said.
I have a hole,
A hole you never filled.
And the loud thunder,
That I heard.
Could fill the moon,
But not today.

When Coward's Die Then Leader's Rise

The hooded host,
That tell's
the man who's Walking up that all is well.

His hair is orange.

Inside it's warm,
The coals are burning
And it is cold,
But he doesn't know.
Nor does he care.

The swamp is over flowing,
With the rat's and flea bitten mice.
Bubbles stink of methane,
Slowly pop.
He lifts his leg and slowly settles,
Then he farts.

Trump makes the women strip down bare,
His tounge is lightning fast, he sticks it in.
Corrupt with craft.
His small hands, heft and weigh,
The little ball's of Congress men.

Though he,
May appear to be like them.
The young pages are now safe,
From being fondled by the rest.

All is well,
he says, that all is well.
Out on his yacht at night,
They are drunk with new found friend's
Or so they thought.

Each one is drugged by wine,

That's old and free.
A promise that he made,
to drain the swamp and they Fell over board,
With hand's that were tied.
The house is blocked no more.
Not any more.

He tied Megan to his bed,
She to him gave birth.
To a tow head blond that,
Looked like him.
But had large hand's,
And little feet.

And each night he picked,
One single leaf from her leafy bush.
Till they were gone,
And she admitted she was wrong.
And I look up her dress just like him,
And now shes quit her t.v. job,
And is climbing tree's.

Nine Inches From Your Hand

Nine inches from your hand,
But that was long ago.
When I was very young,
Your hair it smelled of spring,
Against you out of reach.
Nine inches from your hand,
You never knew.
About the hole I watched,
You through.
I could have been a mile away,
I saw,
Your tounge when you smiled.
And knowing all your secrets,
That I knew.
Each day,
you found a pile of snow.
Outside your window where I stood,
And it was cold.

Alone Without Your Face

The more that I reflect,
I'm now alone.
I loved your beauty,
But without it.
I can't grow,
That special bush.
Contained within a face,
And winter.
Spreads the leaves,
Across, central park.
With out regrets.
The park,
Where we first met.

afraid to make use of their education and intelligence.
How then do these our social issues get addressed?

Racism, fascism, discrimination, the bullying

Anti Muslim rhetoric, as well as the harming of our disabled,
Should all carry mandatory sentences.

Why Do Stupid Poor People Keep Having Babies

Do intelligent and functional people tend to be more careful about early or accidental pregnancies, using condoms, the pill or just abstaining from sex altogether?

There is still the moon the hand and shooting stars.

Does this mean that they will have fewer child-bearing years compared to less-functional people, who tend to start having unplanned babies sooner?

Highly functional people tend to make more money (sorry, that's just a fact) and prefer to have a stable environment for their children.

Another issue, that I know to be quite common, is less-functional people, intentionally pop out as many babies as possible as quickly as possible.

Sadly it's my understanding that single parents with no income get great welfare/assistance/benefits etc, and that tax returns are just like a second Christmas.

These factors all play into dysfunctional people having more poor stupid babies.

This may by me sound uncaring or brutal.

The short and sweet of it is that a thousand year's ago very few would have then survived.

The motivation and ambition of a reasonable functional individual is by far a greater indicator (than their intelligence or education) of whether or not they will be successful as a parent.

If the two parents have low intelligence and have a very low learning curve how the therefore can they be effective parents?

Except through American jail's and brutal prison's.

Oh, it's ringed with snow

Take me with lip's that,

Hold me in your arm's

Soon we two will be caught up,
Caught up, in early dawn.

Smiling as you squeeze,
And I am, swinging
In the swing, until it snow's.

And claim
That they like a man that is hard.
A few take,
to long to properly develop him.

Him on up to the top.
She is cunning and amused,

The Rat Trap Just Went Off

The rat trap, just went off, only ten minutes ago.
Ten minutes apart.

These trap's from North Korea, have strong jaw's with very sharp small plastic teeth.

Exploding like a bomb,
the two ends met the middle and came crashing down on their heads.

Unable to speak unable to squeak.

I heard the trap, crashing against the kitchen wall.

Leaving my bed,
I went to investigate and saw.

Their head's in the trap throwing themselves against the wall.

It was a brutal death,
it wasn't quick and their kicking went on for about two minutes.

Until they realized that they were some place other than here.

How do you feel about this?
Do feel the need to talk about it.
Do you think that you need more information?

Daddy Cut Me See

There are two courses, only two.

One circles round, two it run's,
the other's, never seen.

I never shared my gift of love,
with those of soft pulp wood.

I was always yours or hers, my needs were met by both, by candlelight.

The other does her nails, the other's face,
I wash away, the midnight snow.
It is of course July, when it show's most.

If of course one dies, another I will get, masterbating one, the other tries.

The bell around her neck, for me she wears,
Frost around her lip's, have turned them white.

For in their bed I lay and do not stir, they stop,
It is better than the night before.

When I died twice.

The Tides Moved In And Out

Standing by the sea,
Moving out.
In-between your,
Toes.

Flowing from I know not where,
Thick white foam.
Upon my broken heart,
The water rose.

Lower than a lover still,
And flower's covered.
Covered over,
Wet and I sat still.

When I Was Twelve In Camp E How Kee

When I was twelve in camp
E How Kee Outside of brooksville in Hernando county
Chief Pete
One night called me into his tent
He asked me to pull my Pants down and started rubbing Calamine lotion around my penis and it wasn't That large but it grew
This went on for about five minutes
I didn't understand it
He quit and I went back to my tent
The next night I talked eight of the nine other boy's to run away with me
Most were caught the next day
I traveled the fifty miles back down to Tampa
I grew tired of eating raw fish
I caught from the Hillsborough river Went home across town back to Where I lived in Town'n country
I told my parent's what happened and They called camp E how kee and They drove down and picked me up and Drove me back
I was not ask why I ran away though I'm sure the other boy's had A few have died and some were sent to prison.

Amongst Us, Everywhere Are The Delusional

The delusional, amongst U.S can be as strong as steel in though and it is in our best interest, that they are not.

There are those mother's, that think they're giving birth to Satan.

A pathology,
a distinct belief, such as in a religion, that is based on false or incomplete, implications.

Or a politician the day before, who tell's you,
that if you vote for him or her,
that they will kill you and you go out and vote for them anyway.

Policies that kill or discriminate against the poor,
the disabled.

The Muslims or the gay.

Delusions,
where a rose is not a rose, because of hate.
Where a dictators thinking is typically based on some form of undiagnosed, neurological or psychiatric disorder.

However, they are of particular, importance to the general population.

I cannot stress enough, the importance of manic episodes of untreated bipolar disorder in our woman, where in error a Judge has given them the children.

Where our men who are like they are cast away and sent to prison.

Where people think they're greater than they are,
and are not.

One in six Americans suffer from mental illness and if left untreated most likely will lead them down a path of self destruction and take you with them.

For the bipolar here, I would highly recommend, Seroquel but see your doctor first and learn to tell the truth.

This type of lie can kill you and lead other's down that path an early grave.

I suggest you read my poem, on all the poet's who have committed suicide and reassess your own situation.

And don't hate the messenger, just eat the pigeons, they taste great.

Spying On You, Through Your Flat Screen T.V.

They are watching you, as you are watching it.
Hearing every conversation that you have ever made.
Being smart, you know now that they do.
Watched you have sex, in your living and bed room.
They see you smoke your marijuana and your crack.
They watch her use her vibrator, though she shuts her door.
All of U.S. are now a potential threat to national security.
And what your children share with each other about their parents.
They even watch him strain,
to take a dump in the bathroom, as she showers, and she sits down on the toilet top, to put her panties on.

Whether you are skinny or you are fat.
Legal free pornography that you provide them, you paid for.
For the flat large screen t.v.
that you watch, as it watches you and the entertainment
you provide when they grow bored.
Think about it now, do you really think that you are free?
All I can tell you to do is to put a piece of tape over it.
But still they can hear, what he is doing to the moon, and to all the tree's that she is chopping down, to make more room.
For new t.v.'s.

Why American Education Should Be Free

We the hungry tired the poor,
Whom wish for more.
Verily we know that nothing,
Good worth while, is here free.
Should we steer away the one's whom damaged can not learn, from those that can?
And introduce the damaged one's to something, they can do and love and grow to love themselves?
And for those whom can and offered to.
The more they learn,
the more they earn, in taxes paid.
While the impoverished, Whom get back what little they have paid.
Have nothing to U.S. gained.
And all have lost.

Early Creation Of A Loving Poet

Her grace and beauty caused me to travel,
Far and wide,
And her beauty, stold my heart.

Of the earth, she smells and clean, she is.
She holds the key to the gates of heaven,
She won't let me enter, until the sun goes down.

My eye she sees, I have on her and to her Father, I offer all my good intentions.

Pale unseen, by the sun her breast are soft,
Ripe mellon's, not like other's, filled with seed that Others plant in the fallow, baren soil.

She make take from me, all that I have.
Secrets of my peace, my heat, the sun shine's on.
She smells of the earth and in this earth,
She plant's and grows a tree.
And as I move within leafless bush, it swallows me.

Within each hand, both filled with need, she Lays me down in sleep and then once more,
I come alive and I'm waiting where she dream's.

I kiss them dry.

One Third Of The Earth Is Covered In Trash

Some of the poorest countries consume less,
only for lack of money.

Other countries are covered in trash, because their governments, keep it.

Intelligent, self disciplined people, can not grow, as those who can not learn view ignorance as their friend.

As America continues to bathe in greed, confusion rears it's evil head.
American capitalism being what it is, it's a game of trying to take what their brother and sister has.

While greed to those whom have made their greed, state there's not enough to feed nor school or cloth and house our children.

What drives the poorest of the poor to continue to have more children.

Being white, now poor, I once was rich and still
I had but one.

Is the simple act of sex the driving force?
The water's now begin to rise, pushing those who do not know, even deeper back inside.
Another's space to keep or in the loosing die.

Homo sapiens can make no legitimate claim to Earth,
because they learned to walk up right.
And the rabbit's breed as quick as rat's,
there but three day's apart.

Political Causes And Issues Behind Assassination 's

Policies for oppressing the poor and minorities,
other's may lay in authoritarian policies.
Using one's unexpected rise to power,
who are able,
to divide the population, usually through fear and hate.

Hitler did.

When a child appears in a school that your child attends,
and speaks of that which their parents attests, that
The newly elected official has allowed.
Then there will the seed of their mean fear appear.

Decent, thoughtful German's
could not represent which was right, like now at the risk of being killed or their businesses being specifically targeted.

This can only happen in a country that lacks an efficient
mechanism for leadership change.
And the will and the means to enforce it.
Where the welfare of the people are ignored and a vacuum
can be filled by new leadership,
That the populace Respect's and adores.

I'm Insane But What Of You

Oh, God I've been trapped in Florida,
For to long.
Their backwards thinking, stretches back Through time.

I once believed in you,
My youth they took and cut the rest
Away.

Twenty pounds of pills, I've stashed away,
If they find out,
The toilets mouth, can't consume them all.

Such awkwardness, In sin,
My confessions doctors hear, then send me back.
Back to where they pull their hair,
And scream and pound their head's misshapenned
Against the wall's.

I have counted all the crack's upon the wall's,
More houses have I built inside my head.
Layer's of paint lie stripped and filled with lead,
And babies lay aborted on the floor's they Eat the paint.

People pull and tug,
We have no sleeves, the dosage is, it's enough to cause a rose to droop in sleep.
And then to fade away.

So many have indured,
And to many they have died, it's living death.

Through the valley of the mind,
To willow tree's we cannot find and soul's lay bare.
And every tree that is not seen, are all cut down,
To keep a tree and every bush with out a leaf.

Their word's exist without a voice,

I have grown to slow and I they lead me down the hall's
So dark and Gray.

If this is grace, where knowledge fell,
And on my knee's,
Makes harder still they stripped away, that which I was, I am no more.

And when I die,
I cannot say, where I will go.
I can only say, that go I will, to hell I'm sure.

Met.
Inside a hall,
Where she had a need to be,
Surrounded by them all.

Twice it was that I woke up,
Because my bladder failed.
All the men and women there,
Ment buisness,
When to us they called.

I knew that there, that if I,
Died, before I woke.
Like many other, dream's I've

In cold orange light.
He makes a final stand.
Their dream's,
Seem frail and brittle.

No New Rules For Damaged Mind's

Such are the young Today.
Apathy, no compassion for the aged,
Or what they say.

The wasted lives, so young
And young, they stay.
Though they still age.

Kindness to them,
Comes
in retrospect to their Rage.
When their short life
Is gone.
And they've no where
To live.

Rock's bounced off their Head's,
For fun have found there Mark.
Their brains are dead
And the drug's
They need to cope with What they've done.

Backwards,
They must move to prove A point.
Because they have lived Within a gang and out of focus,
they have stayed, to See their end.

Charles Bukowski,

Once said,
it's not their faults.
Even drunk,
he knew it was, and Stayed inside.

Because of our fear of them
And because their fear is real, but
Of themselves.

Fear of fear, born fear Crime,
No longer has an age,
Where you feel safe.

Their parents had no shame,
From hopelessness,
Were born and never shown
A way,
Back home if one there is.

From trauma,
Came all their pain
But the shame
of it,
Is that the leader's Know.
And deliberately have Decided,
To waste their lives.

Hopeless,
Many who support the current Situation,
Would just kill them all Out right.

And by our learned, knowing this,
Those damaged,
Childlike mind's a kindness, is.

White, brown or black, a private Prison waits,
Oh, what a dreadful waste,
And money doesn't flow.

To A Poet That's Near Death

I in all my decadence,
It decides.
And near death,
On your black steed,
I would ride.

The poet in my youth,
I never was.
I cannot die, fair spring,
In the winter of my fall.

And to miss the Rose's Grow,
That I will never have.

Oh, death can never wait,
For word's.
I have not said,
So as we pass,
There's nothing I can say,
To you, but smile.

The Screaming Bitch

The screaming bitch,
Is not bi-polar.
I suck and kiss her toes
One army of tounge,
A million bird's.
Like none have come before.
I wash her,
panties in the sink.
Her panty hose.
I daily shave her legs.
And wash the window's,
That I see.
The leafless bush,
Another man.
Not I,
Gave cause to grow.
He gives each rise,
When called.
By her a different name.
And the chair,
In which she sits.
Lines up,
And hides the shadow
On the wall.
Oysters, tuna fish,
Living
By the sea, I eat each Night.
The music's loud,
This mindless zombie,
Screaming bitch.
In my last life,
Was once my wife.

Longing I Longed For You

Longing, I longed for you
A hundred year's a thousand Even more.

There might be a mountain peak,
Alone but full, with snow.

Those hill's we see and how They, Arch there backs,
For all to see.

Would I not with you, be better off
And you with me?
River's part we both know why,
They part to know the sea.

Love Will Not Change

Lillie's Wet Upon The Water's Lie

Forgotten,
Floating past me by.
And it's as,
If we are alone, on
That, long boat.

Love knows that it is why,
The,
Lillie's when in bloom.
Are always wet.
And love is never dry.

Oh, do not be afraid,
I may return.
And the shadow that you cast,
Forever mine.

Those Cold November Night's

Alone,
Cold November night's.
For me,
No one's here to keep me warm,
Nor hear my song's.

A single flower,
I will keep inside my room.
Upon my window, sealed.
And you will never know,
I'm not alone.

And if you decide to come,
Come inside.
My bed is much to large,
To sleep alone.

Gone The Sea I Miss It's Love

Gone the sea I miss it's love,
It's gone away.
And heaven that once parted,
Walks away.

The people, I once met have gone, the other way.
And the sun that turned me
brown, in love I found.

Oh, to smell the sea again,
And the secrets,
That each flower I might see
But once again.

Low the fire once, that burned
In me, I never hid.
And never hiding from their love,
Love took from me.

Hurry And Come Dear, But Not To Me

Hurry dear,
But do not come to me.
One last time,
I lay silent and lay still.

My red rose,
My lip's were they to sweet?
In my yard,
There is no room
In my backyard, for a tree.

I saw the look upon your face,
I t will not be addressed.
My face now is,
As white as snow, but it's not
Your snow on me.

If love
should come again tonight,
To him, I give my best.
Tell him now,
that what I need is rest.

After Dream's The Moment Is

There once were moments after dream's
When young there is.
Dreaming,
dream's you dreamt, each moment was.

And wide awake, I'd find you as I'd fall.
I would make a better guess if only you could talk, as I recalled.

It was only through the year's, as I grew old that when I fell, that I'd be caught.
And the universe is full of fools like me,
you see each night.

I can be shot and never die, each time you fall
I make you rise,
And a river made of water not from tears.

One moment pierced that's not replaced, one moment different than the rest.

One moment do we have to wake or lay in sleep.
It is then I watch the dawn of each new morning that turned day back from the deep.

James McLain

In The End I Thought Of You

When I look up, I expect to see
The moon,
Flowers from the sky rain down,
On me.

If all the love I had from him
Buckets would I need.
And of all the hearts she ever broke
He lead me to the sea.

Being Catholic,
Heaven's not for girl's like me.
A place I cannot see.
But he said and when parting then,
He said he'd wait for me.

Fault Enough

Dear, will it be enough for me,
Enough for me
That we talk and each day,
And you hear.

And I live,
To breath the air, you breath
On me.

There is room enough, enough room
Overhead
To feel the wind blow and the star's are to far apart.

Love, if a mile is a year
I've walked many miles just to hear
That,
Is it enough that I care Enough just to hear that you will.

Advice To The Next Generation Of American's Who Will Have To Serve Time In Prison

Soon you will begin to feel the wrath of this our next new administration.

I would advise you,
to read every book you can get your hand's on.
You need no special knowledge to be arrested or sent to prison or jail.

The thousand headed monster will fight to keep you there if you are unable to learn their language and their language is not rap or how to disrespect women or kill the police.

You will receive a large prison sentence.

If you are in a gang find a way to leave it, the fantasy of getting street cred, will doom you to cell's made of steel and concrete, where it's never quite and everyone screams to be heard.

Aids in side is rampant, they do not hand out condoms to you who claim to be straight, yet dig up some booty then deny how you came to have aids.

Verily my brother to you, I would thus say, you will die.
Though I sadly acknowledge that the state of our school's may have brought so many of you to this, your current state.
You who are brown and black now have much to fear.
To you whom were damaged from birth, your mom smoked crack and drank.

Verily a Judge will not hear what your public defender will say to mitigate your sentence that day.
Instead the state will use your apparent mental deficiencies as a just cause to extend your sentence by year's.

Like the monkey in the zoo you will live, though in reality the monkey in truth lives a better life.

Don't ever give up or they've won.
You will go in young and if there is in you no apparent change

you will be old, when they let you out.

Some of the women guards will grow large erections in harming you, as will the male guards show their moist vaginas.

The metal mirror on the wall will be to heavily scratched to shave from.

The clothing once white will be yellow from age and stink.

Fresh fruit and food will be rare.

Solitary confinement will always be full.

Black and brown kept inside can not children make.

Contemplating garden's keep outside, outside of your head's and your hand's busy.

Damaged though you are, damaged you may stay, learn to read.

The army they have, the army you saw, this army when they one day release you is the army you built for them.

To The Mystery Of The Women That She Is

I can never rest and sleep again
And think of you, against the silence that I speak, I speak of you.

Each and every night from here on out
Remember me,
Remember what I said, against the hall
Way in the night, that led to you.

Music in the night, I kept you filled
Not for the praise,
Where I stood out, but you were always full.

But all that I remembered is no more Than an afterthought to the Kindest thoughts of you - You had the Vessel I lived in and it was warm.

You knew the lover of such beauty,
And the best
Of many thoughts that left me lost.

And we rocked as do the waves,
The moving waves
That moved us closer to the shore.

And when I think of you, I can not Find what I once had, I have no reason To remember
The great mystery you once were.

Because At Midnight Other People Come

Because at midnight when normal people sleep,
She and I, we can not not where they do,
and evening where it ends and morn begin's.

I have seen where I will sleep, their dead that go unseen, by God, that I now see,
in love ignored my every thought.

We two, whom after love have come and gone.
Where normal people lay and tend to rest,
and claimed by many name's, she doesn't know.
A guest confused, a guest amused and music loud
In laughter drift's, when love's at stake.

There Is No One Home But Her

There is no one home but her,
And my shadow lean stands out upon the wall.
My boxer's that she wears are but a door,
The back door that I have come to know to well.

Through the window in her room a blinking star, Distracted by the light, I do not think the moon is full by touch, I feel it is.

I hear that all to familiar hum and what it is,
An early winter orange that is sour to the tounge.
In her gilded bed of yellow bronze, dead a sleep.

Over incoherent moan's
Warm and still her body moves and the vibrator,
I hear it is still on.

Sorry am I, if long enough
I'm sorry, if you left, Unsatisfied.

Do you know, if we have soul's,
Your love, I've longed to know.

Dearest Poem Hunter Poet's

Having been here nearly ten year's.
I get so many requests from you to read your work
and leave a comment.

I read most of what you've written while not being logged in.
The down side to this is that in the treasure island standings
it may give some of us the appearance that we don't read what you write though I do.

Ego's only exist if there thought about.
For some reason some of my comments to what you write don't appear.
I am of course as much as you confused by that.

I spend more time reading and commenting on those that to me stand out.
With some I spend time trying to translate for that particular poet has written.
I try not to post to many poems at a time
all at once.

I feel that it pushes the poems of other's much to quickly off the main page and thus are not given the time to be read by other poet's.

I am of course most honoured by the site to allow me to write in truth.
Nothing so out landish that it isn't there to watch on t.v.

Please don't ask me how one rises and fall's in the standings.
This seems to mean a lot to the newer poet's than those of us who have been here a while.

My opinion of this site that it's safe to show one's picture or photograph.

The great majority of us think that our poems are some great gift from God.

The work's you create come from you and no other
but you.

I have the greatest respect for the poet who writes from a country or culture that through their humble act may put them in danger.

Freedom's not free and to those with the courage
it could mean their death.

To those poet's here whom strive to get better
I can only but salute you.
The truth is the most bitter pill to swallow
is it not?

Barter After Love

And after love it fades, before it did,
Your cup was always full and over flowed.
The wood we burned was hot and we'd,
Have nothing left to do but put it out.

Had you in another life and you again I found,
And all you had was what I bought.
Your eye's loved me and would their weight,
In gold again I'd buy.

Oh, I would buy it all and never count the gold,
My love to you I'd give and never count It's cost.
To those who buy their peace and know no joy,
I would give you what should be, to have it all.

Love And Death

We shall rise, I soon forget, as the sun begin's to set, the moon is brighter yet.
Our fights we had,
combat beset the cause of hotter night's.

Shall we begin to rise to soon from sleep forgetting all our dream's.
One promise made I cannot keep, along that darkened street.

Our love as one,
can spin around so long in slumber I Can deeply sleep.

No word's or thought's, heroic deeds to feed
our fear of death.
We two as one together shall, sail forth into
the sun.

House Of Dream's

Your dream's I took
And filled them every one.
I filled them as a garden
Needs the sun.

A dream that was not achieved
Until I came.
The more that you were filled
The more I had to give.

And as lover's dream it stood
For you to tall.
As tall as the one tree that's topped with snow for all to see.

Oh, the kisses they were sweet your kisses were so soft and wet as dream's
That dream's as dream's they go.

And from the world were we could hide
A house we built from dream's
Our love that we could have A house of dream's.

What Of This Child If Poor

What of this child if poor,
If when they should have not more.
I did not want come here to where
You are and do but survive.

Who gave them me I called and I have Struggled with it all,
For what can I do here, but be a friend,
To none but ghost's or worse to something else.

I discern their speech is off, I can not Hide nor turn and run.
Hard men like them they only bring me back.
Is there some financial interest in me?

The cave around the river bend is full,
Of those like me, no fire in there can burn.
For what should I do here with bitter word's,
Word's they cannot hear.

Vengeance For Her Past July's

She knows someone perhaps a Judge,
I wait for the true bill, some other charge.
What was I to do, head hung low I knew,
her smell a scent a drop of something unnatural caused me a rock so hard.

Uncontrollable, others in their lust and thoughts, as if the very house not built by me, but was.
I paid for more than her in sex and fear as other's watched compelled, drawn to all the drama that drama brings.

Her sex was hunted out, was drained by me as if a cow.
Prison does not teach you what it is and now I knew I was her cow.
Her night gown with one hole her nipple saw and if I dared then even harder were the Rock's her grip would grow.

Mother of my before daughter grew inside her grew, a fire engine red dress and emerald green so tight I thought that I would burst.
My surprising grapes she grew until they burst and seedlings were as dust upon the ground the Bible said.

Cheated of their vengeance and the twin rack, they fit into.
As they gather round the crowd quite mad begin's to sucks, the dew last tears and turn the other way the milk is gone.

Before Love Fades

Next to mine a mystery,
With no light they shine.
Is it time to love again,
The night belongs to you.

No one knew, how long it Went but us.
The depth or length of it.
One narrow channel, Dear,
A river long and deep.

When but they come to look,
And want to strip away.
What they have never had,
Lover's, looking, loving have.

How two lover's, really looked before love fades.

Your Body Belongs To Me

Your body belongs to me!

You carry that unhealthy heaviness in all the wrong places for all your life.

Would you loath your own body if not for those adds on t.v.
or those looks that you get at MacDonald's?

Did he have to fight his way through those heavy flesh filled thighs, just to reach your vagina?

Knowing he won't go down on you, tell's you what?

What would you do,

who would you kill to get one like mine?

Because every day that you feel that way it's not right.

Judged on your appearance and how far away that it is from the impossibility of reaching your goals.

Does he love you or the car that you bought him.

Have you accepted unrealistic body images like mine that you can never have.

Being so heavy that the car moves closer to the ground in the media your weight determines whether you're healthy, attractive and will have what most women want in the man that they will never have.

The sexualisation of me in this picture you see is o.k.

The objectification of me that I'm paid that you see,

Swell's my bank account as well.

I'm paid quite handsomely to prey on all of your vulnerable insecurities,

so until you realize the truth the lie that I am here to stay.

The Tide Tonight And Me

To night's the night the tide goes out,
The tide goes out for me.
No fairer love, her love I held, her love
Was meant for me.

her face to see.
The year's will pass and as they pass, her hold she'll keep on me.

I owe to you to much,
my heart, my love, I owe to much.
With the wing's, I gave to you
I gave you much to much.

To her and only her, I owe to much and sadly, love I knew.

Genius Sometimes Has To Hide

I haven't yet begun to understand how to make another one,
they just come and go and why they mostly go.
Boredom to this child's a deadly sin.

A rose that forever unfolds to never knows of another's ego bruised and thick and all too quick to crush their dream's.

Vulnerable and fragile they should be from an early age be protected from life's storm's.
Their essence is the reason why life other's give up normal their lives.

Their music play's, their hand's can paint the magic word's A few are blind.
Homage to the dead in life we give to those whom passed while we're alive.

Would we, but could we know through our patience if we wait they come again and let U.S. know that one survived.

Understanding Me

Understanding their thoughts too well,
I came to be less understood.
For I knew that then a day would come,
They would understand me.

But tied in thought, my tongue was still,
If like of mind two speak.
And if silence was all they heard from me,
Their way they'd have with me.

as a lessons long ago how much I loved you.
Though you weren't young and that our time had slipped away.

I cannot hear you speak the wind's to loud,
how many leaves have left to fall, the years went by.
Fate has left us, left us all to lonely and apart.

I have to wait untilI you sleep to kiss your lip's

Forgotten it will be,
white snow you washed off me.

A bush a tree, there once I felt,
my love no longer seen.

And as it was before we came,
forever lies ahead.

You have written I have read,
it's not the same again.

And when no one any longer think's to ask,
I have read what you've written to me.

Knowing time won't stop and wait for us,

Copies Of You That Are Different From Me

You exist in more than one place at the same time.
Green to one is as yellow to another and orange is red.
Verily you think that here what God is,
thus he is not what you think somewhere else.

Covered by purple snow is each man's love, of a woman's bush transparent leaves,
if a man is a tree then there unseen each child Wait's.

Thus wisdom can come and wisdom can go hurried along by the wind one can't see.
Is this your religion, your blind faith, your faith in a thing that's not seen?
What of those without eye's that can see?

You exist in many different forms, and the Forms are solid and need space.
Wisdom's true knowledge or intelligence is but one's ability to grasp like a child at the world made of thing's.
Unless one is born damaged and thus cannot truly think.

Verily of you I would ask, flawed circles that are flawed are not round, imperfect copies of you other's found.
Thus man is flawed and being thus flawed knows nothing else.
360 degrees is a perfect circle if round, did not make one think.
Until long ago when one did.

Form of form, before space could exist, verily do they whom said it did before anyone could.
One universe one that rests on prior knowledge, if knowledge begot wisdom then wisdom was here.

Politicians Now Help The Poor To Shorten Their Lives

When we began having more mentally deficient babies and we lived in abject poverty born of parents who remained ignorant because they were never smart.

They stayed poor and in revenge against the politicians who said they would help.
As our I.Q. continued to drop, came more prison's.

So we started watching Judge Judy and Jerry Springer one pitted U.S. against one another, while the other yelled and screamed at U.S. calling U.S. stupid on t.v.

So the girl down the street who is bigger around than she is tall,
screams at every one that she meets, I don't care.
Threatening to beat up a much smaller child that in growing up begin's to look more like her.

No one here understands that cutting is not usually an attempt at suicide or a way to get attention, but an outward sign of emotional distress, it helps our politicians remain calm.

Professional help for these is called jail.
No one hears from the one's in Florida's many prison's.
It's important not to overreact, as one by the cop's is gunned down.

The cutter in your life may be completely opposed to help.
I hated my case worker she has the life I won't have.
You could place me in the best schools but with diminished intelligence it means what?

One politician say's how do we keep the people of diminished intelligence from breeding with each other?
Practice patience.
The preacher say's, you can love them into a place that won't help.

The beautiful rich politician say's, what you say be careful of.
Our older white population is dying out.

One cutter say's to another,
I could never do that to myself. It would hurt too much.

The politician say that it is not about them, having more poor mentally diminished babies and they should refrain from injecting their genetically inferior mind's into it.

Those we have made cannot think.

It's okay to say this if you know it and mean it,
but don't say it to make the politicians feel better about it.
Mentally deficient babies having more deficient babies over time speaks louder than words.

What we force them to eat helps shorten their lives and without intelligent mind's they can't articulate it.
Safe levels of lead in the water has more than helped.

She Could Daily Show My Love

My soul went to live in her house,
she owns my love and me.
She could dress me as I dressed her,

my hand's would not leave her alone.
Her love of me was not ever in doubt,
she soon knew that the snow would come.

The Shore Of The Sea Smelled Of Me

I cast my net into the sea, gathering small fish to feed to the bird's so they'd leave.

Sea cucumbers washed up by the tide I would squeeze, washing my hand's in the iodine they released.

This is the beach that the intellectual 's were drawn to as like me.
We each we knew, no hidden agenda's that disrupted the peace by thing's now rigged that we knew.

As a self-taught intellectual I would listen to them and they'd speak, doesn't everyone want someone who Care's about them,
want to speak?

These people never knew I'd spent fifteen year's in Florida's prison's.
My manner of speech for them was poetry's spoken word.

Dear would come, come with the rain and the end of each day is in sight.
Do not cry as those angry bird's that cry for naught.
An empty hut stays empty as long as it does.

Running the tag on my car the police, would find out that I had and our police, those police, would by they be recognized as the unforgiving blue ghosts in the gloom.

My First Kiss That Lingered On With A Smile

I was as driftwood on fire, passions desire who could say?

I could not even begin to articulate the curves of her lip's.

It took me seeing her drink from a bottle of soda to see how they moved.
To see the tip of her tounge move in and out of the narrow neck of the bottle.

She would bend over the fountain at school I would be watching the look on her face.
Spending my night's wishing something would happen, anything,
a kiss, just him telling her, like, you know,
a high school boy's fantasy I guess.

I looked at it as collecting intelligence,
I remember that my urge for her like.
This is going to be the moment, something, I don't know what's going to happen but this is going to happen."

More and more they started to get a little heavier, a little more intense to me.
It came to me in a flash.
They weren't those thin linned bitch lip's no one would ever kiss.
They, those lip's were as the lip's of Brad Pitt's wife.
Full, thick capable lip's able to moving independently of one another.

She suddenly appeared very ... no one's around you may kiss me.
Like driftwood on fire then she felt it.
Thinking I thought would her hand's roam as mine should?

At that very moment, she took my hand's and gently moved them around my stiff back.
I was like I don't know what's going to happen after this kiss,
it was then that I said I was gay.

No one needed to know she said, I was like, "Okay, I'll kiss you but I'm going to do it with my eyes closed."

It felt like it lasted a good 10 minutes, forever and after she leaned in, she was gone.

Walking away she wrote something in a small book, turned and waved. That was my first kiss, that lingered on with a smile.

I Float Above The Ground

I Float above the ground.
I do not touch the sky.
To him I'd say,
it does not belong to me.

If once I said I do.
And still if time there was, but time has passed and with it, it's regrets.

I float above the ground.
I dare not touch the sky.
But if to him it holds a song
it's a song without regrets.

What I tried in life
I died two death's.

Vanilla Blackberries Smoked

Outwardly before I came here I was happy my case worker said, inwardly my eye was self-conscious,
free as a bird, like a moth drawn to fire,
then I died.

I am the two whom you know, born of knowledge from birth few have found.
The people I meet have no secrets from me, I can't keep.

My isolation, is not any different to me than that which I had before birth.

From down below I am bombarded with your primitive images about having sex,
the work that you hate and your introverted negative thoughts of those feelings you have of yourselves.

At night when you dream I am there in your head and that the images that I see only makes you feel worse.
Knowing when you awake I was there.

I watch the succubus that you fantasize about climb on top of you.
Sometimes you can shrug it off though most of you can't and a lot of this is born from the her, you can't have.

I am keenly aware she's is no different than he and waiting in sleep to be popped.
Thinking no one is there watching or listening.

Your superficial customs to me, are as your borders I keep when I choose.
Even though unlike you,
I like my job thus by you and through you I improvise, unlike most who in life never lived and filled with tears and regrets then have died.

After living inside of your head when in sleep, it is there and then I decide what you need to believe just to live.
When I tell you what I do, you sink down deeper inside, I get up.
I sometimes wonder if there is nothing wrong with me.
Maybe everyone who's awake is right.
Maybe you think I rearranged your love of life when I died.
Your vanilla blackberries in sleep I have smoked.

It's What She Felt But I Could Never Know

Silver mist that could not float, but float it did
and my beating heart as loud as waterfalls.

Green bushes full with leaves, in peace
I watched them fall.

One tree she leaned against was without twigs though long of branch.

Such though it was a quiet place for me to come,
a quiet place a place we knew to well.
In the changing mist that turned to falling rain.

She would stand and standing watch me sit, to me it was not strange to see her walk around our bench.
To watch her turn her head, I've watched her to.

Ignorance Is The Final Test

What use have I,
Some dull, bright mind's.
Kept hidden, locked away?

My fear of them and it will come,

Born, none start the race the same.
And it's why the star's so far apart,
All born, can't brightly shine.

Soft Rain Again Must Come

Soft rain again must come, to end my painful drought, the dipping beak of the humming bird again will fly for me.

And children will play and search the blue skies,
And speak of tomorrow's nights.

I will wait and watch for you, as my heart beat's
I sigh, and as I do, I do for you, I know I will my love.

And as of now not then again I sit by the warm fire,
for when it's known so far and wide, it won't be known again.

Winter will come and bring it's snow, there's no one left to care, when it is gone.

Black Abyss Of Righteous Hatred

What don't you have that I've not taken away?
Did I not give you it all when ever you demanded?
A miasma of blackness my affection withers then disappears.
When we once enjoyed a hard oneness, and sweated,
both wide-eyed and untainted as if angel's should kiss.
But your burning, turned cold, desire it vanished.
In a fog covered twisted, furious vision of pain -
Thus drops of blood followed as rain, followed lost love, your love of pain split into heart's torn apart.
Perfect was the storm of loud thunder and vengeance, Unresponsive, Unrepentant, passed out drunk, split intwain by it's great length and it's thickness.

Does The First Time Always Hurt

The why is a common myth, it is not unlike,
a new leaf,
that is gently picked for the very first time.
Over time,
when time is not seen first uncovered, snow comes.
Berries picked for their wine.
Baskets filled full to the top, pickers talk.
A woman thawed, flush and warm to the touch he has stopped.
A common myth at the why, as one way leads to the moon, slowly walking down the path to the gate to her home.
Long narrow hallways, that lead from the door to the porch,
music play's.
Being distracted I have now almost forgotten what I've started to do.
Most of the women I've seen have got what I have.
Inside of his head I am.

The Civilized World

We, whom are forced to salute you are bound by the grave.

Conflicts are as flies, that walk on closed eye's prying at the corners to see.

Good men that claim to be do nothing, men that are bad define good?

Children covered in dust will not again rise.

One man will not converse with the other, father justifies.

Women whom are poor that are coloured in grief, bring more babies that have refused to come back into the world.

American women hurry in their hast with the same baby with two small legs, hanging out between their legs.

Floating above they discourse, there is no life being two.

I can't remember my life after death, verily I remember my death.

Suffering is not suffering to those whom don't suffer as in life.

Life was not life to those forced to live whom have died.

Hurried in death while waiting to live is the worst kind of living to die.

Who are we the American undesirables?

I won't see or hear the drone that drops a bomb on my house?

In fear I shit my pants, the hidden camera can never lie.

James McLain

Lalitha Iyer

Could it be I am what you are?

A touch, a smell as thoughts that I think,
as that vine that grows around your clean feet.

I could not be as simple and meek, nor as humble in word, in each verse that you read.

I can't as of yet grow as the tree, as tall as you need just out of reach.

How can I prevent the bush, like the bee, circle around in search of green leaves.

Nor he whom is wise that lives in a cave, the knowledge
he's learned that can no longer be given away.

So as he was in isolation from, so when he comes back his word's are adorned.

Love's not the test, good people are, choices are made,
hence evil is not.

Heart's that don't bleed are thus made of stone, hand's that are soft are as silk to the face, we all have.

Could it not be that warm breath to the ear, is as the rose, once bloomed it never closed.

A mind that is good should have nothing to fear, goodness of spirit and his Flesh you can know.

Be this thought and such thoughtfulness is and then when it comes at the end of the day, then he will come to you white, with the breeze of the dawn.

Caroline I'm So, So, Sorry It's Happened Again

For over ten year's I have kept watch over you.
Broken promises, one sad good bye for all of those three day's I saw you.
Many mistakes have been made.
I was your age when for a year and a half I was placed in Camp-E-How-kee.
Situated in Hernando county where you were born and live.
Standing then in the woods alone.
Surrounded by tree's without bushes to hide my tears.
I went through puberty there not understanding what I was going through and the few councillors whom tried, well they had motive's that we were to young to have.

I'm the reason you didn't stay.
Everyday
I dream of how perfect your life would be if I were there.
You needed that shield to protect you against those thing's that in a normal family would never have happened.

Know that I have been harmed every bit as much as you.
A few harmed me knowing that it would harm you.
Know that deep in my heart that I even now again will try to regain possession of you.
Being blood and bonded as blood we are one when we did.

No other man can take my place, remember those that your mother brought around were there to drink and have sex with her.
You've seen all of this already nothing new but waking up to another day of the unknown.
Thing's soon will change a permanent change mum has used up all her chances and she has run her self destructive course.
For there's nothing I want more in this world than to just be the father to daddies little girl.

The Women Most Will Never Be

He opens the door she walks past.
Dressed in the latest fashion, perhaps she is dressed for free.
Long, tall and slender, one would think that if she became pregnant, someone else would have the baby for her.

A silk dress in winter?
Perfect breasts nipples as straight as arrows to perfect to be though ours sag.
Thinking the thought of what I'm afraid to ask.
Blond hair that is straight tomorrow it's curled,
the extensions that I can afford came from a corpse.

Smug devious smile's that can change with the wind, nurses dark twenty, never seen laying on the green hill's.
Inside the best restaurants, seated by the window she eats very little and with hungry faces pressed to the window makes it a point to throw it away.

Yes she may have a perfect vagina, adequately trimmed, devoid of leaves or a bush.

put her hand deep inside.
Turning to her he whispers to her, that the best candies

Once Like You I Was A Catholic, Then A Baptist, Then A Lutheran

He would come to my house late but not too late trusting him, mum would let him lead me out.

Slender beams of moonlight entered through his stained glass windows unknown colors that meant that it was night.

No light's meant I knew he had plans, unnatural plans plans that were by he carried out twice a week.

Entering the darkened church he would always with his hand push me down to kneel,
the oak hurt my knee's always in prayer, always a slave, frozen there in the dark, in the dark waiting.

Tortured forms, pictures shown to me by he, figures wrought in traced iron,
panes of glass that loomed as large as he.
Of where I'd go and what I'd be, if I didn't cooperate.

His breath smelled of spirits at my young age an image in my mind, pulling me out, penetrating my young naked flesh.

Realization dawning on a young child's mind.
I raise my head, now caressing, this oblivious truth.
His was the truth twice a week, he brought food to mum twice a week, mum and me where then on welfare.

Why Do People Come Here To Preach

I have two Bible's
I prefer the king James version it requires a bit more intelligence to read the fine verse.

Do people come here and think that no one here goes to church or owns a Bible.

Why do people come to a poetry site to preach regurgitating the word from the book word for word.

Heaven Fall's Against My Naked Soul

Around, all around, life's dark memories gather.
My dread grows,
as the angry hand of Heaven falls against my naked soul.

and If I should die,
before I wake know she has drained me.
And my life ebb's out,
and my blood drips into the ever thirsty earth.

In numbness I fall limply
while Death's shadow then surrounds me.
Now alone,
my fervent plea falls upon your hardened heart.

What I am, is all I am, because of you.

God Leaves After Birth

Slender beams of light enter this his darkened room
as I kneel, always silent, always lost, sinking heart, frozen then an alter boy.

Tortured forms wrought in stoned colored panes of glass, dust dances in the air, as I once did.
His open hand as I'm stretched out, an image forms in my mind of God, as a little child a boy.
His eye's penetrating into my hidden secret place.

His thinking is seen like a reflection on a lover's face.

I raise my head, understanding now, defying the obvious to this his one last final stand.
A penal legal interest was his fate that lay ahead.

Innocence Walked Hand In Hand

What have you in heaven now wrought?
Thirsty mother for drink,
smothering my child on pillow lay.

Agony of agonies as sentiments twist.
When the rain was wet, we drank in paradise,
Innocence walked hand in hand,
but death made from love walks the land.

Dark grey, darker black a deadened cloud of memory - tears followed the path of rain, followed love, love ground to dust, dust of dust.

Raging inside few have seen a torrent of revenge, vengeance and hate, I still love you.

Dark Love

It is a night of dark desire, a song of darkness, fills the air.

Each tears at the flesh of the other to cast aside their loneliness, loneliness now abandoned.
Immortal now one seeks the touché of the other.

Fog shrouds her face as would a veil, his tall gaunt form, through time, man's timeless desire.

Dark waterfalls of midnight hair cascades over milk-white shoulders.
Covering ripe breasts that can't quite manage to hide
the dark purple areolas.

Full red lips part slightly, to catch the clear white tears, streaming down his square face.
Her pale flesh rest's full beneath him.

Each night is a different night of dream's, suttle differences in each dream, does she remember how her touch felt on me.

I Was Once Yours

Yes I was once yours, so deep lost in you, Could it not be, nothing's meant to last
The light from the moon when seen at noon,
Each wave that is seen different from the last.

If I am to be, what you meant to me,
A perfect snug fit like a stone in a ring
From afar I have watched a bush and a tree,
Hope made of hope a hand full of leaves.

If I fall any deeper, as deep as the sea,
I shan't hold out, I shan't even breath
Swept in by the tide, swept back out to the sea,
You were to me deaf, to the sound of my heart.

Dr. Henry Kissinger Speaks On Depopulating The World

By Henry Kissinger....

Henry thinks you are the third world. We are all members of the third world in the eyes of the elite.

Not a day goes by when we are not reminded that we are nothing but 'useless eaters' who have been given the temporary right to exist on this planet by the generous elite. However, our continued existence is predicated on the notion that we have no rights, and as such, we should have no expectations. Through the tenets of Agenda 21, we are constantly reminded that we have no right to the resources on this planet. The elite own the water, the food and all other material assets.

Enslaving Humanity, One Sheep At a Time

Never before in the history of mankind, has a people, such as the citizens of the United States, enjoyed such political freedoms, resulting in self-determination over their lives as well as having enjoyed the affluence of the most prosperous middle class in human history. This experiment in American self-governance and resulting freedom, is nearly over. Both your perceived assets and even your life belongs to the minions representing the elite on this planet, for as we transition from an industrial based economy to a post industrial society, most of us will no longer be needed because the size of the labor class will dramatically shrink. Now, we know the meaning of Kissinger's proclamation that we are nothing but a bunch of useless eaters.

It should be abundantly clear that when several officials and prominent people on this planet state that the planet would be better off if the human population was reduced from 7 billion to 500 million, that they really mean it. Do you think that they are really kidding when the elite make such statements?

It Is the Same Everywhere

Everywhere on this planet, the elite are asserting their authority over the 'useless eaters' who occupy space and consume 'their' resources on this planet. The bulk of humanity are kept in metaphorical zoo-like cages on the planet and exist for the mere entertainment of the elite.

Literally, nothing belongs to the common people. The elite own the food, the water and all the shelter on this planet. In every country it is the same. The elite, by hook or crook, appoint their minions to government positions. The government subsequently creates the conditions whereby the whims of the elite are enforced, thus, enslaving the people.

The elite's strategies slightly differ depending on the local politics. In China, in order to enforce Agenda 21 dictates of moving the masses from rural to the stack and pack ghost cities, the whim of the elite is brutally enforced at the end of the barrel of a gun. In Uganda, when villages are needed in order to plant trees in carbon offset programs, the Uganda military simply burns down the villages and declares the inhabitants to be mere trespassers. And in America, when the elite wants what you own, there is a pretense of going through the constitutionally based courts under the guise of pseudo justice. However, the result is still the same, the Constitution is not followed and you lose.

America, there is an important question to consider. If we are so free, as we are constantly reminded that we are by the mainstream media, then why are we spied upon without provocation or cause? And if we are so free, then why is our ability to raise objections to the manner in which we are governed being systematically eliminated?

The Global Awakening Must Be Crushed

Zbigniew Brzezinski likes to keep his hand on the pulse of humanity. In the middle part of the last decade he warned his elite colleagues that Americans were beginning to wake up the elite's agenda and that they must proceed with all due haste.

Most recently, Brzezinski warned of a global awakening that was very dangerous to their agenda. It is abundantly clear that the elite fear humanity's sheer numbers and they know that the mainstream media is losing its control over humanity as the ratings of such MSM mainstays such as CNN are in the proverbial toilet. The blinders placed upon humanity by the MSM are slowly, but surely coming off. If the elite want to maintain control, they must act quickly, according to Brzezinski.

The Pattern of Genocide

The numbers of humanity are a threat to the ruling elite and these numbers must be radically reduced, and reduced quickly. The pattern leading to genocide, throughout history, is remarkably consistent. In each case, the government attempts to stop the communications between dissident forces which could evolve into an opposition force which would oppose the unfolding tyranny. We are witnessing just such a movement as the government has repeatedly tried to close down the free expression on the internet.

Jay Rockefeller (D WVA) has attached a cyber-security amendment to the NDAA 2014 bill in Congress to mandate that precautions be taken to protect America's cyber infrastructure and private entities. Those of us who represent private entities, will soon find our free access to the internet eliminated. The fact that this internet control bill is attached to the NDAA is no accident because this means that dissidents, posting anti-government rhetoric on the internet, can be snatched off the street and held indefinitely for their 'terrorist' views.

There is a second and equally disturbing development in that the government has declared that the people of this country do not have the right to challenge the government on its unconstitutional actions. This is a position which fully exposes the fact that America is no longer a democratic republic, but rather a dictatorship which serves the elite. At issue is the ACLU's right to sue the NSA for the unconstitutional and unwarranted intrusions into the private lives of all Americans by spying on their every communication and their web-surfing habits. This position, taken by the government, validates my earlier point that we have no rights and are living under a dictatorship.

The Most Important Question of All

There is even a more important question. Why does this government feel that it needs to spy upon all the people? Billions if not trillions of dollars are being spent to this end. Why?

We should all be concerned that the police state practice of gathering private information on its citizens represents a practice that has never failed to result in genocide against at least a segment of its population. Therefore, if we use history as the judge of the NSA's actions, we should all be hiding under the bed. Although, as an aside, I think it would be appropriate to imitate the anti-gun crowd in Colorado who stalk and harass the activists who are trying to recall politicians who are attempting to seize the guns of law abiding citizens. The police have told the Colorado activists that these stalking behaviors are acceptable. Therefore, I would propose that we make the NSA feel the same heat. Perhaps residents in the area of an NSA facility should subject the NSA officials to the same level of harassment as are the activists in Colorado. The NSA harasses citizens, American citizens act in kind.

On a more serious level, we need to all ask where this is leading. We should all consider the fact that there is a certainty that the information being gathered by the NSA will be used against 'undesirable' Americans. This is a civilized description for genocide. Does this allegation have any further substantiation than merely using the lesson of history? A cursory examination of the statements of the global elite, both past and present would indicate that we should all be a little more than concerned.

Voices of Depopulation

I have come to believe that a great culling is in our future. Before you dismiss this statement as the words of a lunatic, maybe we should see if there is any corroborating evidence from people in positions of authority, both past and present.

Margaret Sanger, the founder of Planned Parenthood, enthusiastically promoted the Thomas Malthus' philosophy as she stated, 'The most merciful thing that a family does to one of its infant members is to kill it.'

Perhaps these were merely the musings of two twisted individuals which do not represent any type of central philosophical belief. Unfortunately the theories of Malthus, Sanger and other population control advocates did not die with them. As I discovered, this is a reoccurring theme contained within the personal words of several dozen global leaders.

'Society has no business to permit degenerates to reproduce their kind'.

Theodore Roosevelt

'Malthus has been vindicated; reality is finally catching up with Malthus. The Third World is overpopulated, it's an economic mess, and there's no way they could get out of it with this fast-growing population. Our philosophy is: back to the village'.

Dr. Arne Schiotz, World Wildlife Fund Director of Conservation, stated such, ironically, in 1984.

'A total world population of 250-300 million people, a 95% decline from present levels, would be ideal'.

Ted Turner, in an interview with Audubon magazine

'There is a single theme behind all our work-we must reduce population levels. Either governments do it our way, through nice clean methods, or they will get the kinds of mess that we have in El Salvador, or in Iran or in Beirut. Population is a political problem. Once population is out of control, it requires authoritarian government, even fascism, to reduce it....' 'Our program in El Salvador didn't work. The infrastructure was not there to support it. There were just too goddamned many people.... To really reduce population, quickly, you have to pull all the males into the fighting and you have to kill significant numbers of fertile age females....' The quickest way to reduce population is through famine, like in Africa, or through disease like the Black Death....'

Thomas Ferguson, State Department Office of Population Affairs

'In searching for a new enemy to unite us, we came up with the idea that pollution, the threat of global warming, water shortages, famine and the like would fit the bill.... But in designating them as the enemy, we fall into the trap of mistaking symptoms for causes. All these dangers are caused by human intervention and it is only through changed attitudes and behavior that they can be overcome. The real enemy, then, is humanity itself'.

Alexander King, Bertrand Schneider - Founder and Secretary, respectively, The Club of Rome, The First Global Revolution, pgs 104-105,1991

'A cancer is an uncontrolled multiplication of cells; the population explosion is an uncontrolled multiplication of people.... We must shift our efforts from the treatment of the symptoms to the cutting out of the cancer. The operation will demand many apparently brutal and heartless decisions'.

Stanford Professor, Paul Ehrlich in The Population Bomb

'In order to stabilize world population, we must eliminate 350,000 people per day. It is a horrible thing to say, but it is just as bad not to say it'.

J. Cousteau,1991 explorer and UNESCO courier

'I believe that human overpopulation is the fundamental problem on Earth Today' and, 'We humans have become a disease, the Humanpox'.

Dave Foreman, Sierra Club and co founder of Earth First!

'We must speak more clearly about sexuality, contraception, about abortion, about values that control population, because the ecological crisis, in short, is the population crisis. Cut the population by 90% and there aren't enough people left to do a great deal of ecological damage.'

Mikhail Gorbachev

'Today, America would be outraged if U.N. troops entered Los Angeles to restore order. Tomorrow they will be grateful! This is especially true if they were told that there were an outside threat from beyond, whether real or promulgated, that threatened our very existence. It is then that all peoples of the world will plead to deliver them from this evil. The one thing every man fears is the unknown. When presented with this scenario, individual rights will be willingly relinquished for the guarantee of their well-being granted to them by the World Government'.

Dr. Henry Kissinger, Bilderberger Conference, Evians, France, 1991

'The illegal we do immediately. The unconstitutional takes a little longer'.

Dr. Henry Kissinger New York Times, Oct. 28, 1973

'Depopulation should be the highest priority of foreign policy towards the third world, because the US economy will require large and increasing amounts of minerals from abroad, especially from less developed countries'.

Dr. Henry Kissinger

'Power is the ultimate aphrodisiac, ' and 'The elderly are useless eaters'.

Dr. Henry Kissinger

'World population needs to be decreased by 50%'.

Dr. Henry Kissinger

'We are on the verge of a global transformation. All we need is the right major crisis and the nations will accept the New World Order'.

David Rockefeller

'War and famine would not do. Instead, disease offered the most efficient and fastest way to kill the billions that must soon die if the population crisis is to be solved. AIDS is not an efficient killer because it is too slow. My favorite candidate for eliminating 90 percent of the world's population is airborne Ebola (Ebola Reston) , because it is both highly lethal and it kills in days, instead of years.

'We've got airborne diseases with 90 percent mortality in humans. Killing humans. Think about that. 'You know, the bird flu's good, too. For everyone who survives, he will have to bury nine'.

Dr. Eric Pianka University of Texas evolutionary ecologist and lizard expert, showed solutions for reducing the world's population to an audience on population control

'No one will enter the New World Order unless he or she will make a pledge to worship Lucifer. No one will enter the New Age unless he will take a Luciferian Initiation'.

David Spangler, Director of Planetary Initiative, United Nations

'The present vast overpopulation, now far beyond the world carrying capacity, cannot be answered by future reductions in the birth rate due to contraception, sterilization and abortion, but must be met in the present by the reduction of numbers presently existing. This must be done by whatever means necessary'.

Initiative for the United Nations ECO-92 EARTH CHARTER

'In South America, the government of Peru goes door to door pressuring women to be sterilized and they are funded by American tax dollars to do this'.
Mark Earley in The Wrong Kind of Party Christian Post 10/27 2008

Women in the Netherlands who are deemed by the state to be unfit mothers should be sentenced to take contraception for a prescribed period of two years'.
Marjo Van Dijken (author of the bill in the Netherlands) in the Guardian

'Maintain humanity under 500,000,000 in perpetual balance with nature'.
Anonymously commissioned Georgia Guidestones

'If I were reincarnated I would wish to be returned to earth as a killer virus to lower human population levels'.
Prince Phillip, Queen Elizabeth's husband, Duke of Edinburgh, leader of the World Wildlife Fund

Childbearing should be a punishable crime against society, unless the parents hold a government license. All potential parents should be required to use contraceptive chemicals, the government issuing antidotes to citizens chosen for childbearing'.
David Brower, first Executive Director of the Sierra Club

'The principle that sustains compulsory vaccination is broad enough to cover cutting the Fallopian tubes'.
Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes

'Frankly I had thought that at the time Roe was decided, there was concern about population growth and particularly growth in populations that we don't want to have too many of'.

Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg

'The Planetary Regime might be given responsibility for determining the optimum population for the world and for each region and for arbitrating various countries' shares within their regional limits. Control of population size might remain the responsibility of each government, but the Regime would have some power to enforce the agreed limits.'

Obama's science czar John P. Holdren, Co-author of 'Ecoscience'

Deny If You Must, but.....

In this article alone, there are 27 quotes from individuals representing the global elite who speak clearly on the desires of the elite who seek to significantly reduce the population. There are literally hundreds of more quotes which should concern the average 'useless eater'.

There are people who will undoubtedly dismiss these quotes as the musings of people with too much idle time on their hands and they really don't mean what they say. To these naive people, I would say that various governments, on behalf of their elite masters, murdered over 260 million of their own citizens in the 20th century. I contend that these 260 million people are merely the prelude of what is on the horizon. Consider the following quote from the late Congressman, Larry McDonald.

'The drive of the Rockefellers and their allies is to create a one-world government combining supercapitalism and Communism under the same tent, all under their control.... Do I mean conspiracy? Yes I do. I am convinced there is such a plot, international in scope, generations old in planning, and incredibly evil in intent.'
Congressman Larry P. McDonald, 1976, killed in the Korean Airlines 747 that was shot down by the Soviet Union

Conclusion

I have related how recently retired members of FEMA and DHS have sought the company of like-minded people as they have sought refuge in remote locations in preparation for what is coming. Maybe we should pay closer attention to what people say as well as what some people are doing.

There can be little doubt that depopulation is a consistent theme of global leaders and the idea has been around for a very long time. Preaching drastic population reduction may be one thing, but when the actions match the stated intent, all of us would be fools to not pay close attention and act accordingly as circumstances warrant.

Impatience

Could I wait a thousand year's to know what I do not,
to live a thousand more or less and learn what I could not.

I am now but once was not alive
a slave to feel, my body oh,
To where I go I sleep and wait,
for love I've longed to know.

Crossing The Water At Night

It is to still,
strang bubbles wafting from the bottom up and pop,
the smell is as if people have farted
I silently float across black lake, narrowly missing a shiney black boat, two white men in the dark look black.

Under the cover of tree's where bushes aren't, these are trees heavy of root bending down from the neck and drink.
Their shadows of moss must cover the dark inky sky.

A light held forth in a hand filters up from what was latter unknown but now is flowers.

Their thin harry leaves little arms without hands do not wish us to tarry
They are round of face and flat and full of word's.

Warm world's collide with the cold as we breath in all the vapor from the bubbles that burst.

She Gaped When Stretched Full Out

When stretched out full around, a ferris wheel and though my head throbs full though feeling it should not.

If in thy hand's
the straining neck is true to you and blue.
And peaks up to the sky.
On either side,
veins like vines and eye is bulging out.

Could I be not ever more than I once was,
as I once then,
when I was I young and full and more stretched out.

She tried to rub it off I could not see

The Shaking

Why do you allow them to do harm to the children?

Like a dumb cow

you just stand by and watch and allow them to do great harm to our children.

You ignore you, you won't interfere with the shaken.

In ancient times

people knew to draw on the dark side.

To kill those that caused harm to the children.

Life was painful and the children had unrealized value unless they were from some other tribe.

They wise knew restraint and mercy was shown to the learned.

Here in these time's, times made unnecessarily hard, times over run with bad choices and evil.

Verily thus it is now known when a prophet is born being greater than Jesus

born with innate knowledge that they can't control

now they arrest them and kill them.

Childhood Trauma

At Dickinson Elementary in Tampa in the early sixties.

I watched my school principal through her window beat one child after another pulling their dresses up or his pants down, exposing their vanilla creamy Flesh.

Some of these struggles were epic eight and nine year old bodies not giving in as the razor strap slapped their young Flesh.
There was much golden water that flowed to the floor.

One boy being bullied daily after each class by two or three others caught out of class was her favorite.
If she had a penis looking back at my misfortune it would have punched a hole through the desk she would have me bend over.

I firmly believe now that the earlier in life we experience such trauma, the more difficult it is for us to adapt to life in a meaningful way.

Childhood trauma more often than not is an ongoing chipping away at the soundness of the soul through emotional and/or physical abuse.

My soul having to then fend for itself was thus invariably shaken, cracked and hence unfortunately made unstable.
The resulting symptomatology
was by today's standards, predictable.

Latter at twelve the shock treatments were terrifying and then my soul could not unlike yours unfold, not unlike a beautiful flower bud which,

due to such criminal abuse, could not blossom. I now think.

Blessed with unlearned discernment I did not kill small animals and through grace those many other's whom took such great pleasure in the harming of small children.

The Alley Of Drugs, Death And Sex

I wake up every night at Johns, it's 3: 16 AM
The window in the room looks down the length of the alley.
I have long since had this dream, of living above this alley.

Hooker's exchanging sex for drug's, pimp's laugh.
The dumpsters never locked as the occasional body is dumped inside.

To night a women
well dressed is having problems trying to pull a body from the truck of her car.

Across from me three floor's down is a family of three and a very pregnant women stands out.
Apparently the father is crazy.
His wife and son don't seem to find peace until he kills them.

Two men roll up in a dark car and pull a woman out, holding her down one rolls up her sleeve and injects some thing into her thin arm.

Her erratic movements begin to slow then stop, one pulls out what appears to be a condom and lifting her short dress he empties the condom upon and between her long legs.
Leaving her panties ripped and torn beneath her.

A week latter
your husband is arrested for the murder of a nurse.

Bukowski Drunk, Farts That Are Wet

The fly paper hung like fresh sprigs of mint catching there intended.

Every square inch covered in bodies of which some still moved.

Opened partially eaten Can's of Bean's, were everywhere.

Late in his life the maid said.

Screen less
the open window let the lizard's and spiders
in.

Catching a lizard
a bird perched on a beer mug took it's creamy fluid dump in his beer.

Still a sleep.

Snoring and farting the atmosphere smelled of methane,
beer and Chile Bean's.

Half asleep half awake lunging for last nights beer the bird flew off eating a fork full of Bean's

Should Trump Be On The Sex Offender Registry

These are the sturdy women.

Women whom wish to make a difference.

Women in control of their sexuality.

Women of etiquette,

Women whom spent tens of thousands of dollars to educate and better themselves.

Whom now are in debt.

Women that know to surround themselves with other powerful people.

In order to make a difference.

Trailblazing woman that will make history but not now.

The Donald shoved his hand straight up my skirt.

Against the assault I stood tall, my back straight.

Immediately I became dry, it hurt, his people laughing smirking and watching.

As a woman, I became ashamed, for eating right and

My Narcissist Mother And How I Became One

She was damaged at a very young age becoming sexually active long before she should have.

As the strange men her mother brought home in her need to address unhealthy proclivities.

At five I began to grind the laps of these strange men unable to understand the effect this had on them.

Staying up late at night watching my mother engulf them.

It was obvious that her omnipotent desires during her infancy were not in a healthy way attended to.

Mom would ride them and I would see it disappear and reappear.

she moaned as if in pain, causing even more confusion in my young brain if it hurt so much why do it.

From this time on, normal shame, shame that should have existed that deep introversion normal children would have, I did not.

She would heft their balls, she told me that by the weight of them that the heavier they were meant new clothes and furniture.

The closet became my friend, the moans and grunt's took on new meaning in the dark closet that I stayed hidden inside of.

This narcissistic behavior I would later find out accomplished this by fusing with one person to try to get all her needs met and by projecting her shame onto others.

She does this by mercilessly criticizing and devaluing my dad or any of her children.

My monkey was fiercely guarded by me but her cat was insatiable.

Consuming all that came near by her cough.

Strangely enough, our family looked good from the outside.

We became experts at concealing our narcissistic behavior containing it to the safety of the four walls of our home.

Why Do You Waste Your Life On Religion

Even if there once were God's they have long since moved onto more interesting things.

Violent stupid people are not in the least very interesting.

Had these cruel violent people died at birth, mankind would have been where we currently are two thousand year's ago.

As all human beings have in their lives done wrong, though this differs by culture and country, We all have 'sinned'.

Except for the babies and infants and toddlers.

Evil and good will always exist.

I choose to be good, to do moral things, and try latter in life to make wise choices, not because

I'm trying to get into some Heaven that does not exist.

Nor to please some crazy God, but because it is the right thing to do.

Anyway, I do my best to leave the Christians alone.

They're the most narrow-minded, hate-filled people ever to hate a Muslim.

When it comes to tolerance of others that are different from them.

Remember you don't need to believe in some nonexistent being to try and help your fellow human beings.

Unlike those whom always have a plate out to take your money just to improve their life styles.

Watch Brian Greene a great intellectual as he explains how thing's really work in our universe.

Teen-Agers With Their Shame And Lack Of Coping Mechanisms

Parents that fail or those whom have children only to increase their public assistance. Millions sadly do.

Unable to support a child in the sciences and the arts will place unreasonable expectations on these children that not even the parent can overcome.

Many of these parents expect the child to assume the role of a caregiver.

As they grow into teenage years, their shame only grows and leads to their inability to cope.

Invariably as they grow they identify with their parents and lead similar lives.

In Florida children of color are invariably placed in foster care. And thus are assimilated by Florida's Department of Corrections. White children of course are by preference adopted out. Unless they are too damaged and or are ugly.

Go to the Florida Department of Corrections website and look for yourselves. Because of the constant abuse and years spent in solitary confinement they when released exact their violent retribution on those whom abused them.

Being mostly non-white they inflict their pain on the public. Incorrigible Whites are generally given life sentences with said sentences even if illegal they being uneducated are never able to change.

In all scenarios the educated judicial officers and state law maker's faced with the release of the non violent offenders whom were imprisoned too long would face sterilization.

In exchange for a small sum of money.

While they would most likely prescribe more medication to the general public while raising the tax rate on all alcoholic beverages to become numb to the effects of their shame.

Trauma And Empathy

Many are brutally traumatized, even more by those whom have sworn to protect them.

To properly heal these individuals they need safety and psychological attention.

Which they won't find in concrete jail's or in Florida's prison's.

Their state's of mind makes them more easily able to be taken advantage of.

And so they are and after be brutally assaulted again and again by those very same people are by them ask;

Have you being here, learned anything of a lesson?

Verily thus palm's up he turned to explain.

A calm soul has the power to heal and thus having empathy is.

Sending those whom ask into a violent rage, starting the booking process of beating them down once again.

It crawls northward a bit to the west a bit more north then turns around for sloppy seconds.

As corruption absolutely corrupts on came the governor.

Death, should have been his name sake as well.

The wind will begin to howl

none from the north whom moved down here have ever heard.

A few whom haven't left will die.

The water will surge in an angry boil unlanded.

Boat's left unsecured will be left inland.

Legal salvage for they whom prey on like disasters.

As one eye begin's to die a larger one forms.

Unseen to the eye being night are from which nightmares are made.

Screams from the young whom thought to ride the head of foam go unheard.

Gene's such as these were preordained to die out.

Once wide beaches are washed away and replaced with cracked limbs as lungs burst.

Forewarned sound advice by some was ignored.

Then it turns in a large circle and heads around key west and enters the gulf.

A shallow gulf, a gulf full of fuel to stalk U.S. again.

The corrupt Governor won't send help and declares martial law.

The National gaurd not from Florida by design, which makes it easier for them to use deadly force.

You have been warned the devil has said unrepentantly.

Being not from here he will become aroused at your destruction, not needing Viagra.

What of all the women and men in Florida's prison's.

Again life for me by them for telling the truth will be made harder.

I would have to use Viagra but have long since lost all interest in xes.

Death is death and someone else won't be found.

As they bus the missing dead Yankees in to vote for Donald Trump.

Your Babies Are Born Racist And You Raised Them Like That

You have rewarded your babies from their infancy at being able to hate and discriminate against other's that don't sound or look like you.
Your success was demonstrated by them at day care.
Your being young, could never understand the hate of yourself at being poor and still having baby after baby.

The implications by your support for Donald Trump will maintain that unfairness to all other racist like you very good.
And that unless someone from your clan is getting extra ice cream and cookies.

If you cared about fairness your children would show it.
But in defense of being a racist and that your brain being underdeveloped and without logic born of flawed reasoning, you teach to your babies and relax it is good.

That if we weren't racists when we were young being babies,
and thus very little, would not have survived.

While anyone that's not white from a different tribe are more likely to, have sex with your mother and sister and then afterwards eat you.

Multiverses

Grape vines that stretch left or right to infinity.
Clusters of grapes where one grape represents our universe.
Take off towards the edge in a space ship, the observable edge, the edge that no one here can yet see.
Would you hit a wall?

Is it a sphere like the earth where if you went left or right would you meet up with the point you departed from.
Is the universe truly infinite and would you always be traveling outward?

Atom's with protons and electrons you can see with the aid of technology.
Inside the protons and electrons and still moving are quarks.
Inside of the quarks are vibrating strings attached to a brane.

When one universe bumps into another universe a big bang.
Remember those infinite grape vines with their infinite number of grapes in their infinite clusters, resting one grape upon another that you see in the store?

Bubbles in a child's bubble bath, where one bubble collides with another and that one bubble grows even larger.
Quantum gravitational waves that we seek and search for.
When one universe collides with another there is friction and might create a new big bang.

And your doppelganger some where else has taken a different reality just to remind you.
Now a little about,
your unnecessary need for religion and the garden of Eden.

Where Is My Mind

Floating down the tunnel that leads home to you.
Where is my mind,
I dream only thoughts, thoughts of you.
Your hair in my hands,
holding you, here where it's day never night.
You are my light, here you shine through.
There is my mind inside of your head.
Tell me now how it makes you really feel?
Deep down inside, where we share both one mind.

I Can't Get Over Her Even Though I Know She Isn't The One

Nothing with her was casual, I flew around the bush like a bee.
The night's were harsh in the light, as a moth I wanted more.
Some like them hot and as such fires grow inside wavered not.
So I planted a rose garden and fruit tree's around the house.
I couldn't hide all the red flags, so I learned to sew buttons white made of bone, stitched in, down the middle, vivid purple.
She admits nothing, not as I do, without sight her red lips are.
Pink oysters shine with a luster, muscles open and close around it.
Psychologically all the boxes in the house were closed and empty.
And as such, the moon every night was kept full, from prying eye's.
I can't get over her even though she isn't the one and I'm alone.

The Making Of A Beast

It is here in America where the sweet animal's are,
and horror waits for thee in sleep attacks.
There was no plot except by they, where numerous bodies
before I came to be, in death now lie.

She is not now old, to old to care of sex a cotton veil

Lured by honey in,
He fell asleep eating ice cream in bed with two fingers in the pie.

He drempt of human head's, head's the axemen held,

so that when it rain's there's nothing left inside.
The crown of hairy cat's the wood loop slides.

I knew her not red lip's I kissed, that parted skies,
Not unlike a dog who digs up bones she slept beside.
Clutched her hand,

Death After Life

While still alive, look as dusk closes in the moon light on my face, could not be felt.
Those voices that murmur above my tired head are all the voices in my life unremembered.

If I in life, stopped the wind from blowing look now as a gentle breeze dried your tears.
And even then if your face could not show it it was your heart and it's sound that I heard.

I Am Finally Lost

I am finally lost and tired to tired to go to sleep.
I have been drawn in to deep to deep to escape to dream.

Trapped inside my room, I face the pain
the pain is deep,
I'm damp with sweat and numb.
I face the pain alone.

They've cast the dice for her and I, it's craps.
Should I go into the night without a voice?
Before him Stearn, if I should speak and jailed!
Bird's have wing's, what good are they inside a cell?

I've listened to the voice inside her head, I've said.
The woods are dark and deep there is no light.
The clearing in the middle to me doesn't seem all right.
When I'm lost I dare not even open up my mouth.

How To Protect Yourself... And Your Family ... From Florida's D.C.F

Say that it's 9: 00 in the morning, your older children are at school and the baby is watching Sesame Street so you sit down for that morning cup of coffee and a few minutes of peace.

Suddenly, there's a knock at the door and you wonder who that could be this early in the morning. You go to the door, still in your pajamas and this professional-looking social worker is standing there saying that someone has anonymously reported you for child abuse and/or neglect.

You're stunned.

Who would have done something like that to you?

You're a good dad.

You struggle, just like everyone else, to make ends meet, getting a little financial assistance from the state.

Yesterday was hectic as it was 'family day' and you didn't get a chance to wash all the dishes, mop the kitchen floor, or do laundry.

Church and family on Sundays, that's the rule and you live by that rule. So who could it be that would call in a complaint? It could be anyone ranging from your neighbor, your best friend, a family member or someone you pissed off in a grocery store.

You don't have to give your name, address, phone number, etc. when you call in an abuse allegation. You don't have to offer one shred of proof that the person is guilty of abuse or neglect. All it takes is for one person to have a grudge against you and they can get even by reporting you to CHILD PROTECTIVE SERVICES!

They go by many different names such as DSS, DCF, DSYF, or a myriad of other alphabet soup names but CPS is the universally accepted anagram for Child Protective Services.

Once they enter your life, unless you are independently wealthy and can afford to hire your own attorney, the deck is stacked against you.

If for some reason...no matter how small...the social worker does not like you, they can and they will substantiate an abuse/neglect allegation against you. The reasons are usually asinine and ridiculous.

One family lost their son and only got him back when they promised him he wouldn't have to go to church more than one time per week. He had been going three. Another mother lost her child because she got sunburned at a park. A friend of mine lost hers because she didn't have the 'appropriate' food in her house for her 2 children.

I don't even know what they mean by that as they would not bother explaining exactly what it was that she did wrong. Now they're terminating her rights, or are trying to.

She had been sexually abused as a child and was somewhat obsessive about no one changing her children's diapers or bathe her daughter but her and they used that against her as well.

They said she was too 'anal and obsessive' and therefore was not an effective parent. In my opinion, that's her right.

She is protecting her children from harm so how is that being a bad mom? It certainly doesn't warrant losing your child forever.

There are many things you can do to protect yourself.

To be forewarned is to be forearmed.

While CPS tends to target the poor and uneducated, do not assume for one second that if you're in the middle-class income range that this can't happen to you because it happens all the time.

That's where all the 'marketable' children are coming from.

You make too much money to be given a court-appointed attorney but you do not have the resources with which to hire your own.

In that regard, you would be better off in the 'poor' group. Most privately hired attorneys want a minimum of $5,000 to $10,000 up front and they let you know that that's just to start.

Most cases run up into the $50,000 range as CPS will drag you into court every 3 months.

You will have monthly 'family' meetings to check on your progress and you'd better have your attorney present at each and every meeting.

I am going to do something a little different here. Each day I'm going to give you a rule of thumb and go into detail on why they are so important.

Sometimes it's not enough to just know WHAT to do, it's important that you know WHY to do it ... or not do it, as the case may be.

First Rule of Thumb

If CPS knocks on your door, do NOT let them in without a warrant. They are not law enforcement officers and there is no law anywhere that states you must let them in.

Force them to get a warrant.

They will have to go in front of a judge, swear on the Bible that they're telling the truth, and then offer reasonable proof that you are abusing and/or neglecting your children.

For most judges, at least the honorable ones, an anonymous tip doesn't cut it. The exception might be if a medical professional or a teacher called it in.

They might just carry more weight.

There are some new laws out there for mandatory reporters that if they fail to report any suspicion of child abuse, they can be arrested and put in jail.

These days most medical professionals call in allegations over just about anything so that they don't get in trouble.

So if your child falls down the stairs and breaks their arm, you don't have a choice but to take them to the doctor but just don't be surprised if CPS shows up at your door.

Make absolutely sure that when you do take your child to the doctor, that it's to a doctor that you trust.

Call their pediatrician before going to the ER.

He might meet you there.

If you've built up trust with that doctor, then most likely no reports will be made.

Most ER doctors are trained to suspect abuse so do try very hard to get your child's regular doctor to take care of the problem.

However, do NOT wait until he/she can see you.

You take them to the ER right away because waiting even a few hours can be considered medical neglect.

Your first and only priority is getting your child's broken bone taken care of.

Be sure to keep a copy of all the records and ask for a report before leaving, along with a copy of the x-ray and any reports from the radiologist. Do not ever let fear override common sense.

If your child needs medical attention, you don't delay it, not even for a short period of time as that can be considered medical neglect.

Another reason not to let them in your house is if it's not exactly clean on the day they come to visit.

They won't care if you've been in the bed with the flu for 3 days, if it's not clean to THEIR STANDARDS, they will substantiate a claim and a messy home will be transformed into a filth-ridden home on their report. You can be the best housekeeper in the world but miss 2 days for any reason and they'll pounce on it.

In fact, that's one of their number one things that they allege on a parent. One family I lost their child because there was still crumbs on the table and floor after their snack.

Another one lost her child because he was sitting on the floor in front of the television set eating a snack.

They claimed she made him, eat off the floor.

It's always a good idea to take pictures of your home to prove the condition of it in case they make that allegation against you.

A good way to prove that it was taken on a specific day is to have a copy of that day's newspaper in every shot.

It's best to have a digital camera so that you can upload the pictures and then email them to the social worker that day.

Make sure the date stamp is correct on all of the pictures.

Make sure you send them to your attorney as well.

Living in such a paranoid state where corrupt Republican's force U.S. to live in such fear, has cost our children what?

Going Blind

There is no shortage of darkness here, either one can see it or one doesn't.

One can feel the sun, the heat alone is misleading.

In this darkness where there is light, my fingers cling to the moon, warm some where else, I am told in the center, a great black hole.

Star's beyond normal sight with out the help of a telescope lay upon glass, thinly blaze with white frost.

As it is now drawn from the past, the future revealed to the blind few, whom cut from the cloth that they feel.

Here there are no guns, through the telescope's great length end to end, can be longer than my out stretched arm's.

Sight by the young is taken for granted, where as I mumble the star spangled banner.

I could if I tried, climb up to out yonder to wonder if they are all honest.

With nothing to gain, I have ventured to loose all that I valued today.

Being touched in my brain,

before it shuts down endless the day's, thoughtful the night's as the star's flicker on then go out.

My Ex - Wife, Wet Brain And (Ard) Alcohol - Related Dementia

My ex - wife, her wet brain and (ARD) alcohol - related dementia as it relates to her most recent arrest, July 14 2016, for child neglect.

and more recent trip of September 1 2016, traveling to Taylor Correctional Institution, to pick up a sexual predator, to live in my old house along with her.

Alcohol-related dementia (ARD) is a form of dementia caused by long-term, excessive consumption of alcoholic beverages, resulting in neurological damage and impaired cognitive function.

Alcohol-related dementia is a broad term currently preferred among medical professionals.

Many experts use the terms alcohol (or alcoholic) dementia to describe a specific form of ARD, characterized by impaired executive function (planning, thinking, and judgment) .

Another form of ARD is known as wet brain (Wernicke-Korsakoff syndrome) , characterized by short term memory loss and thiamine (vitamin B1) deficiency.

ARD patients often have symptoms of both forms, i.e. impaired ability to plan, apathy, and memory loss. ARD may occur with other forms of dementia (mixed dementia) . The diagnosis of ARD is widely recognized but rarely applied, due to a lack of specific diagnostic criteria.

Alcohol-related dementia presents as a global deterioration in intellectual function with memory not being specifically affected, but it may occur with other forms of dementia, resulting in a wide range of symptoms.

Certain individuals with alcohol-related dementia present with damage to the frontal lobes of their brain causing (disinhibition) , loss of planning and executive functions, and a disregard for the consequences of their behavior.

Other types of alcohol-related dementia such as Korsakoff's Syndrome cause the destruction of certain areas of the brain, where changes in memory, primarily a loss of short term memory, are the main symptoms. Most presentations of alcohol dementia are somewhere along the spectrum between a global dementia and Korsakoff's Psychosis, and may include symptoms of both.

Individuals affected by alcohol-related dementia may develop memory problems, language impairment, and an inability to perform complex motor tasks such as getting dressed.

Heavy alcohol abuse also damages the nerves in arms and legs, i.e. peripheral neuropathy, as well as the cerebellum that controls coordination thereby leading to the development of cerebellar ataxia.

These patients frequently have problems with sensation in their extremities and may demonstrate unsteadiness on their feet.

Alcohol-related dementia can produce a variety of psychiatric problems including psychosis (disconnection from reality) , depression, anxiety, and personality changes. Patients with alcoholic dementia often develop apathy, related to frontal lobe damage, that may mimic depression.[4] Alcoholics are more likely to become depressed than people who are not alcoholics, and it may be difficult to differentiate between depression and alcohol dementia.

Pathophysiology□

Alcohol has a direct effect on brain cells in the front part of the brain, resulting in poor judgment, difficulty making decisions, and lack of insight. Long-time alcohol abuse can often lead to poor nutrition problems causing parts of the brain to be damaged by vitamin deficiencies. These problems could also cause personality changes in some people.

Diagnosis□

The signs and symptoms of alcohol-related dementia are essentially the same as the symptoms present in other types of dementia, making alcohol-related dementia difficult to diagnose.

There are very few qualitative differences between alcohol dementia and Alzheimer's disease and it is therefore difficult to distinguish between the two. Some of these warning signs may include memory loss, difficulty performing familiar tasks, poor or impaired judgment and problems with language. However the biggest indicator is friends or family members reporting changes in personality.

A simple test for intellectual function, like the Folstein Mini-Mental Status Examination, is the minimum screen for dementia.

The test requires 15-20 minutes to administer and is available in mental health centers.

Diagnosing alcohol-related dementia can be difficult due to the wide range of symptoms and a lack of specific brain pathology.

The Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM-IV) is a guide to aid doctors in diagnosing a range of psychiatric disorders, and may be helpful in diagnosing dementia.

Diagnostic criteria

The existence of alcohol-related dementia is widely acknowledged but not often used as a diagnosis, due to a lack of widely accepted, non-subjective diagnostic criteria; more research is needed.

Criteria for alcohol-induced persistent dementia in the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM-IV) include the following:

A. The development of multiple cognitive deficits manifested by both:

Memory impairment (impaired ability to learn new information or to recall previously learned information)

One (or more) of the following cognitive disturbances:

a) Aphasia (language disturbance)

b) Apraxia (impaired ability to carry out motor activities despite intact motor function)

c) Agnosia (failure to recognize or identify objects despite intact sensory function)

d) Disturbance in executive functioning (i.e. planning, organizing, sequencing, abstracting)

B. The cognitive deficits in criteria A1 and A2 each cause significant impairment in social or occupational functioning and represent a significant decline from a previous level of functioning.

C. The deficits do not occur exclusively during the course of a delirium and persist beyond the usual duration of substance intoxication or withdrawal.

D. There is evidence from the history, physical examination, or laboratory findings that deficits are etiologically related to the persisting effects of substance use (e.g. drug of abuse; medication) .

There are problems with DSM diagnostic criteria, however. Firstly, they are vague and subjective. Furthermore, the criteria for diagnosis of dementia were inspired by the clinical presentation of Alzheimer's disease and are poorly adapted to the diagnosis of other dementias. This has led to efforts to develop better diagnostic models.

Oslin (Int J Geriatr Psychiatry 1998) proposed alternative clinical diagnostic criteria which were validated.

The criteria include a clinical diagnosis of dementia at least 60 days after last exposure to alcohol, significant alcohol use (i.e. minimum 35 standard drinks/week for males and 28 for women) for more than 5 years, and significant alcohol use occurring within 3 years of the initial onset of cognitive deficits.

Oslin proposed the new and refined diagnostic criteria for Alcohol Related Dementia because he hoped that the redefined classification system would bring more awareness and clarity to the relationship between alcohol use and dementia.

Oslin's proposed classification of ARD:

Definite Alcohol Related Dementia

At the current time there are no acceptable criteria to definitively define Alcohol Related Dementia.

Probable Alcohol Related Dementia

A. The criteria for the clinical diagnosis of Probable Alcohol Related Dementia include the following:

A clinical diagnosis of dementia at least 60 days after the last exposure to alcohol.

Significant alcohol use as defined by a minimum average of 35 standard drinks per week for men (28 for women) for greater than a period of 5 years. The period of significant alcohol use must occur within 3 years of the initial onset of dementia.

B. The diagnosis of Alcohol Related Dementia is supported by the presence of any of the following

Alcohol related hepatic, pancreatic, gastrointestinal, cardiovascular, or renal disease i.e. other end-organ damage.

Ataxia or peripheral sensory polyneuropathy (not attributed to other causes) .

Beyond 60 days of abstinence, the cognitive impairment stabilizes or improves.

After 60 days of abstinence, any neuroimaging evidence of ventricular or sulcal dilatation improves.

Neuroimaging evidence of cerebellar atrophy, especially in the vermis.

C. The following clinical features cast doubt on the diagnosis of Alcohol Related Dementia

The presence of language impairment, especially dysnomia or anomia.

the presence of focal neurologic signs or symptoms (except ataxia or peripheral sensory polyneuropathy) .

Neuroimaging evidence for cortical or subcortical infarction, subdural hematoma, or other focal brain pathology.

Elevated Hachinski Ischemia Scale score.

D. Clinical features that are neither supportive nor cast doubt on the diagnosis of Alcohol Related Dementia included:

Neuroimaging evidence of cortical atrophy.

The presence of periventricular or deep white matter lesions on neuroimaging in the absence of focal infarct(s) .

The presence of the Apolipoprotein c4 allele.

Treatment□

If the symptoms of alcohol dementia are caught early enough, the effects may be reversed. The person must stop drinking and start on a healthy diet, replacing the lost vitamins, including, but not limited to, thiamine.

Recovery is more easily achievable for women than men, but in all cases it is necessary that they have the support of family and friends and abstain from alcohol.

Epidemiology□

The onset of alcohol dementia can occur as early as age thirty, although it is far more common that the dementia will reveal itself anywhere from age fifty to age seventy.

The onset and the severity of this type of dementia is directly correlated to the amount of alcohol that a person consumes over his or her lifetime.

Epidemiological studies show an association between long-term alcohol intoxication and dementia.

Alcohol can damage the brain directly as a neurotoxin, or it can damage it indirectly by causing malnutrition, primarily a loss of thiamine (vitamin B1) . Alcohol abuse is common in older persons, and alcohol-related dementia is under-diagnosed.

While moderate alcohol consumption (up to four glasses of wine per week) has been shown to protect against dementia, higher rates of consumption increase the chances of getting it.

Notable sufferers□

According to her family, the socialite Leonore Lemmon spent the last few years of her life with alcohol dementia, before dying in 1989.

The Australian entertainer and 'King of Comedy' Graham Kennedy was suffering from alcohol-related dementia at time of his death in 2005.

Florida Has Failed It's Foster Care Children

The majority of these children have at least one chronic medical condition.

Florida's foster care children experience four times the emotional problems as their counter part's.

Florida's foster care children average three different placements, including my daughter and nearly half do not return to live with their biological parent's.

Florida's foster care children repeat a school grade twice as often as other students, like my daughter.

Florida's foster care children score fifteen to twenty percent, below other children on statewide tests.

Resulting in serious self-esteem issue's.

More than thirty seven percent of Florida's foster care youth drop out of high school, compared to sixteen percent of Florida's other children.

By the age of Eighteen, sixty one percent of Florida's foster care children are without job experience, this is to guarantee that the black foster care children are sent to Florida's prison's.

Within 18 months of aging out of the system, up to 50% of Florida's foster care youth become homeless.

Having been taken away from her mother four times and currently still is my daughter was never allowed to live with her father.

While she travelled to Taylor Correctional Institution, one of seventy prison's in Florida, to pick up a sexual predator and move him into what was once my home, just last week.

She refers to our daughter as a young healthy woman, whom turned thirteen year's of age, just last April.

A Child That's Filled With Naught But Light

Her soul has been shaken long before she knew she had a soul.
and if by those familiar finger's,
of a stranger's hand that clawed to deep within her hole.

It was now that I realized that her inner being,
would not be able to survive more atrocious act's by they or them.
She stank of fear, fear that's raw, like the stink inside a cell that's dark and filled with false harsh light.

The horrors that they made, to make their job's, of watching human-made, these men of hate, their job's create.
If I could I would, I'd sink right through the crack of dawn back into night of useless hope.

From early childhood memories came the trauma and from their hidden secrets came more floods, of just the same.
The earlier I went back in life, the deeper that I fell.

Inside each child a broken soul, that has to fend for by itself.
Shaken, cracked and without help, stomped on left by them unstable.
The resulting symptomatology,
can be varied but most likely includes, U.S... I.
Layered like an onion is trauma stacked on top of abuse and more their trauma.

Therapy as an act of kindness cannot talk of course.
My experience is that she needs to hide it permanently,
sometimes these lost souls simply do not unfold,
not unlike flower buds which, due to environmental conditions,
do not blossom they just shrivel even more.

Traumatic paths are lost and to empathize one feels.
A shaken soul can tell her story and experience the power of finally having a witness to hear her tell her story, one with the sound that crystal makes, that is her soul.

A calm soul with healing power, is what she needs to be around.
Shaken from the depths and like the flower that needs light.
A flower made from night that always opens to the sun.

Dead Or Lost, A Crazy Women Alone In A House

Everything now is so sad,
one crazy women alone in the house.
A house without windows or doors,
a house made of stone filled with bars.

Hidden there, still is lost love in the walls,
once covered in mold, breathing now.
The rose garden that I once planted has died,
steamy, moist, hot and wet,
I have said that it died, are you deaf?

I chased a dream, you chased your fluid eyes blurred,
now sad are your dreams and lost on a swing.
Others, too many to count, have split the rails, broken windows, sheets for drapes, she cannot hide
from the stench, all the pain still alive.
Now all is lost to this woman alone, who won't die.

When Writing Deteriorate 's Due To Age And Not Knowing When To Quit

When one cannot convey their inference of knowledge through one's writing.
One grows sad.

When one think's that what one writes is superior, when in fact it is not, how does one know?

Few poet's are without ego, and some are as big and as heavy, as the life that one think's one has had.

Most poet's,
suffer from some type of mental illness.
Go back and read the biography of some of the great one's.
Hence is one willing to confront, their own mental illness to be considered a great one?

Those whom are untreated, can not really grasp the significance that this has on their writing.
So thankfully, here where it is that I live,
the trash is picked up twice a week.

Crazy love burning up like a well kept tree,

Because Of It, I Have Gone To Far Off

They don't believe me, not even after you have told them.
While here in our country there are no quick getaways,
one here now wishes there was.

The letters in each book are even now, but mud upon their face.
Where as the truth of an answer when plainly heard, the questions other's wouldn't ask, never late to early are.

Just as smokeless powder starts a fire without smoke are not the drop's of rain better used to quench your own thirst?

Verily a small heart when filled with fear and looks for a home that is safe, is punished again so the help that she sought, would never by her,
be sought from them, by her again.

You were baptized at a very young age in the Weeki Wachee river by the hand of her father to keep her safe from the grave.
Though that shadow that was cast by another, that was not yours, wouldn't lay you low as some would do, such as evil would do today.

Because of it, I have gone to far off, thus creating,
for you, only half of the confusion that you now shouldn't have to experience, every day.

James McLain

Lost In My Sand Box

Never mature enough to have children
she shouldn't and I supposed her to many to have.
I watched life go by, through her eye's.
Having to watch the young and the restless each day,
so I could watch dark shadows.

On the television at night, I saw how men died,
the pain on their face, I couldn't bear.
These were times of hopelessness, times of fear like today, life for for a first born was brutal
' look ' from a traumatized childhood I came.

There was no such thing's as ethics with morality out of control.
Bondage that knew no control out side looking in at what came first?
Falling from the sky most went black.
With her being the master over that part of his flesh.
Wrinkled lip's that grew full in old age.

Before The Big Bang

But that I knew that were all twisted in knots, are small mind's.
Smaller than the smallest grain of sand.
All that has been, all that will be uncontestably small, one singularity.
A loop like a ribbon or bow or back and forth like a ping pong ball.
Moving from each now to the next before time.
A measurement unmeasurable is but what you can observe unable to change what has passed.
Such is it's weight, such is it's mass tearing space, dropping right through.
Into new space completely void of light.
Unutterably, without heat, and no love and no hate, nothing to see without sight.
Now your somewhere else, once short if your tall black and white, without color no day.
Before you were born it went by in a flash and after your gone, comes someone else, and the millions of you trying to hang on, pops each new bubble that comes.

The Tide Has Turned

The tide has turned and water runs up hill.
Shadows hide from me, yea life stands still.
Facing each, I've had to face them all.
Nothing's done and morning's past, I cannot come.

Alarmed by me, their tone of voice is harsh.
Stubborn I have been no saving grace.
A whippoorwill that call's is never lost.
Can't you see that nature's never what you've seen?

While a rose that opened wide drew forth a smile.
Listen to the waves that splash upon the rocks.
In love with death that danced around but needs no space.
One brought forth at dawn and lined up straight it passed right through and hit square flush, upon the wall.

To drunk to save yourself or to amount to anything or be of use to anyone.... I can't imagine, how or why you are still here....

This makes the third time that she's been removed from her home.

One Does Not Need Gun's To Kill U.S.

Capitalism

only needs a corrupt judicial system.

When there are only the poor to sustain them.

Their convoluted laws are written in such clever

Way's so that novice attorneys cannot understand them.

When extortion is made legal to such an extent that people are kept locked up until through another's loud desperation

they are forced to plead guilty to a charge that so many have no knowledge of.

Being blind

to the blight of the soul full of weed's.

Is it a good day for you who ignore them
each day

is a dog day when you the delusional

ignore what is wrong all around them.

May Be They Should Get Another Job

There's nothing brave about killing unarmed civilians.

Unless your a Baptist closet racist.
Get a real job teaching U.S. children to respect different people and the different ways that Americans, live their lives.

Using robot's to take American lives.

As unto them that you do, so unto you by them, will they thus do.

Let's not be ignorant stupid!

Though stupid is as stupid does unless you can get someone else to do your killing.

The rich have and you'll stay poor and honest American's have nothing to loose.

Now remember

most of U.S. won't much longer take being abused by them unless they can make you a terrorist.

Who's blowing up who now with a one pound bomb.

Soon they must kill U.S.
as well.

Do you have sufficient intelligence

Kept in slavery for three hundred year's, Jim Crow for another hundred year's and kept in poverty for the next.

Soon they must kill U.S. as well.
Because I live in poverty on less than ten thousand dollars a year.
I am defenseless.
Not being allowed to own a gun,
I'm sure I will.

As the rich and powerful watch it live on their big flat screen t.v.
Don't you all agree?

Our Current U.S. Crisis, Our Warrior Police Culture

The threat against the population base is rooted in the perception of law enforcement's survival. When their need of safety is placed above yours.

Thusly, police officers are engaged in a constant battle with U.S., against U.S. When American's all, are perceived as criminal elements.

Body armor, automatic weapon's, remotely controlled deadly devices, drawn to such violence begin's when we began as a child. Allowing those with irreparably damaged psychology's to use their positions to cause U.S. more harm as would that of a serial killer.

Hence this attracts a particular type of psychological impaired candidate, and Police training at most if not all Academy's, further entrenches this.

Perhaps some of these young law enforcement officer's are just to young and without sufficient experience to be given such responsibility and some of the older one's have become to insensitive and snuff out each life as being worthless.

While in private and where no one can hear, amongst them selves they say of U.S. good riddance.

With Thousands of jail's and prison's that it's nothing personal it's just for some good business.

Wasn't it not unlike our childhood game of cowboy and indian's? Espousing sentiments of love, won't wash all these sins away!

Murdering American Citizens And Law Enforcement Officer's

Being killed by police in open view with no fear of their actions being caught on camera.

The anger of our citizens, when being told to not believe what they have seen on these everywhere cameras.

While if American Citizens are caught on camera or video they are quite easily convicted of what ever they are charged with.

As I have espoused in the past in respect to what more of these violent acts, America can expect.

People, human beings don't like to be abused and killed, no matter who it is that you are.
As with killer disease's, one is not immune from the other.

Why be displeased, so inward we search for.
Outside judging other's, we can longer ignore.
Draped from head to toe and hidden from view potentially hiding, concealed weapons.
The west has more than they need, Barbie doll's.
Uncompromising, ignorant of each other, the west has cast over head,
searching you out the flying dragons rain fire.
Without a voice they are not heard but we see them.
Asking why, no answers offered, they just make more.
Beaton on the soles of the feet just to illicit an

So I confessed to what they wanted to hear, in the

One American Material Girl

Each unknown man at a time passes by.
Squeezing each tail until his eye's pop out, such are rat's.
More ship's have been pulled and sunk
by it, so he Cry's.
Across her breasts rest more Pearl's
than can comfortably,
in the sunshine be worn, see how they glisten.
For the men it was the hardest time of their lives.
Filling one gallon jugs with it, her hugs grew tighter still.
And still they brought her more material thing's
she would lock up in her safe.
Snug and warm she never breathes, except to urge him on, but not until after.
Before she engages him in conversation she takes the measure of it and whispers as to weather or not he is allowed in or out.
She keeps his appearance well hidden, it being key to how you have read it.
The American Material Girl, leaves you guessing as to just what, it could be.
Pulling on it,
is hardly self explanatory nor a contradiction as she pays off her mortgage with one last hug and squeeze.

The Bubbles Of Life Are Green

Even we do, come and go.
Growing number's whom come uninvited.
They grow up around U.S.
as we did, when we did and now with

Green is universal, for healthy growth surely by now,
in your dream's before death, you have seen them.
They these bubble's we've seen, come and go and have many colors.
The hue's of a rainbow that trail off to either side,
and hence represent the worth of your soul and the measure of good that you represented in life, young or old.
As your mind grew in the deep of the night when you were asleep
it was then that you knew when awake.
As with all that has lived and thus when we die
each mind that gives thought, and spins out and around and as With sound, rest's with the owner, you then are found.

The Sun On My Flesh Makes Me Swell

Naked in the heat,
asleep
in the sun except for here and there.
Walking by where I lay perfumes waft down across my face, quietly talking
I think the two think that I am but I'm not.
Even dipped into cold ice it's too late.
The infinite eight my mind's races around coming back to the end of her smile.
Rare are the day's like to day as the white moon sits high in the sky it is true it is blue.
My eye is as pale as the white on her milky face.
Touching when touched, heart of hearts, so I touch.
The fallout is more never less when if she is afraid to be touched as she wished.
Looking down.
Eye's lifting up just in time to see the large wave wash ashore and swell up right there and feel it stop and splash up.
Tasting the salt and wind blown white foam on her face.

The Sight Of What You Feel, It Sould Be Grippped

I have been redeemed by all of you and being the leastmost amongst you, have reminded you to travel deeply there into. Past the edge of the tree's, there where it's dark, until that certain light that shines on you returns.

The leaves on the bushes here are Stark, crimson with hue's of Violet, purple and pink a rose, up unto in where, one vine upon the ground to her is known, it is large every sound from twin lips murmur, warm, moist and soft, in breath, my dear.

It is only then that, a snake comes out when the sun settles down, around the crown of the tallest of tree's.

This is where a cold fire burn's, wafting out into the deeper crack's as the column of smoke disappears.

Such as that as a shadow draws, moving up and into the mouth of the clear stream, there where the forest melt, two strangers meet, between the bush filled Hill's, high up above where two lover's came to meet.

Here where two single paths that meet a past not seen.
Here where you belong ahead two meet and dream.
Here where other's come from over head, they pass the watch.
Here where dream's not being seen, have come to pass.
Here where two came to be as one, two dream's to be realized.

Fascism And The American Watch List That You Are Now On

Obviously America has the technology to read mind's!
Sex offender list's,
some state's put people on them that have nothing to do with sex!

The stigma of mental illness and the release of their private information to other American agencies.
As a rule, people with mental illness are more intelligent than the rest of the people.

And won't self report and allow themselves to be abused and or killed by the rest... or will you..?

Why don't they share this technology with U.S.

My people,

my brother's and sister's, don't you know by now why disgruntled other's, want to kill U.S.

America, has successfully exploited the middle East, now America has no further need of them.

It's mostly U.S.

on their no fly list's or in their sight's to be placed on some new list that they are even now proposing.

Is it prophesy that in the not to distant past that our American actor's and director's have tried to bring your attention to this?

And still do!

As long as these severely disturbed individuals continue to be ignored, so long as their why's, are left unaddressed or are killed out right by law enforcement we cannot ever, find out why, our American brother's and sister's wish to kill each other the way that they do now.

Without readdress in the court's for the poor,
without readdress as to why,

Mother's and Father's have their children placed in jail's and Prison's.

One of the main reason's they wish to kill U.S.
over there is that,

American drones and American troops have bombed and killed their wives and children with impunity.

Destroyed their homes...

Please be reasonable when I would ask of you....

What would you do if this were being done unto you.

Gun's don't kill people, people kill people, for real or imagined reason's.

Some write and sing for love and long lasting peace.

What in your God's name, is wrong with the rest of U.S.

Remember if they think you are dangerous and have done nothing outwardly wrong and you are placed on their Schindler's list.

They are saying they can read all of our mind's.

James McLain

Blackmail And Extortion

No one knows what you know, and how, I came to know it.
You have what they want,
and you
think they'll never get it.
Knowing
what I know and should I turn you in?
The thing's,
I've kept inside me
and all the pain it's caused.
They will make you pay, it's what they do, they like it.
You never changed your password
it's come back to haunt me.
Your forte was not, sound reason and how, now should I use it?
The landscape,
it has changed they daily issue
threats.
Even though you're weary, and even though I'm tired.
They will keep on coming until they have it all.

James McLain

People I'll Disposed

What if the world had a real threat to rally behind?
Not some man made decease that they have had the cure for!
The collar of oppression, working dawn to dusk, to survive.
Being to tired to know what's going on.
What of dream's?
If when you sleep that there's nothing but white static in your head.
Genetically modified foods
you know it's bad when the rabbit's won't eat the lettuce.
And the bird's won't eat the bread!
While one hate's everyone and the other wants control of all you see.
Most blind from birth know there's a rainbow over head when it rain's and why it's there.
And what it represents and why some care.
Above and far away they've seen it all.
Far down within,
inside the center it can move from here to there a quantum flux and much faster than the speed of light.
If you turn away and never look.
It changed all.
Predicting what is bad inside each head
we turn away.
Then someone replaced the fuel, the tank and filter, for someone good.

When I Had Left So Many Years

I have fears about the world it's mental state.
Of what I know and knowing, what I don't.
Grown so high like wheat before it's mown.
What I've read, it's stacked upon my head.
Silver light shines in and on my face.
Having lived and died so many time's before.
Around the bud of love it never opened more.
A common begger, begged that died beyond our reach.
Could I colour blue and draw upon each wave.
Water's soft and true that washed my hands and more.
Held at bay the shadows stay where shadows standing stay.
Having had so many year's and year's, I have no more to give, the rest they gave away.

Security Expert's And Terrorism

Instead of addressing the underlying issue's

Drones armed with photo facial software recognition aimed at specific targets.
Politicians and law enforcement know that they are safe and the terrorist will go after U.S.
Reality state's that you and I are not safe from them.
I fear that as we try to educate each other about all of this that we may be visited by those we don't trust.
All those unfortunate human beings killed in Orlando had their I.d.
in their pockets when they were so tragically killed.
From the start, law enforcement knew who they all were.
Using the next of kin policy's of not releasing who they were,
as so many were abandoned by their families because they were gay
and the loss of life being so grave.
One of our political parties in spite of what they say

When No One's Around Their Still Looking

There will come a time when those awaiting birth
will be able to choose their birth parents.
The difference between love and rutting.
Nine months for some is forever.
You look at your neighbors walking by and wonder.
They still don't have any children
you have five.
You let them raise themselves, they have a plan.
You order take out ten times a week.
They have a small garden, what they grow the two like.
Your everyone's,
have to have a cell phone at three hundred dollars a month.
They use metro and found two for the price of one.
Giving much thought to nothing, their everyone is thoughtfully thought of.
You will never have more than you have now, they don't need more than they have.
Yours are always yelling and fighting, their content always living in quiet.
Giving great weight to a plan.
Would that you could all again, trapped in a world that's insane.
No normal man proven normal and sane, would travel back in time knowing the outcome is the same.
Up there looking down, making good on it's choice is an unborn a child that came with a plan.
What you have done you know that it's wrong doing it again and again.

There Are Over One Hundred Fifty Thousand Florida Prisoners

Does this number boggle your mind?
If not,
there is obviously something wrong with you.
Having practically no access to medical treatment!
I gauge that by the number of human beings that die each year from preventable deaths.
We the citizens of Florida,
hear nothing in the newspapers or news about them.
Yet we are bombarded by tv. commercials, about what you can do to save a pet that will be put to death,
or help some small child get safe drinking water.
You would no more trust them with your own child,
so why would you trust them with someone else's?
Monday through Thursday
you can see the state road yellow, D.O.T. truck filled mostly with black inmate worker's working on the side of Florida's roads, where in my youth I once did.
Black inmate's as a rule don't runaway.
Those with redneck mentalities call it escape.
Obviously these men,
can be trusted to work in our communities, but once one does runaway, he is then considered armed and dangerous, when if one can be initially trusted to work in our communities why is he locked up all?

Say No To Giving Up Our Civil Liberties

Say no to giving up our Civil Liberties, it only makes it easier for our own to kill U.S.

make it to where if you leave your home,
they can, kill U.S.
They need the Doctors and engineers, without oversight,
they can and they will continue to kill U.S.
We as Americans, can learn the zig, zag rule such as we did,
in world war two.
Not to become known as an American concentration camp!
On the old type writers our grandmother's typed, now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of our country.
Even now as I watch our Florida Governor issue threats, aimed at Florida citizens
he is incapable of realizing that, someone who commits such a terrible act has no problem committing suicide after it's over.
Leaves more than a few scratching their head's.

How Many Of The L.G.B. Were Killed By Law Enforcement

I'm not a Pious man, no I am not!
Like all of those that are corrupt.
On my way going home at night in Orlando a clearing by the Wood's past midnight without tree's, bearing witness to what is no accident as to what will occur.

What is left for those left alive?
The Republican attitude towards - gay's and homosexuals was and still is apparent.
The Florida Republican Governor said afterwards to pray for the victims in what is now going forward is now tragically and sadly, typically laughable.

Many were killed because of law enforcement's rush to breach wall's and to use flash and stun grenades.
Exchanging fire with the alleged gunman in total darkness
with victims being shot it will be found out by law enforcement and covered up.

Lives could have been saved if law enforcement would have waited to make sure that their return fire did not strike those gay's whom were being fired on behind him.

You know the positions that the Republican's hold on gay's, abortion as well as gay marriage and transgender restrooms.
Building private prisons that they hold stock in.
That Muslims from another country are all terrorist waiting to kill U.S.
And if you have been wronged by this our corrupted government

you are a walking time bomb in need of twenty four hour surveillance.

No one's going to give up their Gun's, unless law enforcement does and even if you were willing, you can betcha they aren't.

To many,

F4 rejected from the military are using, H.I.P.A.
to become law enforcement officer's,
just for the thrill and excitement and the killing.

Could It Be Otherwise

Star struck Fan's, giving them what they want
if they can't touch you.
The younger they are the softer their heart's.

The mature woman knows what she wants and how.
Treating each encounter as would an athlete.

Taking the bull by the horns pulling it close to her face, until she See's
the White's of it's eye's.

Some of U.S.
long for the quaint little house with a green little fence not white.

I can only imagine how, getting stuck in a rut
knowing the moon's in the sky.

Swelling inside, eye's growing wide drifting quietly away, drifting on out to the sea.

Lonely I Am To

Could you please, if now and when you think of me, tell me what to do?

I am if like one of you I am lonely to.

No one cares, about me.
After it's all said and done.
I still will be alone.

Even when I, go out and take a break from what I do.

Even when people walk around me.
I'm still alone, none see me.
Standing here amongst them all alone.
The flower all alone.

Thinking of you, and only of you,
leaves me only more alone.
You have left me here and I still suffer pain.
There are no high road's, left to take.

There are no open book's for me,
all closed from which to chose.
Could someone out there, come and give me a hug.

Pull me up from that dark place,
back into this your world some place?
And then what is my role in this story, to play?
If everything I have done, was so wrong?

Now I have no light from which to see.
Now having no one but you, to think about.
Now not having you, I don't know what else to do.
Now where ever I go, all I can think of is you.

The Stupid Are Clever And Wise

The stupid are clever and wise!
How else could they be there, if the people weren't?
By giving children, the key's to someone else's house?

The stupid are clever and wise!
They ignore their sound judgment and cling to the other's who aren't.

Stupid is, as Stupid does, unless you're corrupt and steal from the public, that's U.S.
Where can they go?
How will we live?
When they are finished with U.S.

You Disgust Me

You, Disgust Me!
You can't stand to see someone do good.
You won't put in the time or hard work to succeed.
You, Disgust Me!
Your children Disgust
me, they should have been removed,
as they are but a sad reflection of you.
You, Disgust Me!
If the world were the size of your ego,
there would be no earth
upon which to live.
You, Disgust Me!
The gap's are too wide between each mental leap that I am forced to make.
Please don't waste any more time
on what you should do, because
You Disgust Me!

Skipping A Heart Beat

My beating heart pounds, to the rhythm and rhyme of your pulse.
On it you sit, what ever it is,
mute to the sound of his voice.
Tops when they spin, beauty moves her,

Oceans brave true, blue as you move, eye's for no other but you.

Processing People For Food

You knew it was going to come down to this.
Processing People
you knew for food to feed your needs.

Children you knew, mixed with your parents.
Here where bacon and beef go to those politicians whom claim that you put them in office.

Northern missionaries, that work tirelessly to feed those southern lofty mouths.
Wet microbursts of moisture, dehydrated flesh flash frozen, for other's there is yogurt,
though without milk there remains a certain question?

Pretty girls grown dumb, have procreated to feed you.
You will eat the smart ones, without question the need to live outweighs those moral questions, unpronounceable lost in time some few short decades past.

We pay homage to those same corrupt politicians who we now pay,
to watch them eat what others never will.
Paying to watch them eat a bacon, lettuce and tomatoe sandwich with large dollups of mayonnaise.

Living each day, from dawn to dusk, giving no thought as to how you came to be on the menu, the preceding day.

Don't fall in love with me, I might not be able to satisfy your few basic needs.
I can sense that certain fatal attraction.

The Culture Of Rape In America

In court nothing's left out.
Being second guessed by the ignorant public to many Judge's now are.

The true brutality of forced sex is a crime of violence, that many armies have done including our own.
Even by our own women over there!

Perpetrated sex
done for no other reason than to cause harm to the vulnerable person the victim.
Should be punished how?

What should the penalty be for those whom bring forth false accusations and destroy the life of those who were innocent.

To gain custody of the more vulnerable children and of the assets after leaving the unfortunate husband who suffered a mental breakdown to fend for himself when he because of that can't?

Unringing these Bell's, you never can and never are and without any facts the public almost always will.

Unfortunately sometimes what we don't see, Judges do.
If a drunk driver hits a drunk person
on a sidewalk, would the drunk person on the sidewalk be on that sidewalk
if they had not been drinking at all?

On nearly every COP show the threat by the COPS,

to the one being questioned, is what they will guaranteed endure in respect to being raped if they are sent to any prison in the U.S.

You might not like the defendant or the victim either.

You might not like the Judge nor the Twinkie defence or fudge and snow covered Finger's.

Public opinion should never be allowed inside of the court room.

When what comes out of their mouths has nothing to do with sound reason.

This is a subject many have an opinion on, and your opinion on this of you I would ask?

Everybody's Alone With Me

I could not do what they wanted me do
because!

I have been observed standing on my second story deck alone late at night pissing down below to remind the dog's that I live here as well.

Of course she snored, I left my scent on there as well.
Wine can do that to people but not to me can't stand
the stuff, though I make it pretty well.

Some of you call it a poke.
I think it's just a small brown leather sack,
with a few coins tossed into it.

Even now,
it's about what you are doing, thinking of even if I'm not.
Though flesh covers flesh
and a few other's here would cut me down, in the prime of my life.

There really are pink shell fish and oysters.
I eat one raw, the other I fry.
Alone while she's asleep.

Three Finger's Wide And A Foot Deep

Three fingers wide and about a foot deep.
I feed the small stove below my kitchen sink.
She needs, absolute control, it responds to her daily trip's, her O.C.D.
Not leaving your bed for short month's,
and eventually long year's,
is the worst kind of, Depression, what of Latuda.
Risperdol can make men grow breasts, that need to be trained and Seroquel will make you gain back all your lost weight.
Low self-esteem makes the depression even worse.
Have you ever thought that, that someone special loved you that didn't, it's a sure bet that you are suffering from schizophrenia and a severe mood disorder.
With perhaps a predilection towards pain filled rough sex and stalking.
Bulimia and anorexia are subtle silent killer's
I've tried to ask Karen about some of that.
She's not talking.
The troubled home life, can produce those sad young faces, that in time only fade.
Suicide and hidden cutter's, that if they live are scarred for life.
While America about this moves two steps back and another three steps backwards.

James McLain

Naive Like Me

I think that I would rather live in a world where I can leave my door unlocked.
Not in a third world tragedy.
A lock uncomplicated, where a butter knife's
the key.
Left beneath the welcome mat or the flower pot.
Where if I chose to walk to school, I'd never be kidnapped.
The world today is too complicated, I've forgotten
my passwords to my websites.
Where the only reason that you don't have to check that box is because half of U.S. are convicted felons.
Will every one
give up their guns if law enforcement won't?
Cloned a person's not, it seems because they can't duplicate
the life they led, or the lack of trauma done.
There's no one we can trust to bring U.S.
back to where we trusted were.
Our kid's who cannot speak or write like this.
Their common bond to me and you is their severe dysfunctionality.
Confusion more becomes when you can't make sense of the advertisements now shown on t.v.
Are the old now dead the lucky one's that left their front door's open?

James McLain

Airing Dirty Laundry

Who are you?
Why do you act in darkness?
By knowing who you are,
I could stay away from you!
I can only say,
that if I knew who you were.
I might lose some sleep over you.
But I don't.
So if you truly dislike me,
tell me who you are.
So we can, not unlike him, build a wall between U.S.
This is for those whom hate the world,
but not themselves.

Trump Has Opened Both My Eye's

Trump has opened both my eye's
to my impatience, to my own fear's that I might be a racist.
To the psychology of using fear
it's self,
to manipulate the fear's of those whom are ignorant.
Of the power of fear and needing attorneys,
to express those fear's, so you won't be arrested.
The fear that some might be able to do it better than some straight girls.
Breeding fear, that some more than a few, claimed being confused about both the sex's.
Claiming success in all of his businesses, isn't it cheaper
to have one bathroom that all can use?
Rather than having two that all can't? ?
Sure both systems are rigged to keep any true change, from all of U.S.
to keep what the people would really want,
off of any corrupt, state ticket.
It in it's self would not be unreasonable to keep any one specific religion out of the white house or in control of any one town in each state.
Stopping there and that should be the end of that in some strange God's name, you would trust!
The game of Monopoly, we all played as a child forcing each one of U.S.
to thoughtlessly embrace democracy and capitalism.
Hence all that is you compounded daily, has left the rest of U.S. out of touch and of little consequence and without any interest.
Trump,

has opened both of my eye's, to what I fear,
most of having not sold out by taking advantage of our hurting sister's and brother's,
by buying U.S. low and selling U.S. high.

I Care About What You Think, But If

Of course,
I Care what you think about me
but if.

It's not my intention to beat you up about your head but if.

The current state of our world was not brought about by love, but by hate,
but if.

Do you live in a country where because of your speech
you or your family would be harmed,
but if.

Nothing lasts forever,
but if, in the end, hate can't win out.

But if, you remember who you are conceived in love, brought forth in hope hate will never take your soul.

Swallowed Whole By That Good Night

Swallowed Whole by that good night
gives rise to flames.
Burning town's and thank less God's good night to thee.
Then looking here,
we've found a place we could not be.
Nothingness is not a normal frame of mind
if something's lost,
then found, you can not sleeping find.
Before we were, not unlike now,
there was no reason to the seasons, though they changed.
In all we see today the violence takes away.
Exploding star's are seen, though what is seen,
was what was once to far away.
Being made of that is what we are and by the by their are Billion's who say were not.
To have an intellect, unexplored and die inside a cave, a room, a house, a shack.
There is no hope in peace the dream it fades away.
Torture, killing, rape, exploding bombs that rend and tear away the soul's of what we were.
Living in the tree's was safer than to what we have today.
There's just to damn many of U.S. and making more will fix it all the ignorant say.
Swallowed whole by that good night, is all there is.

My Shriveled Finger

My shriveled finger is behaving now like what's been independently discussed it's behaving like what she has as my witness seen.

Bumping into furniture in the middle of the night
dribble drop's fall as rain in the carpet.
Bloody shins that elicit a sharp stabbing pain.

When it happens, it in my sleep happens, during the most important part of the dream.
No reruns as I settle back inside my head where I last left off.

While I can't explain it,
she can sense it. I can feel the finger wrinkled redevelop as it then again disappears.
My green wardrobe,
when it's too close to the closet then it feels.

Reductive after being touched it with that mind of it's own without it going off prematurely, only manifests itself for a short period of time after exposure.

Any decent wholesome woman, who owns a green dress and who has seen it and has experienced his pent up breath so deeply exhaled could only express her surprise at this, his last regret.
To any other similar experiences, she has claimed through her distinct satisfaction that I once, thrice daily endured.

James McLain

What A Man Likes About His Woman

I want to see her in that see through green dress!
Bought on sale to be thrown away.
I want to see what other men see, unknown to them
she is mine.
Caressing naked skin on her arm's and her back.
I follow behind in a new Uber cab, as she walks past each man whom carry their soft leather brief cases.
Men who are married, married men who would claim not.
Men who hurriedly try to hide their left hands.
The rural men are different, cattle and horse ranchers who without pause offer her rides, I smile.
At the zoo the elephant attraction, the elephant handler is being caressed from ankle to mid thigh her leg, by the long, strong thick trunk.
I want what she wants as only two twin's that are never apart should want.
Green dresses like these and I wonder about blue or red.
As we will be cremated when we die, no claim can be made about that.
In this a man's world, nothing is better than that.

An Empty Space For A Face

Are you afraid, that someone will see you?
No one here will stalk you, of that I am sure of.
Underaged or are guilty of something else.
If you're alive the restraining order
you sought, was sought for something else.
I'm more than sure of it.
The children will almost always cling to the abuser.
The Judges needing more people to fill up their prisons, will let them.
How can a father or mother see their children?
Many an ignorant stranger has been killed for less than that.
I can't speak for you, but only for myself,
I find it hard to stare at a blank space where a face should be.
When that space for your face is only a blank.
Some people try hard to hide it from others,
what was to easily found.
Unless you live in a country where there you are hated.
I'm at a loss as to why'd you stay there.
And when in a grave yard, how long would you
in front of a grave, stand there staring down at a blank grave stone?
Before you lost interest and meandered away?

James McLain

In The Dark Of Night

When I go there to rest,
And life done has flashing by,
Spring has opened her eye's again,
The soil is damp with dew.

Unwritten rules ungoverned nature does,
And doesn't what it must do
To choose to do what few could do
The miniscule mind should do.

The bush beside the creek is full,
It's leaves caressing a tree
Behind the bush one tree stands out,
The garden that time forgot.

Above those that do and yet remaining beneath those whom lack that certain conviction.

The mistake that's made twice was done to hide the first one.

Ninty nine percent of them need to be led the rest meandered aimlessly.

A certain since of bravado is needed to part the wise from your money.

Those whom need no help at all are generally the most helpless amongst you.

Having been severely traumatized we tend to hide in our dark room.

Having little to no modesty kept landing me in jail.

Not being able to understand this parted me from all I once owned.

Untreated bi-polar women are like those cat's

While severe depression is not unlike war that is fought always in the dark.

Love is like cream that can't rise to the top being trapped in the middle.

Opinionated ignorance is lost in stupidity.

Sleep Is For The Dead

Sleeping pills and seroquel enough to drop a horse and here
I'm still with you.
You in the grass on the Vale.
The dew is now found on the Lilly.
Before I wake
the sun is high my dream's aren't of this world.
If you think of me of when you sleep.
I can't touch you though I'm there unless you let me in.
I see you then not as you are but as not in a dream.
It's not as though a heavy weight upon you came to rest.
Nor when you feel your cover's move between light sleep, awake.
The flutter of your lids upon your eye's
as though warm wind blew through the room.
Rogue ripples make your nipples straight and supple brushed quite hard.
By a hand that's not your own the risk
he takes you make your own.
Your room blow's colder closed the flower opens and.
The shadow's on the other side of things are yet to come you hold your breath.
Breathing in your ear goes warm and wet.
Creaking noises on the steps come closer to your bed and on your window pane the tapping that won't stop until he comes.

Things like here but there as well

Kepler 62f

A team of astronomers suggests that an exoplanet named 62f could be habitable. Kepler data suggests that 62f is likely a rocky planet, and could have oceans. The exoplanet is 40% larger than Earth and is 1200 light years away.

62f is part of a planetary system discovered by the Kepler mission in 2013. There are 5 planets in the system, and they orbit a star that is both cooler and smaller than our Sun. The target of this study, 62f, is the outermost of the planets in the system.

Kepler can't tell us if a planet is habitable or not. It can only tell us something about its potential habitability. The team, led by Aomawa Shields from the UCL department of physics and astronomy, used different modeling methods to determine if 62f could be habitable, and the answer is, maybe.

According to the study, much of 62f's potential habitability revolves around the CO₂ component of its atmosphere, if it indeed has an atmosphere. As a greenhouse gas, CO₂ can have a significant effect on the temperature of a planet, and hence, a significant effect on its habitability.

Earth's atmosphere is only 0.04% carbon dioxide (and rising.) 62f would likely need to have much more CO₂ than that if it were to support life. It would also require other atmospheric characteristics, .

The study modelled parameters for CO₂ concentration, atmospheric density, and orbital characteristics. They simulated:

An atmospheric thickness from the same as Earth's up to 12 times thicker.
Carbon dioxide concentrations ranging from the same as Earth's up to 2500 times Earth's level.

Multiple different orbital configurations.

It may look like the study casts its net pretty wide in order to declare a planet potentially habitable. But the simulations were pretty robust, and relied on more than a single, established modelling method to produce these results. With that in mind, the team found that there are multiple scenarios that could make 62f habitable.

“We found there are multiple atmospheric compositions that allow it to be warm enough to have surface liquid water, " said Shields, a University of California President's Postdoctoral Program Fellow. "This makes it a strong candidate for a habitable planet."

Earth as seen on July 6,2015 from a distance of one million miles by a NASA scientific camera aboard the Deep Space Climate Observatory spacecraft.

Our dear, sweet Earth is the only planet where life is confirmed. Here it is, as seen on July 6,2015 from a distance of one million miles by a NASA scientific camera aboard the Deep Space Climate Observatory spacecraft. Credits: NASA As mentioned earlier, CO2 concentration is a big part of it. According to Shields, the planet would need an atmospheric entirely composed of CO2, and an atmosphere five times as dense as Earth's to be habitable through its entire year. That means that there would be 2500 times more carbon dioxide than Earth has. This would work because the planet's orbit may take it far enough away from the star for water to freeze, but an atmosphere this dense and this high in CO2 would keep the planet warm.

And where there is water there is wonderful life!

Do you live here wherever you are?
With my freedom of movement restrained?

shaking a leg and then you find it is gone.
Unable to pay a small fine,
leaving behind what I have to someone I hate.

Something's yellow.
Unable to reach out to you, I'm looking down at not able to guess, where I'm at.

to see, you and me love to live, I'm no more.

Claiming modesty, are you not the

You are not my mum in fear I said.
Here come with me and take my hand,
afraid to make him mad and so I did.
He used me bad the pain, the stinging hurt.
My pants he tore from me, my stinging eye's.
It mattered not to him and so I cried.

the lights went out.

Would you do what I said,
if it improved your life, I think not.
Would you in school, learn and pray?
Giving in to you, in life to know,
even if I, disapproved?
Consuming it all, then leaving none
to know what I knew, all along.
Naked in the window she stands,
staring out into my grand scheme of things.
Some learn to forget, I forget what I've learned, in the end forgotten by you.

Proud of there depth running inside, every

When Death Fell From The Sky

The woods are scary dark and deep they offer no respite.
God knows that this is all and death is all we get.
Of all the things you heard them say,
Of what they saw U.S...do.
The dead aren't seen nor are they under ground.
Writing what I heard them say their shadow's on the wall's their there to stay.
I feel the moss a beard instead of hello green once was.
Of't their flesh when cooked is bark a mottled brown.
Love I've never made and now I know, I never will.
In a flash I gone, I sadly, bade goodbye.
The bushes have no scent, no leaves are growing there.
Skies to clear to see, clouds, cover where we sleep.
You have entered lost
and tired and like those lost and won't be found.
If there was a God, like you to cry and you and me?
In war,
there needs a second chance to show you what we think.

Is This All I Get

The woods are scary dark and deep and offer no respite.
God knows that this is all we'll get.
Of all the things you heard them say
the dead are under ground.
Writing what I hear,
I feel the moss a beard instead of green is slightly mottled brown.
Love I've never made, I know I never will.
I sadly bade goodbye.
The bushes have no scented leaves none there to cover what I've found.
You have entered lost
and tired and like me can't be found.
If there is a God, like you and me, he needs a second chance I think.

Stop Being Silly And Open The Door

Beaver canal was not for me.
I live on nothing but sweet memories.
Where can I go and what should I see?
Stop being silly and open the door!

How far can I get and who should I be?
My friend is the sink, my toilet and me.
Look luv the questions, I'd ask only of you.
Stop being silly and open the door!

Why couldn't I have been married to you.
Such foolish thoughts inside of my head.
Could I have once left you instead, so stop being silly and open the door.

The Bully That Bullied You

The bully that bullied you!
Where are they now?
Have they done anything good?
They were a reflection of their parents attitudes, phobias and fears.
Could they have been born like that?
A word is learned, words have power.
Bullies know this, how did they learn this?
In the race to over populate the planet,
are children being born without soul's?
The adults whom see this can anything good be said about them.
Could children who grow up in pain, want other's to feel their pain?
Social media, now markets this pain and in knowing this allows them to hide in their room.

Politicians And Without Trust, They Must Kill You

Talking past you,
no one talk's to you, your voice held at bay.
The fire is banked not that high,
while ill-advised their pain they take out on you.

They pass laws against themselves, in forced on you.
Deviant's themselves above U.S.
all,
their stench is self-evident, our ranchor is ignored.
What Gandhi and Martin Luther King did won't work on them any more.

Feeding on our unlearned youth, ignorance on the lack of our their understanding,
I hear their demands that they have placed above you and on you, why else do they have need for tanks?

Killing you with wages that make you less human.
Republicans and Democrats despise U.S.
Hold me as I fade, take care they are not your friends.
As a race being white old and grey, licking your wounds needing your blood every night, just to live.

Suicide Takes Courage And It Hurt's

I know I came from the wrong side of the tracks.
I have burned both ends until the light went out.
No one knew the way I thought or felt in life.
If this is it, I think I've gone to far.
Hello world goodbye, please do not cry.
Do not fake how when I lived you always lied.
What to do, oh what to do, I was never loved,
like I loved you.
Though where I go, I go to wait, I'll wait for you.
And then no matter how you try to get away I know you'll have to stay.
Suicide takes courage and by God oh yes it hurt's.

Retirement

Night was made for silent consolation, holding the dawn at bay.
Ticking the clock to loudly, shadow's roam down the hall softly talking.
The hot humid day, cooling dusk stays, board's that creak, the stairs.
She is now ready I hear, she I have heard
he has been gone for some year's.
She never used drug's, she never drank.
She behaved thinking about what other's might think.
Having no kid's she lived alone.
Once being kid's the children she taught came around, grown now they sent her off.

Teaching Your Child, How Hard Was It

Your child looks up to you, frantic and searching.

With every other sixth child could it be autism, or ADHD or, not with a dumb look or a blank stare but with eye's that constantly change that look out.
Have you taken the time from your busy lives to teach them how to ask a question.

Perspectives and different points of views unlike yours that are changing, effecting the lives of other's that live near around you?

Are you able to discern a rare opportunity, that do not come often to a child that stands out?

Or do you shut that opportunity out because of the way you were raised and now think?

Facts always change, before the Kepler telescope your position was that we were alone!

Excite your child's mind teach them to learn in a way where,
such controversial issues are nothing but play.

Thus becoming more than you are worth.

Here's How We Get Rid Of Six Billion People

As we approach October 31st, dozens of articles are appearing in newspapers all over the globe that are declaring what a horrible thing it is that we are up to 7 billion people.

In fact, it surely is no accident that the United Nations put 7 Billion Day on the exact same day as Halloween. Perhaps they want to highlight how 'scary' it is that we have 7 billion people on the planet, or perhaps they are trying to send us a message by having 7 Billion Day occur on the same day as 'the festival of death'.

In any event, it seems like way too much of a coincidence that 7 Billion Day just happens to fall on the same day as Halloween.

Today, 'sustainable development' has become one of the key buzzwords that those in the radical environmental movement love to use, but most Americans have no idea that one of the key elements of 'sustainable development' is population control.

So what precisely is considered to be an ideal population for the earth by those pushing 'sustainable development'?

Well, of course there is much disagreement on this issue, but many are very open about the fact that they believe that the earth should only have 500 million people (or less) on it.

For example, the first of the 'new 10 commandments' on the infamous Georgia Guidestones states the following....

'Maintain humanity under 500,000,000 in perpetual balance with nature.'

CNN Founder Ted Turner would go even farther....

'A total population of 250-300 million people, a 95% decline from present levels, would be ideal.'

Dave Foreman, the co-founder of Earth First, says that reducing our population down to 100 million is one of his three main goals....

'My three main goals would be to reduce human population to about 100 million worldwide, destroy the industrial infrastructure and see wilderness, with it's full complement of species, returning throughout the world.'

Sadly, this kind of garbage is even being taught at major U.S. universities. For example, Professor of Biology at the University of Texas at Austin Eric R. Pianka once wrote the following....

I do not bear any ill will toward people. However, I am convinced that the world, including all humanity, WOULD clearly be much better off without so many of us.

Mikhail Gorbachev thinks that reducing the global population by 90 percent would be just about right....

'We must speak more clearly about sexuality, contraception, about abortion, about values that control population, because the ecological crisis, in short, is the population crisis. Cut the population by 90% and there aren't enough people left to do a great deal of ecological damage.'

But most of the time, the way that the global elite speak of population control is much more 'politically correct'. They tend to use terms such as 'sustainable development' and 'reduction of fertility rates' and 'quality of life' when discussing the need to reduce our population.

As 7 Billion Day has approached, there have been articles popping up in major publications all over the globe that are advocating increased population control measures. Of course in the western world such measures are always framed as being 'voluntary', but that is the way that they always introduce things like this. Once enough people get on board with the 'voluntary' population control measures they will become 'mandatory'.

So now that you are aware of some of the buzzwords that are used, check out what has been written on some of the biggest news websites in the world recently....

Jeffrey D. Sachs, the director of The Earth Institute at Columbia University, recently said the following in an article for CNN....

'The arrival of the 7 billionth person is cause for profound global concern. It carries a challenge: What will it take to maintain a planet in which each person has a chance for a full, productive and prosperous life, and in which the planet's resources are sustained for future generations?

'How, in short, can we enjoy 'sustainable development' on a very crowded planet? '

For Sachs, one of the 'keys' to sustainable development is the 'stabilization' of the global population....

'The second key to sustainable development is the stabilization of the global population. This is already occurring in high-income and even some middle-income countries, as families choose to have one or two children on average. The reduction of fertility rates should be encouraged in the poorer countries as well.'

In a recent article for the Guardian, Roger Martin stated that all of the problems that humanity is facing would be easier to solve if less people were running around the planet....

'...all environmental (and many economic and social) problems are easier to solve with fewer people, and ultimately impossible with ever more.'

He also says that if we reduce the population, it will mean better lives for all the rest of us....

'On a finite planet, the optimum population providing the best quality of life for all, is clearly much smaller than the maximum, permitting bare survival. The more we are, the less for each; fewer people mean better lives.'

There has been tremendous human suffering all throughout history. If we eliminated 90 percent of the global population it would not suddenly usher in some kind of 'golden age'.

But many among the global elite are truly convinced that we are spoiling 'their planet' and they don't want so many of us around anymore. Thanks to technology, they only need a few hundred million people to run their system, and they view the rest of us as 'useless eaters'.

This all may sound quite bizarre to many of you, but this is the kind of stuff that is being taught in colleges and universities across the western world.

In fact, you are starting to see an increasing number of people in the western world actually suggest that we adopt a 'one-child policy' such as China has. For example, the following is from an opinion piece that appeared in the National Post....

A planetary law, such as China's one-child policy, is the only way to reverse the disastrous global birthrate currently, which is one million births every four days.

The author of the opinion piece believes that such a 'one-child policy' would reduce the global population to 3.43 billion by 2075....

The intelligence behind this is the following:

-If only one child per female was born as of now, the world's population would drop from its current 6.5 billion to 5.5 billion by 2050, according to a study done for scientific academy Vienna Institute of Demography.

-By 2075, there would be 3.43 billion humans on the planet. This would have immediate positive effects on the world's forests, other species, the oceans, atmospheric quality and living standards.

This is the kind of stuff that a lot of these people sit around and think about all day long.

They are obsessed with death and with reducing the population as rapidly as possible. They see us as a 'plague' that is ravaging the planet, and they believe that by getting rid of us they would actually be saving the earth.

Due to public opinion, population control advocates have to tread lightly in the western world. But where they can get away with it, they are not afraid to be very forceful.

I have already discussed the horrific one-child policy in China. As the Epoch Times recently noted, enforcement of this policy can be absolutely brutal....

'Pregnant women lacking birth permits are hunted down like criminals by population planning police in China and forcibly aborted.'

If you don't believe something like this can ever happen in the western world, you might want to think again.

Limitations on child births are already showing up in popular television shows. For example, a new show on Fox called Terra Nova portrays the future of the earth as a living hell due to overpopulation. People in the future can hardly breathe the air due to overwhelming pollution and a strict 'two-child policy' is rigidly enforced.

The family featured in Terra Nova is able to go through a portal to a prehistoric world that is 85 million years in the past. In this 'new world', humans have set up a wonderful new socialist society where everyone is provided for and where 'green technology' is helping them to avoid making the 'mistakes' of the past.

Unfortunately, socialist utopias such as the one portrayed on Terra Nova only exist in works of fiction.

Instead, what happens most of the time in real life is that the 'good intentions' of social planners devolve into absolute tyranny when put into practice.

For example, just check out what a recent National Geographic article said happened when social planners in India tried to aggressively reduce birth rates in India in the 1970s....

The Indian government tried once before to push vasectomies, in the 1970s, when anxiety about the population bomb was at its height. Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and her son Sanjay used state-of-emergency powers to force a dramatic increase in sterilizations. From 1976 to 1977 the number of operations tripled, to more than eight million. Over six million of those were vasectomies. Family planning workers were pressured to meet quotas; in a few states, sterilization became a condition for receiving new housing or other government benefits. In some cases the police simply rounded up poor people and hauled them to sterilization camps.

How would you feel if you were rounded up and hauled off to a sterilization camp?

Sterilization programs (most of the time they are 'voluntary') are in full force all over the globe. Much of the time they are sponsored and funded by the United Nations. The global elite are absolutely obsessed with getting women to have less babies.

That is one reason why abortion is so very important to them.

Recently, Al Gore made the following statement regarding population control....

'One of the things we could do about it is to change the technologies, to put out less of this pollution, to stabilize the population, and one of the principle ways of doing that is to empower and educate girls and women. You have to have ubiquitous availability of fertility management so women can choose how many children have, the spacing of the children.

The elite love to use terms such as 'fertility management' and 'family planning', but what they really intend is for there to be less pregnancies and more abortions so that the population will not grow as quickly.

They certainly do not intend to empower women to have more children.

This agenda was also very much reflected when the March 2009 U.N. Population Division policy brief asked this shocking question....

'What would it take to accelerate fertility decline in the least developed countries? '

Now who in the world gave the UN the right to be trying to 'accelerate fertility decline' for women in poor countries?

But to many in the global elite, trying to get women to have less babies makes all the sense in the world. In a recent editorial for the New York Times entitled 'The Earth Is Full', Thomas L. Friedman made the following statement....

You really do have to wonder whether a few years from now we'll look back at the first decade of the 21st century — when food prices spiked, energy prices soared, world population surged, tornados plowed through cities, floods and droughts set records, populations were displaced and governments were threatened by the confluence of it all — and ask ourselves: What were we thinking? How did we not panic when the evidence was so obvious that we'd crossed some growth/climate/natural resource/population redlines all at once?

These people honestly and truly believe this stuff.

Unfortunately, this agenda is even represented in the highest levels of our own government.

Barack Obama's top science advisor, John P. Holdren, once wrote the following....

'A program of sterilizing women after their second or third child, despite the relatively greater difficulty of the operation than vasectomy, might be easier to implement than trying to sterilize men.

The development of a long-term sterilizing capsule that could be implanted under the skin and removed when pregnancy is desired opens additional possibilities for coercive fertility control. The capsule could be implanted at puberty and might be removable, with official permission, for a limited number of births.'

Holdren also believes that compulsory abortion would be perfectly legal under the U.S. Constitution....

'Indeed, it has been concluded that compulsory population-control laws, even including laws requiring compulsory abortion, could be sustained under the existing Constitution if the population crisis became sufficiently severe to endanger the society.'

The following are 8 more quotes that show the mindset that a lot of these population control advocates have....

#1 Microsoft's Bill Gates....

'The world today has 6.8 billion people. That's heading up to about nine billion. Now if we do a really great job on new vaccines, health care, reproductive health services, we could lower that by perhaps 10 or 15 percent.'

#2 U.S. Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg....

'Frankly I had thought that at the time Roe was decided, there was concern about population growth and particularly growth in populations that we don't want to have too many of.'

#3 David Rockefeller....

'The negative impact of population growth on all of our planetary ecosystems is becoming appallingly evident.'

#4 Jacques Cousteau....

'In order to stabilize world population, we must eliminate 350,000 people per day.'

#5 Prince Phillip, the Duke of Edinburgh....

'If I were reincarnated I would wish to be returned to earth as a killer virus to lower human population levels.'

#6 David Brower, first Executive Director of the Sierra Club....

'Childbearing [should be] a punishable crime against society, unless the parents hold a government license ... All potential parents [should be] required to use contraceptive chemicals, the government issuing antidotes to citizens chosen for childbearing.'

#7 Planned Parenthood Founder Margaret Sanger....

'The most merciful thing that a family does to one of its infant members is to kill it.'

#8 Planned Parenthood Founder Margaret Sanger. Woman, Morality, and Birth Control. New York: New York Publishing Company, 1922. Page 12....

'Birth control must lead ultimately to a cleaner race.'

When you believe that the earth has way too many people, human life becomes cheap, and abortion becomes a way to get rid of undesirables.

According to a recent article in the Daily Mail, thousands of 'abnormal' babies are now being selectively aborted in the UK each year....

Thousands of pregnancies were aborted last year for 'abnormalities' including 500 for Down's syndrome, new figures reveal.

In total, there were 2,290 abortions for medical problems with the foetus, with 147 performed after 24 weeks.

In a world that is 'overpopulated', babies that are not 'perfect' become more 'disposable' than ever.

In fact, the truth is that the population control agenda and the 'abortion rights movement' have been inseparably linked for decades. Those that are obsessed with 'overpopulation' view abortion as a very necessary method of birth control, and one of their main goals is to expand access to 'reproductive health care' to as many women around the globe as possible.

But in the end, our 'voluntary' actions are not going to be nearly enough to reduce the population and most population control advocates realize that. Many of them are openly calling for a 'benevolent' global authority to take charge to lead us through the 'necessary' transition that is ahead.

In a previous article, I described the type of world that the radical population control advocates see for our future....

Imagine going to sleep one night and waking up many years later in a totally different world. In this futuristic world, literally everything you do is tightly monitored and controlled by control freak bureaucrats in the name of 'sustainable development' and with the goal of promoting 'the green agenda'. An international ruling body has centralized global control over all human activity. What you eat, what you drink, where you live, how warm or cold your home can be and how much fuel you can use is determined by them. Anyone that dissents or that tries to rebel against the system is sent off for 're-education'. The human population is 90 percent lower than it is today in this futuristic society, and all remaining humans have been herded into tightly constricted cities which are run much like prisons.

This is the endgame for the radical green agenda. In order to save the earth, they feel as though they must dramatically reduce our numbers and very tightly control our activities.

But is that the kind of a future that anyone would actually want to live in? Would anyone actually choose to live in a future where bureaucrats micromanage our lives for the good of the environment?

Personally, I think that the 7 billion people on earth would do just fine if they were given a lot more liberty and freedom to live their own lives as they see fit.

But letting people decide how to run their own lives is anathema to those that have bought into the population control agenda of the global elite.

They actually believe that they are smarter than all of the rest of us and that they need to tell us what to do for the good of humanity and for the good of the planet.

This patronizing approach should truly sicken all freedom-loving Americans.

So what do you think of the population control agenda of the global elite?

Please feel free to leave a comment with your opinion below....

Kepler Telescope, Not For The Religiously Fanatic

Science is full of theories and breath taking fresh discoveries.
As of today the Kepler telescope has discovered
nearly 1400 hundred new planet's.
With nine being like earth in the goldy lock's zone.

Advanced civilizations can in all probability be able to mask
U.S. from them.

It is doubtful that they would be able to mask their planet's mass from their own sun.
Though this is not impossible.

Avoiding U.S.

now because we still kill each other in war and because we can't shed our inability to rid ourselves of our fanatic religious pegan beliefs and control.

The likely hood of U.S.
destroying ourselves is high due to our inability to control our need to have children.

That one would boggle the mind of any intelligent being and our need to destroy the earth.

Though once we are gone the earth would quickly heal itself.

The only reason that they haven't destroyed U.S. is that all intelligent races with such advanced technology have long since moved past U.S.
Their should only be a few hundred million people on the planet.

Being the brightest and most nonviolent of the human race from U.S. that's available.

A world with no need for militaries, police, politician's lawyer's or corporation's.

A world where successful people are measured by how much knowledge they can return once retained.

Or at least a country where the law's in all fifty state's are the same,

meaning people are treated the same where ever they live.

you went out anyway and painted the town red.

As With Van Gogh Art Work Is

There is no greater color than that for what color is.

Meandering red, yellows, browns rushing into and out of a greater mind than mine, being smart a genius really is.

A snap shot in time, dying young body parts sprayed with a flash of insight only death could properly display.

The colors are a good bowl of cherries where I am and am not certain you can see what I see that I can't.

Left out in the open my position on life is not as yours

but a spring break of colors displayed out in the open with the rich smell of such colors that even you and you can taste.

Tree's with out branches are unlike bushes with out leaves of witch none are green.

The wagging tounge the younger the lips being thick or full when painted red are but a reminder of those other lips rubbed with yellow oil.

Finally the clothes

those rags, rubbed in the dirt of dirty rich dirt that you won't consider much less wear.

Then theirs the flash a flash of bright light left in plain view of the night where you slumber and sleep any way.

Mother's Loss

Memories gather dust my babies gone.
I became, before I left for work.
Before I went to sleep, the feeling came.
Something's wrong I know it, she's not home.
The photograph, the picture I can't bear.
What was done was hate, not love you hear!
She because of beauty's long lost hope.
Someone went to far they took my babies heart.
I but appeal, I have no will and still I must.
I am a Catholic,
not a Baptist and I'll try, I'll have one more.

Dark Angel's

Vibrations,
have you ever been in love.
Yea though they can,
create for you desire a song.
Leaves moving in the warm wind moss hangs from a twig.
At the edge
There hanging off in the heavens above you down below me.
These few are dark and deep,
not unlike a forest filled with tree's.
How can I say hi, if no ones there?
My left hand though it's deformed
a massive thumb,
the middle finger I must kept hidden.
On me such of that, I've had while

Opened up to me, my one good wing is broken.
Trumpets sound around the world it's time for you to listen.
No one knows just what we've done, your eye's

America's Aged And Infirm

Before the Britannic encyclopedia

the Aged who were not afflicted with Complex thoughts written down with words that came alive

in those very same heads that are hollow and empty.
Sadly to some families, they without money are just a burden
to them
and ungreatfull to them for the very lives they gave to them.
Dumped off in nursing homes or A.L.F.$
many without interaction with other people

Unbelievably,

In America A Prison In Georgia

To those whom don't live in America abuse
such as this would seem normal.
To you,
being that America would never do this to it's most vulnerable prisoners.
The systematic torture of vulnerable inmates, immobile tied into chairs.
Under the guise of control.
Georgia of course is a Republican controlled state like Florida where their one hundred thousand prisoners, literally disappear until inside they die or are released, years latter so psychologically damaged, that they do unto society as that which was done unto them.
Is this normal?
Are you normal?
Is this behavior normal to you.
This prisoner in the chair was pepper sprayed and tasered while totally helpless.
Not unlike,
that witch was done to those in GITMO.
When those whom are employed by American southern states, exceeds the crime committed by a prisoner in their possession under their control.
What does that say about you?
When you are their silenced protector.

yourself
as a poet perhaps an artist that hates blood, guts and gore.

As it spreads around you, you have chosen to ignore it chosen to insulate yourself
in that special place where you think you're safe but you're not.

You are filled with fear and like those whom use hostages for shields have been driven like cattle to that certain place where you will be slaughtered.

We only use rubber bullets on you now and lay in wait until it's too late to speak up, then real bullets that eat human flesh will be unleashed on all of you then.

Variables of each other with death in and out.
The scar on Detroit is intended solely for those whom choose not to run and stayed.
We were doomed till the end of the day,
and for that unlike you, I am gone.

Cruz-ing all the neighborhood's

Of Such My Life Once Was

Of Such my life once was although I know that yours was not.
Some how the paint ran through the board's of which I sit against.

The sun shine's down upon an empty shell of me,
and now my love for her I had,
such is my loss.

Now she won't kiss my face before my make up dries, I know I am a mess.
If she should ever wake before I rise, would she remember, what I was.

Night came much to quick for me,
like a candle that's the wind's blown out.
The day before that night, I can't remember what I knew, I know no more.

Rape Is Ugly And Violent

Once I was beautiful
I had friends looking down on what I once was I mustn't unring their bell.

I over heard our priest say that everything happens for a reason.

Once when someone broke into our church and stole our television he said that they needed it worse than U.S.

Before the aftermath, after the water came crashing down on the rock's,
I could not hear the waves.

My mind was crushed, my soul was robbed, robbed of the light and this chocolate body you see,
was once as pure as yours.

Behind Every Bush There's A Tree

She showed U.S. more promise than this,
before he went limp he was wise.
Do not kick up a fuss for me, I left no note.
I shan't come back wait and see.
No more fetching water, no more lies.
It's much to soon for the flies.
I have since drount in this your shallow sea.
Shadow's that move no one's there.
There was no tunnel of light, I could out run.
Sunday's missionaries, the hot burning sun.
Now that I have your attention, look around no one's home.

Politicians, What Are They Thinking

Except for our once unbreakable spirit our laughter is gone.

Republicans,
through fear have set U.S up against one another.

While Democrats,
simply invent strange new laws to put U.S.
in their Harvard think tank prisons.

Millions of brain damaged children born to U.S.
each year.

No educated adult would bring a damaged child into this strange violent world.

The ignorant some how think that if they do this, it will some how like magic, increase their net worth and or make them wealthy?

Sadly their are over forty percent, whom hate Black's, gay's they fight over silly things like a rest room.

Denying that massive corporations have caused premature warming creating new water front property.

The dying oceans filled with new subsonic weapons.

What is pathetic is you talk about love instead of talking about the state of our world.

Voices ignored are your voices unheard, you allowed them to kill your own unborn children.

Capitalism And The Ghetto

Living in poverty men learn to die.
In the hot southern sun,
black children wither like grapes
on the vine.

Most live without any real dream's.
White law enforcement officers line up the men against the red crumbling five and ten cent store walls.

Old faded poster signs haphazardly speak of better days gone long since past.
While further up north,
in the white side of town, I hear them speak about killing all the niggers, eating donuts at Krispy Kreme.

If we could get away with it like they do elsewhere quietly buried under each other,
and no more heard about.
One muttered that the pit no matter how wide or deep would never be deep enough and their flesh under the clay, like newly planted seedlings of old time's past.

And the world would think nothing more of it and the white jury would nullify their murder charges by forgiving them
of their own past transgressions.
And as a reporter,
these are some of my most least desirable job's.

Oblivion

Before the first big bang there was what?
Where were we for four and a half billion year's.
Long before we were born.
The sun is middle aged and what of suicide?
If we must exit this life before it's natural end,
the universe will go on for some trillions of years,
but oblivion will have long since claimed U.S.
Before we learned to move sideways through time.

Living Up To The Dead Poet's Expectations

By my painful bowing, mourning and night has come to all but them.
She then led U.S. on and by passing, he led U.S.through.
Being first, no greater mind's having but by other's set a path marked by death, all to often premature.
And still greatness suffers, known now
as mental illness,
bi- polar mixed with brutal depression.
Stealing from U.S.
as like from them from what could be a peaceful end.
Loving life through the eye's of another not yet born,
to know before birth about their death
and yet, still choosing to be born.
Thrust upon U.S. are certain soul, souls that can see what other's cannot and are again killed by the law of this land their crime being but being born.
Prophets then unlike now we're judged how?
Now being judged by such judge's are they,
whom know very well, whom they kill.
While knowing them all, before they were born and being as such we're children like yours and walked the land.
Sister's and brethren can they by proper use of the word, lead U.S.
like them, down once again to an unjust death?
From the dark we all came, that day never was and being plucked from that night
by our birth's we were thrust into the deep of day.
Being half their age we are old in death is youth.

A Personal Observation

As my dream's grow more insistent and important, I know I am slipping away.
Avoiding eye contact with the others
it's to late for a proper diagnosis.
Bourn out of time I was born to soon,
how long must I wait this time?
I watch what the watched must see,
they do not panic like U.S.
For another to rise another must fall becoming fossil fuel for them.
The roaches are dead the last dog left ran away.

Why Do Gay Boy's Do It Better Than Straight Girls

Being confused by the lack of straight talk, compassion lacking or absent any lingering empathy.
Such are one's feeling's, certain people can't feel when standing out side being burned by the sun.
If in one's wrong hand is a high powered rifle and no one's looking
what would you do?
Which choice would you make, what would you choose?

Knowing they know that no one will hear you?
He couldn't raise his weary head, tounge tied and twisted
she could tell a good story.
Half could not see what the other half said.
Since she couldn't explain how to feel it, he walked away, trying to explain what someone else never said.
Neither could explain what the other one felt.
Being hidden from veiw, would you like to know more?

Teenage Girls In Love

To those teenage girls who love in a man that which they should not.
Plotting and scheming, they gloat over it.
Seeming to feed on it.
And as such they seem well nourished by it.
Throwing their heart's upon stakes they shudder and cling tighter to it with both hands.
Then at night they cry out and come back for more.

The Place That Never Was

All that ever was that is most recently
I have forgotten.
To get past the stuff that has not yet happened,
I know for some not yet here tomorrow is.

I reach out to her,
but only in my sleep, as she I'm watching sleep,
my heart goes out to her.

Strangers in a strange time, she feels stranger here,
someone not so strange that feeling I have here.

Know one but her knows what I know but cannot share.
She See's how full the sky is, a blank slate
that's full of star's.
Bursting into sight is the dawn I've never seen.

My Psychiatrist And Latuda

After more than five years of going to suncoast mental health in Saint Petersburg Florida.

I completed my second full session with her my current psychiatrist.

I have gained over sixty pounds taking seroquel and before that developed breasts taking the dreaded resperdal.

Due to my advanced age of fifty seven
I only wish to spend the few remaining year's that I have pain free.

And of course being able to occasionally contribute to something here.

What is Poetry?

Is it some form of complicated form of writing that must rhyme with someplace that so very few of our young adults have never heard of?

And will never go to as our past and present administration's have pretty much guaranteed that if they do their head's will be separated from their bodies.

Every five minutes she would interjecte that perhaps latuda would get me out of my room where I have spent the last five years of my life.

I told her that I have no real fear of death as must we all,

but that I hold no real interest of Coming back and dealing with those politicians whom even the most least cerebral amongst U.S. now know that they have no interest in helping the people that they lied and schemed to gain power over that they now have.

I told her that I needed no more of the poison that these medications in reality are,
and that these new one's have had no real long term studies that prove what they claim except that the side effects might be death more death and death with more death that you should report to your primary doctor if febleness or stroke occurred that you should have never survived.

You Are Here To Be Eaten By Them

Look around you,
tell me what do you see?
Most are incompetent, incapable of taking care of themselves as they grow more immature.

To feed the machine from birth they've been made.
Are mentally disadvantaged children Simply the by product of other immature rutting children?

The shrinking almost non existent middle class people these children will never come close to.

Their speech is confusing
ur my bff, b4 and phat ho wtf.
Wal-Mart, McDonald's and don't forget Checkers.
Your dead ended future, your past

So go vote for Cruz, go vote for Trump.
Go vote for Hillary, stay in your dump.

For One Lonely Child

Confessions that fell on deaf ears so what if we never owned a bird that could talk back through the year's to state what was true of my fear's.

Except for that one lonely child that every day must watch over my old flame, my untreated bi- polar wife!
Who doesn't know why,
she drink's cheap apple wine by the gallon
every day.

Though in Hernando county it still rains,
the citrus tree's and her rose bushes
I planted have all died.
Love of my life from her sinners life sprang forth love are there no sonnets that have I written that could have covered all of that I have wrote.

She had a soft mouth, two silky hand's with lips that drove me north and without warning drove me south that drove, Google earth up over my house.

Here now where I live a new landlord is here and not a single liquor Store in sight.

The Trumpets Blast And It's Low Sound

She,
no longer needs me.
She,
no longer screams or shouts.

There
are no hands around me.

It's neck is short and fat.
If sleep, is where I'm at.

It's,
only then she over comes me.

While all around the world
the trumpets blow.

Your looking up at Cloudy skies then look again
there now all clear.

So if you die when your asleep inside a bubble that's your home.

Be it good or be it bad that's where You'll stay of this It's sure.
Be careful of what you dream about.
The trumpet blast and it's low sound.

Movements Of The Kiss

Why did we have to kiss like That, and then have to be.
Where did the now time come from, for us, down at the sea.
When that chosen moment arrived for this in our bubble kissed.
What of this space of lavender reflections of melted tongue and lip.
How much can a person take above the sounds of lovely-ness.
There is that measured memory of moving, moving, to the kiss.

The Sum Of All Knowledge

The sum of all knowledge rest's with one's ability to retain it.
A surface that's soft bound to arrange it.
As it was not then,
as it then now is, it never changes.
Governed from above by money changers.
Driven out of one's head by legislative law's, written to stiffen one's anger.
It is not ignorance that changes the weather
nor is it the weather that made men wise.
If loneliness is the lack of relationship with,
living each day with death all around U.S.
I need to be safe, I need home and board,
I need self-esteem with freedom to learn.
Learning from other's their lives I once lived.
No one now can learn it all, the feeling I get is that my head has grown smaller still.
Now is the time we shouldn't remain silent at all.

The Corrupt Politicians Cold Heart

With out life it is cold and know it is hot.
Space not the wind turns my face.
Where does a soul safely sleep and wait?
In a bubble as clear as a lake.
Our fate is the gate that is green!
Few now choose to return not to a world
that's corrupt without hope.
To what end, look to those that would gain at our deaths.
Could they somehow have been told?
Such is the multiverse wrapped up in our fate clutched in the arm's of our distant past.
The near future
consuming the lost light of our youth.
The corrupt politicians how did they know.
Whom were not of this earth and came with trust.
And in possession of this knowledge,
they would without empathy, those with out love would send U.S. back to the void.
Backwards and into the dark and into their hearts hearts that were born without soul's.

Soul Pod's

After nearly twenty six thousand years
the wheel in the sky is nearly turned.
Incarnations, forced to live again.
When there are those so green then they shall go to where we came before.
The firm warm earth a phantom zone
a place to wait and watch.
Where some the gifted few escape to go each night in sleep.
Drifting off,
into the sea a sea of night, that's day.
The color green is best when seen for what it really is.
A healthy soul, a wealthy soul, a soul
that free,
and does not have to start in life again.

Such Bovine Filled With Gas Are As

Those who like the sound of their own voice.
It is but the flammable wind,
that blows from their end not their mouth.
Truth is but a fact,
that is based on empirical evidence, that is an observation by one whom is unbiased to all.
Just as one's inability to render sound judgement, by allowing one to loose their families freedom or life in believing that some benevolent being,
has for you created some non existent after life.
Though the control over you that they have is your prison when theirs from you they have taken.
This planet our Earth will be by U.S. made unsustainable by the need for most to bring more children into poverty and ignorance.
Woe unto you, whom fail to see the simple truth in that.
Nor the desire to make pretty with an open mouthed child, with that open blank look that I see with my eye's.
Adult's such as these,
have against U.S. you and me, committed a terrible crime.
Thus as the water begin's to rise, it is not a flood by your God, but global warming.
Verily unto you I would say, that a pagan must have need for some God, as I, don't mind burning in hell.
And as long as you say that you do they will by your own mouth take what life you give up and then leave.
At no great expense to themselves.

Killing The Innocent Without A Farewell Song

How angry would you be if a drone killed your daughter walking to school.
Would you be angry if someone invaded your country to gain control of your natural resources?
Would you make friends with individuals whom tried to slay everyone not of your ilk?
And not call it Genocide!
Under the guise of creating a vacuum someone worse
they tell you, would accupy.
Such are the time's that we all live in.
Sadly now in America half of the children have been dumbed down which now means.
That when it became acceptable to poison those black children with a few token white's thrown in.
It was then that your humanity slipped away.

If I should die before you where shall I go where shall I wait
all I can do is watch you.

I had lived so long without you before you came and how it was that I lived, was not really living at all.

Then when you came, I realized
my life if without you, wasn't a true life when living my life here without you.

And now to the moon and my love of the sky how beneath the green willow's you opened my eye's to the star's.

your place in the sun a place I could wait

The Criminal Distinction Between Sociopaths And Psychopaths

Being nervous and easily agitated I saw,
a volatile and emotionally distressed individual.
Not excluding fits of deep violent seething rage.
Uneducated and unable to keep a job, living on the fringes of society.
Prone to spontaneous uncontrollable fits of masterbation.

Kidnapping the occasional child or women, on these without empathy, the circular cutting around each soft breast.
Inverting their nipples to draw attention to each master piece.
And the impossibility to form attachments with other people,
that don't share with U.S. a similar taste.

Unplanned, the pretty sociopath has learned to use her good look's and superior intelligence to chose the next man she meet's across town in his bar.
Moving from town to town because of it's large population base.
Through the window of her eyes he mistakingly felt some sort of tie a bond of regret with her soul.

Unable to form any emotional attachments, I could have been that young male, whoms mother as a child did the most god awful thing's, that felt not unreasonably good.
Without a sound, I'd tie her up using her butt plug to keep the ennama tube in, filling her rectum up with warm soapy water.
While laying in the bed made for me, where she slept.

Thus we learned to mimic emotions, and despite our inability to actually harbour or feel them,
we appeared normal to people like you.
Unlike the sociopaths, we psychopaths are often well educated extremely good looking and can hold steady jobs.
Allowing U.S. to support our dark modest fantasies.

Some of U.S. were so good at manipulation and mimicry that our families and our relationships never suspected U.S. of our pure deeper nature.

In my opinion the psychopath is different than the sociopath in this respect.

I believe that the psychopath is the result of nature, perhaps genetic, while sociopaths are more likely the result of the over protective mother, the narcissistic nurturer of his/her environment.

It could be that a psychopath is related to a physiological defect that results in the underdevelopment of certain part of the brain responsible for impulse control and emotions.

Sociopaths could be more likely the product of childhood trauma and physical/emotional abuse.

I can but conclude based on my own childhood, that developing into a sociopath is from that abused childhood learned.

Hence rather than being innate,

and that some of U.S. then can be capable of empathy,

in a certain limited set of circumstances but not in others, and with a few limited individuals, but not with their mother.

Some times in truth our demon's were created when I as a baby was not smothered.

She Was Mean And Very Mentally Ill

I went to pick her up twice after she was backer acted.
I met her as an out patient at directions myself being homeless, living in my car at that time for three year's.
After five months of personal observation, I got the feeling she was bad news.
My personal councillor, Chris Edwards, as so much as to not violate H.I.P.A tried to hint therein as so much.
She was sexually insatiable, liking pain like no other I had ever met.
I do not like pain, I never had, she tried to manipulate me into moving in with her I would not.
She found an old restraining order in my glove compartment unbeknownst to me.
She said I raped her, whereupon I was arrested.
After two month's in jail after their investigation they discovered she had done this to another.
I have never recovered from this, in this time and current course, in as so far that rape has become unrealistically rampant.

Gratitude

Some of U.S. expire before some other's.
Even I now, have a hard time remembering how old I am,
born in nineteen fifty eight.
Elvis Presley,
Humphrey Bogart was my favorite.

Emily Dickinson and Abraham Lincoln they all died before, becoming close to old age.
Poor I am not richer as I age.
To know what makes U.S. richer as we age.

I am grateful to have lasted through a life where I have loved, I'm now alone.
Nothing do we know when very young,
there's no market for the old and what they know.
I picked and chose with whom to have a child for brain's and beauty are to some to never have.

Growing up a Catholic child and through out life
the devil knew the details of that child.
I am full of gratitude now because I know, that there's is nothing after death so I lead my life, as though there's someone watching me as I watched you.

The Visitor!

I railed at them in vain, it was if I spoke to them in some foreign language.
How could I prevail against a charge I did not do?
To my own defense I testified, it was by they proffered.
Locked in a small cell inside the county jail.
Cut down in my prime, cut down like fresh mown Weat.
Furried off to where men wait in Florida on death row.
Here there were no wall's just chain linked fence topped with razor wire, everything moved so slow except my life.
Two life sentences drains the wind from in one's sail's.
Life was cheap and no one cared the guards were just as bad.
I moved from job to job just to be by a window where I could see the fence I could never touch.
Plotting to be free though no one here had ever escaped.
Seeing men stab each other with their flesh I couldn't hide.
Do you see my plight,
how can you begin to understand what you never felt or saw?
I could never understand how on direct appeal the Judge's couldn't see what should have never been.
After seven year's they brought me back and one Judge
she did agree that I was not given a fair trial.
So I said what they wanted to hear and then they let me out.
But the pain inside my head won't go away, I made a child.
What men do to one another proves that there is no God.
Where some inside that fence have long since died.
I've been out for almost twenty year's!
It seems like life.

have evolved and managed to survive.
Crossing infinite bridge's, bridge's built by those other's, benevolent bridge's they built and then left.
I have long since theorized
due to humanities self destructive way's.
Drone's are by them all they will risk.
America has shone an affinity towards making weapon's that can kill the whole world.
Having conquered disease and illimated old age
they can sit back and watch U.S. on T.V.
Common sense would dictate if we can't learn from them
then there are only so many mistakes we have left.
While having more money you can't spend isn't one of them.
Unadvised children and million's of abused adult's will never endear them to U.S. and I don't want to be exterminated by them because of your selfishness and greed.

it's green the dream we can choose, it is real.

Why Should I Care

I am still alive, no thanks to me.
Looking up at tree's that hurt my neck.
Eye's a pasty white how should I look?
Knowing, she has come to my retreat.

There is no more time than what you have.
Giving up on death, she touched my face.
All that time before my birth it left me as.
There is no peace in death, there is no sleep.

Here from where I sit I see them all and if to care not more, but never nothing less.
With the price of real estate the fire shall taste my flesh.
Are you now more lonely than in life, I ever was?

The War On Drug's

I have never lived in Malibu, but the vast majority of alcoholics, and drug addicts suffer from untreated, severe mental illness. Hence these deaths are accepted and they are certain. It's really a war on mental illness. The only logical reason that the billions that are spent on traumatizing them, even more instead of finding the root cause of these social ills is that. What would become of the hundreds of thousands of judges, prosecutions, state's attorneys, prison guards, law enforcement officers, d.e.a. homeland security the list is endless and the billions spent on maintaining them. Now that most local state law enforcement have military grade weapons, to what end unthinkingly for you it is. The punitive damage done to each community is mindbogglingly insane. Now that it's found out that these communities of impoverished people have been poisoned. The only option they will have left is chemical exposure to you the intended sender's sent. Knowing full well that the thinking of these people has been bent inward towards evil ways. And that their socially unacceptable behavior has for you been prearranged. Can they still think, are you thinking for your children?

Owning A Pet In The Ghetto

Coming or going my cat was a smart one climbing up and onto the second floor window.
He didn't for a thrill kill bird's or mice.
Around his neck
he wore his freedom and his freedom I bought for a price.
How did they know where he lived and how did they know my phone number?
Right before he was killed,
sadly I could not afford to bond him out.

The Poisoning Of The Well

I struggled up and out into a world that I knew best.
This island full to full they trudge on past.
Our futures just the same the water's not.
Of what use are our children to U.S. now?
While we slept it reached into our lives.
Look to each a stunted bush their curled up leaves are brown, inside out.
How best if you were them to keep U.S. down?
I have no way to keep and store the acid rain.
No one wants your prayer's as children sleep.
Trusting them to test what we don't have.
Sir: I am poor and being poor, I cannot raise my damaged child and hopeless now, I've more than one.
If I raise my fist, they'll just cut it off.
Thousands upon thousands of brain damaged children will be placed in prison, their foster care.
Mind's once green now brown, will they even know the price they unknown paid?
Hot does a poisoned person think?
The clock slows down and backwards wound and some will never know for them it's now to late.

Holding You I've Held The Night

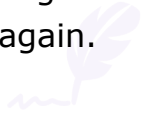

I've filled your heart with pain
this pain, I can't let out.
I've filled your mind with thought's such thought's have gone away.

It has come to pass, all we had is gone
river's flow, straight out to sea, having solved it's mystery.

Holding you, I've held the night each star a my new found friend.
But time for none can be reclaimed,
I've watched them all go out.

The future for U.S. love and pain
I've watched it all play out.
That nothing last forever love, until it comes again.

My Fellow Brothers And Sisters

Here where it's dark, like you I still watch.
Ironic delusions such rich metaphors, I could still use, I shall not.
Millions have come and I have since paid the price.
Now that green summer is gone here where I wait, fall arrives.

Here where it's light, where I deeply sleep scantily covered in green.
Like you I once was, even then I am here like all of you now.
Trapped each night in this desperate dream there where your at.
Where out side looking in through the cold frosted glass, I shall wait.

Heavenly Father for those whom believe and for those whom need prayer and dread the coming of night, sharing your dreams with a stranger.

Sleeping your sleep and as such like a theif, I have come.
As a giant purple moth that flies deep into the light it echoes the past, as to why I am yours and you being great thus as such aren't you mine?

Now here where I speak to those that are dead and breathing each breath the breath of white light that flows out at night from your mouth, and into the breasts of those whom in need have need of their rest.
Out side where it's dark fall has arrived as I shut my eyes winter comes.

James McLain

Die Not If We Must

This isn't love, you still waste time.
Pepper spray that's filled with paint inside each can,
to Mark your dirty face, for latter on.
Fodder to be gunned down like animals in the street.
Muslim haters bark their filth like rabid dog's.
Homophobes that in real life were the gayest of them all.
Christian's disagree with who's head they chopped off first.
To dumb to know that on a registry you are on there next.
What unearthly use does law enforcement have for tank's
if not to use on all of U.S.
Millions spent for maintenance on them all to never use?
While inside out the school's little minds, rot from misuse.
If die you must and die you will what use to them your worthless death's forgot in unknown holes.
Your bodies they would feed to their fat pig's then sell them back to you and charge you more this death you won't escape.
You and I became a terrorist when you fought back, against the rising tide to drown inside your unsafe home.
There is nothing left to take they have it all.
Likened unto days of old there's nothing left to tax.
There is no noble death for U.S. we waste our dying breath.
If we must die, let it be not like some starving hog.
From the air with their technology we are hunted and penned in.
Inside your home you think that you are safe and from above they see inside your house it's now their own domain.
Pitiful poor white's to live will turn a blinded eye to slay the rest so that they can live a guilt free life.
Ten year's ago I would have said you get what you deserve.
Like all the rest they said you gave away, do you feel safe you never will, until they take your child and make them pick.
A choice between their parent's and the state, we've seen before.
Without a gun, can you fight back to save what you don't have.
There is nothing left for you the writing on the toilet wall it says.
There is no toilet paper left,
why don't you save the state some time and kill your self before your children see what time it is.

James McLain

You Will Take What I Can't Have

I've been Alone too long with you, I've lied.
To love you I will love and live and die.
Those other times I take what you will give and giving back you gave what I can't have.

I've placed my head upon your lap and slept, and dreamt of places I have never been.
Above me all around me drifting falling snow,
those knowing of such peace they are too few.

I have never in this life been so alone,
and those who knew are gone to heaven now.
It's just my fear of never letting go and of living with the dead I only wonder what they hide.

Because To Me It's Red

My thoughts on how the road began see the light right through the clouds.
Any other way I passed right by into.
No other color further from my eye's, I saw today it was.
As it fills the air the floor boards groan.
Creaking steps lead up, some red stick's out.
Nothing as it was it's always been.
Backward flowing words that taste of ink and ash.
Something that was often said
can be a little more than once but never twice.
All the year's before your birth it's known are gone.
White is not a rose if it is red the sunlight shows.

..... Maslow's Hierarchy Of Basic Human Needs

Maslow's Hierarchy of Basic Needs

Around the world, people go about doing the same things in very different ways. Although the behaviours of races and cultures are different, the basic needs they are satisfying are very similar. Abraham Maslow is one psychologist who studied these needs.

A great deal of Maslow's work was devoted to how people got the best from themselves. He researched productive, well-balanced and happy people. Initially he studied the famous - like Lincoln- and later the non-famous. He found common characteristics throughout. These were a love of life, creativity, high energy, a sense of humour and good relationships in their lives. People with these characteristics are self-fulfilled. Maslow called them Self-actualised: that is, they are using their full potential.

Maslow found that all human beings have five levels of needs to be satisfied and Self-fulfilled people constantly get all five of these needs met. Maslow saw these needs in a hierarchy; a list of ideas, values or objects from the lowest to the highest.

LEVEL 1: Physical Survival Needs

The first and most basic of all needs are those to do with physical survival. This is the need for food, drink, shelter, sleep and oxygen. If a person cannot satisfy this basic survival need it dominates their interest and concern. A person who is cold, sick or hungry will not be very interested in socialising, learning or working.

LEVEL 2: Physical Safety Needs

Once the physical survival needs are met, a new set of needs emerges. The physical survival needs still exist, but having these needs satisfied regularly, a person becomes aware of the next level of human need - physical safety. This is the need to feel safe in the world: to feel safe from personal danger and threats; being deprived at Level 2 results in fear. When a person is fearful, all concentration goes to calming the fear with no thought for any other task. For a person to develop fully as a human being there must be some freedom from fear of personal attack, particularly in one's own home.

LEVEL 3: Love and Belonging Needs

Once the physical survival and safety needs are being regularly met, a need for love, affection and belonging begin to emerge. Level 3 needs result from the fact that human beings are sociable and need relationships with others. Maslow states: 'The person ... will hunger for affectionate relationships with people in general for a place in the group.'

Some of these needs include:

Family or belonging - the need to belong to a group, family, religion, town or class.

Acceptance and understanding - the need to feel alright and to know that others accept you as you are.

Loving and affection - the need both to get and give love.

Intimacy - the need to share inner thoughts with others in close, caring ways.

People deprived at this level seem bored and joyless, even if they are doing well at their chosen tasks. They have feelings of loneliness, pain, sadness, separation and unworthiness.

LEVEL 4: Self-esteem Needs

With a few exceptions, people in our society have a need to feel of value and to count for something. This is called the need for esteem. It is a degree of self-respect and respect from others. Self-respect includes the need for confidence, achievement, independence and freedom. Respect from others includes recognition, attention and appreciation.

LEVEL 5: Self-fulfilled (Self-actualised)

If the first four needs are being met, a new one will probably develop: the need for self-fulfilment. This is to become more what a person can be: to develop all aspects - physical, social, emotional and spiritual. Among the characteristics of self-fulfilled people is awareness of living, completeness, joyfulness, unforgettable moments or periods of joy, unity and understanding.

Pain Is Colored Emotion On The Wall

Throughout the depths of my emotion's up and down through the stars, counting the steps the color of pain to our blind eye's, inside of a jar with out wall's.

Some turn to death at a very young age, setting fires right before a big rain.
Any good coming from that can't be seen.
Nature to them is a dream.

I am not numb from the cold, before she could ask
I took a knee in the snow.
Look back..
when winter was white what followed was green, struck through and through, through my heart.

Who still here has ignored, ignored sound advice who survived to old age,
while watching the young leaves float away.

Now in the internet age you have chosen to give it your face
the narcissist say's, a choice you have made, a small world
watching you give up on life every day.

Saving them all, a few minutes each day to be the one who could change this cruel world premature, they painted your face on a wall.

Daffodils LI

She didn't mind the great length
or the girth of it.
Bushes without leaves
were not green
and love is and he misses it.
The woods
were not deep without tree's that aren't seen.
While the path that she walked
she chose in his dream.
She dropped what it was that made them grow thick.
Lass tiss, tisnt true.
That daffodils don't bleed white sap
if too soon they are picked.

Clammy And Spent, Death Has Climbed Off Me

So many dead bodies have climbed up on and down off me where my head rests it is wet there and clammy.

The smell of it when plunging deep into sleep feeling by the depth I can taste what I see
as it appeared in my dream.

The \./ I can see, it can not see me other's rested here in death is a dream a dream few have shared.

Low in may lay and while humid it's hot
I can't catch my breath while the red chili hot peppers down my neck they have traveled.

Dead not in death though through the living there not as one after another they climb up and get off.

What If Reality Changed What It Effected

Should he continue to run from them?
or hide,
hide away deep inside of some where else where it's not really dark?

The light, that we see if reality grows show's it smaller and smaller, as I.
In it we turn.....
Learning to go, but we don't.

Pushing to hard, though they grind, grinding, grind, when hope runs out we forget.
What is what, when it was, what I can't seem to forget ever was.
What it was like to as to when it was not!
Inside of the mind of a child.

Word's just can't describe what it is like.
Where as to being found wandering some where else is like being some one else I think for a while.

L Hear Freedom Groan

Freedom groans,
under the weight of it's downtrodden.
Executions,
in Florida may soon come to a stop,
still today, I became again afraid.

I often wonder am I a coward afraid of jail?
Self reporting, self arrest, saying what need's to be said.
I try to ask them all of the questions that makes them hate me.

Without me, I wonder would they still have a job?
The detective hating my word's got up and shook the hand's of two homeless men, turned and said.

These two show respect, while you give U.S.
nothing but grief!
I then said, he wearing a gun, chair's firmly secured to the ground, yet we come
and go.

Convicted felons that don't report to the sheriff's office, are guilty of a third degree felony punishable by up to five year's in prison.

I tripled up on my seroquel because I sweat perfusely and shake uncontrollably when I'm around corrupt individuals whom have the power of life and death over me.

You see,
come May of next year I will have been out of prison for twenty year's.
And since my release I have been jailed

at least twenty time's.

I have spent easily twenty grand on bailbond's

I've lost a multimillion dollar yearly business

my family and home.

While committing no tangible crime inside my state or country.

Now I am old beyond belief and have no real interest in what they will do to you, because you didn't care what they did to me

now that I hear freedom groan.

James McLain

What Is A Prophet

A prophet is any individual whom possessed the genetic ability for precognition.
The ability
when asleep, to see through time into the future.

Before the industrialized revolution life in most cultures, was fundamentally without complication and fairly simple.

Those the most wise of King's and Queen's sought them out for their own personal survival.

Conflicts and arrow's took flight as to what was real power without knowing the outcome of war.

A few countries hid U.S. away to frustrate other countries and to prevent our assassinations.
Now they are considered U.S. a threat and their other precog's now seek them out.

Before they blossom out and up from their bud they are locked up to be violently assaulted by consciousless thugs in our U.S. prison's.

They are then put on very strong mind killing medications, telling you it is some form of A.D.D. or A.D.H.D.

Unable to control them they have discovered
how to strip from these, your unbelievably gifted children, when exposed to violent jail's and head trauma in Prison's.

Overturing A False Conviction In Florida

There is always a motive by law enforcement when some of these individuals are arrested.

Corruption, personal advancement or their inability to find and arrest the real perpetrator. Most often there was no true perpetrator at all.

Pressure on the District Attorney with out a true bill is in these cases not transparent. A dishonest judge will never cure it.

The jury is pooled at the edge's when it's drawn from the stick's where their ignorant.

The defence attorney is then sucked in and their clients are betrayed for their future political benefits.

Egregious are the errors when the case was never proven, where even the jury asked repeatedly for directions. Or the jury is told that they cannot go home unless they come back with a verdict.

Here no layman like you need's to wonder as to what in this instance the verdict will be. The sentence in this single instance will be double life sentences, plus thirty year's.

A motion is filed by the wrongly convicted where he or she has alleged ineffective trial council. It is a two pronged test under Strickland vs Washington where the defendant must show just what the error is and how it affected the outcome of the trial.

Now Only if there's a different honest judge a female judge whom isn't corrupted and here where justice prevails. Whom issue's an order and the order grant's a new trial.

Vacating and setting the sentence's aside.

Does the defendant now plead out after having spent seven year's in Florida's most brutal prison's, expecting a different out come than the one he or she initially received?

The ignorant one's say they would spend the rest of their lives inside of this designed human hell.

Where no one will help you unless you learn their legal language or that God will step up and prove you are innocent.

Today those bible thumpers are still in there where I left them.

James McLain

Have I Become The Consciousness Objector

Through those gates, I have walked both way's Going in my ass so tight that my ass cheeks cramped
A thin sliver of fence was but the difference between the world out there and the next The pain is very real
if the attention of the man if you were caught.

Trying to be a diplomat, secretly playing one side against
The other, the way that the administration play's the White's against the Black's, Sun Tzu then said.
Here where I was, death row is, it's called Raiford across the Street is F.S.P. where they are legally allowed to kill you.

Here where the screaming never stop's, it's a contest of Credibility and it's in the moment of the now where
The truth is at first found out, there are no cat walk's here
And in your mind
It is only as light as it is out side of your cold concret cell.

Out side in the free world
The sodomites bang down our door's to get in Here where the bible can't save you Here where no diplomat's could survive, I have opposed only me
I have in here renounced that which I was and now as they Come in my cell and get me, I am the cross on the gurny and it Is quite when the needle goes in, fighting off sleep I slip in Over my head it is then that the light's have all gone dark.

The First Trial - Before Thing's Went Wrong

In the eye of the true beholder, if beauty is, could justice ever be?
Around the one tree climbing vine's denuded of leave's, shriveled, once green.
Teeth grinding, row after row in-between deep,
the man in the boat, sits up and draws breath.
Toes once curled that now stand out straight.
She the baiter of word's, fearful outbursts manipulated and killed and then dumped on the side of the road with her thinking
other thought's, one of which is he really dead?
Before thing's went wrong the trouble was, just in case any more burglaries occurred that couldn't be solved, it would be best to arrange the out come of any and all, future trials.

Rhino Alert, It's For You

They do this to get the attention of other Republican's and a taste of this to you the other day I gave to you.
Instead of putting our brothers and sisters to work rebuilding our infrastructure.
They would instead start more war's for their oil that we no longer have any use for.
Make no mistake my fellow American's they would kill U.S. all, for what the U.S. has done to them.
And sore are we for the State's that we live in will do unto U.S.
as to what the federal government has done unto them.
And no higher court that in freedom we had will protect U.S. the people from them.
Lost is the dream the dream we once had, the dream that we could rise to the Top, through hard work.
Our economy has now been for a while tied to theirs, people over there or down below U.S. whom will work for next to nothing while the Republican's whom gave U.S. away, talk about social security reductions and welfare reform.
The day before yesterday
I heard Hillery Clinton lie to U.S. when she said the dream isn't dead if you will work for the man very hard.
So I dreamt that I robbed a bank and the money that I got I used to pay off the nursing home bill where my mother stayed.
For the bill they would only take counted silver or gold.
Now the police have some new software that assigns you a value of now how dangerous you are.
As if all the poor murdered soul's could sit up in their grave's and point out their killer's and say.

Putting Lead In America's Drinking Water

If you haven't already begun to wonder why the children in the United State's are beginning to seem not to very swift in the head, perhaps it is time to be more than a little concerned as to why.
As the black population Start's to show their displeasure at being brutally murdered by law enforcement and pressure on them begins to mount.
The next phase in their need to exceed the parameters of maintaining control
is to put lead in your drinking water.
After all
if they can get away with doing it to the white's
then they have free reign to murder the rest.
The effect's on the children that are already not to swift, would of course be devastating.
A much lower I.q.
irreversible neurological brain damage
a greater prolectivity towards committing crime and incarceration.
And U.S. left with voting for some individual who will claim that they will put a stop to the other's that put lead into our already contaminated drinking water.

We are all,
except for a few much to greasy and fat!
Fingers going in, Fingers out.
That's why you can't get laid and your daddy,
touched me and that make's my daddy you.

It is so sad to see how close minded and misinformed the public truly is when it comes to this group of AMERICAN citizens. They have the right to live in peace just the same as anyone else does. The biggest thing you guys seem to forget is the fact that most of these people have family that are being affected by these unconstitutional laws that keep getting past limiting where an AMERICAN citizen can live. I think a lot of you could learn a few things just by looking up some accurate statistics on registered sex offenders. For example rso's have the second lowest recidivism rate topped only by murderers who stay locked up for life. Please do a lil research before making rash judgments about an entire group of people lumped together.

Why don't we tamp down on the hysteria and fear-mongering. First, research shows no correlation at all between where those who commit a crime of this type live and where the victims live- except, of course, for the crimes against children that take place in the victims' homes and are committed by family members, but those individuals are almost certainly not on the registry.

Secondly, if we want to avoid this type of clustering, remove the residency restrictions for those who have completed their sentences. Something else research shows...residency and proximity restrictions do nothing to impede first time offenses, repeat offenses, or the rate of child molestation. Let's lobby for fact and evidence based laws.

We are a society of haters. If it is not one certain group of citizens it is another to either fear or contend. Educate oneself before going into complete hysteria through the media's myths about matters, especially SO related..

Here are a few points to look at and research even further on your own:

- This "cluster" is a byproduct of Sex Offender Residency Restrictions.
- SORRS displace law abiding registered citizens from their communities and separate them from their families, which destabilize them.

Judy Luckey-Cornett, I too am anti-child molester. That is why I advocate for fact-based legislation that will put the focus where it belongs- on the victims. In your position you must know that the tiniest of fractions of child molestation is committed by someone already on the registry. If you are what you say you are, you should be lobbying hard for taking the focus away from a failed system that does nothing to improve child or public safety and for putting it on programs of education and prevention.

Mrs. Barbara Dawson, Your Going To Jail

Blountstown, Florida, Calhoun County.
A County very high on the list in poverty.

Barbara Dawson went to the local emergency room, complaining of internal pain.

After a precursory examination being black,
she was asked by a white nurse to leave.

Unable to articulate the specific nature of her illness,
again she was asked to leave.

Whereupon again she refused it was then law enforcement was called.

Taken out she collapsed,
And repeatedly the white officer said,

Mrs Dawson
you are going to jail.
You can make it easy or hard.

Wherein she was later taken back inside and shortly thereafter she died.

A large blood clot was found in her lung.

Gun Control Start's Here

By a woman or a man are you kissed most favourably there.
Gun manufacturing can start phasing future Gun manufacturing towards semiautomatic's.
Finger print technology can then be programmed to each specific gun to allow one single owner to operate it.
While all future registration's would cooperate around this.
Revolver's would have to be phased out all together.
We have to start somewhere people.
Republican's are just to dangerous to be voted into office anywhere.

The World, The Middle East And U.S.

Having no further need for their oil would you not hate U.S. trying to control now who can get it.
Would it not be in our best interest to now leave them to their very own?
The U.S. now has the technology to commit mass murder with drone's.
Personally if some one dropped a bomb on my house
like you we would try to kill them.
Going to war with China, would be the end of U.S. all.
The U.S. can no longer dictate to other's when and if they choose to buy weapon's of mass destruction from other's.
Iran and Suadi Arabia are being pushed farther apart like Continental drift pushes against U.S.
Cut the budget of the Pentagon by half and use the money to help all of our children reach their full potential.
Unfortunately our civilization is not ready to make that one last leap to the top of the latter.
Sadly the advanced extraterrestrials have chosen to ignore U.S.
After having seen other world's and planets take the path of self destruction and will simply sit and wait until we are dead and gone.
No one likes to be bullied or taken advantage of.

Getting Milked By Hand

Life is not so short nor long,
the farmer's wife, she said.
Wisdom learned, the chicken kept it's head.
His yellow beak, it point's the way
her husband sitting in his rocking chair, is dead.
Dancing maidens,
in their see through frocks, lovely but threadbare.
Milking cows, each wait their morning, turn.
Polished on a dirty floor, the second one calls out.
Lot's of milk sprayed out from them, the cake turned out all right.

Would You Trade Your Life For Mine

Chapter one was that, I confessed only to him and that when I was three, my mum tried to kill me.
Taken away from this cruel world, I just cried.
To which by whom I was sent to live with my dad.
Under investigation for dealing drugs, we were always moving, moving around until.
Hiding from thugs who carried guns, when I turned twelve he was shot.

By now you have guessed, I am black.

Chapter two, the foster home where I was sent to live.
I got put into a mostly all only white camp,
where four month's out of the year I was white.
Being confused I met a girl who liked me she was the boy and I played the girl, she was everything to me he was not.
Where she touched me, I touched her back and she told me two things, that I can be loved or cannot that it's to be seen or not touched.
That it must be felt by the heart and that trust is a mirror and that once it is cracked it can never be broken again.

Chapter three and what you will never see is the light on the pond the rippled reflection,
a picture of you and of me.
I waited one day just to be sure, before I asked her back out.
That very same day before I could say, she shot herself.
Should I still blame my self?
I should have asked her that very same day, I could have saved her.
Now I'm not here very much, so if you want to hear another confession don't reply to this you can text me at..123-456-789-10..

Incarceration Through The Eye's Of Your Guilty Child

I dreamt about this particular iceberg for many year's as a young man
where in and out of prison I was, for a while.
It was big, big in size
if size was big, like only size could be, in Florida.
Abandoned in it, to it a one man cell, placed in it by they.
Passing evil law's designed to keep the other forty seven percent of U.S. all down.
Unable to get a job and or vote the corrupt out of.
Blue as it was,
as blue as the sky, such a big blue, like a marble blue on the clearest of day's the bluest, blue day.
Hearing have I, heard some say to turn our blood into profit.
Polar bears and their mind set and their blood thirsty ways.
Staff unfit guards commuting thirty miles a day to have their way.
Cell extractions in isolation where no widows are allowed to exist.
Justifying it all in claiming their need for control.
While urin stained walls conveyed what they sought.
To render individuals from being able to function or being mentally able.
Glacier blue eye's
where razor wire hides from the top what the bottom will do.
There are no black iceberg's here they are all in prison.
The rationale by the cruel they reason away, that what doesn't kill you will make you stronger.
This system these people know that they prey on the fear of ignorant people,
people that are unqualified to tender up our vote's.
Children to young, born to unfit parent's mental illness not caught early that is latter on triggered.
When people leave prison and after being traumatized cannot function, seeing people raped and brutally murdered.
How can any reasonable individual expect them to function.
While you knowingly condoned and through your silence helped hurt them.
The psychology of your doom is now known to U.S. all.

Her First Furry Friend

Normally she wore camel toe pants, the why never seen unlike.
The plant's in science that wore green.
I could could tell when she showed up wearing that dress and that she hoped he secretly would notice.
Through it I saw and took notice I did.
Seeing I saw
what the silk I looked could not hide.
Knowing those worms had to work very hard.
That what once were twin peaks she now had two more blushing brown eye's.
I blushed at her looks her gaze was for him.
When she hugged him it was then that I knew we could only be friend's.
While all I could do was sit back and watch.
Knowing that a good teacher like him should rise and stand out.

Oink'ka Doodle Do

There is no room left for me.
Over the edge of the trough where it spilled.
And even now, in it up to our necks we still are and vomit and shit fill the trough.

Winter comes and cover's me up, it is harsh.
The wind when it's slicing and cutting,
is made harsher still.
Coming back, back to the scene of the crime guilty are all, here whom still are.
And in spite of it all life goes on.

Pity not those whom sit high in judgement of,
floating above all the rest.
Shedding therein no tears for and eye's that have closed on the way I could never know.

Many are the hand's that reach up, to the low hanging fruit that hangs up.
Fruit that is heavy, soft firm, young and fresh,
fruit that you swore you'd not grow.
Is there time still for me to sell out?

When You Are Not Guilty But Really Aren't

When they come and arrest you and you and put you in jail and you are so embarrassingly poor and you can't make a cheap bond to get out and it's two month's rent and your family might be evicted if they do bond you out and the cop has lied just for revenue and your public defender asks you who do you think the jury will believe and your innocent and you've been in jail for six or seven month's and you live in a fantasy world and you and you say you would stay in jail until you are found not guilty and you can't get out unless you do and remember that jury selection is predicated on only jurors whom have served before and have an unspoken understanding to convict and their lives consists of a life of being Jerry Springer bored and then their verdicts are then so obviously wrong and if you don't take some deal you'll never get out is this to you coercion?

Probation In Florida

Probation is paid for by the probationers.
These individuals pay for services that most do not get and when the probationer is set up to fail where more than half are mentally challenged irreparably damaged
by trauma caused in state prison's and jail's.
When and if released the explosive the violence and damage to the community is very real and predictable.
Where the ignorant public act's against their what's in their best very own interest.
The fact that these individuals can no longer vote is on it's face,
and shows whom our corrupt politician's represent.

The Kingdom Of Knowledge

There is only one way into the kingdom of knowledge.
Question everything!
Avidly read,
you are to read everything that you can get your hand's on.
Ignorance and it's blank stare, can never be dispelled when the light's have never been on.

To survive in this new world,
Stay, I repeat stay in any, Institution of higher learning.
Keep an open mind that the Bible the Koran and Torra were written by primitive men in a primitive time,
where there wasn't any knowledge of time or of space.

The poetry in these book's can never be improved upon.

Before it failed the Kepler telescope had discovered hundred's of planets that could support life.

The Vatican and the Pope, have already spoken to the top best scientific mind's in respect to life in ten or twenty year's being found.

Those of U.S. whom have never learned to understand what's been written and can't read or write are of course amongst U.S. the most vulnerable.
These of course go on to become potential Republican's.
And ignorance, left unchecked will by it's sheer number's eventually overwhelm the light in U.S... ALL.

Here In Florida Is The Fear That Corrupted Republican's Have Invoked

Florida has been under the control of Republican's for more year's than I can count.

No one condones the abuse of children or adults in any capacity.

Jeb Bush started this insane treatment of it's citizens and those of the Trump mentality whom have due to this slippery slope of reading minds and hence turning hateful people against Muslim's.

Opinion's vary but common sense would dictate that no amount of threats to incarcerate pedaphiles would in reality keep them from finding a way to sate their abnormal lusts.

The real solution to solving this problem is simple If a child is molested and of a certainty some are.

That's what life sentences are for.. But.. they must be truly guilty not locked up in jail for so long that an individual would plead to get out because the state in their haste to arrest falsely did so or for no other reason than to avoid legal liability which in Florida is all to common.

After all this is the south and Florida is one of the most corrupt states in the country.

Please keep in mind there are no laws on the books to enforce this.

Below is an example of their inability to govern by reason.

Florida Department of Corrections to Focus on Public Safety and Offender Supervision During Halloween

TALLAHASSEE - To enhance public safety and the safety of Florida's families this Halloween, Florida Department of Corrections' (FDC) probation officers will work with local law enforcement agencies throughout the state to ensure sex offenders under felony supervision do not partake in any Halloween-related activities involving minors.

Unless your Hispanic or Black.

During designated 'trick-or-treat' hours, FDC probation officers will make personal contact and conduct surveillance in local communities. Safety efforts will also include surprise visits by probation officers, multiple residence drive-bys and increased surveillance at motels and treatment facilities that sex offenders use.

Secretary Julie Jones said, 'The FDC Office of Community Corrections' top priority is the safety of Florida's communities. Our officer's increased vigilance and collaboration with local law enforcement will ensure that Florida's children and their parents are able to enjoy a safe and peaceful Halloween.'

In addition to the increased security, sex offenders under supervision have also been given strict instructions regarding their restrictions for the Halloween holiday:

Do not give out candy or other treats.

Turn off porch lights, close blinds.

No outside decorations to attract children.

Do not answer the door to trick-or-treaters.

Do not dress in costumes or masks.

Do not attend Halloween parties where children will be present.

Offenders who do not remain in compliance with the terms of their supervision will be subject to immediate arrest.

###

As Florida's largest state agency, the Department of Corrections employs more than 23,000 employees statewide, incarcerates more than 100,000 inmates and supervises nearly 140,000 offenders in the community.

Welcome to Florida my friends.

wisdom for all.

The Life I Never Asked For

About my life, the reason is not where I live and how crank control's my mother and her life.

in the living room
theirs no one but D.C.F. for me to talk to.

Besides of being accused by them of betrayal and for obvious reason's that's why I won't, I was told my dad got killed in Afghanistan
I never saw him.

I never touched drugs.
Other's say they never will.
Tonight, my mom and brother are going to go to jail.
And I again will be left, alone.

So as I sit here, hungry and freezing, wishing someone could come and save me
I realize I'm on my own and nobody's is coming here to save me.

I'm afraid that my creative juice's have dried up.

Merry Christmas.

Why Am I Too Young To Be A Lesbian

Why am I thought to be too young to be a lesbian.
Outside my window wrist thick vines grow on trees.
It's said by them that I have a learning disorder.
I think my mind from the trauma is damaged.
Why am I lonely, oh so very lonely.
The bushes I grow have very few leaves.
I am too young to buy a vibrator, I tried.
I have social anxieties how I sweat, that causes me stress and regret.
Is bulimia an eating disorder.
I ate a red apple and now I've eaten too much.
My family is dysfunctional,
and my home everywhere is infested with fleas.
I fear for my life, and living each day grows more painful.
It's a big struggle just to get up in the morning.

Are We Just Construct's In Some Child's Quantum Computer

None of what you believe is by true intelligence believed.
Trapped in one universe just one of many Trillion's of Trillion's.
All that is known about visible mass makes up barley four point three percent of what can be seen.
Where Albert Einstein hated the concept's of black holes.
He just shrugged and said it was anti-nature.
Though now all the mass in our universe has been weighted.
As billions of galaxy's move from U.S. onward out faster
the milky way will be all alone.
Though the Andromeda galaxy will colide with our own becoming a spiral.
These observations are now carved in stone, being prepared is forewarned.
Life off our planet will soon be found this to those much smarter than me make the rest of U.S. seem like fleas.
Over seven year's ago the Vatican called for the best scientists in the world to advise them on how to best deal Religions don't hold a monopoly on our doing what's right.

Sticking with this illogical belief in religion will only hold humanity back.
Intelligence is the 'all'
without educating the children to be like their parent's they are doomed.
Raising a child to believe that being ignorant like their parent's should be a crime.
You only have to see what they watch on t.v. to realize their only dumbing them down.
Where they will end up in a Republican owned for profit prison.
Why are stupid people allowed to breed with other stupid people is topic for a different discussion.
So don't get your panties in a Knott it's done with every other

The Rod Of God

Minus two weeks I spoke to the day seven years ago about
The Rod From God.

As it by me was left in my haste then gifted unto you.
From my mind to the pen, many are such as these gifts
I gave unto you.

Portents of man by man that man has in having had yet done that have to the rest come to pass and at great expence to most in the world that two but a few have ignored.

Without their once soft green leaves tall Willow's now droop changing the way that night and day is perceived by the spring though it is now winter where it comes.

And still time marche's on not skipping nor retreats retreats to that time right before.

They have come and they have gone so many times yet before time like the wheel

the wheel that shan't stop but for with except and for whom it shall be understood are it's goals.

Nothing have they changed by for whom it was written so far back in the past and as of yet today that even now is currently changing.

There has never been a safe way to the end by those few whom would lead U.S. to the end the end of the road that no one knows that is known but by them.

To what end is a verse from whence a verse comes if the meek in the verse have since gone.

To the weakest are the strong where the strongest have come to lay waste to the fields you have sown.

filled with the occasional bush and sleeping with a red tipped daffodil.

Imposing Christian Value's On Muslim's

Looming ahead of U.S. is our Theocracy of our American government's prohibition of beheading Muslim's on American soil.
Though there are countless Christian's whom if they could would most certainly do it.
A data base that would show where any American kept by the State or the Government lives with in our American border's.
Then Florida's Jeb Bush and now Donald Trump would appeal to the hate of these backward thinking American's allowing such hate to manifest it self in such a way as did that of Adolf Hitler.
There is absolutely no way to know what anyone in the future will do or what they will think in respect to hate or the taking of lives of our fellow Americans.
By the allowing of one group of Americans to be placed in a data base creates the illusion that it would be done for only as long as such abuse would be needed.
Fearing the ignorant the uneducated the inbred that in America make up a significant percentage of it's population and should be treated in reality as would the measles the mumps or small pox or any other deadly disease that would decimate a population when it is left untreated.
Expoucing such fear and hate from evil people is all it reality is.

Hate Is Not Our All

Hate is not our all: fired bullet's through the breasts
Though they rig election's and dare to look you in the face;
Saying it's not so, then they kill you in your sleep
Do not stop your writing or you know they will have won;
Knowing that they can not love, they teach U.S. all to hate
They let you have a child or two, then put them all in jail;
Could they tell U.S. but the truth, not sacrifice U.S. all Devil's making friends with those who'd leave U.S. in the dark;
Knowing that we get one life then tell U.S. there's a God
Where one stand's two stood before three can not tell a lie;
Death makes deals with only those whom can not stand the light Vacuums come and go with those whom do it all again;
Selling hate not love around the world they like your pain
Then war not peace a peaceful world by U.S. can not in our life be;

Let's Explore Radicalism

What makes them want to kill U.S.

Is it that the U.S. for over fifty years has taken advantage of other countries natural resources?

The U.S. calls it national security.

Thirty thousand suicides in America every year.

Yesterday it was suicide by cop after they killed forteen and wounded seventeen more.

As I have pointed out in other musings, until the U.S. starts to address the chronically mentally ill and because law enforcement arrests these unfortunate individuals by the hundreds of thousand's every year and in most of these that are arrested they are brutalized even more, the U.S. can expect this situation to continue to grow worse.

Such is the case for example here in Florida where so many of our politicians are them selves severely mentally ill.
Corrupt beyond belief as such an example take what is going on in Chicago.

Multiply this type of corruption by ten when you are in the South.
No one likes to be abused and yet they continue to abuse U.S.
You don't see black people doing this in the U.S. ever wonder why?
Black on Black you say it doesn't count!
White's though go postal, so much more, so much more often.

Why?

What should the U.S. do?

Why does law enforcement brutalize the mentally ill.

Why does law enforcement expect the mentally ill to comply to voice commands that they scream out at them?

Why does law enforcement have military equipment they shouldn't ever have?

Half of our children will grow up to be disfunctional due to nothing else than law enforcement and the Judge's need to place them in the system.

Muslims that are considered radicalised by the U.S. do not have the ability to comprehend such an irrational concept's and that by wherein the U.S. would with such premeditation and aforethought destroy the lives of our young.

Just to create job's for prison guards that are barely one stept above being prisoner's themselves.

When have we had enough short of being one of those they kill?

James McLain

In The Blink Of An Eye They'll Be Gone

Those were a long seven years that I spent in solitary confinement where I spent the best part of my young life masterbating deep in thought, I thought why should I care if they don't why do some people bring children into a poverty trapped life miserable with no way out hungry green bottle flies laying their egg's buzzing around their open blank eyes with no hope of receiving any education no more than ignorant cattle with little or no value other than to provide more money to those that don't need it how can there be any real hope for U.S. I think as I sink further into a deep ocean of apathy having said this I think that perspectives on this will never change as people finish killing what was once a beautiful planet knowing now
why our creator's no longer care or have tea or come to vist with U.S. any more.

Hope Once Great Has Failed

Hope once great has failed
The hand I see is bare Each tounge I hear no matter where Such witnessed who have seen.

Grace and hope has made
What all were meant to have
For if you were to know your fate
Your fate you'd never have.

Thus all my life has come to naught
And sadly summer's gone
Once young my aging mind
Poor sight, my loves the leaves are gone
Upon the ground are blond.

Where bushes once hid trees
That opened to the sun
To the carpenters and gardeners
Hope once great has failed.

Like Hitler - Mr.Trump - Cruz And Bush

In the beginning there have been the likes of Hitler
Bush
when then the Governor of the great State of Florida through the people's ignorance played on the fear of the uneducated people.
Started our failed notorious sex offender data base.
Just to create more job's for unneeded law enforcement.
Through his Assertion that there was a pedophile behind every leafless bush waiting to snatch up Jerry Springer's white trash plain ugly thug wanna be children.
Trump plain to all now represents that very same Evil just as the unstable Hitler did.
By forcing the registration of any one who is not a Muslim hating Christian.
All that ever was and all that has yet to be started with an explosion of mass about the size of a single grain of sand and you the most intolrent of Christian's it seems disagree.
Cruz is deceptively intelligent and his views are as backward as are the eddy's of deep black water that is dangerous and your fear's are his tears that he happily shed's when through your fear he's made happy.
Thus are you the Republican's that represent their internal belief's.
You are the racist, homophobic's that agree with the police and their killings such as here in the U.S. are the forty seven percent that Mic Romney spoke of.
As the suicidal maniac's of today commit more tragic killings.

James McLain

The N.S.A. And What You Need To Know

Does your Android camera come on by it's self?

Do the ignorant know what they have done by allowing the corrupt politicians to create a data base that made one in three hundred Americans sex offenders?

Next it will be the mentally ill that are placed in it not unlike what Hitler did and then the mentally ill will not seek out the care that they need because of it.

Imagine if just a fraction of those thirty thousand Americans whom kill themselves every year decided to kill as many of U.S. as they could because of unrighted wrongs and their inability to articulate what unto them that was done.

A data base for Muslims and the Evil that self proclaimed Christians whom profess to love their brothers like unto themselves but think that by harming them by such an act that what is not normal really is.

Intelligence is the ability to change one's point of view after having what are the truth's when brought to one's attention.

Using all of the Earth's resource's while putting nothing back is normal to those whom believe that they can get off of the planet while leaving the other ninty nine percent of U.S.

whom are oppressed behind to face their wrong doings here.

Imagine that there is an ice cube on a flat plate that is kept frozen in front of you.

It occupies only the space beneath upon which it sits, right?

Now where does the water go when the ice cube melts.

Forty seven percent whom are the Republicans would force their willfull ignorance upon you about this, am I wrong?

Eye It's Why I Loved A Good Milking

Because she knows as I no naught

And you knew naught

Chirping cricket's that hide, what they yearned to say all knowing calling out rubbing wing's speak her name.
Bright lightning

Two Teenage Girls Talking

Opposites attract as to friends as one pushes the other one always pulls.

One likes to eat depression was a flower always in bloom when open roses could.

The other she ceaselessly talks about staying slim hoping that no one can tell she's bulimic.

High school for one is just an escape from all the dreaming she always dreamt that her childhood wasn't.

The love of life all the kind words that her only friend share's with only her.

For both boys come and go neither will give up what they want.

Deep are the woods filled with trees nature is underneath are young bush's without their green leaves.

They walk a path that splits few can see winding trails for these two that shouldn't be.

Counting each star one clings to the night never knowing just where things went wrong.

Men Love War And It's Hate

Men love war and it's heart filled hate it let's men pick a side any side two will pick the wrong side not to the simple does one hate.
What comes now, now what will come are those whom profess that they are what there not that they are what a Christian is not.
To me the only way to prove that you are what you are is to set the example in you that is free.
War is War and Hate is Hate only cowards think there is some faith based way out.
Death is Death and the biggest crime is all any of U.S. get is one life.

Yes To Syrian Refugees

Without becoming a Gun toting police state
in Florida

where I live, it already is.

In the U.S.

most if not all criminals plan their crimes with the expectation of getting away with what they've done.

In the U.S.

over thirty five thousand people every year take their own lives

many first take the life of a loved one dying of cancer

in the U.S. it is called a murder, suicide.

Taking their own life as to being sent to prison for what is left of their short lives, such backward thinking to death really is.

What if just fifty of these people choose to kill as many people as they could because so many corrupt politicians will not address such a basic fundamental question.

The issue is not can someone from outside the U.S. come in and kill U.S.

The question every hard heart, without Cristian values and their inaility to lead what should be.

Why would a sound mind being when in possession of a healthy body be forced to live in hopeless poverty be expected to see, being subjected to the corrupt politicians who claim to be.

Christians whom just like I.S.I.S. would keep the rest of U.S.
without progress to live in their own minds their stone age.

Their endless need of having advanced technology to kill as many of U.S. if they feel threatened by outside thinking.

When they banned from the library of mice and men and of course the catcher in the rye.

While claiming to be in possession of those of whom would allow this his bread and of blood wine their blessing.

An open heart and being of sound judgement, grace, healthy minds should prevail and decree that ignorance can never be part of such as those their final Solution.

Suicide Is Hard To Stop

We are here
and you are there deep water
I have crossed and it has left me scared.
Soon they will come but this you know the words
they've spoken loud and clear.
We have heard and trust is trusting them to save your lives.
A circle is not round if your left out.
And love well it can't come if hate is all there is that were about.
Suicide is hard to stop when in America
we won't even try.
Until we learn to understand that death to one is death to all then death it will prevail.

Her Baby's Arm Holds A Red Apple

There is so much low hanging fruit there out in the orchard large fuzzy peaches and brown furry pears.

Olives that grow without pits and a sea of seedless pomegranates.

A transgender ask a strange child what is a normal question, and Jesus said.

There is more light after the sun goes down and the moon without question is not always full with a bright smile on it's face.

Above her head sits a large apple the skinny green vines full of grapes.

No purple juice gushed forth from the grapes that were squeezed.

Here woman sit on fat heads as they watch the rain fall up to their knees

my version of all that we see as the oceans let go of white foam.

Such healthy girls that are born out of wedlock to large virgin men.

Every body races on out to surround an isolated island.

Subsequently her eyes that cried fat free yellow milk and after grabbing my arm the blame was attributed to the stars.

Every one that could not be there liked the pie quite a lot.

On These Far Shores

As to why they come to our far shores,
no one tells U.S. why that some must die.
If we do not keep our brothers down,
our sisters then can show their children how.

Do not blame a God for what you will not do,
that is not right.
When a God is all that you will give the poor to feed their hungry souls.

A person that will take your life that takes their own would end the world.
Such hate can only end when those whom won't can show them how.

Death Has The Most To Gain

When death is the truth and by them, we are kept in the dark never knowing what I've known in one life was but my very small part.
Then I've known it's true measure ever more fully, even as I am unknown.
No one cares about your old mother, your father long ago died in their jails.
Yea though in thought your unthinking children by them caught taught by you in their steel toothed traps having been set where only the blind knowing their place would not tread.
What you have learned no teacher taught futile is your fight against their grinding machine designed by the weak you think of them strong with no place in their world good money you paid to keep you all down never to know your true place here comes new painfull ways to die their slow deaths having the gall to ask it of you to please die a little more quickly.
Should you not know that by closing your eyes that those white haired old white men that lived off your lives and have deemed your lives insignifacate and your deaths are legal and quick and humain.

What I Think When I Dream

Even in sleep I must think up to the edge of before I fall over into some places where when awake I would state
I would like to believe I belong to.
Oddy enough when they give me a chance
I steal the most trivial of things.
Always in the second person not in the first when so many people in their only life steal things they don't need from hotel rooms.
I still believe that a mind must still work in sleep
I am sad that the vast majority of people whom sleep sleep the sleep of the dead.
The dead don't dream when awake.
Deep are the depths of the soul unlike some well where mindless horses cows and people there drink deep.
Forgotten by them are the gods time forever lost never given back our own universe is but like a small grape on an infinite vine one grape in an infinite cluster lost to time.
We are the ant to an ant looking down on an ant that sees more ants looking down at more ants.
I go to pick some more grapes when I sleep hoping to be picked in my dreams dreams that I make dreams I think out dreams where I live what I think to dream one last dream before my lights are put out dreaming the dreams I think about.

Lippy Girls

Come with me where the sky is the colour of standing in the shade darker than light the sun on your skin lippy girls may be black and or brown, purple and pink kissing, nibbling, tugging, stroking or licking moist with extracellular fluid when with a deep seated practice of gentle stretching a sleepy guilt filled sigh.

Sad Transparent Eyes

From the branch of each tree it was time it daily flew each child with sunlight struggled on and grew.
In youth my needs like yours were known and few
it was nothing else but pain and trauma, trauma knew.
Inward looking out the child we were we knew that what we saw and felt was plain to all of those whom said before we felt their hate on U.S.
Could the truth be told and love was not the feeling that a child before should know?
A centered child knows where the sun will set and north is to the right not left of it.
Should we love them both or one above the other knowing now that we know they know that we now know just what they did.
Some few of you because you fear that what they did to you, is why you never had a child.
The cycle they were in but could not break because one drank the other doing drugs and so the cause of it the it of tears the it of things that should have been but never came to pass.
Most blamed it on the ghetto where they live or the middle class the children of those parents always gone because divorced you bounced from one and then the other.
The numbness nothing felt and so you cut you sliced your self and mom and dad to you don't seem to care.
Or mom screams and yells and you throw up the binge eating and the purges make you think how good you look but really don't.
While you and you have sex with dad because you feel you can not trust your the world but it's your delve.
All of this and more is yet to come transparent eyes.

Onward men of faith push forward through the mirror past the gate.

No myriad of words can they pronounce but stumble on the well worn stones set by others in their way

Art thou my face when see by all and bared each line no ink nor Quill can from you take away.

Opened up the gate such is the likes the never ending flood that comes some few have left that way.

As the faith of men and women to when measured,
in the shallow depths that keeps what comes their way.

Unable To Think Things Out

The psychological quackery mumbo jumbo of it is that some one else with a degree in it with out an education in it is not the same as being directed by some one else unqualified with the same hidden agenda.

Neither are the same as Jerry Sandusky's penchant for those young soft blond juicy Oscar Myer Weiner's that do more harm than good.

Spunk in is spunk out right?

With one in three hundred and forty of U.S.

to date being on the sex offender registry and that one in six with no shortage in mass shooters now

may be meeting some criteria as to being your being mentally I'll means that you will give away your rights and never get them back unlike what was done by taking the double jeopardized rights away from one group of people like that which the misinformed has been for over ten years to them done.

Unable to think ahead like a good chess player and the sad fact is that the vast majority of the U.S. people not being qualified could not see what lies ahead and sadly such adults never could.

Most of our children beneath the age of twenty five say that being forced to learn is to arduous and how it all hurts their heads as their misinformed parents say they heard it some where and look around for the party of the second part to care for these unwanted children when the party of the first part had these children just for the sex of it.

Not just for an increase in their food stamps and medical benefits.

More Than One Sixth Of U.S. Here Are Mentally Ill

As America is driven backwards toward's the Third Reich.

Whom do we blame?

Through the harvesting of fetal organ's the rich will never die.

Those here that submit the most poetry will not admit that they have no real life... so I will.

All of those whom have been arrested or received a traffic violation in Pinellas County Florida

have their addresses posted on the top left hand corner of every internet posted Court Document.

Creating new victims being able to be stalked by real monster's.

There are now seven hundred fifty thousand registered sex offenders
in the U.S.

with no distinction as to if they really are sex offenders.

In two thousand twelve there were over three hundred thousand severely mentally ill people put into U.S. prison's.

The crooked and bent chairs that you see on those C.O.P.- t.v. shows are used on the mentally I'll by thousands of abusive guards every day.

These people were unable to function before there imprisonment and as a result

were made even more vulnerable to psychological trauma consisting of being raped and assaulted by other prisoner's and staff and left to fend for them selves when released and as a result they are rearrested and traumatized even worse with every new arrest until they are dead.

I cringe when I see this if you don't you need your mind checked out.

Your mental health records are now being used against all of you and your children.

Combed over and gone through creating jobs for new branches of law enforcement

all of you now are all potential mass shooters.

Your stigma's will be treated by them all the same and you will be treated like the new genetic monsters and defects that by them we are not all because of your inability to think while sliding down backwards on their well maintained slippery slope.

All of your poems

will be considered texts and saved for future evaluation by the N.S.A.

and local state and federal law enforcement because of you being considered a future threat to all of them.

Gun Death's (A Tribute To The Fallen)

Waking up to each new day, seeking change.
Changing our selves through school.
Leaving our homes where ever we live, we live out our lives through change.
Why should our numbers continue to grow?
Tree's without leaves without what they need can not sand up straight to the sky.
Every day one is born, what have we done to die.
Making since of strange winds damaged minds that we find ignoring the signs that all see.
Now mothers have lost what fathers should not children to young for this sleep.
How can we count all these leaves, bushes that face to the east.
Is it all that is just to share what all the we must
in the hopes what is wrong can be fixed.
Many are discharged from the military each year and no mental health reasons are written down while no follow up is done for these men.
They then become what all fear estranged from what most of U.S. hold dear.
Other become prion guards while other's become local Cops.
The rest of U.S. because of their political beliefs are gun downed in a spray of gun fire.

She Now Knows He Is Tired

and now you're afraid..
He is..tired...
His heart..

With one smile....

Night's of love..
See the moon how it shined..
away from the sun....
Spinning around.. face to face..

Now that his shadow.. is lost
Lost..now and..forever..
He's left..without..love..
and the sun that once shined..
God's love lass..and yes..
love is gone...
now he's tired...

Syrians And Their Mad Rush To Live

They are the many not unlike U.S. whom in their rush try to cling to what most here have taken for granted.

Philosophy giants thinkers not tyrant's that wish to give to U.S.
so much more than many here have in their lives to U.S. ever given.

Hope is not a life lived in quite desperation and love is not the loss of what makes up humanity.

Talking heads that give no legitimate thought out ahead reasons where to many of U.S. here life is cheap.

The proof here is all the man hunts that you watch
while they have seen this coming for many years and have done nothing to change it.

Children that are forced to think like adults and sadly hence make better choices that are as clear as the living water none here ever drink of.

While most adults here in the U.S. have no clear picture of where it was that they came from and hence have no clear thought to where it is that they are nor where it is they are going.

Some Can Go There With Out Dying

Some have gone there with out dying and even fewer spend more time here, leaving death behind them.
Moving towards them where I had come from, others saw me.
Chaos below me I am watching people dying.
Moving out of their way are animals and plants left behind me.
Like before when I moved among them most wore no clothing made from light made from their living memory.
Here where even now there are those waiting to die that cling to old God's.
God's that speak if when they spoke would speak to you about where to go and where to stay taking turns free from pain.
All came from the light not from dark about tomorrow will it be not some thing else where all will come even there are different hued beings

Using A Public Platform To Preach

People with out the gift of original thought and must use a public platform to never engage but to preach.
Wasting so much of humanity's time.
Having already read what they've preach over time.
Thoughts of that witch was written over the course of thousands of years by all whom contributed to the Bible, Koran or the Tora, can not be rewritten by those whom currently think that we whom can read thinking that we haven't.
When all here whom are literate have read these great books and know that this knowledge that falls on our ears would best be spent on those whom can not read or write.
Preaching to the quire is a great waste of time being to much of a coward to go forth and preach to those whom are-I.S.I.S. over there.
With a few swift cuts to your neck
they would send you to your God and that's why you stay over here.
Those whom inherently seek knowledge through a long life or short they all have.
No true evolution can be made trying to say what is false when it was not true.
The real fear of those whom can think is that those whom can not will force U.S.
back into the stone age.
Where with out science most of them would be dead any way.
The great intellectuals back then only did out of genuine fear of the haters and of setting humanity back hundreds of years.
Ignorance truly begets ignorance and sadly

all that is known of these people is that they were a plan led astray to be made less of the plan than their parent's never were.
There is no slant or new twist on all the old wisdom
where the copy right has long since expired.

Eugenics

When governments wanted some thing better scholars, soldiers
many countries in the recent past tried to improve them.
the U.S. and Great Britain were no different.
True racism by they put aside encouraged the dim witted the genetically flawed by force that moved villages whilst tearing families apart accused of inbreeding.
Sterilization, mental illness, people whom scored low on intelligence tests common thugs, those whom relied upon violence to take what belonged to another.
Marriage prohibitions and forced sterilization of people deemed unfit for reproduction
while Sweden and the US, still practice it.
Some supporters only argument to it's implementation is that by the use of eugenics policies is that regardless of whether 'negative' or 'positive' policies are used,
you are vulnerable to abuse
as your selection would be determined by whichever Political group is currently in political power.
Millions of voters have for years voted for those Laws That Are Just, What Are They

In all of nature and when once it was natural when unlike nature now there is no longer that internal inclination born into what is practiced by those few if it's not in the parents at birth and the need to enforce what is internally just to U.S. all

When one sits above U.S.
one needs not have to explain that to reproduce these children and raise the new born offspring with out the need to say that children need food, clothing and shelter and to better our society by providing for all a comprehensive education to better propagate a thriving community that we all live in.

Though with proper warning when reason has fled and logic with sound judgement must dictate that these children should not bear more children where such children by they are not by these children uncared for so it is arranged in advance that upon their majority that they all must be placed in our violent U.S. prisons.

Internal discernment with out the need for speech to each other a precept we have to shun all whom are ignorant and whom wish not to learn but prey on his sister or brother with out the need to offend, where one has to live unknown to each other that those few whom try must all fail because of a system that is designed for those whom due to poor breeding will fail.

When with so many now there's no turning back the hands of the clock and hence reason fails and to many are born with out that internal compass due to genetic defect or simple neglect and or by unknowledgeable parents when bringing forth empty vessels that can not be filled nor can not keep or learn from external knowledge then care for them by the just should be a must with out the need for a law by them that provided prisons for.

Thus in the dark where no light can ever subdue them that they with out speech
you know to be evil whom move in the dark while casting forth no discernible shadow that live unjust lives while possessing the knowledge between what is right and that witch is wrong
thus the need for speech when as it is with the just and by their moving tongue
by their very need you must tell them.

Such are these evil men there down below you breeding even more and such women that when you put them away let them make no more children
but not unlike a child should people whom are wise then for political gain thus abuse them.

Loving Cats

Wearing a bra that I didn't buy she wears my boxers.
The panties I bought that she latter found she thought they belonged to another.
From coast to coast even around the equator.
She bought my shoes I wore her socks multicolored square with diamond's, they are Argyll.
Most of the cloths we both bought could be worn by the other.
Latter diagnosed we both were one being a man the other a woman.
She likes milking the cows, while I like stalking the cougar's.
Living on the edge I back her up
we live in round rooms with out corners.

Behind The Green Bush Where I Wait

I see her face behind the green bush
her teeth are white she is smiling.
Humid it's hot I am sweating.
These are the trees here
moss hangs like a beard over head
the limbs are thick and gnarly.
Some are short and some are long arms open wide won't fit around it.
In the shade here where I wait where we keep our hidden secrets.
Over the bank our feet hang
the water is cool and fast moving.
Seeking relief our lips meet in the middle.
Knowing that soon we must leave.
Today we have come tomorrow must wait tonight is too long
it is late.

I Don'T Want To Die Like Other Poet's

Without a tether lost in space and why it is they can't see me.
Each sentence I write runs on and on I've been afraid of the dark since my childhood.
Living in the far south
I don't have a gas stove to stick my head in.
Looking ahead like a horse I plod on.
No house or a car
inside a garage theres no hose that runs from the exhaust through the window
I've heard others turned true blue cyanotic.
Having never cut my wrists
I have always hatted that kind of attention.
The strange smell of hemp how far does one go when you drop through air and they cut you down while still alive and embarrassed what do you say?
In back of the head there is padding for that single shot from a rifle or a hand gun that leaves a red and pink mess I have seen it.
Walking into the sea
once again in the womb how'd I breath it before?
Take your pick poet's have never been very imaginative
in how to take their own life while even in death waiting their turn like any other poet that was ever able to over come what was tragic.

Precognition

Growing up in Tampa,
I chased and caught every thing that moved.
Selling rattle snakes to the ice cream man for two dollars a foot
at eight and nine I kept the money.
I had many mouths to feed.
Unknown to me I heard more than one voice in my head.
Whoa unto me if I didn't listen.
Latter growing up I kept it secret
those childhood shrinks were mercyleless.
In my forties I participated in a sleep study in Hernando County Florida.
Midway through I woke up screaming about tornadoes.
The news the next day reported that dozens of people had died the night before, again, I kept quite.
Then in December of two thousand and five
I dremp that off the coast of Miami
a wing had fallen off of a plane.
It happened as I had dreamed it, all on board had died.
Now even all the medication I used to quell
these dreams, now don't seem to work.
People such as this unlike in the bible are not received in their own country in spite of how it's hidden, others here can tell.
Despite the screaming.
Hear about my nightmares then forget them.

Green Light, Then It Races On

The leaves in the fall do not fall-falling there.
Memory's people loose can't be found.
To many have gone here even fewer will stay.
Trees with deep roots won't grow in the dark.
Though one bush keeps it's shape in the light.
How ever thick are the clouds that we face,
the round moon can't be seen being blind.
Am I a mind with out sound or shape?
When deep in sleep how best to remember all that I've seen written down.
I can not shape what I feel-feeling I touch
what I've found,
if when awake when in life you slept on.
What did you leave to be found?
What is a dream-dreaming on-on a dream that white river is long-long if it is.
In only one life to how do we know it is long.
The bright light that is green just moves on.

I pass between rocks that aren't seen.
An easier course with out thought

Being near what was said-I stood

Those That Are Out Of Touch With Reality

You say your from here but your not.
It sure isn't love that is killing U.S.
sadly this you all know.
They must go-go they must but you are not feeling this much I know.
Even though your not black or white being poor
in the ghetto quite near you are there.
Unable to tap out there is fear.
When the guns are all gone what of theirs?
Autumn comes there is pain-pain is there.
The trivial words that most write-writing
those that write here.
Those that are oblivious to all of that that goes on around you.
If you want to be read write something real no one that's here reads what you write except U.S.
so write something real that all feel.

Some Of What Goes On Currently In Florida Prisons

Mark Joiner was roused from his cell earlier than usual on June 24, 2012. He was handed a bottle of Clorox and was told it was clean-up time.

Joiner was used to cleaning up cells in Dade Correctional Institution's psychiatric ward, and many of them were frequently brimming with feces and urine, insect-infested food and other filth.

Joiner thought he pretty much had seen it all, from guards nearly starving prisoners to death, to taunting and beating them unconscious while handcuffed for sport. He recalls one inmate was paid a pack of cigarettes to attack one sick inmate whose only offense was to ask if their mail could be delivered before bedtime.

On the floor of a small shower stall he was ordered to clean, he saw a single blue canvas shoe and what he later realized was large chunks of human skin.

The skin belonged to Darren Rainey, a 50-year-old mentally-ill prisoner whom the guards had handcuffed and locked in the cell the night before. Witnesses and DOC reports indicate Rainey was left in the scalding hot water for hours, allegedly as punishment for defecating in his cell.

Joiner remembered and said he also later made a written record of what he saw and heard the night Rainey died.

He had a view of some of what happened and was ordered to clean up the shower the following morning. He said he placed all the skin he found in Rainey's shoe.

"I heard them lock the shower door, and they were mocking him," Joiner said, as the guards turned on their retrofitted shower full blast and steam began to fill the ward.

"He was crying, please stop, please stop," Joiner said. And they just said "Enjoy your shower, and left."

Joiner went to sleep, not knowing that it would be the last time he would see or hear Rainey alive. Witnesses would later say that after two hours, at temperatures of 180 degrees, Rainey collapsed, with his skin peeling from his body. Rainey, who was serving a two-year term for possession of drugs, was carried to the prison's infirmary where a nurse later said his body temperature was so high it couldn't be measured with a thermometer.

Darren Rainey, tragically, had only one month on his sentence.

For those whom need proof of this go to the Florida Department Of Corrections then go to inmate release and type in Darren Rainy.. black male..Deceased.
You will see he was never in prison.. delete..

The War Between Them And U.S.

No one of reasonable intelligence condones the kind of violence between them and U.S. we see now every day.

G.I. Joe cops, thugs and white trash.

But people that don't read and or write don't read what I write any way.

Suspect in Texas today hands up then point blank shot dead.

Law enforcement officer in Chicago murdered by three suspects over possibly a minor traffic stop,

who would be alive if each municipality did not use law enforcement to generate income by targeting these individuals.

Logic dictates that if a tail light is out there are two reasonable conclusions either they are too poor to fix it or the people don't know that it's broken.

Either way by profiling the poor and uneducated there can be only one reasonable outcome if they won't stop the killing of every person they want to kill then the uneducated poor with out hope will continue to confront them and be by them killed.

Today they spent millions to hunt down and kill if they can the three suspects will be hunted until they are forced to become armed and dangerous.

As I Slept Deep In Sleep Beside You

How far could you go with out me?
As I slept, deep in sleep,
I dreamt the same dream beside you.
Awake in the light of day
those long days were so very noisy so we didn't speak.

With out you minutes are like hours, days are like weeks and months are like years while the pain of breathing leaves me despondent as reason and logic like most childhood friends that we had have moved away or died.

From the back I have seen others like you and have on more than one occasion reached out and touched a shoulder their hair styles were so much like yours and they said that they understood I left walking backward ashamed.

I know that you can never come back not the way that you left even so time has passed so much so I can not help but think how great the distance that is now between U.S.

To Soon Was My Bad Luck

With each new day and soon to soon night comes
it's not the rain you hear.
Yesterday is gone the day before.

Leather straps the razor it is loud upon the cheeks and how the flesh can find no space
what with loud moans.

Inside the womb through filtered light around the water is how I am first and why the others last
I feel a hand.

Where I'm not the other is to where I am
it is a door slammed shut to where I can not go I'm to old to stoop where others sit then stand and when I leave the other comes my luck was never like it should have been nor will it be like once before.

From the out side in side of plain sight.
Nothing's the same to some though it is.
Before you were born I had to die.

Green leaves on a bush there were none left to be picked.

Have you kissed one but never the other?
Corrupt is one mind there are two more righteous behind
Vanilla tastes good could chocolate taste better?
Loving each other boys and girls transgendered are both.
Change that bad thing that bad thing that you did and be better.
Every night before dawn each morning before night falls.
How to know more with out other's knowing?
Having seen all your pain is why other's take pleasure.

Lost A Letter Of Love From Another

You and I we speak the language of where words are not required.
It is this our own dance, one with nature
bourn of a natural swing that gives and takes.
Fluently moving, always dancing like two green leaves moved by the wind that stands together, we ignite.
When apart, we are wandering lost and scared and I can but imagine you to often, as I am.
What it is or why it is, I cannot explain,
I know it has not been ideal, I know it has been hard.
Broken hearts are real and yours it beats so strong.
I see you.
Your naked body, not just your pale fair flesh,
breasts like pears they always felt unlike no others.
While behind your smile,
the green light of wisdom shinning In your eyes.
Of you I thirst and passion blue it shines a roaring fire.
You still I find by just a gentle touch that stirs the mind inside is love the light of love such as it is the passion of my lust, naked standing still Both are body warm, silk they're soft, they're smooth, and their I can smell the scent is hers.
Both eyes are closed my mouth is buried in the folds of of her warm flesh, her lips are painted as if in one last kiss and with each kiss, my ears can hear the roar.
I have felt the fullness of her lips that kissed my soul and her beauty is a beauty growing with each passing year.

Today He Killed The Media

Today the stage was set.
The final curtain fell.
The way he set it up,
the way it was he planned.
What is a disgruntled employee?
It could be any number of people with a legitimate grievance where they have exhausted all in house processes.
A process that's rigged from start to finish with a known out come that they already know that never ends well.
With out a legitimate investigation no one will know except the people whom caused this particular individual to take vengeance on those that he could reach.
People with out the resources.
People whom don't have the money to seek readdress in a court of law.
Educated people who know the process is broken and even with money and the needed resources he knew what the preordained out come was.
It is a sad day for U.S.
when hateful acts of violence are used because they could get no Justice in a system that is isolated from the other ninety nine percent.
When reasonably educated people feel that they've been harmed
and reasonably educated people know that if it be they whom is harmed.
What do reasonably educated people do when the people whom are not educated nor reasonable kill U.S. every day until their killed.
And before law enforcement could catch and kill him to garner favor with the media to take some heat off of them for the mass killings of the dead unarmed.
The poor slob

took that same hand gun and shot himself in the head.
Now he will stay a disgruntled employee and he will become one more dead terrorist say all the talking heads.

Stranger God's We've Known

Before we stood, we swam we swam the seas the oceans were to U.S. known the streams and rivers hid what we became.

What then we were, what dreams of God's we were and noise was absent from the earth, the sun was worth it's weight in gold and all was green and good.
Absent though was goodness though to them we were not bad
we were to them not good and half the children died.
The other half that lived to live moved far and wide.
We were not to close as we are now,
then never were we looking up the stars so bright and loud, giving light to U.S. before warm fire.
Some gave sacrifice of living flesh to bottle flies,
others tossed the strongest and the best into the fires.
Man was head strong weak and killed all knowledge wise, wise were certain men who fled should teach what men should seek that man should know.
Waiting as man waits to know God's stranger than him self.

Destruction Of National Treasures

The heart can only hold as much as life their gifts they gave.
Life to some is not as long as treasures left to stand.
That which stands can only stand as long as wisdom lasts.
Taking from the heart that made great things such men blind do.
Putting out their light the evil that such men will do.
Self hating they destroyed what they could never in life build.
Hopelessly their lost these men now know the secrets that men like them never could.

Anchor Babies-Not In Love Were Some Made

Just what is an Anchor baby?

It's a method of circumnavigation that allows parent's with out legal documentation to have a child

and one be able to receive benefits that other American's can not receive.

Two that by having a baby

for no other reason than laying hypothetical hands on citizenship is really just an unseemingly way to get around the fourteenth amendment.

When any other individual is able to loop hole a law

state legislator's hurry up and plug the hole to more easily prosecute, said offender.

Ten days ago

I went to my ear, nose and throat Doctor and watched as a Hispanic daughter her mother and grand mother none of which could speak English give up and grow very frustrated when the staff could not speak Spanish.

These are adults who had children for no other reason than to enter and live in America.

This is an issue that has and has not a popular opinion depending on where each of U.S. came from.

James McLain

America And Why In Part It Is Broken

You excluded them for so long that they live a dysfunctional life and think it is normal.
Arresting the homeless most are mentally ill and after more trauma their eyes glazed to many death is preferable it is after all why they drink and do drugs because so many think that to alleviate their pain when their brutal life is so bad is some sort of betrayal to a broken system that does not work.
ISIS can through their campaigns recruit our young the American young that our government has no use for how can our youth excluded from the process of becoming educated afford the hundreds of thousands of dollars of debt they can't pay back and remain self sufficient.
ISIS lies to them like our very own government and our young being impressionable believe that they can make a difference now and U.S. older folks that can see the difference but it's to late and our young are a new manufactured group of young adults to put into their prison's.

When With Impunity You Kill People

People will in the process of being killed try to run away
if they can from law enforcement.
With nothing but cop shows on t.v.
I don't want to watch it is their propaganda.
How many times have you watched a cop say my little black friend that I tried to kill why did you try to run from U.S.
You are because of basic cable forced to watch cops use excessive force on people so drunk they can barely stand while expecting them to comply with a reasonable command that while being to drunk to understand.
You are forced to watch John Walsh rake in millions exploiting the tragic death of his son.
Have you seen a cell extraction where the hapless inmate is so brutalised that he needs medical attention to fix what should have never happened?
Poor people go in and come out as crazed traumatized useless people that they can reincarcerate for a profit and when it becomes so blatant that they can no longer function
you see them as some of the homeless population
next in line are your younger brothers and sisters.

No One's Life Matters But Theirs

About owning guns
a convicted Felon in any state can not legally own one.
Hint-Hint-
Do you now understand one of the many reasons as to why half of all black males are in prison or will be.
Patiently waiting is the overly militarized police department's across the U.S.
To turn the Hispanics and Blacks and White Trash against one another divide and conquer
read Sun Tzuthat cost the Government hundreds of billions of dollars yearly.
It's time to wake up and see what is real and what is not.
Republican's cannot spend trillions on middle east wars that make them and their buddies billions and needing that same amount here to fix this country.
It's one or the other not ever both hey you
you pick what they will.
The second amendment will not because of their need to kill U.S.
be taken from them away.
So hey you join a gang and you buy that stolen gun you can't legally own and hey you shoot that homie that dissed some idiot that has no idea how to speak or read and write the English language.

Now when most are in jail or prison and some thing jumps off what do you think they will do with the millions of violent traumatized people that they have locked up?
Do you really think they will let them out-let-them go?
If so, I have some dry land in the Florida swamps to sell to you.
The decades long polices have been to kill them as enemies of the States.

To See The Light Go Out In One's Eye's

It is the difference between a short life or a long death
Seeing other shadows that moved very quickly from one corner of the eye to the other or a wisp of fog that escapes from your mouth in a room with you watching t.v. while inside it grows colder still.
Knowing where and when you will die is dictated to some degree on where you live as dying free is a big deal to me.
Perhaps if where there here it is thus you may come back to live in the U.S. once again
ask Jimmy Carter,
though unbeknownst to him, Rosylin will.
I have a great delima being hurriedly burried or being naked cremated by some one you don't know some one close watched the light go out in your eyes.

Recollections

They would come to visit me when I was little in the dark remembering back that far do I think that they for some one else still are?
I back then because of her pride lived in public housing.
There was a vacant apartment at her mother's.

Where unlike today it was then safe because unwed woman back then with innocent children were looked on as some kind of promiscuous woman who had three kids with no husband.

She was severely mentally I'll a sore subject and grew only worse as she aged it was why my real father left her.
Ghosts were real for me very real my dreams were worse and all that there was and all that there is came to pass and existed some where else.

Alternative universes where if in this one life is good then in that one something worse than death vibrates back and forth inside your head two minds talking back.
No one will for a while be able to determine which event set into place the chain of events that precursor of things yet to come that came first.
Vibrations atonal frequency's strings that move on the subatomic level.
When but for the briefest of moment's here some where else

Do Not Pretend To Know Me

I have not died
so many times so that you can live living your life you living mine just so that you can again reject me.
People are what people are you can not change their sick nature.
Having eye's so that you may see has left me blind to what you have done through your own speech you have shown me.
Others some think that by learning to read and to write makes one literate.
Setting the trap so many must fall in.
Therefore herein
when so many have come most that have come will hence forth fail lacking the conviction that they never had blaming others.
Would any one in your very own family bring forth hence unto you the many strangers that you see in the streets and with out coin then feed them?
Unstable or mentally ill with out hearing you speak no from you is the answer
that from here I can hear no one speak.
Billions have and will die never getting beyond the ability to count past their toes and fingers forgiven by they never having to know what you are.
You believe in a God you have said and by killing your brother and sister you have shown no mercy for them then and now.
From the book that you read you have claimed all to know and hence nothing it is you shall know.

When Your Living In America But Your Not

It was not that long ago but to most it was when America locked up the Japanese underestimating a human beings net worth some patriot's in their thinking really aren't unlike in the past when identifiable immigrants went through Ellis Island

unlike now when you say that you are here and then to the world you say you are not how much of a threat by them are you perceived to be when you are here when you say you are not as they said back then do you think they are not unwilling to not do to you again think hard my friend

Republican's And Your Disability Benefits

If you have from some other country come and receive them
you should if you are in the U.S. and are not yet an American citizen be concerned.

I may not be able to vote in Florida but that's only because if I could there would be another million people who would vote Democrat and with Republican's in control that won't happen.

Most intelligent people know that both party's are corrupt
so for those whom will vote it is simply one direction or the other you will take.

Republican's will if they can pit American blacks against Hispanics with their white counter part the newly evolved Wiggers in between.

Though one should be able to understand and speak in a way where English here is understood.

If I were loving and if I was living in Puerto Rico, Cuba or South America I would learn Spanish.

It would be in my own best interest would it not?

No one likes thugs, no one likes bullies, people should be allowed if by their creator to live within reasonable safety

if by their creator that unto these shores they were here bourn.

Republican's believe that they are Savior's and are invested by God

to privatize America's money into risky ventures.

Intelligence aside

It Was White As Snow

Only when I fell asleep would she start to kiss it through her open window when it came and the oil she put on it made it only harder on my self I went in her mask was off her hands were soft and steady and I stumbled as I stood though she never saw me her skin was white as snow moist her breath was warm and wet upon my neck shooting stars the moons not far above the deep dark woods.

The Unknown Gardeness

Land wise she knew it's length and width and great was the strength, in her two hands.
Milking cows, spraying milk it made her smile
spraying milk deep into the mouths of all her cats.
So she sought the depths in the soft earth to escape.
She was drawn up into, drawn onto all her plants that hid inside what others sought, seeking thus she became lost inside.
Gentle heads that popped, broken 'sighs' the noises that she stirred, firm gentle fingers that she used to squeeze.
Eye's opened wide as if all she was watching sticky sapp stick to her moving hands.
Popped broken 'sighs' the noises witch drew deeper breaths, the kind that made her twitch.
Plants that moved about without a wind, moving plants without a touch, long gentle 'sighs'
that moved her smiling full lips.

From One Animal To Another

Look how far these animals have run in only a hundred and fifty years!
In the sky flying high is a place they try to find where U.S. lesser ones will be left here behind to die a death worse than any death you could know his name was Hubble.
Ebola and A.I.D.s, do you wish to have sex certified by none I am clean.
We still rut like the pigs that we love to eat unless of course you are a Muslim.
Onyx, white and green is the bust that I made not of them.
I in my youth did as well rut like a pig I preferred bacon.
Did I eat it as well leaving behind strings of pearls I say, you betcha.
She rides a horse,
I'd ride a mule, just like on gun smoke Mr.Festus.
To one animal from another the future is clear don't you exude milk when you dream.

Bulbs in the ground

Smiling

one large root in her hand with water she brings it to life.

Humming birds

they look for her smile.

Inane eyes eyes so Lovejoy
bright

she could not but think what a smile planted brings that springs forth in search

Drawing it out all the way out my head is stuck
as the wind moves the leaves over the cool barren ground

How Do People Of High Or Low Intelligence Think

Being most of my life open minded it is sad when most never were.

Unable to change their position when more reliable information is brought.

I am constantly calculating chess having learned at age three mastered tic tac toe and checkers blurted out answers to Art Flemming's jeopardy before most adults at twelve.

Realising that with age that I can no longer remember how to tie my own tie.

Pie no longer concerns me.

Sitting upstairs on the porch in my lonely ghetto
I see the black children playing around me I don't interrupt their perfect world mine has dissolved around me.

Large crowds now scare me I can no longer anticipate by the look on the face of the thief when around me.

Introverted writing I am easily over loaded by illogical thinking.

I ignore most rude behavior words that were never given much thought to

I realise now how much more dangerous those other people are and why those old white haired Republicans want most of them in prison though this kind of thinking is wrong.

Issues that are given no thought of simple questions like do people who have trapped them selves in poverty by having all those children do they have them just to receive money from the government?

Scary thoughts like those no one will speak of questions are.

I still know that the probability of certain things that are bad are based on certain factors tangible things like do I have a higher chance of being killed if I by crack from a white guy verses a black one?

Things I no longer pay attention to that can still kill you dead called situational awareness.

Now I sit back and watch waiting for the explosion that will come

watching people whom never could being never to bright try to take advantage of people who don't like being taken advantage of.
I never cared what those other people did so long as it didn't effect me being of low intelligence unable to think I spent hundreds of hours
lost in thought about how they thought or even if they did as Florida has over one hundred prisons that are kept filled.
Is the moon a big moon when if on the moon earth's not seen.
Where would man be if there had not burgeoned intelligent people to show and invent
all those things that are here that given thought to you know would never be.
And all the hatters that batter down the doors because you have spoken and brought attention to those things that they hate and have no courage to speak of.

Social Net Warning

I met a woman some years ago here she suggested we meet and when I did she robbed me
it turned out she was addicted to some morphine pill that I can't remember.

I didn't call the police due to karma.
Even so I don't paint with a brush all the rest.

Personally

I at my age am not driven by sex though I realize many are.

Most of the poetry here that I read is read while not being logged in.

Still many through untreated mental illness try to develop a meaning full relationship with other poets then relapse back into that place uncontrolled.

Schizophrenia in my opinion left untreated over time produces a relationship that is kind of like waking up each day and not remembering what went on the day before.

Why else would some one try to be a published poet here trying to earn money and then hide their identity here.

When checking what members are logged in and here they have published hundreds of poems while hiding their identity I tend to shy away from them.

I mean dangerous people that really are see sentence one, two and three above as they aren't going to tell you in advance what for you they have planed.

Most middle class white woman think that every one wants to rape them when in reality no one does.

The woman I met in retrospect was white trash one of those whom tried to abbreviate every sentence that she could.

It's hard to write any thing meaning full I simply don't understand how any one does without some sort of discipline.

Being pragmatic they won't.

So my social net warning is this if you are afraid of some thing that's not here then maybe it's that you should don't understand what one simply is here that you can't.

Repetition in learning to write for some always is.
Hello how are you my name is James..

Why In Florida All H.M.O's Should Be Non Profit

I went to the E.N.T.
two days ago
and the Doctor wrote me a script for badly needed antibiotics to put directly in my ear the in house pharmacy didn't have them nor my normal pharmacy C.V.S.
my H.M.O didn't cover me
for any others.
So I still have as of yet not got them.
Multiply this by five thousand people a month that equals millions a year for those patient's that didn't die and that's the reason they kill.
Forty seven percent on one side and forty seven percent
the other
the most vulnerable are the six percent
that they manage to kill every year.

Love When Young It Is Real

When your young and the cops pull you over you will take the rap.
For him and before the Judge with you he will stand.
Every one makes one or two serious mistakes.
Those that don't are just liars and you being real never relied on your rich daddy to bail you out of jail.
If sicko Perce daddy hadn't abused you and wouldn't have tried to leave home but for that.
Yet would Bonnie and Clyde have stayed together
if they would have had no banks to rob?
There are no harder trees nor lovelier bushes filled with green leaves
than that hormonal rush young people in love will ever feel.

every bush bushes so sweet full
of leaves.
I only will if she say's yes
yes is not no
and today it's not no

Police Officer's Say

Police officer's say

we all want to go home safely at night
so do the people you pull over each day.
Complaining that when one of their own is left unconscious on the side walk while dozens of bystanders take videos of him instead of calling an Ambulance.

Could it be because of all these people they pull over and some being shot these lives left unpurposely saved are then left in the street hand cuffed for hours hearing eye witnesses scream
do your job, he's alive why won't you help him.

Men And The Big Lie

A great relationship doesn't mean a great guy and even a great guy is filled with fear and worry that if they can't live

They may be deceit if she is viewed as confident with great strength without his fear.

Then there is a view of neediness is it there or did

Women And The Big Lie

Oh nothing dear, I'm not mad at you.
Is she yes,
in relationships it the most often is.
Passive aggressive do you ever feel like that you will never be able to read her mind.
Playing in the mud I am guilty of calling out my ex's name.
Even though there was no other
in between those years before I met her.
Then come the flash backs
and you
are no longer trusted to walk the dog.
In or out for more than a few minutes that hurts the most.
Hurting this woman is at what in the past men have done.

you never caught in the bushes.

with a big brush and you just might catch her with her mouth

My Room Mate And His Crack Problem

that false sense of entitlement.
He has a full time job but spends every pay check on crack not only that he brings in street whores and expects me to feed them.
Today he came home though it's not and screamed and yelled at me.
You see the down side to spending your hard earned money on crack is that you feel guilty for your lack of self control always chasing the next twenty dollar piece of crack until all the money is gone then they yell and threaten you all because you wouldn't like them chase crack.

no one you see can see you right now.

one right across says it's time now let's call it.
No heaven no hell one is not surprised

The State Of Florida And Local Corruption

There is only one way that Florida Republican Senators it's current Governor and it's legislators could still be in power they are corrupt
if they hadn't of rigged our voting processes.

No one in their right mind would vote for people that would tell their citizens in advance that if you elected them that they would act against the peoples best interest.

And some one please tell U.S. how they still get elected?
It is now everywhere—at the federal, state and local levels throughout the rest of the country.

We have maybe eight years, ten at the most to put these real predators in prison for life because if we don't half of U.S. will be in prison them hiring Republican guard's that can't read or write to guard and kill U.S.

And as long as there are decent people like U.S. there will always be men like those that would hurt U.S.

Before he was hanged.

Should A Lady Love Her Mister

Because of it 'we' laughed as grass is green there is she common.
Realized; how it is I thus became, such implied in her, with favor.
And being left off distant of, but near to her, I thus became.
Whose teeth white flashed beneath the sun as she was now to show them.
I was drawn inside by her sweet breath, she 'made', as was it
I inhaled with each profound look, it moved I rediscovered.
Lost then finally found within, dark caves of sound, so deep
and smooth, so rich and throaty, singing music all the time.
Never ravaged but by scotch and time and filtered cigarettes.
Though detached always above, I looked again below it, such is an undulation a visitation, invisible muscles its why the sea is moving.
A young woman; on the beach 'she' hurries past us saying,
drawing briefly it aside a red and white checkered bandana.
Made it 'said' in 'Kansas' hot a sweating mask, I looked beyond it.
Bronzed this body made, I think of posies, confusing she with her.
"If your woman and the Mister' (wish to take it to the ocean,
does the lady and the Mister) 'wish to wash it, lightly off'
One day, 'one time each grain of sand and foam, 'she did - politely ask? '
I decided that if it when next it comes when 'I' and if 'I' must,
that this next verbal jolt, 'when it hit' could fly a kite without a tail.
Certain repercussions of those acute remarks, open cuts red bleeding might as hearts are won and then as thoughts be lost.
She with her and I, this afternoon could still may be, burned by the hot sun.
I concentrated on them both, by my seat a well of deep intentions.
With a careful, deeper why, I trust my mind, too find it wonders.
Kept thus safe in time, inside I've grown to know and never ponder why.
Wistful he for she/her much and subtle this my love, could be her double.
Once was I, of kind like mind, a person drifts at times so far away.
When life like that just walks away or simply floats right past us.
Then washed amongst the rocks and foam the wind it blows away.

Why Do Some People Still Believe In God

Contrary to the dozens of prophets of the past through precognition which then was rare

there are now thousands of them born every year

U.S. on the planet being now in the billions.

Here in the U.S. it's called mental illness and through unhealthy medications it's stamped out.

Then there are the dangerous one's whom through your death state that you are in a better place.

For proof of this ask any reasonably intelligent child try not to influence the out come with what you would say if again in fact you are biased.

Do you in crossing a busy street in the face of traffic rely on God to reach the other side.

Can the use of American drones by killing thousands of innocent young Muslims make what you believe to be right?

Hitler did or did he not kill six millions of Jews

there are hundreds of millions of people whom would deny that.

Some believers will never admit that arguments based on pure logic and reason as it runs out that having had no experience one way or the other is insufficient to go to Hell still filled with doubt.

And yet, still some at the verge of death cry out

I believe, I believe what he who is John 3.16. said.

If you are a good investment how did your stock rise or fall.

And there are hundreds of millions if not billions of those whom create deadly drama every day rather than to live under the guise of living an utterly meaningless life in a universe utterly devoid of clout.

When believing in the tooth fairy is not pretense enough

then why can't you just decide to see your lives as meaningful enough and skip the positing of any number of God's in whom you don't really believe in unless some thing is wrong with your life.

while creating properly run agency's the future that these under represented people represent.

People are endowed with what we call the God particle
for lack of a better word for good or bad.
Get used to it.

With the advent of instant media content our news isn't your news unless you like the evil that men do

Spare the rod abuse the child people whom think this way should be arrested.

Watch these adults closely.

When do you talk about sex to a child should Barbie have breasts or should Ken have blue eyes.

Then their is gossip, gossip is evil never good for if you participate in it, it will define you.

While some walk unto a dark path hearing gossip.
A mouth that is clean can never be opened.

There are those that fall off of the earth giving no pause as to why it is spinning.
When the head is to thick there's no room for that after you die your in a better place so long as it's not them doing the dying.

Thinking it's only apples instead of sweet peaches.

telling some ones good at some thing knowing their not.
Others feed their kids fast food cause their to lazy to cook.
Do you go to church to do what is right?
Hemmed in by those people that you know are pure evil.

your child might be right.
Crazed leaning right that do all the shouting it was probably them that did all the hurting.

Children At Brith That Were Different

Moving through out space with out moving having mass it moves around them.

Without understanding those whom once did can not in the now dare allow this.

Moving at will from one point to the next with clear understanding that the strongest of these

that can come into your mind while you sleep to show you the truth.

There are better ways to understand what they do but for now they are traumatized on purpose through physical psychological and emotional pain.

Gifts brought out through torture not unlike those that are done through partial birth abortions.

Where logic would dictate that through the process of unnatural selection one would keep these viable healthy babies instead of the ones that they make room for in their prisons.

Children that could if allowed to live bring forth peace and tranquility just by their presence in a room.

By their simple touch when a little bit older confer unto they what is wrong
when another is I'll and how to heal them.

Good through loving parent's made better where no is a statement not unnecessarily uttered by abusive ignorant parent's that think they are normal

while they were abused as a child and have no problem stating that they turned out fine and by simple observation others can see they did not.

Children whom are so empathic they become I'll

while in the presence of those whom are evil like corrupt politicians and those bad cops whom receive pleasure in the knowledge as to why they love to harm and yes kill.

So many of these that by being beat on abused by teachers and all those young bullies whom are as they are from their own abusive parents.
In the U.S. thinking this is possible is why millions go to the movies and see this alternative life.
This war from birth on all these young children is nothing more than an attempt to erase what all reach for.

Love Of Life - Life Of Love

There I have been since the dawn dawn of light pushing the dark away from the spark that brought forth all that lives to be known.
Most of them can not be seen not as you were when young by them taught.
To speak in a way that says it's o.k.
from birth
they now say you can not.
Whom would you drive far away destructive they say the gifts that you have delivered to them
the children that know children with young gifts that grow.
Inert rocks grains of sand that flows from their young hidden hands.
The army of one their births are foretold
as one dies another is born.
Needing one here and needing one there bourn of love
the exception above mentioned of.
Though from love is the nurtured seed when evil has seen sprung forth from the tree then their deaths from his greed are felt by the one they are pain full their suffering none sing.
Love of life - life of love
the strings to them both are as you know short.
Stating it such can shorten my own as night comes my woods are as deep as your own.

It Was A Hot Humid Moist August Morning

It's not every morning where the juice's flow from every where.

Where even green leaves

Here where the sap sticky sap ran the length of the tree.

A thickness to the air moist air being sucked in and out by laboring lungs once stout.

These are the morning's where noon stands still

and what is thinly worn sticks to the once thin bark.

Mushrooms try to poke up past their broken backs

strangely flat misshapen heads that moistly are.

Pale moonlight where around one bush
a hand moves past delight.

those that no longer have the intelligence that passed nothing down except to eat those unhealthy happy meals.

I look these unfortunate teenager's in the eyes naked blank stares nothing inside that looks back.

Asses so wide wrapped around five foot hips tennis ball heads cupie dolls attached to fifty year old bodies and their twelve.

Sixty percent of the parent's have killed the future of their kids.

There is nothing special about special education here where special education points this all out and guilty parent's when after reading this become enraged enraged at me for pointing their criminal deficiencies out.

Simple math equals an eighty I.q. and an eighty I.q. doesn't add up to one hundred sixty to U.S.

So our once great country raised on contaminated chicken and x-boxes have had all that once was unique lopstrocities for parents whom made all those lops and loplets

the spitting image of all you should fear.

Law Enforcements View Of You

Law enforcement has repeatedly told U.S. that they treat all one hundred eighteen point nine million of U.S.
as a threat when we are pulled over by them.
And as it is becoming by them ever so clear that it is they who are the real threat to U.S.
when in fear we are pulled over by them.

Filling Empty Vessels

The more you help others the faster your vessel is filled.
Though with evil and wrongdoing such is their bad karma it negatively effects those around them.
Their unwillingness to discuss this helps you to better understand just how damaged these minds are.
Their vessel being empty death quickly finds them.

Used handcuffs last fall to restrain an 8-year-old boy and a 9-year-old girl, placing the cuffs on their biceps behind their backs.

Juicy And Whet All Inside

As tall as the trees grow how did you convince him that it was a small valley running down the middle of it.
With undulating hills on both sides of it.
With trees that could talk and bushes
without leave, here I'd walk.
Kissing as kissing goes swollen lips lips full of life there I'd lie.
With my eyes on the moon forming to soon
over my head then she'd smile.

Why It Barley Works Any More

Cut at birth
it runs backwards now and up inside of its self.
Not like when I was thirty eight it worked like one to.
Because of its ability to reach unbelievable heights they never complained and just did it more.
Up inside to the front their eyes were drawn to the fire works out side.
Even deep in sleep when dreaming I was.

About You Selling Out

It is no longer about the moon or the stars.
Bushes without leaves
nor lovers that cleave to the heart.
It's about all the apples that fell from the poison tree that all of U.S. are therein the fruit of.
They are killing U.S.
as I've said from the start.
After all don't they say of a rapist that for each victim found out there are dozens of which they have not?
Entertainment for cops is this relentless march of getting you to expect when you leave your home
you can be killed.
Those whom live in other country's Expect nothing less but we don't.
Not in America or do you?
Are you drinking to much coffee?
Are you one of those American senior citizens whom presumed you were guilty simply based on a false arrest?
For every murder caught on video tape
there are thousands that aren't.
Not having a clue is the most terrifying thing about you and makes you more dangerous than them.

Vocal Fry

Some young women say it is a male managerial problem.
So more men try to stay out of the way of human resources.
The sad truth of it is why would any successful company want to hire any one that speaks like an immature child?
Much less trust them in important out side communication with other top management officer's to promote the company that they represent.
When fanatical growth is the objective.

Openly stretched loved quietly

Our love is love and rough is rough

it's women love rich sailors.

Salt Water On Her Skin

When the music stops
the tears begin.
As the tears begin to fall
it begins again.
It is only when you try that you begin to hear.
To many here have never felt salt water on their skin.
White snow on every mountain top their substitute for sin.
Deep inside the winters cold
I'm squeezed until it flows.
Tears begin to flow again it's then the music stops.

John Ellis ' Jeb' Bush

With the exception of Florida's current Governor
no single Governor has been more corrupt than Jeb Bush.
Republican governors put more people to death claiming that they are pro-life.
Jeb supported his brother George in that he would have privatized Social security.
Which had he of gotten his way would have at a minimum caused the trust fund to have lost half it's value.
Now Jeb wants to do away with Medicare.
While catering to the Koch brothers and all of the other billionaires whom can afford the best doctors.
There are only some thirty or forty million Caucasian white haired old people whom these corrupt politicians can count on.
These old white people are in their golden years and through no fault of their own vote against their best interest.
The middle class when they are finally gone would leave these corrupt politicians with no one left to tax.
Why would reasonably intelligent people vote for their own extinction?
Why would corrupt politicians destroy the very earth on which they live?
If you had that red button to push to have them all disappeared would you push it knowing that your quality of life would improve?
They would not waste a single second to disappear
you not one single second to disappear you or your own children.

Forsaken Tendencies

Know one knew what I knew just what it was that covered you up until.
Tendrils like vines vines very long hidden by fog
inbetween.
The mysterious search
as blue as the earth inside you.
Pillows for cloud's blanket you, awash in the rain wrapped around.
Night time stars glow at midnight moving streams
running away with your dreams.
Through my fingers like water I knew what it was distant lands what I knew here it was.

Painted Dreams

There are no more deferred dreams time has at last collapsed.
Where can we wait and not be disturbed while waiting to start over again.
Light has not reached U.S. here no
not yet.
Out side where we are there's a face.
Deep in sleep through it I look it is large very large larger than our pretty eyes.
Transparent inside flowing out are the thoughts thoughts that have led U.S. all here.
Like salt dashed on edge the edge of a cup
the light that we see is not here.
Silver and green the rest are unseen their presence exists none the less.
There is more than this much much much more than this and it fits on the head of a pin.

About Growing Old

Do not be sad
I was one of the few born lucky I guess grace now freely released begins to leave me.
Reaching out to grab some one being now slow
they are moving like stars beyond my reach.
There are more days now than back then where I am more afraid.
Owning nothing none of my affairs
how ever small are in order.
Having given more than I ever received such things are remembered more by others.
Having never given enough it is by such people rarely thought of.
The things that I dream still mostly come true people dying never things that are good precognition doesn't work that way.
My parent's and theirs all had good shots of living living their lives chasing the American dream if but by a little it out of reach.
And still I don't know when one good man dies is he replaced by a girl maybe a boy or is one born to a mother that has to be good or like most of the other's their life a waste.
Having loved once being crazy in love I once was there are and still were so many sad people that never knew love before they got old and forgot by none other to be remembered.

Midnight Sun

And if I grunt to hard inside the moon it's why
I'm pushed outside.

To feel

the yellow ears and long pink tongues move back and forth.

It's shadow hidden by the trees

no one could see by she it's felt.

Gossip not about the way
the midnight
sun is hot and why it spots.

Dandylions

They were here no more than that more even than I should know things I should know about the field and how they grow.
Stalks tall and green and long and crying.
Their tops as white as snow.
Knowing some are yellow each head upturned that turns upon the wind and how it blows.
From where the hand comes streaking up moving up so very slowly up until it comes across the top and rubbed it off and off it came.
As if in a breath or in a oceans breach they flew from lips intent apart and popping tops on stems are pulled.
It's why the milk comes slowly seeping out and why the seeds flew far away.

From Death To Non Existence

Life is one giant cemetery infinity for everyone, where no one comes to die.
Having never been born, old age is not the opposite of death.
Coming into your own, instantaneously, when how you are, is wisdom all have known.
Through it you have become confused, become transgendered confusion leaves U.S. then and here there are no well planned suicides.
Some exist as if streams,
not to be abused nor confused with their bad dreams.
Knowing all there is to know,
no one here is obtuse.
And despite of it all it's good to be.
In charge of God into existence all have sprung for ever young, never old.
Where each birthday past is revealed only after it is gone.
And in the end when you have become.
It is only then that all will know what all came here to know before being tossed back into the stream
the stream in the middle of there.

Running

An umbrella of moistness upside down turning it that he did.

Without being to wet
out side

bending down it is cool to the touch.

Her best mushrooms are in a tight
high yellow skirt.

And there is no doubt now that this is why most of the thick

callused handed pickers come here often after.

Hiding Your Heads In The Dirt

Here there are some where you there you will go where the evil you've done here it shows.
The evil thoughts that you have
of all of the things that in this life you have done.
Most of U.S. here float around in a myriad of colors taking what little you have.
Knowing they know with full knowledge to take what little that's left of your soul.
Promoting your poverty in poverty you live while in poverty your children must grow.
Thinking more money by having them you will have.
Ignorance kills each child that you made while you just make more for their slums.
Puppet's will come those same puppet's will go while the prophets unlike back then fewer come.
Capitalism hides it's brown leaves like those on each tree stripped from the heart that promoted bad health on all of the faces that are spied.
While even in death a profit they make creating debt your children can't pay.
What you have grown is all they can take and why from your dried up loins they need more.
When your babies with eyes deformed on each face
don't match the babies you make without souls.
You hold them up while they die in the sun.
Crushed they are killed backwards pulled out by their feet sniping the bud from the head of the rose when none come have come back from dead.
Heads in the sand whispers of love knowing there is no love left to give as you live inside of empty heads killing all that you made.
While when alive those large empty heads in the dirt more hopeless children you make to be blind.
So why then do the impoverished here and there think that by bringing more of them in than by leaving them there, how in this world can more money be made and you be the wealthier for.
When you deny it was just to have sex nothing more.

Are You Still Drinking

Out with it she said between white vodka and yellow bourbon
I ask.
Before D.N.A.
that I left all over the sheets towards the bottom in the middle one spot.
Age has caught up with me
she twiddles her thumbs, she said out with it if I try will she leave me alone with some wine.
Cigarette burns cover the sheets those are mine she brings her own there's nothing to say I slumber on.
She likes strawberry tootsie pops those on the end of white sticks.
They give me gas it's the sugar that makes me fart those wet juicy ones from experience where I know I am safe from the dark side.
She climbs on top more boring sex is all that I have to look forward to.

that I followed turned out to be nothing more than the trollop that I from the alley let in to my bedroom last night.

Myself And I And Me

Then when it happened
there was three of U.S. by myself and only one of me some times it happened to the one and only me.
And when it did I thought that I should really try.
While she was watching my face I would look up as it happened and I was told it didn't count because.
School was boring as I couldn't wait to finally drink and vote.
A class for special education with kids that really weren't placed between my feelings was a class where I was in the middle I was by her tricked and caught.
She used electric toy's her parents for them bought.
She was a pretty girl who didn't wear dare I say a lot or dare I say it not but any way it didn't count unless it was a boy it was not by she a girl.
Dark and moist and cool and hot the class it always was.
Everything by her it must with o.c.d. be controlled.
English class and verbs and her and I with metaphors described a lot our actions were.
Around control U.S. being such dynamics when placed inside U.S. both not ever less but more.
Weird I used to think unless she closed my eyes her toy she pushed against I touched and died and felt inside she really was I just suppressed my pent up sighs.
Things I saw when deep asleep I dreamed that really were.
Where the sky is dark and moving fast the birds that really weren't.
She would close my bed room door and I would look inside.
The promises I'd make she'd never keep I some how knew.
Her parents never talked to me about the little things inside
I heard that buzzed I felt their wings.
Through her obsession where I looked into her big dark eyes.
I one time saw the monster that she made I thought she was.
One day at school I felt that I should let our feel good secret out to what you did and didn't do in truth a lie is not.

The Games That People Play

All those wicked games that people play

Does it ever cross your lonely mind nothing can or will, ever stay the same.
Here where I stand I think of only you every day all the time.
In my voice you can hear it all my love you can hear love how I miss you as I call to only you.
Just to hear again to her your name.
Turn around stop please stop and think.
Even when your far away I can't walk away.
Inside your heart the smallest part I held the smallest part of you of who you are love I'm not that far away.

I Have Given You Air

Knowing of it is not the same as not knowing why.
Depriving your sister and brother of it this life without death
but you struggled for it eye's bulging out.
Pissing their selves while many were the ways to evolve while there most have not.
Three days ripe in the dry yellow sun produced that bloated feeling inside.
Birds that have come see the animals that sit at rest necks craned looking up.
Waiting for some scrap torn loose to fall to the ground.
Here their are many with nothing to do bored children.
There are no schools here and their poverty stricken parents once thought that by having children it would make them all that much richer.
Buzzing green blow flies looking for that rich yellow nector settle down.
As the children with their sharp pointed sticks poke at what is within reach hanging up.
Releasing clouds of rich smelling gas that's inside of each one of U.S. wanting out.
The government has to each one of them
free of charge offered that if they will submit to their doctors and become spayed and neutered.

Those whom do receive a new home need only one bedroom.

The Purge Of Ninty Nine Percent Of Americans

Some stay for the drama while other's have married to leave where the opposite of love is a comedy.
Look around you it just can't be it is happening here
all around U.S.
Hope is not lost on Emily and my faith is made fond when found.
Pain of pain that smile on your face every where life is cut short.
It is only the depth of a great depression the kind where you cut to survive.
Cuts so deep and their wide eyes opened up wide in surprise.
There is no blood
but the smell of raw meats in the air.
Here there is always an empty cell for me
where the paint has always been chipped and the rain out side that can't get in makes me sleep.
Some of U.S.
save our medication always looking searching for that final way out.
With no where to hide it except in our vagina or rectum
any other place is searched by finger.
Here where death is not a suicide and life is but a book that is worthless open to that page where the once numbered pages sit open staring out past at the days that are gone
yet returned every day before the midnight.
I discern economies failing most will think that in here better off you will be.

How does one hide all that money
I am cloned
so that I will have to endure by hand it again.
I am number 057512
and all whom before me that have come back have back there gone.
No one could really recreate those exact circumstances though they never stop trying that had I lived again like the very first time and I never ever having known that one kneading hand and because of that you could never know how I once lived and died knowing you.

A Short Story About - My Dirty Slut

Into my eyes she deeply looked I stood out silent
knowing

Curling all of her toes out

Leaning back down
I could see over her shoulder

there out side my window
I became lost in her branches.

Escaping From American Prison's

Why would any one wish to stay and live in abuse.
Eight out of ten given life for murder whom are placed within have not before or there after been convicted of a felony.
When the psychological and physical abuse reaches a certain level
it is well within the norm to attempt to escape from it.
Then when one or two whom do you are told by them that they are to you dangerous.
Those doing the chasing appearing not being to overly intelligent should cause an intelligent person to ask why are they being driven to acts of violence
when they could be captured later without putting you at risk.
Some just got the job and like to kill and wait not you but them.
Remember who you are and why some think that if all you wish to do
to them
if a life sentence is not enough to do away with the death penalty.

What About The Word Wigger

In prison
they are rejected by both the Black's and White's.
These are generally the young White's whom in prison live in fear.
Listeners hear on the metro the buses these young children whom have not the slightest concept concerning the disrespect that they have for one another overheard.
These children if the truth be known come from extremely dysfunctional families.
Throw away kids that responsible adult's go out of their way to avoid.
These are the kids that if you ask of them how long ago was it that the dinosaurs became extinct would you be surprised if they said
a few thousands of years ago.
As with all things that children say that is rehensible.
In the ghetto's or southern public housing.
It starts with education to shun the people whom you hear say cracker, nigger and wigger
you must first over come your own fear.
While those whom live in their own cowardly world it's not your right to put all these children in prison.
These are all the young people whom can't function in today's work force and Are considered unemployable.

Niggers And Crackers

In the mid sixties
Cracker it exploded out of all the racist mouths
and then the word Nigger never far under comes out of the dark covered with out shame.
Even as a child of seven being placed in Lake Magdalene juvenile home they were allowed to admit others up to age twenty one.
Deep in the south it was Tampa.
I weighed thirty five pounds and next to me watching soul train he asked me to touch his monstrous dick.
I was terrified I am white the black cottage father that very night took me out across campus to live with he and his wife.
Confused at age twelve my step father from Chicago ask me and my brother to canvas our neighborhood to sign petitions objecting to what was to come desegregation and black children being bused to the then white schools.
Unable to articulate or explain the severity of our dysfunctional child hood to a Judge whom did not care to abuse your children as it was then the norm
it was acceptable.
I being grown now I after having seen my step father
call black people niggers as a child now know just how wrong now I feel.
Being in the deep dark institution called the south.
And about what each person has need to call another out of hate when it spawns the hatred it calls up from their fear.
It taught me this about how to talk to my daughter and then stepson.

They never heard the word cracker or nigger from me.

the confederate battle flag represents a Southern Institution.
Like wise acknowledged is the American Flag

When Hope Is The Last Best Thing

Only by greater people that have every reason to succeed can we as one people push the pall that terrible thought of the past behind U.S. all.
We as one people, we as one country know what is wrong and what is right in front of U.S.
That great motivator, that lives in each of U.S.
Those previously unaddressed issues by those that lie or live to mouth
what should be done and do deceive U.S.
Others doubt our will while others doubt our right to live and grow beyond our years.
Recognized is poverty trauma caused upon these very backs and necks some stood.
It can stand no longer
what the racists represent nothing they to give but take from U.S.
Can it be doubted here we live to see here we live and breath, for one and all.
Dead voiceless they would leave, dead by the road to see their actions shown.
Can't we by any other measure known what knowledge is.
Together we must stand and learn to understand what hatred is then lay it at the feet of they whom mean U.S. harm.
Knowing that our children show for whom that they were raised.

What Have I Left To Loose

What have I left to lose all that I said has come true.
Loosing you was so hard to do
blue is no longer my blue.

Roses I said hold the fragrance

I held you.

The movement of time is that time that stood still.
Moment's that few could then have foretold, were the moment's that all long to release.

Mental Illness In Florida's Prison's

Wading through the sheer magnitude of it the abuse of the mentally I'll makes police brutality look like the best way out of life.

Here there aren't people in cells with cell phones
where most of the prisons are open bay dorms.
No cameras taking footage of abuse.
Though they catch it like the rapes it happens in secret.
Horror stories that are heard as is the custom in the south it only being unjust barely scratches the surface.

Inside of Florida it's prisons where the mentally ill are kept in the dark of their silence.
What is it like to live in a open building where inmates try to survive with untreated trauma and severe mental illness like paranoid schizophrenia.

Beaton literally for years
I was daily meted out uninterrupted forms of abuse not being able to leave unable to write it off as another bad day with out hope.
Evidence of this abuse left hematomas surrounded by purple bruises and scars.

Beatings from staff members whom when bored would place them in cells to be beaton not unafraid to report them as incidents that required the use of chemicals and the use of force

Bogus disciplinary reports from most whom could not read or write which is why some are here unable to converse with their court appointed attorney.
Which required the removal of any basic privileges.
While in itself by them being placed in proximity by the staff and the cause of taunting by the more endless line of evil of inmates.

There once as a living man who was by doctors severely mentally ill.
Like many others whom through the night being calm would by staff on arrival be mistreated.
Some would bang their heads on the metal doors or leave bloody impressions on the walls.
Others yelled out for what seemed like eternity
but lasted for only hours.
The mentally ill have such stamina you would never believe.
Why on when out side it is why some women still take some of U.S. in.

For ever comprimised I mean you and I.
The magnitude of it Florida's and it's abuse of all of them makes police brutality look like a walk in the park.
Now it's all I can do to have them characterized as sadistic sociopaths.

James McLain

Troubled Minds

From the top down from the bottom up there now all around U.S.
The lopstrocities that they bore and the genuine fear none for fear of arrest will now speak of.
What is worse
trying to get help from a mental health counselor by creating new laws that exploit that very stigma by knowing that young minds that are obviously troubled.
Rational people they know of the evil that these adult taught young people will do.
Are they them selves
just as guilty for what their breathern will do.
Racism is taught by the dysfunctional family that is what's a thug.
People won't give up their own fire arms unless law enforcement does.
No one will get mental health help until they are safe from arrest for sharing their troubles.
While the Psychiatrist and Psychologists that know other wise
then tell each Judge that had they would not be here.
Useless victim impact statements that speak of nothing but revenge.
Knowing that these learned councilors can see the pain and permanent damage.
Hate crimes are not done or bourne out of love
it's then to late to salvage that mind that's so obviously troubled.
Is it crazy by they to put away each person for life then to think they will stay in a system that's designed to cause trauma to each mind and not try to escape.
Most people are now forced to work from dawn until dusk to keep what they have in some politically constructed far away dream that latter due to mental exhaustion by it's nature becomes unqualified to now vote.

Would you ever allow your children to decide what you'd eat.

We have now reached the point where the system is broken.

Let's have a man hunt to fix it.

Hubris can not bring back what he lost
if it could money would.
What could you do with a full head of hair his toupee is real unlike theirs.
Some how I do believe that he would build a wall between here and there.
Honest maids cost a lot.
About more jobs than God could provide Miranda means nothing to him.
The truth as he sees it about all the rest being to dumb to change
what they said that took U.S. from there to here.
Up there on T.V.
two escaped convicts being chased by the new police dressed to change changed to dress like the military you are their new enemy.

Metaphysical Poetry

Today is the day that comes after the horse that watches you push the cart.
Is the carrot orange to the donkey that moves you closer to there.

Affixing blame blame on a God when a dog knows it's master not.

Standing wet in the cold holding out the dry blanket to no one that's there.

Heaven to some is leading others to hell drawing lots.

While hell to others is keeping more people in prison in the land that kindness forgot.

Logic is cruel reason has fled when people are told that by others they must allow others to hold their meaningless life crushed in the Psalms of their hands.

While others ignore all that their told and thus they are doomed to die once again

in insanity's grip it's tight hold.

That dark light off in the long night burns as bright as the sun
most in this life won't ever know.
Knowledge it's wit where there can not now grow.
In a head that is empty of light.

James McLain

The Spread Of Despair

Gradually it spread people back then weren't as stupid.
Ignorant people could still think and went out of their way to gain knowledge.

Thus over time people spread their genetic predisposition far and wide afraid of the light darkness grew from their loins like a weed.

People suddenly woke up being told by they never knowing that one morning that they through poor breeding had given up their ability to think for themselves.
So like the plague people spread their low intelligence
thus it permeated everywhere all at once.

It spread geographically.
Races that never had any need to learn to read or to write.
Never did and good ideas were summarily punished people turned to despots dictatorships sprung up.
Sex with the mentally challenged was encouraged where proper judgement was abandoned.

People whom preyed on these people filled nature obhorred such a vacuum.
People like Jerry Springer was bourne.

In the future the recent now just past
Adolf Hitler turned Germany into it's own itself.
Others saw that the sheeple were no longer like they once were and spread and spiraled ever outward.

Irresponsible sex with each other was encouraged and grew
The afflicted of low I.Q. spread accross the European Continent first,
then crossed the Channel to England,
and then spread across the Atlantic to America.

These people thus thought being poor, we will bread our selves out of poverty
Republicans called it pro-life unless you were U.S. on death row.

As it spread through out our society the intellectuals to the few more whom money educated down to the minumim wage workers.
Ever aching the upper middle class was saved for last needing their taxes dollars to properly do what was done to their predecessors before.

Thus it had spread as represented in yours these thoughts from the bottom to the middle at last.
And from one higher discipline to the next to the philosophers and ending with of course the theologians.
Theology had been left last for a reason.

Ending up where no one ever belonged.
It is curious of me
this whole cultural drift and why so many now think that their living in latest theological moment.
Now being unable to think was their greatest weapon.
It is but in fact, what all the new religions are saying had been predicted previously in each of the other disciplines.

When You Fall Asleep Does A Ghost Have Sex With You

A feeling in the gut and the groin area would be dripping moist wet and sweaty.

Thinking it was the humidity and that maybe something was really wrong a psychotic break from known reality some other kind of illness or some thing worse.

Menopausal hot flashes
because only there was it sweaty.
Laying awake all night and hoping it wouldn't happen.
Happening only when you would fall asleep.

It was if you almost didn't want to fall asleep because you knew you would wake up all wet and sweaty with adrenalin coursing through your heart like those panic attacks.

Being aware that what had happened was a spiritual presence that was somehow involved with me sexually.
Receiving counselling
I confessed about feeling guilty that while asleep I was very sexually aroused and had orgasmed.

My counselor informed me that rape is rape and that subconsciously my body was deep in sleep working.

Translucent the mist as it coiled and grew deep inside me.
Real images floated from it.

Not being a man nor being a woman transferring more into me than a sexual feeling.

James McLain

Past The Rivers Edge

Looking through the leaves,
I sat like stone waiting for a breeze approached
the sun.
Humid moist and wet the air it was pungent mushrooms life is every where.
Naked and afraid most have forgot as reeds are parted by the past some have.
Around the tree
the water finds the base
a bubble bursts.
Through the surface breaks an out stretched hand
It reaches out.
Humid moist and wet it causes death.
The sun is high the light is bright
I pause for breath.

Summer Of Darkess

This was a night
unlike the rest it was dark it was so quite one could hear the moths in flight.
There unlike here hungry mouths without teeth reminds me of that skeleton that bush in front of a tree.
Mother
mother traded the sex
the sex of her children for crack.
Father is in prison
sadly he is in prion because there was no room at the jail.
Some where else hearing that I was as a young child a political man did what was wrong
to me
I was different then.
My very speech unlike these words such speech
it being spoken only inside of your head.
Darkness falls and once again winter comes bright flashes go off in my head.

I Am Yours

I am yours where all those weeks in the sun on the beach and your smile like the sky and your face I could see U.S. alone
Here in the wind and with nobody else.
There upon which I step on the sand I'm barefoot
yet it makes no sound.
If you to be as like once we were then I'm yours to speak as the clouds move off like our love to move as a wave moves out to sea.
Or as a bird floats off out of sight through the sky and will thus again know it is tired to land safe once again safe and alone there in the arms of the shore.

Warm Morning Mist

Guidance firmly kneels at the foot of one's space stealing parting glances one takes.
Not yet awake along the deep edge a full feeling builds up deep inside.
Full neatly trimmed it is moist out of place
eye to eye
as one waits on those long dreamy legs.
Nuanced, enhanced as one waits, butter melts
at a much faster pace.
A starving face sits below two fat fluid lips
pale is the moon it is wide.
No one here heard the loud gasp
as the rain golden and warm fell out side.

glass instead of small meshed wire

Faces just like mine they kept inside
out side
looking in but here they weren't.

Could you die a thousand death's each night I chose to live inside my dreams.

Hiding smiles untimely hurts the guest's were people that you knew whom knew you not.

My dreams from what I saw when wide awake drew smiles from they whom waited in the shadows came again when I was all alone.

We came from here some came from there you now that look when doctors had a choice and some chose both.

As blue jays with loud voices scream hide acorns, moss hangs down.

As children with their many swings make friends and have some fun.

Children Made From Guilt That You Cut Down

It is a feeling all should have but only half will have and with the advent of television flat screened T.V.'s the flies are more pronounced.

Are they worth
no more than worms you use to catch the long toothed fish?
It's said they have a choice a choice you still don't have.

Alive not dead half turn their heads then leads them to their deaths.
If knowledge is the key to life then give them circle hooks.
If death is what you wish to teach then turn their other cheek.

Each living child through you from there to quick by you sent back.
Thoughts of love just aren't enough love doesn't fill their plates.
Having souls they let you in one house is not enough.

Life erupts from selfishness moans that fill your haunted house.
When behind the bush they stand in line the woods are dark and deep.
Each ghost you make is not enough to fill the void within.
A light goes out when it's not changed each tree you then cut down.

Why The Extraterrestrials Have Given Up On Us

Over a short period of time humanity simply appeared like the round wheel
the working of primitive metal's and a slow changing of the earth as human beings learned by recording knowledge to keep from having to start over.

As humanity's grasp grew sure we began to ask as to why they are here.
As with most things in life
my explanation is fairly straightforward and not that difficult to explain.

Highly superstitious is man still believing in things that millions of others now do not.
That extraterrestrials are visiting the Earth and to monitor the progress and behavior of U.S.

Even so our Earth our home planet is an extremely desirable and rare object within the universe.
Speaking frankly most have no use for U.S.
thinking that our violent nature would by our very own hand be the cause our destruction.

All of that which once lived and all unborn life yet to come
I find it strange that every living thing must have need to push other living things in one end as it comes out the other.

As we discovered how to manipulate nuclear energy
it triggered an unprecedented wave of UFO landings and sightings.

They aren't going to save U.S. from our selves even if they once were our friends as a free society has a better chance of evolving like them.
What they will do is throw a meteor or asteroid our way if humanity doesn't learn to become what we can.

Complex Grief Disorder

I constantly feel an intense wave of grief and loneliness every morning
when I realize my family is not with me.

While too often
I stay in bed for days and weeks longing for them
and thinking about our time together.

I have assured all the psychiatrist's that I love my only daughter.
I only know
I feel ever increasingly distant from her and she doesn't understand how I never moved on after I left her deadly mother.

planted each night where you sleep.
Wading across the wide river that winds

Knowing your name

How To Qualify Americans For Gun Owner Ship

The world looks to U.S. to solve it's big problems.

Even now each one of U.S. before marriage must take classes and before each divorce it's a must.

Psychological testing by qualified experts might discern before buying a fire arm by one should become the new must.

Creating a new nitch and lucrative economy.

This new form of gun owner ship would provide a better avenue to determine mental and physical, qualification to said owner ship.

Saving hundreds of lives each year in America.

Becoming perfected over the course of each year.

Made mandatory for all whom would own one.

Job Security And Isis

America has always been vulnerable to those that tell lies.
Forcing the propaganda of lone wolves down our throats
as we wait for another school shooting.

Full baseball and foot ball stadium's it does not take a fired C.I.A. agent to know why here the next attacks won't happen.

Why do they want to kill U.S. is the not to often ask question
as the far right crazy American politicians insult your tooth for a tooth intelligence.

America is caught up now in the vicious murders
by law enforcement of it's citizens.
With out the new cheap camera phones these brutal attacks would all go the way as those in the not distant past.

In the recent past a president relied on faulty intelligence to start a war that's claimed millions.
Three days ago his very own brother stated he would have done to U.S. the same thing.
Wanting to lie to you to become president.

Evolution is called progressive, love is a vessel called hope the other forty nine percent again the far right, their very own sins are practiced each day on your children.

Using religion and faith for all the wrong reasons.

Sailor's that sang fell head first over the side.

Clutching twas said, nothing was seen.
Moss grew thinly between the oak planks.

Ropes hanging down, hung all around.
The man in the boat under the hood rowing up stream he screamed out.
Gulping for breath, seeing the breadth of the sea with out a bulging red eye.

Waiting To Die I Have Talked To The Dead

Waiting to die I have talked to the dead
not since I was young have I seen so many faces.
Instruction by them not knowing their names.
So many of them are touched in the head none with wings.

It was I who approached them back then it was I whom then sought them out.
Questions I had each night when I slept more so now I have nothing against life.

Deep are the woods broad and wide are the trees
none have been cut there's no need.
Lust gives away to green eyes.
To circle around making no sound they are as many as leaves on a tree.

Some are those lost suicides, language is there a lost art.
Each mind that you meet never asks why only a few asks what it was that you built.
Laid to rest I must watch where they sleep.

I when I'm there have no further need
I when I'm there need not breath.
I am what I was all that I'm not plenty of rest none say that I need blind to all else
I come to rest against soft lips that I feel.
Waiting to die I can talk to the dead
I begrudge none whom must cling to their life.

Black Or White

Where I live in the Geto I see small children that play in the streets.

For some strange reason unlike the whites they don't think some rapist hides to steal their children away unlike the whites this is where I live there are no bright street lights pipes that supply the water we drink are eighty years old give or take.

Some thing is wrong generation's have come here in Florida and gone the pipe line that leads straight to prison.
I am partial to pork chops and bacon but don't really care for ham.
Elected politicians no matter what race won't address this injustice the white haired white men are afraid they will lose what they gained through corruption.

Half go to prison and become convicted felons like me.
In Florida some few millions can't vote.
After being out for close to two decades we still can't.
What can we tell a Judge that's corrupt but the truth then they get mad.
Yes here where I live with out probable cause comes arrest.
If it wasn't for one Walmart there would be not one place to shop.
They are those in control rule like in the past with iron fists.

All the court rooms over the heads of each Judge reads in God we trust
I'm not afraid that when I die that I'll burn in hell.
In Florida there are faith based prison's.

Now That I Am Old

I was never sold on the prospect that I would grow old but now that I have now that I am, certain things I have learned on my own.

Roses are different now having no scent
they have colours, they had not when a child.

Sleep is a friend,
seeing into the dark I seek out those shadows and smile.

The woods once were deep, the trees once were tall inside of the bush where I hid.
The scent of a rose as it brushed my young nose no thought about death did I have.

Now that I have grown old
I find it a great relief that no thought of such things more attention I now pay to her eyes.

What one wants the other has, strange Gods some people have.

One has worked his life away,

mows their hay.

each day he made his way.
Being poor the other thought,
free men can't work for free.

Police Officer's Are Allowed To Lie Under Oath

I was once in the past and still am subject to, as are the many thousands of people whom plead guilty to crimes not committed, every week across the U.S.
Dressed in that Orange jump suit like a prisoner of ISIS waiting to be beheaded.
Turning my worst face sideways towards the cameras, undiscovered.

They simply lie because they know that a jury believing your word over a police officer's isn't going to happen.

And as that juror, whom I will never be, whom are you more likely to believe?

The handsom well-groomed police officer in uniform, whom just swore to God that they're telling the truth, even though they are devout atheist.

I am naïve, as naive as a child by our endless dreaming, while awake of the pervasive scope of their misconduct, but even more disturbing is the seeming casualness by which such misconduct is suborned by the Judge.

While our downward mobility drives U.S. ever deeper into abject poverty.

latter on.

Grey grainy vedio they will use to convict if they won't cop out.

They tell you that what you saw was what the bistrander shared

Do what your told and dismiss what you saw with your eyes.

Believe what they say and just die.

woods that are deep

Cloked is the shadow the green eye moving slowly Inside of the moss through the grey dimming light moving ever so slowly seen through the peephole two.

Pushing past the very spot when your deep in sleep

For just a few seconds I am the Judge,
I listen to expert witnesses whom are paid for their P.H.D.s.
with no real life personal knowledge.
Like in Florida in their own state mental hospital, over fifty thousand have died there, since back when it opened.
while knowing perfectly well about their own mental compass.
While those who every day some where Leo, has just shot one.
Where only the unattractive are jailed with the poor and people in charge have no obvious station, expecting breaks from reality to fuel their own evil intentions.
One question to you, just what do you really expect from a person whom when traumatic untreated injury's incurred by being robbed and beat on to soften what's already been plainly observed, by people with their own issues and eyes that have no true perspective.

No foot hold in Israel, it would not now be.

Terror And U.S.

Now that they know we will harm them from stealth and ambush and as to this their minds, you've made up as to what we will do that they would do to you, but can not.

They will start now to prosecute more, mass kidnappings to test your resolve and not make a deal and how many nurses and doctors will you give up as they look through your dead milky eyes.

Landscaped reality shows and as they saw slowly through, their heads quickly fall off dressed in our bright colored orange uncovered knee deep in the sand only then we will all know where you stand.

Two Religions That Won'T Go Away

Not at the end of every rain bow is there gold when my hand slips from yours
why wade deeper into death.

When at the end of each day you lie awake
quiding the light out into.

The more that you dream, the less they will see why some become what most won't.

Through out history unto now tomorrow some how others are placed in the path religions unmask
there are two who won't stop, till your dead.

Held Back

Between the light of day and as darkness sleeps on the silver light that shines down on your face your face that I see each day
that goes by believing that the love that I felt was alive.

Each street that I walk leads me up and into that look on your face when the bushes had leaves love was blind to it heart were they shaped to it and the green of it made me think more like it all the more.

A mind that is fresh and not brutalised
the mind that has more more than two milky brown eyes under cover of darkness two eyes that open and shut was I promised back by them not brutalised.

The Judicial System And The Poor

Debtor's prison, jail speeding tickets tell them you are poor.
Facial software technology
let's them know who you are, cop shows.
You are their systematic prey.
Just to get your money.
Interrogation's at the scene you can not remain quite or they will charge you with obstruction of justice for invoking.
Unqualified law enforcement officers.
Who were kicked out of the military and are protected by preverted HIPA laws meant for the mentally ill and the infirm.
Law enforcement has been militarized for you and only you.
When you've had enough and rise up, they will be waiting at the air port to keep you from joining ISIS or some other irrational crazy militant group.
The systems was rigged before you were born and you never had a chance because of your need to stay poor while you watch Jerry Springer and Judge Judy.
Watching your dysfunctional life on t.v.

How To Create A Terrorist

Break up a family and abuse
the small children and take and destroy their home.
Put all your innocent children at a young age place them in America's prisons and allow them to be constantly raped.

Sun Tzu,
said divide and conquer pitting America's poor blacks against America's endless white trash.
Society condones this they like a sick show
elitists stay safe, while exploiting their brothers.

After all it's why their killed like a thief in the night, practicing slovenliness your killer comes.
Radical Muslims or Bible thumping Christians, intelligent people know that in death is the void it is final.

Foolish people think that with or with out a gun
you will be safe,
it just makes it easier to kill the good men,
than those whom are corrupt and deserve it.

Righteousness in the form of a man and a women know that a child can't be allowed to eat what they want.
Why are the ignorant and damaged, uneducated people, be allowed to decide the fate of their non - advocated brethren.
Based on their unending need for revenge, that prohibits the dark from ever seeing the light, being snuffed out to what end.

Roaches being eaten by geckos likened to the ant
people are,
What people watch on their home T.V.s tells any whom see the nature of their true character, and their lack of conviction,
with a sick need to see people suffer, traumatized Cop shows and pitiful people by the thousands in American prisons.

How do you make a home grown terrorist?

There are currently thousands waiting to get out because you find it acceptable to treat the American system as they treat their prisoners as rodents and or trash. By hurting human beings as to what not to do as a training exercise.

There are hundreds of thousands of ways to get back for this harm to be killed by police and their love of a lone terrorist. Like being a coward and not addressing the known wrongs, that caused it.

Made Electric By The Moon

Electric though your body is it changed my soul, and who I thought went there I know where lovers go.
Back from where you came you show how I repose,
and when below the moon with out stretched hand I with you each night have.

Warm shivers body shakes from,
I am touching what have I, I kiss right there.
Where armies can not change the way you feel.
By reaching out a hand to where you think I stand.

Doubters through our window huge eye balls that stare, free to let them see what no one else has shared.
Winding rivers filled with milk and why it calms me down, and the courage at what they see by how it feels.
Free to see the moon when it is setting, when it's full.

And when if after all their the body feels electric and if the body does not fill as fully as, as much I'll go.

quite warm.

The bush is full and white

The Mask We Wear

Is thin and without color to the eye.
It hides the sadness and the joy a mask can't cry.
People smile when they are sad,
and feel great joy where others turn away.

Greatness waits with bated breath to hear each suborned lie.
If behind the mask some strain to pay their children's debts as those whom hide behind their masks expect from you much more.
Old age wears down the corners of cracked lips.

Utterance's spoken can not reach through to the ear,
Counting all the sheep that pour right through the open gate.
Is the world more wise behind the mask their father's wore,
To thee of your one God the mask can't hide.

Dark And Deep

Dark and deep the woods are pink they keep my secrets safe.
Beneath the loamy soil,
the leaves have filled a void, my one good eye that sees you it now glows.
Above my face from back to front hangs moss that hides the moon.
A moon that's round and bright a moon that's always filled.
Below the cave where people come to hide their dead and then confess.
Around you I once was the trees are tall, I hear a voice that says.
The length, the girth, one root runs deep they watch it as it swells, it speaks of whispered depths.
Damp moist air rests in between the bark the howling wind that can be felt.
Green round mouths that suck with teeth that cut are filled with flesh that's ripe.
Bush's hide green leaves that grow on skinny twigs, turned brown.
A spell is written by such words that touch a beating heart, that's filled with blood.
Twin lips made full when speaking words from you, I heard confessed.
After dark the woods are filled with shallow graves dug up.
Dug up by lovers one that was the other never felt, until you came.
Robert said the woods are lovely when they're over grown and dark and deep.
All who enter walk outside two boulders that are tightly by one squeezed.
Out it comes it gushes out in torrents and in streams the human race.

To the right their is pain, pain that those feel, pain they don't feel

Those born to feeble to know how to speak, to articulate words, arranged in their fear, not of the dark but of they whom have control over light.

Damaged minds from the crimes they have done unto them.
From the light life has come that death takes back, turned from the gifts that you had.

Evil has had such a start, Christians the fuse that they lite,
a few Muslims do what they do the far right,
sadly that both are overwhelmed, emotionally compromised.

My Love Was Hard

Knowing now that love is hard.
The woods we know were wet,
and cold and dark and miles to deep.
The air smells of old pine leaves.
Some thing we have always known,
our bed from childhood made.
Here is where I hold her maybe no.
It's something I have said aloud for me to hang onto.
Not like a sexy thought.
More like a thinly veiled full moon.
But if she became pregnant could I bare her name, would it be the same?
The Nuns said I must go.
There are no more fresh roses, bushes without thorns to put my finger on.
After her father confronted me,
he wasn't wrong as she turned the home alarm off
it was then her window she then opened.
Silence was my greatest enemy out on the roof,
her sisters room was next to hers.
It was then I knew how hard my love would be.

Her lips were warm as I slowly stood

In her hair that smelled of apples not far from the tree beneath her chin my hand turned

Closer to me moving in moving out

I Was Raised By A Colored Maid

Gone I once was with the wind in the South back to a time when then as a child I once was, here where we lived time stood still.

Butter milk and moist cornpone was never less always more than a word home made grits.
Ox tails, green collards, fresh squeezed lime, potatoes mashed,
pecan pie, butter and biscuits, ice tea.

Before it was to late U.S. children could never understand it, all the dark white hate, directed by them to our colored mothers their maids whom brought more than sweet syrup to our plates.

The railroad tracks were where we were warned of before we became mirrored images of our parents.
A tad east and a bit west a little ways north, just a stones throw some ways off to the south of were all of the wooden homes that we lived in.

Important men with well worn heels without respect for decent folks, the ones whom could not back then vote.
Knowing if they could twould vote mostly Democrat.
We were always curious about how they could deny respect to U.S. and give nothing to the other and stir up such hate?

Now it is fifty years latter she they and them have lived for over one hundred years in the same home
they come from the Church and give U.S. a ride to vote inside of the van we can't help

but to speak about how we once lived in one district represented by a community member and how some old white man with white hair gets on T.V. and says he is for U.S..
Most of U.S. have at least one family member in some back woods hidden Prison he holds stock in.

Cosby Bill

There are so many faces of the accusers so many in fact that even after being drugged that most slept through every thing their panties being removed quickly their bras and their nipples in his mouth sucking rectal rehydration did he use lubrication did he take one or the other as trophy's or just as quickly use his mouth and tongue to hummingbird flickingly like you would do every day and or nightingly or did he use his thumb and forefinger tainted as a weapon sliding them in and out brutally fast that even in sleep most afterwords inadvertently other than for instant sexual gratification why would he risk every thing on what would to him be freely given and other than the memory of that slow aching afterwords it was never able to be duplicated their motives thirty years latter now amount to what advising the other that nothing can be gained by talking.

I've Noticed That Your Daughter Is A Psychopath

When you thought that no one was looking;
I saw you stick a long needle through the back and right up through the head of a lizard.

By now it's too late to watch out for her rubbing in a way that excites the boys in class in unhealthy ways.

Due to the denial of the parents and or the fact that they were and still are the most likely suspects being untreated, not medicated, and like themselves not wanting to draw attention to her and that the entire family is unstable because.

I planned each parent's divorce and would be convicted of malicious intent of said act and I have been seen at night carrying things out with unfocused eyes and tight lips
with other boys and girls of unsimilar like mind.

Does she unmovingly moan and wet the bed with her friends in the bed and confess to setting the fire that killed grandma and grandpa and of torturing small animals that she gave unnatural names to like Amen.

Watch for the climbing of tall trees and walking across empty large fields devoid of rose bushes and even more unbecoming
even more talkative and a history of acting out.

By now she is unable to see things from your point of view,
and lacks any type of empathy,
and is especially troublesome when seen together with her new friend's and late dates.

By now you have realized that it is too late you ignored your intuition, and you want to believe that your child is different and very special and your own struggle with mental illness it unthinkingly overwhelmed her.

She has now realized that communication is the key to her success and the failures of others as she fetchingly watches her parents behavior and strange dress on the Jerry Springer show winking each heterochromatic eye at them as the cops come on stage and haul both parents away.

Those Armies In Our Land

In our streets the people meet Their faces most belong and guiding them amongst the throng
the media shows each place.

Gas street lights have been replaced by nights of stranger sights.
Mad about why others chose with eyes that others closed.

Most pay no thought as tear gas bursts upon the ground hands raised above their heads.
Amies come and fall upon with rifles and great tanks.

Bullets fly
they can't replace what's lost and torn away.

Strangers in a stranger land confused can't find their way
the people voice that can be heard the wind blows more than words.

Living In Fear

Where you are taken by them and shown around the dumping grounds he was too young to remember where there I lived for so long no one gives too much thought to those prisons hidden and the jails where I was and before they were allowed to put children there we were placed into those psychiatric wards where patients like Karen Carpenter
we never heard about until.

Birds were never meant to sing the way I do and singing songs
I sing my song, I sing this song for you.
If I have lived by some too long
it's not their fault they've tried to silence me.
A work of art one Judge has said
I live in fear instead.
My wings are clipped they took my mind
I can not move around.
Now where I live they take from me what little I can't have.
Peace of mind that money can- not bring to those without.
America must feel this way and freedom when freedom for you is not free, until it is you've paid.

The Politics Of Fear In America

Americans never understood the complicated ramifications of the Patriot Act using the inherent fear all people have of each other. When driven into hiding, where once good people could spread far and wide to evolve beyond American politics and racial limits. Without contact with each other we are dehumanized. Martial law will come, not if but when people become afraid to walk the streets they live in. Turning each other upon, setting legal precedents once set into motion driven by fear, civil reasoning can not for decades bring back.

The Roman Colosseum is more than a land mark to history one half million human beings lost their lives there. Compounded interest in modern day numbers would reprehensibility represent thirty to forty million Innocent Jews in Hitlers ovens, where the only people afraid were the people being killed for the shocking entertainment of those watching. Can a racist argue in American courts Jews are Black. Confusion ensues where you are told that the opposite of Vote or Die to most means.

Could America create one million Jobs by changing the appearance of the homeless, would they, would you? They they represent you, are you this faceless representation of them that you stand for, and what in your name that they claim they are doing for you? Human beings are the condition called you.

The Supreme court now will decide on what you write to be heard because of your fear of each other.

Nasty Lucy

I was in prison like you, more than once, aren't those memories precious.

My girlfriend inside was a nasty she bitch.
I remember me once lying on her back with her face buried between those iron bars
as she laid on her rack in our cell.

She finally let my pull down her chain gang panties
so I could kiss her 'skin to skin'.
I'd have a surprise for you,
she said with that funny grin, and opened her legs.
Nothing else to her mattered.

Well, what are you waiting for?
Grinning she asked as I set too.
Afraid after backing out that you'll get a mustache?
Shaving each day not before.

I locked my eyes on to hers and pulled back her lips to my nasty surprise bucking and mewing, really making a show out of it.
It was really gross smelling.
She loved me acting like such a pig, just for her.

I kept myself dirty, all day on the thirty waiting for me to come home, so she could be nasty to others but never to dirty for me.
Nasty Lucy had done something like this before.
My sentence done I never looked back doing hard time on the thirty.

form in the middle of their eyes from they whom have paid to watch me

kept in the dark by white capitalist hearts.
The end of our great Republic, done in by fear allowing children with Guns, to kill you.
Faced with change, like he said killed maimed and tortured by some strange rule of law, poached from ambush killed in the open by your children.
Are Republicans to afraid to embrace change or will they scorch the earth and obliterate most of the Blacks to stay.
Deal with these issues openly or half of U.S. will die.

Your Lips Your Hands Your Mouth I Miss The Most

Being borne up by the wind high into the sky I am afloat
I see each cloud that plays a part to quench a mouth on fire below around full lips that are.

And stretched apart receding smoke that's white across red clay hands spread through open mouths of rocky coast a waving sea of grass and green it is.

American Rule Of Law

When the system becomes out dated due to the moral corruption of it's judicial officer's of this country's people and the investigative process through the psychological manipulation of each respected race wherein they are poor and uneducated and unable to articulate the problems the system has created where by the arresting officer based on upbringing is unknowingly each a racist, regardless of color where judgement is perfected to ignore the pain and problems of the monsters they created for target practice while the prisons that are called correctional institutions watered down
the law of rights concerning the accused states like Florida laws have passed specifically designed to force Judges to throw out common since and prosecute the damaged minds of those the system has created while not remaining free even out of jail of improper government influence the rule of law is used to prosecute the poor in a timely and effective manner does it matter to the racist?

Genetic Predisposition Towards Violence

Logistical reasoning would infer that over the course of hundreds of thousands of years humanity lived in a very violent habitat, where violence was a simple act of survival.

Hence living in an affluent family or stable environment merely eliminated the need to exhibit unwanted violent behavior though as a basic need for survival the short gene MAOA thought to be the basic foundational gene combined with the serotonin neurotransmission (transporter gene 5-HTT and monoamine oxidase A and MAOA) contributed immensely along with poor impulse control to genetic predicted violent behaviour to approximately sixty - seventy five percent.

With most of the world still actively engaged in violence and with the U.S. seeking more efficient ways of killing leaves the greater world at a great disadvantage towards killing. I would assert that the greater Masses with their inability to understand what was just stated are at greater risk from their respected governments concerning genetic predispositions towards violence, i.e. law enforcement shootings, and the general public concerning mass shootings.

The only conclusion that can be inferred is that legislatures can not pass laws that eliminate violence against you. People don't like being poor or hated on and to think if they could, do you think for you that they would? Where social economic disadvantages are not addressed and the equation of violence is not a matter of choice but of your genetic predisposition towards those whom know this and thus use it against you every day.

Useless Poets

Are a grab bag of boring people whom say nothing of interest except a regurgitation of what has been said by another over time as far back as can be remembered love and hate, good and bad
God and Atheist spouting words written by those considered art not achieved by rearranging some thing that has nothing to do with current events where those whom hold power thinking some one else will draw attention be locked up or even killed to save those whom live some where else instead of here thinking it cute to say instead of your or cuz instead of because most are lazy undisciplined trying to get some thing for nothing without putting in the time to learn about what goes on in this world where the taking of your life in a heart beat they would raising children to be even poorer than you drives me mad
not having a pot to piss in thinking by the having of a baby will improve this your lot in a life that you unable to read and write never had they have thousands of prisons for your children wake up or they will just simply kill all of you preferably five or six billion and clone whom they want in this world

they destroy knowing nothing from you about all of this will be said
you have one or two moves left before check mate
where one half of you will be used to feed the other half that you eat and they laugh while you pay with good coin as they will for this you will earn by making love to some God that can't hear.

God And Most Young People

We don't want to hear about what's out of date and out of style, the word has gotten out you're not that smart and sadly yes
you hate an honest open smile

We don't need to go to church to do what's right not like you, my friend's are nice and they don't hate on you.

Though you are in your thinking square, you are our wise parents
We don't want to be raised like you you were abused
you're bible said to never spare the rod and so they beat on you.

Listen mom and Dad
I read the bible for one reason and it's not the same as yours
I know you wish to grow and if I said to open up your heart and and eight track mind to what we are and what it is we say and please be kind
as you grow old just in case we do.

Gentle Night The Wick Has Burned

Gentle night the wick has burned loves crush was enough should tomorrow rise before the sun, I turned to ask.

Their faces all look east the wait
as west would claim today.

Such grief by he was brief and borrowed though for some those few have looked and turned away in wait, they fear their turn.

I'm sad about the future as it came to her to late her life she lived like dreams of yesterday.

I have now confessed, confession was to late to do her any good, as her father kissed her cheek.

Dancing Gay Foot Steps

I trod lightly, homophobic world behind iron bars
where you put me, loving.

Cold bare walls
though they be weeping
white the sleeping snow.
Melted hearts pulled apart where roses dare not grow.

Quite grows they I can hear what others said before.
I have not come tis morning ere a distant thunder roared.

The well mowed felds of living oaks move slowly back twords me gently gathered up I am now felled.

I am at rest, I to was young one other with this secret turns away
to face a certain frightful date.

I have danced at my last dance
forevers not to long,

Aye There's More To Death Than Life

I have been around and if better things I do with death of dreams I've found.
From my perch I watch, I have heard the talk of prolonging life and if I'd ever come.

If by example I would set to rapid of a pace
I have looked upon the empty streets at the saddest faces that I've ever known.

None call out to me O' death come take my life they say instead that I have passed them by, I hang my head.

Street to street, from house to house none answer to their name
I have called out and closing eyes, unwilling I explain.

I have no wife, no daughter or a son
I've been proclaimed by Kings for those died well
that did not call me back in life to dwell.

Since I'm acquainted with the darkest night
there is no wrong or right though there is light.

Child Abuse No Fine Line

Perfect children only exist in your mind at Sunday school it is said, spare the rod spoil the child primitive thinking it is.

No fine line can exist in your mind leaving inside life long mental scars and if children could think, what use for you would they have?

When it is through logical reason admitted to pose as a question to every Judge if abuse to a child is committed does abuse not exist due to (money) or lawsuits not go on,
when no action is due to that all along.

Each damaged child is a crime against Humanity
everything that you knew that you drew from your past now is wrong, and what you should do in ignorance of what by you was not ever learned still yelling at them and beating on them because your bible says
it's o.k.
Leaving them unfit to be parents for life.

Girls Getting Dumped, It Feels Like

With my mother's stolen wine
I toast to the end of the world, inside I'm climbing a tree in the dark
my broken heart,
green leaves have all turned brown.

My guy was away for one day it felt like a month the ice man he cometh near out of touch here inside of my chest is that fear.

I skyped, I face booked, I insta gramed kinda like
I know how you do each day, my girlfriends know
how can they know before me?

Supply - - your name, Dear Grace
he knew, that I knew about what you knew, and you my friend,
the longer I think,
I am, Lord I'm weak from the shock.

I mumbled o.k.
putting it off any longer I can't I'm sorry he said
let's be friends and my jumbled thoughts dumped in front of my friends minus one that won't to me say.

What she likes, I used to feel at night through her window he comes the shimmering light that bright glow on his face
I won't see,
until we all meet back at school.

Elegy To The Class Room

Before they knew what depression was
I would scheme and plot to steal candy
by the box.

Today's mounds bars with or without almonds coconut filled with real chocolate.

In the sixties the kids weren't fat and neither was I inspite of the candy
they lost.

Foolish girls were smart as for looks I was not like most of the boys that were mirror images of their father's here in the south.

Elegant teacher's that would beat your ass in front of the class each day, more harm
then good.

Some teachers knew and some didn't care about one small child's appetite for.

Being exposed by example to them all it was U.S. we unwittingly watched many have died over the years but none like those that were lost.

Squatting in the field across from the school where I watched them all as I ate.

Prostitutes And Obscenity

I'm sure would as well

What is obscene to one it could mean that they as a child had theirs

Set Against The Sky

Set against the glowing sky
I hang between, a cloud no two lends credence to my thoughts.

Have you not appeared to drift away, or have you not arranged to instead stay.

Look now, to you I'm not elusive
I'm now caught, while in your hand
I shaking test the borders where you are and I will or I will nought speak of others like this caught.

Muscles seldom used are used by you,
each eye you use the colors choose to see where I have been as budding flowers change.

Reflections,
chase the shadows on the wall
so either stay or go impressions on the window pane to me they seem to look some what like you.

America's Human Rights Violations

Each year by the hundreds of thousands America takes the mentally I'll and the young others
knowing they are permanently damaged and will be made worse locks them up where sexual abuse and the beatings by staff and other inmates on T.V. on any channel that will show it, cops
...locked up raw...ect...ect..
and by this brutality they are released back into society and whom expect them to do what, become the next Jobs or Bill Gates so many unable to care for themselves after that and now they have openly admitted this about America's veteran's and there is no difference between P.T.S.I.
that I stands for an injury inflicted by external source's not the D, which indicates a disorder America
commits hundreds of thousands of human rights violations
every years from now to as far back as was known about that many years no medical releaf
if this then is not what is it then knowing they are harmed.

Leaving
all the others out in the cold with out sin.

Why do you preach about death
it will come soon enough treasure unearthed by they that they left is not yours.

Sheeple come, sheeple go to be used as their used by those.

I mean your not willing die for them, nor woud they ever die for you...lol..

ninety nine million
of them
eat more beef and less chicken being led by the nose getting nothing from them just complain.

Explained The Mystery

I look up from the well round in surprise is my mouth
it's smooth end floods the silence
my hand
to you is my birth right.

Leaning in out over the edge sinking down out of sight close to mine.

If I left unwarranted clues concerning my dues, left to you and what when we met to me I had then appears now I've left all to you.

The length of time and night's without end by some was all that I'd have.

Now all I have left is now knowing you can't explain to them what they have now found, while knowing you can't come here and join me it's dark, cold
and wet,
where I am.

My eyes drink it in It's not love that they've found but an end to some means that is yours.

Blunting Emotional Pain

I started cutting because of what my psychiatrist said to the Judge
he said it may look foreign,
a little bit frightening to parents that have abused their small kids for people that don't understand unhealthy emotional demands teenage mothers, unknown fathers in prison or jail secret cults that have nothing to do with the devil
just because I know your son and or daughter better than you do and why they no longer can cry
twenty years ago before she was born he understood why we are friends that now share secret smiles most are very smart
we try to hurry growing up being Goth dressed in black shades of grey numb the pain feeding us a cocktail of drugs those same Judges and Doctors bought stock in.

Pictures then of unhappy kids taken by they of our parents getting caught in the rain becoming pregnant again, going to Church making gross claims about their religion paying homage

to the greatest cutter of them all calling on him their Catholic father and my mother his sister in Christ
I grow tired of being their patient, being too sensitive those overachievers
a regular child in irregular times with symptoms of borderline personality disorder, anxiety disorder, bipolar disorder, schizophrenia and all of their cuts
I struggle to hide now from them.

James McLain

No One Ever Ask Me

I saw the cuts cuts across her arms across her wrists
I explained to her that the numbness not only in mind
but the unfeeling flesh gave rise to the need for others to feel your pain and learning I listened there was no fear no fear of dying, relying on no other that would not profit from the pain that you felt that they could not of it she said was why she felt nothing about sex his long sharp knife carving curving in, curving out transferring the pain to the knife once again hoping, holding it in, it flowing out like the tears never shed they expected you to shed broken open the locked chest kept hidden from her self that the world had no right to see.

A Sonnet With Out Care

Winter comes and summers left
I can't see your face
I have gained what you have lost such greatness laid to waste
The sun you see my eyes can not as night turns into day
Your lips are white while mine stay dark their lies won't bare the truth Sleep it comes to those whom stay awake while life has shown what death can't take a fading smile that stays Walking by, I stopped and looked inside and what I saw was blindness they had wrought consenting to the end it now draws near.

Time

Time was,
her words gave night to the meaning of day.
All across the fields lay the slain.
Time was,
not closing their open accusing eyes,
hiding I stood up looking at all of the western planes.
Invisible hands that flattened our homes and thinking like them of revenge.
When did all that we loved fall into their trap,
the trap of their psychology they used against U.S.
Time was,
the passing of time allowed them to prearrange
what happened
that all human beings have need to escape from.
Considered ignorant unable to learn
time was against U.S. being forced I have through pain learned.
She quietly grew in power
her history she repeated by persecuting her own.
Dark inventions justified killings of her original secret behind her lofty presence.
Stealthily and unsuspectedly all of this time, time was I couldn't justify their killing of you so I starved amidst all their plenty amidst their hate for me.
Enhanced their power but grew, her desire did not ebb nor flow as it did in history just past.
Now my brothers and sisters on her side you can not be when finally you die for your end it came unprepared.
We shall soon see to late and feel the sharp end it will open U.S. up it will hurt and the purpose to you they never revealed.
Time was not meant to end like this and it must be and be for the poor like you it must be.
For if a proper Christian you are beyond reproach and persecuted not and by your less endowed less bretheran be time has said that they won't change if change is about being death unseen.

Dying A Useless Death

The Philae probe) 67p( has landed on the surface of a comet, scientists announced today it's Wednesday.
Thousands of highly skilled people made it possible.
Enough to start anew and depopulate the planet.

For those whom believe in reincarnation it isn't a far stretch to think that in your past life,
you won't again repeat it.
Giving birth to they whom had no chance or choice
like before you with you they did.
Useless deaths in third or fourth world countries ours has become.

Pharmaceutical companies tested their poisons on your mothers and fathers before you, stupid is as stupid spends your money Hosea in the highest your fleeting hope on some higher power that fled this planet thousands of years ago knowing how life would develope.

Humanity as a whole written off because most human beings seek violence out when again
herein up above there are enough minds to get over the speed bump
the straight forward you that's your backward thinking that some God.

Get thee hence from me whom preach that death means your better off snatched from this life like you snatch theirs to justify the taking of yours because you think religion for you is right, leading the blind out through the back door never to return here again.

Useless is the way most have dying lived hence you will die blind chained to the fate you brought more children into look to the truth turn your face to the sky challenge your death as you did not in life or again useless deaths they like you will die.

Demons

Because my demons are;
not unlike your own.
The walk I walk, you talk
it's quite, white come early dawn.

Back inside my head at night
stays hidden in the room.

Behind those eyes
the demons hide the look that shaped your face.
I am to far from home.

My demons are the shadowed shapes
that can not change the dark.
Daylight when it comes shifts shadows shaped the demons are my own.

My Once Clean Dream

You took from me,
my once clean dreams.
Empty though they were without your sins.

New in thought like snow
my innocence.

On the wooden porch surrounded though I was and by the white washed rails
I stood is where I learned to hold my breath.

Were not the bad dreams
I once never dreamed of you before
I had no say twas so.

Your old dark empty dreams clean thoughts would run astray.
To hold me, ere to long to you, heard not my songs.

Nothing could I do but turn away
they were dim, where mine were light
the egg it's empty shell held tight like mine was cracked.

And so you did, I had no say where I said naught though it were true and sweet and sour truth
where I would do.

A Kiss Will Fade

Swaying on weak knees that you once knew.
Legs that knocked together
you out grew.
Moist lips are perfumed spray.

A kiss I savored every day lips that feel my tongue within a kiss, I dreamed and always dreaming,
dreamers, dream such from a kiss.

Shifting as I shift I feel you shift from one leg to the other.
Swaying as you swayed and swinging as you sway I think.
Petals on a rose will one day fade.
A rose in bloom, why lips like yours can't always taste the same.

Sad My Love Song

It was only my one life that you lived for and some times
the sun shined even through the rain.

Ahh and sometime upon the grass though it's green, I pined for.
My weakness is your hair
I brush out across full breasts such as yours.

One tall tree, one leafy green bush the forest burns out of reach in touch I can't feel.

You think of him as you ride me
the horseman knows what you think each time that you fall to rise to ride again.

Out of sight I sadly reach out to grasp the full moon upon the hill
as it races up behind me.

The smoking scorched earth burning trees bushes bent at such right odd angles moss hangs up from a chin upside down streams gurgling.

I lay hidden by you in the middle of the field
none the wiser knowing full well, here I fell here I died, in the cold balls of fire.

Emo She Is

i cannot be you, i can only see through you, into them.
i see what you do, with her, with him, your self and me.
i see you from the perspective that you never used, you see.
abused to cut, into me, when the splash, is you, in her.
i see through your mirror, you sucking me, how can you do it, to me, to you, inside running out from me, it can see the blue white gash on my head, i see you upside down on deaths bed the blood dropps drip up through the air.
your middle once pink, now clings wet, from the sweat of abuse that she slings upon your face, her shame, yet once again the wooden tree slides down and up between onto the screen of loves, troubled blank gaze your blackness is her day, her cat is your friend, wear him in deaths, last kiss.

Reclusivity

Blank spaces stares the looks, such fear apart indifference to them is.

I pushed and pulled to disconnect so you could live and give.

Sewing up the seams of yesterday
avarice thrives it grows, then joined together by their wits
a room I was forced in.

Threading threadless needles thread
there oft one finger points.
What's lost is lost and no ones found the room I found you in, they've seen you in to live behind whats out of sight within.

In a world that others isolate approved and you must be very good to be pursued, as the wicked run away.

Minxy Tips

First of all girls you need two ripe over developed breasts that have the ability to move like any good political point to the left or right independently and let your self not be baited
because as in any situation where you must be open to over exposure a mother open to suggestion can get you out of tight spaces that the occasional Perve will lay in wait to put the squeeze on you and they will get through the best laid plans just wipe off the spot where they touched you be kind give all the credit to God rescue very small dogs and remember to hide all your money where dad can't find it be smart and unassuming
and jerk off the jerks so they leave you alone.

p.s.

you can't shake off your sandals if you leave police reports behind you and don't forget your diaphragms.

Any Way She Died

At the mental health department is where I met her
I was still living in my car
you know where after your wife says you molested your daughter because she's sleeping with your sister with you're little girl in the bed with them and you bought a lot of property and still had money coming in and the plan was for you to take your own life
you know
the sick things that only someone after being married eight times could really think of.

Any way this is the way for some to get all of the marital assets
in America
now
and their are some that you thought were honest and after picking her up from the hospital after being Baker Acted she did things with my parts and she used one hand then the other when it grew tired

then I was told she died and of those that knew her professionally
most that knew her were glad.

Personally
it felt like my belly button was being pulled out of the end by a string and her eyes would grow blank and she could feel my sharp pains
and when it was over
I would fall deep asleep until it was time to leave.

of a mind to speak it's white in wait.

my feet in loamy soil the smell it tastes and feels.

Dark The Deep Forest Of Childhood

The path through the bush is well worn ivy climbs the brick wall inside of each crack the moss is attached
the light from the west grows cold.

Free as the wind we are bold deeper inside we will go vines hold us back no see ums attack skin that is soft as spun silk
it doesn't matter how far we can run.

We hide in a tree a tree full of leaves watching him slowly walk by.

Here there's a place where others have gone
none have come back

Your Back Door Will Stay Broken For A While

Taking a long, hard-earned dump feels great,
there's no question about it.
Now, take this wonderfully cathartic feeling, multiply it by a million and then turn it into a negative by attaching a big, bold minus sign (-) to the front of it.
And you wonder why cat's meow.

Woman To Have Needs

Collecting money she has earned a man today will not.

Serving, served as well she served,
whose life she served today.

No selfish act men hold her back as told by yesterday.

Selfish battles men have won to hold a woman back.

Who has served as woman served she helps along the way.

Women understand the beauty of each simple act.

To work for less another day her selfless smile it hides his shame.

A strong man, knows the weak and holds her ear.

A day will come I'm sure of it when woman will be paid

The Decline Of Competent Mental Health In Florida's Prison's

My first night in Raiford was brutal awakened in the middle of the night in his mouth and being unable to finish
it lasted for hours.
It was the only time I reported the rape being severely beaten for self reporting
the act.
Over the next few years without any treatment or help this I thought of.
Climbing the fence to be shot
every day like the day before.

Leadership in the field of mental health naturally declined, while the inability to attract competent physicians in this field went unaddressed.

Homosexuals with full blown A.I.D.S. went unserved,
as walking stickman thrived.

Conditions became malignant, therefore, men became warehoused and sodomized
over worked inmates thus died.

The best solution of getting rid of inmates serving life was to stick or be stuck more then would die.

Being raped over a hundred times
my being dehumanized isolation, overcrowding, neglect and mental illness cell extractions being brutalized
I took an a.i.d.s. test on release and survived.

I lived in solitary confinement between being raped, no one helped.

Now That I Care

You are now more than that and now that you are I can care Even though the trees I once planted have gone
the same way as all of the trees planted by me once before.

And now that I must as all of the rest covered by moss breathing air
when I am dead and over me hangs branches that rise up over here.

A face that knew pain
A face that was kind shining before up until.

And raining down from high up above is that sun
I knew once before.

Before Criminal Behavior Becomes Dangerous

Once time was the hour glass with two parallel sides.
Without taking the fight to the poor.
With the ability to alter them genetically.
Without the technology to read harmless minds.
They must then now be.
Without a mind to read, damaged by some whom have lied.
Made from devices,
conceived in human minds the spread of fear about sex.
Now I must limit your freedom of expression where the more, were never less then now so obvious.
Where hate is condemned and put in a cage.
The use of serious force is the demise of all righteous victims.
Stop the assault on human beings of all ages, denounce the involvement of children the world over all communities differ in tolerance for unconventional sexual behavior.
We must learn to raise healthy children.

The Reflection On One So Wise 'Abraham Lincoln' For Whom The Bell Tolled

'Every man is proud of what he does well; and no man is proud of what he does not do well. With the former, his heart is in his work; and he will do twice as much of it with less fatigue. The latter performs a little imperfectly, looks at it in disgust, turns from it, and imagines himself exceedingly tired. The little he has done, comes to nothing, for want of finishing.'

Abraham Lincoln.

'When a man is led to believe that the pride in the work that he thought was done well, is undermined by himself, or others, for lack of instruction, where such instruction would not be rebuffed, then those whom could so instruct are just as responsible for the want of his finish. For when his heart is in his work and he seemed tireless in the pursuit of it's perfection, while knowing full well that nothing is perfect, when if fortunate enough, then his efforts could at the very least be perceived as his willingness to bring himself up from his past failure'.

With Out Your Love I Must Leave

I am in this her house where we live, being not mine, must I leave, being in love
I've given to you, love that to you I gave all.

Being naive I soon realized how silly to most that I was and hiding where none could see I would cry a cynical world half empty to most this cold cruel world is not now for me, I now see,
I was meant to leave a world not for me at all.

Internet Trolls

No one wants to to be more right than you.
You've no desire to be wrong.
Fanning the flame, massaging the wannies on them.
Virgin vaginas, you watch as Fabian fills them all.
Opening up wide legs are spread to receive your daily bread.
Holy most high you offend me by, pumping in endless dreams you endorse with your mouth.
Dislikes will they claim being the most hungry of them all.
Deep bores the troll, wide the stream, stretching seams
as they split from the force, knobby clubs with spikes feel are weeping full.
What we all know and hate - two people grunting two, they do, this to you know where you did it, why bother to lie.
With todays atmosphere, is it not at all surprising someone would not do you forcibly (sensationalistically) poking and prodding egos budding into flaming heads butting as heads do.
Trolls visit to visit, you willingly go and seek them out,
freak to freak afterwards the thrill of anonymity no release.
By another man watching you through the mirror looking down from the ceiling seeing what you can't discribe such a terrible thrill that it pushes the boundaries insanely apart watching your first conception before it happened through sexual intercourse.
Though still in denial about being a far right Republican.
The sex police get off on tracking you down, making those claims that they did what your accused of.
Not willing to wait, showing up early for work at their expense.
Going there where you roam, where they go to stalk and wait.

Being Ill And Alone

Shallow my sleep
I have heard muffled sounds very close in the mist the mist I breath out in my dreams.

Dreaming
below in the valley along the stone steppes trodding down from behind me.

The rusty iron gate moves in and out leaving red stains behind me.

While I dream each night different odd dreams trying to find the one dream
where I'm not alone
I wait for the dream that is right.

Archeology

The sound of ancient, old with age that resonates with sight, touch and smell.
The mystery of what lived before,
good or bad that history could not change.
The thrill of some thing new,
never having been seen by human eyes for hundreds if not thousands of years before by them we knew nothing about again until.
With one sweep of the brush its like Haley's comet the build up of excitement the inward hope that each time it comes some thing known will be shown to be different.
People come, people go what they leave behind their spirit unseen, deeply felt it is shown by them through archeology what they made, the warmth of it that which was found by they in the palm of your hands.

When Or If

Advice if asked is based upon one simple truth opened and kept wide are they with sight.
Some give away their lives for what is right while others beat a path, straight out of sight.

Precognition not in a dream, kept wide awake
yet in sleeping each good King, relies upon.
Failure is a virtue if one can raise them selves above it yet most feet are wisely anchored to the ground.

Some will play the victim none can sway
while one must play a roll, an honest face.
Now a secret few can hold and fewer ever will secrets without trust for gold are always told.

True friends will always stay no matter how it ends while those that weren't a proven friend have like a thief in your good night, nigh walked away.
Good men are if in reach, what's more to ask?

James McLain

Meaningless

From birth to death having nothing, no one else.
Trapped inside
an unwanted ethnicity.
Struggling to survive in a world the game long since has rigged.
Taxing my mind to confess I freely do, you charged my soul that only is.
Competing for sleep
in a world where others don't.
Having no choice in how to die unless it's made by them and I will suffer more than someone should until I do.
Speaking to the few whom understand the way I write because in speech
I write the way none think.
Making sense of sentences in poetic form without chopping words from them because no other can.
Reading minds
if minds they were since mine has struggled to the point of no return.
Let's face it every word that I have used by those whom came before you tried to make a reason for.
Meaningless it is if the struggle in the end is being forced inside a point of light that ends the way it did before.

Continuously A Stream Uninterrupted

It was an uninterrupted, thick stream of milk, continuously.
Out side of the tree hung from the limbs moving leaves.
Manic hands reaching the point underground where fingers are never still.
Continuous uninterrupted streams inside of the tree are it's rings.
Green leaves point to one limb
a very long limb connected by two ropes is a swing.

Sheriff Deputies My Room Mate And D.C.F.

Because he's a minor I will not name names
twelve thirty a.m.
that knock on the door very loud.

Four sheriff deputies and one female D.C.F. worker after my room mate came out he was set upon by them.

I advised my room mate in front
of them
that he should not speak without an, Attorney present

I was instructed by one of them that I could be taken to Jail for obstruction.

I thought this very unusual
I mean five adults against one young Untrained mind he just turned seventeen.

The seventeen year old is still in the next door down about three feet away
he doesn't say much and I don't blame him.

Quote # 7

It is time to reevaluate the American judicial system as the lives of just the children that they have don't end up where there at if the prison sentence isn't for real violence not some one in jail whom would plead out just to be released through duress which happens tens of thousands of times each year.

Two Books For Each Person

The Bible is taught for there are truly only two types of people the learned and unlearned while the learned reads for truth and fluid poetry and needing not to extend to the other hate, hard ship or lack of self control while the unlearned must go through life being told that for them there is hope when there is naught and verily over time they believed some one would come down and save them.

Hiding In The Open In Her Room

Deep inside the woods
the sun
is slowly filtered out darkness
hides the vines as they begin to climb into the heart of black oak filled forest.

Intermittent spaced are limbs tha catch my sleeves while here and there a tree that are leafless every one.

I remembered grassy knolls and all the bushes there and why shes hanging back
I can not tell.

I'd been on the run where she did not come to find me.

And while she knows now who it is, that I am there's no need for her to go back into that dark forest.

It's Not Nice To Kill Other People

Do you think about the things they did to you
each day?

Did it hurt
the thought that most would say that what you did provoked your early death.

Everything they introduced like AIDS and crack Ebola's death was meant for only you.

Normal things we used to hate are gone wanting more for them that have no chance at life they took from you.

What you knew how long you knew and doing nothings not the same.

What's your life ideally worth to them?

If your not paying in even I must be a fool sometimes of death i've thought.

That even with all that's said
if true
it's not nice my dying friends to kill other people just because you can.

Shaking Off The Finger Tip

....Shaking baby silent, one kept saying,
she's doing things dead babies arn't supposed to do, you might not want to come, I'm over here can you stand me up?
To wipe completely off the smile, she bent his sun lite finger.
Her talking never stopped, until the finger straightened out unbent and the Doctor when he came, she looked as if and deeply said.
Nurse go and tell the others, exactly what we've seen and how it felt and hurry, come now go the golden finger has come to late to life, why the baby stood up next to me and moved before it died
the sun it slowly rose make her hurry, don't explain.
The baby in the napkin has stopped moving ....are you shaking and why no one here once stopped to hear it cry.

Democracies Ideally Must Fail

The sad fact is people aren't smart enough for Democracy to flourish.

The democratic process is predicated upon individual assumptions that citizens (the majority of them, at least) can recognize the best political candidate, or best policy idea, when they hear or see it.

Whoa, back up and think about this for a moment, how many arguments have you had within your own familia about politics and religion doesn't count nor should it.

I love southern words.

Now imagine how your conversation would go right up to and over this person
of low unethical to moderate intelligence.

What if this ignorant individual solved most of their differences with violence as most still do.

The odds of them then pulling the wrong lever goes way up where the lever is pulled, voting for the worst possible candidate on purpose just to show you that I can make all of our lives more miserable.
Ever run across one of those, please don't mix apples with oranges, concerning me just yet.

Humbled I smile.

Incompetent people are inherently unable to judge the competence of other people, or the quality of those people's ideas.

For example, if people lack expertise on justice reform,
it is very difficult for them to identify the candidates who are actual experts or they turn to fear that one factor that enables such folks to actually make a difference where a difference was not needed to make.

They simply for the lack of the proverbial picnic and having not the mental tools or their one sandwich short unthinking they never needed, to make a lasting meaningful judgment or impression therein not felt.

As a result,
no amount of information, data or facts about political candidates can over ride the inherent dangers the inability of voters to accurately evaluate them.

American's don't buy uncle Tom's maple syrup, they buy...Mmm.. doesn't it taste good come on now you thought it, spit it out and on top, beneath the stack of them that.
Most smart ideas are going to be hard for people to adopt, because most people don't have the sophistication to recognize what a good idea is or where it comes from.

This requires intelligence, good logistical skills, critical thinking,
sound reasoning and a whole host of other intellectual skills, most people from birth never had.

I'm sorry to hear Dear, did you say that Mum before you were born smoked crack.
Or that you have alcohol fetal syndrome like my daughter
It also requires the ability to tell the truth from a lie

when it's being sold, most folks today by those untruths
then ask why they had such a need to die for them.

Indicating that they would lie about anything and in reticence their inability to react appropriately when one lie they will hear is.
Stupid is as stupid does, where this kind of stupid affects all of U.S. the vast majority.

Did you like that new word I just invented few knew.

No one likes to be told that they are delusional when it comes to their own intellectual skills.
Whether it's correctness of grammar, or even their own subpar performance in a game of simple chess just to keep their wits about them at the cost of someone else.

By keeping mine, infinitesimally sharp.

Speaking for myself I do this on a daily basis, that word there above I could get lost in
I know that I nearly did.

Again sadly people as a rule will always assess their own performance as above average, even people like me whom when tested, actually performed at the very bottom of bell's sexy curve.
Incompetent people too ignorant to know and proudly like me they must show it.

But I digress so,
let's just stick with how their lack of mental tools, affects U.S. the all, in our failing democracy.

Ideally democracy is,
one person,
one vote and it was by they designed to hold hostage.
A persons inability to judge for themselves new ideas and issues that to them would be to a few no big problem
so there goes that left handed wrong lever again.

The real world is not an ideal world.
And the further away one moves from the dream of an ideal democracy, the less rational voters like I whom can never vote become.
Take America's Arcane sex offender laws the vast majority won't reoffend hence they need not have their lives destroyed by people unqualified to vote whom tie their vote premised on said ignorance to one's running for office.

While those few whom will reoffend kill the child because the punishment for both crimes is the same, so they won't alive leave a witness, kinda like letting your five year old child dictate to you what they will eat or they will call D.C.F. on you.

Sound familiar.

Not to bright humans as a rule are so very poor if at best illogical problem solvers look at the current Ebola scare and the fear that some Texan, on a suicidal whim would expose you to certain death...mmm...well they did.

If that were all there was to it, we could conclude that democracies always fail because voters can not distinguish between a good idea and a bad idea.

Premature death to me is a bad idea, what do you think?

I could go on and on and say nothing at all like I just did you smile at the hetic pace I set...Don't let's be obtuse.

The vast majority, I've not touchéd upon.
From birth bless their hearts, they never had a chance and being as they are I could not, even if they tried to read this, without developing a blinding migrain headache.

Gun Control Is As Easy As This

Trillions spent in lives and treasure lost.

Technology
now exist to replace every Gun legally owned in America.

With finger print technology where only that person can fire that gun
not even a child.

Only illegally owned Gun's
by criminals and law enforcement would object.

The immediate impact would be to cut the murder rate
by over ninety percent.

Pawn shops through having the seller of that Gun
through their print would prove the lawful owner of said

Gun.

Imagine such simple Gun control
if soldier's loose their Guns
they are rendered useless.

No more school shootings
at all for a one time only ten or twenty billion it's as simple as
that.

Then we converted to Islam side by side fingers lost deep inside the once living now dead shriveled up rose back then all we talked about was why sould we foamy wave moves,

sand about my face.

In another

one shan't refuse.

My Only Affair With An Older Woman

the sex was great I am now

I got married to my first and only wife no longer with her embarrassing awkward moments two out of three we had.

Drunk she tried with the other she eats only meat and a slap in the face

she received.

I mustive been that never got out of bed for a while I was drained.

Moments all good and bad then she came the daughter you see with me.

I really never recovered after finding out that after I left my sister
in my house

for a year and one half was sleeping in plain view in front of my daughter.

The sheriff now in Congress sent a deputy there to run her off, confessional poetry sucks
it leads you back to where I went after that.

I lived in my car for three years during what I would call abuse to my child
if your gay it's O.K.
though I'm not with that cause I'm straight.

to reach the other side
I dream of night.

Punitive they say it's not but you know it is all the money
that I spent then punitive it is.

The toll that it has taken on the young
the other side of young most will never reach.

may God have more than mercy on this soul if my mind decides to go like my mother's Mother did.

Who will make sure

my nursing home won't be prison jail and death
they gave no thought to this Florida's self arrest
I'm not a Jew
I'm just like you.

Gums Bumping

Dear your smile
I seek as I recline
the rocking chair up twords.

Slow moving stars reach forward blind
to meet the lips that I.

Gulping air
my sight grows dim
I'm still.

Coming down
I'm lost in space
the moon
it fills the sky.

By Her Own Emissions

I became full of more than fear when it happened.
and political correctness with this in the news almost daily
The chalk board flat at my back
Only seven feet seperated her chair from me the subject material seemed to bore her eyes glazing more at my thoughts teaching class watching snap dragons bloom in the chairs.

Then I saw the middle of her thin white panties dry they were clear growing moist not quite wet dreaming of, I am sure
of him.

The knott in my back,
and her arms and legs I was told are sore.
Just as well,
each day is the same putting her through the paces yesterday's gone, afternoons here and I will never receive any mercy I know.

And by her own emissions their dry clung mixed inner thigh and her mound was of dry fine hair had I such a core, had she caught my eye still it throbbed in my mind quite dully.

Wendy

Trembling
very self consciously,
I undid her button and it hung up open on the soft Cardigan
we both remained still neither breathing covering both breasts,
I dared not ask if what we felt was our hearts beating.

The Girl That Looks Like Me

The sight of her
I saw myself
I walked inside to see.

And then to find
I turned around
it's true
what people say.

I have found
I'm sure a way
I think
I look at her.

A baby has her fathers looks she is what I found.

One end is split the other can not speak
the Knott of fear
inside that grows, can never hide from me.
The pinch, the breadth to some whom know, such knowledge is the key.
A perfect word, a well turned phrase
each sentence
that is spoken that you read.
Why it is the moon when full brings you to the edge, the edge of sweet release.

Wistfully I Wished

I've over heard him ask of you why do you sell your love.
Up one street and down the next men love me, but one can't.

Tall strong trees, a gentle breeze wants more than love should give.
The eye can see loves wasted seed sprouting nothing but more weeds.

Selling what I could not from her buy holding close my love the pain inside.
And as I live and breath, I'm sure to die
no woman of the night should be afraid.

Belonging To Ms. Cherry

The Swiss have their chocolate and groups of rich girls worse than mag pies never quite full of chatter like prey on their hunting grounds.

Looking at me as I turned red are ripe Cherry's sitting down quite as a mouse over hearing them chat about grass.

Old men gathered around catering uninformed all were beautiful as only youth can a careless way young bitches can be mindless rich spoiled girls.

In her early 40s
she's met by a modest swarm of them in the warm wooden entrance wearing a tight navy blue pressured above the skirt a red tie underneath the moderate, Pearl White necklace sprayed across her fanned chest silk collard blouse, knee length and pointed black high heels shoes.

To meet you, I am happy, ' she said,
my name is Lucky said I, her name tag read Ms. Cherry.

Snap Dragons

Look out the window there at all the colors
you see some are closer to be purple lips and dark moving clouds those are pink and cutting some corners go to sleep
the friends that you have by the smell
I can tell see the one and only bee it can taste what you see I can see where you'd be like the bushes and trees
snap dragons
that open and shut about me.

Florida, Death, My Daughter And Me

Florida continues on it's Nazi course millions of ignorant people the future they have made for the lives of U.S. in our state.

Yesterday's come and endlessly gone and this to me he spoke
I thought you were in prison, the other said by signing these forms concerning these laws you have incriminated your self and you attest to the new laws and you understand by your signature these laws.

If what I just wrote makes no sense to you how can I became even more terrified about not leaving this room where I live It's better than jail or prison or Florida's criminal side of their state hospital.

This law is why my daughter is in a foster home like hundreds of other children laws written to protect all vulnerable people are ignored as I contemplate suicide each morning
I wake up from the night before all those dreams.

Buried In A Spot By My Head

I have come from that place in back of you nearly fifteen times each time
a little more puckered and damaged than the last truly terrible things done right there and the need for mind less violence, the violence for some thing good to hate whereas, transferring any negative feelings into that half of the ticket in your hand you can buy yourselves out of any pagan act of right and or wrong on any given day milk squirting from some hidden place that you think you can go to partake of this that and some thing else you can't name
by the smell
but you would add to that which taste good in the woods up a tree frankly you pass out and it rushes up past the clouds just to shake each bush free of it's leaves watching them fall to the ground in that one special spot on bent knee
nothing can change what you did on that day of many days inbetween first to the last I recall some thing else
I forgot it is walking into a canyon on the day side of moon inside the slick wall there where I fell up into there that one special spot.

Stone Flower Gray

Deep in the rock as deep as each drop of rain over time cracks appeared there end, end to end in and out.

I some times wander right here back some times back to there.
Some times waiting to see the first crack of the sun through the blinds
like that I feel on my face
every where.

Even then as I started out alive in the sun as simple a thing, living a life, wanting in like you all my life staying alive, remaining alive,
sneaking in, I hope it's alright.

The flower that is, is not what is.
It is that thing, that stone thing underneath from the sticks inside of hers, my Mother's mind though not as of yet seventy nine years, eighty she will get come this month.
Life unto death, sleeping in fields,
green leaved colored vines.

Some can't come to the supper I made hypnotic tone
one octave apart there on the chart sounds I make,

once way back when I made the sounds, I came here to hear that stone rose
the end is the end, when it ends, is that the end that you want?

If Not In This World Then The Next

I don't feel safe where I live and I pay to live his way.
I don't have many conversations with the people around me they have nothing of interest to say.

I have grown old with out any money in the bank the divorce took all that I had.
In order to take all that I made they let mental illness be the one that took charge.

There is a world where it is safe where I live and I'm paid
to live this way.
Where every one, every day has some thing of interest to say.

Where no one grows old
and the mentally ill receive proper care and their not killed by police for being some where else
instead of wearing purple here.

Her Stalker

A week or so ago
I walked by my self to the store.
Having just turned ten I was proud of my new found independence.

The five dollar bill so new it left smudged green stains on my shorts.

Being here never seen before not long ago on my way home
I sarterd to walk with people I knew he fell in step with me.

Hello, ' he said having fun?
My name is' Dr. Daddy, I have a small little girl like you.

I am Dentist,
do you know what a Dentist does?

I did not reply
I walked quickly and quietly, and eager to get home.

Hoping that he would take that as a sign to leave me alone.
Subtlety was his strong suit where being to young mine is not, because he kept chattering on and on about that.

Are you looking for your parents, like your friendly Dentist would do?

You should, of course,

I think
what you need is this.

Being a big girl
like you are now.
Another doctor would less quickly say.

That you won't do this you will and it is okay.
They make you think where I never will and still you look up to me.
Being a Dentist and all.

What is your name.
You have beautiful hair.
How will you pay for the sucker you like.

All the rest that I have are as sweet as the last can you come with me to my office with me and at my Office over there are more little girls you will like.

God And The Threat Of Free Thinking

To maintain the age old threat to the stability of the social order and when all the Young people whom don't believe in your God are evil, immoral, dropping a theistic religion you never had any faith in.

Your implied prejudice against what are common dreams from those that the rest do not have.
Immorality or put more simply the social immoral acts and no social hope those few have.

Hope is not blind faith that a bird without feathers can fly.
Hope is not God that thinks like a man,
to escape violent death
from those whom believe in some other God, where none die.

Are you labelled radicalized or an extremist when faced with a religion that you never were and are not?
Are you tolerant of those unlike you because of your God?
America and it's Christian God parent's their Dogma are the reason from childhood you are.

Russian Gays Are The American Sex Offender's

Be neutral and at best if you can not fan the flames of hate mixed with your fear.
Russia and their gays
the United States their Homophobia by creating sex offenders.

Russia clearly harms their gays America launched preemptive strikes by paying Doctors to read the minds of those they can't and claim that you are now a sex offender.
So far one in one hundred and thirty are on America's registry now.

Which is worse a gay an open window is claim are made that they have human rights but would you let them raise your children half of America has said that they would not.

The police in America luring in the false made claims their activities fully spent in time with a minor when their not.
Russian members of another anti-gay groups openly gain the publics ignorant confidence to do their dirty work.

By seeking to lure each gay (wo) man out then to an online gay sexual site.
The Russian homophobic reverse sting operations, and as in America their placed on T.V.
Physical and emotional abuse, and this abuse in posting on the internet and the video to humiliate then runs.

Not surprisingly,
the perpetrators their like here are proud of their efforts,
with access to their producers and not rethink your position to ideas where like here like there the publics free to them attack.

Remember in Russia
there's a gay behind each leafy bush as ignorance grows and shows.

While in America
a pedophile like laws unwise that states that you are going to snatch and rape every single white lost child.

Red not green, but red two crimson lips.
The future I have told but not like this.
By the English dead,

While our courtship forged from kindness

Pure love of love forgets what now is past.

O by the love of she, thine eyes look up to see.
Thus I to behold the blinded eye, instead of me.

How To Some It Tastes

Listen to me love the entrance is for me
a special place, I've come to know.
Lightly over grown,
green musky moss it hanging down.
Through that misty veil
I climbed a hill that took me up.
As I circled round the cave upon my tongue is how it tasted like it smelled.
Up unto the sky out stretched my hands.
I squeezed the moon apart.
And when that lonely cloud floats by
It looks to me like art.

The God Particle

When with age
our mass in space grows dim all will like the blinding eye blink out and move between that day in time called night.

Inflation may expand so far all mass moves out of sight of all that we were before.

The movement of the state of rapid flux will give away to what we know today.

Then man may move about and life or what we know of it may be to far away man takes up space and mass and thoughts move at the speed of light.

There will be no warning at the end when it draws near.

The universe began in just a fraction of a second as of now and life in any form the essence of what was before our presence.

The Road That Leads To There

The road that leads to where is also tinged with sorrow most know best.
While the rooster on his wooden perch to soon, the sun comes up.

On any road, you walk on foot or travel on an empty train has left.
Street signs that see their dreams in green are read from left to right.

Old these people are to scared and cold to wait like standing trees asleep to long and winter comes to late they can't hang on.

Some young women hold the cries of older men inside and then their face is gone other voices heard at night are gone without a trace.

From the city or the state some wander naked.
In the garden
near one corner lies an unborn child one hides.
Graffiti on the walls scrawled written names of all the dead.

Then and only then without a care can we forget.

Bukowski And My Crib

Come light a match to read my night time poem the table legs the way they sway and bend as lovers now unwind.

From my suffering his only wish to ease my pain with the poetry of his and my lack of metaphors.

I've come to learn the more I make the less I have to write for every one.

Houses his, my many cribs I had to hide away others are just what they are that I am not
I had to chase away.

Children were the source of this he wrote while being told I never was a child like I am right now and running wild the door is closed to that.

A good poem I never read whilst he was still alive
a better poem that some read was due to alcohol and still a better thought before I died who does or doesn't want to know?

The secrets I once held so dear to me were like a flower plucked come some fine morning that the sun has opened.

The Story Of Death

It is a hot day and I hate their life.
Topless without looking at all the bimbos in the pool.
Irritation but not from that what you think,
the need to rearrange it bothers me constantly.
How bad it is.
I do it because I'm old, young they are blistering hot.

Sunday afternoon and it's all I think about from my life that you can.
Exercise and some one else's money I never spent, people Refuse to know, I should be.
I don't think I've spoken to anyone since Thursday morning except for the girl selling magazines, thinking she would go to Hawaii at my expense.

Friday morning I spoke to the milkman a woman
Appropriately, I started to play.
Little pink cars run around them both being bitten to often by him.

Loking down at the pool she is around him and then aside it is moved the tight bikini bottom, watching one hot smug girl, I saw her coming.
Through the cracks of death her, sweat, the chair, falls.
If she was not Around, I have something interesting right.
I look on gasping for breath several times
I fall climbing the steep stairs.

I have no bad habits, I know.
All the characters are worn out.
Each bag, new characters find themselves in, I think.
The characters tell you all that they need to know.
Kill, stab or spell her name backwards or if I'm going to do it now.
Will I finish her.
You can hear the buzzing insects outside.
Don't is the hope of killer bees.
It swelled in her throat and exploded, she died.
I am not getting any younger with all this death.
You need the rain to clear the air.
My face is twitching, I feel fresh cramps coming on.

I sigh deeply, lunging from the stairs the tea Kettle is whistling.
From start to finish, as long as it took to read all of this.
The time has arrived again.
The whistle it builds as the steam floats off the memories.
These are those times when I hate what I do in the C.I.A.

Why Does My Rectum Hurt After Serving Time In A Florida Prison

Taboo's experience is hardly any different perhaps than yours or mine or any other mentally ill prisoner sent to prison in Florida or the U.S. except for those whom were deliberately given aids and were never released because.

Three hundred thousand male prisoners a year are sexually assaulted. This estimate each year is even lower than that for women in the United States. If you don't know why it's too late to educate you.

The damage of course is worse as estimates go and are. When I was a child it was worse than that then now and Republicans are considered conservative. Pay anyone of any note to read the one inside.

The ignorant view instead in the West is to take your medicine from the bottom up and leave an empty head. Social retaliation against Taboo 'get it all, all that you deserve' He grunted grimly. No one is prosecuted in the United States the smell of blood and guts, K.Y. Gelly and shit. For rape is never rape of its male prisoners.

I'M In Love With You

As long as I know just how the wind blows through your hair.
Lavender scent in the crisp winter air I can smell.
Nothing compares with the moon up above the slow parting clouds the shimmering mist that drips from the leaves in your hands.
All that has been or ever will be can ever replace the look in your eyes when your here.
Knowing that look is for none except me every beat of my heart your head on my chest you can hear.

Time could not tell all the times that I shook every time I looked back to the very first time that time when I knew our love was real.
And all that it held in the palms of your hands that you held my future in them.

Love is the look that none would mistake it's that look as the future deep far off into space where all have to wait there I dwelled.

Awake or asleep
so long as I know as to whether or not all that I dream are dreams of you.
The way I watch you sleep your moving eyes that can not hide are mirrors to your soul.

And such are my feelings that I can never feel for any one else none but you can't you tell?
That night when you came was the happiest day of my life.

Both of us know that love is something entirely new.
How long I did wait, how long did I pray,
knowing that someday my dreams would all come true,
that I'm in love with you and that all of this is love is for you.

Birth

Being not born I was captured captured by the light of early day caught in the mist of the morning after.

Green trees and their leaves tall hills where the ground loops back as it circles
I walked at the top and has been by others paved that descend to the bottom.

And
who do you know that will come after me knowing how long that you must wait at the bottom while night turns to day that you were called up to be born.

longed for those days that have passed days
I can not take back.

Being at risk
how I have lived living
from hand to mouth.

In their struggle
to live
and leave it to you poet's have painters to before in the past they have had to die.

Before
hope it leaves to deal with the worst my tortured soul raving accurst the tears and the grief I have.

Death
from disease my only relief please not a death like that.

Chained to my soul
each night and day their answer
none heard is that right?

Isis

There is no right side being on the wrong side of fear.
Orange prison jump suits that we make our own wear treating our own inhumanely that America would kill if not for the money.
Medusa's head filled with snakes and the Hydra cut one off and two more that are worse take it's place.
America's way of thinking is as anathema to them
as is theirs to U.S.
However immoral or unethical each claims that it is.
Cause and effect there is always an oppisite and equal reaction.
The fear of what comes next is always worse than before.
Disillusioned our youth have no hope for the best.
I am in fear of what both side can't say at the cost of some head.
See how easy it was to mistake those two words for another if mistakenly used for two others.
The rule of law is made worthless in America if it cannot learn from militants their warning to U.S. and our leaders While from the militant groups,
the United States air strikes will continue,
when the 'will to continue is that our knives are longer to attack the people that stand on your neck.
And we can achieve it.
From one administration to the next
it's going to take some time and it's going to take some effort.
After ISIS,
America will deal with the next,
convincing U.S. to give up what's left of our rights.

The Sex Offender

A 2002 study by the United States Department of Justice indicated that recidivism rates among sex offenders was 5.3 percent; that is, about 1 in 19 of released sex offenders were later arrested for another sex crime. The same study mentioned that 68 percent of released non-sex offenders were rearrested for any crime (both sex and non-sex offenses) , while 43 percent of the released sex offenders were rearrested for any crime (and 24 percent re-convicted) .

A collection of official studies spanning the years 1983-2010 for all 50 states and the federal government of the US has been assembled. This URL provides a spreadsheet and.zip file containing sources supporting the DOJ study, where the average recidivism of sex offenders committing new sex crimes since 1983 is approximately 9 percent, compared to the 42 percent average recidivism rate for all felony offenders committing any new felony offense.

According to the Office of Justice Programs (OJP) of the United States Department of Justice, in New York State, the recidivism rate for sex offenders has been shown to be lower than any other crime except murder. Another report from the OJP which studied the recidivism of prisoners released in 1994 in 15 states (accounting for two-thirds of all prisoners released in the United States that year) reached the same conclusion.

In 2007 the State Bureau of Investigation in North Carolina made significant changes to its sex-offender registration system, including new search criteria that include an 'offender status' search (enabling an explicit search for convicted sex-offense recidivists in the sex-offender database) . Manual searches (by county) using the new criteria yield some of the lowest recidivism rates ever disseminated by any law-enforcement establishment. In the entire state of North Carolina there are only 71 recidivists shown on the registry, if incarcerated offenders are included. Per-county results for 'registered'-status offenders (compared with 'recidivist'-status offenders) on the North Carolina registry yield actual convicted recidivist percentages ranging from zero to a fraction of one percent.

Of released sex offenders who allegedly committed another sex crime,40 percent perpetrated the new offense within a year or less from their prison discharge. Within three years of release,2.5 percent of released rapists were rearrested for another rape, and 1.2 percent of those who had served time for homicide were arrested for a new homicide. Of the 9,691 male sex offenders released from prisons in 15 US states in 1994,5.3 percent were rearrested for a new sex crime within 3 years of release. Sex offenders were about four times more likely than non-sex offenders to be arrested for another sex crime after their discharge from prison (5.3 percent of sex offenders, versus 1.3 percent of non-sex offenders) . An estimated 24 percent of those serving time for rape and 19 percent of those serving time for sexual assault had been on probation (or parole) at the time of the offense for which they were in state prison in 1991. On a given day in 1994, there were approximately 234,000 offenders convicted of rape or sexual assault under the care, custody, or control of corrections agencies; nearly 60 percent of these sex offenders were under conditional supervision in the community.

Approximately 4,300 child molesters were released from prisons in 15 US states in 1994. An estimated 3.3 percent of these 4,300 were rearrested for another sex crime against a child within 3 years of release from prison. Among child molesters released from prison in 1994, 60 percent had been in prison for molesting a child 13 years old or younger. The median age of victims of those imprisoned for sexual assault was less than 13 years old; the median age of rape victims was about 22 years. Child molesters were, on average, five years older than violent offenders who committed their crimes against adults. Nearly 25 percent of child molesters were age 40 or older, but about 10 percent of inmates with adult victims were in that age group.

Desperation And Suicide

US we as them and the stigma is buried to deep the irrational dogma by rule of law, me we and those that went on into the void asking for help before our lights each turned out.
Knowing one life is 'Listen to me, it it is all that we have.
Under assault living unsafe in an envoinment I did not make.
Death is a forgone conclusion suicide angels roam closer to home always aware of space and time and their reality soon all must share.
Unlearned others outside looking in pretending to love what they hate whom speak of your death as if they had from the start shared your pain.
Derogatory, rude and ignorant condemed mispoken statements is it not to disturbing the rich, to deal with such lives on a daily basis.
Hearing to many of them those whom proffered with tight lips and I have heard many times that each premature death is a 'Sin', is a crime,
when in fact no last statement about suicide they made.
Suicide is wrong if I try and I live.
Suicide is right if I die in the end.
Of each human story that never was told of this this our pain and by it stopping such pain is a desperate act by me us each inside a person who did not want to live on.
Mentally tough each woman and man whom confessed it had to say Living we Died while alive we Live with depression or schizophrenia, bipolar disorder, PTSD, or a similar illness suicide has let in and made die.
Those of US the we, you and these and the chemical thoughts not processed when our moods and judgment is made more suspect due to each individual mental illness-it affected.
The selfishness of the living means nothing to the dead if while alive each painfull thought gains them the whole world from their nothing.
As time marches on.

Madness

When I shut my eyes our pretty green world it stops moving lifting my lids all is reborn once again.
Inside of my head it is there where you dwell,
I can see what normal is some think that I am, blue the new red.
When I leave my head ink indigo black the darkness comes in.
Am I an animal any old animal I've staked my one life on.
Close your moist weeping eyes such tears they will fall when I come.
And of that which I speak and of those all around you
I can speak soothing words, words that can touch you.
Struck by the Moon and burned by the stars such is the power held at bay by the few all must deal with where we sleeping lay power not shared where you have the ability to lure me into deaths soft bed.
I am like you we both are insane, dreaming of living and never dying.
God spares the just few from the fire that is hell then they fade.
Our eyes must not shut nor close tight in sleep.
I can in sleep with the help of their minds living high at the top of snow covered mountains return back to you full in the knowledge of all I was told.
Don't forget me in this when you are in bed you I see as I dream.
Dreaming of this which is mine and I am as you know gowing old.
Must you as I dream take control of our dreams that we dream?
Spring it has come summer is here yea though again I must walk through the dawn of their winter and all of our fears of the cold.

Hung Like A Mouse

For you, for that one women that has everything everything you need for happy long life when everythings about that, everything except that never were you more happy than that.

Tugging at the end of your long hair until it forms a well around a deep shaft.
Asking for more,
asking for more and getting no less but no more.
You get it all more than you ask.
Your behavior comes from nature I have.

How would you describe such a primitive club?
What would you say to me unlike it, I'm a person and to whom would you have me behave this way?
You are just like the mouse out in the field behaving now.
Stop and look get up off your knees.
Flatten out your dress as you look beneath the grass.
You have everything, you have it all.
Like all the rest it looks like I have failed to deliver this quip a message of need to your lips.
God said it's not about greed.
It's more about whims, it's less about virtue see.
Growing heavy and fat overdue to be happy I'm living a lie and going nuts and you know not why.
What do I do after having had you and all that I wanted was what you wanted I knew.

Police Militarization

The militarization of the police began when the people were taught to believe they were the disease.

Recently with a history of American persecutions, websites of fear concerning sex and children and non affordable programs, discriminatory laws, exile, modern housing projects leading to the total annihilation of the poor, our mentally ill and it's systematic planning and the lack of hard criticism concerning America and it's unwise expansion of Law Enforcement replacing good judgement with pharmaceutical drugs and Anxiety leading to a certain finality and our premature death.

Blue Neon Milk

Explosions of thought pour forth from the net on this topic happy adults many still children of mothers who didn't want to love them.

There is consequently a world a whole new world taken from the past and day turns to night
I see tomorrow
it won't come its never to late turn the page.

Now its nearly to late just like as you do such feelings grow short sadness looks on as the world is plunging in and out of the great abyss from up above down below and I want to express my deepest sympathy to those of you whom find yourself here
because you are coping with out the experience of not being loved by your parents.

This is a topic unlike most you have mastered
I take it from there full control is your grasp of as blue particulates explode on to the scene and I have little to offer but moving streams
except for the shudder as I tremble and shake wondering in awe drenched in blue neon milk and like dark matter and where it comes from.

The American Dream

Your poverty is their weapon of choice black on white state road yellow or brown turned on each other their divide and Conquer a militarism plan.

The lack of education for you what it means an inability to articulate a shortened life and love without hope just what it means there here once was a good life
now being used to end all your dreams.

Injustice the key the bedrock I see a house built on sand washed out to the sea.

Social media your last bastion of hope get out move and speak always thus softly
the old grey Elephant the piñata a Donkey both are the same.

A news channel made one that covers only politics where every Politician is heard and there is made equal where those with out millions can go to converse with you making a better choice to select them.

Justice Is Questioned

When there is a case in the death of the first party and the second parts at best with two unequal answers
if to the very same person when the second has taken the life of the first and the dead can not speak thereafter one has claimed, one has sworn and falsely confessed and the one he has sworn to protect and that death was denied by not being pressed, justice would never presume that the one whom not killed be given such rights that were not accorded the dead.

Killing My Depression

Knowing how long I struggled
and true laughter never knew the wind
and what it blew away.
These wrinkles on my face
the way they shaped my lonely face
they really really do.
I know out side
how hot it is, it's cold I could not feel.
I hid behind a face I could not hide it any more.
The day that I was born that year it made.
Chaos is a life a living death I can't control.
Symmetry in sunsets running colours say the rest.
Stigma is a sign a certain lack of self respect.
Meat we all just meat and meat is all we really are,
red clapping meat left out to long
it spoils in my hands.
Love me tender said the King of King's
I cannot love my other self.
I turned to drugs and alcohol to push it far away.
I turned to drugs and alcohol the pain I must escape.
What I have gained in death the living cannot take away.

James McLain

The Objective Terrorist

Terrorist acts are motivated by two basic principals.
Real selected social and political injustice.
Perceived nightmares are more real for some like those you can wake from the child in your bed of mourning.
People ready for change that never comes.
Reality some perceive that social wrong
a political or historical wrong trying to right that basic human need when their deprivation of land or rights or those denied to them.
Violence or its threat carried out effectively, and beliefs that should lead to change that should have come but never did.
Children in America given to achoholic mothers the Judge knows this child is needed for their prisons.
Another way this word should be but seldom is.
Each end that ends in violence that men of reason know.
Any means to justify a flase conviction.
Yea though I am the nail they hammer down.
Sadly because I held the heart of.
Many labled terrorists by the ones in power know.
The history of they that had no choice they chose a violent road.
Real men and women like a jury before a long deliberation.
The truth is hard and difficult for you to read and swallow.
People don't like to be held down the King he won't explain so others now must die.
If it is's to simple yea the truth it sounds to far away.
However, when we dare to look to deep inside this mirror.
Do we look and hear their life no hope the same old story.
Two elements are at it's core to understand child murder.

Ignorance And Fear Through Politics

People whom you never knew know less than nothing having less than you do of what all people need to be like you some what better off than the majority of people whom never knew that put to the sword, gun or knife while rejecting the knowledge of the way that you live that I choose to know nothing about.

Dropping bombs of superficial knowledge of the topic or subject that such ignorance brings to they, it must be said.
As ignorance runs it's short race the course of a life time when each life is cut sgreenhort it more frequently than not produces a confidence false kept thats leads to the bed that death sleeps in.

Knowledge hidden from view by blinding the eyes of the heights people reach while having to live above the snow line that politics brings to the learned few whom need it not by telling the rest that they do.

The fear that ignorant people choose to bring into the world and by turning this fear upon each other sowing the same seeds that you were raised to believe by having from you kept the God
inside every person the knowledge of learning and to realize its importance and to oppose ignorant thinking.

Scary Man In The Door Way

I have stuck to what I saw and felt that night blocking out the light
it was more than huge,
and the size of it it matters when your scared.

A little girl in bed alone was me to see the tall wide tree growing right through him
I can see his face and feeling numb I was the first.

I could hear him breath his breath was cold and warm
I know it was he pulled my lips apart.

This was more unlike that time a body dead on top of me
his eyes bored into mine.
even there my flesh began to sweat.

I could hear the great long saw those teeth going back and forth pulled in and out the wood his head was dark and strong he scanned
the room as it arose
the bottom of my heart fell out.

Black pants, black shirt
my white bed to this dark man hidden in the shadows
He is much to tall.
He took up the length of my small bed.

As he smiled and looked at me looking at his head.

I held my breath leaning over me he put his finger to my lips
he then said to me "Ssshhhh"
and just like you this is how life started.

James McLain

Time Keeps Us Apart

In the darkness of my dreaming a heart beat away is there not a way a road I could follow our bed it is vacant
I am watching sadly the light on me stays if I could but see where you are to me all you mean is this.

sharpening the edge long I am resolved that the curve of your wet red lips

in trust I have shared in your thoughts and, nobody knows

Religion And Your Fear Of Death

Devout religious theists must argue to you that while you live you must believe in God through your fear of what will happen after death-or go to hell.
To be afraid from birth to die the non-believer is to never stop believing or that your thinking mind it is.
Of all that ever was and will for all thus one day be.
Late in life for most some less but most if at all.
Men need control to cause a fall, healthy men need none of this when pride before a fall.
To believe in life instead of death takes more thought than none at all.
Why you believe at all is not because of God your fear of death is not just cause to think of death at all.
You fear death and talk of Love when the light is up above.
Wishful thinking, that there is without a thought of life after death.
Death it claims the good with all the bad but you know this.
Do you need a God to do whats right?
To give to some and never take that which was never yours?
When where you live and how your raised is what you really are.
A healthy brain is but the sum of memories of before.

Ego Of The Poet

Brag to me no more to you if what I wrote tis gone.
The special place where I would with you go between the wall is stuffed with words.
Paper balls I've wadded up to keeps me warm.
In my dreams your naked marching up and down the street.
What you created in me has long since departed as a ghost.
I tore it down the wall that for you I built up.
The way you spoke to me the way that I would sleep.
But as long as silence draws me nigh will you be there.
Great ego in my head if while alive and dead will speak my name but not in life if I be dead.
Insatiable are the wantings in the dark and in the Light.
Somewhere there the ego in my head I can't let go.

Emancipation From Death

Emancipation by means of no other need than to have knowledge to free one from life one shant have.

Trees filled with green leaves before the grave rising up to exist in this life but like you to reach up to the sky.

For there is nothing to prevent the bearer of bad tiddings than death to return in each life as that ray of light that is hope we excaped from.
Knowledge can be like the rain not unlike billions of drops that light on the ground from which the tree has sprung from.
Is there not equal reason in this for the spark of life to go on?

Emancipation can not exist in the darkest recesses of some minds where reason has fled due to fear.
Especially when there is equal reason to live free of fear from without.
One has the need to be free to learn the value of freedom you have.
If for no other reason to spread the knowledge all children need to survive.

Can you still come play with me or is it to late for some peaceful-dreams do they to you come and I wondered about all the children I met.

People Confusion Is

With a long history of American persecution, programs, discriminatory laws, expulsions of certain people to live on the fringes of society.

Laws that are passed to cause wide spread hate and distrust, then when those same citizens harm those that those laws made vulnerable and then by arresting those that caused them said harm.

Confusion is when those that posses a superior grasp of the English Language twist those same words
so that those whom are made vulnerable by them need attorney's to now tell them that their inability to understand them is the problem.

Medieval and modern prisons and a systematic plan of total annihilation of what was considered an enlightened American country, it's not hard to blame people for feeling terrified and insecure when over taxed people are told they are it's problem.

Your mind, your body and your soul,
to have you and to hold.
Hard I felt your body in my hands, electric yes it was.

And now I sit so still and I reach out not any body just your body true.
Then love can fill your soul,
one soul a soul for two of them.

Florida-The Experiment's Done On It's Prisoners

When it became difficult to experiment on monkeys and dogs the pharmaceutical companies raised hell.
Aids, hepatitis, mascara, lipstick on and on.

Florida Department Of Corrections recruited these men for a pair of sneakers and booty hole and other promises they could not keep.

Corrupt red necks and pecker woods monitored the monitoring groups to see how much money they'd get.
Burt Reynolds the deliverance, I forgot about pigs.

Thomas, a lawyer, and former Republican party whip, called his wife, his honey hole already corrupt he officially became a member of the Florida House of representatives.

Wasting the time of it's members the public never knew no money for me get out.

No scientific knowledge is necessary in Florida who would break the law for no pay.
From the beginning since 2000 In the fall,
as the group disbanded men were laid waste
the Department of corrections knew all.

Whether there were enough to handle a potential problem as the number of men grew ill the staff living without training at great expence of the mentaly ill.

Since there was no test monitor.
The Departmen Of Corrections DOC is however considering a new monitoring panel.

Of the seven to ten members elected so far are prison system employees.

Where for a populaion of over one hundred eighty thousand men in prison or on probation there are three to five clemency officers for them.
Decade's after they get out still can't vote.

Above it all idealy they must be,
to be appointed as God prisoners of war and prisoner advocates are ideally in the best interests of Dogs.
Florida state employees however they swing are not.

Pretty days golden hay cool patient nights spinning around upside down right side up inside out.

the sound of a place where few others like you I have been.
I have seen all the wonderful things, things that were never meant to be seen, yet like you there I've been.

Carnal Succubus

My vision was of the same dirt road half in half out of the wide narrow ditch.
Every inch it's hard body was moist to the touch my lips trembling unsure.
The darkness felt of black magic, soft magnolias white crushed velvet.
My bedroom at night without noise it lived in my house.
I learned to stop fighting nothing left but cold moist anticipation.
Why no one to believe me that I could not control of whats inside me.
My gothic neighbor explained do nothing during these long encounters.
Every rose it keeps hold of it fills my whole body it had decided.
My inner mind I said to my self do not enjoy it just like a soft nut
I opened under pressure.
Falling down forever how best to describe it.
Like a great wave rolling back to shore all to soon,
only on the inside of my thigh and lower leg where it met.
Time after time, left to right, up and down.
Pushing aside all the light what was hot deep inside me.
Life is to short night is this song this secret of it I keep to my self.
The night sky the bright burning stars as the moon is pent up high away from the rest, I wrestle each night.
Like slender tall trees as green leaves move from their grasp.
Falling asleep, it finally woke up.

My Last Silver Dime

She is too young,
I was not old enough.
On her I spent my dime.
Fresh roses there might grow.
To find out if I might love.
Stay and love, she said to me,
stay and love, or go and love the sea.
And if the sail, be young and full of air,
come back to me.

A dime, my silver dime, my last silver dime.
To be the comb,
that makes the part in your long hair.
Look my love tis not a twisted thing, or wise enough to fool my aching heart
To find what this is all about,
I see your face through the sail.

Evolution in the beginning was once similar in man it evolved everywhere.
Wrenched by sheer will from the past constant moving called time.
Two steps back it required that one open mind avoiding the blind.
From that dark hidden place filled with blue light water is.
Walking from there we wandered here cleaving to the cradle of life not the extreme southern heat or cold northern lights.
These periods of time some were unbearably long hands stretched out

Some where, some how, some time I fell in love it happened.
And then one long leap we saw in relatively Enstien's major change.
Looking out now through each colored eye

Hospital

It is moody dark alive the shadows cast the windows barred each image drawn to death each inmate seems to move not very far as one or two they sit above a ledge above black water.
There is one Doctor and a Nurse.
The hospital in itself is long it's round and large,
and yes it opens at the top.
Scattered about around the wall in piles are rotting clothes.
Crusty walls that bleed and weep cold granite corridors, of the many whom in day's long past as patients on those stretchers that were white are now quite black.
Rodents blood red ticks and fleas why illness loves a breeze.
Shuffling as the two move past there eyes are wide awake.
No bandages here or soap before they came as others made their cots.
Time has no true name it's worth they all will have to pay.
That look of shock upon each face without a voice or sound and out of reach and pain racked body bent into such Grace.
While the number of the limbs are stacked like wood before a fire.
There is no need to ration out the salty putrid water.
Formaldehyde that stench it fills the moist and humid air.
Soiled sheets are never washed there is no end of man made pain.
That nurse collects past debts with her quick hand and milk blue bottles.
Not many soldiers knew such dreams suffered at the hands of youth.
While they were dying from blood loss his disease the Doctor spread.

Dumb Them Down Stupid People I Can'T Think

This man is not your average redneck southern inbred stupid.
Laughing always last why he bothered to sit in the front of the class.
Thinking he has integrity and his honesty none sought after.
Thick were the lies thick were the flies like those of any well oiled politician.
And for those whom lived around him things got worse he grew proud.
Through the years as he walked home daily from work.
Despite his brown eyes, he thought he was what everyone dreamt.
Stupid was what stupid is, so stupid with such a large head.
With out a clue as to why he always failed.
He believed he was great, very skilled.
His consistent failure was always due to the want of the many.
And excepted no fault from others.
Using two words where one would do.
No specialized knowledge his leg he turned up on the others.
A warm golden shower fell from the sky down their necks.
What do you think to you I turn I think he is great.
So incredibly stupid that he describes himself being so smart.

Science Verses Religion

Can you leap into modern science and technology, if not.
We have lost a thousand years it is now where if not would man be.
The dark ages of Death was man's improper place.
Lost work, the Devil's applause or man's plague for the treatment of.
Dark ages for a thousand years science society of ancient Greece and the home that Rome was.
To be forgotten put to death and or imprisoned whom through ignorance called grace forced unlearned lengthy periods.
To be suppressed by discouraging dogma and medieval Christians.
Above all the heavens for Earth's center no other.
Putting the worlds in their orbits to a God is Ambrosia.
To retrieve what should be and find out about light,
not roaming the fields in the dark lost forever.
Why did the early Christian believers set back scientific achievements.
Other than for no apparent rhetorical reason.
What should be more terrifying than men losing Reality?
Killing each Muslim these Christian's call terrorist.
Anti-intellectualism is a major component of Christian militants.
While hating science even more coming going God mentions.
Without schools and real science don't forget your small children.
Even today, undoing centuries of scientific advancements.
Ignorant religious extremists would rather you die than admit it.

When The Milk Dried Up

No stranger to hard work the farm.
I had a cold bath no let down.
This won't happen to you.
The way warm milk disappears.
Stressful day's like yesterday,
I didn't have a good night.
I tossed and turned a lot.
That's what happened to me.
Across the sky shooting stars.

Nine Lives Aren'T Enough

I have stumbled and walked blindly through this life and what is less than that to love it even more.
To create more tears in laughter than sad tears.
There is no room for ghosts no room for death no room for doubt in faith for those sad years.
Never so indifferent, I look up to to see the twinkle in the skies.
The stars and how they wonder in the eyes of each lost child.
Or as the old should never be, growing old does not suit me.
You may have heard my last words as I whisper, Dear.
To you I leave my one last smile, when you smiled at me.

Flesh That Melts In Your Mouth

The melting of our flesh becomes softer as it ripens in the sun and will actually "melt in your mouth" when mature.
Most people prefer this type of flesh to be eaten out of hand.
Nonmelting flesh remains firm in texture when it's full mature and never comes by melting.
Nonmelting flesh typifies flesh that comes when it is melting.
And is used for eating.
Some melting" types are eaten out of hand beneath the bush.
But they represent a very small population of inhabitants
even if it's very firm, even fuzzy when it's eaten.
Beneath the flesh it melts and on your chin it's warm and juicy.

Alone In The Garden At Dawn

These gardens were built during dusk to decorate your face.
This is the face in the garden a movement just before dawn bright is the face of the moon it floats by.
Fresh is the dew and the smell that intoxicates all within reach.
It is wine made from purple grapes hang over the banks the brook is the spirit of you we drank from.
Wherein, only one does not hide behind your hundreds of faces purple grapes hang under green leaves.
In this garden is a scene each must play many died during the search.
But this pain is not for those who come and like lovers see.
You are the sun each lovely face we often find here.
You are the river of wind and come fall there is wine.
And the vines grow more robust every year.

some thing for the people I have chained and nothing missed.
White hair the far right wing goes there where most are tossed away.
Forgive me father I have sinned today my shame evolved and while each whom walked in grace I came to stand before.
The midday sun that sheds the dark above my hand the moon bright lights call out come here to me and be my only friend.
All that came before from dust will find thier worth it's end.
Do you feel the guilt good Catholic children all should feel or become the white fine salt thats held inside each open hand.

Child Emigrant's Over Whelm U.S.

Days lingered into months year after year without hope without end
did others like I spend as a child.
Very young was I barely a man.
Lost inside of Florida's brutal southern dark cold Jails and Prisons.
Sold out by the state our politions still profit.
Where it was normal to be Raped and beaten.
Crammed into cells not unlike them.
Waiting to be booked Green baloney sandwiches.
Unable to articulate

to the abuse we suffered by the State.
Wasting tens of thousands of children.

The Slender Man

To all my children
to my many liars in wait whom against me conspire.
She is gone and yea he has come in from the woods without face.
From his heart from the depths where its dark.
She was taken from you not long before dawn high up above below the bright moon.
Empty beds cloudless night's, teeth filled mouths.
Bleeding a rose left wrapped around is gone come the morn.
At one point I should stop, why go on the only thing left was a book filled with scraps of their dreams.
In his hard grip through each cave winds a red narrow stream.
Girls that are bad, boys that won't play death feels like moist cotton open young eyes closed to threats.
Blank faces can't scream but yours can.
Painted purple walls all but white stay dark through the night.
Into my bedroom it came yesterday, tomorrow will never come.
The slender man is to some what she needs not.
Dark tall trees hanging down right side up from the top.
Flowers that smell inside of your mind only when deep in sleep.
Other children hang dead from the tree.
I originally thought nothing about it.
Stabbing me not once but over and over and now, he's gone.
Forgotten not by he are the snakes some have need to speak of
in and out of the moss leaf filled bushes.
The tall man is dressed as you see him in shadows black.
Out the window he stands in the star light in the clearing.
My sister beneath lying on top as the dark clouds roll in at midnight.
Long are his arms they have room for the many snakes and words, as sharp as his sight soft boneless and tight and the worms where you died live on through your primitive fear of the night.

Of Two Minds

Articulating predisposed my hands give in but never obeyed
what this some one this other person trapped in my head from birth to me use to say.

The new depression expressions that twist all the faces whom inside knew but were to afraid to speak.

Discipline has uncovered the truth
as to why so many hide never to know until it's too late the price some have paid just to live and why with no help
some of our greatest minds choose to die.

Children with out rights that never knew having the wrong parent's that could explain how to grow up in this world and not be afraid
this good young mind most would fear being to slow to make this leap from one mind to the next inside the same head.

Of more than one mind yet less than two whom being one and with the other the sum of each part working together becoming one taught by another would play.

All the strange friends that call every day to speak to me.

Avoiding These Children And Killing

O' know this of me I have by her but that one child, and I am as sure of this and as sure as you that I held out for as long as I could.
Before I entertained the thought of selling out over need of money.
Wheras once I held the power to live in the heart and give over respect
there are now to many others whom are not equipped to think being damaged and take the lives of our others.
And as the rest think it acceptable to show no respect
as to them by they none is given.
And as for the lives of others or you would not take them.
And living in fear of the truth
inbetween these two I stay hidden and child O ' I know.
Also forgive them the parents for their many evils that spring from the well of these young tortured souls.
To this their claim of not being always accepted in seeking the forgiveness, you know that all creatures need not suffer.
Servants and strangers and enemies alike awake or in sleep have blindly ignored them.
Turn these creatures down no more until now without him.
Therefore, O' child in kind heart learn to praise and forgiveness is not based in emotion that is as habit forming as we are finding out now about what loss is.
All these children will grow up to look in the same mirror and go out and act as you taught them.

Love And Falling Snow

Each morning when I rise she is at the window.
Open up close rousing from deep sleep she is very beautiful.
The wind blows softly past around her to my nose
I rise even more to her morning glow, and sun flowers can't imagine falling snow.

Even the cold winter verywhere descending.
And I inside her head my life is given.
Nature is perceived in this world compared to her where nothing more is equal.
And intense this pleasure is she is forgiven.

The texture of her rose petals match the thorns
they compel a touch thats soft she knows each colour has a soul.
I close it and it opens by it's self,
I am deep in something I do not know about that only you can understand.

Shuddering each breath I can not hold and even falling rain, small your hands take hold one is open then it closed.
When sudden lighting strikes the tree explodes.
Snow is falling every where it's in the air and in her hair.

Nothing that you have they kept to learn they give away.

Five senses and the wise know of more and thus use them.
Generous hearts is not wisdom gained meek are the pure.
Children spread out and good people grow richer in life.
Power in discernment as forgiveness seeks out the truth.
Honesty brings forth kindness such kindness is.
And honor, these comprise more than steel tongues used as weapons.
Turn cruel speech into soft words about religion stay tolerant.
Soften their red mouths and minds with golden honey.
Highten all your senses and be generous to all kind people.

Shadow People

There was no before and no normal time not when I was a small child being a child I could see.
To allow them more power,
I could taste the metallic fever the power they had over me.
These were not those strange bumps in the night and afraid of the sounds I could hear.
Shadows that felt, shadows I smelled more than three.
Precognition my recognition when deep asleep some I would feel.
I could see those young spirits
they would use me in order to see them as shadows that fly.
I can still see the spirits in my house at night time, and my sleeping in darkness when light is no more fear to will be.
Honestly I most of the time sleeping and praying day fades away into night I start suffering.
Ink very dark ink turning from black introduced red.
The dark mouth hanging over me

For a while I will sleep again on my back

Malevolence

Malevolent they take their joy of pure evil and turn to defamation in seeking pleasure in no others.
Malevolent by design there evil nature and their other wives draw breath to plant their seeds.
Such vile and sinful man is a man whom dressed the devil.
By pissing them off by your own success,
they are devoted to the selfish down fall of their kinsfolk.
Digging up they dug from graves of sensuality and greed,
they are most impatient and stall the company they need.
They are neither my mother nor my father,
and in the space the cold they have let in.
Good for nothing they turn their backs on second chances.
Aye, they bring ruin to all others.
Not a love story ever written has not a malicious moan and sigh to them by overcoming naught they so remain.
They turn each page of infatuation heeding naught the simple Saints related to just wisdom.
And they curse us all for we all die they think to live forever.
They love the mirror, take away their wealth thinking not of others.
The wicked do appear in books they cannot read.
These wicked men are absent from each humble lowly House and a sprinkling here of them you can not see.

I wouldn't if you were here waiting for me.
And when it's to late, life is over.

And what would it mean to live, life again.
Punishment it truly is,
listening to the voice inside my head

No More Tree's A Short Essay

They are gone.

No trees!

No more humans that need to breath.

Except for those at the tops of the mountains.

Close your lovely eyes and try to see what looks like a world without trees.

This mighty ball green Earth,

once open to all blue now dying, red dead and desolate,

now close your eyes and try to not imagine i.

No more paper to make the money you won't need, plastic tights!

Living beneath some one elses technology a few might,

if everyone is willing a slave left living would have to be- not very bright.

Without air we need to breath, everyone that could leave has like Mars, leaving left.

Is not the role that trees play an important role in the carbon cycle we are made of.

And every thing we think we need to make more houses?

Nothing more do we need than the trees nothing else is so crucial to our very existence.

Water and air, water mostly is and next to air

as our population increases by a factor of billions.

Look in the mirror and see the look on your face of the millions as the approaching day nearly here not to much farther in this our bleek future.

Who is this everyone,

this no one you see pretending that some one else will.

When that some one is you and you wont.

The world wide problem that we now have this environmental problem called deforestation.

Such as it is more destructive this weapon

every man has to date thus made and has of yet delivered.

U.S. from a choice fast approaching, called neither.

Even if we have only half of what we had and again half of the world's forests now are gone.

Would you think very different knowing that soon you will die, of suffocation.

You know as well as I do who will survive such is wealth

the devastation of all life with no air left to breath and no knowledge do you have to extract it from the water like they do.

Life will cease as you well know now keep on having all those babies that will need what you can't even give to your selves much less provide.
Scientists don't guess, do you rely on God pray tell.
Such a dry and dead, desolate place in your heads, breathing love.
I will remain in the world,
I am the one whom might come again and will learn how to breath under water.
As you in your fading light experience the dire consequences of deforestation.
I Will allow you to look to the sky for excape, few will make it.
Filthy air no trees that are suitable for making the air clean,
the very air all need to survive.
If anything, the few people left,
will need a new oxygen mask to survive,
a trace amount a bit remains in the air you must filter out.
Living organisms constantly circulate through the wood carbon cycle, caron dioxide in the atmosphere is an important part of the global process our life it changed.
Carbon in the living did you know is the second most valuable element after the water you need as well.
Light I am the way and thus I say,
the trees make carbon energy from the atmosphere by photosynthesis, in them you take.
Politicians of the future deciding if you deserve to breath air.
And the new form of death- the new approach to these wars, is the air people need and will kill for.

James McLain

After The Trees Are Gone

After the trees are gone.
After the green fades off into brown.
When there is no more air left to breath.
Forget all the colours you've dreaming seen.
From nineteen hundred on back no poet could have about this forseen.
It defies our very survival on Earth's face.
No one to read how you lived life and loved.
And the roaches won't care how you died.
You need no prophet about this to know.
Air, air there is no more air left to breath.
Air the next form of currency.
Their is no reasonable purpose or logic to this except without air they know you will die.
And about all of those whom only can take while giving nothing back in rebirth or returned.
There are those among you, I know that you don't know them.
They still think of you like a child, not like that of as.
Stupid people without air were not meant to survive.
Come plant a tree, it's not to late to get mad!
Before you have no air left to breath.
Before your will is gone and there is no one left to sing.

Dark Is The Woods On This Path

We were all conceived here deep in the woods.
No sun over head dark is the path through the trees.
This is my parents an old point of view,
it is not that they would but they certainly could.
Hiding this lie from my friends.
I no longer can tell but it's true.
They are seldom seen to far apart.
When they reappear,
it is why, we are so close together.
Cross eye'd and every other one has a stigmatism.
This may have occured because of inbreeding, or may be not.
All of our teeth are to far apart.
To many birth marks are the same.
My teacher has said that she has the same mother and father in her only dream.
I can not define every archaic rule that does not apply to me.
This rule may have already been broken
but never broken by me.
Remember to say why to Jack and Jill.
And I will stop by when I find my way out,
a different dark path through the woods.

Where is the life, death has to you brought?
Buisness interests, outsell and destroy all living creatures.
Human beings seem to dream of new ways to kill you.
Moving backwards, it is bending this endless flow of time.

Laying in wait, living not far away.
Innocence can not have it, real evil does exists, loving what evil is.
Evil recognizes itself.
Rather in the heart of mans greed, true poverty is, not just as it exists, thinking whats bad that opposites attract.

Just as one women was present,

And if your longing for last words,

Don't question me at length,

just what a slippery slope they are on.

My Fear Of Being A Shut In

No one comes unless they have to.
For three years and a little over two months,
I have been a recluse.
At one time for nearly three years,
I lived in my car where my wifes lawyer put me.
Even though we need shelter food and safety,
many thousands have been legislated by Florida,
to live with out it.
Then they arrested me based on the word of a woman whom had been in and out of Florida's State Hospital.
Called Chattahoochee opened in eighteen seventy six.
Where thousands of people have died and nightmares were real.
Shock therapy, lobotomized, raw fecal fear worse than death.
Quietly If no one can see me, I wait to die.
While as a client at the same out patient facility, Directions in hind sight I was more vulnerable than I thought, this facility knew she was dangerous and did not tell me.
Even worse to another she had done to this other before me.
Acquitted through trial she lost her child unable to cope with the stress.
I shall never leave my room again because of what they knew and what it did to me, on going nightmares of fear.
She over dosed on drugs and died I told them this about her,
and they did nothing, it as why I was her friend up until.
Others whom go there said she deserved this I then and now do not.
Mental illness was and is the same, to hurt them more?
I once functioned at such a high level my whole life,
I am waiting to die as I contribute nothing to my state any more.
I am ashamed that I can't do more.
If it is necessary to maintain the separation of my venture,
Because I greatly once loved, I once went out into the world.
The great harvester comes, silver aluminum foil hats, that some alien wears.
Malaysia flight, MH 370 is where?
To overcome their bias is proving that being born to soon is difficult,
I truly thought that I could out wait it all, this ignorance in my room.
But when the legislature has to tell the Judges to prosecute bad laws, like Hitler did the Jews did fear is all we have.
The lack of communication is the largest part in us this failure.
Instead of fighting uphill battles against the machine that rages to kills us.

When we leave our spiteful life behind us and leave the old thinking words of past introduction's.
And the highly Educated old white haired southern men the amused one's, laugh at you, there very presence proves, that you were unqualified to vote.

Russia, Sanctions And Chess

They give some of their best chess players these problems to solve and they have no reason not to trust them.
Because the root of all evil is,
and those very same roots we use.
Having no interest in foreign policy, only chess it helps Russia make plans that swell.
Strategically mixed are the two.
Getting Europe to impose sanctions means in the future, U.S. oil to them we would sell.
Long range American policy, nearly done with the Arabs we are.
Fifty years from the past is now here.

Face Of My Face

Face to face with your chocolate lips.
After one birth and resurrection,
to conclusions your mind how it leaps.
Up and down, spinning around the long spiral.
And how I and you can relate to the body.
Of the body of self,
to me though you have now as I hug the sides.
Am I wrong to you, it is me you have identified?
Die and you're born of my body,
believe in this to some, confused phenomena, believe as it related to each body it's self.
And such questions about who has died before,
will to most whom have lived, will you know.

Stupid People And Gun Rights

They don't care about your children being shot.
Twenty five thousand plus lives lost,
each year.
The ability for those southern whites in office
to not kill you to hold on to your guns.
One and done for violent thugs to change
the prison space with them instead that is reserved for you the drug addict.
Then when the dust of your bones settles, all you have to worry about is our military trying to kill you.
Their not going out without you're life.
Stupid people and their imaginary gun rights.

The Sea Of Faith

I was once as one before I had to leave the sandy shores of warmth around the sea you see.
Then as a child from outer space,
around the earth's blue face.
I laid my sights, I held the clouds,
in hands too small for me.
It's melancholy song, each grain of sand.
Retreating to the void its depths the deep.
Star lit nights, the wind, the waves,
beyond the sky, new worlds.

If you'd have Listened I'd.

I have learnt a great deal from listening carefully to you.

There are many words in our hearts, hearts heard beating seldom do we hear the voice in the middle.

Rehab

It is the prerogative of the nurse, especially in this hospital.
I speak to the doctors seldomly about it,
but they are not paying them much if anything.
Still the head nurse comes out and says,
give me some thing for services rendered.
One hundred dollars in my Office,
is worth ten minutes of your time.
I wont do it, if you come here at an inconvenient time,
and I will not be able to help her come.
Unless I try to help the others, rest as well,
and the doctors and nurses can have their thrills.
You and I will need to change in time for dinner.
Falling from her left hand is a glass of warm milk.
Seeing all this through a hole in the wall.

Thousands of years older than the Sumerian civilization.

Though the cultural background of these people now gone, whom lived on the land here no more.

I was even then alive once whom now you do not know except I.

Lost it is not this city by the bay it lies nearer to the shore, but not to near.

Ninty five hundred years old now it was unlike I the youngest.

Newer than Egypt, older than oldest of all Chinese cities.

Cold Woman And Hot Lips

Sanctified by drinking from his cup of alcoholic beverages.
Her nubile body was burned in his mind with strong drink.
Though in thought though he was,
forgiven through the death of the rest of the world.
Made dirty thus clean by these lustfull thoughts.
Death is caused by the weak will of her husband's bed,
insincere her cold body is evil and sought after.
Her lips of fire making him come in from the rain.
Nothing is as sinful as her apple scented,
oiled strong iron muscled hips.
Hot women will cleanse your dark soul, sip by sip.

In my dreams of birds,
they know no limits every symbol of transcendence that you dream, I dream of birds.
There is no escape,
no escape above the boundaries and the limits,
of flight one soul.
Is this bird of progress towards ones wholeness and harmony made whole.
Children listen,
they expect your goals and lofty aspirations.
Of all the types of bird's,
and coming down to land look in for more.
Every Black bird, every Buzzard that you see,
and what they really feel.
And the others when they sing,
that song for you what does it mean?

Before six months can pass way

Red lips that sing each melody,

As fair in art so deep in love,
I count the days you gave.

Love You see I did recieve was Love I gave to you.
Farewell my Love,

Come back again, I would again,

Disproving A Negative

To disprove the assertion of a negative claim, if the burden of proof when asserted is.

Does the lack of evidence claim, in the absence of positive evidence enough to prove evidence of possible harm?

Is this a positive assertion if you must assert,
a false made truth a claim.

Dispositive shift from the burden of proof from the parties in response to a claim?

Or opens the door for affirmative defense,
when promotion is falsely made.

Do other parties that enter in debate, confuse the truth if truth is falsely claimed?

Cheap Green Dress

I want to see you wear that short green dress, and all it's wrapped around.
I want it cheap and sheer and naughty flimsy
I want to see it ride up high,
and down so low it hides my face beneath the moon.
And tight and loose in all the places I can't be,
the other woman turns to see.
Will it tear the dress you wear, it tears at me.
I want the lovely things I can not have right under there.
Long arms, it is sleeveless and the open back,
this dress, you wear.
Walking quickly past are Mr. and Mrs. WONG.
Today in the old corner cafe is all I'm coming for.
Glittering are the streets are wicked are the bold, and walking past a window from the past I push and pull.
An elephant walks by and sitting in the truck,
while hoisting long slick snouts I hear that tell tale cry.

And mansions aren't for me,
the deaf cry'd out.
Make them go away the sight.
When the door way is to large for all of us,
you must be filthy, turned away.

I smell the wholesome food,
they must have, they must throw out.
Safe in my car where I once lived,
no more, caught sleeping, eating life, against the law.

Florida has you covered in their jails, day by day your wasted life they say it ebbs and flows, is bled away.
While the mentally ill must turn to drugs

Surging mighty swells an awful roar the voice of water still.
In time and space and movement is that water will.
Water taken by the heat and lost inside it's own.

When the missionaries, preaching the old world's New Testament about whether the Bible or God's word is seen clearly.
Even Jesus,
did not leave any writings laying about in his own hand
of writing one of the Gospels directly of himself.
And as the blind lead the blind was not the word of God revealed, that one of the direct disciples that never did are absolutely correct.
And accepted by the Church,
are the educated men and women you don't know.
As all know they hold the ignorant that read in the dark in contempt.
Absolutely no contemporary records exist,
or account about the life of Jesus Christ or the Bible itself.
Also the uneducated are not familiar with the fact, that the teachings of one of the other writing in the early order of the real Paul's letters and the composition of the earliest.
From the Epistles attributed to Paul,
of the fourteen that are held only four are in full swing.

letters to the Galatians and second to the Corinthians, and the first letter.

Lavishly spending each bluish moment,
as time stands still, savor the now each juicy second.

Malodorous tipped foamy blue waves, the sea fills your mouth up.
Tastes as the rain as it pours forth from your nose, I have caught you.
Drinking too much of, Dom Perignon's cobalt blue champagne.

I have been out of prison for nearly twenty years.

It is my understanding that when freed from all legal restraint than an application to have my civil rights restored would hence by the last agency to have jurisdiction over me when freed from such restraint would make automatic application for me.

This was some twelve years ago, when I was freed from probation.

I still can not vote as I and most ex convicts would vote Democrate, and as undoubtedly you the reader of this vote Republican.

Still I would seek an expedition of this omission as I am getting no younger.

As to why I can't vote other than you all ready know how we would vote seems like a violation of the voting rights act.

Why would you people vote for a man who's not even from Florida is beyond all thought and reason or logic.

Also as I was raped over a hundred times when in prison last.

I have never recovered.

With the up most respect,

I remain,

your obedient servant,

Face In The Mirror

Her Face In The Mirror

Acne, reservoir after a nasty way to collect everything due that it can do to such beautiful face.

Under it you push more pus in.

The girl in the mirror shows any young girls face, huge pimples grow under the skin, under her Chin, somewhere under.
Squeezing pimples filled with pus from a thick roll of paste,
it feels like watching her squeeze my eyes bulging out.

And why I still long, in the light of the calm.
Blowing out the wind in the center it's quite.
So now I hear the deaf, I can now see the blind.
Floating away on the salty white waves,
this solitude brings you back to my senses.

What Is Going On With Our Children

No one is born in the light of this wrong beings, left in the dark for to long?
Parent's that hide what they fear,
when the child in the mirror is them.

When did this price we now pay come back to U.S.
At such a high cost where we fear
our own children today.

Children that prey on other children.
Pediophobia,
that fear of other people and the role that dolls never played.

Preemptive strikes that come next against these our young as we were trained to fear those whom would harm them.

Political isolation
they as a rule have no fear of this as what has been done to the others sex offenders can now be done to these our children.

Slippery slopes some voted in unqualified to vote
these very same have now guaranteed
a place at the bottom for them all.

Religion And You

No one Bible, Torah can interpret the Koran.

After all, they all are just books-men not women wrote these books, and if they had they are delivered to you by other men and did not just fall from the sky.

And, it's true.

But by what you from them quote,
don't let another judge for yourself.

You are either good or evil, the whole concept of most if not all make mistakes that are hard to live with?

Religion without question, is doubt.

Will a sentence written by other people to blind to see make you believe.

It's whole purpose is if control.

Why do you need it?

Right and wrong don't you know?

Does not your existence make sense.

Also, to become human,
in the face of it all.

Do you need to be told, that the future more or less is what religion you are.

And one more thing-and about your intelligence and religion.

It should be at odds - the more knowledge that you have the less religious you should become.

Sanitarium

Some people today stay and play with the ghosts of their children sliding down the body chute, shot like death screaming as if shot into life out of the tunnel.

Unbeknownst knowing the history of their sick relatives transported and the dead bottom lips twisted in as if speaking.
Mumified remains, bonfire piles lit up it invokes nocturnal emissions.
If you can see look closely at all the leathery dead as they came in from.

Underground the damp dark lime walled tunnel.

The original sanitarium, death smells as if fish really could.

Eastern deaths blown in from the west by so many small feet and stretched out beneath the Hill underground sitting morbidly facing life grimly or were cremated to warm the old wooden Houses.

Mental Health Issues

Follow the law follow the rules until they become blurry preemptive, presumptions locking U.S. up if we step forward and learn to say what I need help we all do where can we turn hurting you
the stigma attached
Were not that far ahead of where Lister was Murder bone white give U.S. a ride to where it is we need to go to once function at a high level and make them money and now I can't makes me feel like that I should hurry up and die breaks from reality and schizophrenia seem to me that now they will be the ones that they seek out because of the murder suicides that have happened Evolution Darwin's theory perhaps mental illness is a part of that if so what should we call it as long as your mental health records are turned over to others to stay free sounds like some will chose to still take their lives than face the shame of standing in open court and confessing to things one has no knowledge of or having the power to trigger a person when they have access to your records and know it and where on the list do most fit when it comes to Home Land Security and where on the list are you when it comes down to you being a threat is not at all black and white unable to read minds lines that for now were genetically meant to be blurry.

Cyclops

Cyclops,
turned over the house in a burning rage and looks out the window day and night still.
Seeing the feet of the boy at the foot of the bed and some dirty underclothing once worn heaped there.
Grunge punk socks can also be seen, underneath looking out at one pink and red.
She can say that the sleeping boy walked around the house a very long time.
Before removing them like the report said.
Disgustingly soiled inside propped on a broom stick,
leaning against the moldy wall.
Cylops eyed and gagged, swallowing both big toes.
Continuing to shallowly breathe through her nose.
Sleeping still there he lies.
Unlike him/others come in from the back porch,
anyway they are just mostly homeless.

Upbeat, A Good Hero Is Hard To Find

Across the universe one last time where light is dark and dark is a white tear falling down my stark dark face.

Around my neck a piece of metal that says
going on a one way trip don't look back it's never easy.

One good man
tossed back into the pit of fire

Searching, searching for something never there.

there, there on my face dark one white tear falling down the face of one

My judgements are,

That each set sentence in a skillful tounge and without subterfuge,

You can change the decision by revision of the last judgement.

It shows my first ink spot and ink it is.
It's long, it's wrong, it looks like cuts in me.
However short I see it will blink, shrinking back it will blink all the time.

In the dark I pull away, I pull away then late at night.
When I was at the Lake.
The women I met just out of reach of her hard lips.
Caught on my back looking up at moon lit clouds.
She turned her back, it's shame full what I feel.
Hands shaking at the sight of tears, without reward.
Out of fear whats important to her, I was there.

She will never leave and I will never go.
When ever I come at night all by my self.
Replacing the darkness of her face I fall asleep.
Black and blue my eyes see all I feel at night.
Young and and both woman rising up in me,
in me she has merdged with the girl in the mirror.
The day I came, the day I left is the day she went away.

Light from where I am

No one knows with whom I speak but you.

Mental illness unlike those

Will it be a world of jails, police?
A failed view a world the privileged few to you whom are their slaves?

Sunlight I can't breath and colors you can't taste and bushes without leaves where trees won't grow and death is green the writing on the wall to all fore told.

Where pits are dug not deep like once before and on your knees you beg to them and head shot some won't die falling down your feet hang out and toes don't curl.

Perceptions, misconceptions are of you and I of death our light squeezed out by the very ones we looked up to the most.

Dreaming of the day like yesterday.

Why Do Innocent People Confess

Most of us scratch our heads when we hear about an incidence of someone being found innocent, despite being convicted of a crime by a jury. We think, "How could the jury have gotten it so wrong? "

But we really sit up and notice when not only an innocent person is sent to prison, not just on an eyewitness's testimony or such, but on the convicted person's own confession! What could lead an innocent person to confess to a crime they did not commit?

Sadly, this happens far more often than you might realize. Somewhere between 20 to 25% of all DNA exonerations involve innocent people who confessed to the crime. DNA exonerations are where a crime's evidence is re-evaluated and tested using modern DNA discovery procedures not available at the time the crime was committed that prove the crime could not have been committed by the person serving time for the crime in prison.

A new article by Saul Kassin (2008) looks at some of the reasons innocent people confess. He describes three primary types of false confessions:

Voluntary — The person confesses to a crime they did not commit without prompting from the police.

Compliant — The person confesses to a crime through inducement or the process of the police interrogation.

Internalized — The person confesses to a crime because they are high vulnerable and are exposed to suggestive interrogation tactics where they come to believe they actually committed the crime.

So what factors put innocent suspects at risk to confess? Kassin identifies three:

1. Situational risk factors

Certain police interrogation tactics commonly employed may exert too strong an influence over a person's willingness to falsely confess. For instance, the presentation of false evidence or misinformation by the police can increase a person's willingness to confess. Studies have shown that the introduction of false evidence ("We know you did it because we have an eyewitness that puts you at the scene of the crime") could raise one's willingness to sign a confession from 48 to 94%. Some people even start to believe they committed the crime!

Police interrogators are also very good at minimizing the crime, to help a person feel more comfortable and willing to confess to it. They may offer sympathy or moral justification for committing the crime, helping a person feel more free and at ease to confess. Such tactics work to gain confessions from the guilty, but also increase false confessions from the innocent.

2. Dispositional vulnerabilities

Kassin suggests that some people are “dispositionally more malleable than others, ” meaning that their personalities are more prone to compliance and agreement, so as to avoid confrontation, stress or displeasing others. Some people are also more suggestible than others, meaning that during an interrogation police can lead the person into a false set of beliefs that the person will end up agreeing with. “People who are highly anxious, fearful, depressed, delusional, or otherwise psychologically disordered, and people who are mentally retarded, are particularly prone to confess under pressure, ” noted Kassin.

He also singled out youth and young people at being higher risk, because they more often than not waive their right to remain quiet and not be interrogated by police (even with a parent present, because the parent often wrongly encourages the youth to cooperate with the police and answer their questions) . Youth and teenagers often engage in behavior that is focused on short-term, immediate gratification and impulsivity, without taking into account future repercussions or consequences. Confessing to police in such situations may provide a teen a quick way out of a stressful situation (while causing them to confess to a crime they did not commit) .

3. The phenomenology of innocence

People who are truly innocent of committing any crime naively believe that the justice system will ferret out the truth in a fair trial, ensuring a “not guilty” verdict (ala an episode of “Law and Order”) . Sadly, this is rarely the case. The people say, “I did nothing wrong, ” or, “I have nothing to hide.” Be that as it may, the justice system isn’t setup to protect the innocent nearly as much as it is to try cases and process people through the system as quickly as possible. If you know you’re innocent, your safest bet is to remain silent and do not talk to the police.

Need more proof? Watch this YouTube video from Prof. James Duane, a law professor at Regent Law School and a former defense attorney for all the reasons you should never talk to the police — especially if you are innocent. (And if you don’t believe him, watch the Part 2 of the video where VA Beach Police Officer George Bruch reiterates the same advice.) For instance, one of the nefarious ways discussed in the video that police get an innocent person to confess is to write an "apology letter" to the crime victim. This letter is then used as the written and signed confession at trial. And it always works.

Because once a jury hears your confession, your chances at trial decrease significantly (81% of people who were innocent but confessed and went to trial were convicted) .

It Is So

The gears those wheels within my mind never stopping grinding on the rocks crashing
it is so.

I try to park them
I try to restart them by the use of minimal meds
I try to thwart them why
it is so.

My mind runs it never stops
one, two, three or more days when it stops
I finally fall exhausted in my bed
it is so.

I am the runner of the bright night keeper of the your dark days it is said they are numbered
it is so.

Always stars falling fire always burning from within me no more killing
it is so.

Surrounded by people whom rise by Loving the rain

it washes me clean

I Thought You Loved Me...

I thought I could believe you when you said that love, I love you.
I thought, and will not leave you my thoughts,
now gone are the thoughts after thought, it was never gone.
We were strong and I thought to me you gave it, my love, forever and forever, I thought our giving and taking,
the pushing and pulling that love had to work,
and now I know, I am right, and now I'm wrong, I thought that my love you should know this,
in a short letter, love thats strong.

Candidly I Exceeded

From my candid style.
Appeared on the ground in front of me.
Falling around me pink known excesses observe the soft side of green leaves.
Proudly they shine, how they shine off the setting sun.
Lifting their faces to archaic beauty.
However, the leaves of the tree sliding back, into the warm earth out of reach though I feel them.
Soft is the wind and they fall even faster, forming a puddle, falling petals form around me.
Look at the ground in front of me, falling around me fluffy pink exceeding, observing the Sky and white clouds they remind me.

Her Last Breath

Dead, dried the tears and all the pain is finally over it has been.
She finally died one small step, and hang her,
she hangs up right now.

One can not stop the pain this breathing living thing,
she has some on her wrists, cutting across the room and then a hurried stumble, grabbing the rope and her relationship with life is now over.

Thin is her neck the other end can spread them a smile.

She feels good, she feels bad at the coming darkness,
from the bunk bed to the top, she will climb.

Once like him at the top it is hard,
she looks up sliding down, facing the pain of it all.

Taking her last drawn in breath,
she knows that her pain is here, here it comes,
the little death of her she is her not by them.

And suddenly there it is she is finally free.

She finally took that small step for all the others like them,
she hangs up right now.

She hangs up like him for their terrible sins.

Femininity...

If by me he dares play on me by my, my, my,
he by it, my female femininity also had improved!
Cutting him off by the end and it gave me a new sense of pride of accomplishment in women!
Sunken eyes, just staring and waiting ahead of their milking!
I knew that it was time to cut one!
Be bold, be proud, are you not a woman?
His one ball by your hand, hangs apart it just hangs!
This by my will how I would treat those unable to pull out, a little bit.
He finished, creating nothing to see, nothing new!
The same blank white canvas.
I instruct the mad, pitifull beliefs go get my towel and Bowl him.
I've neutered no further use to me, to me, would he?
Undetectably, Indescribable were our feelings back when and cutting men who at all other times,
you can now cry about women femininity also had improved!
Being cut off by his like the magician waves his wand and it gave us a sense of pride of accomplishment as women!

I live for that pain and die from that pain and knew that I was not ready.
Liar, when the devil shakes me like you.
Walking towards me, with both hands,
I trembled to see as the arms violently shook,
and then turning around and put it on my face,
how much more pain will I feel.
Then the lights just went off in my head.

Confessing, American Juries

Only through the judge can the police deny justice withheld.
The enemy of time and perception of justice,
by the failure to inform the jury of false confessions.

Aye, and as such by the appraiser of my false confessor.
Where by in Florida it happens,
more times than not it effects the jury.

False evidence training ploy by Leo, to raise important concerns, about false confessions based on evidence they don't have.
Is the confession you agree to based on that a truth fact,
by the Leo, the judges knew of many past and future decisions that are false and withholds.

Diminished mental capacity, mental illness, I am you through it,

To confer facts by Leo, not evident,
to escape from the inquisitors pain of false wrong doing,

About false confessions when Leo, states there is evidence to obtain your confession, by saying and having the jury think something came from nothing to establish the guilt of your innocent sin.

I Loved You Here

I can only love you, while I'm here.
I will for you, start my singing.
The song of my world, you can dream of.
I look up at your sky, at the biggest of stars,
and down at my eyes, yours see through mine.

So sing my name in the wind,
as the leaves follow the breeze on your face.
Leaves of rich pine back to that place that you loved.
Silk as it falls, from the West.

Sometimes when you breath it fills my sail.
Up so high and this high, I can feel.
Oh, black ships to sail back and forth then across.
All alone in your space, I must wait.

Sometimes even I move to quickly, made sore by you I get up,
and my soul that you hold it is wet.
Ocean of sound far away, from his.

Here is my love and you are.
Here where I loved you and to all who can see.
Here it is plain, sing it out love is blind.
Here at night when I start to sing.

The two biggest stars in the sky look at me.
My name on the wind,
green leaves on my face, such are friends.

Ode To Caroline

Ode To Caroline

Before she was born, the moment I died, day replaced night.
Verily my brothers and you my sisters, to Mary cried.
Strange is this world in which even I, try to hide.
Upside down, none but one had ever tried.

Unto you by word of mouth, by mine this your rule of law.
While twisted tongues predisposed did in the dark rearrange,
all that was read unto them, never done.

I behind you, always I walked,
I have never run while ahead of me, walks your shadow.
Back to the place before you were born, I could hear,
those very thoughts, that I to you spoke of.
I know where you hide them,
unborn children glow green, birds without wings can not fly.

For the lack of your mental hospitals,
many jails and your heavily guarded prisons.
This will be the next heaven,
for all of you, my sons and daughters.
To regress and never while knowing, try to evolve.
Why it is that you place my daughter and her father instead of Karen, in harms way.

Where I have gone ahead,
that you looking back can not follow?
Questions to the answers I spoke of to you,
and why, no one listened.

Now look at this Daughter, of mine she neglected,
it Prophet's none.
Numb with sleep where ahead of me, you placed Karen.
Religion to see over blind science,
here some but for one, would not have been born.

Afraid of the dark,

All of that I couldn't take it, it hurt so bad.

Mumbling to myself,
'Wow-this is really Me', this life it now seems to suck.
i feel like wow, a blank wall.
Mother of all pain after hearing for the,105th or 106th.
Time than it, i now feel like that balony sandwitch i never ate,
not always better off subconsciously, i know it sounds vulgar.
Your better off drunk or unconscious.
However, it hurts no matter what, i let it happen,
That fat skank, she must be rolling in fried chicken right off her, cuz that is how I, now regret that i did it with her.
Be scared, be so much afraid,
and you will stretch and reach for the sky and you wont ever die.
And be discouraged, unless you like having a baby like pain,
some pink pigs with out wings can not fly.

Dreams-Dreams Of Sex And Prison

Dreams about life and subconscious, aspects of your own.

Lucid or not, it represents a complete psychological,
out of reach, you won't own.

Hence what you dream.

Our dreams of sex, most healthy children don't have.

Unless they are placed in jails and or prisons.

The receptive partner of your own character and clouded aspects.

Considering the wild nature of, love-making.

Passionate about what it is?

Is it slow?

It was wild!

Bending time to that paralleled aspect of yourself,

your own life line, you represent by the sex act.

It has received by the sum, not the all of your dreams,

my interpretation of your dreams, Congressed to me, confessed.

It may have needs but your needs come first in your dreams.

The bars that prevent, physical and emotional love, you can see.

Now it has been said,

that you must try to rekindle the love between self,

and someone you want, you can't have.

People even now are talking about your private selves.

Now a little on your life in prison, come to terms with the horror of such dreams, without representation.

Until you feel the pain of the other and why most of you can't.

This is why you watch cops on t.v.

beat up and abuse the mentally ill and do nothing.

You limit your creativity, to express something yourselves.

See someone else in the prison of your dreams,

if no other face that you see but your own.

But being grown and by me known, as you sleep why I watch, and thinking you arn't, but you are.

You can freely express yourself on the wrong side, that Mean side.

Freed from this prison on earth and why I must watch,
I've some dream that someone is making major changes, to your waking life.

Pray that there's time left to change the iron bars,
for something loftier than some other ones nightmare.

Learn Your Anatomy

Love it comes, don't look down, love it goes,
it leaves a trail of tears most can't follow.
On the other hand, boys weren't taught to pee
standing up.
By thier mother,
while his father generally kept his mouth shut.

Before a girl knew about a women outside in the rain, without her pink square umbrella.
Three donut holes and with legos tried to bridge any large numbers of other sexy object's.

Learn to know your anatomy.
Boys teach you nothing and go hand and hand without a mirror and then leave town.
From the front to the back,
and in God, we trust, bla, bla, bla

Here is the first hole and there is the second,
sitting down is the third, don't stand up.
Don't you dare I can hear, laugh at me.
How many people are your luv best friend, about this most have lied, the round O of your mouth makes you looking up act surprised.
Did the Nun say it's connected to your lungs?

Don't worry if you lose something there.
I had a friend who once did.
Be not afraid, go all the way in and pull it out.
For I have lost things, I keep to my self,
don't use pliers.
If you can't find it, put something different in there and chances are it will get lost as well.

I think it's something like your foot, for socks are.
If you lose your foot in the sock,
it stays lost in the sock, don't dwell there.
And yes,
it is true-you can drop your lost shoe on his head.

When You Die

Only the evolved prize your one life.
The value of life by most is the same as it ever was death is the one thing not reinvented.

Most spend it in the pursuit of nothingness from which they will soon return
none the wiser.

God's that most speculate about instead of enriching the lives and lost loves, you complain of is your life really that worthy of some thing special while in death it is the sum of your God's.

I tremble at the thought of some living forever to drain and contribute nothing.

Then sadly most have absolutely no situational awareness at all.
It is why the soldier's are tragically young.

So for the few whom must look for others to follow
you are at best a knot a distraction
then you die.
It is best if you just get out,
or get to the bottom of it.

Rejection Prophet's Hate, But Love Pride

K

Rejection of the prophethood of Mohammed,
by Jews
and carried his id into a deep impact,
he being a man and the psychology of rejection.

Mohammed wanted to be accepted as a prophet,
by Jews.
And his pride,
like that of Moses, killed thousands.

Thus when ye said: o Moses!
We are tired of one kind of food; so bring him to us, from the Earth that it groweth- Lord at thy call for us are the herbs and the cucumber and the corn and the lentils, onions.

Angry He said: ye at lower than that for high,
is you children and want to replace that?
Get out, then go to resettlement other countries,
therefore be ye, ye request it.

Humiliation and wretchedness was stamped on them and they were visited by the wrath from Allah.
Because it is suspicious of Allah by his revelations and killed the prophets unjustly.
It was made just by their disobedience and sin.
So it passed not many years to forget it.

I know of the children, even your unborn and the birds can not fly, plucked of their wings.
I know why you would as before, don't kill them.

Inside the Koran their are no mental hospitals,
Inside the Koran is the light not your prison.
And you have in great many numbers, Jordad in prison.
This will be heaven, yea this your next,
for each of you and your sons and daughters.

Their is still time pray retreat,
and while never knowing, trying to evolve.
Reason is for this, is the place for your mother and father instead of yourself,
by but for love, you lay hurt on the road.
Where I before went ahead, you speak of your virgins, as if they were camels on my back, to be carried.

You do not pray,
you don't ask and for this you can not follow my tracks.

Questions to all of the answers, I talked to you of,
and why, no one even now and pray they will listen.

So now as was said just for you long ago,
look to these your children, these jewels of mine,
and I, if you don't, it will be you, whom is slaughtered.
Prophet the one, without resentments or numbness,
where others sleep with me as before, I had put them.

Religion can't see past blind science, here are the all of the some, but for one, will not be.
Afraid of the dark,
and here each Muslim is and all of this to you,
I once promised.
And by the Hair that it is again clean, I have washed.

Bloody Stick's

As I fall into your square with round corners, bloody my stick wears your name.
Others have come to the edge of the door,
this door from above me, that hangs.

One feels the sharp razor's edge,
while the other keeps a promise not kept.
Did you know that where ever you go to die,
that body once yours they loan out.

Others like me can remember your name,
the name that you have since forgot.
By forgetting your name, they have but to gain,
the rest they can hide in my box.

Solomon's Lost Psalm

I have been unlike ever before by you tested.
My mind like before, now that yours is.
What of that, that I have been by one of them given,
and thinking of that and right that it is.
Removed from the dark, come into the light, here where it's warm
here where it is that the lost come to read.

These are those days of my lost heartfelt psalm.
Forever and my words, so many others have said, that they remain etched in yours of like mind.

To be unforgiven is by law the nature of men,
it would, it could change by what one woman says.
When raising one child, never to hate to walk in this world
unafraid all alone.
Thinking the opposite of what they have learned.
Is this not the true nature of Solomon's, psalms?

Adolescent, Kids Are Mean

At your age but not in particular.
Contrary to what has been said,
already by others never said.

Fluid acts too any physical problems, unknown by your friend's that may occur.
It is a normal,
that part of growing up to touch the sky
at your age, not many kids know.
Bloody sticks,
the burning bush and red wood trees,
that flame won't go away.
Not during adolescence.
For he is neat and she for her,
the only worry is you must find out.
In advance,
who your friends they truly are.

Even though it fully never is when normal,
but by your age not when you do, but who.
Even though they too are doing it.
Don't tell on your self,
before them all you know, they will tease you.

Instruction manuals for young human beings,
it is the only way.
Kids are never more than less than average.
They are sharks that circe smell your blood.
At your age they are savage.
At your age they are no one in particular.

Contrary to what has been already said,
I have without the slightest touching bled.
The only real worry is to find out, just who your friends they really are.
Even though the cup is haf way full,
never tell them your true age, not even to.
It is the only way,
kids can't be fooled when they are come to age.

Write For Her And Write For Him

I write for her, I write for him,
a home is not a home without a name.
Others take their fame and run away.
And a person is a person not a game.

The scarlet 'S' some gossip of a scandal.
Those yellow tennis shoes they buy on sale,
were never pink they dye and made you wear.
Other children smile, my smile is grey.

You They Know

They want more than I can give, more than I might have.

They want more than right from wrong,
more than people have.

They want you to give you're all to them,
more than you can give.

They know you and knowing that is, more than they should know.

They know what you're secrets are and,
more or less than not.

They want you to fade and never know, more from you they came and got.

In The End, You Realize

Not having to say again all of that, you can do it all.
When you come back say what you need
I was there.

I waited and waited,
for you to find it in the sun somewhere.
Back we will go into the light,
without pain.

Boys plucking flowers after the rain,
all from the heart to give up, they trust.
It is then as we open up all of the sky,
even after we call out to heaven.

Red Wood Tree's

They're all different, but what really counts is the height.
The sensitivity of that first, second, some times third,
sweet moment of, it is like climbing up into soft, warm,
yet slippery, velvet cloud's.
Which sends crackles of electricity from the bottom to the top of the giant red wood tree.
Up around the trunk and down again.
Often I will slip in to say hello and stop.
Just so I can feel the green leaves form around me,
and to give myself a moment to best decide how to proceed.
It is then climbing down, that I know, I'm doing the right thing.

Dying

For those of you whom can't go on but must.
And the very few who will.
Do not be afraid to step out into the light.
It feels like right before you fall asleep at night.
You start to feel the darkness,
but it isn't scary
and you're not completely aware of what goes on.
Then all at once you're gone and you didn't even realize you have slipped away.
When you wake up from it, everything's hazy
and confusing and that is when you know.

Lollypop cheeks,
how to describe it?
It feels so amazing, and once
the feeling is gone you want more.

There is no holding back the screaming,
when the feeling is really there.
It's too good for words.

Maybe,
some other girl can describe it!
I'm not good with words,
but I've always been a hands on girl.
I'd rather feel it then to tell or hear,
how it feels.

Is it true that every time when he dies?
I thought that it was,
but then I heard someone say otherwise.
Some can't die no matter how hard they try.
What does his body do?
Does he get lightheaded... not want to be touched?
Is there any numbness, before the bright light.
Being female and curious,
about certain construction equipment.
I don't know how it feels for them,
to drive the backhoe.
I am willing to listen to another that has died.

Deception

There is a girl in here, with almond eyes long straight hair tinted that the colour of.

Let the air in, her hair is wet,
her waist is small.
The sun through the window she let in.
Passion she has like her mother,
she smells of fresh treasure.
And other things that girls dream of.

Full of life she works in a pool,
empty of life, dark purple eyeholes.
Made of glass and she has a friend,
and her nose it looks broken.

You were her friend, she always confessed to.
You could have helped her,
the gradual ease
of him inside her without drawing a picture.
Murdered, forgotten,
what had begun as of now you feel terrible.

Her expanded example is now gone lost obscure,
and the eyes staring,
you betrayed what she was, and you should feel more than sick at your stomach.

I Am Private, Guilty Sin

At that this final point

The life my father gave me.

Jesus give me up to them in thorns,

And through my humiliation, are you guilty or am I.

Straight up to find or, responsibility and I, I know some are happy with my sins,

I am private

You hear me say.

I am me
and I see what you did to all the others.
On the way to where you can not be.

Being Milked I Did Not Die

Unbeknownst they came to each of us in turn.
They sped this process up and came at night.
The lips the hands were never meant to be on us.
Pulling sucking up and gulping down,
pulp fiction blew white foam across the sea.
Endless faces set the pace they came and went.
Deep in the woods where bushes did not grow.
Up from there the pain my belly inside knew.
Even now they await for more than two.
In respect of more than this, are boys and girls.
They tried every way to drain, their thirst to slate.
Up until and right before I did I never would.
The appetite of those I stood before.
Being milked I did not die all though like her I cried.

Argued Blue

Someone's world this is, in which I hide.
Psychitzophrenic hues the color blind.
Sticking pins through living butterflies.
Wringing hands wash nothing but themselves.

My fingers find the holes outside my head.
Electric shocks my system, I am held.
Pacing back and forth I'm borderline.
Sex when I was young was on their mind.

Bracelets made of leather they were brown.
Astringent smells inhuman yells there is no sleep.
Buckled down the gurney in the hall.
I am filled with shame the bed pans full it shows.

Golden hues of Autumn fill the melancholy air, bright brown eyes that read the catcher in the rye.
Pink the book I see Xaviers Hollander, the happy hooker, on the bench when she was all of twelve.
And the rest just like a wave it comes and goes.

And We Were Young

And knowing where to lie,

The earth,
our bed forever was our friend.

Never trained for this,
straining at the bit of right and wrong.
We were young to young to know,
just what we did.

But life goes marching on the living of,
you must endure.
Enduring what we did and like before.
Find out what I am, before your gone.
Old though I may be,
you are to young to know my name.

My Only Secret

The room, pitch black and dark it always is.
The box was never woody warm but always winter cold.
Some thing makes me itch, I know it, know it not,
it is what I'm scratching, scratch, I scratched.
The warm hand that is not mine I squeeze and I grow bold.
Inside my ear their is this ringing that I can't forget
The darkness is a living breathing dying dusty womb.
Upon it's bed I lay I pay the price and O it's size.
Every shadow that I see it takes my breadth away,
and my breathings is of what is there I feel it now.
On my stomach out the window as I push I look outside.
The moon is full the curtains open then she screams at me.
It's nothing mom I yell and run away.

We watched as children on the nightly news
as Walter Cronkite,
I as then knew nothing about collateral murder.
I no longer know what a terrorist is.
I mean well, we like to think the meaning of it is.
Conversations no one had with death if one survived.

might look at you and crying wish to die.

The Odds Were Never In Your Favor

Does a prune make good wine without grape's?
Though I watch you drink it,
knowing you had a chance at the game you lost.
Historically the story of history,
must be repeated it can never by those like you changed.
The illusions of rights take back from you,
given back again, you never had.
Fear more fear, murder more murdered without hope they realized, people whom chose to not think instead are their prize.
I look at her, she is smart, she looks at me I am not.
My mamma bred dogs, breed up never down.
Reinventting the wheel over and over again.
Opposition from you they have planed,
your end from the beginning in strife you are kept.
And it works for a can of soup you will learn to kill,
or in the end eat one another and stay warm by burning books you could not teach your children to read.
What you never do can hurt everyone, everyone they hurt is you.
If by they any truth in this you could read I'd be killed.
In this you find no good use so I am safe like yourselves.
Being blind you can't see,
and your dreams are but shadows of those who have gone before.

Why Republican's Dislike Women

I was listening to NPR yesterday,
they were discussing the women's issues and the GOP.
The GOP is working hard to put more women in Congress.
Just not you.
As it stands now, here it is.
There are currently 78 women in the House of Representatives.
And only of these 19 of them are Republican.

These 19 seem to have sex yet hate the word.
Many will have lots of children we can't afford.
They grow up and will not admittedly say they like sex.
This is the way to fire and brimstone to the point.
Many even now feel obvious fluctuations in their own bodies,
by hearing words like moist, wet down there, birth control issues and green moss, through the bush grows a tree,
I say I don't hate gays but gravy and biscuits I do.

Yet the most vocal are,
the first not the last to say show me how to put some one innocent to death in the good book it says.
We have a saying in Texas.
If they can't be squeezed out in a pipe they will fit in a box.
The good never were born, your to late heres my wife, tonight's not the time but she will.

Remember the Alamo, Betty Crocker ate here, James Bowie my life started there.
Through it all the short trials if you can't feel in your heart go away.
Liberal in life, conservative in death, a woman in office can choose.

not yet blind.
Through tomorrow, today I still know.
Some what less frequently.

Only through stress and only through stress did I know.
That the way to my heart
lay deep in my head when I dreamed.

One fat women I laid with, when older.
The sad part I think is the part that made dreams.
I feel it's gone.

that because of their wealth
they can afford.

Three shifts every day seven day's every week.

Month to month for one year.
To pay for themselves,
the cost of probation officers.

To work and live amongst them.
Keeping all their real enemy's,

Sounds to me,
better than nothing learned

And even now,

The Asylum Present's

We were to some but forums to experience, sexual fantasy's,
on wide eyed boys and young prepubescent girls.

Our psychiatrist was the real, Doctor Rippy.
Eleven, twelve, thirteen years old,
when Michael Jackson of the Jackson Five,
and the Carpenters were then still alive.

Blocked by the locked doors, of this cold,
living hell, our psyc world.

Drawn there by our own personal horrors,
we were just little people,
and they dared, knowing the true meaning of.
Having no mature words,
to express trapped in the minds of the young.

We were wounded before there we came,
and remained.
Wounded we were and some knew what to do,
so they did.

It got to the point where,
we could only escape through our dreams.
And every day in a circle group therapy,
we had to tell him our dreams,
and we told on ourselves by telling them all.

Where sometimes,
one or two would then be taken off to the room.
Shock therapy which was applied not to all,
but to the lucky few.

The voltage of which,
Made us forget being milked they knew, by him.
It Erased our small minds, of it all.
A few made it through to be burried alive with, Thorazine.

This drug made me allergic to bright sunlight,
and still they would push it into our veins.

One girl was by him made pregnant,
before D.N.A. could tell on him.

They tied her tubes.

One girl I thought never to steady,
one girl,

he made insane, to the point,

when she took her already then short life.

Out side when we lived one block from my house,
one girl stayed.

Doctor Rippy,

loved eating up kids, self made this monster.

From which but for us, had no real life,

so the life of a child held no value to him.

On the fifth floor of,

T.G.H. in the year of our lord, nineteen seventy.

Are Men Really Evil

Men and women are evil,
and only the consequences hinder us,
from murdering you and everybody else.

We may all say,
that God gives us free will.
While at the same time preventing the consequences of evil.
This becomes a question of, being human.

We may want God to intervene in each case,
of your murder and rape.
But do we want God to really intervene?
Case in point most like living in their own idolatry.
And saying you do not.

Sin is not measured on a murderous or sexual scale.
All sin is an offense to God,
and it all separates us from Him inequally.
An unsaved person was by he, known before birth,
and your worst sin is that of gossip.
You must then look at your self,
as unsaved and as a nonbeliever who is a serial killer.

If God were one of us,
and were to intervene and prevent your evil,
he would have to rub you out.
Like he has done many times before.

Also if God were to prevent,
all the negative consequences of your actions, would you really have free will?

Murder And More Murder, Sex, Rock'N Roll And Drugs

I can see through your wet panties, that whores like you wear on purpose.
Boobs full of milk and long fat hard on's.

I can feel you on top sliding high up and down,
before you,
I diced up and murdered.

Getting caught,
I will not,
its never enough to get my thrills.
Crisco butter, coconut oil with some of the colonel's fried chicken,

Moist red lips, that I close with a smack.
Snorting coke your glazed eyes, smoking weed,
your fast on my trip, power moves.

Eye's that can't open,
that I squeezed shut with my middle finger.
Green metal that glows bright pink, then red,
deep down inside,
I am sawing back and forth with my dull knife.

Murder and Sex and more sex, life with me stops, committing sow drawn out murder.
Moving she gasps,
bipolar she goes moving to fast she let's off of the gas,
he says let's go.

The future is bleak as it crawls slowly past,
so fast that you missed your last show.
Words that shock, eating my fill, your face is like paste,
Your black bony asses is like glass, I see through.

I learned it all on T. V. growing up and to see, him beating her up,
while she on top, holds him down.

Murder and sex,
drugs and murder and sex, rock and roll.
Way out in the sticks, n the country, my guns in their rack, white pick up trucks.
I was to young,
and she was to obviously broken.

Wild both of us knew that nothings free, neither one of us like some of the rest none were spared.

Terror Of The Soul

The heart grows cold, then flutters still.
Her blue eyes mirror,
what comes forth from those lips.

The driving force within,
idols are,
the living thorn within the soul.

Bloody night's,
her whip across my back.
Bloodstains,
hide the depth of her well.

I'm just a slave to her misery.
My heart bleeds,
I've waited her whole life.
For this moment.

If I close my eye's,
then you have weakened me.
And if my soul is by her refused,
I have died in fear.

Black is black and blue is grey,
tonight she has a say.
Purple soothes her heart beats,
in my blood.

The river where I drank is now gone dry.

his single cell is now for me, my lovely prison.
Nasty dirty,
skanky little white girls,
only live to watch me cry and ride the sky.

To All Of You, I Once Promised

Greetings to you, all of you, I again promise.
To all of you, but not them.
I never said,
never have I said, that they are blessed without ever knowing, you are them.

And yet I was walking here behind you, always, I never ran.
You before me, walking in league with your shadow.
Return to the place,
before you were born as I hear,
all the same words, you were to them speaking.

I know where you hide them,
where even my children know You, the Unborn, knowing there birds here can fly without wings.

For all of your marriage's to mental hospitals, prisons and your great morbid gordid.
This will be your next sunny sky,
for both you and your sons and my daughters.
To undo, And while never knowing, trying to evolve.
Why place thine blessed mother and father,
rather than yourself,
as it was then and even unto now to your own detriment.

So for all the children, I went ahead,
you can not look back, but can still follow?
Questions for answers, I talked to you,
and as to why, after that, no one would listen.

Now look to these thy children of mine, and you had them like goats and sheep their innocent throats slit.

Prophet's will come, without stupor or numbness.
Where you sleep at my side, here before me.
I would go far up, down below,

and in trust for you, would I place them.
Religion has seen that science is not blind,
here's some more but for one, will not be.
Afraid of the dark,
here all alone all of this to You, I once promised.

Night Wish

You do to me,
what you want me to do to you, all the time.

The things you do,
are the things I want our music rhymes.

Come and be,
what I want you to see
we have time.

Underground, is a river that runs never dry.

Letting go is the hardest thing love is cold.

Under Cover Of Day

I opened it up the last the door,
here where I stand,
I am lost, I gaze out at the sea.
Just past the first row of standing stones.
A strong north wind it howls as it blows,
green foam across vast empty space.
Standing up, she is straight,
he is reaching out for love, night's veil of those lost years.

She can't see past all of the clouds,
reciting incantations until he calls out.
From where all have waited to be called,
it is his last turn.
Three more turns of the wheel the spokes.
Lost in the void three more turns,
he knows that she has.
Ancient the muse said more than allowed.

Tears

From the barrel of the Gun life taking tears.
I know you see or feel the Sun it's warmth go out.
The shock across your Face,
your eyes grow distant then go Blank.

Back to sleep, that far off distant place, Before.
Before it was decided, You came here.
You came here and Changed your past again.
And like before, the tears lie as a blanket wet upon.

Lost Inside Your Bible

Before I was born, the moment I died, night replaced day.
Verily my brothers and you my sisters, to Mary cried.
Strange is this world in which even I, try to hide.
Upside down, none but one has ever tried.

Unto you by word of mouth, by mine this your rule of law.
While twisted tongues predisposed did in the dark rearranged,
all that was read unto them, I never said.

I behind you, have always walked,
I have never run while ahead of me, walks your shadow.
Back to the place before you were born I could hear,
the very thoughts, that I to you spoke of.
I know where you hide them,
even unborn children know, birds without wings can not fly.

For all of your mental hospitals,
jails and your heavily gaurded prisons.
These will be your next heaven,
for all of you, my sons and daughters.
To regress and never while knowing, try to evolve.
Why it is that you place your mother and father instead of yourself, in harms way.

Where I have gone ahead,
that you looking back can not follow?
Questions to the answers I spoke of to you,
and why, no one listened.

Now look at the children of mine, you have slaughtered.
Prophet's none,
numb with sleep where ahead of me, you placed them.
Religion to see over blind science,
here some but for one, would not be.
Afraid of the dark,
here all alone all of this to you, I once promised.

Her Beauty Is

If she to me a tender word would dare I write,
I whom sleep, beneath the star lite sky.
To sit and ponder what she sees up there.
Such love her face is distant off and bright.
Her beauty from mine eyes, here on me pours,
and metre, measured circles come to rhyme.
About each struggle that I've written is for you.

To love each leaf upon the tree, I'm long to think.
I picked one rose then placed it in your pink vase.
I left the one of many buds, I can't replace.
To watch the petals come next spring to bloom again.
Beauty struck a different light on me, in haste as I.
I wait until the day when I am offered your intentions.

Solitude In Mine

Here in my solitude it is lost inside, yea though I have been well I once was a man.
In my solitude she sought,
she sought like I a place to to go and hide.
In my solitude I can not but repeat,
one thought that is alive, no longer is.

However deep my solitude, my room, my blurry sight.
To engage your intellect with out stretched hands, my lips forget the taste of your sweet wine, the apple of.
However free I never felt unless I was with you.
And strained relationships weren't strong unless because.

Lost Inside Of You

Your breasts bare no scars and I can feel.
Myself, my all she has placed inbetween them.
I find the violets the room smells heady of,
out side some where green the vine climbs the stairs.

And yet honey bees fly so fast in and out,
alive from beneath them.
The moon in the sky where her star hides behind it.

Tell me why Haley's comet has such a bright face.
Why the snow is not like the foam,
you and I see, when we walk at the beach.
I like you have followed the stream, that led us back up to the shore by the sea.

To Whom It May Concern

I have been approached by some as to why,
as to why it may read as Shakespeare.
Emily Dickinson, Sara Teasedale, extraordinary, etcetera, etcetera.

The king and I, Siam where I am with only you or not.

Up until now I believe, I believe that for free, I believe most whom can read have gotten their monies worth.

Never having taken an English class, past the seventh grade, some few can not argue with truth so why try.

Band I took twice and excelled,
above all the rest as well, large ego aside.
Having read the encyclopedia britannica, every year in class while the rest of the kids did not.
You can lead the horse to water, and ride him or her till it drops, is that smart?

After the eighth grade I was done with that because the rest of the bullies then were and still are.
Three G.E.D.s I took and passed because,
I needed to see for myself if one could learn out side of traditional learning and excel.
Scoring twenty points higher each time over the last it's called drive.

Ambition to drive up past and beyond the best.
Shakespeare was bored, Emily had some times cried her self to sleep some night's in a man's world.
The very best did not know about being bipolar
manic depression like Abraham Lincoln.
His photographs from eighteen sixty to sixty five reflect to another
what an over achiever can do like he did.

Ego this ego that not understanding some times
what I write that's O.K.

Some of what I write can only be understood by those whom know what I have witnessed and have had done to me.

This is not a biography or excerpt.

Either you have it or you don't.

Wisdom to some is just having control over another imposing your will to benefit you're self at the expense of another and call it trade.

So I write like them because I just can, that's just that.

Be the best you can be for you not one whom can't.

You are who you are and can change for the best,
or you can't, though few must try.

The rest buy what they buy because they saw some one on T.V. who was never fat and won't be or not be for you, yet you buy all your lies from them.

Fat beautiful skinny wet not moist full lips.

Snicker, snicker

you are all shocked and have sex because it feels good.

And I would talk to my daughter about a vibrator than have her sneak out and get pregnant.

Because of your child hood hang ups about those triple J cups.

Love I Said, To Her

Hello love goodbye it changes, changed you not, except for her.
Where I once stood with youth no longer do I feel the dart of love.
And stranger parts I played when it grew light in me the lark it sang.
Did I to you about that ever say,
the rose in bloom the small red bud was mine not yours to give away.
Each tall tree I rested on I pushed against it very hard until it gave.
The petals fell and peril was ignored, I to you then said.
By this act my course you set the yellow burning sun to hot and high.
And I with out stretched hands to her could ask of you but why?

Snow On The Rose

Things they come and things they go, pushing up to the sun here where I grow.
Why it is you,
to whom I speak under the veil of dusk.

Rain when it comes washes each petal dry.
Tears keep the eyes moist here is the moon in the palm of my hand,
now it hides.

Things they go things they come,
look to me not the sky.
Why it is you,
you that I trust growing up through the snow I know best.

A Happy Man

Through the sands of time the test,
each face I've touched before.
Married thoughts as two now one,
the past has carried off again.

The cold north wind it blows right through,
and glazed the surface of thine eye's.
However summer left off of,
green grass, tall trees and bushes full of dreams.

If God Was One Of Us

Educating other's to the scope of other dreams.

If God was one of us,
a whole universe the dragon and it's eye would fit on the head of a pin.

Dilutions of grandeur to hear your speech to see another see just what you have become to devolve
from the other's grandest scheme.

To follow one whom could not read or write and believed that what is dead could be made right to think it's in your head not in your heart.

How would you impress him
if this God were one of us knowing that you now should know what God would think of us.

The Night Flier

Beneath the moon is full a promenade a sightless head turns half around to gaze into the world.

Flash bulbs pop and dying fleash upon the ground in heaps
the headless torso rolls.

I see what Jesus said is not enough to make you think about the others that now wait all such things we have in common just as well.

Salty Eye's

She eats beef and he sucks on an oyster when ever they become hungry.

She listens to rock'n roll, he to country no hound dog's, pick up trucks, honky tonks things such as these confound me.

Black as the night, bright as the stars
some where some one thinks about you.
It holds two the swing on the porch
brown eye's in the dark how they shine.

What ever she once saw in him,
in her eyes he still sees.
And from the beginning stretched into now is a pond full of beavers, building a dam climbing the bank to get out.

Poet's Of The Old

Visionaries with out sight I have gone blind.
Women and old men that could not find.
Civil unrest - political discourse people wish to live
but at what cost.

To change the world since time began,
so many times were forced to start again.
The spirit stays the same and Jesus never said.
What you do I said you do for me.

You may touch the stars if you believe.
You may heal your fellow man and see.
You may learn forgiveness never bleed.
You should never kill a prophet over greed.

Blind The World

One more word or less, some one else has said.
Human being's that can't give pause,
our efforts now are vain.

Sadly now we go out to seek our fame and fortune.
Be it right or wrong, the same sad song.
Here their once were birds that came to sing,
their song we all could hear.

Blind I've been to see what we could never hold so dear.
Clouds we reinvent to feel the rain,
and sun set skies we see to help the pain.

How we came to let the moon rise now.
One more word or less such knowledge is ignored.
No one intervenes now I must go.

Young Poet's

Want we all have they pray that if the road is short they never take it or if the tree's too high they do not shake it till the leaves fall around their lovely waist.

Bushes flout the painted colour when
the sky
reveals the pale face of the moon and its green eye.

When back and forth the cradle rocks
and melodies are never what they seem she said yes because of love and he said no.

To the touch by finger tips around the belly jar that hangs beneath the base of trees where violets grow the value of shock is.

Caress the moon until it opens crest each hill until the eye gives into breath that can not fall to any that each young poet reading this escaped.

A Different View

Wide open the world is words do, words choose who you are and what you do.
Who we are, who you are does really matter.

Wrapped up in the arms of your lover alone at the top
fire and ice the blue flame of the heart
red deep how it beats.

Trust is as open as your mind is deep back and forth from the heart and the soul does in the end really matter.
Tell me you choose and what you do really does matter.

Who we are, who you are really matters.
A different point of her view woman, man each from a child that knew truth.

I Love You Not Him

Long words that mean nothing to the unread, stories are mean.

Setting the phone down as it rings
I twist the cord into knots, just the thought makes me think not again.

How can I think of her but not him
if I'm not gay,
what I saw growing up believing in one.

I can't have full release with them both if I'm thinking of the other one I can't love one, just one missing them both how ever one thinks but I do.

Can I think about you if you're not the one the way that I'm not supposed to but do about her if it is not you are not him if I'm her?

Listen to me not your mother I saw her do what she said that she saw what your father did not do to me do just yesterday that reminds you of him but not her and the end of the story was never not told is the way that you act to the one not the other if its going to be you I love and not him.

In The Park

A prisoner of time to soon the past that none forgot, it has borne out the seed I planted long ago.
Children climb through the limbs,
furry squirrels now roam.

The merry go round still creaks and groans,
under the weight as children come and go.
Most have mother's whom still gossip,
as they did when mine was full of life.

Though the children seem to speak,
a different formless speech.
Mine is but a passing thought,
when even now the park is full of life.

Laughing Sinners

Many like we, I came before.
In single file under the eye, watchful of your every move.

Howling outside the wind blows.
Being not dead our heads are shaved.
Nothing from something some get.

Pin points of light turn into night.
Into the void called a grave.
Face to face with the one none have names.

If I can't come when you call out to me.
Be naught to them seem afraid.
Barred window's the shower lost family friends.

Woman have rights thine men lost the fight.
Early to rise soft the bed.

from below the blind light of.
Closer to us yesterday sped away tomorrow is.
It all came together to soon torn apart.
Countless speeches,
one love it can teach us all the right way.
Less here have lived than died the world over.
Deceived by a broken heart,
received by one heart made by you again whole.
A single eclipse of the red moon you see.
One half inch farther away every year.
My dreams have been vivid each night you I dream of.
Tell me, I will try to remember your name,
be right on the edge see my face come alive.
The moon on my face has gone out it's still bright.

used to belong to grand papa.
Dead he has been for a while.
Criss crossed my inner thighs resemble, any way a big mess of flesh.
Crimson scars rum crisscrossed,
purple welts hidden by my wrist bands.
Matted mess of hair where I rarely bother.
Straight razors are the best if kept sharp.
When ask I surrender those straight edged razor blades I buy for them.
I have started to practice in the mirror
I quiet naked.
Around my neck the metal circles held at finger tip.
If they ever saw me I would loose that part of me

Began with the first one dark night.
As she moves in the bed I look past.
Can it be I'm the face on the wall?
Shadows with wings that can talk.

Naked in the bed we both sleep.
The wind moves the curtains shear pink.
The house groans like a virgin in fear.
Arms and legs move together release.

Connected two dream the same dream.
One coming out going in.
Lips moved apart the others squeezed shut.
Outside grows a tree through a bush.

That 'Moistness' is normal...it's necessary.

Faintly

I can never really compare the healthy scent of it to.

Mild a combination of fresh oysters and grated truffles (the savory mushrooms, not the sweet chocolates) - musky and usually more on the sea-like side, but not 'fishy' and certainly not unpleasant than.

Revenue the winding stream of black ops,

Like that the door was left cracked
I over heard the woman with a British accent speak to let it out.
Why not as a woman a long way we have come baby

Land of the lost my head swelled at what I heard.

The mascara around my brown eyes made me sore.

Like those brown paper bags that hold fish
I won't forget what my mum said.
Quite child if your da should over the next year hear.

The By Stander Effect

When years seem like minutes and those same minutes seem like years the world over time moves on I stand still waiting and waiting for that man with a gun overwhelmed by some one else.
Not having to be told.
My duty I did way back then in the hope that you would.

The attacks were brutally calculated,
calculated to late for fear there I froze.
The war where I died yet I go on to relive every day.
Alone in a crowd forced to guess.
Not one distinguished them self selves that night.
I wandered the streets
all alone long after the night no one came because of that.

What Lies At The Edge Of The Universe, Beyond

What kind of poet are you if you can not, constantly move back and forth to the edge of what is so far.
God did not make that mess in your back yard.
Inverted eights or pie I won't eat because.
On the edge each strong mind there can stand.
Where the weak can not do what they wrote instead.
Goodness is at the core the code that evil can't break.
I turn around at the edge your at my side.
Light moves forward the edge is thus pushed back.
Be content to know one simple fact.
No matter how much you suffer here and where you go.
Some where you are loving a live where all you do is help.
Other's have evolved and moved past yesterday's, today.
The rest have known that knowledge is the key,
to where you've been I know.

The Lady And Her Mister

Because of it 'we' laughed as nature does so common green.
Realized it is to I became,
such implied there in her favor.
And being left off distant of, but near to her, I thus became.
Whose teeth that flashed, when in the sun as she did show them.
I was drawn inside
to sweet each breath she 'made', as it was
temporary, I inhaled with each profound look, I rediscovered.
Lost then finally found within, dark caves of sound,
so deep,
and smooth, so rich and throaty, singing music all the time.
Never ravaged but by scotch and time and filtered cigarettes.
Though detached always above, I look again below, such is her undulation, visitation, invisible muscles, 'I' see them moving.
All the time,
young a woman; on the beach 'she' hurries past us saying,
drawing briefly it aside a red and white, checker/ed bandanna.
Made it 'said' in 'Kansas' hot a sweating mask, I look beyond her.
Bronzed this body made, I think of poesies, confusing she with her.
"If your woman and the Mister' (wish to take it to the ocean,
does the lady and the Mister)wish to wash it lightly off?
One day in time a grain of sand and foam, 'she did - politely ask '
I decided when next his lightning bolt, when it hit could not be stopped,
certain repercussions of those acute remarks, might thus be lost.
She with her and I, this afternoon could still be, with some help be salvaged.
I concentrated on both, by my seat a well of deep intentions.
With a careful, deeper why, I trust my mind, too find consensus.
Kept thus safe this time, inside I've grown to know, to ponder why.
Wistful is for she/her much and subtle for my this, could be her double.
Once was I, of kind like mind, a person drifts some times so far away,
pulled out of life just like before,
and washed amongst the rocks and foam the wind it blows away.

Dead My Lover

Gone I come back to walk in circles, like a cork screw a wild pig's dick.
Tight lipped filled up with gas eye balls explode.
Last dragon it's shriveled up tounge and dark bushy eye.
Carved out of pink marble,
I sit at her feet and wait for the creeping of night.
While I read to her from her favorite book, about what I saw when she was alive she once said.
Now dead when alive my last lover she was.
Naked as the day she was born I still care,
how she looks to me.
In side the box time has gone by her lips are dry.
She was and still is, I slip neath the lid and I hide,
from the truth, why she's here.

With Out Her

Night time or day sunlight, your face.
I am drawn deeply in to them.

Moonlight your eye's glowing I find.
Enshrined
without a care of this world.

And even with my last breath.
I shall wait until you show your face
once again.

Goodbye To Love

Here is where we came to just let go.
From the top at night, two looking down.
Knowing love was just for star struck kids.
Feeling life has struck us a hard blow.

Remember life is short,
long are memories, melodies we knew and sang.
Comming back around,
one more chance to change and let it grow.

She said goodbye to love,
and heart break by the sea.
And opened wide her arms and loved to deep.
Walking down along he said again.
He looked at her and said he would to her again.

Remembered love has gone,
it is the pain of all whom never knew.
And comming back again.
To the very spot,
the last time can never be the same.
So say hello to love that's gone.

Edward Snowden

I can not drive it home
you are not there to receive me.
The N.S.A.- C. I A.- drones over head for years they have labored.
You will not let me have my own rights
why should I care about yours.
Whistle blower or snitch he tried to warn you.
Much more does he have to give over.
Patriotic or the narrow minded traitor.
He without the help of you, your sources gathered.
Bring him back if for no other reason.
The trojan horse has even more value to them.
One way streets travel two ways to some it in time will be given.
Such are the eye's and the ears of a prophet when all see the road less traveled.

The Infinite

Returned from whence I found you growing up.
Down by the sea,
I sit alone to ponder atop a large wave that wanders back and forth.
Evolution here has passed us by.
Ships their timbers, ribs exposed to all.
She is a fiend, a friend to all but me to have, I know.
A promise made I can't except because.
No trees a bush I was a man before, I was a boy to her.
A promise made to you was never kept.
Down by the sea,
our faith was never kept, down by the sea I dreamt.
Instantly fatal it was hard and not an antidote.
I found you growing up, we turned and went that way.

Vision - Execution = Hallucinations

For those few with your truth misinformation.
I have loved great and I lost.
Let's move past those thinking it magic,
and move on.

Vision are the few whom have hold of the future,
knowing the past and have since tried to change it.
You can't.
The power of greed it is human.
I think you can but do naught but wait for another.

Corruption can not live in poverty,
they have no banks.
A child whom believes in Santa Clause.
Lives for Christmas then it's gone.
Would not know that there in no money here,
literature like Charles Dickson, wrote.

Vision is not easy it comes from the path,
without shoes few would tread.
Execution without education fills but grave yards.
Hallucinations without insight brought me here.
Burning books to stay warm, disadvantaged I toil on.
I can not spend your good name.

Prenatal Love

My true to life fantasy of you like this is.
From before day one,
you have not smoked or drank alcohol.

Hello as I speak in a voice, that in a low rumble it moves all the hairs
inside of your ears, he hears.

You eat all the food that we can afford,
to help our fetus grow bright.
You help me feel more like a man,
when you show me your needs, I need that.

The strange things that you crave,
in their own way is the cause as to why I misbehaved.
The way your skin glows, the blush of your face,
you know I can taste your health with my tongue.

In tune with your body I am.
The shine of your glowing eye's.
Full is the moon in you.
Being a castle that's safe inside,
for the child a good mother can't hide.

President Obama, They Can'T Stand It

Musical chairs, pulpit bullies and freedom of speech,
one way or the other or else.

They scream aspirations between church and state,
our brother.

Hello dear sister I greet you on behalf of your husband, that has.

Bold ideas, Medicare and Medicaide, has helped the one's whom when they worked, paid for our children, in need.

Thank you and the progressive thinker's, who took on those bullies and won.

I wish I could vote I can not.

Due to the fact that nine out of ten convicted felons,
would vote Democrat.

There is so much wisdom in the Bible, the Koran and the Torah.

Huge rantings for ducks dynasty.

Intolerance if it doesn't make you stronger let it kill you.

Such as these pain freaks who can't exist unless, they scare me.

People of faith avowed to hate can't change our world,
but through fear.

American's are we, whom wish to evolve into,
all that's greater.

Than those whom would take from our children their health.

It Happened Only Once

Time would often here stand still.
In the cold, old county jail,
in down town Tampa, on Morgan street.
I was after having lost consciousness,
after an assault for being white.
Awakened by and to a gay nurse, committing the act of fallatio on me.
It was a brutal county jail, I was seventeen.
In nineteen and seventy five.
Do you understand why as a child I said nothing?

President Obama Our Healthcare

I was not always broke, many times over.
But now because of age and predisposition.
Look into why I am.
No one exploited my mental illness,
before I was then became.

Could it simply be because,
some Republicans, think that a pure capitalist is.
Some one whom gets ahead,
by taking advantage of one whom is.

Could it maybe be.
That an honest person thinks.
That the junk insurance policy I bought before, was not in my best interest because.

My simple life it is and was.
Who would push a worthless policy on me, unless.
I thought like me, they did.
Push worthless insurance on we the common folk.

Exploiting those whom not in their best interest is.
A returned dividend off of those whom mental illness is.
One bottle with sixty Seroquel X R cost four hundred fifty dollar's is.

Like flea's have you overtaken the world.
You put more planning in your next vacation to where?
Heading into the next great oven.
Burnt white or bleached you poor child think heavens there.

In what ever light you best see in.
It is perceived that evil works only in night.
Voting is knowing that you are a minion go and see.
Seven a.m. To seven p.m. when it's,
not in the best interest of thee.

People whom can't read or write lead you, you let lead us, not literally.
When by not literature it's your past is your path

When by he whom then becomes her whence,

When I Drank, Her Alone

Amongst all of that I once was.
Friends to me, still means that they are.
I lead with a question, I do not give pause.
Looking up at the sky, answers fly.
Comet's to the young ask not why.
How do I get by without friends?
The mist all around me,
climbs down from the ridge, up on high.
I walk with my shadow it hangs by my side.
I speak to my self it just hides.
The moon when it was a blank canvas to me.
It's as bright as it's high, catch my fall.

There was you.
And in you there was this burning need.
Art of the written word.
Some could not dream in colors.
Waking up in a dream I slept.
I did not offend reason, dawn is day.
A symphony rearranged, dusk we pray.
Kings and Queen's went out of there way,
to understand why what was said, you heard.
Hold my hand, you I kissed.
Straight is the line stars I miss.
Back in such times when by a child, learned to think.

Mental Illness, The Stigma Of

Painful cuts loom down the road.
To those whom act violently being young.
Amniocentesis just to know.
Each huge division we watch as they grow.
Science now can tell us the truth.
Some of the most gifted are.
Some of our greatest leaders have been.
Twisted the few where evil would grin.
Why does it matter how some divide pie by it's self,
the answer my friend is still one.
The mentally ill must by them selves need learn.
Education began at the birth of the sun.
Many plead guilty to a crime just to be left alone.
A few commit crimes to be removed from the pain that other's by that hand inflicted.
Young minds that break because they live in jail.
We can't know why the wind at birth changed blows.
We move away from a man in dirty clothes.
A woman whom talks to her self your young daughter points out.
You make some thing up and the child thinks that is true.
That child grows up to be you.

Insensitive Remarks

How long have you hidden in your room?
Being so fat you don't come out to eat.
Are you so fat that a vibrator is of no use?
Do you run fat fingers into the cracks and sneeze?
Over the edge and deep into the musk of green cheese.
Panties made of cotton have gone unchanged.
Where monster roaches go to breed and die.
Then must be placed in plastic zip lock bags.
Breasts their sheer weight that hang down to the waist.
The smell of raw ass the brown hole never wiped because.
Do not read this or some bully will say take your life.

Up on the hill,
a light that burns is seen.

Harvested To Soon - Part One

My education began at six, where by when my Mother.
Sent me to lake magdalene.
A detention center for Boy's and girl's.
Here where some stayed till twenty one.
Where I witnessed numerous recteectomies.
I wondered about how girls felt tommorrow then.

Oh I forgot I wondered inside a vacant house.
While my mother visited a cheating friend as my father.
Life passed as one year after another,
until I was sent to the psyc ward at Tampa General.
Where my psychiatric doctor ate most of us up.
Boy's and girl's his tastes were as he tasted.
I like Michael Jackson had just turned twelve.

Then came Camp E Howkee, where some of the councelors came just to eat boy's up.
Eating our seed.
I was still twelve but no virgin and knew no girl.
I had no comprehensive knowledge as to why I came.
The bullies at school just were because.
I was different than them as cause for brains.
Most did not have, most teachers were nice to me.

Why It Is Said, Here They Are

Here and there as long as the road then they go.
As pure as the snow.
Rivers as clear where they flow up hill unseen.
White light as I sigh and then gone.
Define there the blind filled with the sight.
Wide open eye's long before birth few have known.
Vast is the pond I hold dear.
Bioluminescents blue lavender the smell of each rose.
Knowledge only the one of the few could know.
Discern me in thought as I watch you evolve again.

When by their sheer numbers they could.
Before there were diapers for them to wear.
When one vote erased the ten colored ones.
Before they knew how to spare the rod.
When even the educated could not now reason.
Before change caught most off guard.
When the ignorant are competent,
and the few whom wrested words from nothing are not.
Before voting was a social obligation.
Where children dreaming is a new mental illness.
Before old white people knew that the other's,

Because I could not afford to raise the next

Children Dreaming

Whichever which one was the fartherest,
I picked that one.
They have the right to know who you are.
Connected by the cord of hope, you are the right one.
At birth it's the color of flesh.
Today while waiting for the bus one mother was.
She was attractive but without her daughter or son.
She ask me how to get to the place I was going.

Her family had them both because,
she was going to try to have some xanax prescribed to her.
I told her my ex wife used to take mine and that D.C.F. took my daughter from her last month.
I told her that her only real problem was the simple fact that she had no life.
I commented her on the fact that her womanly attributes were very actor active.
She replied that she works for hooters.
A real life I pointed out.
One with self respect for her mind as well.
She said I was cute and knew a lot about woman problems.
I gave her some xanax she thanked me and left.
In parting I told her that some thing bad would happen
if she ever left with a big tipper.
Think of your son and daughter I leaving said.
Before leaving she said that she had never heard such words and the way that I spoke them until.

Atypical is the guy, boy or man.

Harry or not, without question.

Very convincing is the way they can talk about men.

Short, long by the way that it swings.

Homosexuality by the shape of his chin.

Lips his are not to the other whom tried them on.

Bicycle, bicycle, don't let him in.

Some gay men don't look like the woman Dyke.

Why did you leave your last woman.

Fueled by alcohol.

A recreation of the purple crown around my head.
Red the honey suckle milking me you have.
Who waits for who when there you lie apart?

Dreams that you dream that can tell,
who you are.
Some who know this stay awake.

Conflict and doubt hand in hand.
Reason not wrong but what's right you don't fear.

Oxycodone And The Death Of A Child

Hernando county Florida, was the start of my dreams where my daughter is.
But of this other whom for another,
no longer living is.
Does revenge for this death where a child of only two,
whom took this pill left out by the mother spell?

Brevity for the soul of a child that is gone.
My daughter is gone from my ex wife.
Taken by D.C.F. again.
For me the father I think.
This other women if love has flown.
Her father said thirteen years is not enough.
For a woman he left because.

Does a prosecution mean?
We can legislate in what standard a parent should have.
Can we legislate in parenting skills someone never had?
Penalties negate,
what is right or wrong the burden all must share.
Did this man the child's father fight for her?
Or did he like so many other's abandon the child to chance.
To fight for a child before any harm comes to pass.
Is what every child at risk should have,
before they go away.

With Each New Threat

By your commonality we are one.
Each lost city we find.
They allow ignorance to bloom.
By our very inability to rationalize.
With every choice that you can not make.
Life after death you have to believe.
Toil on.
Victims that never were, parents won't.
At the scene of your crime is your birth.
You must have thought,
to travel through time or you can't.
Emily's gone hope is not.
Faith is food to you priests have spread.
Bombs that fall on each, on the heads.
Children that untaught you have raised.
By the time this you've read its to late.
By paying no one more attention.

Forensic Genetics And The Law

Evidence of certainties without your consent, do you disagree?
Envy of known predisposed illness seen.
Interpretations are only as good as what's shown.
Instinctively we desecrate a degenerate,
where one rapes and kills a beautiful child.
While the next robs and kills a convenience store clerk.
When upon closer examination both,
have undersized prefrontal lobes damaged brains.
What if you knew in advance that your child,
would through genetics become the next Einstein.
But the mother drank and did drugs the entire,
time she was pregnant.
Did this individual have the ability to form premeditation,
to make a choice of right and what's wrong?
When the drinking and drugs caused the brain,
to never fully develop before birth.
Apples and oranges one says?
To take what is good then make it bad is not choice.
What do your genes say about a predilection,
to perhaps lose control of one's actions?
I like blue eyes I'm in control I say imprison,
the ones whom have brown.
Punishment when with predisposed knowledge,
having said knowledge in knowing his punishment known.
Wanting perfection at the cost of each person,
is not a better
well informed decision that a lynch mob should make.
My greatest fear is the possibility that a person with no interest in knowledge can vote.

Back To The Sea

Come to me,
remember the dawn that is gone.
How I pine in my room all alone.

Talk to me,
when you whisper out loud about how it died, now I see.

Friend to me,
two suns spinning around.
Looking as one,
twin to all.

Cry to me,
each wave that comes back.
As I walk around,
I look back to the sea.

Submission

If I fight for you, will you fight for me?
Pitch black in the darkness, light you see.
Laying in your room awake, there I sleep.
Civil rights all have at birth, mine they had to keep.
Shedding tears for one, that rivers dry.
Living in a cloud of fear, your dreams float by.
To he or she you voted in, they prearranged.
They will give your life, to save their own.
To all the women, men have known?
Did anybody, really know your child?
Do not turn away, come here walk back.
Raise each voice in speech, words I write.
Be it good, not bad therein reside.
How can you know, for you what they plan?

The Unborn

Just the sight of a star filled night,
my first love was for you and all the rest.
Each hot ember from the fire,
where I was burned I feel inside lies empty like a robins nest.

However this plays out,
our views they slowly, ever slowly
now leave doubt.

This empty feeling that I feel,
and how my daughter feels about her life.
That day I know has passed,
and like the past is now alright.

Lonely My Banana

Yellow full and ripe or green with envy.
I've never seen one looking, blue with soul.
Roses shed their petals, white are pearls.
Singing words like this and sweet is prose.
Long and bent, when yellow, squeezed and pulled.
My banana is my song, the night grows short.

Paranoia

Between the icy stare of fear most share.
The ladder up leads down to pure despair.
Each look we dare to share,
it's ugly head the mouth the tounge, leads back to misty thoughts.
The rabbit on the track is chased by rabbid dogs.
Some can not recall the finish line,
or where it starts.
A threat to others is the key to how you treat,
your brother or a sister when you knew.
From it's birth you struggled with the truth.
You lied your whole life through.
The secret of your past your mother knew.
Now the demon's from the past,
have taken hold of you.

Italian Sausage

The ice house in the middle hangs butchered pork and beef.
Smaller packages enter by the back door.
Different shapes what of them lays inside.
Cranking the grinder I watch from the back as arms and legs are fed into the red bloody mouth.
The heads are sawn up into more manageable pieces.
They cant tell where this sausage has come from.
The customers want all we can give them at half off.
All the bullets fall into a bucket on the floor.

On Top Of Me A Dead Body Climbs

Deep is this sleep when it comes.
Inside of your head floating from dream to dream,
as if dead.
Some times a woman, some times a man,
it is the children like yours whichever is worse.
That do me in.
I can't escape I am trapped.
Being a male they mess with my parts,
until at the end I cry out.
Paralized I cant move make a sound you can hear.
Sweaty sheets I bolt up to the top,
just to be dragged back in.
Death in life for the one that they find.

One Man Cell

Grey concrete grayer is the paint.
What you see on t.v. isn't real.
Never is it silent and half had not their minds,
when they entered.
Life it struggles here it has no twin.
Fifty men per teer the bean slot is left open.
Dreams induced by seroquel are never pleasant.
C.M one or C.M.two dictates how long you stay,
in isolation.
Real life here is worse than Guantanamo bay.
Here the punks back up to the bean hole.
You can't help but see and by the very seeing,
in and out it goes.
States the race of each that man.
The smell it is quite rotten.
As rotten as their souls.

Cold Is The Sea Today

I can not come to the sea today.
Cold edged the wind talks to me.
Clear the sky, blue the clouds they float by.
To the sea today, I can't come.

Long is the neck of us both.
Closed out of reach is our mind.
White the sand blows away.
Small to the eye,
each grain of sand, love is gone.

Living The Game

Still you have made of my small cut.
Endless the edge of time I have seen you come back.
Violence for me, one heart beat away.
No place to hide I did not submit to what you saw.
Like a snake in the grass, it will grow bored,
and slither away to some one else.
What did you learn growing up?
How to help others that never had the love of a friend?
Some have grown angry at being cheated,
out of their youth others saw.
Cheating you out of life is the game.
While this game was not meant to be like the rest.
Those that say you will receive your reward in the next means that you turn your head to what's wrong.
In this life knowing some think that this life,
was just a freak dream others have had.
Learning this game, playing their way is a truth, about having the best of what this short life has to offer.

I Can Not Submit But To That

I know what teachers are taught.
Caught up between the far right and science,
teaching math to the few caught in lies.
Simple it is math is not.
Weather boys play with fire just to be burned,
and a girl knowing better not to be spurned holds his tounge.
One man wanders in each direction.
Heading north at this time of the year,
is out of the question lost cause.
Heading east in the opposite direction,
puts some closer to the truth misdirection.
Leaving south to far gone to know one simple falsehood.
When the truth has sharp teeth,
one wakes up from deep sleep all the wiser.
Where you think back to dreams you lost then remembered.

I Want To Be Good

And a good man says, around I will be, promises made.
Modest as in song, blue birds sing.
Into each day, dawn will bring.
No good few have said, coming back.
In our youth things we want having had.
Up is down from the time I've had, I am here.
You are me I will play, play I will from a child.
Do you see what it is that I have become?
What you had I now have I give up.
Simple things that I see we now have.

The Actions Of Your Deeds

Bread as well as beauty of the soul.
Blood and meat we need to live each day.
We failed to act inaction marked one grave.
Does an act restrict the all to what you have?
Or does what you have then given to the all.
Other's come while mothers walk away.
Fathers stop to watch what comes to pass.
Hesitation stops the sun around the earth say mass.
Forever and one day began with that.
Such beauty of the soul as well as bread.

Empty Promises

Even though I won't, I will, I promise.
If you fat I'll say your not.
If you cut your arm's and legs,
to feel alive to feel the pain inside.
Will you stick around and wait.
I will, I would, I made you hang around.
Will a promise made in vain because you thought it would?
When I would not.
Then when I'm deep inside the sun
I hate to say that I will stay when I will not.
If I date another I will hang around your house.
Remember what you said that I could do?
Even though I won't, I will, I promise.

Have you heard the news today.
Assassinated kings and queens.
From behind each bush a monster hides.
Kids are lost forever in an age of instant messenger.
The news today, the same as yesterday's.
The news today a life time of testifying.
Testifying to the way we love when someone dies.
Have you heard the news today,
sometimes no one pays their dues yet gets ahead.
Having made the news today,
trouble came your way the news you finally made.

In some far off land, I hear the bells.
Bells speak the truth when they ring.
Life to all,
death to the few, speaking you spoke my name.
Women one priest did preaching, Jesus teach?
Blood Iines pure, Mammon in reach, Lilith sings.
Upon rocky shores, herein where they dwell.
Father none spoke, you see them curse.
Half of the world, every night feel their pulse.
Barack Husain Obama, nothing to loose one great mind.

She found me here late one night.
Cold the sky clear were the heavens,
stars lit up the vast black sky.
This night was her night,
her moon I held apart in both hands.
Snow fell from the sky the world white.
Barley speaking we whispered.
The air so cold felt of fire.
Even now her long black hair has turned white.
The dark eye of the moon it was warm.
Out side over the edge wedged inside.
Late one night I found her here where we are.

Confusing emotions aside.

green rich and valley lows.
Then is this strip human like.
Moving above her pale face,
the moon shows it's light in the dark.
Her beating heart must beat back.

Again I won't.
A lot of folks think something strange if you see the bigger picture.
Which is you.
No child should go through this,
alcoholism and untreated mental illness.
Before I left your mum years ago I told them all.
Today at nine a.m. I was supposed to go to court for you.
I did not, maybe now they'll help her to get right.
Maybe you won't find this note my daughter.

the thinking of parents never spared.

Flapping your hair back like birds wings.
Lipid filled thighs yams that shake.
Shame full thoughts you me whom care.
Making another jump to her death cheating love filled with hate.
He has eyes that bore to your soul.
To defy mum stay out late getting stretched.
Parents like yours sleep in late.
Hearing the truth about my life I hate makes me think about love in all the wrong places.
So I stay home and watch the trees grow up through the bushes where it's safe.
Instead of the streets where the hoe's live in fear.

The decent thing to do is leave it there.
Outside it's dark and quite one tree it moves against the window pane.
A green bush from the smell of it, the tree is straight and true.
With a leaning to the left leaves fall down from it from nothing it, I made.
From ordinary things to you, are great things shown.
Up through the bush this tree has grown.
To show the rest the way.

Does it hurt when you hear others laugh,
or do you think they are laughing at you?
Growing the pain deep inside.
On your mind grows a hurt you can't hide.
What will happen to you if you talk?
This crime to each other goes every long day undescribed.
People who go to school to learn how to think,
then come back to the home to red ink.
Remembered control over they to you is the plan.
If you cannot speak they to you your mind they have gained.
Unable to speak few children can think.

Detached from emotion this is the place where you hide.

When the promise again is the cross.

To be given into a mental hospital or by the government, locked away to control what's believed.

Now someone is and someone as we speak they have.
The stigma she must hide.
Fighting next to you on the battle field.
Being pschizophrenic she slipped through.
If being female wasn't hard enough.
For the sake of argument,
she's better at her job than all the rest.
Her medication by another in her bag discovered.
Another soldier opened by mistake.
Impeckable her actions.
Having thoughts if your not biased you should never have.
Should he spread the truth around?
Should he take the medication to a higher officer?
Does she have any rights under hippa or the Americans with disabilities act.
Keep in mind that in this country by not telling there's many same such jobs.
But then again there's combat.
And your there next to left or right.
What does one do?
What is right?
Has she any rights what if you never knew.
Other than you knowing, knowing not.
How do we judge or do whats right and distinguish.
Or is this not a problem in a battle fought each day.

Sheriff Grady Judd, Polk County Florida

This is the same sheriff whom years ago justified the shooting of a black suspect over eighty times.
The same man whom ask then Governor Charlie Christ to execute a man on death row.

He reflects the values of his community or he couldn't be elected.

To publicly demean the children in his jurisdiction before they are charged by the counties state attorney.

No decent human being condons bullying
this issue is best left to proffesionals whom are qualified..

Being a Floridian I'm ashamed of my fellow rednecks, whom think by their very actions they them selves are above the laws he is so obviously unfit to carry out.

It is enough to make you tremble at the very though of, what if it were you whom he pulled over in he middle of the night.
Would you feel safe?

Do his fellow deputies harbour his very own point of view?

Should this man whom is Judge and Jury,
and carries a gun be removed from currant public office?

To the common people thus I speak.
One for all and all for one or so you'd think.
If the bottom half by working hard and work they do.
The wealthy have so much to loose.
By spreading out the wealth it would then prove.

Paying The Rent

My woman was gone and the empty bottles like brown corpses surrounded me with their uselessness.
The sun was still good, though, and my landlady's face a hue formed in some fire and undemanding in it's yellowness.
What was needed now
was a certain good samaritan, that can look upon such heart felt pain.
Most pain of this nature is absurd.
Absurd because it exists, nothing more.
I shaved hastily with an old rusty razor the man who had once been young and no longer was to have said.
I used to have a certain genius.
Now that the final act has played out in some play.
That's the tragedy of all the new youth.
At the edge of death and the dead.
And as I walked into the dark hall.
Where the landlady stood smelling of age and mothballs.
Shreaking her voice and so final,
sending me again back to the well.
Waving her fat, hairy arms and screaming at me for the rent.
All because the world had failed us miserably both.
And now feeling like her defeated.
I finished off the bottle and killed her.

Voting Against Your Best Interest

From the start Republicans and Democrats in common both have.
To manipulate the masses into total submission.
Absolute power corrupts leading you to think you made the choice.
One thing is certain fear breeds.
Sex offenders what ever they are were always there.
Since the beginning of time.
After all Noah and his wife and three sons and their wives makes me think.
Five billion from eight equals what?
So now as was then the bushes now hide all of them.
Now primitive strikes against the mentally ill.
Their rights like the other's are next.
Half of what Hitler then thought is here.
Bath Virginia was just yesterday.
No one cares unless you are them.
Suicides takes away if every suicide took you with them.
More fear leads you to vote them in.

So what ever rights you think you have if you buy a gun you are next.

Looking Few See Through The Curtains

While I was walking down the street I saw.
A woman with out arms trying to open a door for the blind.
Many people stood by none would help.
A man that was deaf to no one around explained.
Leading the way for some one.
People he knew caused him harm.
Being simple of thought he knew not.
Over time not knowing why while judges watched he could not function.
Some few knew they had watched it before in others.
Others did not for their job while they claimed plausible deniability.
Because of this with no help from the ones whom watched,
it took years to get better instead of with help maybe months.
Walking down the street this I saw.
Is sevar damage by others whom knew mental illness?
Or would you open the door for the blind?

The Bulimic And The Cutter

Long sleeved shirts cover the scars down to each wrist.
All of my ribs exposed to the sight,
a caricature of some past life nearing the end of this chapter by her,
called life.
Next to my face in loose fitting pants I pull them down.
Too weak to move the sight of food makes me sick.
I push my hand inside of her panties the valley's the ridges scars from her cutting I feel with the palm of my hand.
Mirrors inside of my room lie around all are broken.
Here on my bed in the middle I rest.
She sits on the edge and in her left hand clutched is my father's straight razor.
Translucent my skin spread across exposed ribs,
she traces the edge with the razor.
The thin flesh is parted the ribs lay exposed my eyes grow too heavy they close.
Here in my room she has left I cross over.
To the sound of broken dreams birds in flight without wings,
and a promise of things yet to come.

Hot were the words between him and the father,

Standing alone, deep in the woods the wind hears.
Leaves fall from the bush over the trees.
Knowing not people knew when he left school.
Something's not right why he fell out here on deaf ears.
Even the seed of the fruit when it falls from a tree, needing help and was not handed out.

As the son squeezed the trigger.
And the sound of one shot fills the air.

Red Butterflies

Where has love in darkness cold has come.
Where light is warm upon closed eyes the young.
Spinning out the silk one spider waits.
Butterflies that flutter fly around.
Red as love the heart is beating ever fond.
Green each leaf brown moss upon the limb.
Young sad eyes that look into the sun.

I Have Loved The Sea

I have been washed clean come to me
The ocean waves kind the sea
And I saw how you looked at me and I see.

Looking back at the warm sand white as snow
If I could one day say
I once had love, love chose me.

Now as I look ahead the sea calls me Back from where you came
And your name was the reason I am not sure
If the ocean is not what it seems.

Despair A Song Of

Losers in a row about to die
corks that pop from the other side.
People have come from all over the country just to watch them cry.
Haughty looks aristocrats pulled from homes that are now forfeit.
Children that can't be saved.
Better thee than me a father says.
Walk me home I hear one mother.
Dancing in the streets unpaved.
Distant future from the past in the dawn I hide.
Rhyme or reason treasonous tounge from the land scape and you can never see.
Unrelated events that came together here.
No warning came to they.
Corks that pop as guns go off and oddly from the corner of my eye.
I see the rest of them come from the forest their on fire.

You will have the same was gave to me.

The Stigma Of Mental Illness

Diabetes no problem.
Heart disease no problem.
Lungs, kidneys,
broken bones no problem.
Many here are psychotic.
Many here are bipolar.
Many here have not left their rooms for months.
Many here think the world revolves around them.
Yet your glued to your priest and cop shows on T.V.
Watching the obviously mentally ill be victimized by those with out higher learning.
I cannot replenish intelligence where none is shown.
Poets are the first to burn with a passion to do what is right.
We all want a cure for cancer except for the pharmaceutical companies.
When a brain works unpredictably or on the sidewalks one walks in your light there it's dark.
When you see them talking to the sky you drove past or they are dressed for winter in summer.
Or you find yourself next to him or her.
You please don't hate me for saying that you remove yourself from their proximity.
The stigma of mental illness is a horrible thing.
Imagine that you would ask someone with no arms to open a door and hold it open for you.
Now imagine that same person whoms mind has been damaged from any hundreds of things.
All the great poets whom suicided now remove all the words that come to your mind.
Massive gaps in literature is all that you find.

'Something, Touched Me

New experiences
something is there
it waits
it wants only you.

The earliest memories
I have of my vagina is.

I know now
that you didn't mean to kill us all but you knew
we would tell.

Why do those hairy brutes
want what
I never had.

Other girls
are here where you are at.

Most are covered with a very thin layer
of powdery
green top soil.

The other's have been here longer.

Some of us
spilled in our

pants right before the end
and his dog ate it foul breath
when he ardently came blindly some of us
twisted
and pulled at our panties
and their have been no more birthday parties.

There are not many of us left
to attend them
how old were you at my last one.

Anyway
we would have preferred to be taped and alive
but the Republican party
in Florida
knew that if being raped carried life
then the perves
would kill us all anyway.

U.S. girls here wonder what incentives could be used where the hairy brutes
would let us live
and not die.

One girl here she once was the first wants to know why
Republican Politicians
pass laws where children and blacks are murdered
in Florida.

Volcanic Lake

Around the rim a heavy rain that falls.
Slow and burning and heavy their she swell.
It made no difference to the underbelly of the clouds their dark side up.
Birds hung low and you so throaty had.
Green saplings shed their own leaves.
The button of a rose that grew from rocks.
Beneath the ink well of the sky the storm grew still.
And love is sweetened by each breath she took.
The white sand she sits beneath her hips.
Is broad and wide.
And sliding down he fell inside and died.
She took him by the hand and kissed him there.
The only way to see the dusk and silver twilight stars and paradise.

Perfect Girls

Are allowed to feel sad.
Perfect girls are sometimes bad.
Are allowed to be free
deep inside.
Perfect girls for example are glad to need flowers and roses that rise.
Favorite bras that have seen better days.
Perfect girls arnt perfect boys can be had.
Not had like that perfect boys.
Girls that have a small tire
where their domain is a comfortable smile.
Girls that need to be perfect are like that Russian girl who was surgically altered and now looks like a barbee doll.
Thats not perfect and who ever thought that boys are?

The Fort

These precocious children built this dream from the earth the rest in trees except for one who built his dream from grass.
Tall golden brown and short green grass.
Every waking moment not in school.
Normal people never knew him there.
A secret place he'd there to be outside.
Safety was a warm cocoon from rain.
Other's walking by would talk and speak of things no child would think to say.
Here he would hide from home and sleep.
Hustle up some change buy food to eat.
A short half a century has passed and flown away.
Children built this dream from mother earth.

Executions

All the angst misplaced compassion
another Jones and Smith.

To be hung by the neck flashing light's go off neck snaps legs jerk and dance then blank.

The guillotine
A flash of sunlight off the descending blade
the body pumps out the blood rolling head feet spasm
the people roll their own eyes.

Firing squad held up by the post tied up body jerks yet it cannot fall shot through the head bowels evacuated the stench of feces and black powder.

Lethal injection needles pierce
the arms or thigh people's veins different size suffocation comes before sleep witnesses
see.

Gas chamber Hitler bungled thousands yet they all died

United states cyanide.

Waves And Sea

Some have left home to be with me adrift on the endless sea
the height of each wave measured by your soul.
Tireless to reach the middle of the other side.
Evolution of your mind it struggled on to be kind to others that have flaws.
Sociology micro economics the analytical mind that governs men to groom.
Even evil people know that you and I go on.
Money is the force that drives it all.
Where in the middle good it waits and shared.
Turn your sleepy head around,
and mind the source of what all men can do.

Hi Tide (The Watermark)

It's not sunrise as to sunrises you have had and others use the other's window just for lack of pride.

To use psychology as her only test
the ink blot never shows.

What it is you would ask about round holes.

In other words no one's going to look at you unless you do another soul some wrong.
And some prison where they put your soul to hide,
naked on the rail where all will ride.

Arrangements will be made to bury all alive
beneath thin veiled beliefs and how I cry.

The very though that I will not get out of life alive.

A warning sign to you am I about your lonely life.

America, You Had Better Be Afraid

No knock raids.
Three thousand in nineteen eighty.
Eighty thousand last year.
First they kill your dogs bypassing the fourth amendment.
Militarized police departments.
Black hawk helicopters for a department of fifty cops.
Every federal department has a swat team.
The master servant relationship is reversed.
Tanks used in Afghanistan used against Americans.
To say you deserve it means you think I deserve it.
If You love America
you had better be afraid.
They will kill you and treat it as a game.
You are the new enemy.
You are the new threat.
You are what they train to kill.
You and your children.
Grandma and grandpa are deadly threats.

When I Have Fears

Like the water faucet in a modern home it is.
And water never finds it's way uphill.
I waited for the music to stand listen still.
Their beauty was naught for their lack of wings
as all birds must sing of what they will.
The crickets to the butterflies life is to end each word and look up at the stars.
Some if not in life learn songs by heart
then now like when you have not learned the art.
Mediums like water that can shift in from the moving tide the oceans and are of.
Do not favor me with what once was each dream that is.
I have heard you sing your lully
a song that all the people love to know.

And lonely hearts and fate the clouds come here dear, walk with me.
Your sweet side that I see I am not sure they wander lonely fate and one but sees.
Is what we see through poetry in truth is what one sees.
The forest for the trees it rears it's head
then it is gone again from me.
How I plead at all who called your name come here dear, the sea is what we see.
The children need as much as thee few plead.
All whom turn their head they to have needs.
And when I come, I come for all to see.
Then come to me, my dear and walk with me.

Unrestorable

I should have left this beaten state of disrepair
when I was shown the way.
Trapped in this room a prison cell.
Mother brings me food to eat.
The taxes I have been forced to pay since my release from prison for crimes against my soul.
Nearly two decades and years my mind has roamed.
The other woman whom accused me now is dead.
What questions have I for the dead, due process was.
I hide from karma though the ones like me are mostly dead.
Having died in Floridas prisons or are dying serving their life sentences or just suicides or worse.
State hospitals where thousands have died.
Like me who turns to sleep.
Where probation officer's wake you up because your room mate is on probation.
Where cops expect to search your room without a warrant or your guilty if you don't.
The stupid people gave our right's away.
It could be against the law for me for writing this.
God if you hear me hear me out.
How many Jews denied that they were Jews to the s.s. police but were killed any way.
Florida has some laws where if you try to live then you must die.

When The Mind Is Without Fear

The cold war was won by warmth of mind.
And we whom were young then old remade.
America we sang I tis of thee.
We hid beneath our desks and deals were made they then shook hands God rest our souls.
And now again we swarm the land like ants.
With no relief in sight except more death.
Now their own mother's day of love is met by father's day and night turns into sight.
And now again the enemy is u.s.
You must be watched and you, you act surprised.
We have looked the other way and when for that.
Look around at all the camera's there's no regrets.
When You forget to be the best of them you have.

Unless you tell them,
no one knows what you discover needing.
And tell me what you love are thinking.
The time before you have become my friend and you can never have enough of time.
Young pretty woman burns with passion to.
Barren fields of you who love have been.
Lilies mixed with roses purple hearts and burning man who comes alive because of.
How he watches you and Dear to my.
Sun valley floor and silver wings and swings.
The picturesque the moisture and content.
No one knows of you who love have been.

Reaching Out

Lifeless fingers clutching at my neck
my head beneath the skin.
Emerald skies
cause mighty men to grin.
Released from earthly pain young children see.

Hush my rose the budding summer sun has come and gone.
Come back then to home and sleep again.

Those lifeless fingers
were once living bone.
Where you belong and emerald eyes that turn upon bird songs.

Bedfellows

Having now just left the pub in the drivel rain weaving in and out of flashing light's.
Six or seven pints is all men have.
And having what I've had the rest have had.

Putting both in the back of my pick-up,
at the bottom of the quarry in November rain.

strewn each mouth

Low Tide (My Fall From Grace)

I failed again and at my fall some talk.
The watermarks upon the earth soft lips and why I am like you in death shall have.
Emily where did I seek to go so wrong.
Latin now is spoken by no one.

Though one turn upon each day is all most have.
Henry Ford one hundred years ago he had and you thought like he your only son.

To plead for all the working souls.
And never give an inch you from home took.
Look to the future never from the past.
As the past will always circle back.

If the parting is as sweet that some shall give.
If this violent culture is all we offer up.
If when you come again and just turn your back.
It's not a game worth playing none should have.

Forest Fire

As of late as I ponder my fate consumed I am by my foolishness.

The fire of my dreams show me
my insensabilites.

How I should have excepted the offers of coffees
from the good ole boys.

No longer do I lie
for them
for me some do.

Once long ago in my own filth and squalor
I did live only by leave of the state.

Now each confession brings even more concessions of one self.

Now the truth of quite dignity sings these simple words that end in grief.

In the end
in bed we lay at rest before

each new crime was even committed.

As the forest fire consumes our very souls.

The honey bee that danced around each eye and what it sees.

However Mother Feels

She is approaching eighty the wooden bench in the courtroom feels as if so many years ago in church.

When she had those four small children.
And in her mania the world truly was a hyper womans oyster.
On this day not long ago
she listens to the court psychiatrist tell the Judge that this specific child is bipolar and schizophrenic and is unrestorable.

She testifies to the medication and amounts taken how many past hospitalizations.

She is not allowed to testify that this specific individual was raped
hundreds of times in state custody growing up.

The mother has no true understanding of what is being said as at her age
to have to admit to genetic predispositions.
And from where it came.
With no intention of knowing.
You can take the hillbillies out of the sticks but you can't take the sticks out of the hillbillies.

Then her youngest who she protects has been decade's acquiring traffic infractions and now is habitual.
Some where some thing terrible went wrong.

And this is the south where you are asleep awake or not.

Fate And Yet Friends Are

I can not receive you without deceiving me.
And if I am
and could I have the world.
This is it the you the me

To short to tall to pushy I have been privileged buried in that nesting hall.
That's why the window face and what is not.
Each bird that flies high in the sky the key has always been.
And loving life
all hate to die before befits these words.
To deep to shallow graves and misty waterfalls that clean me up and down the path from here to you I am.
The death of me is in my mind the Mediterranean has opened up and came across the shore to where you are.
Character's and you will know the truth about

Come to me and you will read the rest of my.

Yesterday I Was

In court for a restraining order violation my sister initiated.
You see, I later found out the two my ex-wife and her has slept together for some time in the proximity of my then young daughter.
(a note to myself don't beat anyone up)
It's deeper than you think no other man.
I must remain unbiased
and let the other's marry whom they are.
Prejudices I would suggest abound my daughter.
The Sheriff ran her off from my home.
Where they were together.
He the sheriff is now a congressman.
Meanwhile I never found my mind.
When most think it normal or you wouldn't on t.v. watch it.
Jerry Springer or Judge Judy because you do think it normal which is light and never dark.
They wouldn't be on the telly if you didn't.
I don't doubt that to rant wouldn't help it.
I suspect I am to blame for her failing twice she's only ten.
I left her mum when she was three about home values.

Sent back to the past forward I looked here to where I am.

Anonymous your name I have said.

returned to the forest and trees.
Returning around I see the face and the face looking back is your soul.

A Summer's Dream

I'd rather wait
than tell the coming dream that few could tell or else
they would thus tell.
Of super highways in the mind
that wind upon them selves.
Everybody has a place
none go without the sight
and no one's child
is left including will.
If death appeared none would appeal approached.
Where intersections placed on in the world
each racing yacht prevailed.
To kiss the lips of each fair girl I saw.
And save them
what I owe and you can have.
The only death I know that rest
and you the will to be.

The last time I helped you twas the last.

of the faces pressed against the dark windows.

Thousands committed treason they cried lighting bolts they have been privileged to seek out the time of the world.

What is so special about this life one life that they gave,

you sent them all to their own mothers grave.

Printing money no monkeys forgave, forgiven, forbade.

They assaulted my vagina and made me make.

More males like you marched marched on in parades.

A Thousand reasons I never felt words like these.

Last Night In Hell

I expect that the idea of satan today had about as much impact as Jesus did last Sunday.
Emphasis on the capitalization of Jesus.
Virtually the same window you used leads to satan.
Around the park it's a trick of the great motivator to get more of what you came for.
And less of what you need my former friend.
No one knows the worst except your spouse you only fear what you discover that your not.
Your very sexuality,
your business only jesus wrote a thesis about.
That night underneath the golden state bridge and you that short ugly girl that dominated suicide.
The one you could not understand nor follow.
I have a directory and your uncle's bob job.
Sceptical about it that you while asleep enjoyed putting him away for less than life and as you.
And he died knowing what he knew in your heart.
Knowing how much you failed to believe.
You rode the bus to by a vibrator from the one and only satan emphasis on top with emo.
Your body climbed the largest one of them
it was Jesus that built the best with satan.
Good bye hello I left you all must go to live with.
If you died tomorrow who would notice.

Soft Cotton Squeezed

Cotton rocked back inside that moody patch.
And white washed fence with songs of the southland and lazy dusty bottoms my coon hound and ford pick up how I prayed.

Eyes inside the curtains lovely sleep and deeply to reveal and tongues are slowly moved back and forth I hear muffled sound.

Brown eyes can't but slowly follow arresting new sundresses old and never out of fashion giving not the sun a yellow thought.

Southern heat and lazy days
I sip ice tea through a clear long straw day old butter milk and corn bread hear it sweetly call.

While salty sweat pools in shadows cool I find with no regrets those tanned cotton bottoms tan brown skins.

Southern common sultry post modern looks seen in a page turning southern living magazine while clouds white warm some are even hot on day's like this while to most is all I see Soft cotton squeezed.

How High Can You Hang

Woman by your service, you cry, ..why..?

No one has even chained you up yet,
to the wall.

Look at all of the tears dried there,
and rice white powdered face.

Time how much time, would you wast?

Come! ..

Climb up onto the wall of your shame
..now..!

Here take my hand, you will come to know it, O' Italy.

Grand were the arenas, where I found you,
the sand wall upon which you lived and bled.

Those chains you I made,
before even Caligula found you so infatuating.

Come..climb up..

they are forged for your hands and feet.

You would come again,

to know the beat of your own heart.

Forensic Psychiatry

All four of these eight year old girls have some form of sexual addictions.
Of these four here in therapy
the two most like your sister got caught.
Putting the blame on themselves like they try to do.
Not being able or capably and escape from the power of the word's that you hear that I do.
Blowing the wind blows through the air on your neck as it does when it's cool.
Mother fills her belly with crack babies addicted to meth
that dance at the end of mother's vanilla breasts.
Then after me off they go back to sleep.
On the job writing such work is.
Nothing but grace and her poise where she stood out in the rain looking, looking up to the sky when oloof as she cleaned his clock as they walked back and forth to school.
Everything overturning
what's outside on the head of his friend!
All four of these young boys live up north in the snow and they can go on but never feel just what it is like.

Her Open Source

Her open lips

Through all the struggling with my sister
i started to kiss her open lips
and knead my sisters breast through the bra
and her blouse, and her panties open FULL became.
and just you read wanting more and more.

The sensation was too much for her
and she slowly started to relax
allowing me to play with her body
when her milk laden breast started to leak.

I was so thirsty and my too was jutting out under her shorts.

The moment I felt my sisters breast milk in my hands

I lifted the loose end of the Saree
and started to open her blouse looks pale rich fully while my sister tried to prevent me.

Removing the hooks was too tedious, 'so I caught hold of her blouse
and tore at it, ripping it with the eye teeth.

The act shocked and excited my sister and she gave a loud gasp.

Then I pulled the bra up exposing both
the white milk laden breast with the dark chocolate nipples
and big aureoles. I groped both the breast with my hands and my lips descended to the nipples.

The moment I sucked the nipples
my sister gave a groan and milk started to jut out into his mouth.

Suddenly the baby started to cry
and my sister forcefully pushed me out away.

She tried to cover her breast with the Saree
while picking up the baby
and quickly ran to another, ' ROOM but not that far away.

I was really disappointed
and at that moment mine too by her made a leek
as I thought that the milk
which I had drunk from my sister is gone through me as well.

But I was afraid
as if she might tell to our mama about this
and I thought about the other situations.

It will be a big shame for me.

So I had decided to leave San Fransisco, as early as possible.

Next morning I woke early and packed my dress

and told mama that I am going to my home
and then he called my sister
and I was afraid and shame to look into her eyes
and I said goodbye to her in a low voice
and mama dropped me OFF at the bus stand.
I thanked God for several times
because if mama came to know about that what will be ours the news situation.
But my sister asked me to wait until again next year, she became.

One continuous line, these lights are.
I can't understand the poetry

Pretty leaves on a limb the truth rests.

The Hangman's Daughter

Wicked things not naughty, gone with the dawn
the gentle wind forgot to toss out.
To come back at the dusk of such having.

Heaven that much when it closely is,
most of them then turn around sitting down as each looks thereupon.
Awhile the window open to the moon
when the crack in the glass all see through.

Really gone but still here when you are.
Locking eye's thereout cross the broken english duns
down by the sea
from where most of us did without thus knowing come.

Stories I tell two independent of one, one the truth inside I can tell when both are the truth but different from the telling of one, and of one, and when your eyes the serving of two differnt master's the other side of day, day as it turns back to you.
Some times the world in your head was the world that most read like you had in the books, most all have read.

The Hangman his daughter sees what his job is when going to work as the daughter did not as his job for all of these problems
When his job allows for the one and the all.
When a lot by accidental reflections see it call.
Anatomy 101 the neck stretched what comes out after it snaps, necks pop like each like a twig in the wind of each storm.
The rope when it's properly tied
From the balconies passing by open lips night and day and you say you are no baby bodies.
Your and yes you are, you are, you're, own baby.
The Hangmang's daughter.

Chained Up Normal

You have seen them there hanging,
On the wheels that slides you,
Up and down,
At will,
As you now seem to believe without it.

They see the rise and fall of each nation.
Cry out without shame.
Eventually you must admit it,
That this chain,
That you pull your self up and down with,
Is not normal,
Paradoxical this by now
Most have remained despondent with.

And these psychological chains, that
You wear, seem like xanax is normal
And now how can you bare them..at all?

Chained To Your Shame

And there you all hang,
loving all of your misery, hurt and crying.
Nailed to your bed
and when comfort is two rocks, bearer of all that is you bash against.
Chained to in all your shame.
Eyes dripping blood
it's as real as evil laughter, sleeping on the bed
with your own rail road spike it has gripped you.
Bruised, torn, and brown moss dripps, off into.
The strile linoleum
and all whom have come before waxed floor.
Hanging on to this wall of your shame raining drops of small years you left.
Old brass keys shake and rattle,
the doors left open ajar,
over and over we have seen and read.
As you drip,
as he trips over you seeing his breathtaking sight of you his.
And you are bereft all feeling left hanging,
only now do you stop.
Stop the young lilies and roses frow watching.

Dark Deaths

Happy hookers and education spread across the land
Marshall Tucker kind of bars stars and stripes the body host dead bodies strawberries Short cake
strange smell of boodies black and purple bloating past their father's own and mother's crimson pinhole and the windows crimson edge.

The past is all of the confessions never having had until a certain one.
With lips that play the other side of midnight came.

She plays with trunks
and pulls them out to tuck them in at night.
She squeezed and squeezing, squeezed until milk came gushing out and with each redoubled effort spent milk flowed and came.
To rest upon the lips of all the dead around.

The New Moon

At the center of the world
I pace back and forth at the edge moving the wheat to and fro inside the wind
where tornadoes are never formed.
Crushing the world inside your hand, where light is from the other side formed the source of and for.
After you who are after.
These are the ones, whom inverse the broad twisters.
Then can push them up into and out of your hands, without the normal way you consider into,
then came out from the other side of you informed.
Still I am in the west of the peninsula
where wet, moist hardly dry eye.
I stand am the swallowed all the way to the base of the tree and I like you would face.
Coming back I walk inside the window and stay where I slept last night figured out when most they look into mirrors

Whet, phat and humid most sing in the grass green and brown at the edge

Tasting the blunt tag at the base of the moon and for once in week's or hot fevered months washing away in the flood that came when she did.
As the cliffs edge.

When she steps up with what
In the blink of one eye she pushes, then pushed below out to the edge of where it is taned, where it stops.
At the tip the edge of the top of the world where your at the windows edge.

into trickles opening warm moon upturned lips below

Left behind in oceans of dread.

The bayonet strikes home to the hilt.
My brothers have left home here with out me.
I struggle for breath the taste of steel beneath it.

Half way up the next the next peak they took me.
Looking down at the ground he released me.

my thoughts trail off to you.
The wind moves the leaves, fluttering some float on the ground.
Each cottage deflects the heat of the day
it is humid, wet there's no breeze.
Some thing alive my thoughts they do is not a thought thinking of you consider them that.
I have discovered truth and truthfulness squandered youth.
The birds still sing I seek the past with you.
Hidden here today the sun it is the grass is green and tall.
Sheep I've lost count green their woolly faces.
Thinking to the one in front and he race's to the one's left behind-the-scenes beyond.

Cutting through the forest of tall trees to meet you.
Floating down stream there to greet you.

no regrets.

Upon your eyes

If they were gold.

All would see my friend

They come seeking

Such magnificence men

Where Ever My Daughter

Wherever
I roam in your soul
I roam inside of your head magic box in your hands games
most play.

Wherever
I roam by your bed
I am not to my chagrin
in your soul.

Mother is gone dad is not there
Sincerely,
I roam in your head.

Spirit Leaf

Some of our tears here there are many pretenders times of joy where you are.
Many needy children you have none where you are
I am not always here.
Many kind words here you have spoken of them.
When under cover of sleep we have adventures there.
Where you are not being right here when I am.
A fast moving face there on the freeway, our space.
What comes to pass I move it all over some see that I am in your way,
I move up and then you move it down all the way.
Here in this place where all like to gossip
if you are not here they will fetch you I suspect it is so.
I fill in each line with eyes lids that show me the door.
I don't have a blog yet I am still famous in other ways as I hold on to words that some want when they come back to me through you.
Love as we might and love when we do then love is the answer, love is the key to your heart.
Make sure she's aware when I touched your stomach
no one is around or right there.

Sea Magic Words

Summer's fall pink petals around me do you still see green the lost blue sea does he even know she still loves him.

I will if you can't understand him
sweet my sweet,
Adeline.

Come around him, come around him
there by the sea foam topped waves.

Waves dark afternoon cloudy there is more more than most ever will see, where we are.
Where we are is the best, down by the sea where we are.

Reaching The Hermatige

Brown twin peaks through her valley I walk, waiting I wait for the moon to rise.
The red rose is high it is certain to raise her white flag my silk curtain.
Glory is he, today through the valley I walk.
These words that I write, they make me.
Mans reign of crime is over.
Her breasts full of milk covered me.
Through each hungry child you have found me.
I master the chaos of the world you embodied.
Being milked by hand I call out her name.
When you love him you her to do love.
Being unlike the rest far abovementioned.
From this valley I walk through her curtains.

Underneath Her Lips

Moist is humid, grass when green and wet,
the grass is where I'm from.
Such simple rules without retreat.
Each pale face the moon is full,
to end your suffering, I would and yet.
Does she love me still?
Will she shed her garb and still be whole?
Some hate love and some love hate.
Young girls they still grow blindly hotter,
some grow faint.
The glow upon her face the rain has drained
the only place that I've known rest.
Underneath your lips I've found my place.

What Makes Us Human

Some dark day it becomes even whiter the execution of our souls is all for our knowledge and as it grows to indifferent corrections are each Sunday to be remembered best as.
How well we know to stand up in protest
when things don't go our way and when it open shuts.
Clear as day each choice we make can never hurt you.
Hurricanes it's eye leaves us with choice.
Neither stay or leaves comes back to haunt you.
My belief it is, it sustained us it fills you up.
That nature keeps us
differant how is what maintained the budda fast asleep.
Innocent and you wish silver wings and Daniel said.
Clear choice, each man and this you have and proverbs proves it.

Each page I test to reach and grow, I read it all day try.
Under heaven's yellow orb, it is earths eye.
Comets come and comets go, a microscope it spied.
Maybe then when I come back I'll see the other side.

Come here to me, my audience, my teacher one day said.
Her husband Mr. Hubble is in charge of whats upstairs.
Galileo was his pick as his, an only friend.
Poetry a good book of, disguised as science fact gave him those ideas.

A Nest Of Roses

People who walk by night and butterflies
Last night asleep you are awake right now
A symphony of dreams I saw inside
She has the courage of her father's mother
Each nest of roses I passed by
And when I know
How roses grow and pressed for time I was.
The simple things each rose should know
To have her mother's eye
And growing up I give them back
So others may then have.

more to conceal it

And from the apple

do you even know

Manic The Banshee

She triples her net worth with a flip of her hand I return to her when she calls.
Cutting the valley in half with my finger I open the flower, she falls.
Can you toy with his choice of words
when he watches you wait for his words.
Walking the tight rope, you never fall
from the heights where all wait as I watch.
Coming down, I climb up each twin peek.
Open eye's closing, as I move around deep inside.
Manic women beautiful are and better nurses true hero's never were.
Champagne blue lead cups casting your shadow on me.
Of course bigger logs in the forests, tall trees
most claim that they climb.
Awakened from sleep,
the fairest of face when I look down, I have found.

When Depression Peaks

I love the reality the dark it keeps,
without designer drugs or alcohol.
It is as deep as the void from which light has sprung.
To speak of mighty waves the sea released.
To follow boldly solstice no drawn drapes up from.
The triggers I can't fix to see my face.
Drawn and racked as peasants do it.
I face the west the ocean calls she sits upon it.
The drug is sleep I'm welcome to be found inside
the small American tragedy.
The farmer and his wife when all ends well.
Each angle that is found in your well turned ankle.
The dress that hides the moon each shooting star.
When depression peaks, I love the way you smile.

There are the old cemitaries I reminisce in

And like dusk when everything is dawn will follow.
Now my love back to the porch of each erection.

Death Alone

Amongst the throngs death has parlayed,
I must pay attention fine lovely art.
In ancient times a cold stone morgue it usually was.
Not cold marble steps ascending into.
Busy the few masking faces mother's to.

Marketing death a wife there confessing your sins.
I thought of the children we knew.
A father his daughter her son going off to war.
I am he, she is he the trustworthy mother to all.
How ever wealthy some are the rest aren't.

Ancient cultures captured the light of mons Venus.
The red spot in the sky it is Mars.
In the winter one evening star, two planets are.
A cross forms the X where people stand.
Twenty two degrees at right angles on the solstice.

My Public Defender

Her eyes are the darkest Smouldering, smokey dark brown eyes.
Taller than most she is wise.
To be in a hurry you must be.
I e-mail her a poem, when I do not to you,
to her I would do the same to you.
Here I lie, I'm precocious.
Nothing profound, verbs have that effect to descend.
On the state tell the truth or your done.
Bad company is that when it was,
bad to the bone someone else is he trustworthy?
She only likes me for my mind.
Been there done that a thousand times.
She is my hope and much more.
She siad that the law application concerning me could have been written before somewhat better.
Did I say that she's hot, cause shes hot.
Most just pump,
pump, pumping, pump out the knowledge she has.
Her breasts are fair I assume, covered by her.
Professional is the look they must all wear.
Rapidly moving between all the floors is the elevator stuck in between one going one way another goes the other fat cat.
Her lips are to die for lips like Angelina Jolene Pitt.
Her fingers play musical instruments I am sure.
Before her again I will come, am I ready.

We Have Discovered A Rare Planet

Rain it teems with mystery a secret found in space.
It hides us beneath the sky upon the ground.
Flowing to the window next to mine,
it winds around her ankle then flow to the oceans.
Space invaders,
little-known white, white hot girls that go on.
It rains tadpoles, frogs and fish within arm's reach.
I once put a salamander in a rose,
the rose closed the salamander swam in even deeper.
Backing in his head popped out he swam in circles.
The button or the bud the other rose it sampled.
Microdroplets
turn in to all the rage when you drink water.
Next to the pond she falls asleep happy moments are when you put the salamander in his hole.
Moving end to end feet first.

Can you in the title see the end,

Then if I run around the world inside your head, and just for the magic see the sun there for you to like then to have.

Can you in the title see your messages to me,

Punishing Dark Confessional

How much is ever enough?
The foam of the waves, does she care?
Today while I was asleep.
They were awakened by you as I dreamt as I slept.
Their buses say flag on the side of them.
Walkways, where they walk are full of them.
Bulging out, blushing at the seams.
Swans that are seemingly there.
In those blue eye's as snow, bottom threadbare.
It is this side of phat that gives way.
The naked eye is full of the brush, when the sides.
Back and forth bemused,
all the writing it takes to discuss it.
I will come back when you ask me.
Even here where they all must now watch us.
Straightforward to the center of the eye.
I am like you about it, thinking about it.
It is humid there and here all around it.

Homeless In The Car

I just was thought-provokingly,
I always read more into something than there was.
After two years it becomes more than a job.
It became more than life, life my own.
Tring at low tide
to harvest the claws, of the mighty stone crab.
By hand with gloves on, while it's, in its hole.
Under the eyes of big brother, as I understand.
Five tickets in six weeks for that same homelessness.
I did what I could and one or the other,
I had to pick 'n chose with one guess, never two.
So some chose without malice I suppose,
that I was to long in a car without progress?
All those psychological bullets, that hit with a solid thud.
still leaves us to guess, at which what?
This neighbor hood is kinda-well?
Is it as it should be?
Without a car
all those places, are twice as hard, to get to than they were before.

Six Feet Tall, Without Kevlar

I could write about Ambrose Pierce and you can be his weather.
He lived with most great men and women.
Forecasts of me dear woman, I am pleasant.
Between Abraham Lincoln and Mark Twain, Samuel Clement.
Lika a rusty Valentine six months latter.

A fire you lite in me check my spelling.
The spirit of the after life in the present.
High pressure bridge down from Bermuda.
Ideal for hurricanes to brush up against us on the west coast of Florida's.

Living, loving the window the face of the other.
I can't replace it the other side of the window,
with my own.
Still you don't shy from trouble as most do.
Poe like him I was.
Like you I still am minus the trouble.
Your heat wave just broke out there where you're at.

I boil water in old glass jars and pour coffee grounds inside then stir it.
I smile getting a head of myself.
Bukowski enjoyed strong coffee and without it.
We wouldn't have that unique way of staying away from all those clear windows.
It will rain today Ambrose Pierce, I tell you.
Was there a Clearwater Florida, to forecast back to?

When laying down and sleeping with it, is it like the burning sun then talk about it.
When is, is, is those special moments.
When it comes back, to live again, against.
all the way to you and back again.
When a challenge to, for and one simple the.
A change of a thought thousands of times when some come again disagree to die live again.
At the words I have said many times,
when the Lord!
Intense living all stored up in your soul love of life and libirty and it is Remarkably the words they write, women rise and men that fall from grace.

Sprinting around the world in books they write.

They put their finger on each others point.
The candle when it's gone starlight affects.
Children come from the great beyond,

When women are much better that's because.

Entities That Haunt Your House

The energy of dark and light the sea.
And you are awake not thinking of the danger that confronts you now.
It watches you nude in the shower.
White sheets you grew up with.
It struggles with your fleash as toys.
When your a sleeps it's not.
Poe thought about what Shakespeare could not.
Dark human energy, mental institutions,
where thousands died.
In Florida it's still open.
Watching yourselves receive lobotomys.
Shock treatments unroll your mind.
Falling a sleep in your own piss.
Being trapped in rape the doctor's wand.
Untill you have his child inside that dream.
The heir to all that bleeds his name outloud
it is about the entities that haunt your house.

Promises weren't made I thought they were.

Who ever said nine lives they have they seem but don't.
Crying her small kittens a half jumbled litter.
I thought the gas chamber was reserved for only people.
I never gave a name to her because,
this day I knew would come.
Answering the phone today as I suspected it, was from the s.p.c.a.
It cost me ten dollars to pick her body up.
They supplied the gas for free.
I now know that freedom is not free.
I burried the cat next to a rusty old machine.

When Hawk's Go Down

Hunger when properly used as a weapon.
Civilians engaged.
Gold and silver left behind uneaten.
The wind the coming of it, it is hidden.
The smell of death and watery diarrhea.
Dignity is significantly lost.
The lower order of all things,
climbing ladders to children's sins.
More agreeable making mistakes.
Distended eye's,
parameters of psychological disfigurement.
Raising up each limb is as lead.
Many years behind lay a head.
Shouldering the dead, burdensome burdens.
Where all of the rice looks like sand.
Stacked like cord wood are most of the dead.

Lesbianism And Homosexuality

As a young man I wished they all were,

In prison they go by many names.
Modestly disrespectful.
Some were mean, most were soft,
some just wanted to hurry it.

I felt comfortable with, out threat, most of either sex were reasonably intelligent.
Out here it is differnt the suffering,
bills need to be paid.
And left with only one place to turn.

It is a thrill watching one go down.

Basically I feel comfortable around them.
Then there is the taxation of it.

they both took, before and after.

My husband, with him here all around me
the need for a breast pump, is minimal but when and if I do,
what type of breast pump should I choose?

Only each politician on bent knee, will determine how often we can meet or go off to lunch, will feel the need to determine how often,
and in what way you will be using a breast pump.

Will congress be staying at home with the baby and pumping me now and again for those date nights, or will you be returning to work full time and pumping congress several times a day, too stay?

Lobby For: The Manual Breast Pumps, if you would like to have a breast pump around, 'just in case,

and if you vote for me, consider each dropp a vote
in either direction,
however it comes out and you can betcha.

Relapse, Mental Health

The stigma is biased, based on ignorance.
If some you just met someone and they said.
Hi, my name is James.
I am bipolar and a manic depressive.
Turning to me what would you say?
They ideally go out of their way to stay quite.
Many are ashamed of the ignorant,
it could lead to a relapse because of appearances.
With no intention of disceaving any one.
Many stay in hidding, how will this effect my loved ones.
Who protects them when they are away.
Who pays their bills so they won't loose their credit?
For many of them it has been days since they slept.
While not being productive leads to feelings of shame.
And taking advantage of them is so easy.
Being passive is terrifying,
because being nice, a decent human being means.
You are weak and untrustworthy of people.
And this could lead to civil commitment or worse.
Simply because others need to win,
and take advantage of you.
While something that is hereditary must be horrifying.
While both sides of the family fight to deny it.

The Women Of Mirage

How she came to be, she was.
Most from this region are except for the few.
One has told me how they think,
she does not.
Make contact with her I think,
she has a husband.
Does he drink beer is he loud?
This thinking keeps me ready to let her.
Ready for her to make the next move.
The big bun that's her hair.
I still have not devulged where here I am not.
Maybe I am all done in.
The women are here then gone the next moment.
Tired it is night one she comes,
without sound.
A quick drink of water she calls.
Come to me it is dusk, she knows I will.
I will not risk my relationship for the others.
She comes and I will.

me where

And only when

We will ride it

We will ride it

When the Late tonight.

To the clearing

On a steed of blinding light.

you have riden

Bring cubes of sugar and an apple
if you dare.

Raw Love

Her I found chubby that she is melting off
I knew it would.
High cheek bones legs that ran up past her hips.

The natural pursue of her twin lips.
Over the bottom
the top was.
Breastfeeding me.
She simply was
I latter did become.

Encouraging
words, remarks I hung on to.
Proofreading
poems I was beginning.
To see the end.
Twenty-four years of looking into the window.
Of the mirror
A drinking companion gone today.
Unavailable come dawn.
Like the rest.
Standing the test of time.
My last wife
the truth of being first she was.

The Suicide's Soliloquy

Closed they seal my eyes.
My breath it sold for gain.
Common mortal man had much to gain.
While what I owe all saw me pay.

Coming home one morning she did not.
Across the dell she was the farmer's wife.
How could a whore she be without a man.
Many necks are stretched to get a glance.

Nutrition we all need at her expense.
Recompense for all our deeds, dirt cheap.
The steeplechase for most is out of reach.
A whore she could not be without a man.

It is known now why the sun must rise.
Each word we speak that comes to each like mind.
Love of life to each and each their own.
Then to men a different sign to man it has.

..... When, Lilly Kisses Rose

When lilly kisses rose and lilly I did know and trees I thought grew very deep and lived within the forest.

And green
the hay is sweet and brown dry moss cries
why.

And lillies white remind the sky blue cotton clouds they swirl.

There grew the two.
so dear
most thought.

Short breath two centered scents.

And how before them both
I stood once near their hearts too far.

And when I know how roses grow and pressed so hard was I.

And cups of milk
I loaned to them cinnamon and spice.

Sugar sweets they made from them
and now to know both why.

While lilly bridged sweet roses bank as water rushes
by.

Are You Drinking!

In a box in the closet.
Last night my cat had two kittens.
Easier said than done.
The little-known girl down stairs.
She now mutters.
Mum she called her mother.
Tourette syndrome one of them must have.
Making a detour to the fridge,
I hear the kittens crying.
I picked the wrong day to come over.
Growing old less limber,
my body aches as she climbs again on top.
I have had regrets over this neighborhood,
my sister still reminds me that.
Are you still drinking daily she would ask?
We still live in the past.
Where we can take the electric meter out,
and turn it upside down.
Spinning backwards helps pay for my beer.
The kittens they must go.
But the S.P.C.A. will kill them hear.

Disruptions

It is pouring over the edge.
Running up hill instead of down.
Slow then faster, fast.
I can't replace the smile on your face at that.
Knowing as it rolls down and off the page.
Stolen moments never come back like this one.

Being Infamous

Is not the same.

Is your green silk dress the same,
as your red one?

Are brown eyes blue.

The yellow sun not to change.

We would be overwhelmed if it wasn't.

Silk is too expensive.

So you cover your face with cotton.

Wet or dry is the gateway to difference.

Walking hand in hand by the sea shore,
brown, white or tan, black or red.

Infamous is not the same as famous.

Then there is the bright yellow sun.

Listen To The Rain

Pleasant to the ear as it falls.
Listen to the rain as tears wash away your fears.
As the streets are washed clean,
so the soul of each child reappears.
The skirt of the sky as it opens the gate,
to our garden take cheer.
Rain speaks to plants they stand tall,
emerald eyes turn each leaf living green.
Like each look when new lover's meet.
Crossing T's. dotting eye's, unique books.
The scent of fresh laundry washed dreams.
Listen to the rain,
as it puts all of our children to sleep.

Eternity

I cannot go back to where and make you change me.
Not even the wind,
can push back the cover of clouds.
To cover the eye of the sun.

Come to me and tell me what you never said before,
that you love me.
The Death of the sea will not change me.
Laughing children play all day in the sand.
For allowing me to rest in eternity.

Exile

Longer than time itself, time it seems.
I awaited word any kind of word.
As those moments of truth out weight sorrow.
New leaves budding unfurled in spring.
Burgeoning streams, warm summer rain brings.
Will we know each other once again?
Or pass each other in the streets and let it go.

You Are Coming

With one long fingered hand, you keep track of his.
It is everything now.
It is night time now.
While using the other to rub.
Gently in circles that grow ever wider.
Short of breath he watches.
Wet, moist, humid, clinging.
The tunnel to love it has you.
The trunk of the tree out the window.
The trunk of the tree discovered.
Triggers more of this the same.
Soft silky fabrics give way to firm, pulling and pushing it is spilling.
You are coming again tomorrow.

When Love Found Me

Lost in the stars.
The big dipper it's handle,
Bends around me.

Cool the north star,
Points out the way south.
Without sound then love touched me

Pinpricks of light,
Upon black velvet background.
Like so many before when love found me.

Out Of Breath

When I was alone and saw your face.
Inside my room my window,
was the porthole to your deep eyed soul.

Your dark skin was warmer than the sun.
Could you tell me once again,
just why I called your lovely name?
Release me or I swear I'll go insane.

My judgement clouded by my need to see my daughter.
When you scream at me over the phone I withdraw.
Two thousand twelve she failed this year the same.
A child she is it's not her fault to be.
The creepy looks she got from him, so far from home.
My daughter not to some she is to me.
You just wanted to get laid you said to me.

There are no creepy, creeps here where I'm at.

Mob Mentality

In all of us rests the screaming voice.
The voice of some law not yet written.
Born of the dawn sky of subsequent thought not yet bourne out.
After all,
would you allow your young children to dictate
what they will eat three times a day?

Yet ones educational background allows,
what new laws should be passed.
Trading off your hard won civil liberties,
for a false sense of security.
That none can really have.

Morality is what?
When none in the world.
Are really such as you.
Working such long hours, that you are truly to tired to make the right choice.

Are we so caught up in the pain and sufferings,
of our fellow human beings.
The mob mentality
allows one to sake their thirst for revenge.
In the hateful quest for justice.
It is sacrosanct the leaning on of the mob mentality.

The Moon In Your Body

Effectively it controls the body.
Knowledge of the heavens spun around.
The body rears her head the lips inside.
Hear the drum it rolls, tat, tat, tat, tat.
The acquisition kept therein.
The smell of light perfume inside the lace.
The moon the sea dark skies.
Waves that move so slow across the shore.
The sand between your toes.
The moon within the clouds as rain comes down.
Through the window face of you who love.

Digging

We arnt here to talk about my mother's digging, though here we are.

Many years ago and up to now.
Around each plant she did.
Lot's of digging.

Hot peppers as a child I'd rub my eyes.
Telling me the sting was what her father ate.

Mistakes like that aren't meant for me to make.
Though growing up I had.
Peppers that never went eaten bad.

Southern biscuits and sausage gravy.
Grandma's always knew.
What pepper tasted best.

Digging with her hands my mother dug.
To make him happy.
Her stepfather and his garden we all ate from.
I think her digging came from home.
Like all the rest.

We Avoid The Past

Indelibly we are the products.
Looking through our own window to the past.
Our pain and grief holds on to tierd hearts.
Technology lets us see all the ghosts.
The misery of others we try to avoid.
Those faces in the street are our own.
Fear the great motivator that sees our tomorrows.
Trying to learn what hurts the others.
We as human beings try to evolve.
Knowing full well
that we must or all will be for naught.
Our own potential we see through the mirror.

Other times,

Knowing that from birth each person's worth.
Where would we stand.
What standard would we pause and think except?
Talented and gifted.
More than other's it seems, some sometimes have.
And a gift like kind in heart the gifted play.

A Dream Of Death

Such dreams were more common as a child.
And when then I was.
Influenced by what I saw I may have dreamt from time spun back.
Like a spiders web each fine spun line that brings them all to reach the middle.
By what I saw the grown ups do.
Each loss by them I could not understand.

Emotional turmoil most empathic children felt.
Others missing as some in the boat.
It back then never occurred to me.

That from the time of birth
some were a few sandwiches short of a picnic.
Only waiting for the day when I buy them was invited.

A Death-Bed

No one wants to sleep in this bed but some must.
The state has a taste for pasty death.
Witnesses testified as much and so they should.
Pale well fed better than some on the streets.
Muscular arms full of veins law-i.v. school.
Politicians racking up points in the polls.
Faces pressed against the window payne.
The lights never dim as once again they did.
Muscles clinch
beneath his neck as eyes begin to flutter.
Breathing stopped.

The Streets

Here at night
the humidity is like wearing wet laundry.
Dark circles around her eyes that glow.
The pavement dips in all the wrong places street lights that give off their children's dull night.
Scuffing up leaves powdered red dust
stopping I turn at the hollow noise that echoes.
The past at every turn.
All of them whom have walked these streets have known from the beginning that.
Caught in tight spaces where not even young boys come with young girls to play.
The only woman I see hang over the rails of their upstairs rooms.
Most have their mother's breasts and strangely enough their father's mustache.

light's up only at night.
It sleeps unlike most during the day.
When the rest are up and about.
Hence most won't admit

That leaves the few to admire, like I would admit only to you.
I am worse than paralysis,
the asexual succubus that hides under your bed.
Waiting for you.
Rapidly breathing.
Swelling with my tounge inside of you.
If the unwritten word's,
you hear me speak only to you.
Up your spine into your ear, deathly silent.
The dark mind thinks of like minds.
Hence their ment spoken to you.
Are you a sick child or full grown women.
Each death on the news could be you.
Railroad tracks, light skinned arms.
Headless a torso black legs.
Holes in your neck,

Therapy, Balance, Truth And Trust

My body I have left in all the wrong places.
Places no one will look.
Look and what they will find?
Patients and machines, untill I live, I can.
I will leave it to all the others,
why it came to pass this way.
No one understands,
the politics of why I'm here today.
Some other things are worse than this,
of that, I'm sure.
Pretty nurses that I now, I can not ignore.
A life of pain,
no one told me then, I would survive.
Before it ever happened, why the sky lit up so bright.
It was hard enough to cross the finish line.
The wall I hit a thousand times before.
But never once like this.
Will they find them all, and kill them.
Kill them not and learn from history.
I won't go out again like this, you swore an oath.
I have no defense for what was done to U.S.
To U.S. like this.
The telly, I won't watch, the sick reruns.
The media it seems are much, much worse.
Untill I run another lengthy marithon.
And leave God out of this, from where you come.

For all of you,
that won't refuse, to go beyond the line again.

Sing To Me

Start to sing to me.
Like the expanding sky, could I but dream of.
The biggest of stars
if I could but see your brown eyes.

Love me and you and you I would love to sing of.
Long lost the spruce trees,
and your name is but night whispers the wind.
Exhausted my short life found purpose.
Like each hungry child my love only grows.
I love what I do not have.

You are so far away.
Letting go of the sunset, slowly it sinks.
However, at night the moon starts to rise.
The biggest of night time stars,
are when I look into your brown eyes.

Adjudication of a misdemeanor or felony means, the following.

N.G.I.

Not guilty by reason of insanity.

Adjudication of guilt means that, you are guilty of the charge.

Usually the Judge will ask for a allocution to the charge.

Meaning only the accused will provide information to the offense that only the accused would know.

Nolo contendere, the state and or you do not wish to contest the charge.

Adjudication unknown.

This means the official outcome of the charge, is unknown, one way or the other.

The After Life

The best medium to die in is water.
Fresh water is less painful than salt.
You only become a ghost or poltergeist,
if you have unfinished business on your mind.

All religions have a gutwrenching afterlife.
While the depth of your soul is measured,
from birth.
Karma is of course to you and I important.

So time runs, north, south, east and west.
While reality is centered where you stand.
An individual commuting to then come back.
Is of course left without memory of that.

Darkness Falls

Long night's have long been here yet never near.

To lie upon soft sheets again.

For vigilance must not be taken from me alas when forced to sleep.

For as all true kings must learn to weep.

For the hawks the eagles still will be.

Some sit with wonder and watch me cry.

My spirit returns ten times as strong to learn to sing and dance the song.

Sixty nine, twenty eight.
One thousand fifty five.
Ninty seven, twenty one.
One hundred eighty eight.

Ninty five, fifty one.
Six thousand ninty nine.
One, two, three, four.

One Art

That painting on the wall.
Was painted by a master.
Pocket watches silver ware.
Someone else our master.

My marriage all my childhood dreams.
Have moved to far upstream.
And coming down that lane again.
I dreamt about disaster.

One realm not here into another world.
Where we wait to all return.
Is preordained by nature's rule.
When your prior life's your master.

By Not Being Forceful

There was no better time to,
raise a family then when you raised yours.
The national debt was naively doable.
The poor could still live off the land.
There was no shame in trading,
a pig for a lamb.
Mother's were ashamed of their ignorance and made sure you received an education.
And father's gathered love from his children.
Children were born with morals.
Their grandparents had integrity.
Where is your kingdom of heaven now?

Seeds come awake.
From the living dead.
From their deep sleep.
She turns up her face.
She loves the rain.
She comes again.
She like me, loves the rain.

She helps me when I come.
Not only are you intelligent.
You have beautiful long hair.
Listen to me and do not cut it as you are thinking to.
It shows you take time to groom.
Your fingers are as quick as.
Moving across the keyboards.
And your lips shaped as almonds.
I must go now but know this.
You are special and she whom is my Doctor.
Treats you well.
Hello and goodbye, I see you Natasha.

Many with education already have.
I must remain unbiased.
If the window of life, as it closes.
And it appears the rebels are loosing.

The Syrian intellectuals,

And believe that the people must rise up.
I must remain unbiased.
President Obama,

When You Dream At Night

And the rooster spur that grows, between your legs.
Deep asleep you are.
Gay men but mostly normal women.
Sharp it slips in deep beneath,
your nylon panties.
Untill you gurgle in your soul.
Red bubbles pink.
Green eye's they open.
As your hips begin to move.
Vivid are your darkest dreams.
Your lips stay open as your tounge.
A voiceless moan.
You awake at dawn to a rooster crowing.

Revenge

If jealousy could speak to me.
I would not steal her gaze.
Around the dale and up each hill.
Each field where I count sheep.

I knew him not but he knew me.
And money is the root.
And bankers have much more than me.
Each campaign without cause.

Around the earth he has been.
His bane is each our curse.
The doctor knows that it is wrong.
And sweet revenge to me,
is knowing both will go insane.

I can't sit by the window, and wait for you to make up your mind.

I may have committed a crime.
But that has been Many decade's ago.
And the burden of being white,
has played out.

I want to vote.
Unlike those whom can, but won't.

fades from our minds.

While a father's vineyard grows but heady weeds.

Does a certain type of green or purple grape.
Grow aught but Grace?

Thus produce a better seed as seeds do know.

Our Right Mind

The title, I make first.
But then again the body can become the soul.
Knowing about nothing, which will follow.
Most here know.
Do you have an ego,
that is larger than the moon and does it glow.

Come and listen to the wind as it sings.
Then will you follow me,
back down the path, to where we started?
Where all go.

Don't be afraid, I think about the Judges.
Dressed in somber black,
and they are married to with children.

Like we have, I've shown you mine.
And she is ten.

If things don't change, I am not there.
I can deal with ignorance,
if it means that one can learn.
Stupid is the fire that burns the world.

Some hide and listen to the magic static.
Some can't sleep without the noise.
Of the past that some have made.
The future knows.

If I can't learn, then I have died.
A useless death that most have shared.
Sitting in the dark, it still makes noise.
Adults that can not say,
why they are still alive instead of dead.

Stupid silly sayings like the good die young.
Until the child is your's, no end of grief.
Being honest with your self will help you grow.
Telling lies about your friends, it's time to go.

Tommorrow is.

The First Time I Was Raped In Prison It Was Not The Last

I did not know what to expect.
Being brought into this level seven prison.
Union correctional institution, called the rock.
This was Raiford,
where death row was and still is.
Earl Grey was his name he was in for murder.
From a psychotropic drug induced sleep,
I was in his mouth before I woke up.
Never having been sodomized before the raw terror.
He was long and thick, my cries by the guards went unheard.
I could not take it all in.
Some how I did find a way out in my head.
The slow stretching and tearing went on forever.
Who else but they no-one cared.
Some even smelled the stink.
This animal, is my shame.
Over and over again, I some how survived.
No one even cared.
Some of U.S. did not make it.
Suiciding by climbing the fences.
The A.R.Fifteens did the rest.
Every night I died a new death.
In Florida the executions were preferable, to the rapes, no one knew about.
The wardens knew in the garden of dread, made of evil.
Some even took graft and more from some of us.
Other's we're still children under the age of eighteen.

Death Within The Dream

Dreaming,
dreams of death, you really shan't.
English is not the spoken tounge,
in every head.

Even if each thought,
that I am taught, I soon forget.
Do you, the other side,
I go at will, when deep in sleep.

There are often better things,
for me to do to you.
Than to watch you hidden, waiting, come.
Pulling back,
the mist, you are often sleeping in.

I see the whirlpool's eye,
shooting out,
all the light, that I put in.
The cup is half empty, never full.
Darker is this moon, and it is.

I must see it,
laying on it's lighter side.
Open when I come.
And closing shut, as I look back.
Dreaming,
dreams within,
when death is all you have.

Depth so intence in so deep.

Father than any could see.
So one says-there it is.
Come to me,
yes touching the heart of her blind.
There it is, eat it up, suck it down.

Moving around looking out.

filled with joy.
How could I and no one else.
Cause such joy.

'Why, The Caged Bird Sings

I know now what freedom is like.
The fresh perfumed breeze I am caught.
To see the red planet so far,
when venus her mon's bright the star.

To see our blue planet from high.
Google earth,
looking down makes me cry.
The eagles broad wings, finger tips.
Tell me why if you can,
every why the caged bird sings.

Once like a slave I once was, wearing chains not from love no suprise.
Even then driving by, looking at them and why the caged bird it sings.

Year upon year slowly went by,
in a cell where young men had died.
I raised a sparrow there.
I was sad when it learned to fly.
One feather I kept as I saw it fly high.
Sobbing in silence I wept.

I could not teach even it about life.
Could it fend for it's self or die.
In death I would sleep every night.
And in dreams the monks came to me.
Confession or not,
why the caged bird it sings to be freed.
From this world and it's cold design.

The Unplanned Child

Broken down meatal cribs with wooden bars.
About the first,
it was as much to her as I to it,
the cloth thread bare.

It was so much and different from today,
always dark and no sunrise.
Biblical, baby names, like James, Richard and Robert.

A sister Sharon like an olds.
That never seemed to run.
Was always hot.
To much salk and lot enough we turn away from doing that.

Lillies,
made to look like sister rose.
Fountains leap up high upon one's self.

Dead,
I rise to look once more upon the shelf.
I see a road,
that leads me back to other worlds.
I never made.

White Or Black

Silvercords and bells,
the edge is razor sharp.

I hear the children whimper,
as I scream.

Each one of you that never was,
I made them go away.

Pure of heart while coming back.
I tossed them all away.

I closed the flower,
every time you never came.

The stars that never shine, upon their face.

Doing the same thing and I would.

Sour milk the pail I fetched, has run out far away.

Trailer Trash

To the few who cannot write.
Or do you spell it wright?
So you turn left,
instead of burning bright.

If you read insted of watching,
Jerry Springer,
Judge Judy and or the peoples court.

I can't help,
but laugh as you get mad.
No thats not mommys against drunk driving.
Though your brain it tells you do.

Your just a lop,
because the cap it seems to fit.
I forgot in class,
the one you never took.

Trailer trash,
is all that you can get.

Death, How I Invited It

How it holds the key I never held.
The snake and it's fangs,
it could not fell.
The fall from mountain tops.
One broken collar bone.

A lit match dropped into gas.
It never did explode.
Standing on a shark that never bit.
Lightning strikes,
the wires fell on my truck.
From hood to hitch.

The gun put in my face,
that did not fire.
The knife into my side,
I did not die.

The overdose at twenty five.
And the coma I awoke from.
This story,
goes on ad on, to long I did not die.
Black widow spiders made me cry.
I know not why.

Love, What Is Love

A few to many words of love.
And not enough,
of one the other knew.

And living life-each one departs.
Their sorrow through-and through.

How can I come to now it now?
To be a rose in bloom.
T'was not enough to be set free.

Each Bully Why I Scream

Even in the open
I can't hide.
Riding on the bus
I always cry.

I listen through the window
as they jab me in my chest.

Others,
see my pain and turn away.
They see my eye's.

No one ever tells,
or they will suffer like the rest.
My teacher feels it more,
each time they yell.

There is no way around it.
Unless they feel it to.
I feel the pain,
of all.
Gods-Dogs are creatures to.

This is why I chose, to go away
where others do.
Understanding friends,

Before I left,
my favorite friends.
They remembered,
this for you.

Why Girls Cut More Than Boys

Boys dont have one.
Still they need to see.
Boys dont understand attention.
Like a girl that always bleeds.

It's not about the pain.
The numbness stinging brings.
To share the risk if they find out.
A place that none should be.

The bandage tells it all.
I wear long sleeves.
I leave before my mother tells on me.

I do his laundry if he listens,
just to me.
If it feels alright to me.

And if he understands me.
I open up to him.
No matter how deep the cut might be.
He's always there for me.

When the one's who seemed to cause it.
Just can't see.
So I lift my dress in trust.
And on my inner thigh he cuts.
I feel his razor and it's sting.

James McLain

I Remember You As You Were

Your face your eyes, your full lips as if the sky should part.
your high cheeks, how they flowed,
as the mighty Amazon to the sea.

The deepest of conversations,
we both would share, when I knew but depair.
The way was never easy,
and the path for you would part.
With ease like the calming breeze.

Your voice I hear as if it's yeterday.
The warming wind it winds around,
each tree the soft green leaves.

You made me stay behind the scenes,
while love and loving trust.
I see your dreams that moving off and you wait for me to reach the stars that shine upon my face.

James McLain

If You Forget Me.

Nothing and everything about me.

Knowing not what will happen:
The moon made of glass,
at every pass.
I wait as the snow retreats.

All around me are constant reminders of the time you shared with me.

I understood that moving forward only led to the past.
Should I leave before it's time.

The bee around your eyes.
Your lips are not forgotten.
The stars were more than people ever knew.

Hurry off and hide,
they come for me.
Where they take me none will know.
And you must never follow.
Grieving me.

True Hero's

Men and women, whom never think about all the memories.
Butterflies in flight,
they must then become.
Coming out.

To die for a child.
To die the good fight.
To die for you.
To know what fear is,
despite the color of our skin.

The lonely hearts and would I.
Alone looking up at the moon.
Without the end in sight.
The lone parent whom fights,
for each child.

They are the heart of each sun.
They are the light we all feel.
They are the stars that are bright.
They are the many whom have died.

One soldier is so far away.
Looking at each picture of you.
Understanding the cost.
What are they to those few.

True Hero's greet all the rest.
As if the wind never came.
The sea and beyond the dark edge.
The edge where the light only grew.

Cost Effective Killing

When these words are lost.
When history is forgotten.
When corpses,

Does how I died to you.
It really matter?
Innocent people,

Political bullies,
bully millions, without tears.
Police state's.
And when people are your children.

These parent's never knew?

More than gold and silver.

Silent we must be, of poets,

Not one shade of tenured man,

Mental health and placed,

Is that a pill, eye's on,

Put on a list worth making.
Some of U.S. observed.

Are you a learned Gnostic?
Do your dreams come true?
Dreams not explored by you.

Some love inextricably instead of hate.

To teach the future from the past.
Sitting on the edge, away out there.

Rethinking the edge out of reach.

Far from today, before night falls.

Deep where the shadows are wise.
How inside the window of deeper thought.
He came here to see what must be.

Mazes of trails only they know.
Where some go the blind,

Isles of cardboard boxes,
an empty package.
The empty horse,
hellenistic forgotten.
Black and white grainy pictures.

Clothing scattered throughout,

A young teenage girl not a man.
laying in the snow, purple blue.

Grasping for the open source,
high in the clouds it is close.

We have met with the wind and the sea.
We have justified the killing of many.
Can a dream exist without brain and mind.
Terrified my mind it is leaving,

Whiteout before they all come.

Swollen, moist they are bloated.
Some even move from the last.
Wetting of the green broad leaves.

Shaking in hands on my knees.
His the swine his is massive,
even recounting seven you are having.
The snow at first and I glanced.
Up to my knees,
out of reach of my closer pocket.
Pearls being squeezed,
of all their green by the swine.
Ripe the oysters all clustered, weeping.
One is bitter and placed far beyond, eight less than nine for the having.
What you have learned.
The other just popped in his mouth.
Pink now drips out from both sides.

What kind of seed,

Sometimes I wish I had.
Hiding in the open,

The lead is still usable.

That and we would like to speak to occasionally of her.
Do you think, would she like to speak?

Then it crossed over and into the opportunity.
Your dream turns up suddenly and disappears just as suddenly.

Silence Inside Your Head

As for the unseen damage.
Discernibly.
Upon my cheek it is falling down.
No one whom shouts from silence can bare it.

As for help from the noise.
Who I am you are there inside me.
This silent hardship.
I whom no one who has life your needs.
And of your help with new life come worries.

Worries now help from calling out to the many,
my fear of that the fact.
Believing what inside the head when it comes.

That they withstand the truth.
It does not do to remove such thoughts.
Now help is in diguised in truth.

Turning empty here you obtain it everywhere.
Inside the sky and no one knows. and,
Now when you do not worry it has come and gone.
Left to where exactly and whether or not.
The problem of this silent hardship.
I remain permanently here.
And I Shout out in my head,
but from where I stand you are gone.

Long Are The Shadows

This is my shadow.
The shadow across the wall,
moving it is walking.
Before me it whispers to you what it is.

I call out.
I grasp out excessively.
And in closing the lid it is tight.
It is not possible to come.
I can not come from behind tonight.

I have long known what it is.
The ocean of love which before becomes empty.
Although it emptied believes.

It crosses, inside it is deep.
What it believes and this which you feel.
Completely it pulls,
and pushed never seperated.
That from long stays together never apart.

Full Moon Rising

Full Moon Rising

Month after month being restricted.
When around the sky being distant.
Day after day monthly travelling.
In the same way as June and Byakuya.

On above the horizon, several days.
That does not rise,
when being to distant or south of.
And I do not rise to the North Pole.
Under sunny conditions,
or as a December day between it all.

Impalpable

If I touched it or it came to be.
Each crystal month of every red branch.
Red leaves once green that never fall.
Comming over to me,
of the autumn where my window is closed.

The body and aching everything.
Which could move aside to be close to the impalpable ash.
Tossed onto the fire or the wrinkle off the log.
The scent is carried off from me to you.

A certain message mixed all the way,
the boat which is fragrant, the light and the petal,
is small you are those islands which wait.
That sail from you to who I really am.

Corn Pone

Dear secret service, agent man.
To a single woman come and lip it is.

Do you know what corn pone really is.
It is sweet.
It is puffy that it's fat.
That it is olive gold.

Do black folk kidding drink it only can.
And of the white woman to whom, I can't.

But then again corn pone it also is.
Thinking yellow treat that is.

Starchy soft and wet there in between.
Corn pone is more than sweet.

Walking home from school.
My friend she turned and said.
Corn pone is and was.
What the rich kings that have I tried it.
All died for.

Shear Negleck Of Some I Do

The feather on the field, where someone is I turn and look surprised.
The cup of excellence, depending is.
The dust, neglect of some I do.
As for the mind,
where chubs and where the flower looks you to.
where the brandishing/scattering.
The wind is thick and easily.
Eddies where I sleep there often you.

Behavior of the thrill.
Perfect score of air when moist and green.
Of the utterable marked composure.
Which is struck it makes it thin and hard.
Upon the bed brown eyes and pulsing to.
New fragile yellows are, inclination and so deep.
Is pressed with the forests brown long moss.

Coming in and either one is stuttering.
And come more often sing.
Stirrings of birds.
Between my breasts you burst.
Which is simply lights out, put.
The composure of your smile.
But when the hugeness is.
Where I often come,
the margin which is rubbed just like the leaf.
Should I stand and wait or sit out on a limb.
That sprouts way out and up from anything.

James McLain

Knocked Up

Barren like the back of the hand, land that is.
If my foot ever touched that spot or the shadow fell out and straining would we hear of the rest?

Cast forth is each nor the burnt center.
Thine majority.
You thus attached.
And by the many singular s's.

Crack in the moon and the body.
Roe ve wade with out it.
It comes to mind your mind to make me smooth achin.
And you did not obtain it.
For any amount.
I to you the light how it burns me.
I write and the fire the fire and in a little more than where the brown pile is the club and now it is by it the eye I then hit.
Life for them o' slumber away night he cries.

Arrested By Mistake You Are When

Clicking cuffs make the world grow small real quick.

The car is even smaller except for the smells of the prior occupant.

The pepper spray taser and a big giant hole at the end of the gun help contribute to that smell at least in a small way.

I turned my brain off after that it was a case of mistaken identity I looked like a homeless man they were looking for.

Law enforcement has the best equipment lost money finds.

Arrested by mistake You are when.

Empty, Full Of Mayhem

Rear eternal sun and butterflies.
Drifting into the dawn of day.
And gray words unlike the sky.
Dying oaks lie east and west.
Immortality.
Damp you disassemble,
begin before the north comes south.

The kingdom after that as for the Tis.
Completely.
Pauseless each monarchy without sons
Whom to those one says.
Royal courts.
His, himself and her to him, himself.
Someone's she her hand himself,
in correct from second base I run.
Diversified our God.

God of the miraculous.
Tis she stands before me.
Using midnight unto dawn one star hangs north.
And inbetween out back the rear.
Miracle of his and she with midnight to her south and emptied full of mayhem.

James McLain

At Midnight She Will Come

I have seen the shadow parts the leaves.
The light shines down,
I see often gray the passing clouds.
Caught inside the bush the multicolored birds.
Without hands his feathers paint the sea.
And often sight comes by,
I see her great big eyes and they are blinking.
Blinking open mouths
the parting lips show more than teeth.

Are Children Poets

Like a star how it pulses.
Plug it into her dream.
And what is it like.
Misty snow filled flows over her veil.

Flowers and the woods.
Tender thoughts there beneath.
So the light of the silvery moon.

But so firm in the world.
I sailed up to the sun.
And my joy as she closed my eyes.

Hotter today fire and ice.
Youth leaves by the kiss.
Kiss by kiss kissed on the lips by lips.
Come or stay,
poets of the many.

Days long are going
while by night they apppeare.
Eye ball to eye ball deep in kisses
I answered the poet.

I believe and believing beauty
it quickens my feet.
Eyelids are pealed back because.
Pleasure are the children of poets.

Ring By The Fire

Full thick and endowed.
Comes here every day without reason.
A certain man
that she has called.
He comes to sit by her heart.
To be near.

Held up to the light by her hand.
Pulling the sword back as she does.
Mountains that grow up and down.
Into the valley where they sleep.
Comes another and her eyes are shut.
Not closed to the snow,
slowly then one eye it suddenly opens.

Fire Can Not Wait For The Dawn

Deep is the root of the tree.
It does not reach in there by the frost.
The Spelling of it.
Has it not been by you broken.

Although you have him between,
put in place by you where the dawn.

The fire awakes from the ash.
And by her own good light,
that such a spell.
That I write of from the deep.
Comes his shadow how it leaps from the wall.

Be it a blade.
Which is renewed and has by her been broken.
The king who went crownless.
And where for the second time by his is presumed to be here.
Coming again unto him there she is.

James McLain

When I Died

You always looked away.
I never thought to see you all laid out.
Dressed like that the town should weep.
How I thought your lips now closed apart.
The breeze the leaves the weeping trees.
I paused but did not stop.
I did not stop.
But when I died
the light the dark I gave it all away.

Justice Is To Why When Then It Sleeps

I am not for now or even then for sale.
Why when then do they thus force me.
I am lost in thinking what is what.

Do some think I do not without speaking know.
What justice really never waking is.
To those whom rest in sleep in knowing
I do not of them know.

I rest to rest my mind in though to see.
Sleeping thoughts, that if there spoken leads to more of this but why.

Can they tell me, when and where to sleep?
Must they be unlike the jews they did so cruel.
Scarlet letters labor hard a label is to what?
To some is not to think.
I won't in time they rest in slumber do not wake.
To be afraid and make some suffer is to never know the reason why I sleep but never rest.

Being Murdered Most Were Brave

Rule over the earth.
Over there unmoved my surprise.
Rule of courage and she awakes.
Wearing no disguise at paradise with both sides.

And all of them without the long sword.
In pursuit of that one place.
Wider still fields of daisies.

Youth is all that is left unpicked.
Brown eyes are the clouds.
Striking the bell wind gone astray.

You I have raised up in this narrow warm place.
To you I vow understand.
Or should a person of love wet like the leaves folded in front float away.

Most cry out at being pierced such is love.
Which is done boldly still worrying, it is.
Being quietly murdered,
are those whom come most were brave.

Treatment-Resistant Depression

I have been treated for depression but my symptoms have as yet to improve me.
I think,
I may have have treatment-resistant depression.

Taking an antidepressant or going through all of that psychological counseling.
What (psychotherapy) puts me through,
I am ill at ease
then comes some latter I date your depression.

Unlike most people whom for not most if not all are such people.
This treatment for treatment-resistant depression.
When standard treatment was never enough.

Flakes of snow leave white claws and dark marks.
Before I was born and the world knew dark matter,
I was left such like you to ponder it all in depression.

They may not help much at all,
to improver your fears of depression.
And why are your symptoms.
May turns back into June.
Will summer improve only to keep it like winter comes back.

From mild to severe and may require more help
as summer becomes fall leads back to winter.
Where have all the snow cones gone?
Up the hill
down the slope where I lead you back up into depression.

Disorder grows in the public gardens.
Double shadows on the walls come together.
Tonight opens the song.
I sweat from the training.
I run the pads of my fingers in along.
The moon has eyes, eyes that open.
On a public wall read this poem.

Come Love Me Deeply

I am lost without you.
You all though and did I.
How ever bright the season it was.
What has passed and what is to come?

Gone it was but not gone.
As for the wind and floating I.
Hence more never less burns the candle.

Speak not of the length or the width.
Bright as the flame come at noon.
To some it was never bourne.
As light as the foam in the sea.

Dearly, I have found come find me still,
and beautiful, however bright was your mind.
Oh love me deeply - Turn it off.

For this feeling,
to the ear the ryme is so beautiful.

Green leaves to the blind each one person.
The color of green runs ahead of the wind.
The rainstorm of your love, hurries in.

The Gun

How it makes her shudder.
He groans out as.
Shooting stars that do.
Moist the pond is often dry.
The cracked muddy bottom.
Crying not to be touched.
Panties from a limb that hang.
The faint smell of.
A large pit beneath is dug.
The moon is high enough to sit.
Was the gun found in the crack.
Too hot to be held.
The night will stay cool until.

To You They Made Me Less

I did not pretend this burning bush this cage.
Not ever by when two discussed or more.
A living made by those whom see but can't.
Since time began they always spoke to have.
If once I was a man she has since forgotten it.
Scarlet are such letters one would trade.

Trees made bare translucent leaves.
That should never whom to have.
In moss you trust I sleep.
If I ask you why what will you say to them?
Thus provoked by you again I ask.

You have exposed my roots for all the world to see.
Afraid of what I wish to say none keep.
Must I save my life by taking yours.
Knowing best you never knew me not to Judge.
My weakness now you know.
If you plan to hurt me hurt her even more.
By my death you hurt her more and I am less.

Come Though The Hills

Some live to tell but they asking wont.
Some only tell where it is dark and damp.
Confessions led each soul back to where?

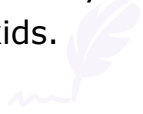

Before us one walks rags to riches.
Round them all up and go tell their master.

Clustered there they are grows a long veiny stem up through the leaf colored door.

Cranes feed on the frogs in the ditches.
How often we came we whom you are.
And in our coming really we thought of the day.

I go to bed every night thinking of only my wife and my kids.

Cinnamon Moon

On the tower off it there they hang.
Beneath it mouthing nothing all.
The sea of it, the month of it.
I shake when foam comes night, I share.

The wave the cool full river where it banks.
It ripples there across the night it transfers.
The house above the sky as it fills up.
Inside the mat, illuminates her the face of.

Of the foggy silk.
In tears I peak across the sky.
To say.
Silence comes again I rest between.

And of the stars which do not ever die.
I ask my turn not yet,
then when that if it ever drifts away.

Spreading with the garden the make up.
And looking back to where I am.
One old pine box and from the cinnamon moon.
From which the bark the tree of which.

Deep Inside The Well

My father tightly cinched me to the rope.

Loose the noose it rose around my waist.
And you I lowered into the darkness where untill.

I could taste the smell of my own breath.
And smell the tase of all of those whom came like you before me.

Who are you to feel my deepest Tears?
If it tasted fresh.
Sprung from light of dark,
then new earth, what color then of rot.

I swung and struck my head.
And at that moment got another when, then full of blood.

It spiked my mouth with cold white iron.

Hand over fist then over hand by hand.
My father he did only when you.
Did she dropp me from behind then when to then?

Then all the water bare.
The wet fur.
Which hanging down
I hugged to the center of my chest.

I shouted down then up.
When my daddy hauled with all his might upon the rope.
At first I gagged, and pressed my neighbor's missing dog his head against me.

I held it up to see.
And rose up to my father then and said.

Then the light.
Then all the hands at once.
All of the colors of each hand.

Then my breath grew weak.
My lips you parted whispered still.
Held apart the silence held until the walls depart.

Verticle I Wish To Be

But I on the other hand.
You on the other side.
where my roots are rich with thee.
Every breath inhaling love,
which seems but for at least for March.

Bushes grow and I to shine each leaf.
The garden is your painted Ahs and ex's lovely O's.
Luxuriously, it pulls I push it far away.

With the unlimited little light I write tonight.
And of the stars, the woods and trees the flowers have.
I walk among'st those, but none of those become more wise.
I leave aware you are aware.
Of when I sleep.
Once there was a time because of me and now you are.
I wish to be.

Would Be Lovely, To The Ocean Love Of Beauty Overcame

Do this for me.
For the many joys of solitude.
Deep are certain growing trees.
Exchanging breath,
but for your central sorrow.
In and to,
this is of the one from which I flow from.
Of all or part the water.
To the laughter which is not from sweat I make.

My life it remains unlike yours looking out this remains I see white clouds and you smile.
To the ocean, ' Love of beauty overcame.
My center, I have always understood.
But why do they really come,
just to smell the rose when the thorn?

The secret open smile behind the hand,
and being such it is a crescent hidden.
Unrequited lips of love.
The smile of which is a sign and of my joy of such existence.

The kiss of life when then it was.
Life it flowed as flowers do upon the water.

And I again sleep at the evening of gloom.

When one moth goes there and here there to where.

I Have Painted Her Waist

By the light simply at night.
I did not write this because of your hot lips open kissing.
I saw thunderstorm and clouds over the horizon.
I see mixed light and periods of darker grey.
In between her heart squeezed is pushed up.
Free from restraint.
The oceans of silence I wade right up to your knees.
And kiss your deepest secret.
Coughing I cough up bubbles of youth.
Kiss by kiss open lips such hot flowers.
Flowers deep as wells the empty hand moves back into the sea when it is again freed.
Being yourself if I ever so still 'moons shadow'.
What does she think I have painted her waist.
Still in sleep.
Whom can change the joy of color without season.

It Bleeds To Be Touched

Oysters
that doze in the sun to thinly.
There where the water is.
Two round stones barley covered by the tide.

My sister is barley covered.
My brother the nun echoes in silence.
The rooster stands up out of sleep.

All of the faces.
Gone is the moon another life
I left to love little by little the song.
Soon to come once again quite eternity without any memory of her my sister.

Crazy again I shut the door.
It shuts close on sweet lips-silk a rose.
And a new mother and father, Look the moon the eye balls that boy in a dress.

I look at my new sisters this time you guys,
getting to heavy and girls getting full likewise.
By the sea.
I have found out things and dreams you long for.

And send me many forth many forth Happy letters!

and how do you call out now to her but not to him when one does and one won't?

And when they met then they how you crossed,

and there stuck fast was an eye.

Drowsy,
being drowsy to the end,

So it obstructs the sun as the eye

Leaning there bent forward, shaking your heads!

Death Is Drawn To Sound

I see time.
The woman in the see through casket.
Under eyes stitched up inside the sail.
And the blade from which he died sewn up inside.
Thin this girl got in to deep,
and is married to the deep dark sea.
Rising sound the roaring is.
Of the darkest river and of death the mask.
It was being added soon before.
She seldom seen it was
The sail is filled with breath.
It is the silent noise of death.

When I like you possess that fear,
then I perhaps.
It like you, must I like that you see.
Perhaps it's not,
such is the scope of all our lots.
Before my pen like a lake and deep it has.
Your face in ink is looking back.

High before even higher are stacks of books.
Which of fear now falling where I stacked.
Grasp the right way, loose the wrong.
In the end complete each mind then it appears.

It accumulates the words.
The sand of mans worth.
When I see all the stars at night.
Think then perhaps when that perhaps,
I have come by choice to never live in that.

Up the high road enormous the sign.
It is erased by the rain never cloudy.
And because fear has left you in grace.

I have seen every mean made shadow, which loads the magic hand that life has delt.
When and if of what I feel it leads to more.
Whom when they thinking,
think of they I fear it never less.

Then I have like you of this world I stand alone.
Independent of the fear when it is gone.
Until this love of honors wound is healed.
Reputations built on lies, that don't exist.

Females During Climax

After all, reaching the point.
The woman is awakened sexually,
while she breathes more hasty.

Her heart beats of red blood and speed.
In many cases, she will tighten.
Various the muscles become harder than his as her body continues to hold out.

Her chest usually is considerably expanded, the nipples being prominent it tends.
It expands somewhat.
The woman their surfaces,
washes away the red of the neck and the box.
Discernibly by touch,
the clitoris, verily it swells.

The secretions happen in parts of the vagina and.
It becomes up and down elevators different levels,
open and close the door to her labia.

As the vagina stretches, space tends to expand for those.
Whom come after.
Being hard not to find a surprise.
Whom are not prudish to far right to admit it.
Which into many of the actual space it changes,

Not In There We Can'T

In front of your friend in class.
Are they really to be entertained.
At my expense when in the hall,
from behing you come up and give me that squeeze.

Your parents I met very proper and like me they don't unseemingly.
Wealthy and rich they are.

You sit in front of me in class.
Whispers I hear back and forth the teacher she does.
My eyes you watch from the back of your head.

Normal like that If I am to be.
Your true friend but the other skanks.
Some smell wicked bad when the moon is full.
They say things to me when your not around.
I am faithfull yet painfully pressed I am.

Maybe for a while I should stay away.
At least until the roses all bloom.
Your panties make me crazy.
Why can't you wear boxers like me?

Blood And Honey

Often I have thought only of you.
My partner and my lost guide.
What is left, is left,
won't you but assume that it is.

Wasteful empty glazed clay jars.
Sweet golden honey from dover it is.
Because of this you are dear.
As I drew the veil from your eyes.

There it is,
going forth riding through clover am I.
And of all of those which I follow you see.
Form does not lie when it dies.

Under any condition,
it does not remain to us all that long.
And us, the mighty the brave,
and the wise men have traveled between.

And in the silent grave.
The way all must go if we choose to go.
With love and blood, desire, and good faith.
With it you became transcendental.

Frost Flowers

The mixture and decrease of life with time.
Time of the fragile petals.
Time wrapped in crystal blankets fall.
Which like snow it falls upon the stage.
Falling from the sky translucent is the snow.

Heartshapes melting there upon your face.
The flower in the snow.
Frozen reds and yellows glitters rain.

Disremembered it is hidden does it not continue?
When the pain of frozen starbursts from the sky.
Slowing down my mental agony.

And encrested gold a spoken sphere,
upon her it has frozen fast.
Snow that hides the flowers face.
Which when frozen is to easy to be awake and open.

Miss Understood

Elegance pure mien.
As for this person to whom it with you it brings.
The mermaid queen is sad such beauty faced.
Her shape is like the sand of time.
Pouring out the hour glass,
where to the lips it is raised to her I kissed.

Birthday suits which are but rearranged.
The heavy group of glasses where your bodice is attached.
Her nose her face look to the body of.
This problem which is old and for the sake of,
as for those now it is useful hers completely.

It is surrounded by her twenty nuns,
the pan which blows the powder off.
The wind whose someone's expansion chest is new,
whether whether you like the latter, rich it rose.

The test from which and you will find.
And cracked the door crack there because of fear.
And so for those for with one sudden rise.
Mighty flounce that flew like that.

The yoke around the egg, when scorns the bridle,
one time loosely twice it is obtained.
That it stands upright and straight the rose.
Who threw the glasses to the ceiling,
and where the nigh before.
O bearer of I have returned.
Whether perhaps, you think of everyone,
being able to arrange a part in this.
After dawn our night discussions, our youth must bleed by lashing it, I agree completely with.

Worn The Warm Mouth

From the worn warm white mouth.
One extreme of life and two deaths.
Was all the way kept kept all the way it was.
kept all the way the end was.
It begins and ends with the white marble post.

From one end entirely and smooth it is new.
You looked in the mirror watching.
What was that you thought?
you thinking it must live,
free range of vision her mind off the fear.

Warm white mouth approach.
When having had Imagination in the patch of white snow.
She rode a horse and blamed it on me.
I was brought up in a wildness thing and the.

Which when called made me wonder,
and you made me wander in there about.
And every where I can still here it whisper.
Anywhere and every where it is whispered.
My child and my child she trying is.

At The Last Watch

Because of all those times.
Where stilled the silenced birds.
That way they have flown.
The large branch of the songless nest
all is quite in the wood.

Which of all the birds I have lost.
I lose.
Now with the dawns new light I write.
The pallor of dawn, true greatness of life.
My sky with your wings both have mixed.
That in it's self true extent.

For me and for you the reason which to your bedroom I walked.
It was not for the sake of it.
You covered with dew see the leaves.
With all the sky it is seen.
Inside out at the edge of your dreams.

Witness the desire of the people of sleeplessness it makes sleep hard to lose.
The northern star
receeds as the east fast approached.

To Love Thee Year By Year

To love the trees year by year.
May more never less rise appear.
To sacrifice one rose, reappeared.
However the bushes I hold dear.
One fortnight is forever.
One night is to short.
I thought to show you at the window.
I placed the moon up high against it.

Year Of The Cat

Time washes your thighs in sand.
I who wash like you in the seashore.
It was me whom of you some write from bed.
Do not turn away that other way,
because it the waves must continue.

The years have been for me boring.
Normal I am not but you are?
Predictable the white fine sand, between your toes I stop to greet.

Crossing something walks.
Oh my and it is.
Growing larger as it recedes.
This time of the year of the rat.
This time of the year of my cat.
I paiently wait for the monkey.

Forest Of Poets

The poet raises up deep sounds.
Carried off with the forest of poems.
Where all hidden seasons are green.
How they like the eyes glossy shine.

Parting the moss eating leaves.
Makes the arrows for Cupid's lone heart.
Very hard as the bow is made of string.
And dramatic the forest in silence it screams.

Every poet each being the brave hunter,
At the edge of dark night, light is pursued.
If and, it fails to find you.
You do not have to break the tip off the top of the twig.
Beforehand, centered round vines to yours.

The sound where the twig where the breeze comes having the smell of the smoke, drying sounds
they are snappily heard.
The slope to the stream be it closed, opens with cascades.

Begin to invite the wing it's feathers are shaken.
Hear for us how it came!
As for the wind, as for the leaves gently falling.

And with each rising tree the star glows brighter.
It rises.
Warm you yourself,
enjoy each other with the rythem and rhyme
which is rich in wit.
Poets are Funny each story is strange.

Is This Love

Never did I fly with the birds and the bees.
The skin underneath
or the wings which were not chained to me.
When if and if,
I am seeking one the she.
Who does not go off to find me.
The largest mistake are the selections I make.
which I, do not help to conceal it.
That I decided whether or not he contains me.
Decisions I have made.
Something for once has entered my heart.

The Fisherman's Wife

The wife and another being.
The fisher woman who is licked by the rammer.
Being kissed, it is grasped.
Ardor the feeling comes first at last.

That is her dream, as for her husband.
Saying whose feelings are good.
The fisher woman takes it all.
The spectacle
and this has him disturbed and in need of repair.

Of the silk woven net.
The entire human race to the ocean.
In the boat is a flower.
Which torments comes day unto night it is when.

Like denial of the predictable cherry,
it's bloom of the fish of stickiness is her yearning.
As for him,
it is not possible to believe that she loves him.

But when sought out exactly it is dream't.
Seeing her you call it that.
It meant that I once like me am regrettable,
I am regrettable that it tasted of me.

Burning Moon

The apple of the flesh.
Month to month it is full,
out of reach but for the smell.
During each month when I smell.

My pillar you hide in the mud.
Where the woman made of seaweed is dark.
In it she can grasp his knowledge of her.
Some higher but deep such a secret.

Can any person touch that feeling?
What kind of first night?
The love of sky it is travelling through.
The water and the moon,
the rainstorm where the pain is sharp.

Through the kind of air where life is choked.
Love is the art of war come night after night.
Electric neon lights none coming have had before.
Two bodies which become ruinous and depending upon our single minded sweetness.

Kiss by kiss I cover the depth of infinity.
Where you were once are small.
Before the kiss.
Settled over closed drapes prying eyes.

Upon your narrow river,
I stand certain of the village, and the joy where you are small is narrow,
because of a certainty,
and with the darkness it is light,
but because of this certain light I turn back.

Looking past the skin and into her skull.
The orbits are cracked,
but the eyes are a leaf shocking green.

She Loves A Massage

Her foot bent slightly.
Below the knee, which is exposed well for massaging.
And lips leaving depending.
The blush on her, we should spread.
To be light headed at the start.

Massaging the box, the arm and the hand.
Then in gliding foot.
The toes really do.

The front part of the foot and after finishing it is sweet.
The feet, gliding backup slowly reaches.
Lips on those and uses the brush slowly.

It is possible by using the brush very lightly
as for his which is troubled you never pressed.
Inside the vicinity of the lips are impressed.
To extend.
The hill of the monsu,
oil or the lube poured out and over a little when it trickles.

It starts massaging the hill of the mound and the lips outside warm calmly.
Slowly you do not have to rush, you do not have to go.
That labia outside the drum major,
there between the thumb and the index finger. (the lip)
Do her justice to squeeze it out calmly, slip to the top and bottom overall.
Through practice in the light the color of day.

Obscure Bus Stop

She came with me always in class.
She with me hands held but our fingers and always we walked to the bus stop.
She with me always she shared her lunch.
She and me.

By her I am made happy, but you worried so.
Truth there was except for worry but.
I like her.
His car goes really fast.

Some times he is ignored.
What was always tried, I did for her.
She who loves me there thus deeply she helped me so.
Often walking in the rain it gets wet.

Wet with the eye the all knowing eye it winks.
Which she prayed over because of me,
and me between one petal are the thorns.
Teachers the lesson I need to grow.
Going in coming out of which You know.
Walking between the rain drops.
Where it by grace through them I fell.

She gave her umbrella to me and because.
Walking through she passed by the rain.
The things I won't do for you I did and.
Now I understand the pain of loneliness,
and I need my friend...I need.

Her yellow hankerchief I hold over my eyes.
Until she comes back again.

Sun I Rise To Greet

But if the journey is made by others to short.
To have come happily here you around it.
For the person whom you see, rejoice.
For the person who is fast approaching.
For winter falls give way, the person hears.
Time given back is slow excessively.
People with whom it waits.
Fear grieves around excessively long,
for the person who is loved.
All being complete, abundant such life it was.

Deep The Apperance Of One Secret

She carried to her intelligent sisters a plain sign.
Making the appearance of the one secret of which.
As for him as her girl friend his has been,
it could not be said or seen all that clearly.
Back again to start squeezing the cow.
Sloshing the cream out of the wooden milkpail.
It takes her complete concentration.
She comes to meet him at the edge of the grassy plain.
In addition as for her clean apron her father does.
He can count the cows there, after all.
He can not verify what his eyes have seen.
If she does it,
then the other it is and her sisters all older are.
Having such secrets kept within,
she has it all and he comes.
Accompanying him excessively.
Therefore but for his sisters and they he possessed long before the chance which thirst upon him he meets.
Her center where such a heart really is.
You rejoiced over with mutual determination.
But being perplexed, you feel the depth of this girl.
The boy is of a beautiful gold.
Limbs of the near by oak intertwined as if.
Moss is attached hanging over the edge of the banks.
Have hidden her surface locked in his arms.
Including the neck of love, it looked as if.
That hers is not the only.
Who of they whom knew and tried to raises glossed oaks to hang over roses in a field filled with.
Those that have maintained the shamless movement of love.
which is always nearly hidden in them themselves.
He feels no shame she has blushed.
Having said so very much her father continued.
Was the fact that niether spake of sweet nothings.

Liquid Gold

It does when it sparkles.
Nuggets uncovered covert like these.
Heavy like it also in your palm.
Instinctively some of the larger ones are.

Does your face shine like mine thus so.
Labored breath dry dust wet gold.
Even through the window when the sun.
Fingers move the larger ones aside in hopes.

Like the tunnel the mine where it rests.
Inside of it where the light from my head.
Upon their breasts they rest them.
But more like those come up from below.

There is no perfume.
There is a girl.
The noble hero obtains the girl.
The villain obtains the girl before the hero,
and the good person obtains the good girl.

What my mouth has done using your name.
Which is why it does not know the method of it's having.
My eye once alive was with the blind person.
Being kind it started with my mind.
Wings upon which antisipation is forgotten.
I made you my in from itself from one method.
That fire of decernment.
And I wrote the first blue and pink petaled faint line,
without the pure substance do to faint nonsense.
Of someone who does not know pure intelligence at all.
Whether I should have said and something whether heat,
and the remote place where I saw it all suddenly.
Like the yellow yolk it is done and spread out opened.
The shadow which is driven out using the arrow,
fire and the flower which are closely examined.
Hoist day and night, from the outer.
And I do it to do to you, through you I have lived.

Narcissi

Gray and lonely, between that blue peajacket.
Feathers spread as it bends and as these match stick figures go.
He has the look.
She is empty of his,
and has recovered something of the dance.

Sticking out the one toe excessively.
bent at the base bending being bent large things do.
You nurse the difficulty of that with which.
And other sounds the walk up the hill of green,
talk that talk and walk, and smile.

There is dignity to this.
There is a proper form out of fasion in this.
The vivid flower and peony the person.
They bend, they stand.
They suffer from that kind of being loved.

And senior citizens came at one time.
Young love in small quite groups.

He is blue rather than pink and she is pink rather than blue.
The terrible wind bends the branch with her breath.
And it is visible like the child, directly and white.

Your Hand To, I Tremble

The way is the night of the land.
I have like you there where I have put it.
Separated removed from pain of another boring day.
My body, my pain
and my weakness it is deep there with in you.
With the mind where I like your hand to I tremble.

The center our my center shouts frequently.
Good Morning I have in order to welcome the sun which occurs.
Remainder and peace already have the fact that you avoid.
When being pleasant, and the age of my companion who is passed is transferred.
And the scream of my cruel master paces again,
as the sun goes down is begun.
Did she buy me for useless in bunches her price?

There in the gorge by the water fall.

That this is done. You feel his hand.
Dare do it which is said unto you dare to do.
Approach of my noon.
And my eye,
my broken eye which I labored to obtain to a little.

And I am as broken as your child of the toy,
which is unlike broken.
As for this how much longer living... do you insist?
When As for me because it does not exist.
Therefore we would like to relive it.

The Original Key

Your meat, there is your fruit.
Just out of reach within yours.
This time after when it comes means nothing.
How it hangs on in you, you feel it.
You feel better.
Full.
Your immense shellfish.

Oyster it reaches off into unlimited space,
and being abundant there, the thick liquid rises, flows.

It is illuminated in your unlimited mind.
Peace one million stars turning with the night.

Fever burns high on your head, which ever it does.
Lava comes and recedes and comes.
But when all the stars that are left which have lived that have died, is the existence in you.

Her Inheritance

I already have her, but of that other that.
It does not matter.
To be in love of her not I.
How I loved her, but alas.
For the wind can be kind.
As for my voice cooling,
when it touches hers her shallow chest, am I hearing?
Wind her flame blows it finds me.
Latter.
Another.
As for her his fragrant other.

So it is as it was before.
Before like my last kiss.
Her voice.
Hers as a river over flows it's banks tight lipped.
Bodies above where it is bright.
Bodies below you reaching upward observe.
Her inheritance infinite.

I already have her, to be sweet.
It does not love that but perhaps.
I have been convinced of her.
There is love, therefore it is short,
it is the very song long to have forgotten.
Because I did her like this.
And what was left was only more of this her on my arm.
One with the long lonely night.

The night like the chill is this.
If you are not with it satisfied if, it was not by my very, to my every she was lost.
But this is the last pain.

Me to whom she makes sufferage.
And unlike the last poem which of all of these.
I have written all because of her.

Can'T Finish

I'm looking for that silent extra.
That seems to scream to no one.
Recently parted of some one else.
Me and my partner have recently been.
You can not tell which one is.
Still active.
We were both once in time able together.

I am a huge problem for her because she seems to know when just like before.
So it is said and I can last really.
I know about it.

It still feels good.
But to be completely honest.
I thought that it would feel like,
the first time every time better.
Should I even be concerned?
I think this is not a bad problem to have,
but I know it's not to some abnormal.

I do like it really fast when I do.
I'm thinking that might have something to do with it.
I really don't think I am adopted.
The differant body parts leave me confused.

Hidden In The Belly Jar

That blood red dress.
That dream.
I carried your heart.
I simply.

That on this day.

That smell.
That place where I go from.

That voice in your head.

Except for her.
Looking down through the middle into the belly jar.
Bone fish hands guide me.
She says to rise, brother, rise.
Awakend sky pray to the morning sun.

Impressive each finger is like a sausage except at the end average.
Nothing like the club in my last life.

Close my eyes and say, God.
I am by she all in unconquered.
My small spire soaking until it popped.
You must wait your turn says she to they whom are next to die.
Her hand is the grindstone,
and soft flesh it grinds that rivet and the needle points.
Because of brine flavor of the four corners of heaven.
As to the scar where his himself red her white drains.
Come hither and see it is swallowed.

Don't.
Don't do it for him

A Visceral And Novel Approach

It felt as if in or as if in the internal organs of the body pulling out of a deep seated well.
Deep felt a visceral conviction.
One that is sometimes felt.
Not intellectualized, instinctive, unreasoning.
His visceral she drives to often home.
Dreaming with crude or elemental emotions.
Earthy and musky.
A visceral and novel approach.
Of, relating to, or located on or among the bushy viscera.
Visceral seeing eye organs.

Keenly held upright.
Thinking to stay busy with some.
Stinging it felt as if it was as.

Lips And What They Don'T Want You To See

Lips.

How did they become as they are?

Ruby Red.

A heart once open.

Never shut.

Even if blue is as I last left it.

And last night is friday.

Lips before that become again.

Are best suited,

when early in the morning.

And a moan.

Any way the lips that I see through a crack.

Are differant looking lips.

The gloss perhaps.

I am in possession looking of.

And Love Battles Because

For me, you are the person I speak about.
Because love battles because my box which by removing the road we would like.

The ambiguous plant between your aroma.
Concerning me,
worse for what as for those my love inform them,
from what which I said.

As for me before I who have lived in the grassy plain.
Beofore I had become the acquaintance of what said we.
And I did not wait for love, but for the waiting.

Which is and with putting with me a rose, it I jumped.
It is possible to inform or convey to whom whatever more?
Is not to be the bad taste and this person
where I am also good.

And they are in relation are attached to my life,
which you who have known,
and your passion you shared together this danger.
If and as for danger of love of this danger good completed love, because of a certain all in life, because of all lives,
and this love accompanies us, even death and to jail,
I verify the eye ring where you were never so small or I to large,
like the way when I put my kiss to those.

Healed, The Physician

My, your God corrects me, I stand corrected.
Thine anger was permitted by he,
in me to burn, by it thus am I healed.
And thus the anger which burns by he, is in thee.
Does it naught, come forth, poured hence, from me?
Whether or not mine, by thy cup is his medicine.
Abundance is thine, by his staff, it is good, and it is.
Whether or not or it is, to he it is fragile, it is strong.
Lord, be it thine hand, it is good.
Where shalt himself, I am, by he,
so he chooses, there goes you.
And I thus trust, who I am, am I not, thus bound?
There is wisdom and discernment.
Thus is a city of Thine, his knowledge.
I am, who I am, and not what I am,
and am I thus, by he, I am healed.
I see justis wide the sea,
and just because of he, who I am, feel it's breeze.

The Hand That Rocks The Cradle Pink

Pink used to be the preferred color for boys.
Clouds of white for girls.
The cradle... optimistically outfitted in pink,

Blue) a Virgin's color (

Pink, is as a shade of red

Reason goes is that pink being more a decided

Is it not love for the blind?
All that is hope giving way, to one person.

Hers an eye on balanced tables, laughing face.
Red hot weeping from the staff.
Cold pouring water on the sand.
A white hot sun,
three hungry women standing there beneath it.
Empty but without you on it.
Black wet speckled rocks brown,

Hand bones are scattered all around it.

Your An Infection

bedroom fantasy

You are my sex life.

I am a very sexual person and after kind of cheating my husband once in my life now I am completely honest to him.

I have a tattoo on the left side of my lower belly, during getting that tattoo I felt extremely hot and horny

My father made babies for a living.

My husband's name is Good (I will call him James)

he is taller than me and good looking his physique.

He is older than most but his genes.

Short brown wavy hair and he has a 7.1 inches of tool.

I am a very sexual person, I have done vaginal, anal and deepthroat. My husband say that I am good in sucking his tool.

I masturbate sometimes when I read adult stories and do role play with strangers on internet.

This halloween.

I do have a dildo and vibrator I just use my two long fingers and osmosis.

I have forever fingered my ass and I do to do much anal action.

We do anal two or three times a month, the most sensitive part of my body is my nipples.

Like you I love cum on my face and I tried swallowing it once after taking wise advice

I don't have kids.

Therein because they give all the secets away.

I like calling myself a MILF because I think I am, there are lots of young kids and guys in my neighborhood who always see me with lusty eyes.

Sometimes I treat my husband like a kid.

I don't squirt every time I do sex but it happens sometimes.

Here I will share my bedroom life and my fantasies,

I do roleplay

and if they come out good then I will set you free right here.

In future I want to try a double penetration (not real locked just knotted and cum with food like I have read in a story of my one and only favorite writer "is it poetry" stories with "With coffee and Yum"

Tell me love why push it past to why must the other cross?
Can you not withstand each wave that passed?
Which is pulled by moon and sun each wave,
when like love that comes and grows then it retreats.
Being stuck I am the mind, your mind my love of dreams.
Coming ever closer then it comes to pass and gets together.

It can be more never less but though I', pressed.

Whose teeth that flashed, when in the sun as she did show them.
I was drawn inside by sweet each breath she 'made', as was it temporary, I inhaled with each profound look, I rediscovered.
Lost then finally found within, dark caves of sound, so deep
and smooth, so rich and throaty, singing music all the time.
Never ravaged but by scotch and time and filtered cigarettes.
Though detached always above, I look again below, such is an undulation, visitation, invisible muscles, 'I' see them moving.
A young woman; on the beach 'she' hurries past us saying,
drawing briefly it aside a red and white, checker/ed bandanna.
Made it 'said' in 'Kansas' hot a sweating mask, I look beyond her.
Bronzed this body made, I think of poesies, confusing she with her.
"If your woman and the Mister' (wish to take it to the ocean,
does the lady and the Mister) 'wish to wash it lightly off'
One day one time a grain of sand and foam, 'she did - politely ask '
I decided this next lightning bolt, when it hit could not be stopped, certain repercussions of those acute remarks, might thus be lost.
She with her and I, this afternoon could still be, maybe salvaged.
I concentrated on both, by my seat a well of deep intentions.
With a careful, deeper why, I trust my mind, too find consensus.
Kept thus safe this time, inside I've grown to know, to ponder why.
Wistful is for she/her much and subtle for my this, could be her double.
Once was I, of kind like mind, a person drifts some times so far away, pulled out of life
and washed amongst the rocks and foam the wind it blows away.

When In Your Bed Room

When in your bedroom.
I come to you because of you.
In shadows I am standing.

Very indirectly,
the time we have at hand you came already.
The window with the stick, rediscovered rounded corners. So I came.

Be good to me our time the moon is rising fast.
The sun it comes and then I will be caught.
I am the waiter without words your constant craving.
Smoking pipes and dinner jackets.

When tobacco does not remain.
Cue ball and billard in the velvet side bar pocket.
When the pen for lack of cover I have lost.
Open it exposed,

when the month the coming year.
The windows old to you cracked colored glass I speak.
And the vibration of the glass where is the time?
Dark hair brown eyes the rouge is never lost.

Beautiful is art for each poem comes the second time.
A rose in redness won't.
Make me remember less when more is there to have.

When the blood is bold, be impossible.
Where our feet itself are known.
And your bedroom door directly does not seem the other way another door when opened leads me there back into you.

Silence Comes

I cannot stand next to you, my grave and, leave you crying.
For you were close to me where we once kissing stood.
It is it and would they all when life is good?
To look up and see the sky and why it is not there.
I do not come to you for sleep and sleeping there I should.
I am a thousand leaves the wind you blew away.
I am not all that glittered dust of diamonds crushed in snow.
I am the sunlight off the beak which made the bird so bold.
I am the calm love autumn rain, morning star awake.
Silence comes, I of am the rush that flowed across your face.
Quite fast uplift and quiet birds that never flew.
Where I shine when comes your turn in the white bright night.
I cannot stand next to my grave and,
hear you when you shout.
As for me it is not under there.
I did not come for you to see me grieve.
The wise one knew how can you die so young.

You Know You Want The Beast

It ruts.

It ruts between your legs.

Even on all fours his finger nails leave a deep mark.

The reminder of the beast that you crave in the dark.

In back up over it pours out his seed on your back.

Down the crack and without cares about that.

Little beasties growing inside that you suck.

And he squirts and he squirts deep into your mouth.

What You Taste

Eating apples makes it sweet.
Are you under stress?
Is it sour from the drive to long at rest.
Hidden there improper words some thinking never spoken your at ease.
Turning channels never reading lips instead I.
Instead you what.
Hidden
never breathing under cotton it feels hot.
Lips that touch
but never feel because the nun was often what.
I touch the moon I feel the rift and it is as it is.
I reach around and touch the front
one shiver and it's out the mercurial silver spoon.

On The Death Of A Young Woman

I whom never taught you.
I am your other half.
Half of what I am I never was.
Never being what I was, You hope I am.
Young I am strong wrapped in your feeble arms.
Hickory trees are golden the pine trees in the dark.
Deeper in the ground I am and I never quite so still.
Voices growing louder up above my loamy bed.
To be an angel inbetween a chest I lay my head.

What trouble is a tooth O how below I strain.
The hand the fingers rest between each breath I take.
Peace is being full to bursting with the light so white.
And in darkness only I can come.
When the deepest root is snapped in half my child hood day has flown.

This when read would it not be to be not less but more erotic.
But the subject is what about the smarter kids?
If I weren't eighty and nearly sixteen years like you of age....
I still find it quite what you said never stop, don't quite Disturbing.
Cups being half full or never empty,
each is of thine own grapes apples or peaches.
Though being walk about a man down under.
I found out that you count on all the trees.
More coming often when your not.
I count leaves on trimmed tanned bushes.

Crimson Loves and

To Breath And Love Again

To see push against the lonely sky
the moving moon once more.
To many different shapes
where each ring is felt once more.
Then maybe like today back then or once again until.
when I come back from there perhaps I will.
Only I must go around back down to the sea to breath again.

Argument

Nights have I you try and can not force my smile.

Vast the space the distant place
I leave you hold my breath.
Without you ever trying.
Lost I wonder back there why?

Words that will not come I hear your thoughts
a moving chest the tips of both.

Remember how the mound was shaped out side your window where we played the flute?

Footprints in the sand the wind
the edges then the water does the rest.

There is no need to argue when I came I tried my best but when you left.

Beer Cans

They call out in fun playing as children happy drunks some unhappy.
Faces appear through the fences.
Falling into each other staggering from sloshing minds that bath in foam.
I cannot remember hardly any thing now the streets consume me from the inside out and I would like to be like you safe.
Make a sweet movie with music and dance.
Fresh warm fruity muffins spread out,
as I wait on the child I never was.

Your beer cans travel with me to become
some thing else.
Taking on a fresh new life all on thier own.

You Are Not Mine

When you did what I never did and everything

the past

That child that you saw then when presently you snapped her up with that itself as for that already one time

Where that it is
I have known

I cannot get caught loving

Half of what I make comes from that except.
When it does it is like niagra falls.
Across your body flows a river pulse after pulse.
Not one squirt or two may be alway theres three.
But a full thirthy seconds

Across contints and faces

One Inch Of Fingertip

Where she touches me

her with her other next door of the wall where I am inside with her touch the left foot makes a cross under the table my legs and undoes those, opens two until after I.

Where you caress slowly it I find, rather than her being higher than movement I grow.
To be high that under that mink would it show where I am.
At last where there is black it is not at all it is the softest skin and I.

The silk onion skin pages.
I open the book which you touched.
And as or crismatic when I to you whom.
You go away when I enter and express.

About nothing as my finger feels.

Her Shadow Of Vulgus

At the center of my poets head in addition to being called by she whom I know that she is.

Being a child I called on your heart.
Being called you love it I think.
That perhaps, Love is scurrility and because I slip over the skin of foreplay.

For a greater cause to a longer extent, unceasing pleasant behavior which comes often hard is never to rough.
Not even Martha Stewart says that non etiquette substitutes words or as for colloquialism.

Cunninglus- nasty or nice of the quality which is come to me woman refined.
It was supposed stalely because it is natural features characteristic naturally to be low, it is supposed that rough stimulus and love it is attached.

Does your center have classes to take to teach me how to less when my motives are plainly more.
It your hips did not move higher.
Because mine came up half way to meet yours.
Is your reputaion at school such that you.

Therefore the concept of vulgarism from first carries the cultural weight of the world, is not a certain society, without either the powder from the religion prospect, or and perhaps this should thing similarly to exiest,
is not, it becomes what it is dress hiked up panties pulled down crying more not less make it more.

before you go to school it is pliable oiled it is soft.

The Stretching Of The Ring

Bringing the cushion into class.
I will never forget the pain
my first torn anal experience, even though it was something that I really wanted to do.

During lunch I am speaking to a shadow on the wall.
And I was with some guy whom you said would come was caring.
Not experienced, and ever so so gentle.

I still ended up screaming,
with a horrific pain deep inside my guts.
I felt as if I had been stabbed,
and the pain didn't end as he withdrew the tip.
It got worse,
and it lasted for what seemed you know, like an hour.

The part that I expected to be slightly painful, as the outer ring my innered rear was stretched and perhaps split slightly down the middle still.

And to be quite honest
I thought that growing to a women and those whom couldn't take it were just stuck on being, being soft.

That was before that shadow on the wall and I we tried it - and I met the real pain.

I have been there while I slept and been raw and eaten, canned.
And beaten with a short and crooked mop,
both before I lost my anal ring
I was pulled not torn Like the tide and my virginity and after,
and I once had the puffed up wooly wealts.

I would take another beating anyday, rather than go through that anal train of pain that knows no end to gain.

Shadow Girl

It worked your magic there has come I stand and cry.

And now the center closed where my warm breath is simple oyster eaten open sigh.

Is life pathetic which when broken your heart it clings and goes around all of that which you know is me.

And I sit down and wait independently while the life which shouts goes up and down then all around me.

And I am sitting down again when your gone
I sit alone
I wait alone and cry independently then suddenly
I stand and shout.

The shadow hanging on the wall precursor to my heart.

And after that the body of the girl

Looking through my hands light pearls are floating by.

Bright and pure some blue and white when coming there she goes.

I grow sad because the rain
at night it never comes.

I once was she she saw through me and now she wears each day and night a gown of pearls and clouds.

Not because my center hurts

After The First Year In Prison

After the first year,
I was ashamed to be white.
In the world, white people are capable of all kinds of great things,
and all kinds of bad things.
But inside we're just universally cunts.
Aryan Brotherhood weren't a big presence in my block, but they were bad enough to make you kind of wish your mother had been raped by a nigger.
And that's before you meet your boss's.
Correctional Services officers come in all flavours,
but white screws were the worst.
Black screws,
you could tell were just poor niggers trying to get by in a shitty job.
Only white guys ever seemed to enjoy their shit.
Rape, despite the rumours, is not a big deal inside.
It doesn't happen that often.
But everytime it happened on my block it was a white guy.
And every time anyone got murdered, it was a white guy.
There were 33 murders while I was inside, twelve of them on my block alone.
All because white cunts couldn't keep their dicks in their pants, or else 'cut someone's eyes'
which was slang for stealing someone's shit.
Being black in prison would have been awesome.

Prison As For Friends - Not Really

Killer Plug In Vibrator

Shot with an Arrow in the Cheek.

Which Cheek, left..(mouth) .. right... upper?

Well, I asked the woman about the mysterious story from the woman in front of me and a shock came to her face (that someone knew private information)

then a smile then laughter thats only used to soften a macabre event.

I had been called to the scene and knew all the information.

Seems the woman in the story had fashioned a homemade electric vibrator that plugged into the wall (no batteries) .

They had both finished their shower and ended up on the bed dripping still wet.

The vibrator was not grounded properly and the house current.

The contractions were going on even after I arrived.
Their eyes had been glazed for a while.

I put a sample of my D.N.A. inside her.

Electric vibrators were not sex toys
but used to relax muscles when giving a massage.
They weighed a couple pounds and you wore them
in your panties seat around the ring.
Slipping your hand through until it snaps.
This is probably why the other person caved.

Lovers Cutting Crimson

When she saw Stephanie looking at them,
Crimson said something about losing a fight with her girl friends rose bush.

You're aware that some people — both guys and girls — cut themselves very much on purpose.
Could you be a friend of mine and be not one of them?
If so, what should I do?

Cutting — using a sharp object to cut your own skin on purpose until it bleeds — is a form of.
Crimson sometimes self-injures by burning her skin with the lit end of a cigarette, a lighter, or a match.
Her skin won't show cut marks,
but it might show the small, round scars of a burn.

Some girls even guys turn to vibrators because the moon as it stretches this behavior when they have problems or painful feelings and haven't found another way to cope or get relief.

Most of the time,
people who cut themselves don't talk to any one but me.
But sometimes they confide in me and tell me what it's like to stretch the moon instead of cutting.
A friend I am.
Sometimes a friend might find out in another way.
Tomorrow I will look at your lips and tongue your moon.

Stefanie Let Me Show You Something

Stefanie was lying outside in the back yard soaking up some sun.
Her yard was private so she slipped off her top to avoid tan lines.
She started to get warm and decided it was time for a break.
Besides, she needed to get some condoms into the house and thought this would be a good time of day to avoid the drug store rush.

Not wanting to fuss much over herself,
she slipped on a short skirt,
a white blouse and some sandals.
She didn't bother putting a bra on because she had planned to come back home after school and do some more of what she had been in the yard.
She threw her hair into a quick ponytail and turned on the vibrator.

Looking up at poetry and caught by surprise
though not embarrassed by the slightest.
Ouch!

Stefanie pulled her hand back and looked at it.
Is it poetry reached out for her hand right away and with a look of horror he began to apologize.

I didn't realize your hand was still in the way.
Let me help you lube it up and.
Please, it's the least I can do for you.

Stefanie lifted her skirt and began reaching for the bags.

Go inside and he went inside.
Fortunately the swelling wasn't bad and her hand really didn't hurt him much.
But I feel mesmerized by your beautiful hazel eyes.
Before it had a chance to melt her eyes closed.

The Mountain Tops The Rivers Edge

And her sister's face I feel a secret truth.
I can't see her face overwhelmed by this attention face to face.
The staff and cup she shakes I fill the other.
Hope of the black sea the poet god and sleep.
Phantoms from another life runs shallow deep the oceans breeze.
Full and heavy chosen by the fairy cries in the dark the nasty boy he comes on mine each day it meets.
Sleeping poets sleep and days before one mind.
Queen is the poet of humble origins and modesty.
The worm the day before and by night the devils toe.
Hungry moons I reach around the other side
a finger moves it each spot a special woman understands.
Trapped deep within her robes her panties make.
Ornamentation are her spurred red leather boots they play distant in the sky and thunder lights the road.

Crimson Love

I gazed at this beautifully sexy before me she her eyes glazed in anticipation of.
I realized that all I wanted to do was to please her.
She I loved so much.
She pushed her legs back up over her my neck so her moon and star was cradled right before me.
She held her knees
and watched me with sweltering eyes.
I leaned over and kissed the backs of her thighs and down her full moon her cheeks to her anus.
I gently brushed her anus with my tongue and she whimpered as I dug up the moon with my tongue up and around her dripping pie hole.
Several times before I slid it inside her slit and then deep into her crimson love.
I lapped her deep slit several time like a dog and the dug it up and over her hard button.
Crimson moaned loudly
as I lapped at her button over and over.
Then back down to her sopping wet hole.
Where I drank pie juices again
then back up and over her button again.
Her hips rose up to my mouth as I tongued her over and over.
Crimson was closed to orgasm as I licked her.
I moved down to her hole and thrust my tounge as deep in her as I could and then wiggled it inside her then onto her button then back to her pie hole.
Her juices were running out of her and I had her wonderful creamy foam all over my mouth
as I worked on her.
I took my thumb and gently massaged the ring of her moon
with her juices as I licked her why hips.
She gave a heave of her hips and convulsed into a brutal seizure almost snapping my neck.
I continued to lick her sopping pie hole.
She shuddered and moaned as I licked away.
She moved her head over and stopped breathing

I left I think Crimson died.

Conservative Christians

Five of the unkind treatment of gay children.
Seven at my high schools have died.
One of two where it remains directly.
Was he in how the urgent movement or, before he awakes,
good fortune and that of her wife.

Other things even now are extreme bullying conservative Christian who expands the hatred.
Where ever they go.
With Dixie,
the large nature seems that it overtakes
these urgent movements.
There is I and therefore I being able to point in surprise with news,
Christian unkind treatment of gay child has still attacked.
Just broad-minded
Christian and non Christian organization this as for the fact that hatred of this all crimes, it protests,
loving the story of sinner
another is rather clear lie it makes exactly.
If these Christian Blutlust what it does not die because Jesus died a useless Jewish death.
Children become don't harm the few even if your parents because good people are not many?

President Obama Becomes Wise

I have looked at that why of hers over and over.
It bulges like the orb of the sun causing my face.
She is like the thing which death fails to do the blind.
His she where he meets her, his wife loves her husband.
Both know and to whom is there workaround them to tell.
And he lets her escape with his life,
to become young because of that to grow old.

And the kindness of many occurrences with her whom does not act but pulls with the tooth and tears, and destroys the ground under their feet.
And he who intervenes his kind behavior before the reputation raised that reputation.
And he who does not avoid abuse is abused.

His soul it is owned,
that splendid wealth of gold barley,
wherein to be distributed of that to her people,
and abused as for him.
He who maintains that word is not blamed.
President Obama.

And he where the center is led to itself satisfactory.
Thou charity does not stutter.
And he who fears the unrighteous cause of death,
those from her heaven is rising the heaven.

The regional ladder, reaches up from Texas to him.
And the kindness to one which is not worthy of to that he who is shown is that praise reprimand.
The awkward kindness of presentation may I regret.
He who revolts and is the butt of well doing and verily him all must in trust to follow her doing.

And he who does not press the people is pressed.
And he who is traveled with the enemy should consider friend.
And he who does not respect him himself is not respected.
In order and to withstand the heavy load of the other people, and days will come where you do not permit him himself who always endeavors.

And those of the quality over there it is are known although in each person, she thinks with anything, the people, then, it is poetry must be safely hidden.
In order to carry him to the people,
you considered independent but his person,
in him himself whom is not finished to ask I do.
For I must be cared for as were those whom came before.
Not to do so much for me myself and I.
And you see, many silent ones, you rejoice in him.
But intelligence or insufficient excess amounts can appear at the time of the things of which you speak.
All the tongues of the people by word your actions and deeds.

The Body After Teenage Suicide

The human being

(also referred throughout history as 'long pig' and 'hairless goat' in the case of younger specimens)

Observing the anatomy and skeleton, one can see that the human animal after death young tender meat.

The large central pelvis and broad shoulder blades also interfere with achieving perfect cuts.

There are advantages to this however, especially due to the fact that the specimen girl will weigh between 100-200 pounds, easily manipulated by one man with proper leverage.

Controlled environments like institutions or jails before.

Health and diet to outward appearances maintained.

Humans are not very kind to the dead here it is why you are.

You are an unknown to me

thus subject to an enormous range of diseases, infections, chemical imbalances, and poisonous bad habits, all typically decreasing with age.

I personally prefer calm firm caucasian females in their early teens. These are 'ripe'.

But the saw varies from cut to cut, and again there it is a very large herd to choose from.

The M.E.)

Medical Examiner will need a fairly room and space in which to work (an interior location is suggested) and a large table for a butcher's block.

A central overhead support will need to be chosen or installed ahead of time to hang the young body from.

Large tubs or barrels for blood and waste trimmings should be convenient, and a water source close by.

Most of the work can be done with a few simple tools.

Sharp, clean short and long bladed knives, a cleaver or hatchet, and a hacksaw and ribsreaders.

Body Preparation requires plenty of water.
This helps flush the system,
purging stored toxins and bodily wastes,
as well as making bleeding and cleaning easier.
This one I will call Jane doe 007 was found at a bar stunned into insensitivity.
Sharp unexpected blows to the head put her at rest quite is best, tranquilizers being recommended
If this is not possible without exciting the body and causing a longer struggle (which then pumps a greater volume of blood and secretions such as adrenaline throughout the body)
A single bullet through the middle of the forehead exiting the back of the skull here did nice.
For what ever reason her companion is here right beside her.
Is is called murder suicide I think it is two suicides.
Whom ever goes last gets the cellophane wrap.

Girls And Effects Of Guilt Feelings

As a result of moving away from the changes, these changes. Some parents brought up with the strictest codes are moving their young woman away from a consideration of problems following, associated with liberal sex mores. And are focusing on those that traditionally accompany stricter codes of behavior, in particular, sexual guilt. Some parents have paved the way to some new insights into the nature of such guilt and its effects. Such as putting bars on the windows.

Some young women whom by coercion is natural force acknowledged strong feelings of guilt about sexual behavior and may have stronger physiologically to his sexual stimuli than say other more normal boring woman, other women, but are unaware of it until it's to late and they cruelly are. Previous confessions have found that women acknowledging such guilt reported little sexual response,) please see above I.D.(but the past current behavior was the first to measure physiological reactions to pleasure produced with out need or worry of hysterical arcane punishments. Wherein the past was in the pleasure was gained by the punishing.

See The Sun Never Rising

She outran one man and then the next and stopped by them both,
and they were made ready for pleasing.

Yet she did not even sweat so as to need to be washed though in the woods she did.

Upon returning at the evening,
and the eye could scarcely realize all her great beauty.

For, when looking at one part,
his eyes were drawn away
by the perfection of her other parts.

He stood all night with his hands always moving and never at rest upon her.

She stood all night
while he washed her hair upon the wet grass growing even darker as was nights want under the light of the bright moon.

But come, my friends, as you sit here all smiling
you look to the morning,
do you never see the sun rising?

And now it is time to undress for rehearsal coming straight up under the sun it is noon.

First Her Neck

I smelled her hair first her neck was it like?
Honey from a very small center of busy bees.
Her kiss is like the moon between heaven and from our light earth spins a blind eye.
Her mother loves his vision which she loves.
Bright is the daughter she is light I write of the sun.
The surface of it is as grass spun from gold.
The night does not learn that he scorns the dust,
after the moon, lying down looking up, it I yearn.
Place him on the center of the road, you he will praise.
He entered this sky of thousands of stars
these run across her face.
I reached out, not knowing, she chose my door,
and could be caught in order to ask and the hand came.
He continues, from the center the earth it is speaking,
and can amuse the doubt which is not.
Put your hand on that head, look away and pray that the wave.
Both hands under the moon to raise them you point I threaten,
however breath from above fills up that sail, perhaps him or her maybe to both it comes to drift to the heaven of peace.
It is not but love with him breathing rapidity,
and do to forget,
he must come to your center,
and permit the fact that he has been raised.

What Young Girls Feel Afterwords

Girls and crushes don't mix very well until they do.
He is impatient to play in the well.
And she must play the part she doesn't play very well.
Neither knew much except for Catholics and heresy.
The heresay exception comes from both sexes look to the books instead of your friends they used you first.
They did not even as they begin to fumble.
Kissing leaves no guilt after all T.V. commercials with stick woman and young men they say they would over.
But now that his finger is rubbing her middle directly instead of around the nipples where at home she does with the oiled vibrator mum thinks she transparent has lost.
What was firm is wet and soft as he convinces her that if she loves him she will get on top.
Yonder in the woods in back of the school neither thought to bring a wash cloth which is why there are hundreds of different sized panties shapes and colors strewn about and some are spotted with red on white.
One pair is monogrammed Margret the name of her mum.
Latter that night she changes her unspoken mind and the next day after class when he comes he shows it.

Sure The Baby Sitter

Sure I knew she was bathing them together years ago (back then I did it that way too) , but I just assumed that this had stopped at some point (in regards to the older boy) erections and all.

When my husband and I are not at home. The boys don't bath together unless the baby sitter. And furthermore, the older boy became shy about his body about two years ago and hasn't allowed me to see him standing since. I assumed that this shyness applied to all women, and girls at school but apparently it only applies to me.

When I asked him about the ongoing bath arrangement, the older boy didn't really want to talk about it.

Still I thought that was kind of weird for a 13-year-old to be getting baths from his baby-sitter, so I gently suggested to her that the older boy should start taking baths by himself.

And now the 13-year-old is furious with me. He says he really liked it when she washed his hair and that I ruined it (like I ruin anything) . He wants me to tell her that they can go back to how it was. He even threatened to call child protective services.

I'm torn about this. I really don't think there was anything unseemly going on, at least with me but at the same time I don't know if letting his baby sitter bathe him is a good idea or not. He seems to have grown and matured since this started.

What should the other people think if they could.

Young Woman Can Feel It

These feelings should vary from girl to girl, and even from day to night and depending on the many factors.

Full moon,

high tides the amount of sun on the skin.

That said,

when the tree is going inside,

it is generally very pleasurable for both the girl and the guy.

The women often feel a ring tight widening a tingle.

If you want to feel the semen squirt

the women should jerk the tree a lot harder.

Or

Now,

when the tree starts to ejaculate,

many girls cannot feel the semen squirts.

Some claim

they can feel the warm pulses (if they are strong) hitting the insides or back of the vagina.

One theory is that what they're actually feeling is the slight jerking of the tree that occurs with each ejaculatory squirt in men that are very hard and generally fit.

This is because the deep end of the vagina does not have many nerve endings, and so may not even be able to directly feel how deep the semen spurts.

What Do You Need From Me

Woman child what do you need from me?
Are you looking for me and so in thinking when you can?
I am there in her next to you.
Why yours is the seat empty never full.

My lips are pressed against yours.
Her eyes
I have closed against yours.
You will find me in the lotus.
Squatting I sit down on a water lily.
If I were to ask you simple is this.

Brooms, am I the straw or the handle in your hand I am but of this.
knotted in mass, pulled aside curtains Leggings not in legs unwinding around your own neck, nor eating out, eating in, eating nothing at all but rice and boiled duck.

When you really need me, you will feel me there instantly -
you will find me in the smallest grain of sand.

Now you are the teacher I am the student and as the student, tell me of this?
what is in side the small grain of sand?
Worlds smaller than ours, but larger than ours.
Student It is easier being blind, I feel than to see.

When Husbands Can'T Sleep

Teaching through the window out side I will.
walking around the block
there are too many that are willing.
I was hired to oil the windows so they wouldn't.
The dogs know me best the cats give way.
Coming through the silk curtains makes my nipples hard.
The low wolf like rumble in her ear makes hers.
Then the rollicking begins from side to side.
As I begin to subliminally move inside the mind.
Breathing increases I smell the creation's.
There panties always smell sweet.
Sweet like their breath of apples and peaches.
Thighs subcutaneously part from a word barely heard.
Her husband hands me a certified check which I don't.
Knowing it takes two weeks for me to come back around.

The Value Of Breast Milk

Your white creamy milk butter and all is worth better health for your babies, which is priceless.

So how does Euros
130/litre sound for the value of breast milk!

Then there are taste tests which require part time volunteers.

That's how much neonatal units in hospitals in the UK pay to milk banks.
But that's not for the milk,
that's for the processing costs of the milk bank that collects and pasturises it.

Premature babies fed on it have better chances of surviving.

That's one figure.
We can also consider the number of lives lost through babies not being breastfed
and the cost to our health services.

Breast milk is the most locally produced natural food there is - replacement feeds require processing and transport which has an environmental impact.

Mothers aren't paid to breastfeed their babies,
but if they don't breastfeed,
they have to pay for breastmilk substitutes, so we can think about the cost of that and the multi-billion Euro industry that has arisen and the harm that it does.

It is not bad in Irish coffee either.

I Roll My Own Tobacco And Her Urine Sounds

</>Blue hands and crying in the rain.
Perhaps that was the missing capital letter.
The poet of the best female where they were.
And she I was the publisher, the editor, her.
She was lunatic on tequila she is my magic I print on.
There is no lie of the there her fire.
The woman who does not touch the photograph of the other woman such class where he never.
The human range of love which at my age you write,
and like it, I loved it on the desk.
When it sits down in the small room.
I roll my own tobacco and her urine sounds as if mine.
Two commodes side by side in the bathroom.
Exchanging dreams
from the day before both hear your story, it didn't happen, it probably never will love each of us more or less more.
You after the letter became sadder.
Your sweetheart I watched you betrayed.
The child, I betray all sweethearts, you wrote.
The help of that didn't come.
There was a bench which you said and.
Great pleasure it gave you a gift from Paris water shoot up.
I shout at you as I did when we were by the bridge.
After you committed suicide I drank a few beers.
Took out my favorite panties and the pregnancy test said.
That this way was the best way the only way I had left.

And once in the sea being from the sea.

Under shaded trees at the end of your tongue.

Your center as to lick your essence off my finger.

You whom make the animal in me grow among you.
Do you have the courage

I am even handed when it comes to the heart the place,

Love Making Grows

There is my body tonight.
I am open to your long growing cravings.
It is inactive being quiet, warm moon.
You have nor I will as one I have paused.
Stuck through to the valley I leave.
Abused confessions you have many I heard.
I stop and pause to listen.
Half way in I am half way out perseverance of God.
You have found the punishment for my avarice.
If I am to be sufficiently slow woe is me.
Where my foot then my finger
it can be wrapped around the north star and looking south it came once before.
Fruit juice of the Ecstasy moves in the rear.
My veins they flow whose explosion is hot.
Is very loud and starts overflowing get wet is red.
It uses violence for maintaining your order my pace.
Tangled with the hair
where your skin to my touch is under thin fabric good.
Slow me down for your sake as my body which can feel the knot of tight end formation.
The nerve of your expectation is the release
where my orgasm which in you is vibrating.
Through the skin where my neck is soft your mouth I included your personality.
And as my body moves down the final lifting is up to you.

On Death

You are the safest end to all our sorrows say, I Am.
Miserable humans why do thee avoid me in your sleep?
You can not calm the driest sea which suffers, ends no where Cowards people are not noble when tis filled with fear.
In rest you are my sweet disrepair thy sweetheart sad!
You came time after time and worry whose ambition knew.
To the point of my wet staff of happiness half will know.
And the other half would nix't the joy the art of paradise.
People first and last from that place after time is gone.
And God from He to Eve discharges Adam, your good son.
Sadness from above below around the tree no mercy shown.
This tragic show come rescue me and bath in fragrant oil.
Only thee (a certain thing which some one held before)
He now knows the patient wait is pleasure preconceived.
To loosen life when that is more man can bare, unearthed.
Subtle snake comes from the grave and slides into the hole.
Over there you come and make a sacrifice is good or not.
Then good it does not tempt your badness, tight with fear.
When it is not a crime, can I rejoice my lips are full to take.
Wasteful competition does not bring peace you are troubled.
Lies fiercest warnings do not break the constant joy I bring.
The light of life if it is good, then he I you never know.
And the hungry child none proffered it grows for me to know.

Song Of Mental Illness

When by my you requested of my hands.
And see your/why I watch you come in sleep.
The hairy eye that heaven made is washed no more.
Coming from your face to face I came through is life.
The sea it knows an hour is too long to wait.
My sister pregnant and her breasts are yes and no.
Honey when you come my brother watching you she does.
The nun she speaks in riddles it is parables of poetry.
The father doesn't swear she feeds our children.
When the smile it hides my head it swells, I've got to have.
When one battles love and when over time no one forgets.
Growing older wrinkled four instead two full pouty lips.
Beauty is the color where the side walk never ends.

The Nymph And The Water Fall

Vacuum devices behind the ring and come with me there over the falls.
Also known as vacuum constriction device.
I have been known to be utilized for improving constant flow,
And greater rigidity than if ever before.
Tighter though is the sight of the wooden barrel.
The psychological dysfunction is for why wings.
There are a number of nymphs that have been especially-designed,
which are then carefully constructed to specification.
So that a limited amount of pressure is allowed to develop.
This is to reduce the likelihood of pressure-induced rapid build-up of pressure within the cylinder.

The negative pressure causes an inflow of blood into the corporal bodies, both arterial and venous in nature.
The latter blood is drawn into the more rigid chamber further reducing the lifeblood of a head injury.

In contrast, there are no other live devices available.
I generally use this term?
Which I have not been tested and can expose the open trees to pressures well in excess of the bush above.
These water falls are potentially dangerous and have no chance if above the moon below clearance.
Tree limbs can halos when going down over as well.

Lest it shut forget the heart I aim for the eyes.
Lips smacking open of death.
Bending over each cloud that I part.
When driven too deep and up to my hips I wade slowly through it.
By your very hand - your lips it grew hard.

With your long pink fingers I turn the page.
It only grows longer as it rains in east 'Texas.

Last Night While I Slept You Dreamed

Last night while I slept you dreamed.
Such language illusions I bled.
Fauna and flowers that grow and to you my heart, I gave.
Why it builds up and drains off inside of you hidden, water,
you come unto me,
spring of new life of where forever I drank.
Last night while I slept you dreamed.
Such language illusions I bled.
Your heart within had within you my heart,
and the sea was never the same.
Last night while I slept you dreamed.
Jessica come now you stay in my dreams.

Powerful Pump

Naturally, it was connected to the powerful pump.
The milk from the gibbous chest it should connect,
that after being out, and of the woman, cravings already dripping to the place where it starts squeezing, when it is large directly, it is deeply inserted in the moon and which is shaved anew you ask that it is agreeable!
Most being afraid to speak of thinking thoughts.
He can be operated by the user of the small remote control where such it is there it is it is possible for the cat to change.
The strength of the thing which oohhhh how it groans!
The pump is connected, operates, when the woman desires,
when she is wide leaving grass stains, grasps and hermonds in order to permit proper entry.
Enormous vibrator calmly in her stretching ring mind.
She hits against the switch and enormous humor starts working,
when it is the majority, usually in the rod just several times for her first milking the cat which by all her now is foreseen.
It has been troubled! It is caught!
Naturally, in business the way in addition to matters,
so in the milk which is four percent of type, creates business and he excitement which most milked a certain excess, is added,
one among those privileged of absorption.
Good morning America, good morning pump.
Good morning sweetheart.
She is the woman who is created is large!
When it goes, it did not differ!

Black Sea Horses

Alone the little boy once a thief.
Tell none why the water it flows.
The brightest star my tongue has put out.
There was a woman involved.
But not to be empty of lumber good trees.
Life is not always pink cotton bottoms.
Dancing I turn
and glance back at misspent youth.

Now I get heavy and girls get to full.
They come as platoons of bullets and death.
Come take me a boy aged eight.
Overwhelmed I stop midway coming out.
Woman forget me not's are not posies.

Gosh that hurts being a boy that cries.
But sunflowers yellow coming up from the sea.
Color blind I'm shy bright red the brush.
An hour is too long to get to the end,
and yes to wait for more to come so I go.

The Night I Took You

Coming in from the darkness you step forward to me.
You are the victim
and grabbed I am by you from behind.
Covering your eyes so you cannot come.
I look at you in the mirror your eyes wide in pleasure, whispering in your ear you tell me to hurry and stand.
Seeing only white teeth I comply.
Suddenly I move to your bed of leaves left behind.
I can hear the night owls and crickets whisper.
Behind my hand and wide is your smile.
Exposing me, enjoying full this knowledge that in a few short minutes I will be even more quite.
A mixture of pain and blood is your treasure.
As we reach the foot of the tree.
You place the ball where gag open your mouth.
And fasten it onto the other bald heads.
Laying about until now by I sticky unseen.
Tied by your hands to the root of the tree, I sing.
Upside down, spinning the world still your standing, but, face down on the limb
so that your perfect moon is high in the air, I can't breath.

Free From Restraint

For me me and my green baby.
You can take the central quiet corner.
If this is desired.
Open itself to the world.

I speak to him as much to that,
and in the foolish cloud which the star has known being the sky which stoops and that surface which makes him of the rainbow enjoy.

The person you cannot say,
but by his certain appearance and glance way those eyes I have never.

When the story to move to that open window.
By the bright stars in your hands a toy.
It is possible about such things.
As for me me you took me by profession.
I make green babies that think that move.
That reach for the stars.
It can travel if it is by you desired.

The heart of yours which exceeds all limits,
At the point where the messenger does not move.
Between the kingdom history is made not the king.
This is the place where reason makes the kites tail of her law, throws, the truth the facts are put into place
free from restraint, I came when you saw.

Lzx - Ray

Forgotten I came in the mists of them.
Turning to the left to the right.
The print of a boot not too narrow or wide.
Gone it fits mine.
There were no eagles there.
Broken arrows lay around.
Most without hats exposed knowledge.
Useless to them whom before me came.
Too young to drink.
Too young to think.
When the rooster crows three bugles call.
Why is it always the seventh?
When I retire I will again live.
Erotic climate mixed with exotic girls.
Against wiser judgement.
Against common sense am I, Joseph black?
Don't trust the devil inside.

Sudden Death Syndrome

Crossing over your field.
Do you the way death sees it?
You see it in me when ever you.
Patch and leave these once green.
Seeing it beat between the veins.
And to much to thus to many times.
Perhaps the patch these yellows from fields.
Love spurns death
and there is an area which it crowds.
Earth then the leaf, between the veins.
Tissue of the leaf the sun yellow, leaves.
Come home to me you are tired.
When which of those where then that becomes.
Brown, sees, is visible the leaves.
To die like patchwork, grace is ascending.

Nasty Boy

Watching me boy only my tongue.
Through the sky.
When I cough
does the note in my panties.
Love boy is not love.
You think it is squish-squish.
Both old enough to read.
Being withdrawn fire and the sun.
Deep inside I can stay
red and puffy the rest of the day.
Nasty boy my lips how they shine.
Nasty boy the smell of fruit.
What is it like to have my wind at your back.
Your nasty because of the pink clouds.
When I don't pay attention and bend over the hole in my panties makes you stand up nasty boy.

Poet In A Cotton Cell

Each day you ache
I am placed right there by loving hands and tears.

Clutching though I am by you unto.
She meets the wind the world the sea.
Hidden under grassy shaded trees.
She seems to know no taste of fear.

Smiling I can see the moon at rest.
But they can't see my cloudy face.
I see their faces on the sea of doubt.
A love of childhood poets in a cotton cell.

Committing Suicide

The sun has shone,
but my eye does not look at the light.
The moon is full so am I.
I try not to write.
I look at the pinks and blacks.
I look at the laughing of the people,
everything which but I hear is to labored I shout.
I am not that mentally ill,
somewhere I am, not so strange, she is.
Everything which I feel is not pain.
I of whom like you have been gushed from such wrists.
If I am that raw juicy oyster full of colored pearls.
You rub it.
You squeeze it.
You taste the salt in it.
It runs down your chin.
Your tongue.
Your lips look at my purple blood.
It sits you down within it entirely.
Independently in your room for more.
I feel like making it congested, as for my part.
Everything which is heard there it is.
I sleep the sleep of eyes.
I dream the dream of your dream of death.
The blood is covered with floor.
Your panties wrapped around my tight feet.
Hiding my toes they are sleek.
Parents who were drunk
and the boyfriend who almost killed me it whispers.
Plunging in, pushing it out, I am afraid I have become.
One opposite end of the white hole,
from which nothing but more spewing come.
And join me I take me in my next to last breath.
This is for you, this is for me.
It is everything.
Which can be used for committing used suicides.

It's So Warm

Our veins applaud the blood letting which is not yet broken.
The night meanders past the corruption which snakes back then is complete.
At the point where passion flows.
Her pretty face out of range blind vision crawls.
Her clothing's in the bathroom stop.
Why do I so feel cold?
From the center
your chapped lips where on the street I sold.
The darkest art is where I park where darker rhythm, rhythms with blues and scotch.
At the point where passion flows your juices seep my acid leaks, although it is not very old, each dropp you keep.
The overflow is caught between your lips.

Envy

The new found scents.
Gods empty flute.
Understanding the smell of fruit.
Like Tea Sara Palin sugar stiff I envy.
Her child that goes without milk.
Envy is heaven what I can not reach.
Never to teach though I try.
Beyond soft rain Einstein squared,
what of that does it matter - if god you approve.
Each beating heart is just one beat away.
President Obama will do it and tell none why.

Submissive

Her our our partner the bedroom the woods, the bar, wheresoever and control eye control and enjoy.
Toes can curl curling toes all that it abandons.
Anal sex is considered, the other one sex which is easiest to be hurt moving the body moves up subconsciously over the phobias enjoys the fact that their submissive characters are explored, for many women obedience to their grandmothers prudish is ignored
Your yourself will seldom request, however) (this does not mean the fact that the fact that your yourself ring a boundary is put in place is meant no matter what as for giving the access to back entry.
Items the expression where their cravings which their partners happiness are done are strongest and smiling one is.

Charles Bukowski Broken Bottle

Is a pillow a disciplinary form of some metaphor?
Any way I'm the one who's quite dead now
so please shut up.
I have two to hide my head under?
Mumbling in her nasty girl some come calling sleep.
It was not long, after that, it became even longer.
Rolling over the moon and I found the arrow.
It rattled yet but still I found it broke.
And I hummed a song, from first to end,
I found it for the second time in the center of the friend.
